THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, JANUARY 5, 1883. No. 1.

CONSTITUTIONALIST,
EMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.
ublished Every Friday,
VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("Chautauqua Building,")
Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
E—No. 3 NORTH AVENUE, First Floo
g Flagg's Hotel Building.
—$2.00 a Year in advance.

BUSINESS CARDS.

TIN'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
- - - Proprietor.
modation for Man and Beast.
aug6-tf

ER'S HOTEL,
ERSET ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
(Next to Brook.)
DLOFF, - - Proprietor.
and Carriages to Let. Horses
y the DAY, WEEK or MONTH. ap3y1

OH BRO'S, ja3y1
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FEED, MEAL, HARD WOOD AND LUMBER.
Street, - - Plainfield, N. J.

CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
and Shop No. 36 East 3d St. promptly attended to. 4py

GE R. POUND,
Dealer in
Wools, Sheep Skins & Tallow.
a Cash Price will be paid at any time on Entrance on Front Street, opposite
Hall.
Foot Oil, Salt and Scraps, for sale
Cheap only for Cash. jan1y1

KINS & HUMMER,
DEALERS IN
er, Eggs & Produce.
eats of all Kinds,
nd VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
AVE. AND SECOND ST., Plainfield, N. J.
de delivered to any part of the city.
INS. L. A. HUMMER.
31m1y

rnock's Bakery,
RONT STREET,
ISHED, 1888.
CAKES, PIES, CONFECTIONERY, &c. made
Best Materials. All orders will receive ention. feb3y1

WARD MAYNARD,
actical Barber
AND
istic Hair Dresser,
5 NORTH AVENUE,
's Hotel) PLAINFIELD, N. J. and Children's Hair Cutting done at dences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., ly performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant. f1fy1

c. J. BERNARD,
TROLOGIST,
—HARMONY ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
rom Somerset St.—left hand side.
ion imparted as regards present and fu-likewise Marriages, Journeys, Law-ulso conversed in h, German and French.
guaranteed. ap27y1
and is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and , pails, barrels, &c., cheap for cash.

HN RAFFERTY,
N & DRILLED WELLS,
d Residence, 26 Park Ave.,
(NEAR SECOND STREET,)
LAINFIELD, N. J.
ORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES
BLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY
D TO. 19fe6

eam Marble
AND anite Works.
ents & Headstones,
ing for Cemetery Plots.
ssortment of Slate Mantels.
riety of Granite Monuments executed in the most skillful manner reasonable prices. All orders delivt up. L. MANNING,
next to M. E. Ch., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ts erected in Greenwood Cemetery.
jane6y1

. RHEAUME,
holesale and Retail Dealer in ing and Stove Wood,
COAL,
, Feed, Baled Hay,
Straw, &c.,
e St., Cor. Fourth St.
in Lumber. Hard Woods a specialty.
above, or addressed to P. O. BOX eceive prompt attention. 4f6-tf

H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN & Fancy Groceries,
ROVISIONS,
EED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c. celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J. pleased to see my old customers and enerally. All wagon orders received ed in the city and North Plainfield as of the best quality and at the lowest l for past favors I solicit a continuance 30myly

NRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF NERAL WATERS,
parilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.,
4 East Second Street,
st. and Park Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
er of Porter, Champagne Cider, Phil-and Adrain Feyn's Celebrated Weiss
e the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation orated Imported Belfast, and recomall desiring a cooling and refreshing e drink.
Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, families, ed at the lowest rates for first-class
ap7tf

RLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
heet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
's Building, Plainfield, N. J.,
(P. O. Box, 318.)
bing and Bell Hanging.
RIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR
, put in and Warranted.
ding promptly attended to. m8-ly

BENTON'S
d, Meat and Bone
PERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures,
LE BY
OHN A. THICKSTUN,
St. & Madison Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
mi7tf

herd, Johnson & Godown,
N MOULDING AND PLANING MILL.
Steiner Place, North Plainfield.
nd mantels and trimmings a specialty.
n for all kinds of carpenter work com-
Estimates furnished. Address Plainfield nov6tf

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

MANSION HOUSE!
Cor. Park Ave. & 2d St.,
(One Block from Depot)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
E. P. THORN, Proprietor.

A fine BILLIARD ROOM is attached to the Hotel.
Pure Liquors, Ales, Wines & Segars,
A Specialty at the Bar. 18oc

SEE MANSION HOUSE ADV. ON 2d PAGE.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agency for Ulman, Goldsborough & Porter's Ales, Wilson & Alston Club Whiskies, Bottled Expressly for Family use. Also a full line of Anker, Merrill & Condit's Whiskies and Wines. aug1y1

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 39 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. m21tf

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with the Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS. o8tf
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

CENTENNIAL HALL,
5 SECOND STREET,
FRED. CASPAR, Prop'r.
Sole Agent for Feigenspan & Co's
Champagne Lager Beer.
All kinds of LAGER BOTTLED EXPRESSLY FOR FAMILY USE.
Prompt attention given to orders, and delivery made in any part of the city. jan2tf

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r.
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.
feb09y1

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours. 8jan6

SMITH'S
Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
Stelz's Old Stand, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Alderberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine, and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Also, Ales, Liquors, Segars.
Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 8 to 1.
1e8y

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND St.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Delaney Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour. 9jetf

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 7 EXCHANGE PLACE,
FIVE DOORS WEST PENNY, JERSEY CITY.
aug16—t

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield. P. O. Box 1090. Families supplied with pure Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel opp. old Post-office delivered free of charge. s29y

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
HART MOORE. SAMUEL GODSHALK,
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and refurnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the traveling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.
[illegible]

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
Brunswick, Balke & Co., Celebrated Pool and Carom tables.
Nothing but temperance drinks, such as Lemonade, Sarsaparilla, Soda Water, &c., also Segars, dispensed over the Bar.
Orders taken and executed for painting the roads with edible of love paint. ap5y1

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD
ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT THE
Plainfield Academy for Boys,
Seventh street, inspect the new building, and see the working of the school.
GERMAN, Natural Method. Daily at 10 a.m.
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French........ $100
Elementary Department, without German and French........ 80
Primary Department, without German and French........ 60
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for individual gentlemen, by the Natural Method, meet in the afternoon and evening.
Principals—James Lyon. J. O. Lowitsky, Ph. D. (of Berlin University). With experienced assistants.
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box 373.

Craig Place School,
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. AUSTIN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal. ag1iy1

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Yara.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
d y1

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 28 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.
d5m6

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 15 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of
Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco, Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same. 1jy1f

MILLINERY.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 48 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mlle. Doane, 949 Broadway, N. Y. ap1y1

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Stillman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited. 15ap9

HOTELS, ETC.

LAING'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH B. MILLER, - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS. GEISE'S
:R:E:S:T:A:U:R:A:N:T:
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
19 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for Ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style. o18tf

Accommodation Express.
PETER RICKERT, Prop'r, OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Cor. Cherry St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. The Accommodation Express will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering Goods or Baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place, Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., with care and safety. Prompt attention given to all orders.
ap9

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue.
P. O. BOX 206.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention. m8tf

WM. C. SMITH,
Mason and Builder,
MANNING AVENUE,
First brick house on the right hand side from Somerset Street,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing Promptly Attended to. Special attention given to Kalsomining.
Orders may be sent to residence or by mail. ap1f

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER!
Dealer in choice family groceries, provisions, canned and all other goods usually found in a first-class grocery always on hand. Prices low. Goods first-class. Orders called for and delivered. Thankful for past patronage I solicit a continuance.
Yours, etc.,
JAMES K. ARNOLD,
Corner Somerset and Chatham streets.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

ESTABLISHED 1836.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
INTERIOR DECORATORS,
FINE WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,
LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC., ETC.
321 Canal Street, New York
[Telephone Call—Spring 456.]
GEO. F. BROWN—Residence—11 Duer Street, Plainfield. P. O. Box 1094. 30dec-tf

NEW STYLES
WALLPAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTIST COLORS, Etc.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
ap9

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 6 West Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
oc16y1

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
Between Front and 2d Sts., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
P. O. BOX, 367.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
In all their branches.
Satisfaction Guaranteed on all Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING.
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 6 W. Front St.
P. O. BOX, 381.
D. WEAVER. d8tf P. WEAVER

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

A. A. TITSWORTH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
(Successor to J. B. & F. A. Dunham.)
OFFICE—15 East Front St.,
(ALBERTI'S BUILDING.)
Special attention given to Map Drawing, Lettering in India Ink, etc. Copying and Computing. o8tf

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for
Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL.
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM 3:30 to 5:30
Dodworth's New Lanciers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. 29th.—1f

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!
New Livery!
Having assumed control of the well-known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, cor. Park Avenue and Second St., the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.
New Stock and Material
Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, SIDE-BAR AND TOP BUGGIES, &c., of the LATEST MAKE and STYLE, and other new material will constantly be added.
The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock for themselves.
13mkly Yours, Very Respectfully,
J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS,
(Of the late firm of Roberts & Cadmus,)
Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and patrons that he has purchased the stock and leased the premises of the well-known liveryman, Mr. John W. Laing, who for the past many years has so satisfactorily continued the business on
FRONT STREET,
Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer demands for all kinds of turn-outs at short notice, and hopes for a continuance of past favors. The boarding and care of horses a specialty. 1ap1

Mansion House Stables.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALBERT HEDDEN, Prop'r.
Horses and Carriages to let on reasonable terms.
Office on SECOND ST., next to the Mansion House. a5tf

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

CHRISTMAS FOR HITTY.

BY ROSE TERRY COOKE.

"Well, you talk as though you was considerable cert'n, Doctor!"

"You asked my opinion, sir, and you've got it."

The patient turned from his sidewise position in the great chair, straight toward the physician. Whatever disease possessed him, it had not dimmed the keenness of his gray eyes, and he fixed them on Dr. Hart's smooth, impassive face with a look that demanded truth. He had fought his way through life long enough to understand whether a man was honest or not when he saw him, and he felt that his verdict was final.

He turned away and stared out of the window. A certain stricture impeded his breath for a moment; he saw, as in a dream, the tossing waters of the lake, the sodden grass, the bare trees, the squalid houses edging that dark water; and then, with a stern effort, recovered himself, and said, quietly:

"About how long do you reckon I shall stan' it, Doctor?"

"Probably six weeks—two months at the longest."

The Doctor was a hard man naturally, and the trait served him well in his profession. He had given out a death-warrant to many a tender woman and life-loving man without one quiver of lip or eyelid; it was a matter of business. He took his fee quietly, returned Jno. Hollis' nod, rang the bell for his patient, and the doomed man pushed his way out through the crowd in the waiting-room, and went home to his boarding-house, quickened the smouldering fire in his grate, and sat down to think. Before long he put aside his pipe and began to think aloud, as uneducated people, used to solitude, often do.

"Well, the' ain't nobody left, without some of Aunt Semanthy's folks is livin' somewhere. I dunno but what 'twas better for mother to up an' die when she did. I might ha' stayed on six months more if I'd ha' knowed she'd be took away so soon. I wonder why she married 'Lias Filley? I couldn't stand him no way, the big brute. He won't get none of my plunder. Lord! if I've got cousins—and I expect Semanthy had children—how they'd buz now of they knew! Pretty little cretur she was, my little aunty, 's I used ter call her; wa'n't but five year-old when I was born; and that Blake was another brute, too. Lots of 'em! Well, I hain't got a woman to answer for—that's luck. I wonder if there is one of Semanthy's brood like her? How real clever she was! pretty as pie, always thinking of other folk's feelins and comfort; always a waitin' on somebody. I'd like to crawl into her house and kinder rest up a spell for the next six weeks."

A sort of chill shook him at the swift thought of his short respite. He was all alone in the world. He ran away from home when he was ten years old to escape the tyranny of his step-father, and his mother, dying of consumption when he left, only lived six weeks after. He had been driven from pillar to post; married, and lost both wife and child in his early youth, and then "case-hardened," as he phrased it, under the fire and blows of rough experience; and when money had lost its power over him as a charm to render life lovely, he began to make it rapidly, and find a certain dull pleasure in hoarding it. Now, however, a mortal disease had fastened on him beyond human skill to avert, and what should he do with his possessions? They could not dispel this grave-chill creeping over him as he sat alone far into the night. But, by a violent effort, he succeeded in banishing the terror of the outlook to his thoughts, and returned to think about his money.

"I can't take it, anyway. Granny Brown used to say, 'Shrouds ha'n't pockets,' and it's so. By George! I know what I'll do!"

He brought his fist down on the table beside him, and a cynical smile went over his face for a moment; then he got up, and took the anodyne which was Doctor Hart's only prescription for him, and in half an hour was asleep.

Next day he was closeted long with a lawyer, and in a week's time sent out five letters, each after the same formula, to his five cousins, the children of Reuel and Semantha Blake, whose places and occupations he had learned through the agency of the lawyer. Reuel, the oldest son, lived in Michigan; Semantha in San Francisco; James in Maine; Loren in Florida; and Mehitable, called Hitty, taught school in Connecticut. In due time this scattered tribe each received a letter running thus:

LAKEVIEW, Illinois, Nov. 8, 18—

"DEAR COUSIN:—I suppose you may have heard your mother speak of her nefew Jack Turner, who run away from Home when small. I am an oldish man now, and have no folks of my Own nor no home, and I ain't going to live long. I should feel real Oblieged for any little help to get Along if you might be so disposed for to Give it. Direct as abuv if you send. I have heard my Honored mother say that 'Blud was thicker than Water,' and I expect mabbe it's so which is Why I take Pen in Hand, being old and sick and loonesome enuf, and having hoap that my neares Relations will step Forrard to my helping; anser soon.

Your affectionate cousin,
JOHN TURNER."

In due time answers came. Reuel said he had just gone into a new business; times were hard, and he had seven children, was down with "ague," had bad luck always, and no money to spare; he wished well to his cousin, whom he had "heard tell of," but hadn't the means to help him otherwise.

John Turner closed the letter with a hard smile.

"A'n't got no less 'n six good and lawful reasons for not helpin' this lame dog over a stile. He'll find the' was six too many!"

Semantha, Mrs. Bliss, was an invalid; her nerves forbade any agitation on her part. Her husband wrote the letter, and said their social positon and the exigencies of his business left them no margin for charities, even if he could feel sure that the letter in question was from the real John Hollis Turner, which he could not say candidly he did.

A red flush passed over the reader's face as he laid down this epistle.

"Darned cool! Well, it takes all sorts o' folks to make a world, and these a'n't my sort, that's certain."

James was a minister in one of the largest cities in Maine. He wrote a letter of spiritual advice to his cousin, urged him to prepare for death, and then mentioned casually that he never gave money except to organized charities; and he advised John to apply for admission in the State Hospital at Lakeview.

This letter was read through without a word; but a darker shadow than ever lay on the strong, coarse face of the reader—it seemed as if the sky above him blackened with the reflection of earth's heartlessness.

Loren Blake never answered his cousin's epistle, if he ever got it; he was living an idle life in the heart of Florida, under the pretext of raising oranges, being what his New England ancestry would call a "shif'less cretur," without means to be charitable even if he had the will.

Hitty, who earned her living by teaching the district school in West Dartford, going home one cold November night from the little, red school-house on Brandy Hill, stopped in at the "store," and took from the post-office—which occupied a corner among plows, calicoes, molasses, turnips and garden tools—her letter from John Turner. As she read it her lovely eyes filled with tears. "Poor old man," she whispered, and thinking over old times, all that her mother had told her about "Cousin Jack" came back vividly. The gay, kind-hearted, mischievous, affectionate boy, always ready to help and wait on "little aunty" had been a prominent figure in the stories Semantha Blake used to tell her baby girl, and Hitty's tender heart ached to think of him as an old, suffering, poverty-stricken and dying man. She came to certain resolutions that night before Mat Hallet made his usual evening visit, which were laid before him for approval, as was his due; for Mat and Hitty were to be married on New Year's Day, and in Dartford Savings Bank lay fifty hard earned-dollars laid up from Hitty's small salary to buy her wedding clothes; and Mat, who was a carpenter, spent his over hours in repairing and shingling a very small house with a bit of garden behind it, where they meant to begin their home life without any wedding celebration, or guests or journey.

"Mat, I want you to read a letter I got to-day," said Hitty, as she gave her lover his usual welcome when he entered Mrs. Platt's tiny parlor, given over to the school-ma'am for "courtin'."

So Mat sat down and read it.

"Poor old fellow," he said. "I wish we could do something for him, Hitty."

"Well, Mat, we can. I've been thinking. Mother set by Cousin Jack dreadfully when they was little. She thought the world of him, if she hadn't but a cent to do it with. Besides," she added, shyly, coloring like a wild rose up to the dark waves of brown hair above her broad, white brow; "we—I—well, it seems as though we were so happy, Mat, we had ought to do something for folks that ain't; don't you think so?"

Mat look at her with his heart in his eyes. He did not say anything except "Well"—the shibboleth of New England; but his eyes spoke so plainly that Hitty looked away a little, she was too shy to like even silent worship. She went on hurriedly:

"You see, there's that front room; we meant to have it for a sittin'-room. Now, why can't we fix up a bed in it and sit in the kitchen? I can have the cook-stove in the lean-to, and put the air-tight into the kitchen, and let the pipe go across his room corner-ways, and leave the doors open nights, so 't he'll be comfortable. 'Twont be for long, poor old feller."

"You're real good, Hitty, but I can't quite feel to turn ye out o' the best part of your home for a stranger, somehow."

"Oh, Mat! he ain't really a stranger; and if he was, hand't we ought all the more to help him? What if 'twas you, Mat, away off out West, poor and sick, and dyin'? I guess you'd be glad to find your folks comin' to help, now, wouldn't you?"

The tears in Hitty's beautiful eyes forbade Mat to deny her proposition. He was almost awed by this simple, self-denying, unconscious goodness; but he was a man, and had his share of sense.

"But about gittin' of him here, Hitty? If he's so all-fired poor, he can't travel so fur, now, can he?"

"I've fixed all that, Mat. If you don't mind havn' of him, I'll get him here. You know I calculated to buy some things"—here Hitty blushed again, with a droop of the long, dark lashes on her rosy cheek, that made Mat interrupt her in a very natural way.

"Oh, Mat! Well, you'll like me just as well, won't you, in my old blue merino, as if I had a new gownd?"

"Like you!" There was no more to be said; or if there was, Mat left it unsaid. He was afraid to tell this saint how saintly she was, and so fell back on the silent conviction that he he be, himself, was an unworthy sinner—a wholesome state of mind, no doubt, but not likely to be too enduring.

But Miss Platt, the lady with whom Kitty boarded, and to whom she confided her plans, in hope of some help about getting a second-hand bed and bedding to set up in the front-room, had no adoring scruple to prevent the full expression of her mind to the girl.

"Well, if I ever did!" she exclaimed, every scant hair on her tall, narrow head seeming to crisp with indignation, and her black eyes snapping. "Ef you ain't the most of a gudgeon I ever see, Hitty Blake, then I'll give it up! This house ain't bigger'n nuthin' now—a settin'-room, and a lean-to, and only one up chamber, under the ruff at that. Ef you hed a grain o' sense, ef ye could spare that front room anyhow, you'd sleep there yourselves. It'll be colder'n Greenland's icy mountains 'nd Indy's coral strands put together, up stairs. But, for the land's sakes! to set up a pauper to begin with! I b'lieve you're a little funny, and Mat he thinks the sun rises 'n' sets in your face, or he wouldn't never give into no such nonsense! And the old man's poorer'n Job's turkey, I expect.

"If he wasn't, we shouldn,t need to help him, Miss Nancy," said Hitty, gently.

"Well, fools will be fools to th' end o' the chapter. I s'pose I shall have to set by and see ye put upon by some helpless old feller, till you can't call your soul yer own, and all for nothing."

Kitty thought tenderly of tender words that had echoed in her heart over and over, of late. "Inasmuch as you have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me;" but her religion was of the silent type, that uses no language, but is active as the still forces of Nature, as the benignant dew, the quiet sunshine, the wooing breath and voiceless growth of spring. Her silence, and the lovely gleam of her look, provoked Miss Nancy Platt's practical soul, as she went on:

"You don't know nothin' what a chore 'tis, neither, to take care of an old man. They're seventeen times worse'n old women be. I know it, for I've wintered and summered them both. I wonder at Matthew Hallett for lettin' on ye do it; but I expect he'd get the moon for ye if you was sot on it, and he could. 'Twon't last! he'll peter out just like other folks, and then there'll be this old feller to wait on besides. Well, 'if willful will to water, willful must drench,' Grain used to say, and so 'tis!"

She bounced out of the room and Hatty sat down to write her letter, which she took to Dartford the next day, and drawing her money from the bank, brought a draft with it, which she inclosed and mailed, and then went her way back to West Dartford, with a serene joy in her heart, that Miss Nancy Platt neither knew nor understood.

This was the last answer to his circular that reached John Turner. He had not heard from Loren at all, and his preconceived opinion of human nature at large had been strengthened in its bitterness by the tenor of the three letters he had received.

He opened this in a languid, uninterested fashion, but read it with eager and deepening interest as it went on. This was Hitty's note:

'DEAR COUSIN JOHN:—I don't remember you, of course, but Mother did, and almost up to her death talked to me about you, and learned me to love you because she did. Now I want you to come right here to West Dartford. I am going to be married to Matthew Hallett, New Year's Day, and he wants you, too. We are going to fix up a real pleasant room for you, and we will take such good care of you, perhaps you will get well right off. Come as soon as you can. I will get you a place to board till we move. I send some money for the journey, for I know you won't refuse to come for mother's sake; she set so much by you, and she would have been so glad to do for you herself. Write and say when you are coming, so we can go or send, a team to Dartford to fetch you out. Your loving cousin (with Mat's best respects),

'HITTY BLAKE.'

There were verbal faults enough in the little school-ma'am's letter to have called down the censure of any school visitor; but to John Turner it was a voice from heaven. He dropped his grizzled head on the table where he lay it down, and a thrill of genuine repentance ran through his heart. The goodness and tenderness of a woman preached the Gospel to him; and, remembering words long ago learned at his mother's knee, he cried out to the heavenly Mercy this human loving kindness interpreted, "God be merciful to me, a sinner."

But Hitty never knew what good her generous sweetness did. She received an answer to her letter thanking her for her willingness to help her cousin, and saying that he was to low to travel so far, which by this time was true. With a sigh for the lonely old man, she broke off her negotiation with Miss Platt for the extra bedstead, and set about her own preparations. These were simple enough.

She was putting up some white curtains in the small sitting-room of the little red house, on Christmas morning—that being a holiday—curtains made out of an old gown, and trimmed with lace knitted at odd times by her own hands, when Mat came in to help her, bringing a letter in his hand. He stopped a moment to look at the clear, spotless drapery, as Hitty boasted of its success.

'I wish you needn't have had to work so for it, Hitty. I don't hanker so great for money, but I'd like to save them little hands o' yourn from hard work, dear, if I could.'

'Oh, Mat! I love to work,' she said, with a glance that meant 'for you,' and forshadowed a future when 'home and wife' should mean all they can, and ought to mean, to Mat's eager eyes.

He forgot the letter and put his arms about Hitty; but it dropped at her feet, and, extricating herself with a blush and a smile, she picked it up. It was from John Turner's lawyer, and inclosed a copy of his will, whereby he left to his cousin, Mehitable Blake—the only one of his family who came to his help when he was dying—all his property, amounting to fifty thousand dollars, to have and hold in her own right, so long as she did not share it with her brothers and sisters.

Hitty was stunned. The sweetness of possession was made bitter by this ungenerous clause; but, after all, it was kind in Cousin John. She came to that consolation before long, and Mat suggested to her so many ways of doing good—at least to her nephews and nieces—that the gentle, tender heart warmed gratefully at last toward John Turner in his grave by the lake far away, and his memory was held forever green in the new and more spacious house that superseded the small cottage. Mrs. Platt's comment was characteristic:

'Well, you throwed the bread onto the waters, as Scripter says, an' it come back to ye everlastin' quick. I might ha' flung a bull loaf away, and 'twould hev water-soaked, so to speak, afore it did, if it iver did. Some pork will bile so; but don't ye go for to think it'll allus do to be given' up things to everybody; 'twont' work, now, I tell ye, specially with men folks; and it aint always an' forever 't the good boy gets the gooseberry pie—not by no means!'

'But he always has the comfort of bein' good, don't he?' asked Mat, with a smile.

'Well, if that's allus a comfort, I dono as tis, and I dono as tis.'

HUSBANDS AND THEIR HABITS.

Some husbands never leave home in the morning without kissing their wives and bidding them "good-by dear," in the tones of unwearied love; and whether it be policy or fact, it has all the effect of fact, and those homes are generally pleasant ones, provided always that the wives are appreciative, and welcome the discipline in a kindly spirit. We know an old gentleman who lived with his wife over fifty years, and never left home without the kiss and the "good-by, dear." Some husbands shake hands with their wives and hurry off as fast as possible, as though the effort were something that they were anxious to forget, holding their heads down and darting round the first corner. Some husbands will leave home without saying anything at all, but thinking a good deal, as evinced by their turning round at the last point of observation and waiving an adieu at the pleasant face or faces at the window. Some husbands never say a word, rising from the breakfast table with the lofty indifference of a lord, and going out with a disregard of those left behind. It is a fortunate thing for their wives that they can find sympathy elsewhere. Some husbands never leave home without some unkind word or look, apparently thinking that such a course will keep things straight in their absence. Then, on returning, some husbands come home pleasant and happy, unsoured by the world; some sulky and surly with its disappointment. Some husbands bring home a newspaper or a book, and bury themselves for the evening in its contents. Some husbands are called away every evening by business or social engagements; some doze in speechless stupidity on a sofa until bed time. Some husbands are curious to learn of their wives what has transpired through the day; others are attracted by nothing short of a child's tumbling down stairs or the house taking fire.

A monster rubber belt has just been completed by the Trenton Rubber Works for a Western grain elevator. It required over a ton of cotton duck and weighs completed, 6,000 pounds. It is one yard wide, and the roll stands seven and a half feet high, being one-half heavier than any belt ever manufactured before in this vicinity.

HOW THE DOCTOR WAS PAID.

"Two dollars a visit!" cried Dot in dismay, forgetting entirely that she had come to look for a spool of No. 40 in Mamma's drawer, and opening her brown eyes wider and wider as she read the heading of an old bill of Dr. Cogswell's.

"Two dollars a visit!" she repeated. "Oh, why doesn't Donnie get well? And where is all the money to come from?" she asked herself, sadly. "We will get very poor," continued Dot, shaking her little brown head slowly over the bill. After thinking awhile, she slipped the paper in her pocket and went downstairs.

Mamma and Sister Margie were sewing. Dot went quickly to Mrs. Ledyard and whispered:

"We'll feel very poor afterward, won't we, Mamma?"

Mamma smiled. A sad smile, Dot thought, as she replied: "You're better at guessing than we suppose. Now, why don't you take your trimming, little daughter, and go into the library? There's a nice fire on the hearth, and you can work away like a bee. We'll need it soon, you know," added Mamma, for Dot was rather inclined to dream when she was alone.

"We'll need it soon," repeated Dot, as she climbed up in the big library chair. "We'll need it soon. And to think I never once thought that Mamma and Sister Margie were making those things to sell, nor how much 'twas costing to have the doctor coming every day, and sometimes twice a day. Poor Donnie! Perhaps he's worse than they tell me. Perhaps," and there was a great lump in her throat, "he's going to die, and they are leaving me to find them out."

Tom went into the barn to clean his gun. Dot saw him. "I'll ask him," she said, as she put her work hurriedly in a little silk handkerchief, and started with it for the barn. "He wont tease me when he knows how badly I feel."

"Halloo!" was Tom's greeting. "Been crying?"

"Yes," admitted Dot, in a voice that could leave no doubt of it in any one's mind.

"What's up?" continued Tom, as he rubbed away at his gun. "Want any help?"

"Well, you know, Tom," began Dot, in her sweet, timid voice; "there's a secret in there," pointing toward the house, "and I never found it out till this morning."

"So you found it out, did you? Well, I told 'em you would."

"I wouldn't, but for the bill."

"You wouldn't what?" asked Tom, who was rubbing away again.

"I'll tell you about this afterward. When I went into the sitting-room, Mamma and Margie were sewing."

"That certainly didn't surprise you!"

"O Tom! how can you make fun of it all? Mamma looked just ready to cry, and—oh, oh, oh, what can we ever do about it!" as she threw herself face downward on the hay, and sobbed as though her little heart would break, while Tom stood by in speechless astonishment, wondering why the words "Two dollars a visit" seemed mingled with her sobs.

"Come, Dot," said he, tenderly. "Don't cry. You haven't told me yet what the matter is. Now we'll sit right up here, while you tell Tom all about it."

After a while, Dot managed to say:

"Doesn't Dr. Cogswell charge people who are ill two dollars every time he goes to see them?"

"Something like that, I believe," answered Tom, wonderingly.

"It's exactly that," said Dot, feeling for the bill. "O, Tom, we must owe him hundreds of dollars!"

There was a queer look in Tom's eyes.

"I suppose we do," he said.

"But have we got the money to pay him?" questioned Dot, the brown eyes swimming again.

"No, I don't believe we have."

"Then, what are you going to do?" said Dot, with another sob.

"There, Dot," said Tom, soothingly. "Don't be so foolish as to cry. It's all coming out right. I can't tell you now just how, but it is."

"Tom," called Mrs. Ledyard, "they're all waiting for you."

"The boys have come, Dot," said Tom, giving her a hasty kiss. "Now remember not to worry. It's coming out all right."

Dot sat a long time on the hay.

"Tom always thinks everything is going to come out all right," she said, determined to be miserable.

"I just know he thinks Dr. Cogswell isn't going to charge, but he is, for here's one bill and he's probably got another all ready."

"He could just as well not charge," she went on, "for Edith Olcott told me he was ever'n' ever so rich, and that he's got a house in the city even prettier than this. But how could one be?" she wondered. "How could any room be lovelier than the one Mrs. Crane took Edith and me into the other day? the little one with the window looking out on the lake, and the little bed with curtains and everything blue, carpet and all. Dr. Cogswell calls it his little sister's room, and she's coming in the spring. Tom just wanted to comfort me. He doesn't know how hard they're workin' and cryin'."

That night, Dot added to her prayer the words, "O God, please don't let it be more than we can pay." "Let what?" asked Mamma.

"The doctor's bill," whispered Dot.

The young doctor must have heard of it in the morning after breakfast, and the first thing he said was:

"I'm going to have my bill settled today, little Miss Dot," as with quite a grave face he took out his memoranda.

"Now, how much should you think it would come to?"

"Hundreds!" said little Dot, faintly.

"We want to be business-like," said Dr. Cogswell; "suppose you get your slate and figure it."

Dot ran. "He isn't going to let us off a penny," she moaned.

"Now, let's do a little sum in arithmetic," said the doctor. "What does M stand for?"

"One thousand," said staggered little Dot, pushing the crochet-work way down in her pocket.

"Very good," said the doctor. "Now, what does C stand for?"

"One hundred," said Dot, trying to be brave.

"H'm," coughed Dr. Cogswell. "Now, can you think of anything else they might stand for?"

"No, sir," said Dot.

"Why, yes you can, Dot," cried Donald, who had just been wheeled into the room. "M. C!" clapping his hands. "Why, Merry Christmas, don't you see?"

Dot smiled.

"Then there is n't any bill?" she asked Tom.

"Nary a bill," said Tom; "but can't you think of anything else the letters might stand for?"

"No," said happy stupid little Dot.

"I can," cried Don, catching sight of some glances being exchanged, and Margie's pretty cheeks aglow. "Margie Cogswell!"

Dot had to submit to a good deal of teasing, but she was very happy notwithstanding, and wrote in her diary that night, in such big letters that she went right over two or three, of the following days:

"The doctor wasn't coming to see Donnie, after all, and there wasn't any bill. I am going to be bridesmaid and wear white. There isn't any little sister but me, and I'm going to have the little blue-room, whenever I want to go there to visit.—Katherine B. Mc Dowell, in St. Nicholas for January.

INSENSIBLE TO ABUSE.

If a public man is thin-skinned and reads the newspapers, he is likely to lead a hard life of it. He needs to have the triple coat of brass, which Horace speaks of, to blunt the sharp arrows shot at him by the censors of the press. Silas Wright, one of the great leaders of the Democratic party in New York fifty years ago, had an unfailing antidote for the rancor of abuse—he didn't read it.

One day the editor of a paper which had been attacking Mr. Wright savagely for many weeks met him at a party, and apologized for an article in that morning's paper saying that he had found out during the day that the charges were untrue.

"I do not understand you," answered the bland statesman.

"Why, I have found out that the article I published about you this morning is not true."

"Me!" was the answer, in a blander tone, "me! You haven't been writing against me, have you?"

"Yes, for six months."

"You don't say so. I never heard of it," coolly replied Mr. Wright.

"Then I'll write no more," said the chagrined editor, who had been flattering himself that he was goading Mr. Wright to the quick.

If nobody read or commented on abusive articles, they would soon disappear from the public press. The reader who enjoys them is a party to the slander.

GEMS

The windpipe: A flute.

Short waists: Cigarette butts.

A cooking club: A rolling pin.

False prophets: Crooked dividends.

Got the stamps: Clog-dancers.

The stable yard: Thirty-six inches.

"Never smoke before ladies." We suppose one must let the ladies smoke first.

The latest euphemism for taking boarders is having a few "remunerative guests."

"Silence that dreadful belle," said Jigger, as the beauty of the hotel howled an operatic air in the parlor.

"You can't both eat your cake and have it."—Ancient Proverb. No; but you can take your drinks and have 'em—have 'em bad.

Heads of families complain that the only popular tune with children in the holiday season is "The Sweet Buy and Buy."

Charming frankness: You have lovely teeth, Ethel." "Yes, George," she fondly lisped, "they were a Christmas present from Aunt Grace."

Old Crusty, who has two daughters, says that he has kept a bull-dog for years for the express purpose of distributing the Sunday mails.

"Has the clergyman's wife a moral right to kiss the male members of her congregation?" Only in retaliation. Hope the meaning is clear.

Upon a writer exclaiming that his works contained much "food for thought," a friend remarked:—"That may be so; but it is wretchedly cooked."

A Maiden woman has ten children under fifteen years of age. To save her hands she utilizes the pancake turner, and requires a new one every year.

Many people regard religion very much as we regard small-pox. They desire to have it as light as possible, and yet are very careful it does not mark them.

A definition: "Pa, what is an employment agent?" "Why, my son, he is a man who is very anxious to get work for others to do. He himself doesn't want any."

An actress, of this city, was offered a sealskin cloak if she wouldn't speak for an hour. At the end of seven minutes she exclaimed: "Mind, it's got to be a $550 one."

"Well, madam, how's your husband today?" "Why, doctor, he's no betterb." "Did you get the leeches?" "Yes, but he only took three of them raw—I had to fry the rest."

An Arkansas man advertises his newspaper for sale. As an inducement he says: "It has now a good, sober, gentlemanly force of men in the office." What a paradise!

A country girl, who was being treated to ice cream for the first time, was asked by her "young man" how she liked it. "It tastes pretty good," was the reply, "but I always prefer my pudding hot."

Oh, for an Opera House.

Samuel Fenton, of Mount Pleasant, Atlantic county, has invented an improved breech-loading gun.

George Wadsworth has shod the bay horse "Dan" for John Cameron of Plainfield with cast-steel shoes. The horse has a record of 2:30.—Somerset Messenger.

The Somerset Messenger says that one day last week Mr. Archibald Codington, of Bound Brook, was standing by the water tanks belonging to the L. V. R. R., when the 5 o'clock fast train passed by. The pilot of the engine struck a heap of coal ashes, that an engine a short time before had dumped there, and scattered them in all directions. A large quantity of the coal and dust flew in Mr. Codington's face and nearly blinded him. He has been confined to his room ever since, and it is feared that he will lose the sight of his left eye entirely, if not both of them.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

SPACE	WEEKS. 1	2	3	MONTHS. 1	2	3	6	12
1 in...	$1.00	$1.75	[illegible]	[illegible]	$4.00	[illegible]	[illegible]	$12.50
2 in...	1.50	2.00	3.00	4.00	[illegible]	[illegible]	12.00	[illegible]
3 in...	2.00	3.00	4.00	5.00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
4 in...	2.00	3.50	5.00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
5 in...	2.25	4.00	6.00	8.00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
¼ col..	4.50	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
½ col..	7.50	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 col..	12.50	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Double columns 20 per cent. advance of above rates.

One half-inch advertisements inserted for one week at 75 cents each.

Net rates for all advertisements and no deviation.

JOB PRINTING

Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

A CONUNDRUM.

Conundrums are queer things.

On the trial of a Life Insurance case before the United States Court, New York, the other day, an ex-Judge being sworn as a witness testified as follows:

What is a drinking man?

A man who drinks.

Was he an average drinker?

If you will give me the standard I will tell you whether he was an average drinker.

How much must a man drink to be a drinking man?

In the city of New York that's a conundrum.

Suppose New York be stricken out and Plainfield inserted, who can then answer the conundrum?

We give it up.

ENGLISH FREEDOM.

Are the people of Ireland slaves or freemen?

We ask the question in view of the following extract from a proclamation issued by the Lord-Lieutenant, at the City of Dublin, November 28th last:

"In a proclaimed district, if a person is out of his place of abode at any time after one hour later than sunset and before sunrise under suspicious circumstances, any constable may arrest that person and bring him forthwith before a justice of the peace, and such justice, after inquiry into the circumstances of the case, may either discharge him or take the necessary steps, by committing him to prison or taking bail, to bring him before a court of summary jurisdiction acting under this act, and if such person, on appearing before a court of summary jurisdiction acting under this act, fails to satisfy the court that he was out of his place of abode upon some lawful occasion or business, he shall be guilty of an offense against this act."

Any person, out of his house between one hour after sunset and before sunrise, subject to arbitrary arrest.

That is the edict of a Government whose dominions, seized mainly by the strong arm of military power, extend the wide world over, and whose arrogant boast is "that the foot of a slave does not press her soil."

Away with such hypocritical cant.

Ireland is not free, and never will be under the aristocratic sway of England.

Negro slavery has been abolished, but white servitude remains, and the English flag waves over more of it than any other banner on the face of earth.

VOX POPULI.

Lieut. Gov.-elect Hill, of New York, at a banquet given in honor of Congressman Perry Belmont last Saturday night, well remarked that the recent Democratic victories throughout the country meant—

"That abuses of the past must be reformed.

"There must be honesty and fair dealing in political primaries and conventions.

Legislation must be in the interest of the tax payers and of the people."

Which, if faithfully carried into execution, as the Democratic party earnestly desires, will result in putting an end to the festering evil of political corruption, and restore the Government to its original purity and beneficence.

Modern times are enriched with rank smelling abuses. To remove them and prevent their recurrence is both partisan and patriotic duty.

The manner of nominating and electing men to fill executive and legislative positions has been perverted into an arena of mercenary strife, where bribery rears its brazen front and falsehood plies its wicked art. Against that degrading and dangerous political practice determined opposition is absolute public duty.

And, as every intelligent citizen knows and will admit, legislation, in lieu of its only legitimate purpose—the promotion of the general welfare, has often been transformed into a mere registry of favoritism and injustice. There the fearless hand of reform is a necessity.

Democrats! You are the defenders of principles Jefferson wisely proclaimed eighty years ago!

For the good of all the people make them sovereign law!

The colored population of the United States numbered two years ago 6,580,793.

The Cunard and other English Steamship Companies have substituted coffee for grog in the rations of their crews.

The fee of a Life Insurance Company's Receiver in New York has been cut down from $68,000 to $35,000. It is quite time the system of plundering corporations under the guise of administering their affairs was stopped.

The stealing of $300,000 from the Rochester City Bank by its President affords another instance of the ruinous effects of speculation. The insane modern desire to become quickly rich, without honest labor and regardless of means, is a fearful curse.

The Tariff Commission proposed on steel blooms a specific duty of 2 cents per pound or $44.80 per ton, being about 200 per cent. ad valorem. For the sake of justice and in the name of common sense, when will a tariff be framed to protect general interests instead of feeding greedy monopolists?

The mass of the American people are not gamblers and office-seekers, but honest and industrious farmers, mechanics, tradesmen, artisans and laborers. They only desire a government that will practice integrity, preserve peace and good order, and promote the general prosperity. To deprive them of that legal right is robbery.

Notwithstanding General Hazen, Chief Signal Officer of the United States, pronounces the idea visionary and of no repute, Professor Wiggins, of Canada, maintains that a great storm will occur on March 11th next. We shall see which is correct. Close reef the mainsail. It can be unbraced if Wiggins proves a false prophet, otherwise it may save the masts.

Mr. Hiscock has represented the Onondaga, New York, Congressional District for several terms, receiving as high as five thousand majority. He stands returned to the next Congress by a plurality of only 731, and with an actual majority of the popular vote against him. He voted for the River and Harbor divide and came very near sticking fast in the mud of public indignation.

In the United States there are 1,878,216 voters who cannot write. Free universal education is the hope of the future.

Something must be done for Congressman Robeson, who will soon become an ex, and what that shall be bothers his particular wing of the Republican party. A Minister is wanted for Spain and rumor couples Robeson's name therewith. Whether he goes to Madrid or Pekin precious few New Jersey tears will be shed in consequence.

No argument was made before the Supreme Court last Saturday, in reference to the non-compliance of law by Sheriff Forsyth in not renewing his bond last November. It is understood however, that the Court will sanction the Sheriff's acts in the transacting of regular business pertaining to his office during the interim that his bonds were not renewed. It is stated that four other Sheriffs of Counties in the State are in the same predicament that Sheriff Forsyth found himself in, they having also failed to renew their bonds at the proper time.

GLEANINGS.

Vineland wants a water works and fire alarm.

Deer have become quite plentiful in Cape May county.

The sea is again endangering the Long Branch bluffs.

A sea wall is to be built to protect the railroad at the Highlands.

There were 821 convicts confined in the State Prison Monday last.

A new iron company has purchased about 1500 acres of iron land in Morris county.

Cincinnati citizens have subscribed $10,000 for a bronze statue of President Garfield.

The Seminary collections in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Newark was $5,213.43.

Senator John Taylor, of Trenton, is mentioned as a Republican candidate for Governor.

Drew Seminary, at Madison, Morris county, has graduated 300 Methodist preachers in thirteen years.

M. Gambetta died at his residence at Ville d'Avray, at midnight, on Sunday, in a state of unconsciousness.

The total number of immigrants landing at Castle Garden from January 1 to December 30, inclusive, was 455,019.

N. E. Dukes, who killed Captain Nutt, State Cashier of Pennsylvania, has been released from custody on $12,000 bail.

Five Representatives in Congress have died during the past year: Messrs. Allen, Lowe, Hawk, Updegraff and Orth.

The cost to Newark City of the attempt to secure the extradition of ex-Chief Clerk Hall is $3,800 up to this date.

The man who wants to be the next President of the United States had better not bring himself out for a year at least.

A proposition to dam the Delaware river at Trenton is being discussed by the Trenton Board of Trade and Bucks county citizens.

Jos. B. Cornish of Warren county advertises that he will make application to the next Legislature for a special act to restore to him his right of citizenship.

The State Dental Society will meet at New Brunswick on the 11th prox., at 10 o'clock a. m., when the usual examination of applicants to practice dentistry will be made.

A city letter was dropped into the Rochester post-office recently with this address in a child's hand: "An den lieben Vater in Himmel"—to the beloved Father in heaven.

The valuable colt, Colonel Morrell, belonging to Dr. T. C. Sandford, of Asbury Park, died suddenly on Saturday. Only a few days ago the Doctor refused $3,500 for him.

G. M. Wheeler, a hat manufacturer of Elizabeth, who has failed for $60,000, with but $13,000 assets, has agreed to pay all his debts if his creditors will give him eighteen months time.

The New Jersey Sanitary Association propose that hereafter the schools open the first Monday after the 15th of September, and close on the last Friday of June, giving about eleven weeks Summer vacation.

The question whether a railroad carriage comes under the definition, "an open and public place," where gambling is penal, has just been decided in the London High Court of Justice. It is such a place.

The boundary line between Burlington and Atlantic counties has never been accurately fixed, and it is proposed to have Commissioners appointed by the next Legislature to settle the matter definitely.

Mr. John L. Haynes, the President of the Tariff Commission, is confident that the tariff will be revised this session on the plan recommended by the commission, as modified by the Committee on Ways and Means.

The Board of Directors of the West Jersey Railroad Company has decided to sell the Stockton Hotel, Cape May, N. J., for $150,000 if a purchaser can be found. The cost of the property was about $500,000.

Mayor Grace, of New York, has refused the application of Salmi Morse, for a hall on Twenty-third street, in which it is proposed to produce the Passion Play. Mr. Morse says he will, nevertheless, produce the play.

The Board of Control, which consists of the Governor, the Chancellor and the Chief Justice, on Saturday last reappointed Moses S. Higbie, of Middlesex county, and George W. Helme, of Hudson, to be trustees of the Reform School for Boys at Jamesburg.

Vice Chancellor Bird has just rendered a decision that is of more than ordinary interest. He declares that where a husband applies for a divorce on the ground of desertion on the part of his wife, he must not only show that the desertion was without his consent, but that he was free from all fault.

The Jersey City Board of Fire Commissioners have adopted a rule that all hotels, boarding houses, schools, public buildings, factories and work-shops, when they are three or more stories in height, must have one or more external fire escapes. The penalty for failure to comply with the rule is a fine not to exceed $300.

The Point Pleasant Land company are more largely branching out this year than ever before. The company will expend fully $20,000 in opening and grading new avenues, and thirty-three of fifty new cottages are now "raised" and rapidly progressing toward completion. It is the intention of the company to employ S. B. Ovatt, the well-known railroad contractor, to grade these avenues, to be opened by early Spring, two of which will offer street car accommodations from the central points of the village to the beach.

The eighth annual meeting of the New Jersey State Horticultural Society will be held at the Freehold Opera House on the 9th and 10th inst.

The Board of Education of Newark for 1883 organized Wednesday evening last by re-electing George B. Swain, Republican, as President, and all the old officers.

Arabi Pasha has at last embarked, together with other State prisoners, for Ceylon. Inasmuch as Arabi will continue to receive a large income from the Egyptian Government for keeping out of the way, he could make life pass very pleasantly, and find a means of getting rid of his money by starting a newspaper.—Trenton Times.

The following startling announcement was posted the other day in the Baltimore City Hospital: "If any gentleman has purchased a skeleton within the past few days he will confer a favor on Dr. Thomas by letting him know of whom he purchased it, for there has been one taken from the hospital. A reward will be paid and the gentleman allowed to keep the skeleton."

The biggest blast ever undertaken on the Pacific coast was exploded on the Oregon and California Railroad track. Nearly 6,000 pounds of blasting-powder were used; and the shock was so tremendous that the adjacent stream was thrown out of its bed for a distance of half a mile; the highway was badly injured and effectually blockaded for the same distance and damage was inflicted in the workman's camp, 900 yards away.

One day recently, while a force of men were engaged at digging sand from a knoll on the farm of Amos Harris, near the mouth of Salem creek, at the depth of three feet below the surface, they came across a brick wall, about twelve feet long, and extended down into the ground some four feet. The ground over the wall has been farmed over a hundred years, and all clue to the wall is so far wrapped in mystery.

Tom Ochiltree goes to Congress from Texas. We call to mind an incident told of Tom which is about as follows: Tom and his father were partners in the practice of law under the firm name of Ochiltree & Son. The old man told Tom to have them a new sign put up. Imagine the old man's surprise when on the following day he saw displayed over the office door, in bold letters, "Tom Ochiltree & Father, Attorneys at Law."—Mississippi Recorder.

Mr. William MacLennan, "Scotland's unparalleled bag-pipe player and Highland dancer," arrived in New York on Thursday last on the steamer Bolivia from Glasgow. He is about 23 years old and first appeared in public in Dundee in 1878, since which time he has appeared in numerous competitions, defeating all his rivals. Last year he won ten prizes for his dancing and playing. He intends to give several performances in New York and to make a professional tour of the States.

At the session of the Court of Pardons held in Trenton on Saturday last, Daniel W. Leeds, who was convicted in January, 1880, of conspiracy and misdemeanor in connection with Comptroller Leggett in the management of financial affairs of the city of Elizabeth, was pardoned. Leggett, who was Comptroller, was sentenced for seven years and Leeds, who was a personal employee of Leggett's in the Comptroller's office, was sentenced for four years. His term would have expired May next.

General John B. Gordon, of Georgia, comes home from Europe proud of his country. He said to a reporter: "It is enough to make an American proud to ride through the streets of London with its civilization of two thousand years, and see American implements, American sewing machines, American tools and American goods displayed on every hand, and know that American watches are being sold in the stores, and American fields are feeding the English people, and American factories beginning to clothe them."

The Legislature, which is soon to convene, will have a warm time of it on the score of prohibition. All the Protestant churches and religious societies in the State have taken the matter in hand, and barrels of petitions, backed by strong speakers, will be submitted to the Legislature, asking for a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors within the borders of New Jersey. The Judiciary Committee of the House and Senate will have an unhappy time this Winter.

A case which has interested Somerset county people not a little was decided in the Supreme Court Thursday of last week, after having been before Judge Magie for about two weeks. Harry Whitenack, a railroad employee, brought action against George Anderson, a wealthy young man, for damages for destroying his married life. It was proved that Anderson had been improperly intimate with Mrs. Whitenack, and the jury, after being out a short time, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,000, which gives general satisfaction.

The new combination letter-sheet and envelope, and postal card, which have been authorized by the Government, will probably be in circulation this month. The inventor of the combination has received an order for 20,00,00 of them; the price being $80,000. The letter-sheet is about the size of ordinary letter paper. When written upon it is folded twice from the bottom and once from the right-hand side, which makes it the size of an ordinary envelope. The folding postal card is half the size of the letter sheet, and has only a gummed flap at the top.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

ROLL OF HONOR FOR DECEMBER.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.

Mary Ball, Louis Carter, Harry Carter, Ellen Farley, Ida Frentz, Aggie Hollingsworth, Lulu Hollingsworth, Lida Hueston, Willie Jamison, May Kennedy, Mamie Murphy, Samuel Pope, Mac Sykes, Louisa Stiliger, Lucy Reynolds, Gertrude Rinehart, Mamie Spencer.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.

Ellen Cottrell, Susie Hueston, Emma Clark, Carrie Elston, Nellie Hollingsworth, Fannie Haskard, Mamie Mercier, Mary Patz, Annie Radin, Grace Robison, Grace Smith.

ADVANCED PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Ida Lake, Mabel Mooney, Mamie Martin, Mamie Murphy, Nellie Cook, Aggie McNair, Anna Murphy, Annie Wetherel, Bertha Corey, Willie Pope, John Radin, Willie Farley, Nelson Archibald, Freddie Schreiner, Willie Hueston, Josy Cottrell, Walter Smith.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Kitty Buckley, Norman Dunn, Ellen Frentz, Margie Hueston, Arthur Haskard, Eddie Johnston, Nancy Wade, Belle Mercier, Libby Bancroft, Walter Collins, Mabel Corey, Winnie Clark, Nellie Flannery, Harry Hill, Emma Gibbs, Frank Hollingsworth, Alice Johnston, Jennie McNair, Lillie Schmidt, Lizzie Stamets, George Trainor.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

The Westfield Athletic Club removed their effects on Saturday last to the Hotel Hall. They originally occupied one of the rooms on first floor of Lyceum building.

Rumor has it that the Lyceum building has been rented to a New York party for manufacturing purposes. It has never paid as a hall—it being a little too expensive a concern for our town.

On Monday last, Edward C. Sanford, of our town was married to Miss Cornelia Faytin, daughter of Thomas Faytin of Cranford. The cermony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents.

Joseph Perry has his ice house nearly completed, at Parkhurst Pond. It is estimated to hold about 1000 tons. Between the two ice merchants, Manning and Perry, Westfielders had not ought to suffer next Summer for ice.

The Episcopal church Sunday School held their Christmas Festival on Thursday evening last. The church had been nicely trimmed for the occasion. There was a large Christmas tree loaded down with good things for the children.

There will be a special meeting of the Westfield Bucket and Engine Co., on Friday evening, Jan. 12th inst., in the Town Rooms. Every member is earnestly requested to be present as business of importance to the company is to be transacted.

Forrest, aged seven years, son and only child of A. M. and Helen M. Moffett, died on Sunday last from dyphtheria and was buried on Monday in Fairview Cemetery. They buried their only daughter Anna on Thursday of last week—she died from the same disease.

On Wednesday last David Curran, aged 11 years, son of Michael Curran, picked up a pistol in Herder's fruit store—in fooling with it, it exploded and shot him through the left hand, making a very ragged and painful wound. Frederick A. Kinch, Jr., dressed the wound.

The Westfield Lyceum and Library removed on Saturday last from Lyceum Hall building to the second floor of the brick building, corner of Broad and Elm street, over James T. Pierson's dry good store, being the same rooms formerly occupied by Wm. W. Connolly as undertaker's warerooms.

The Town Committee held a meeting on Thursday evening of last week. All the members present. They were engaged in settling with the several overseers of the road and paying the bills owing by the township. They will meet again this (Thursday) evening to continue their settlement with the road overseers.

Early last Friday morning an accident happened to a coal train going East near Broad street. It occurred by the breaking of an axle of one of the coal cars next to the engine. Eight cars were thrown from the track, spreading their contents on the track. The regular passenger trains were delayed for only a short time. No person was injured.

Very interesting Watch Night services were held in the Methodist church on last Sunday evening. It commenced at nine o'clock. The Rev. R. L. Dunn presiding elder of the district, preached a very able and instructive sermon, followed by singing and an experienced meeting conducted by the Rev. Thos. Simms, which occupied the time to 10.30 p. m., at which time the Rev. Joseph Greaves, delivered a sermon. The last moments of the old year was spent in silent prayer.

A portion of a shoe in the show window of L. M. Whitaker's shoe store on Broad street, made in 1835 in London, England, by a workman named John Anderson, who is now in the employ of Mr. Whitaker. It is of the style called at that time the "Louican" or "Louis the XV." The heel is five inches in height, the sole has 35 stitches to the inch. It was on exhibition at the Centennial in Kenny & Mc Partland's exhibition of New York, for whom Mr. Anderson worked at that time.

At a meeting of the Fireside Council, No. 715, held on Thursday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Edward Harbison, Past Regent; Alfred Westbrook, Regent; R. R. Sinclair, Vice Regent; Chas. F. Conant, Orator; Benj. F. Crosby, Secretary; C. M. Smith, Collector; David Sayers, Treasurer; Anson F. Grant, Chaplain; William H. Elston, Guide; William C. Barton, Warden; H. J. Worcester, Sentry; James L. Miller, Geo. W. Van Buskirk, Geo. H. Brown, Trustees; Edward Harbison and Alfred J. Westbrook, Representatives to Grand Council.

CALLENDER'S Consolidated Minstrels. All black, all beautiful, all accomplished, all gentlemen of color, all musicians, original company, original humor, original scenery, original father-in-law. A distinguished member of the bar, who has ten minutes to spare from politics, says: "Permit me to thank you for the exquisite genius of your company. It is so dry and yet so juicy." A leader of politics near Jones' Falls, says: "Bill Jones and my wife went to see your performance last night. They came home all broken up. They said: 'The murmur of waterfalls and the roar of the pasteboard wild beasts was something terrific.' They said they got their money back in two hours." The above troupe will perform at Van Deventer Hall, Monday, Jan. 8th.

Jacob W. Gebhardt to Have a Hearing.

Jacob W. Gebhardt, of Clinton, N. J., who is wanted to answer a charge brought by the father of Eliza Philhower, of Peapack, N. J., and who is said to have been married to a number of young women in New Jersey, was brought before Judge Barrett, in Supreme Court Chambers, New York city, Wednesday morning, on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Donohue. Gebhardt was committed by Justice White to await the requisition of the Governor of New Jersey. Mr. Robert H. Racy appeared as counsel for Gebhardt and said that his client had been arrested on Christmas Day on charges that he had been entirely unable to ascertain the nature of. An affidavit had been made by the father of a girl and he desired time to answer this charge. Assistant District Attorney Brady produced a writ of extradition from Governor Cleveland ordering that Gebhardt be sent to New Jersey. He said that the charges against him were very serious. Mr. Racy said that his client had been married since this charge had been made and it was an attempt to injure him. Judge Barrett said that the request for time to prepare a defense was a reasonable one and he would adjourn the case until Friday.

A Year of Crime.

During the past year, says the New York Evening Telegram, crime has been high carnival in the United States. On an average there have been each day two murders and one suicide. On the other hand executions have averaged only two a week and lynching one. Since January 1,790 persons have met their deaths at the hands of their fellow men. One hundred and twenty-five were mistetious murders. There were fifty-two wife murders, five murders of husbands, six parricides, four matricides, five fratricides and two sororicides. Forty children were killed by their parents. In twenty-three of the crimes there were two assassins, in three instances there were three of them. Twenty-four of the murderers committed suicide and one died in jail. In regard to murders New York leads with 131; 76 of these were committed in this city and 14 in Brooklyn. The other States and Territories rank in the following order: Missouri, 44; Virginia, 42; Pennsylvania, 40; Kentucky, 37; Texas, 31; Illinois, 30; New Jersey, 30; Ohio, 28; Massachusetts, 27; Arkansas, 24; Tennessee, 21; Indiana, 19; North Carolina, 19; Georgia, 16; Mississippi, 15; Colorado, 13; California, 10; Iowa, and Minnesota, 9 each; Alabama, Connecticut, Maryland, Michigan and Wisconsin, 8 each; Louisiana, Main and South Carolina, 7 each; Kansas and Rhode Island, 6 each; West Virginia, 5; Arizona, District of Columbia, Indian Territory, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming, 4 each; Florida, Nevada, and New Hampshire, 3 each; Dakota, Nebraska and Washington Territory, 2 each, Delaware, Montana and Vermont, 1 each. One hundred and one persons paid the penalty of their crimes by death during the past year. Of this number ninety-eight died on the gallows and three were shot, the scene of the executions of the latter being the Indian Territory. Of those who forfeited their lives fifty-two were negroes, thirty-eight were white, eight were Indians and two were Chinamen. Three women were executed. One was hanged in Georgia with four men, for having committed a murder at a camp meeting, another was executed in South Carolina, with her brother-in-law, for murdering her sister, and the third died on the gallows with two men in North Carolina for killing her husband. Eighty-eight of the executions were for murder, five for arson, three for treason, two for lying in wait and stabbing and three for assaulting women. The persons hanged for treason were three Indian scouts, executed by the United States authorities at Fort Grant, Arizona. Two brothers were hanged together in Tennessee, and two cousins died on the same gallows in Pennsylvania. Of the murders expiated, six were those of wives, one that of a husband, one of a son, one of a sister, one of an aunt, one of a daughter-in-law and one was committed in prison. One of the executions was that of Guiteau, for the assassination of President Garfield; one that of an Indian chief, Brave Bear, and two occurred in this city, those of Sindram and Leighton, on April 20 and May 19, respectively. The 101 executions are divided among the several States and Territories as follows: Georgia, 11; South Carolina, 9; Louisiana, 7; Missouri, and North Carolina, 6 each; Dakota, Illinois, Indian Territory and Pennsylvania, 5 each; Kentucky, New York, Tennessee and Texas, 4 each; Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Mississippi and Virginia, 3 each; Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Idaho, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico and Oregon, 1 each. Judge Lynch during the past twelve months, has been very busy. By his orders fifty-seven persons were put to death in punishment for various crimes. There were twelve double and four triple lynchings. Thirty-four of those on whom summary justice was inflicted were white men, twenty-two were negroes and one an Indian, who was hanged in California. Of the fifty-seven lynchings, thirty-four were for murder, three for horse stealing in Missouri, two for cattle stealing in Colorado, two for cotton stealing in Texas, two for robbery and attempted murder in Louisiana, two for murder and stage robbery and twelve for other crimes which the residents of the South and West generally punish with death. The hangings by mobs and vigilance committees occurred in the following States and Territories: Colorado, 6; Alabama, 5; Kentucky, Louisiana, New Mexico, South Carolina, 4 each; Kansas, Missouri and Washington Territories, 3 each; Arizona, Florida, Indiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Ohio and Texas, 2 each; Arkansas, California, Louisiana, Missouri, Oregon, Virginia and Wisconsin, 1 each. Three hundred and eighty-three persons in various parts of the country, having grown tired of life, ushered themselves into eternity by means of the pistol, gun, knife, razor, fire, the rope and various other ways. In New York 123 persons committed suicide, and in Brooklyn there were 26 cases. Of all the States and Territories New York ranks first, with 184 cases; Jersey, 38; Pennsylvania, 27; Ohio, 24; Maryland, 13; Missouri, 10, Illinois, 9; California, 7; Arkansas and Delaware, 6 each; Connecticut, Massachusetts, North Carolina, 5 each; Alabama, Indiana, Georgia, Maine, Rhode Island and Virginia, 4 each; District of Columbia, Louisiana, Mississippi and New Hampshire, 3 each; Kentucky, Michigan, Vermont and Wisconsin, 2 each.

MARRIAGES.

BACHMAN—FOSTER.—In this city, at the residence of the bride, January 2d, 1883, by Rev. Dean Rodman, Wm. H. Bachman to Annie E., daughter of Wm. N. and Phœbe Foster, all of this city.

DEATHS.

EVERITT.—In this city, Dec. 29, 1882, of consumption, Ida May, daughter of John L. and the late Emeline Everitt, in her 20th year.

LEESON.—In this city, Thursday, Jan. 4, 1883, of pneumonia, Mary S., relict of Ayres Leeson. Funeral services will be held at the late residence of the deceased, corner of Sixth and Peace streets, Saturday afternoon, Jan. 6th, at 2 o'clock.

TITSWORTH.—Entered into rest Jan. 2, 1883, Ann Eliza, wife of Rudolph M. Titsworth, in the 65th year of her age. Services at her late home on Saturday, 6th inst., at 2 p. m. Friends of the family invited without further notice.

VAN DUYN.—At Bound Brook, Dec. 29th, 1882, Martha, widow of the late Robert Gordon Van Duyn, of Bound Brook, in the 84th year of her age.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.

A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c., constantly in stock at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.

Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.

Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
GEO. C. FORD. GEO. M. STILES.

P. CASEY & SON.
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 10 Park avenue (Jules Boutet' Hair Store) Residence, No. 11 Third st., cor. New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
40½ West Front St.
Residence—Front St., opp' Washington Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield,
Have a
"General Line of Groceries,"
Equal to any in the Market. Also, have other goods at lower prices Agents for the
"Gem" a New Process Flour,
Please call and examine our COFFEES & TEAS.
Goods Delivered to any part of the city.

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

HARPERSINES, black, violet and red, and Harper's Mucilage, all of superior quality; can be had in quantities to suit purchaser of the manufacturer Joseph W. Harper, No. 43 West Second Street, Plainfield, N. J. Orders through the mail will receive prompt attention.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

GRAND OPENING!

GRAND OPENING of Holiday Goods at CLARE'S Jewelry Store. Come and examine our large and handsome stock before purchasing. We have a line of goods direct from the Manufacturer's and at prices so low that all can buy. New goods! New patterns. Elegant and beautiful. Must be seen to be appreciated. Call and see for yourselves. No. 9 Park avenue.

DON'T MISTAKE THE STORE!

Carney Bros.,
NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.
Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.

PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.

Grates and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at jobber's prices. Bring your Tin Ware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials and our work always gives satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Tinware made to order.

RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.

—SANITARY PLUMBING—

Van Deventer Hall!
MONDAY, JANUARY 8th, 1883.
AT EIGHT O'CLOCK, P. M.
CALLENDER'S
Famous Colored Minstrels!
Crowned and sceptered with a popularity as wide as the universe.
Presenting Absolute Novelties Only!
New Songs! New Jokes!
New Sketches! New Dances!
New Operatic Burlesques!
Superb Double Quartette!
Mammoth Orchestra!
Usual Prices!
HOWARD SPEAR, Manager.

HOLIDAY GIFTS!
AT SWAIN'S,
No. 32 West Front street.
PAINTINGS,
ENGRAVINGS,
ETCHINGS,
BEVELED MIRRORS,
ROGERS GROUPS,
ARTISTS' MATERIALS,
CHRISTMAS CARDS, ETC. All at New York prices.

1883.
HARPER'S WEEKLY.
ILLUSTRATED.

Harper's Weekly stands at the head of American illustrated weekly journals. By its unpartisan position in politics, its admirable illustrations, its carefully chosen serials, short stories, sketches and poems, contributed by the foremost artists and authors of the day, it carries instruction and entertainment to thousands of American homes.

It will always be the aim of the publishers to make Harper's Weekly the most popular and attractive family newspaper in the world.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS PER YEAR:

HARPER'S WEEKLY	4 00
HARPER'S MAGAZINE	$4 00
HARPER'S BAZAR	4 00
The THREE above publications	10 00
Any TWO above named	7 00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	1 50
HARPER'S MAGAZINE HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	5 00
HARPER'S FRANKLIN SQUARE LIBRARY, One Year (52 Numbers)	10 00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States or Canada.

The volumes of the Weekly begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is specified, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of order.

The last Four annual volumes of Harper's Weekly in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense, (provided the freight does not exceed one dollar per volume), for $7 00 per volume.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of one dollar each.

Remittances should be made by Post Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

WANTS and INFORMATION

25 Cents for one insertion of 3 Lines. Each additional line, 5 cents extra. Fifteen cents for each subsequent insertion of ditto.

WANTED TO RENT—By first of May a house of ten to twelve rooms with modern improvements in good neighborhood. Rent about four hundred dollars. No notice taken unless location and particulars are given to Post-office Box 1146.

BOARD AT 31 EAST FRONT STREET—Table board for gentlemen at moderate terms.—Also two pleasant front rooms to let with board.

GRANDFATHER CLOCKS—Three of them, in first-class running order, each over 100 years old, for sale cheap. Can be seen at Monie's Jewelry Store, North ave., near depot.

JOHN E. CLARK, dealer in Fruits, Nuts, Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, &c., Pies and Temperance Drinks. Fresh roasted Peanuts every day. Corner of Front and Somerset Streets, Plainfield, N. J.

PHAETON FOR SALE—Enquire at 147 Central Avenue, this city.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET to Gentlemen without Board, at 18 W. Front Street. MRS. P. DUNN.

BOARD can be had in a private family, large airy rooms, shaded lawn, on Front street. References given and required. Stabling, if required. P. O. Box 49, Plainfield, N. J.

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Plainfield, N. J. Grocery, Bakery and Dwelling, combined with stable; centrally located. A good chance for a live man. Apply to E. C. Mulford, Real Estate Broker, Office, Depot building, Plainfield, N. J.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S

Card of Thanks!

We take pleasure in extending our heartfelt thanks to the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity for the generous support they have given us during the year that has just closed, and especially for the extraordinary Christmas trade that was bestowed upon us during the holiday season. We shall endeavor during the coming season to so conduct our business, and offer such inducements, as will secure us the same liberal patronage as in the past.

G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

GREEN & CO.
18 West Front Street.
Parlor Novelties!

The following Styles are our "Latest" and will upon examination be found the most attractive and choice goods offered this season.

THE "Sutherland"

A solid Rosewood Suit, beautifully carved, composed of six pieces, each different, but forming a beautiful group.

THE "Egyptian"

Also a Group Suite, in Rosewood or Ebony. Is a perfect "Gem." The ornamentation truly Egyptian and very artistic.

THE "Rockingham"

In Mahogany or Ebony; catering both to comfort and elegance, this is a commendable suite.

THE "Chippendale"

We show four suites on this order, all in old Mahogany. This line is best adapted for odd pieces. We display a full line of "Antique" coverings, specially imported for these frames.

The "NORFOLK," "DOVER," "KENSINGTON," "SYDENHAM," "PARIS," "AMICUS," and "LONDON," are all beauties, designated and executed by one of our most skilled designers (a genius) and we delight in displaying his full line in our Warerooms.

Hundreds of ODD, EASY and RECEPTION CHAIRS, in endless variety.

INSPECTION INVITED.

GREAT DISPLAY OF
HOLIDAY GOODS
At Meyer Brothers,
771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.

Embroidered Table Covers from 50 cents upwards. Embroidered Piano Covers from $2.50 upwards. Gent's Cardigan Jackets at astonishingly low prices. Silk Handkerchiefs in great variety at wholesale prices. Jewelry and Notions in large assortment. Ladies and Gent's Gloves in every imaginable style.

Cloaks and Shawls!

Our far-famed twenty dollar Circular reduced to fifteen dollars. Our 25 dollar Silk Dolman 8 reduced to twenty dollars. All our other Cloaks reduced in proportion. An immense assortment of double and single and also heavy Beaver Shawls at the lowest prices at

MEYER BROTHERS,
771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PURE WINES & LIQUORS!
For Family or Medicinal Use.

A Quart Bottle Bouche fils & Co's. Dry Verzenay Champagne, $1.80. Pints, $1.00.
" " " Nap. Cabinet, - - $2.20. " $1.20.
A Good Cooking Brandy for $1.00 per bottle.
" " Sherry " 45 cts " "
The BEST of ROCK CANDY and RYE WHISKEY, 30 to 90 cts. per bottle.
A bottle of GIN, Warranted Pure, bottled in HOLLAND, $1.00.
BURNETT'S OLD TOM GIN, $1.00 per Bottle.
BASS ALE, $2.25 per Dozen.
GUINNESS' STOUT, $2.10 per Dozen.
Sole Agent for Wirtz bottling of Ballantine's and Milwaukee Lager.
Ten cents per dozen allowed for empty Ale and Porter Glass-Bottles.
A Large Variety of Wines, Whiskeys, Brandies and Rums.
A very Fine Old Medford Rum.
KRONTHAL, [a German Spring Water] 20 cts. per bottle.
RHINE WINE, [qts. and pts.] 75 cts. to $1.50 per bottle.
GINGER ALE, [imported] $1.50 per Dozen.
GINGER ALE, [American] $1.25 per Dozen.
CLARETS, from 40 cts. to $1.20 per bottle.
The place to buy these Goods at Reasonable Prices, is
E. P. THORN'S Mansion House,
PARK AVENUE,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Slaughter! Slaughter!
IN THE PRICE OF CLOTHING!

Overcoats $3.50, former price, $5.00.
" 4.50, " " 6.50.
" 5.00, " " 7.50.
" 8.00, " " 10.50.
" 9.00, " " 14.00.

Scotch Cheviot suits at $12, former price, $18.

Youth's Overcoat $4, former price, $6.50.

S. C. LILIENSTERN,
The Leading Plainfield Clothier and Merchant Tailor,
22 West Front Street, Plainfield, N. J.

A. VANDERBEEK,
(Chautauqua Building,)
No. 38 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DEALER IN
Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments,
Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.

All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing
Made to Order and Ready Made,
From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boy's. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing
Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate Agent!
13 DUER ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Houses Rented and Collections Made and prompt returns.
To Rent—Several houses in North Plainfield; location desirable and rent reasonable.
For Sale—Dwellings and Farms, from $1,000 to $20,000.

Fine Butter & Cheese
Taylor's Cash Meat Marke
Is now heavily stocked with Butter and Cheese of all grades from common to the finest produced. These Goods are bought for cash in large quantities by an expert buyer and will be sold at a reasonable profit. In a few days we shall have a large consignment of the noted
Elgin Creamery Butter
in 10 lb. pails. The price is very high, but some people will have it. Families desiring to purchase Butter by the Tub will be supplied with a prime article at a close price.
N. J. RANDOLPH,
Manager.
No. 54 Park ave.

PROSPECT HILL FARM
BOARDING STABLES.
HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD
On the most reasonable terms. Large, comfortable box stalls. Address, G. DeWITT GARRETSON, Bound Brook, New Jersey. Best city references given.

ESTABLISHED 1870. P. O. BOX 36.
Mansion House Stables.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALBERT HEDDEN, Prop'r.
Horses and Carriages to let on reasonable terms.
Office on SECOND ST., next to the Mansion House.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SALE OF LANDS FOR TAXES IN FANWOOD TOWNSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a warrant, issued by the Township Committee of Fanwood Township, [illegible]

The sum of [illegible] for the year 1881, against [illegible]

WM. N. PANGBORN, Constable.
Fees $12. Dec. 15, 1882.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF Valuable Real Estate!
The subscribers, Executors of John B. [illegible], deceased, will offer for sale at public auction on the premises, on Saturday, Jan. 6th, 1883,
At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, [illegible]

R. V. LINDABURY, C. G. [illegible], Executors.
Dated December 15th, 1882.

A CARD.
W. H. [illegible] prepared to take [illegible] at reduced prices [illegible]

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, . . . City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

Hurrah for 1883!

Happy New Year!

Oh for an Opera House!

The new Council will meet again next Monday evening.

This is—so far—a perfect winter, which nobody can deny.

We publish elsewhere, the last message of the outgoing Mayor and the first of the incoming one.

The shakespearean calendars for 1883, open with the quotation: "Take from my mouth the wish of happy years."

A man and a woman were killed at the crossing of the Central and Pennsylvania Railroads, at Elizabeth, last Friday.

The step of the street-sprinkling collector is heard no more in our midst, but the gas man is more ponderous than ever.

Our subscribers who will soon receive gentle reminders of their past due subscriptions, will confer a great favor by promptly remitting the amount.

A New Year's caller was surprised, Monday, on mounting the stoop of a "not at home," to see in the basket hung on the bell pull, one of his last year's cards.

Another wedding is on the "tappe," to take place Tuesday evening of next week. Plainfield maidens should hurry up; the eligible bachelors are being all captured.

Our congratulations are herewith tendered the new City Clerk. He will find the duties of the office rather onerous on the beginning but upon acquaintance the labor will be lightened.

Two false alarms of fire have called the department out since our last issue. On Friday afternoon about two o'clock; the other Monday evening at seven. As usual, no one can tell who started the thing.

A reward should be offered for the apprehension of the naughty callers who help themselves to the cards found in the baskets hung out, and use the same in making their own pasteboard last through the day.

The annual reports for the year 1882, of the City Treasurer and the Collector, will be presented to the Council at its meeting of next Monday evening, and will (in that event) be published in full in our issue of the 12th.

At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Citizens' Building Loan and Savings Association, of Plainfield, held Tuesday evening, Dec. 19th, 1882, it was ordered that payment be resumed in each series at its next stated meeting, Tuesday evening, Jan. 16th, 1883.

A sad affliction recently befell an East Fifth street family. The loss of nine lives from out one household is a terrible and agonizing blow that cannot be too deeply sympathized with by all. The kitten was killed by too much affection on the part of a young puppy.

As will be seen by our advertising columns and a large quantity of very handsome bill board paper, Plainfield's favorite—"Callender's Consolidated Minstrels"—will give one of its enjoyable entertainments in Van Deventer Hall, Monday evening of next week. A big show is promised.

Mayor Maxson's first Message contains one good suggestion, that of increasing the Police force. The suggestion, contained in the Message, that the license fee be raised to $300 and $500 a year, does not meet with approval from many of our citizens, who rightly think the fee is large enough now.

A chance is offered a laboring man to secure a good home at a small figure, if he will attend the sale of two houses and lots at auction in this city on Monday, Jan. 15th next. These properties are known as Nos 76 and 77 Second street. The sale will be positive. Wallace Vail, agent and Auctioneer. Read the notice in another column, headed "Secure a Home." Full particulars next week, by advertisement and posters.

Mr. H. S. Barnes has removed from the old stand where he had so long carried on the business of a dealer in artists supplies, etc., and taken the more commodious quarters recently occupied by S. T. Varian, on Front street, opposite the post-office. Having thus secured additional room, Mr. Barnes will, in consequence, be enabled to display a much larger stock of wall papers, ready mixed paints, and such articles in his line.

The first day of the New Year was as perfect a one as the most fastidious could desire. The sun bright, the air bracing, the atmosphere clear, and almost an "Indian Summer" temperature. Yet calling did not seem to be so universal as was to be expected in view of the fine weather out doors and the cordial welcome in. It will be many a year before the gentlemen will have so perfect a day for the purpose again.

At a recent meeting of the ministers of this city it was resolved to have no Union Services in the week of Prayer this year—excepting two prayer meetings on the evening of Sunday Jan. 14th. Special attention is called to a Sunday School service in the First Baptist Church on the evening of Wednesday Jan. 10th, to which all are invited which will be conducted and addressed by Ralph Wells of New York.

It is reported that Mr. Warren Ackerman, the recent purchaser of Feltville, will turn the 800 acres that he has thus become the owner of, into a stock ranche for the breeding of the finer grades of sheep. An extensive survey of the property has just been finished by Mr. J. M. C. Marsh and a large force of men, and the land will now be fenced in according to the boundaries thus described. The houses on the property are being rebuilt and the stores and other buildings made ready for occupancy as were formerly their purposes.

During Thursday evening of next week, the members of Gazelle Hose Co. No. 1, will hold their Annual Ball in Van Deventer Hall, at which a merry time is expected. The Committee in charge is composed of Foreman Edward B. Daly, Secretary Lewis Beckman, and Messers James Loughlin and Andrew Tharpe. All young men of experience in the art of affording pleasure to those who may be present. The music will be of the best and the gay dancers of both sexes can be assured an unusually good time. Tickets admitting a gentleman and ladies may be procured of members of the company at one dollar each.

A small audience assembled at Van Deventer Hall last Saturday evening, was favored with an unusually acceptable rendition of the pathetic and capricious play of "Esmeralda," by one of the "Madison Square" traveling companies. Seldom is an out-of-town audience able to experience so pleasing a drama played with such general gratification, and we pity those who missed the opportunity. McClannin as "Rogers" was specially satisfactory: Belle Gilbert as the Heroine was particularly pleasing; while both "Estabrook" and "Dave" permitted us to glimpse of their abilities, and suggested what they might have done had the "house" been worthy. We were also impressed with a belief that "Nora" can do much better, but "Kate" could not be improved. Too much should not be expected by a $97 audience. Oh, for an Opera House!

Oh, for an Opera House.

Look out for Villiers, the Humorist.—He will shortly appear in Plainfield.

Who will Mayor Maxson nominate for Captain of Police is now the query among anxious ones.

Dr. J. J. Villiers, the well-known Humorist and 'Caricaturist' will appear before a Plainfield audience shortly.

Coffee was the favorite beverage, Monday—to offer a caller either wine or liquor is now considered "bad form."

The office of City Collector Johnson is in Coward's Building, Park Avenue, formerly occupied by Collector Clark.

The law office of Wm. M. Stillman will in a few days, be removed to No. 22 West Front street over Philip Swain's store.

What will the new Council do about raising the license fee as suggested by Mayor Maxson? The license fee is high enough now.

And still there are some who think there was an intention of electing a Democratic Clerk, upon the organization of the new Council.

Episcopal services will be held in the Netherwood Union Chapel, Sunday morning the 7th inst, at 11 o'clock, Rev. J. A. Locke of New York officiating.

The Trenton State Gazette commences the new year by donning a new dress.—The Gazette is one of the oldest and ablest Republican organs in the State.

There was an alarm of fire Thursday afternoon which brought out the entire department. A pile of burning brush up Second street was the cause.

The new City Clerk, F. A. Dunham, can hereafter be found in the City Bank Building, next to Van Deventer Hall, where he has leased office room.

No date has yet been decided upon for the dedicatory services of the new chapel of the Congregationalists. Notice will be given in these columns of the event.

Do not be offended if you receive a bill for your subscription, but remember that printers cannot live by faith alone and mail the amount to us as soon as convenient.

The new G. A. R. Post recently organized in this city is flourishing satisfactory to all concerned. All ex-soldiers should take an active interest in this organization.

There will be an extra preaching service as introductory to the Week of Prayer in the First Presbyterian Church, next Sunday evening at a quarter of 8 p.m. The pastor will preach.

If the party who borrowed an American flag from The Constitutionalist office, a short time since, will return the same he may—stand a chance of borrowing it again some time.

The profit of the Japanese wedding ceremony and reception that was recently given at the residence of Seymour Hait, Esq., for the benefit of the Children's Home, amounted to about $230.

According to extracts from an exchange, published elsewhere, Vineland—that proverbial abode of temperance—sells quantities of bad wine. The paper quoted from, knew whereof it speaketh.

A colored gentleman of this city, returned from a Newark ball Friday morning, with the tails of his coat cut off completely and his eye bound up and plastered. He explained his condition with the remark that "Der cop struck der rong coon!"

Demarest, the Grocer, has just received a large invoice of Davis' celebrated Cincinnati Sugar-Cured Hams, Diamond Brand, which he offers to the public at low figures. Also Porto Rico Raw Sugar, only to be found at Demarest's.

In the appointment of Councilman Livingston as President of the Council, a judicious and wise selection has been made. Not only is Mr. Livingston well versed in the wants and needs of the city, but he is a parliamentarian. We are assured, from his past record, that he will make no serious mistakes in his rulings.

Some of the many newspapers throughout the State are doing a great deal of growling at the U. S. Mail, because they do not get some one exchange so soon as its date leads them to expect it. Did it ever occur to such that perhaps the trouble was all in the mailing room of the paper itself? No one complains that The Constitutionalist is behind hand.

The office for the receiving of orders by the Weaver Bros. has been located at the new store of H. S. Barnes, No. 4 East Front street, where those desiring the services of these capable house and sign painters, grainers and paper hangers, can leave instruction to that effect. The painters supply depot of this firm is to be found in Dayton's building a few doors above. After the first of April the Weaver Bros. will remove their entire establishment to new stores to be fitted up for them, nearly opposite.

It is said that the giver of the handsome lamp erected on the plaza at the junction of Broadway and Crescent avenue, intends taking that useful ornament away unless it is lighted as was promised. Such intention cannot be justly criticised, as the leaving of the gift unused is hardly the best way to signify appreciation of the giver's kindness, but, in fact, seemingly asserts the unserviceableness of the thing itself. We must say, that if there is any reason why the city will not light the lamp—although such is not the case—the residents in the vicinity deserve to remain in darkness forever, unless they are philanthropic enough to light it themselves.

Democratic Association.

At the annual meeting of the Plainfield Democratic Association, held in the rooms, Front street, Tuesday evening, Jan. 2d, 1883, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year.

President—James E. Martine.

Vice Presidents—John Simpson, Karl T. Polak, James B. Clark, Nathan Harper.

Secretary—Louis F. Wadsworth.

Corresponding Sec—Louis M. Stover.

Treasurer—James S. Vosseller.

St. Mary's Fair.

The attendance at the Church Fair held in St. Mary's Hall the past week, has been very large with satisfactory results from the sale of fancy goods and from votes cast for various articles. The prizes awarded, in many cases, are very fine and of value. The Art Gallery has been well patronized, and contained many beautiful works of art. The contest for the fireman's gold badge and hat still progresses, and it is hard to tell who will be the lucky recipient, Chief Vail or Foreman Saltzman. Next week we shall notice the success of the Fair more fully.

The Saengerbund.

Last New Year's night the rooms of the Plainfield Saengerbund, corner of Park and North avenues, was the scene of enjoyment, the occasion being one of those enjoyable entertainments given by the above society. The large room was most tastefully decorated with evergreens, mottoes and devices, and every one seemed in the best of spirits as they kept time to the many dance to the inspiring strains of music furnished by Prof. Franze. The Floor Com., Messrs. Edwin Bachman and Henry Goeller, were assiduous in their attentions to their guests, as well as were all other committees. Dancing was continued until the morning's light warned the tired but happy party that their enjoyment must cease. All present were of the opinion that this occasion was one of the best yet experienced under the auspices of the Saengerbund.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Sunday morning from 9 to 10:15 and p. m. from 4:30 to 6, the rooms will be opened and all young men are welcome at that time.

The young men's prayer and song meeting on Monday night next will be led by Mr. W. M. McGee. Let this be a large meeting. Young men remember it.

On Saturday evening the General Secretary will conduct the Bible class, as usual. As the S. S. lesson is on Acts, the lesson to be studied will be the same.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Managers will be held this (Thursday) evening, and every member is earnestly requested to be present. This will be the first meeting of the new Board.

On Sunday afternoon at 4:30, a Trainers' Bible class will be started for the purpose of studying passages of scripture needful in the inquiry meeting. An invitation is extended to every young man to attend who wishes to become familiar with his Bible as a help in directing his fellow men.

The Topics are now ready for distribution, for the first half of this year and can be had at the Secretary's desk. Topic for Monday night is "What we have—a Trust for which we must give account." Luke 19-12-27. All strangers in this city will receive a cordial and hearty welcome at the Young Men's Christian Association rooms. They are Free to all.

On Tuesday evening the third reception was given the young men by the Ladies' Auxiliary. The Lecture Hall was crowded by 8 o'clock to witness the entertainment which consisted of vocal and instrumental music, Jean Ingelow's "Songs of Seven" and "Faith and Hope" from "Bitter Sweet." The programme was very nicely carried out; after which refreshments were served and an hour passed in a social way. These receptions are becoming very popular and are most highly appreciated by all young men. Much is due to the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary for the interest they have taken in making these gatherings enjoyable and a success.

Personalia.

Mr. Jos. N. Randolph of North Plainfield, is rapidly recovering from his recent illness.

Mr. Chas. S. Runyon, of this city, who has been visiting relatives in Newark, has returned.

Mr. Daniel Berry and wife started on Wednesday last for a two months trip South, in pursuit of health and pleasure.

Mr. Arthur Griffen, of the firm of Curtiss & Griffen, will start this week for a two weeks trip among friends in Pennsylvania.

Messrs. John L. Brewster. Lambert Foster, F. Willetts Runyon, Charles E. Dunn, and others have been spending the holidays with their immediate relatives in this city.

Mr. Charles S. Cook, the carrier of The Constitutionalist, desires us to herewith tender his hearty thanks to the many patrons of the paper who so kindly remembered him on New Year's day.

A feature of the very impressive funeral services over the remains of the late Harry B. Kaufman, was the singing of a quartette composed of Messrs. David E. Titsworth, Chas. W. McCutcheon, Sam'l. St. J. McCutcheon and Oscar T. Roberts.

The residents of Union avenue, during these long Winter evenings, are enjoying the healthy exercise and pastime afforded by a perfect bowling alley and all its accessories recently constructed for the pleasure of his friends, by Mr. Seymour Hait.

Mrs. Mary L. Leeson, widow of the late Ayers Leeson, died suddenly at her residence in this city, Thursday morning, after a short illness of 48 hours from pneumonia. But one member of the family now survives, who has the sympathy of a host of friends in her sudden bereavement. Funeral notice in another column.

Draw Conclusions

"As usual on a holiday, a gang of roughs from Millville infested this town yesterday, and by their indecency and lack of self-respect made things disagreeable for awhile.—Vineland Journal.

Our esteemed contemporary could give the reason why this gang of roughs infest Vineland on holidays and make things disagreeable. These young men and boys reach Vineland in a sober condition, but come away "paralyzed" from the effects of drinking the sour wine for which Vineland is known far and near. As long as this miserable drink is sold there, Vineland may expect to be infested with roughs and she has no one to blame but herself.—Millville Transcript.

There are no saloons or bar-rooms in Vineland, and never have been. The appropriation for the poor this year was $300. In Plainfield, with a population no larger, we have bar-rooms and an appropriation for the poor of $5,500, a sum which does not represent half the amount that is expended for the poor.—Plainfield Central Times.

Obituary.

Again we are called upon in sadness to record the taking away of another life from out a family already sorely afflicted, by the relentlessness of death. But with this sadness is connected a feeling of gladness, that from a bed of affliction a long sufferer has "entered into rest." At the residence of the deceased's father, during Friday morning last, the immortal spirit of Ida May Everett passed away from earth and into the realms of the Lord its God and the arms of those who had passed before. A mother and four sisters awaited their dearly beloved from this world of pain and woe, leaving behind one daughter to comfort the sorrowing father and sooth his declining years. The funeral services on Sunday afternoon last, were attended by a large gathering that evidenced the kind friendship which so many felt for her who had passed away, and sincere sympathy for the bereaved family in its affliction. The Rev. Dr. Yerkes spoke eloquent words of comfort that touched the hearts of all assembled, and the Rev. Dr. Bliss offered up an affecting prayer. The remains were taken to Greenwood Cemetery the next day for interment.

Secure A Home!

We would have every true man build for himself a home, be it ever so humble in the beginning. Industry and frugality and good judgment will make it the most lovely spot on earth. The man without a home is like a sojourner without a country. The richest, happiest, and the best man in the wide world is he who has a pretty, comfortable home of his own, a family, good health, and owes no man a cent, even though his entire possessions would not sell for a thousand dollars, and though he has never held so high an office as town constable or roadmaster. We sometimes feel constrained to doubt whether a man without one can at best be but an indifferent patriot. He cannot feel that interest in other people's real prosperity that he feels in his own, and without such property we would have no country worthy a name. He would scarcely risk his life in defense of the hearthstone of his landlord, but let that hearthstone be his own, and woe to the invader who should threaten it with desecration. The homes of the people are the strength of the state. Build them, beautify them, own them and be happy. This is the fair deduction from hosts of instances, and is the true philosophy of home making and home owning.

Council Proceedings.

Saturday Evening, Dec. 30th, 1882.

The Council met according to adjournment.

Present—President Rushmore and Messrs Depew, Ginna, Lindsley, Livingston, Newhall, J. Simpson, R. Simpson and Thompson—9.

Absent—Messrs Gardner and Kaufman.

Minutes of the two previous meetings, read and approved.

PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS.

By Mr. Depew—G. W. Moore, $109; N. Runyon, 75; A. T. Shotwell, 26 28; Runyon & Leonard, 11 56;

By Mr. Ginna—Mrs. E. L. Boice, $20; Plainfield Relief Association, 49; D. J. Boice, 32 69; M. Bird, 6 88; A. D. Cook & Bro., 8 96; Lyon & Vail, 5; A. M. Runyon, 15.

By Mr. Thompson—W. L. Force & Bro., $7 90; J. Vanwinkle, 75 75.

All of the above referred to the proper committees.

The President presented the following communication from the Mayor:

Plainfield, Dec. 30, 1882.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

Gentlemen:—

In closing my official relations with you and with the city, whose servants we have been, I beg to thank you for the courtesy you have shown me and to express my own appreciation of your conscientious work, and of the progress made during the past year. The legislation obtained at the beginning of the year has been of great service in the collection of taxes—so much so that, notwithstanding the change in the time when city taxes are due to a point some months later for the present year than heretofore, the city has, through the collection of a considerable amount delinquent taxes, due for the years 1873 to 1881 inclusive, been enabled to pay its current bills. The loan in bank stands at $5,000, an increase of $1,500; but I believe you would do well to order paid at least $2,000 of this debt out of means available; and in any event it is plain that the incoming administration should shortly be in funds to pay off the whole loan. For the first time in the history of the city the state and county share of the year's taxes was paid over on the 22d day of December.

The whole tax levy of the present year was about $75,000. The total sum received by the collector during the year exceeds $90,000, including school warrants amounting to about $9,000.

Of the amount of taxes delinquent Jan. 1, 1882, there have been collected upwards of $27,000, of which Special Collector Moore collected under warrants over $12,000, and of this sum about $8,000 since July. The Board of Education has received its share of the sums so collected, and the balance has been divided in proper proportion among the other tax funds.

These results—gratifying in large measure—have been reached by amendatory legislation and the vigorous use of such means as were available for collecting taxes. Tax Collector Brown and Special Collector Moore have collected over $2,200 interest and costs on delinquent taxes during the year 1882. This may be contrasted with the sum of about $3,600 interest admitted as collected by the late collector from 1874 to 1881.

The investigation into the late collector's accounts has revealed a minimum deficiency of about $10,000 in the township and city funds. Within the past fortnight negotiations have been going on for an arbitration, without commitment on the part of the city government as to liability of the late collector under criminal processes. Some progress seems to have been made, and an agreement to arbitrate may shortly be reached. Meantime the city has—despite the opposition made—obtained an order from the court for a discovery and examination of the books until now withheld by the late collector. These books are to be submitted for inspection on Wednesday next.

On looking over the book of warrants I find that I have signed in all 534 warrants on the treasurer. Thus far during the present year the payments out of the general municipal fund have been about $12,600. Taking into account the annual county claim against our taxes, the liabilities at the close of our term of service are less than at any like point of time in the past. If the incoming administration continue the vigorous and economical policy which has been inaugurated, the moderate tax assessment made in this city will be at least of more public service than it has been in some of the years gone by.

It might be of interest to review several public questions still pending, but at this late day I could hardly venture to trouble you with further practical recommendations or suggestions. The work of caring for the various needs of Plainfield will fall to other hands, and in so far, we personally shall experience a welcome relief.

In closing, I beg again to offer you the expression of my cordial feeling and thanks and my best wishes for your happiness.

Very respectfully,
L. V. F. Randolph, Mayor.

Received and placed on file.

Mr. Depew presented the opinion of the Corporation Counsel regarding the question of School Poll tax, to the effect that the money received from such source should be paid over to the Board of Education. Filed.

Also report of the City Judge with a statement of the amount of fines collected by him during the years 1880, 1881 and 1882. Balance on hand after the payment of sundry fees—153 45. Filed.

Mr. Livingston presented the opinion of the Corporation Counsel in relation to the legality of a meeting of the Council held on a holiday—Ruling that if the entire body agreed to such meeting its proceedings would be lawful. Filed.

Mr. Depew in connection with the opinion of the Corporation Counsel regarding the disposition of the School Poll Tax, moved that such money be paid into the City's Treasury.

After some discussion the motion was lost; all voting in the negative excepting Mr. Depew.

The entire matter was then, after more discussion, laid on the table.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Mr. Newhall, from the Alms Com. reported the following claims as correct: A. M. Runyon, $15; Leon & Vail, 5; Mrs. Boice, 20; A. D. Cook & Bro., 8 96; M. Bird, 6 88; D. J. Boice, 32 69; Plainfield Relief Association, 49. Ref'd to Aud. Com.

By Mr. J. Simpson, from the Aud. Com., the following as correct: J. Chandler, $9; I. D. Ten Eyck, 12; L. M. Stover 9; P. Hoagland, 10; A. Varian, 12; John Van Dyck, 9; W. H. Sebring, 12; J. B. Miller, 15; W. A. Woodruff, 9; J. N. Jenkins, 9; F. A. Dunham, 9; J. C. Seaman, 10; M. Field, 12; A. D. Jennings, 15; O. B. Leonard, 15.75; T. O. Doane, 9; M. M. Thorn, 9; W. J. Tobin, 9; V. W. Nash, 10; B. B. Gray, 12; N. Runyon, 75. Warrants ordered drawn.

By Mr. Depew from the Finance Com. as correct the claims of G. W. Moore, $109; J. Van Winkle, 75.75; N. Runyon, 75. Referred to Aud. Com.

Also stated that no report of the City Treasurer for the past year could be presented until after the incoming of the Council-elect.

Mr. Thompson from the Lamps Com. reported as correct the claims of the Plainfield Gas Light Co., $243.80 and 259.80; and those of the N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., 133.93, 55.20 and 137.13. Referred to Aud. Com.

Also recommended the return of the petition of Charles Ketcham, as not being in proper form. Report received.

Mr. Ginna presented the bond of City Treasurer Van Winkle for $15,000 signed by Messrs. J. S. Cutter, Carman Parse, J. H. Van Winkle and Jno. Wilson. Referred to Com. on Laws.

Also from Printing Com. as correct the claims of Runyon & Leonard, $31.40; W. L. Force & Bro., 7.50; J. P. Howlett, 10; M. Estill, 26. Referred to Aud. Com.

Also as approved the bonds of City Collector Johnson and City Treasurer Van Winkle; recommending that the same be filed on record at the county seat. Received and adopted.

Also in relation to the title of the city to certain property, that such title should not be disturbed. Filed.

Mr. Lindsley from the Com. on Salaries, returned the bill of J. B. Coward for services as a Commissioner of Appeal, with the statement that the charges were not correct. On motion, ordered returned to the claimant.

Also a written report on the claim of the heirs of the late Dr. Sutphen, to the same effect as the verbal report presented at the last meeting. Accepted and filed.

On motion of Mr. Newhall, the opinion of the Corporation Counsel in relation to the School Poll Tax was again taken from the table, and subsequently referred to the Collector as an answer to certain inquiries he had addressed the Council.

Mr. Thompson moved that the Report of the City Judge and the Message of His Honor, the Mayor, be ordered printed.

Mr. Lindsley did not see the necessity of so ordering, as the papers would probably print the same without charge.—Motion lost.

On motion of Mr. Thompson, the bill of Mrs. Flanagan for damages claimed on the re-grading of the street on which her property laid, was ordered returned to the claimant.

Mr. Ginna presented each Councilman with a tin-horn as a slight token of friendship.

Thanks were tendered by vote, to the President, the Clerk, the members of the Press and each other.

The Council then adjourned.

ORGANIZATION OF NEW COUNCIL.

Monday Evening, Jan. 1st, 1883.

The new Council met according to the requirements of the Charter for organization.

City Clerk Leonard called the members to order.

Present—Messrs. Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—10.

Absent—None.

Mr. Polak nominated Mr. Coriell as President.

Mr. Marsh nominated Mr. Serrell.

The balloting resulted as follows:

	Coriell.	Serrell.	Blank.	Scattering.
1st Ballott.	5	3	1	Gardner, 1.
2d "	5	3	1	" 1.
3d "	5	3	2
4th "	5	3	1	Marsh, 1
5th "	6	3	1	Polak, 1

On motion of Mr. Serrell, the election of Mr. Coriell was made unanimous.

The new President took the Chair with a few well-chosen words of appreciation at the compliment of his election.

Mr. Serrell nominated O. B. Leonard for City Clerk.

Mr. Polak nominated L. M. Stover.

The Pres't. nominated W. L. Hetfield.

The subsequent balloting resulted as follows:

Twenty votes were taken without an election, during which the highest received by each candidate was—Leonard, 5; Stover 4; Hetfield, 4; Sebring, 3; Dunham, 3.

On motion of Mr. Polak, balloting was suspended and the Council proceeded to fill the vacancy in its numbers.

Messrs I. L. Miller and R. L. Livingston were nominated.

The first ballot gave Livingston 5, and Miller 4.

The election of Mr. Livingston was then made unanimous.

Ballotting for Clerk was the continued, with the following result:

Ballotts,	21st	22d	23d.
Leonard,	4	4	4
Stover,	1
Hetfield,	2	2	2
Dunham,	3	5	5

Mr. F. A. Dunham was declared elected City Clerk for the coming term.

The resignation of Mr. Coriell was as President of the Council was then presented and read.

The same was accepted—Messrs Jones, Marsh, Ross and Serrell voting in the negative.

Messrs Livingston and Serrell were nominated for President, and a ballot resulted as follows:

Livingston, 6; Serrell, 3; Corriell, 1; Blank, 1.

On motion of Mr. Serrell the election of Mr. Livingston was made unanimous.

Henry Hamilton was elected Janitor by acclamation.

On motion the rules of the previous Council were adopted as the rules of the present Council until otherwise ordered.

Messrs Coriell, R. Simpson and Marsh were appointed a committee to notify the Mayor that the Council had organized and was ready to hear from him.

After a short recess the Committee returned with his honor who read the following message:

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

Gentlemen:—To you, with the City Judge and Mayor, the people of Plainfield have delegated the power and confided the trust fraught with the peace, protection and well-being of this city for another year. We have accepted the trust and assumed the power. You to legislate, I to execute. Recognizing the fact that we are the servants of the people I approach the execution of that important trust with a confidence born of a determination on my part, that all mere personal considerations and private conveniences must give way to the public good. Elected by the majority we represent the whole. In pursuance of a time honored custom and authorized by the charter, I respectfully call your attention to the following subjects and recommendations.

First—

TAXES.

Including the year 1872 and to, and including the year 1881, there remains unpaid of the state and county taxes in this city the sum of $40.682,02, and of city, school and poor tax the sum of $18.527.-58, notwithstanding the collection of $11,978.51 by the collector of delinquent taxes during the past year. In this connection, permit me to suggest, that the fault was not entirely with the people that these large arrearages exist. Until the year 1879 no urgent effort seems to have been made to collect the delinquent taxes, although the power to do so up to that time was unchallenged. Since then, the power to collect the state and county taxes was at least questioned by the city authorities and as a consequence a large number of the people neglected the payment of those taxes. By the act of the Legislature of March 23, 1882, it is provided that the common council of any city, may make such revision, alteration, adjustment and settlement of past due taxes and assessments, and any, and all interest and penalties thereon, as such common council may or shall deem to be for the best interest of such city, limiting the application of this law to taxes prior to the year 1881. Under these circumstances I respectfully recommend to your honorable body that the penalty under the name of interest on those taxes be remitted, as an act of justice to the people and that prompt and energetic efforts be continued for the collection of these taxes. For the year 1882 the entire tax levy for the city was $75,189,59. Of this sum the tax books under the admirable system of the late Collector shows that $52,328.21 has been collected up to the 21st day of December. The state and county quotas of the taxes were for the first time paid on the 22nd day of December, and there remained the sum unpaid of the taxes for 1882, $22,804.38. This should also be promptly collected.

Second—

LICENSE.

The Legislature has delegated to you the exclusive power to regulate or prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquor within the city as you may deem most conducive to the public good. The justification for licensing the sale of intoxicating drinks is found in two reasons: 1st. The power to regulate and control a traffic, in the abuse of which the State loses the intelligence and industry of its citizens, families, their protection and support in a great part unless at the expense of the taxpayer; and in which is found the prolific source of crime, with the further attendant expense to the State in the prosecution and support of criminals. 2nd. In the matter of revenue. To the end that both of these purposes, (control and revenue) be subserved, I respectfully recommend that the license fee for the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors in quantities less than one quart for persons other than for inns and taverns be made $500 instead of $300 as now provided, and that for inns and taverns the license fee be made $300 instead of $200 as now required.

Third—

POLICE.

To a well organized and efficient police the public look for the preservation of the peace and good order in the city, the greatest protection and largest liberty to the citizen is the better insured by the prompt and rigid enforcement of the law. The frequent violation of the state and municipal law in our city demands an increase of our police force. Three men are not enough to keep watch and ward over the peace and property of Plainfield. To many of the people residing away from the business centre, the sight of a policeman is a rare occurrence, and the presence of one a frequent necessity. The meager salary now paid to the police is insufficient for efficient service. The public have the same need and as much right to faithful and industrious services for which they pay, as the private citizen demands from his employees. I respectfully recommend that our police force be increased to six, instead of three, and that their salary be increased to fifty dollars per month.

Fourth—

CLAIMS.

The honor and integrity of the city in the collection of all money due and the assertion of its rights must be enforced, and while all experimental and fruitless litigation should be avoided as useless expenditure, yet the city should be protected against loss by negligence or otherwise of those entrusted with its funds by all lawful means, and all just claims against the city should be paid without technical objections. That the most friendly official and personal relations may exist between us is my earnest desire, to the end that we may labor in harmony for the welfare and prosperity of the city, and in all things sacrifice our personal wishes for the general good. So shall we honor those who have honored us.

Respectfully submitted,
William B. Maxson, Mayor.

Received, ordered filed, and published in the city papers.

On motion the Clerk was authorized to have roll call blanks printed.

Mr. Marsh introduced an ordinance to amend the liquor license ordinance, raising the fee for hotels to $300 and the fee for saloons to $500. Also striking out certain words so as to make bar-tenders liable for the selling of liquor illegally.

Read for the first time and laid on the table.

On motion the Council adjourned for one week.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

There is to be a pigeon shooting match at Campbell's Club House, near this city, Wednesday, Jan. 10th, at which a $50 match will be shot off between two well-known amateur shooters.

There was a large attendance at the pigeon shooting match at Uncle Ben Connett's on New Year's Day.

On New Year's Day, there was interesting shooting exercises on the grounds of Mr. Benjamin Haines, on Front street, this city, between Mr. Haines, Conductor Wm. Clark and W. L. Force. Mr. Haines' well-known hospitality to his friends is sufficient guarantee that the occasion was an enjoyable one.

The following is the score of each shooter at pigeons and glass balls:

PIGEONS.

Hurlingham rules, 30 yards rise.

NAMES.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	Total.
Force,	0	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	0	1	8
Haines,	1	0	0	1	1	1	1	1	0	1	7
Clark,	1	0	1	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	8
Force,	1	0	1	1	0	1	1	1	0	1	7
Haines,	1	1	0	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	9
Clark,	0	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	9
Force,	1	1	1	1	1						5
Haines,	1	1	1	1	1						5
Clark,	1	1	1	1	1						5

GLASS BALLS.

21 yards rise. Mole Rotary Trap.

NAMES.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	Total.
Force,	0	1	0	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	7
Haines,	1	1	0	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	9
Clark,	1	0	1	0	1	1	1	0	0	1	6
Force,	0	1	0	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	7
Haines,	1	0	1	1	0	0	1	1	0	1	6
Clark,	1	0	0	1	0	0	1	1	0	1	5
Force,	0	1	1	0	1	1	0	1	1	1	7
Haines,	1	0	1	0	1	0	1	1	1	1	7
Clark,	1	0	1	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	4
Force,	1	0	1	1	0	1	1	1	0	1	7
Haines,	1	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	1	1	9
Clark,	0	0	0	1	1	0	1	0	1	1	5

MISCELLANY.

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

L. M. French has just finished several handsome Coupe Rockaways. If you think of purchasing don't fail to see them.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

Now is the time to have your sleigh overhauled, and L. M. French is the man to do it. d1tf

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 32 West Front Street.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

Carriage candles, all sizes, at L. M. French's, No. 18 Somerset street.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Fron street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

Sleighs, Sleighs, Sleighs! A large assortment to select from, at L. M. French's, No. 18 Somerset street.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties can now purchase elegant patterns of wall paper of H. S. Barnes, 6. W. Front street, at greatly reduced prices. tf

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 32 West Front Street, at the New York price. m17tf

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Denison's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

Don't purchase a carriage of any description or at any price, either out of or in town, until you pay me a visit. Large warerooms and full stock. L. M. French, No. 18 Somerset street. ap21tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Rescued from Death.—William J. Coughlin, Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876, I was taken with bleeding of lungs followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past.

Another Physician's Testimony.—Boston, Mass., May 9th, 1881.—I know parties who have tried all kinds of medicines for Lung Diseases who say that Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the lungs is a complete success. Dr. Chas. H. Woods.

Catarrh of the Bladder, stinging irritation, inflammation, all Kidney complaints, cured by "Buchu-paiba." $1.

Good for Babies.—With a baby at breast nothing is so useful for quieting my own and baby's nerves as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It prevents bowel complaints, and is better than any stimulant to give strength and appetite.—A Newark Mother.

That Husband of Mine is three times the man he was before he began using "Wells' Health Renewer." $1. Druggists.

Best ever made, Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar-coated; no griping; only 15 cents a box, of Druggists or mail. Standard Cure Co. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

Useful in the Family.—We usually leave it to doctors to recommend medicines, but Parker's Ginger Tonic has been so useful in our family in relieving sickness and suffering that we cannot say too much in its praise.—Salem Argus.

Malaria, Chills and Fever, and Bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills—an infallible remedy; never fail to cure the most obstinate, longstanding cases where Quinine and all other remedies had failed. They are prepared expressly for malarious regions, in double boxes, two kinds of Pills, containing a strong cathartic and a chill breaker, sugar-coated; contain no Quinine or Mercury, causing no griping or purging; they are mild and efficient, certain in their action and harmless in all cases; they effectually cleanse the system, and give new life and tone to the body. As a household remedy they are unequaled. For Liver Complaint their equal is not known; one box will have a wonderful effect on the worst case. They are used and prescribed by physicians, and sold by Druggists everywhere, or sent by mail, 25 and 50 cent boxes. Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, best ever made, only 15 cents. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

See a woman in another column, near Speer's Vineyards, picking grapes from which Speer's Port Grape Wine is made, that is so highly esteemed by the medical profession, for the use of invalids, weakly persons and the aged. Sold by druggists. jy21-1y

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead, and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. Smith, Kline & Co., Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia, and Hall & Ruckel, New York. ja18-1y

The freshness of youth, beauty and lustre are cordially bestowed on gray hair by Parker's Hair Balsam.

"Rough on Corns."—Ask for Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete, permanent cure. Corns, warts, bunions.

WESTFIELD ADVERTISERS.

C. A. SMITH,
DEALER IN
Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Agent for Lister Bros.' Bone and Phosphates for Westfield and Fanwood.
UNLEACHED ASHES AND LAND PLASTER BY THE LOAD OR CARGO.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone Call No. 28. may19

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the Interest of the people.
OFFICE, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also
Standard Fertilizers,
Such as Mape's, Lister's, Stockbridge & Bowker's Phosphates and Bone Manures, for all crops, bought low for cash, and will be sold at reasonable prices.
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
German Valley Lime, by the car load, &c.
E. M. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 49, Scotch Plains, N. J. sp21tf

C. E. AGUIRRE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Office at Gale's Pharmacy.
Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty
All work guaranteed to be First Class, and to give entire satisfaction. 8aly

JOHN KANE,
WESTFIELD, N. J.
Driven and Drilled Wells.
Repairing Promptly Attended To.
Unexceptionable references given if desired. a6tf

TURF EXCHANGE
ALE and BEER VAULTS,
Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J.
JOHN L. ROULSTON, - Proprietor.
Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand.
Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all time.
Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

HOLIDAY GOODS!

Christmas or New Year

PRESENTS!

You will find a full assortment of useful and beautiful goods from which to make a selection at Whitney's!

Every purchaser of $1.00 or upwards will receive a Handsome Present.

8 East Front st., opp. P. O.

DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar-cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java, Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,

Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

TITSWORTH'S
VAIL BRO'S
FRENCH
SURE CURE
PILLS
FOR MALARIA

Our Holiday Offering!

A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY

Vail Bros., Philadelphia.

Mrs. John Burke

Has appointed Thomas Burke and Thomas McCoy Managers of the business of the late Jno. Burke, who purchased the right to use Harris' Patent Apparatus for removing Night Soil and Cleaning Cesspools in this city. We respectfully solicit a trial of the machine, guaranteeing entire satisfaction in all cases. Charges reasonable. The apparatus is so constructed that it is used in the day time and no smell is perceptible during the operation. All orders addressed to Mrs. JNO. BURKE will receive prompt attention. Telephone Call 28. P. O. Box 732, Plainfield, New Jersey.

PECK'S CORNER.

PECK
Will commence this day his Great Sale of Hamburg Embroideries. There are about 7,000 yards of Very Fine!
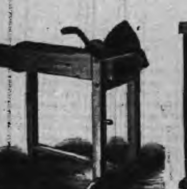
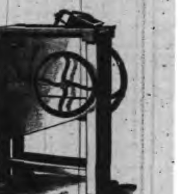
Very Handsome!
And Very Choice Goods!
At prices we think are very much lower than you have purchased. They are not poor and inferior goods, as we do not carry such, but are the choicest goods you can find.
☞ This house closes at 7 p. m.

Curtiss & Griffen.



LEVER
Hay and Stalk Cutter,
The Best in the Market.



Clinton Shellers,
AND THE
"A.B.C." Right-hand
WOOD FRAME
Sheller & Separator.

ROEBUCK WEATHER STRIPS.

Lanterns, Street Lamps, Dash Lamps.

Remember, at our Store you BUY GOODS 5 Per Ct. Cheaper For Cash than for Credit.

No. 13 East Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Don't fail to go to
D. BOEHM & BRO'S
And see the immense display of
--HOLIDAY - GOODS--
Which they keep in their well lighted and SPACIOUS FLOOR
Under the Millinery Department!
THE LATTER GOODS WE HAVE REDUCED FROM TWENTY TO FIFTY PER CENT TO CLOSE OUR FALL AND WINTER STOCK.
Respectfully,
D. BOEHM & BRO.
No. 7 Front street.

BACHMAN'S
Popular Dry and Fancy Goods store!

A CHANCE FOR ALL BOTH, YOUNG AND OLD TO BUY PRESENTS AT GREAT REDUCTIONS. WE ARE CLOSING OUT OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF TOYS AND HOLIDAY GOODS AT COST,
AND GIVE EVERYBODY A SHOW TO PURCHASE NEW YEAR'S GIFTS AT PRICES TO SUIT. PLEASE GIVE US A CALL BEFORE PURCHASING ELSEWHERE AND CONVINCE YOURSELF.

Bachman's, 27 West Front Street.

JUST IN STOCK!
FALL Hats

FALL Hats
LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S,
Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.
Horse Sheets and Lap-Robes.
Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices. jun2-1y

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

JANUARY AND JUNE.

MARGARET JOHNSON.

Said January to June:
"Pray, let us walk together,
The birds are all in tune,
And sunny is the weather.

"And look you: I will show,
Before the long day closes,
A pretty sight I know,
Worth all your summer roses."

Then, as they went, the air
Grew thick with snow-flakes flying;
But all the roses fair
Hung down their heads, a-dying.

Cried June, in sorrow: "Nay,
We may not walk together.
You've turned my skin to gray,
And spoiled my golden weather.

"Go now, I pray you, go,
Before my last bud closes.
Take you your cold white snow,
And give me back my roses!"

HOW A WIDOW MOURNED.

She was a handsome and wealthy young widow, and had but just lost her husband. Full of grief over the loss of her beloved one, she sought a dealer in monuments, a friend of the dear departed.

Seeing the sympathetic face of her husband's friend, the tears burst from her eyes as she greeted him: "You have heard it then; George is gone."

Yes, he had heard it.

"And now," said she, "I want to get a monument, the finest and most imposing monument that you can make. I don't care for the expense. You have them costing as much as ten thousand dollars, do you not?" she ventured.

Oh, yes, he could build a splendid monument for that. He would prepare a design and submit it to her.

"You will have it ready soon, will you not?" she pleaded. "This evening?"

"No, not this evening," he replied, but he would hurry it up as fast as possible and bring it to her residence. And so it was settled, and she went away very grateful for the ready sympathy and anxiously expectant for the design.

And then the monument man got out an old design and had it transferred to a piece of clean paper, and in fifteen minutes was ready for the widow, but of course it wouldn't do to show up for a week or so. The long days dragged out their weary length finally, and the marble man, assuming an appropriately funereal countenance, sought out the widow and submitted his work. He found her somewhat reconciled to her loss and a little inclined to be critical, but on the whole she was pleased with the design.

"But," she said, "I have been talking over the matter with my sister, and she thinks five thousand dollars ought to buy a very rich monument. Couldn't you make one like that for five thousand dollars?"

"No," responded he, "but I can build quite a handsome monument for five thousand dollars. Shall I make a design of one for that figure?"

"Yes, I wish you would, please, and I will come to your office and examine it in a week or two."

"I can make some alterations in these plans and have it ready very soon," he urged. "Indeed, I could bring it around to-morrow just as well as not."

"Oh, no, I won't trouble you to do so. There is no particular hurry about it, and I will call upon you; it's my turn, you know," and she smiled graciously upon him as she bowed him out.

Well, what was a poor monument man to do? He could only wait, and he did wait, busying himself meanwhile in getting up elaborate and beautiful designs. One day he met the lady on the street, dressed in the merest apology for half-mourning. He bowed obsequiously and informed her that the design was finished, and he thought would not fail to be perfectly satisfactory.

"Oh," she said, "I have been so busy, don't you know, with one thing and another, and I had forgotten all about it. Let me see, how much was that to cost?"

"Five thousand dollars."

"Oh, dear, I can't really afford to pay that much. Now, couldn't you"—this very bewitchingly—"make a real nice monument for five hundred dollars? I know you can, and I will come and see you about it real soon; good bye!"

Then the monument man went to his office and told his grief to a three-legged lamb and a stone angel.

Some time after this the charming widow, with a male friend, whom she called "Charley," dropped in again.

"Do you know," she said, "I feel so ashamed to think that I never came around to look at your pretty designs. Charley and I have concluded that those great, costly ornaments are so foolish, after one's dead, you know. We think it's wicked, dont we, Charley?" Charley allowed that it was. "But," she continued, "those little boards, such as they put at the soldiers' graves, Charley and I think they are very nice. So neat and unpretentious. Couldn't you make one of them for me and put George's monogram on it? His initials make such a pretty monogram?"

Then the monument man's cup was full, and he spilled it over on them. He told her that Charley could get an old shingle and tack one of George's business cards on it.

Then she called him a "horrid beast" and Charley spoke of whipping him "for half a cent," and they sailed off.

* * *

Don't write long obituaries. Save some of your kind words for the living.

* * *

Though flattery blossoms like friendship, yet there is a great difference in the fruit.

* * *

The time wasted by men in feeling in the wrong pocket would make the next generation rich if they had it.

* * *

"Know thyself" may be an excellent sort of proverb, but it's forcing a pretty tough acquaintance on some folks.

* * *

A colored preacher once said his way of preaching was to "first splanify, then argury, then put in the rousements."

* * *

Next year Jay Gould is going to take a trip around the world. If he likes it he will buy it. That's the way we like to see a man perform when he is rich.

* * *

Personal: If the handsome, elegantly-dressed young man who walked down Park avenue, Saturday afternoon trying to flirt with every pretty girl he met, will call at this office he will receive his pocket-book (containing seven unreceipted tailors' bills and a car ticket) which he lost.

MR. & MRS. SPOOPENDYKE.

THE OLD GENTLEMAN IN A PASSION AGAIN.

Tries to Shave Himself and Cuts His Chin—How His Amiable Better Half Helped Him.

"My dear!" exclaimed Mr. Spoopendyke, dropping his razor and examining his chin with starting eyes, "my dear, bring me some court plaster, quick! I've plowed off my chin!"

"Let me see?" demanded Mrs. Spoopendyke, bobbing up and fluttering around her husband. "Great gracious what a cut! Wait a minute!" and she shot into the closet and out again.

"Quick!" roared Mr. Spoopendyke. "I'm bleeding to death! fetch me that court plaster!"

"Oh, dear!" moaned Mrs. Spoopendyke. "I put it—oh, where did I put it!"

"Dod gast the putty!" yelled Mr. Spoopendyke, who had heard his wife imperfectly. "What d'ye think this is, a crack in the wall? Got some sort of a notion that there is a draught here? Court plaster, I tell you! Bring me some court plaster before I pull out the side of this house and get some from the neighbors."

Just then it appeared to Mrs. Spoopendyke that she had put the plaster in the clock.

"Here it is, dear," and she snipped off a piece and handed it to him.

Mr. Spoopendyke put it on the end of his tongue, holding his thumb over the wound. When it was thoroughly wetted it stuck fast to his finger, while the carnage ran down his chin. He jabbed away at the cut, but the plaster hung to his digit until finally his patience was thoroughly exhausted.

"What's the matter with the measly business?" he yelled. "Where'd you buy this plaster? Come off, dod gast ye!" and as he plucked it off his finger it grew to his thumb. "Stick, will ye?" he squealed, plugging at the cut in his chin. "Leave go that thumb!" and he whirled around on his heel and pegged at it again. "Why don't ye bring some court plaster?" he shrieked, turning on his trembling wife. "Who asked ye for a leech? Bring me something that knows a thumb from a chin!" and he put his thumb on the cut and screwed it around vindictively. This time the plaster let go and slipped up to the corner of his mouth.

"Now it's all right, dear," smiled Mrs. Spoopendyke, anxious to secure peace in the family. "It's all right now!"

"Think it is, do ye?" raved Mr. S. with a fearful grin. "Maybe you've got the same idea that court plaster has! P'raps you think that mouth was cut with a razor! Maybe you're under the impression that this hole in my visage was meant to succumb to the persuasion of a bit of plaster. Come off! Let go that mouth!" and as he gave it a wipe it stuck to the palm of his hand as though it had been born there.

"Let me try," suggested Mrs. Spoopendyke; "I know how to do it."

"Then why didn't ye do it at first?" howled Mr. Spoopendyke. "What did ye want to wait until I'd lost three gallons of gore for? Oh, you know how to do it. You only want a linen back and a bottle of mucilage up your side to be a country hospital. Stick! Dod gast ye!" and he clapped the wrong hand over his jaw. "I'll hold ye there till ye stick if I hold ye till my wife learns something!" and Mr. Spoopendyke pranced up and down the room with a face indicative of stern determination.

"Let me see, dear," said his wife, approaching him with a smile, and gently drawing away his hand, she deftly adjusted another piece of plaster.

"That was my piece after all," growled Mr. Spoopendyke, eyeing the job and glancing at the palm of his hand to find his piece of plaster gone. "You always come in after the funeral."

"I guess you'll find your piece sticking in the other hand, dear," said Mrs. Spoopendyke, pleasantly.

"Of course, you can tell," snorted Mr. Spoopendyke, verifying his wife's assertion with a glance. "If I had your sight and a pack of cards, I'd hire a shot tower and set up for an astronomer!" and Mr. Spoopendyke, who evidently meant astrology, wore that piece of blood-stained court-plaster on his hand all day long, rather than admit, by taking it off, that his wife had ever been right in anything.

PHILOSOPHY OF JOSH BILLINGS.

Sentimentalists are individuals who kan feel more than they kan express, and at times kan express a good deal more than they feel.

After all the gabble about money, it iz the luv of money that haz civilized the world.

If we should give the opinyuns of others the same importance we klaim for our own, wisdum would be a drug in the market.

When the eye talks, all the other features listen.

Wisdum is a broad-sword, wit a stilletto.

Little things trubble men of great minds more than big things do. A philosopher will tremble in his slippers at the knawing uv a mouse in a wainscotte, when he would face with perfekt composure an enfuriated elephant.

Yu may preach or pray a man out of hiz sins, but you kan't klub him out ov them, that iz certain.

I believe somewhat in medicine, but so long as doktors continue to die I do put all mi phaith in pills.

There is a great deal of poverty in the world, and we find it az often amung those who have too much wealth as with those who have too little.

Politeness makes no blunder. It iz safe to be polite even to a dog.

Happiness iz the easyest kind ov a thing to define and the hardest kind ov a thing to duplikate.

The most merciless kreditor we kan have is the one who assures us we need not pay until we git reddy.

There is nothing that most men are so vain of as their opinyuns, and thare iz nothing that a man of sense iz so suspicious ov.

Woman wins the race, not by being first, but by a splendid reckond.

ALWAYS THAT WAY.

A west side husband and wife agreed to sit down and have a quiet chat. Each agreed that people are blind to their own faults; so they made agreement that each should be perfectly frank and in a friendly way tell the other his or her faults so they could help each other to correct those faults and approach perfection. It was their duty to help each other attain that state. So they began, and in less than ten minutes the neighbors began to take an interest in the transaction, and stood around and cheered to see the husband come flying down the front steps, hatless, with his coat torn, hair disheveled, and he making desperate efforts to keep out of reach of a pair of tongs in his wife's hands. It always works just that way.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF CHOSEN FREEHOLDERS OF THE COUNTY OF UNION.

[OFFICIAL.]

ELIZABETH, N. J., Dec. 7, 1882.

Regular monthly meeting of the Board, held Thursday, Dec. 7, 1882, at 2 o'clock p. m.

Present—Director Martine and Freeholders Briant, Clark, Doty, Eiler, Halliday, Hubbard, Husbands, Isermann, Mapes, Newberry, Oliver, Smith, Stover, Thompson and White—16.

Absent—Freeholder Runkle.

The minutes of the last meeting were read (omitting list of bills ordered paid) and on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following from the County Attorney in relation to the communication from the Law and Ordinance Committee of the city of Plainfield, which was referred to him at the last meeting, was read.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to return the communication of the Law and Ordinance Committee of the city of Plainfield, referred to me at your last meeting, with the following opinion:

The Board of Freeholders are not a law making body, nor can their action relieve Collectors of cities, townships or counties from the performance of their duties as required by law.

The 83rd section of the General Tax act makes all taxes raised liable in the first instant to the payment of the State and county quota of taxes.

This was decided in the Supreme Court in the case of The Board of Water Commissioners of Rahway vs. Robert C. Brewster, Treasurer of Rahway. XIII Vroom page 125.

This Board cannot relieve Plainfield from complying with the law as it has been enacted, which requires the payment to the county until the state and county quota is paid of all taxes levied and collected in the city of Plainfield.

Respectfully,

J. AUG. FAY, JR., County Attorney.

Dec. 7th, 1882.

On motion of Freeholder Doty received and ordered spread upon the minutes.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

From Com. on Rahway bridges.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

GENTLEMEN:—Your Com. on Rahway bridge would most respectfully report that they have let the contract for the iron superstructure of the Hamilton street bridge to the Pennsylvania Bridge Works for the sum of $3,375, including masonry. Size of bridge, 40 feet roadway; sidewalks 10 feet each.

Also, we have awarded the contract for the iron superstructure for the Whittier street bridge to the same company, for the sum of $2,443.50. Size of bridge 30 feet roadway; sidewalks 10 feet each.

Contract for the mason work for the Whittier street bridge is awarded to Jno. M. Weldon for the sum of $9.95 per cubic yard. For removing the debris, $250. Strengthening the abutment walls, $50.

All of which we most respectfully submit.

A. J. HALIDAY,
WILLIAM J. THOMPSON,
W. E. CLARK.

On motion received and ordered on file.

From Com. on Milton avenue drawbridge, Rahway.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

GENTLEMEN:—Your Com. on Rahway bridge would most respectfully report that the contract awarded to Mr. George Ball for removing the drawbridge out of the Rahway river. That the same has been completed according to the contract and to the satisfaction of your Com. and would offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Com. on Rahway bridge is hereby authorized to advertise for proposals to rebuild the Milton ave. drawbridge.

A. J. HALIDAY,
WM. J. THOMPSON,
W. E. CLARK.

On motion report received and resolution adopted by a unanimous vote.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Oliver:

Resolved, That the present Prosecutor of the Pleas be requested to continue the record of convictions for crimes tried in our county court in the book heretofore provided for that purpose, the compensation to be the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in the payments of one hundred dollars each, at the close of each term of court, including October term, 1882.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Stover:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay to Hutchins & Merret twenty-three hundred dollars on account of the following bridges in Plainfield, viz: Broadway, Park avenue, Arlington avenue and Girard avenue, now nearly completed.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By the Director:

Resolved, That $1,300 be transferred to the bridge account from incidental account.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Mapes:

Resolved, That the Collector be authorized to pay to the order of Aaron B. Clark $227, and Post & McCord $270 on account of contracts at Westfield (when said bills are properly certified to) and charge the same to special deficiency account, 1882.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Oliver:

Resolved, That this quarter's lunacy bill amounting to $4,516 28 be paid when properly audited.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Eiler:

Resolved, That the Com. on Elizabeth City Draw Bridges be authorized to renew the contracts on draw bridges in city of Elizabeth at the same rate as last year.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Clark:

Resolved, That the appropriation for repairing Bridge street bridge, Rahway, be increased one hundred and thirty dollars and forty-five cents ($130 45).

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Com. on Bonds:

Resolved, That new bonds to the amount of $22,000 be issued by this Board to renew a portion of the bonds falling due January 1st, 1883, for the payments of which no provision has been made, in accordance with an act of the Legislature, approved March 4th, 1882, page 118, and the Board hereby determine that they shall be cupon bonds of the denomination of $1,000 each, dated Jan. 1st, 1883, and shall bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall fall due as follows: $6,000 on the first day of Jan., 1892, and $16,000 on the first day of January, 1893.

GEORGE W. DOTY,
J. F. HUBBARD,
WM. M. OLIVER,
Committee.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Hubbard:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay Isaac Milbourn the contract price, which is $150 to this county, for building masonry for line bridge in Plainfield, on Girard avenue, upon the presentation of a proper voucher.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Hubbard:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay W. Vail the contract price, which is $210 to this county for building superstructure for line bridge in Plainfield, on Girard avenue, upon the presentation of a proper voucher.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Hubbard:

Resolved, That an appropriation of $150 be made to repair bridge on Leland ave. Plainfield, near the old railroad, and charge to special deficiency.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Hubbard:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay two bills of John Wilson for $48.36 and $48.24 respectively, when sworn to.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Hubbard:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay Isaac Milburn $500 on account of the masonry on line bridge in the city of Plainfield, on Grove street.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Thompson:

Resolved, That a warrant for five hundred ($500) dollars be drawn in favor of John M. Weldon, Agt., as part payment on contract for masonry of Clark township bridge, near the residence of the late Robt. A. Russell.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By the Director:

Resolved, That $200 be transferred from Incidental account to Coroner's account.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Newberry:

Resolved, That the bills of Henry Krouse and Adam Goering be paid when properly audited, amount not to exceed [illegible].

On motion adopted by unanimous vote.

PAYMENT OF BILLS.

The following bills, audited and approved, were read and ordered paid by a unanimous vote:

Bridge Account—Jas. G. Moore, Cranford, [illegible]; Wm Thorn, Elizabeth, [illegible]; M W Mulford, Linden, [illegible]; Wm Lamunellberg, do, [illegible]; James Keiler, New Providence, 17; F W Fraser & Co, do, [illegible]; Peter Van Pelt, Rahway, [illegible]; V Bayer, Springfield, [illegible]; Patrick Murphy, Summit, [illegible]; J W Hughes, do, [illegible]; D C Tapley, do, [illegible]; Wm Hand, do, [illegible]; M H McGrath, do, [illegible]; M Hyman, do, [illegible]; H Bristol, do, [illegible]; Post & McCord, do, [illegible]; J & O Crane, Union, [illegible]; do, [illegible]; Nathan Compton, do, [illegible]; Springman & Seger, Westfield, [illegible]; J W Hughes, [illegible].

Court Account—W R Wilson, [illegible]; Amos Moffitt, [illegible]; Henry Pfanthier, [illegible]; E Staats & Son, [illegible]; J Donovan, [illegible]; J M C Marsh, [illegible]; Eli Barker, [illegible]; L Welsh, [illegible]; C A Swift, [illegible]; C A Cornwall, [illegible]; Wm. Ennis, [illegible]; J J Carter, [illegible]; D McVane, [illegible]; Jabes Marsh, [illegible]; Susan Marsh, [illegible]; Wm McCracken, [illegible]; Philip Harquard, [illegible]; L L Walsh, [illegible]; M McGrath, [illegible]; Cook & Hall, [illegible]; C J Smith, [illegible]; John Hargist, [illegible]; City of Rahway, [illegible].

Coroner's Account—R J Strabe, Jr, [illegible]; Thomas Terrill, Jr, [illegible].

Election Account, New Providence—F F Wood, [illegible]; D E Valentine, [illegible]; Matthias Doty, [illegible]; [illegible]

Incidental Account—P Sheridan, $50; James S Vosseller, [illegible]; J L Crowell, [illegible].

Jail Account—John Schneiders, [illegible]; A N Trimble, [illegible]; Jacob Brushbaker, [illegible]; Thomas Ford, [illegible]; Ward & Lamb, [illegible]; E O Putnam, [illegible]; T B Smith, [illegible]; Moore & Williams, [illegible]; McCleod & McGrath, [illegible].

Members' Pay—E M Stover, [illegible]; S E Newberry, [illegible]; Wm B Briant, [illegible]; Thomas White, 104.

Committee Expenses—John Keron & Son, [illegible]; J H Staats & Son, [illegible]; Wm McCormack, [illegible]; Thomas White, [illegible].

Publication Account—Cook & Hall, 25; Elizabeth Daily Journal, [illegible].

School Account—N W Pease, 125; do, [illegible]; F W Fort, [illegible].

Salary Account—Thomas Terrill, Jr, M D, [illegible]; J A Fay, Jr, [illegible]; J L Crowell, [illegible].

Stationery Account—John W Dunn, 127.

Special Deficiency Account, 1882—Peter Eiler, Elizabeth, [illegible]; [illegible]

On motion the Board adjourned to meet on Thursday, January 4th, 1883 at 2 o'clock p. m.

JOHN L. CROWELL, Clerk.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH

BITTERS

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters gives steadiness to the nerves, induces a healthy, natural flow of bile, prevents constipation without unduly purging the bowels, gently stimulates the circulation and by promoting a vigorous condition of the physical system, promotes, also, that cheerfulness which is the truest indication of a well-balanced condition of all the animal powers. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

Carney Bros.,

NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.

Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.

PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.

Grates and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at jobber's prices. Bring your Tin Ware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials and our work always gives satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Flowers made to order.

RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.

—SANITARY PLUMBING—

FRENCH MARBLE CLOCKS,

RICH AND ELEGANT ASSORTMENT.

STUART & SHEPARD,

IMPORTERS.

2 Maiden Lane, near Broadway, N. Y.

DOWN-TOWN SPECIAL AGENTS FOR AMERICAN WALTHAM WATCHES.

Diamonds, Rich Jewelry & Fancy Goods.

TWENTY

Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET, 2 doors above Front street.

STEVENS & CONDRAN, horse-shoers, give particular attention to shoeing, Forging, Interfering and Interfering Horses. Speedy Cutters stopped in an incredible short space of time. Horses with diseased feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

HARPER'S INKS, black, violet and red, and Harper's Mucilage, all of superior quality, can be had in quantities to suit purchasers at the manufactory Joseph M. Harper, No. 42 West Second Street, Plainfield, N. J. Orders through the mail will receive prompt attention.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE

Is Selling WINTER

Boots & Shoes

At VERY LOW PRICES!

11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD.

Alex. Willett,

DEALER IN

BOOTS & SHOES.

No. 4 PARK AVENUE

A full assortment of desirable goods direct from manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES.

SOLOMON FLAIG,

FASHIONABLE

Boot & Shoe Maker

74 FRONT ST.,

OR. CHURCH. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Opp. the First Presbyterian Church.

FINE CUSTOM WORK

At prices to suit the times.

Ladies' Shoes

Made in the Latest Style.

Repairing Neatly and Promptly Done

Leather and Shoemakers' Findings at the [illegible]

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,

(Successor to Geo. Watts)

No. 6 Somerset St.

BUTCHER,

and dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats of the Finest Quality and at prices consistent with the times. I will endeavor to please all who favor me with their patronage.

LEWIS & CO.,

Butchers!!

AND DEALERS IN

Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry, Sausage, Hams, Bologna, Head Cheese and Mince Meat.

Park Avenue,

[AT THE OLD STAND.]

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

R. R. Fairchild.

Furniture! Furniture!

SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS.

A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!

Bed-room Suites,

IN ASH AND WALNUT.

Cottage Suites,

IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.

Bed Lounges.

AS LOW AS $7.50.

WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES.

Mattrasses and Spring Beds,

OF ALL KINDS.

Come to Fairchild's,

AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.

18 West Front Street.

Parlor Novelties!

The following Styles are our "Latest" and will upon examination be found the most attractive and choice goods offered this season.

THE

"Sutherland"

A solid Rosewood Suit, beautifully carved, composed of six pieces, each different, but forming a beautiful group.

THE

"Egyptian"

Also a Group Suite, in Rosewood or Ebony. Is a perfect "Gem." The ornamentation truly Egyptian and very artistic.

THE

"Rockingham"

In Mahogany or Ebony; catering both to comfort and elegance, this is a commendable suite.

THE

"Chippendale"

We show four suites on this order, all in old Mahogany. This line is best adapted for odd pieces. We display a full line of "Antique" coverings, specially imported for these frames.

The "NORFOLK," "DOVER," "KENSINGTON," "SYDENHAM," "PARIS," "AMICUS," and "LONDON," are all beauties, designed and executed by one of our most skilled designers (a genius) and we delight in displaying his full line in our Warerooms.

Hundreds of ODD, EASY and RECEPTION CHAIRS, in endless variety.

INSPECTION INVITED.

THE LILIPUTIAN
BAZAAR

FURNISHES UNEQUALED FACILITIES FOR THE ECONOMICAL AND SATISFACTORY OUTFITTING OF CHILDREN. Besides the CONVENIENCE of being able to procure every article needed for complete outfits for all ages up to 16 yrs in one establishment, we furnish CLOTHING for BOYS, GIRLS, and BABIES, which FOR STYLE, PERFECTION IN FIT and QUALITY OF WORKMANSHIP, is far superior to that ordinarily sold ready made, and at lower prices. Mail orders have careful attention. Catalogues free.

BEST & CO.,

60 West 23d St., bet. 5th and 6th avenues, New York.

Mrs. John Burke

Has appointed Thomas Burke and Thomas McGee Managers of the business of the late Jno. Burke, who purchased the right to use Harris' Patent Apparatus for removing Night Soil and Cleaning Cesspools in this city. We respectfully solicit a trial of the machine, guaranteeing entire satisfaction in all cases. Charges reasonable. The apparatus is so constructed that it is used in the day time and no smell is perceptible during its operation. All orders addressed to Mrs. JNO. BURKE will receive prompt attention. Telephone Call 95. P. O. Box 718, Plainfield, New Jersey.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HEMORRHOID OR PILES

Permanently Cured,

IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID.

Or money refunded. Also Ulcers, Fistula and Fissures, cured without knife. I have opened an office at LAING'S HOTEL, Plainfield, New Jersey, where I will be in attendance on TUESDAY, DEC. 26TH.

TUESDAY, JAN. 9TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 23D.

From 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. My treatment is that known as Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff's system of treating rectal diseases. This is not the painful Carbolic Acid treatment.

Any one wishing to be treated at their homes can do so by sending me their address.

Send for circular with some of the best citizens of Trenton and Lambertville as references.

Any further information cheerfully given, at my office or by mail. Charges always moderate.

R. REED, M.D., Lambertville, New Jersey.

1883.

HARPER'S WEEKLY.

ILLUSTRATED.

Harper's Weekly stands at the head of American illustrated weekly journals. By its unpartisan position in politics, its admirable illustrations, its carefully chosen serials, short stories, sketches and poems, contributed by the foremost artists and authors of the day, it carries instruction and entertainment to thousands of American homes.

It will always be the aim of the publishers to make Harper's Weekly the most popular and attractive family newspaper in the world.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS PER YEAR:

HARPER'S WEEKLY	4 00
HARPER'S MAGAZINE	4 00
HARPER'S BAZAR	4 00
The THREE above publications	10 00
Any TWO above named	7 00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	1 50
HARPER'S MAGAZINE } HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE }	5 00
HARPER'S FRANKLIN SQUARE LIBRARY, One Year, 52 Numbers	10 00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States or Canada.

The volumes of the Weekly begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is specified, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of order.

The last Four annual volumes of Harper's Weekly in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense, (provided the freight does not exceed one dollar per volume), for $7 00 per volume.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of one dollar each.

Remittances should be made by Post Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

PURE INDIA TEAS

From the Districts of ASSAM, CHITTAGONG, CACHAR, KANGRA VALLEY, DARJEELING, DEHRA, DOON, and others. Absolutely Pure. Superior in Flavor. The Most Economical. Requires only half the usual quantity. Sold by all Grocers. JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO., Agents of the Calcutta Tea Syndicate, 130 Water St., N. Y.

DO YOU PLAY? WHY NOT?

By using SOPER'S INSTANTANEOUS GUIDE to the Keys of the Piano and Organ, any person, man, woman or child who can read or count 5, 6, can learn to play in ONE HOUR without a teacher. This is no humbug. The Guide, with 20 pieces of music, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1 00. Send 10 cents for sample of music. Agents wanted. Address,

CHARLES HEARNE,
11 Frankfort St., N. Y.

For Sale or To Let.

A

Very Desirable Residence,

—ON—

WEST SEVENTH ST.,

(UNION AVENUE.)

House contains 12 large rooms, and modern improvements. One acre of ground, large barn, henery, &c. For particulars address,

J. W. JOHNSON,
27 East Seventh street, near Broadway.

The A. Saltzman Watch

CHAUX-DE-FONDS
EXPOSITION INDUSTRIELLE DE LA CHAUX-DE-FONDS
1879
SOCIETE D'EMULATION INDUSTRIELLE
MEDAL
BRONZE
1879
DANIEL JEANRICHARD

Ask your Jeweler for it Before Purchasing any other.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE

Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.

Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Speer's Port Grape Wine

FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable

Tonic and Strengthening Properties

are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

SPEER'S

P. J. Sherry.

The P. J. SHERRY is a wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made. For Purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unexcelled.

SPEER'S

P. J. Brandy.

This BRANDY stands unrivalled in this country being far superior for medicinal purposes.

IT IS A PURE distillation from the grape, and contains valuable medicinal properties.

It has a delicate flavor, similar to that of the grapes, from which it is distilled, and is in great favor among first-class families.

See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Washington Valley PURE SPRING WATER ICE. ICE. ICE.

SIMPSON & CO.,

Beg respectfully to inform their patrons and public of Plainfield generally that they are prepared to supply the FINEST QUALITY OF ICE IN THE TRADE.

Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.

Families will see the propriety of using only Pure Spring Water Ice.

Orders received at John Walker's Bakery, also at 100 West Front St., or P. O. Box 641, will receive prompt attention.

SIMPSON & CO. have a large lot of Arbor Vitæ, Norway Spruce and Maple trees for sale.

They are also prepared to supply Macadam with Second Mountain Quarry Stone, at the lowest prices.

GRADING & CONTRACTING in all its Branches.

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

Real Estate & Insurance Agent,

OFFICE—East Room, Central R. R. Depot.

RESIDENCE—30 East 5th Street,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Real Estate for Sale. Rent or Exchange.

Authorized Agent for the following Fire Insurance Companies:

NORTH AMERICA, of Phila. Assets, January 1st, 1881, $8,978,502 00

PHOENIX ASSURANCE Co., of London, Assets, $5,304,000 48

Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.

MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.

POPE'S

Life and Fire Insurance Agency.

Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money Invested on Bond and Mortgage for other Parties. Government BONDS Bought and Sold.

FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK for sale in quantities to suit purchasers.

Office over City National Bank.

FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

FIRE INSURANCE!

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the

Star and Merchants

Fire Insurance Co's of the

City of New York,

is prepared to furnish substantial indemnity against loss by Fire and solicits applications from the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.

NATHAN HARPER

MISCELLANEOUS.

All the Latest Styles

—OF—

At Laing's

No 5 PARK AVENUE,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

ALSO,

Gent's Underwear

IN GREAT VARIETY.

Cooking Stoves and Ranges

(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.

Agricultural Implements

Of all Kinds, CHEAP.

Super-Phosphates and Bone.

NEW YORK PLOWS,

Also,

The South Bend Chilled Plow,

BEST IN THE WORLD. Superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at

No. 15 EAST FRONT ST.,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.,

C. O. Meeker & Co.

All the above Cheap for Cash.

Coal. Coal. Coal.

FINTIN HIBBITS

Respectfully informs the public of Plainfield and vicinity that he is prepared to supply the best

Lehigh Valley Coal,

of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!

The above coal is all shipped to South Plainfield by the Packer R. R.

Orders sent by mail, BOX 1,144, will be promptly attended to, or No. 16 LIBERTY ST., PLAINFIELD.

J. N. SCHENCK,

Practical Machinist!

RACE STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.

To those contemplating putting heat in dwellings, I would state that I am manufacturing a

Sectional Safety Boiler

for such purposes, which far exceeds any of my previous attempts. I have one in my own dwelling which I will be pleased to show to all calling.

Machinery of Every Description Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.

O. M. DUNHAM,

Merchant Tailor,

No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,

[NEXT TO LAING'S HOTEL.]

Also, Agent for the

Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.

R. W. MAHAFFEE'S

EXPRESS.

Furniture & Goods Removed

And all kinds of EXPRESS WORK carefully attended to with PROMPTNESS and DISPATCH.

Orders left at Buchanan's Bine Front Market, Park avenue, opp. North avenue.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between Margaret Henry, complainant and Melvin E. Cole, et al., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE TENTH DAY OF JANUARY, A. D. 1883,

At two o'clock p. m. of said day, all that certain tract or parcel of land and premises, hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of New Providence, in the county of Union and state of New Jersey.

Beginning and bounded as follows: Beginning on the Stony Hill road, corner of lands of John Brown, deceased, south [illegible] west seven chains by lands of one Moore to a stone heap; thence south [illegible] degrees thirty minutes east [illegible] chains to heap of stones; thence south [illegible] degrees east [illegible] chains forty-one links to oak sapling and heap of stones on lands of J. T. Wilcox, Brown and Young; thence on their line [illegible] eighteen degrees west thirty-seven chains thirty-three links to the place of the beginning, containing twenty-six acres of land be the same more or less, being a part of lands deeded by Jonathan M. Wilcox to Jeremiah Fisher by deed dated 2nd July, 1863, and recorded in Clerk's office in Elizabeth in the county of Union, 6th of July, 1867, in Book 13 of Deeds, pages 75 and 76.

THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.

J. R. & N. English, Sol'rs.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Dec. 6th, 1882.

Joseph T. Vail, Administrator of John Burke, deceased.

On application of the above named Administrator it is ordered that said Administrator give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this order, within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in the Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said administrator.

By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Nov. 18th, 1882.

Anna Elisabeth Crone, Nicholas Henry Heidelaff and John Jacob Heidelaff, the executors of Werner Heidelaff, deceased.

On application of the above named Executors, it is ordered that said Executors give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this order, within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in the Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said executors.

By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is Hereby Given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of ANNA S. BARCLAY, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the Tenth day of January next.

Plainfield, Oct. 31, 1882.

ROBINSON POUND, Executor.

ADMINISTRATRIX SETTLEMENT. Notice is Hereby Given, That the account of the subscriber, Administratrix of John F. Gross, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the fourteenth day of February next.

Dated Dec. 8, 1882.

CLARA S. GROSS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT DISPLAY OF

HOLIDAY GOODS

At Meyer Brothers,

771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.

Embroidered Table Covers from 90 cents upwards. Embroidered Piano Covers from $2.25 upwards. Gent's Cardigan Jackets at astonishingly low prices. Silk Handkerchiefs in great variety at wholesale prices. Jewelry and Notions in large assortment. Ladies and Gent's Gloves in every imaginable style.

Cloaks and Shawls!

Our far-famed twenty dollar Circular reduced to fifteen dollars. Our 16 dollar Silk Dolmans reduced to twelve dollars. All our other Cloaks reduced in proportion. An immense assortment of double and single and also heavy Beaver shawls at the lowest prices at

MEYER BROTHERS,

771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.

Special Notice!

We close at 6 p. m. sharp; having only 14 hours a day for business, we offer our

ENTIRE STOCK

OF

Farming Utensils

AND

House Furnishing Goods

At reduced prices, for cash, as we must do as much now in 14 hours as we formerly did in a whole day's work.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS of TIN WARE

To be closed out within the next 90 days.

PLOWS AND HARROWS AT COST.

BERRY & THORN.

LIGHTNING RODS.

Persons contemplating putting RODS ON THEIR BUILDINGS, will study their interests by examining both Rod and References.

L. J. HAWLEY'S PATENT.

Office with E. C. Mulford, Real Estate Broker, Depot Building, Plainfield, N. J.

Furnaces and Ranges,

STOVES, PUMPS, SINKS.

Gas Fixtures, Etc.

TIN, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.

Tin Roofing and Jobbing!

Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.

Apply to

D. W. LITTELL,

No. 8 North avenue, Plainfield.

Jas. M. Dunn,

Dealer in

GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,

Vegetables, Fruits, etc.

JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED

SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR.

No. 36 Park Ave.

OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

T. J. GILLIES,

Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.

SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front St., Plainfield, N. J.

Goods received on consignment.

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of N. J.

Stations in New York foot of Liberty St., in Brooklyn—Jewell's Wharf, foot of Fulton st.

Arrangement Commencing June 26, 1882.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street [illegible]

For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.

Connection is made at Jersey City station to and from Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City, by boats of the "Brooklyn and Erie Annex."

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Newark [illegible]

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Somerville [illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Easton [illegible]

In addition, a train leaves Phillipsburg DAILY [illegible]

Westward Connections

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

7.48 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Tamanend, Drifton, Upper Lehigh, Stroudsburg, &c.

9.56 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Nanticoke, Upper Lehigh, Scranton, &c.

2.04 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, &c.

4.37 p. m.—For Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Drifton, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c.

5.06 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Easton, &c.

5.35 p. m.—For Somerville, Flemington, &c.

6.36 p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, &c.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield [illegible] for Freehold and Keyport.

New York & Philadelphia-New Line.

BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia for Ninth and Green Sts. [illegible]

For Third & Berks Sts. [illegible]

Leave Plainfield for Trenton [illegible]

RETURNING.

Leave Phila. Station Phila. & Reading Railroad 9th & Green Sts. [illegible]

From Third and Berks Sts. [illegible]

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker Streets [illegible]

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

By the central position of its line, connects the East and the West by the shortest route, and carries passengers, without change of cars, between Chicago and Kansas City, Council Bluffs, Leavenworth, Atchison, Minneapolis and St. Paul. It connects in Union Depots with all the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans. Its equipment is unrivaled and magnificent, being composed of Most Comfortable and Beautiful Day Coaches, Magnificent Horton Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman's Prettiest Palace Sleeping Cars, and the Best Line of Dining Cars in the World. Three Trains between Chicago and Missouri River Points. Two Trains between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, via the Famous

"ALBERT LEA ROUTE."

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened between Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News, Chattanooga, Atlanta, Augusta, Nashville, Louisville, Lexington, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Omaha, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers Travel on Fast Express Trains.

Tickets for sale at all principal Ticket Offices in the United States and Canada.

Baggage checked through and rates of fare always as low as competitors that offer less advantages.

For detailed information, get the Maps and Folders of the

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,

At your nearest Ticket Office, or address

R. R. CABLE, Vice-Pres. & Gen'l M'g'r. E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Tkt. & Pass. Agt.

CHICAGO.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.

This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. It contains materials only that are beneficial to the scalp and hair and always

Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair

Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

50c. and $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs and medicines.

PARKER'S GINGER TONIC

A Superlative Health and Strength Restorer.

If you are a mechanic or farmer, worn out with overwork, or a mother run down by family or household duties try PARKER'S GINGER TONIC.

If you are a lawyer, minister or business man exhausted by mental strain or anxious cares, do not take intoxicating stimulants, but use Parker's Ginger Tonic.

If you have Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, or any disorder of the lungs, stomach, bowels, blood or nerves, PARKER'S GINGER TONIC will cure you. It is the Greatest Blood Purifier

And the Best and Surest Cough Cure Ever Used.

If you are wasting away from age, dissipation or any disease or weakness and require a stimulant take GINGER TONIC at once; it will invigorate and build you up from the first dose but will never intoxicate. It has saved hundreds of lives; it may save yours.

CAUTION!—Refuse all substitutes. Parker's Ginger Tonic is composed of the best remedial agents in the world, and is entirely different from preparations of ginger alone. Send for circular to Hiscox & Co., N. Y. 50c. & $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs.

GREAT SAVING BUYING DOLLAR SIZE.

FLORESTON

Its rich and lasting fragrance has made this delightful perfume exceedingly popular. There is nothing like it. Insist upon having FLORESTON COLOGNE and look for signature of on every bottle. Any druggist or dealer in perfumery can supply you. 25 and 75 cent sizes.

Hiscox & Co.

LARGE SAVING BUYING 75c. SIZE.

COLOGNE.

NOTICE!

The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office, No. 33 PARK AVE.

A. VANDERBEEK, O. O. P.

P. P. Van Arsdale,

PIANO TUNER.

Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. 20 Years Experience. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by Postal, P. O. Box 600, or left at Willett's Shoe Store, No. 4 Park Avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence—No. 54 Front Street, 3 doors above Park av.

Park Avenue Bakery

JOHN WALKER, Prop'r

FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS

And all Varieties of

Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, JANUARY 12, 1883. No. 2.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors,
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("Chautauqua Building.")
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 3 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor adjoining Flagg's Hotel Building.
Terms:—$2.00 a Year in advance.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTIN'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
S. BRITTIN - - - Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.
aug5-tf

FARMER'S HOTEL,
SOMERSET ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
(Next to Brook.)
W. HEIDLOFF, - - Proprietor.
Horses and Carriages to Let. Horses Boarded by the DAY, WEEK or MONTH. ap5yl

FRENCH BRO'S, [ju8yl]
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FLOUR, FEED, MEAL, HARD WOOD AND LUMBER.
No. [illegible] Street, - - Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. ap5y

GEORGE R. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wools, Sheep Skins & Tallow.
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Scraps, for sale Cheap only for Cash. jan1yl

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds.
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON
Cor Park Ave. and Second St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER. 3lmly

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET.
ESTABLISHED, - - - 1839.
Bread, Cakes, Pies, Confectionery, &c. made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention. feb6yl

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Flagg's Hotel) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant. f17yl

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—HARMONY ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD 4th house from Somerset St.—left hand side.
Information imparted as regards present and future events, likewise Marriages, Journeys Lawsuits, &c. She converses in English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed. ap6yl
My husband is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c., cheap for cash.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 26 Park Ave.,
[NEAR SECOND STREET.]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO! 19eb

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works.
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders delivered and set up. L. MANNING,
Front St., next to M. E. Ch., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y. june8y1

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay,
Straw, &c.,
Peace St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Woods a specialty.
Orders left as above, or addressed to P. O. BOX 88, will receive prompt attention. 8lc-tf

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS,
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Duer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All wagon orders received will be delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
Thankful for past favors I solicit a continuance of the same. 25myl9

HENRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.,
No. 14 East Second Street,
Bet. Peace St. and Park Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also Bottler of Porter, Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and Adrain Feyh's Celebrated Weiss Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it to all desiring a cooling and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, families, &c., supplied at the lowest rates for first-class goods. ap7tf

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
McIntyre's Building, Plainfield, N. J.,
(P. O. Box, 309.)
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to. m21-ty

BENTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures.
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. 3d St. & Madison Ave., Plainfield, N. J. m17tl

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL.
Stanger Place, North Plainfield.
Hardwood mantels and trimmings a specialty. Contracts for all kinds of carpenter work completed. Estimates furnished. Address Plainfield Post-office. [illegible]

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

MANSION HOUSE!
Cor. Park Ave. & 2d St.,
[One Block from Depot]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
E. P. THORN, Proprietor.
A fine BILLIARD ROOM is attached to the Hotel.
Pure Liquors, Ales, Wines & Segars,
A Specialty of the Bar. 1tac
SEE MANSION HOUSE ADV. ON 3d PAGE.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agency for Ulmer, Goldencamp & Porter's Ales, Wilson & [illegible] Club Whiskies, Bottled Expressly for Family use. Also a full line of Acker, Merrill & Condit's Whiskies and Wines. aug1yl

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors. m8tf

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ Proprietor.

CENTENNIAL HALL,
5 SECOND STREET,
FRED. CASPAR, Prop'r.
Sole Agent for Feigenspan & Co's
Champagne Lager Beer.
All kinds of LAGER BOTTLED EXPRESSLY FOR FAMILY USE.
Prompt attention given to orders, and delivery made in any part of the city. jan6tf

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r.
Bar stocked with brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables. feb4yl

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Lily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (seasonable) hours. 3jantf

SMITH'S
Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
Blatz's Old Stand PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Allsberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine, and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Also, Ales, Liquors, Segars.
Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 9 TO 1.

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND ST.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Delaney Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour. 9tetf

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, No. 2 EXCHANGE PLACE, FIVE DOORS FROM FERRY, JERSEY CITY. aug18—t

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield. P. O. Box [illegible]. Families supplied with pure Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel opp. old Post-office delivered free of charge. ap8y

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
HART MOORE. SAMUEL GODSHALK,
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and refurnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the traveling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
Brunswick, Balke & Co., Celebrated Pool and Carom tables.
Nothing but temperance drinks, such as Lemonade, Sarsaparilla, Soda Water, &c., also Segars dispensed over the Bar.
Orders taken and estimates [illegible] for painting the [illegible] ap1y1

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD
ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT THE
Plainfield Academy for Boys,
Seventh street, inspect the new building, and see the working of the school.
GERMAN, Natural Method. Daily at 10 a. m.
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French ... [illegible]
Elementary Department, without German and French ... [illegible]
Primary Department, without German and French ... [illegible]
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for ladies and gentlemen, by the Natural Method, meet in the afternoon and evening.
Principals—James Lyon, J. C. Lewinsky, Ph.D. (of Berlin University). With experienced assistants.
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box 772.

Craig Place School,
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. A. OSTEN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal. ag11y1

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Yara.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 28 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand. d9m6

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 15 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of
Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco, Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same. 1jyly

MILLINERY.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 41 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, Late with Mlle. Doane, 949 Broadway, N. Y. ap1yl

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Stillman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited. 15ap1

HOTELS, ETC.

LAING'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH B. MILLER, - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates.
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS GEISE'S
:R:E:S:T:A:U:R:A:N:T:
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
10 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for Ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style. o18tf

Accommodation Express.
PETER RICKERT, Prop'r, OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music-store, Cor. Cherry St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. The Accommodation Express will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering Goods or Baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., with care and safety. Prompt attention given to all orders and

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue.
P. O. BOX 206.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention. m6d1

WM. C. SMITH,
Mason and Builder,
MANNING AVENUE,
First brick house on the right hand side from Somerset Street.
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing Promptly Attended to. Special attention given to Kalsomining.
Orders may be sent to residence or by mail

PROSPECT HILL FARM
BOARDING STABLES.
HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD
On the most reasonable terms. Large, comfortable box stalls. Address, G. DeWITT GARRETSON, Bound Brook, New Jersey. Best city references given.
ESTABLISHED 1869. P. O. BOX 28.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front St. Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

ESTABLISHED 1856.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
INTERIOR DECORATORS,
FINE WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,
LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC., ETC.
321 Canal Street, New York.
[Telephone Call—Spring 484.]
GEO. F. BROWN—Residence—11 Duer Street, Plainfield. P. O. Box 1026. 3dec-tf

NEW STYLES
WALLPAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTISTCOLORS, Etc.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.
o10

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J. mc19y1

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
Between Front and 2d Sts., PLAINFIELD N. J.
P. O. BOX, 262.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
in all their branches.
Satisfaction guaranteed on all Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING,
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St
P. O. BOX, 381.
D. WEAVER. 3tf P. WEAVER.

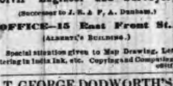
PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

A. A. TITSWORTH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
(Successor to J. R. & F. A. Dunham.)
OFFICE—15 East Front St.,
(ALBERTI'S BUILDING.)
Special attention given to Map Drawing, Lettering in India Ink, etc. Copying and Computing. o6tf

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for
Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL,
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM 3:30 to 5:30.
Dodworth's New Lanciers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. 28th.—tf

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!



New Livery!
Having assumed control of the well-known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, cor. Park Avenue and Second St., the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.
New Stock and Material
Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, SIDE-BAR AND TOP BUGGIES, &c., of the LATEST MAKE and STYLE, and other new material will constantly be added.
The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock for themselves.
16mly Yours, Very Respectfully,
J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS,
(Of the late firm of Roberts & Cadmus,)
Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and patrons that he has purchased the stock and leased the premises of the well-known liveryman, Mr. John W. Laing, who for the past many years has so satisfactorily continued the business on
FRONT STREET,
Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer demands for all kinds of turn-outs at short notice, and hopes for a continuance of past favors. The boarding and care of horses a specialty. 1oply

Mansion House Stables.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALBERT HEDDEN, Prop'r.
Horses and Carriages to let on reasonable terms.
Office on SECOND ST., next to the Mansion House.

POETRY.

LOVE WITHOUT THE LOVER.

He comes across the daisies,
  Their bloom is on his cheek,
He comes across the daisies,
  With glances mild and meek.

A sweet and gentle maiden,
  With face exceeding fair,
Beneath the blossoms laden,
  Is waiting for him there.

But angels see their meeting,
  But angels should be near,
To fill the air with greeting
  At love so pure and dear.

Beneath the blossoms laden
  With joy they sit them down,
The lover and the maiden,
  All in the evening brown.

They pledge their love forever,
  And call on Heaven to see
That naught but death should sever
  Two hearts so young and free.

On dingle flits the fairy,
  On hillock falls the gloom,
True signs to lovers wary
  'Tis time for hying home.

"To-morrow he'll be with me,"
  She said in gleeful tone;
"To-morrow he'll be with me,
  And the priest will make us one."

To-morrow! ah, to-morrow!
  What hope is on thy wing?
What bitter, bitter sorrow
  Thy disappointments bring!

What news is this that's brought her?
  What cruel tale is told?
But yesterday he sought her;
  To-day he marries gold.

Her eyes are red with weeping,
  Her cheeks are blanched with care;
Her lily hands are creeping
  In anguish through her hair.

Ah, love without the lover,
  What desolation's thine!
No hope can e'er discover
  For thee a true-love's shrine!

Ah, love without the lover!
  Ah, sky without a star!
What empty shadows hover
  Along thy midnight bar!

Like sails upon the ocean
  No gentle breezes fill,
The loving soul's emotion
  Abides without the will.

Like mist upon the roses,
  When sunlight's in the cloud,
The broken heart reposes
  On love's unhallowed shroud.

HUGH F. MCDERMOTT.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

MY FAIR ROAD COMPANION.

BY CLARENCE MOWBRAY.

To all in any degree familiar with the history of Mexico, it is well known that a regular system of highway robbery exists in every section of that miserably governed country; and that, through a want of interference of the authorities, this has grown up into such a regular and formidable shape, that every traveler must be prepared to put his life at a hazard at every stage route, or be provided with a suitable contribution for the knights of the road, who, in the event of finding you prepared and willing, will make their levy with a politeness only equalled by the smiling landlord when he receives your overcharge fare for last night's entertainment.

Why such systematic boldness of robbery is allowed—if not with the connivance, at least with very rarely an interference, of the government or state authorities—is one of those mystical matters, which, among many others, so puzzles and perplexes the intelligent foreigners; but that such is the disagreeable truth, every traveller through that wretched country can bear ample testimony.

Some years ago having business which first called me to the Capital of Mexico and thence through the interior of the country to the northward, I met with several thrilling adventures, which I have recorded for the benefit of whomsoever may take an interest therein, omitting only dates.

The first of the series occurred on the route between Vera Cruz and the city of Mexico. In the regular deligencia, running between the places mentioned, I had taken passage, and passed through the beautiful city of Jalapa, and entered the gloomy town of Perote, without meeting with any unusual incident, though being continually warned to be on my guard against the dangers of the road.

At Perote, where we halted for a relay and refreshments, all of my fellow passengers took leave of me, very solemnly assuring me that if assailed by the ladrones, or robbers, it would be much better for me to take matters quietly, and suffer myself to be gently plundered, than to run the risk of having my throat cut for resistance, as I had somewhat boldly proclaimed it was my intention of doing. I thanked them for their advice, and replied I would take the matter into consideration.

At Perote, I repeat, all who had been my companions from Vera Cruz, took leave of me, this being the end of their journey in that direction; but there was one new passenger here to go forward, whom, to my agreeable surprise, I found to be a beautiful young lady some twenty years of age.

Senorita Paula, as I subsequently ascertained her name to be, was indeed one of those rare beauties seldom met with except in works of fiction—tall, graceful, with a profusion of long, black hair, soft, clear, melting dark eyes, features as perfect as ever came from the hand of the sculptor, and with an animation the most fascinating, varying in expression with every changing mood of the intellectual possessor.

A glance at her bewitching black eyes showed me that she was one who was naturally of a social disposition; and as we rattled away from the gloomy town, I took the liberty of opening a conversation.

'They tell me,' said I, 'that the route between here and Mexico is a very dangerous one to travel.'

'There is little to fear,' she replied, with a sweet smile and in a meditative tone, 'except from the professional robbers, and they seldom harm any one who make no resistance.'

'It seems strange to me,' I rejoined, 'that you Mexicans should take such things as a matter of course, and deem resistance a very impolitic way of treating the knights of the road, instead of boldly asserting your rights and abateing the evil by a manly spirit of resistance. For myself I must consider it the most cowardly of proceedings for any respectable party to set out prepared to quietly gratify the cupidity of the ladrones, and unprepared to treat them to their just deserts.'

'Every traveler, senor,' she replied, 'should, before setting out, count the cost of his journey: and as of course it is natural he should value his life highly, it seems to me natural he should pay a certain sum for positive safety rather than put that life in jeopardy. For instance, in traveling from Vera Cruse to Mexico, if he will reckon that so much is the fare by the diligencia, and that so much will be required for entertainment on the way, and so much for the contingency you speak of, he will then have the exact cost between the two points; and if he will look at the whole as the sum total of his journey, he will not seem to be robbed by any one party more than another.'

'That,' I replied, 'may be, I believe is, the Mexican mode of doing business, but does not tally with the preconceived ideas of foreigners.'

'But every one,' replied the fair speaker, 'should conform to custom of the country he visits.'

'And do you then go prepared for this highway robbery? and have you no fear in thus journeying by yourself?'

'Well, senor, what can I do? I am as you perceive, an unprotected lady, who, for certain reasons, am required to make the journey between Perote and the Capital some two or three times a year, and you certainly could not expect me to go prepared to resist an armed band? As to fear, I will not deny I have my share of that; but, so far, I have never met with any rough treatment, and of course I trust to the saints that my fortune will ever be as propitious.'

'And have you really been robbed on your journey back and forth?' I inquired.

'I think I have paid my share for my transit through the country,' she said.

'And you expect to continue a repetition of the same for the rest of your life?'

'Who knows?' she replied. 'At least I hope to be always prepared.'

'And your fellow travelers?' said I, 'have you never seen any disposed to resist these unlawful acts?'

'Once, senor, an American and an Englishman, who were once in the same diligencia with me, fired upon the robbers, killing one and wounding two.'

'And did the robbers fire back?'

'Yes, but fled immediately, and fortunately injured none of our party.'

'As I should have expected,' returned I. 'You were not robbed on that occasion?'

'We were not, senor; but the two foreigners subsequently paid dearly for their resistance; for in journeying back and forth, both were killed, separately and at different times near the same spot. You see those crosses by the side of the road?'

'I have observed them frequently, but here they seem to be much more numerous,' I said looking forth from the vehicle.

'Each stand on the spot where some one has met a violent death,' she rejoined; 'and as we go along, I will call your attention to those which mark the places where the foreigners met theirs.'

'Do you know,' said I, 'that I am resolved to emulate their example, let the consequences be what they may?'

'Holy saint's defend us!' she exclaimed; 'you are not in earnest?'

'Seriously so, I assure you.'

'You would only bring certain death upon us both.'

'Say, rather, I should lighten the expenses of the journey—for your knights of the road understand retreat as well as advance—and you yourself have acknowledged that firm resistance put them to flight for once.'

'But there were numbers opposed to them, and you are only one.'

'But fortunately I have a couple of revolvers, which, in good hands, amounts to some ten or a dozen shots, and my friends tell me I am not a bad marksman.'

'Ah, Santa Maria! you will think better of this, senor?—the very idea of resistance terrifies me!'

'But not the idea of robbery?'

'Because I have never met with violence.'

We continued to converse in a similar strain for some time longer—my fair companion gradually changed the subject, and seeming much interested in myself.

I learned that her family name was Valerde, that she was unmarried, that her father and brother were officers in the army, and so on; and in return I gave her my own name, stated something of my history, business and prospects, and altogether became more communi*cative than I would advise my friend to* be with any stranger of either sex in a strange country.

As we continued our journey, the conversation gradually changed from one thing to another. Senorita Paula suddenly brought it back to where it first opened.

'We are coming to a dangerous part of the road,' she said; 'are you still resolved to defend yourself if assailed?'

'With your permission, senorita.'

'I don't think it advisable,' she replied; 'but still, if such is your intention, I think it no more than right to take part in my defense, since my risk of danger will be as great as yours.'

'And have you really the nerve to defend yourself?' I inquired.

'If I had the means, senor.'

'I have two pistols,' said I; 'if you will have one it is at your service.'

'You are very kind, senor; but can I use it?'

'With ease, senorita,' and producing one of my revolvers, I explained to her the manner in which it was to be used.

'And this, you say, will shoot half a dozen times?'

'I think it safe to calculate the five charges out of the six will explode.'

'A very formidable weapon indeed!' she replied; and with such I can almost fancy we are safe. You have another?'

I produced it.

'What a beautiful invention!' she observed, reaching over and taking it from my hand.—Then extending her hands, one of the revolvers in each, she continued: 'Armed like this, one might almost count himself safe against a host? You say this is fired in this manner?' she proceeded, cocking one of the weapons as she spoke and pointing it toward the road.

'Have a care, senorita, or you will discharge it.'

The words were scarcely uttered, when her finger pressed the trigger, and one of the barrels exploded with a sharp report. A minute after, and while I was gently chiding her, we heard a loud, quick tramp of horses, and several sharp, rapid exclamations.

The next moment our conveyance was stopped suddenly, and we saw ourselves surrounded by eight or ten mounted men, one of whom exclaimed:

'Yield you prisoners, or die!'

'Quick, senorita!' said I, extending my hand; 'quick! in heaven's name! give me one of those weapons! for now is our time for decisive action!'

'Nay,' she replied, putting the weapons behind her, 'you will be too hasty! Let them suppose we yield.'

'Oh, no! it will be too late!'

As I spoke, the door was suddenly thrown open, and three or four swarthy, heavily bearded men presented themselves.

'Quick, senorita, for the love of God!' I cried, grasping at her arm.

'Hold!' she exclaimed instantly presenting one of my revolvers to my head. 'Resistance is useless—you are our prisoner!'

'Gracious heavens!' exclaimed I, perfectly astounded. 'Our prisoner, did you say? It is not possible that one so fair and lovely as yourself is in way manner connected with these banditti!'

'It is even so, senor,' she replied, with one of her most bewitching smiles, still keeping one of my own weapons turned against myself, and significantly pointing the other to the door.

'You will oblige us by stepping forth and giving yourself into the care of these good gentlemen, who will see that you are treated as a brave man should be, but who will trouble you meantime for any little change you may have to spare!'

There seemed to be no help for it—the beautiful senorita Paula Valerde was a spy and accomplice of the ladrones. She had entered the diligencia at Perote for no other purpose than to ascertain the exact condition of things inside, and be able to signalize her associates as she passed along, so that they might know in exactly what manner to conduct themselves and make their work sure without risk.

By a simple stratagem she had obtained my arms, just at the point where she knew the attack would be made: and her discharge of the pistol, as if by accident, was a sign to show that all was secure.

'I acknowledge myself conquered by being outwitted,' said I, bowing to senorita.

Then turning to the robbers, who had now collected in a body, in front of the door of the diligencia, I continued:

'Gentlemen, will you permit me to alight and make you some valuable presents? In the language of your country, 'all I have is yours.'

The leader of the party bowed politely in return, and said with a smile:

'Senor we shall be most happy to receive anything which so distinguished a traveler may have to bestow.'

With this I quietly stepped from the vehicle; and one glance put me in possession of the whole state of affairs.

The diligencia had been stopped in a wild, gloomy place, and the driver was sitting carelessly on his box, taking everything as a matter of course. He might also be an accomplice of the robbers, or he might not; but, in either case, there was little hope of assistance from him—for any attempt of the kind would certainly bring upon him a severe punishment sooner or later.

I glanced up and down the road, where it wound between dark, overshadowing trees, but discovered nothing to give me any hope. The robbers, some eight or ten in number, and all well armed, were collected around me, part of them mounted, and the others standing on their feet, holding their mustangs by the bridle.

Looking upon my case as a desperate one, so far as being plundered was concerned, I still retained my presence of mind, and did not wholly despair.

True, I had been out-witted and disarmed, and now stood singly between numbers, but the idea of yielding tamely to this outrage was repugnant to my very *nature, and I resolved to put any favora*ble opportunity for defence to the best test.

'Will you accept this purse?' said I, producing one that held several gold coins and handing it to the chief.

'Thank you, senor! you are very kind!' he said, as he took it in his hand, with a polite bow.

'This diamond pin may prove acceptable to your friend,' I added, as I quietly removed it from the bosom of my shirt, and handed it to the man on his left, who received it in the same polite manner.

'This diamond ring I trust you will retain as a keepsake,' I continued, drawing the jewel from my finger and presenting it to a third.

'I beg your pardon, senores!' I pursued, glancing at the Senorita Paula, who, with my pistols still in her possession, was quietly standing within the diligencia, regarding the whole proceedings with one of her sweetest smiles; 'I must not forget this beautiful lady. I have here,' I went on, at the same time producing the article, 'a very beautiful gold snuff box—set, as you perceive, with diamonds. Will your ladyship honor me by accepting this as a slight token of my regard for the pleasure afforded me by your company and conversation?'

'You are a very gallant gentleman,' she laughed, taking the two revolvers in one hand and presenting the other.

I reached the box toward her—but my hand trembled a little—and, just as the present was about to touch her fingers, it slipped and fell between us.

'A thousand pardons, senorita, for my awkwardness!' I said, as I bent down to pick it up.

Now was the important moment—the moment of life or death! All were in a measure off their guard; and one quick, furtive glance showed me that the girl still held my weapons carelessly in one hand, with the other remaining extended for the prize.

I lifted the box carefully; but, as I raised myself, I gave a wild, startling yell; and, as the senorita started back, I with the quickness of lightning, seized both weapons, wrenching them from her.

To wheel and commence firing upon the party, was now only the work of a moment. The first shot, fortunately, stretched out the chief; the second took effect on the one nearest to him; and by the time the third had been sent on its mission, there arose one simultaneous yell of dismay, and the astounding robbers began to scatter in every direction.

I had no disposition to follow them, however, another minute they might rally and turn upon me; and, springing forward, I grasped the reins of a freed mustang, and vaulted into the saddle.

One glance around me showed the Senorita Paula upon the body of the chief, her laughter turned to grief, and some of the scattered cowards bringing their weapons to bear upon me.

'Adios, senorita and senores!' said I, bitterly; 'he laughs best who laughs last!'

The next moment I was dashing away down the road, the half rallied robbers pouring after me a volley, but not touching their mark. They would doubtless have followed me, but for the wholesome dread they had of my still undischarged weapons.

As it was I escaped, and entered the town of Puebla in triumph; where, it is almost needless to add, a narration of my exploit made me a hero and a lion for the time.

Here I sold my captured mustang and trappings for enough to indemnify me for what I had disposed of in the way of presents; and the next day saw me an inside passenger of the same diligencia, en route for Mexico, where I arrived in safety, without any further event worthy of note.

What became of the robbers and their beautiful accomplice, I never learned; but the lesson taught me on that journey I have never forgotten; and during the remainder of my stay in that country, no pretty woman ever had the honor of being my business confidante, or of getting possession of my trusty and unfailing revolvers.

FARMING NOTES.

About two ounces of saltpetre well mixed in a bucket of common salt is a remedy of an old experienced sheep-man for lombris.

Much of the new Minnesota wheat weighs out sixty-two pounds to a bushel. Its excellence is thus shown when fifty-eight pounds to the bushel is the standard No. 1.

The woolen mills of the country are using more than they were last year, but there is reason to believe that the domestic production of wool has increased in corresponding ratio.

An exchange gives the annexed recipe for colic in horses, which it claims is one of the best known, and is well worth preservation by horsemen: Laudanum, belladonna, sulph. ether, chloroform, each two ounces: dose, half tablespoonful in a half pint of water.

The basket willow will grow well around the mill ponds and along the margins of the water courses. It is an article which is always salable, and should be made to take the place of the unsightly briars and bushes that often prove so troublesome in such places.

The question: "What will be the cheapest food this Winter for cows producing milk?" was answered in the Elmira, N. Y., Farmers' Club recently by the recommendation of clover hay and sowed corn, although barley meal, shorts, corn meal, bran, etc., were commended.

The Duke of Argyll is acclimating the American wild turkey on his plantations. This should not be difficult, as English Winters are much milder than our own, and the turkey is a hardy bird, usually preferring to roost in trees in the coldest weather rather than in close houses.

An Iowa farmer, writing to the Homestead, gives as his experience that an exclusive diet of corn is cause of hog cholera. He claims that the hog should be treated to a variable diet like any other animal, and that corn is not a complete article of food, the hog requiring suitable food for converting into bone and muscle as well as fat.

The female moths of the canker worm can not fly; but as they hatch out in warm days at the beginning of Spring they crawl up the bodies of apple trees to deposit their eggs. Hence it is of no use setting traps for them to fly into, but a band around a tree filled with tar or printers' ink will stop their progress, and with some watchfulness they may be easily destroyed.

Alfalfa, or more correctly lucerne, has a history enveloped in the mist of antiquity. It was known as a valuable fodder plant in ancient Media; it found its way to Greece, thence to the Roman empire. Professor McBryde tells us that lucerne was among the cultivated leguminous plants in the days of Cato, Virgil and Varro.

Look out for damage from mice if you have trash of any kind heaped up around your trees. Many valuable trees are lost every Winter by not attending to this little pest; he girdles the tree at the groud, and you may not know anything about it until next Summer, when you find the tree in a dying condition. His time for doing his destructive work is when there is snow on the ground.

Mr. H. Roese states in the Deutsche Gaertner Zeitung, that of fifty varieties of potatoes grown by him, Early Vermont was the earliest, best and most prolific. *He recommends it as particularly adap*ted for "parring;" that is, the largest tubers may be taken away without injury to the fatal ones, which, if carefully covered, and without disturbing the roots, will continue to grow.

The Shropshire downs possess beautiful symmetry of form, fine quality and early maturity of all their parts, a vigorous constitution and grand muscular proportions. They are first-class shearers, carrying a fine compact coat, valuable at once for wool and protections from chilling sleet-storms. They stand close herding in large numbers remarkably well, the ewes are good mothers, and twin lambs are not unusual.—Rural Nebraska.

The knack of getting a supply of eggs Summer and Winter is to keep the pullets of the early Spring and Summer hatch. Feed them all they will eat clean of the best and most nutritious and egg-producing food, with such simple condiments as pepper, ginger and mustard, to stimulate them. Kill off the hens before they molt in their second year, and keep none but young hens. Of course, under this system of forcing for egg production and flesh there is no valid objection, as it not intended that their eggs should be set.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman claims the clover benefits and enriches the soil by adding carbon thereto, it containing 50 per cent. of that element, and further states that "Surely the absurdity of raising clover and peas for the little bits of nitrogen they contain is apparent. Secure carbon in the soil and in the circulation of the air it will grasp a hundred times its bulk of nitrogen, and hold on to it as food to oxygen to form nitric acid, or as food for hydrogen to form ammonia in the great chemical action brought into play by life.

Complaint has often been made that grapes grown in the vicinity of gas works possess the disagreeable taste and odor of gas tar, and it has been supposed the fruit absorbed the volatile substance from the air. Recent investigations prove, however, that the odor and flavor of the grapes are due to the fact that the sap of the vine absorbs them from the soil. If disagreeable odors may thus find their way into the grapes, why, by a similar artificial process, may not grapes, and, indeed, other fruits, be possibly flavored to suit the taste, however varied and whimsical?

More farm machinery is injured by needless exposure to weather than by use. A machine that will last ten years with careful housing will be ruined in three seasons if left out during the Winter season. A coat of paint, first well oiling woodwork, will greatly add to the durability of farm implements. Every farmer should procure some paint and learn to use the brush during leisure hours. This is especially important in the case of wagons, which need repainting at least so far as the wheels are concerned, every Spring. The paint from wheels is rapidly worn off by ice, snow and mud in Winter.

Despite the objections to steaming food for stock, the Maryland Farmer thinks that the cooking of food for swine is so important a matter of economy that it will pay even though done without regard to the saving of labor and fuel; but in cooking food for neat cattle with profit not only should there be enough animals to make it pay, but the rations should be carefully planned that by the mingling of palatable with less relished and coarse fodder, a saving may be affected in that way. The flow of milk is increased by steaming fodder, but the color of the butter is injured. It is best to have the steamed ration composed of a variety of food, and the substitution of one kind for another gives relish.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

SPACE	WEEKS. 1	2	3	MONTHS. 1	2	3	6	12
1 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
4 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
5 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
¼ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
½ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Double columns 50 per cent. advance of above rates.

One half-inch advertisements inserted for one week at 75 cents each

Net rates for all advertisements and no deviation.

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

GEMS.

Don't hurry to meet worry.

When has a man four hands? When he doubles his fists.

"Come and seam me," as the shirt said to the seamstress.

Compliments and small fish are often caught in shallow water.

When is a baker like a beggar? When he needs his bread.

In Philadelphia they call half-mourning "Pittsburg sunshine."

Before an apple becomes cider it must go the rounds of the press.

The man who minds his own business has a good steady employment.

A Danbury girl has married a poet, and now she has to carry up her own coal.

A piece of steel is a good deal like a man; when you get it red hot it loses its temper.

The ice men are singing "Shall we gather at the river?" and "What will the harvest be?"

Because a woman has a b in her bonnet it is no sign that she always wants to stay to hum.

There is, after all, only one real bone of contention in the world, and that is the jaw-bone.

Jones, who has lately been married says that courtship is bliss, but matrimony is blister.

Never despise a man who wears a paper shirt front; he may have no mother to support him.

Somebody says that a mule's hind feet are built on the plan of an emetic, you can't keep 'em down.

The lecturer who was pelted with ancient eggs had no difficulty in ascertaining the scent of the meeting.

"You are not fond of money for itself?" "Oh, no," said Johnsonburg, "I am fond of it for myself."

Every man who begins life by saying "I can't do anything," ends it by saying "I haven't done anything."

"I don't like that cat. It has splinters in its feet!" was the excuse of a four-year-old for throwing the kitten away.

An agricultural editor says: "Pumpkins are said to be fattening for hogs, but we have never tried them ourself."

A wish: Fenderson says he wishes he *was rumor, for rumor soon gains cur*rency, and that he is never been able to do.

"What is the cause of the saltness of the ocean," inquired a teacher of a bright little boy. "The codfish," replied the original.

When a man is heading for the pawnbroker's with the money to take out his pledge, he may be said to have a redeeming point.

An amateur editor has made a fortune by his pen. His father died of grief after reading one of his editorials, and left him $150,000 in cash.

Jones says that he used to be proficient in half a dozen languages, but since was married he has not even been master of his own tongue.

"Oh why does the spirit of mortal feel proud?" We don't know, unless it is because he has just redeemed his watch out of the pawnbroker's.

Hindoo girls are taught to think of marriage as soon as they can talk. This makes them smarter than American girls by about two years.

A Western debating society is nerving itself up to wrestle with the question: "When a woman and a mouse meet which is the most frightened?"

A servant with a turn for figures had five eggs to boil, and being told to give them three minutes each, boiled them a quarter of a hour altogether.

A fortunate fellow: Foggs says his friend Pingrey is so slow that he never catches cold, and couldn't get within hailing distance of the slowest of slow fevers.

"My nephew is not content with a gig," says Mrs. Ramsbotham, "but he gets two horses, puts one before the other and drives about the country in a tantrum."

"Yes," said a lady, complacently, "I expect we'll get rich now. My husband has just been appointed one of the receivers of an embarrassed savings bank."

Two highwaymen recently stole a New York editor's pocket-book and then dashed toward the ferry. They were of course captured as they didn't have enough money to cross.

It is said that one source of discomfort to Bismarck in its old age is the fact that a Berlin butcher named a sausage after him. This monument may outlive any other erected to the honor of the phlegmatic statesman.

In a village out West there was a barber shop and next door a butcher's stall. A wag that had patronized both used to suggest that the artisans had somehow got mixed. "For," said he, "the barber butchers and the butcher shaves."

A Philadelphia boy was asked if he ever prayed in church and answered, "Oh yes I always say a prayer like the rest do, just before the sermon begins." "Indeed," responded the astonished querist, "what do you say?" "Now I lay me down to sleep."

"Yes," said a fresh girl at a show, "I know my beau goes out between acts, but he's nice, and never drinks anything but a cup of coffee, because I can always smell it as plain as day, and I know the smell of coffee from beer or whiskey, if I am a little bit green." It is a very happy thing for a young man to have a girl's confidence.

"You may say what you please," solemnly remarked a red-nosed listener to a temperance lecturer, "but whiskey once saved my life." "How was that?" "Why, I wanted a drink so bad that I got up once in the middle of the night and went out to hunt for a saloon. While I was gone the house took fire and burned my wife up."

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

SECRET DANGERS.

It is the disposition of some people to treat as frivolous the assertion that dangers menace the American Republic.

So far as the peril of armed rebellion at home or of military invasion from abroad is concerned, such safety-anchored opinionists are unquestionably right, but, they either forget or do not know, that the most virulent enemies a free government has to fear are disguised, and that history attests the fact.

A bold highwayman may be seen and repulsed, but the assassin lurks under cover to spring forth and stab unawares. Exactly so with public foes. War invites the repelling power of war, while the artfully concealed hand of internal hostility undermines and pilfers the national edifice.

"The price of liberty is eternal vigilance," and that vitally important admonition applies with far greater force to secret than to open enemies—to the sneaking thief rather than to the defiant soldier.

The Government of the United States, as established by the Constitution, will live and prosper forever, provided, the people, as sleepless vigilants, keep its original purity and purpose intact.

There centers duty and there only is reliable security.

To be lukewarm therein is to foster devastation.

We reiterate that dangers do abound.

Political corruption is one of them, the procuring of official position, both executive and legislative, through the base means of bribery and fraud, and then converting authority so obtained into an agency for robbing the people and rewarding partisan spoilsmen. That has grown of late years into a gigantic peril and disgrace, and unless killed and buried by popular sovereignty, will eventually eat away and topple over the pillars of the Republic.

Another danger exists in the tyrannical spirit of monopoly, which seeks to trample under foot the legitimate rights of honest individual industry, and to make everything and everybody subservient to its foul greed of gain or be crushed to death by its vulture claws. Monopoly is the sworn enemy of the people, and whatever injures them aims a blow at the heart of the Republic.

Again, there are the aristocratic tendencies and flagrant demands of the money power for supremacy, which, if not checked, will surely endanger the stability of free institutions. To worship riches as superior to equity is not loyalty to the Constitution. Wealth is justly entitled to protection under the law, but not to a mite of mastery over it.

Such are some of the Republic's secret dangers. Happily the signs of the times indicate that the people begin to comprehend their enormity and have resolved to apply the remedy.

* * *

Again we are called upon to record an official defalcation caused mainly by the curse of speculation. The Treasurer of Tennessee, belonging to one of the most respectable families in that State, and a citizen in whose integrity the public reposed confidence, has fallen, like so many others, into crime and ruin by violating the sacredness of honor and honesty. It is the same sad old story, and we earnestly hope the time may speedily come when its recital will cease. If men holding positions of trust would irrevocably resolve to lose their right hands rather than misappropriate a single dollar deposited with them for safe keeping, what an immensity of sorrow, disgrace and injury would be avoided?

* * *

The truth telling message of Governor Butler, of Massachusetts, has brought to light many things which do not reflect credit upon that high professing old State. People have generally supposed that in the matter of education the land of the Pilgrim Fathers was far ahead of all other sections. Governor Butler dispels such false belief by showing that, in proportion to population, Iowa, a newly settled State away beyond the Mississippi, has only about half as many illiterates as Massachusetts, the proud Commonwealth of assumed intelligence and national glory.

* * *

It appears from the tenth census reports that the total number of deaths reported during the census year in the United States was 756,873, making a death rate of 15.1 per thousand. The death rate for males is placed at 15.35 per thousand, and at 14.81 for females. Of the total number of deaths that year 175,176 were under one year of age, and 302,800 were less than five years old. Thirty-eight thousand three hundred and ninety-eight persons are said to have died from dyphtheria, 22,905 from typhoid, 20,261 from malarial fever and 91,551 from consumption.

* * *

The Common Council of Newark held its first regular meeting for 1883 last Friday evening. President Wellenmayer announced the standing committees for the year, the Chairmanships of which are equally divided between the Republicans and Democrats. Of the committees, 16 have Republican majorities and 10 Democratic. The City Council was directed to take steps to secure an investigation of the acts of county officials for the past 10 years.

* * *

Some of the principal coal dealers of Newark will introduce in the Legislature an act making 2,240 pounds the standard for a ton. At present 2,000 pounds are delivered for a ton. The idea is to protect legitimate dealers and consumers from imposition by preventing unprincipled persons from selling short tons of coal at low prices.

* * *

The indications are that Judge Thos. McCormick will be his own successor in the appointment of Law Judge to be made for Union County by the Governor. No better selection can be made. Judge McCormick has upheld the dignity of the Bench and dealt out justice fairly and impartially during his term of office.

* * *

This Government was established to benefit the honest people, not to pamper soulless corporations and enrich political gamesters.

* * *

The first requisites for office should be honesty and morality, without those the most commanding talents only dazzle to betray.

* * *

The annual meeting of the State Editorial Association will be held at the American House, on Monday, the 15th inst., at noon.

* * *

Capital is only the fruit of labor and without labor it would wither and die.

MEETING OF THE LEGISLATURE.

The New Jersey Legislature met on Tuesday of this week and organized as follows:

SENATE.

Pres't—John J. Gardner, of Atlantic.
Sec.—Wm. A. Stiles, of New York.
Assistant Sec.—Wm. A. McCrellish of Mercer.
Engrossing Clerk—A. E. English.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Jos. L. Donovan, of Elizabeth.
Ass't Sergeant-at-Arms—C. F. Hopkins, of Morris.
Door Keepers—R. H. Herbert, Charles P. Ford, Benjamin F. Pool and Chas. F. Bunnell.

Ernest O. Chamberlin, of the Plainfield Bulletin, was selected as the President's Private Secretary.

HOUSE.

Speaker—Major O'Connor, Essex.
Clerk—Arthur Wilson, Monmouth.
Reading Clerk—Thomas F. Noonan, Hudson.
Engrossing Clerk—Julius F. Manger, Essex.
Assistant—Jerome Griggs, Burlington.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Con. Donovan, of Hudson.
Assistant—Michael Hurley.
Journal Clerk—Sam'l Fowler, Sussex.
Speaker's Secretary—Samuel Semple, Camden.
Bill Clerk—Jas. O'Brien, Passaic.

The Governor's message was delivered to the two Houses.

MARRIAGES.

WEBSTER—STEWART—In this city, Sunday evening, Jan. 7th, 1883, by the Rev. Thos. H. Stockton, Daniel Webster to Sarah A. Stewart, of North Plainfield.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.
—o—
A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c., constantly in stock at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.
Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.
Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
Geo. C. Ford. Geo. M. Stiles.
j128y1

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 16 Park avenue (Jules Boutes' Hair Store). Residence, No. 11 Third st., cor. New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable. o16y1

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
40½ West Front St.
Residence—Front St., opp. Washington Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J. ap1y1

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield,
Have a
--General Line of Groceries,--
Equal to any in the Market. Also, have other grades at lower prices
And are Agents for the
"Gem" a New Process Flour,
Please call and examine our COFFEES & TEAS.
Goods Delivered to any part of the city.
ma1y1

SLEIGHS!

A few more left. All the styles. Two, four and six Seat—at greatly reduced prices to clean out. Cutters, $25 and upwards.

L. M. FRENCH,
No. 18 Somerset street.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY
TO GET A
Life Size Crayon Portrait
In free hand for the unprecedented small sum of Twelve Dollars!
By the well-known artist,
SIDNEY E. FLOWER,

Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 20 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo. or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Hand in orders early at Studio or Estil's bookstore, for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is Hereby Given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of NATHAN ROGERS, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty first day of March next.
ELIAS R. POPE.
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.—j19w6

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers, Executors of Charles H. Stillman, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the county of Union on Wednesday the twenty-first day of March next.
MARY S. STILLMAN.
JARED E. MYERS.
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.—j12w6

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of Elizabeth Heinzer deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty first day of March next.
LEWIS W. HEINZER.
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.—j12w6

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT a meeting will be held at the Lyceum Rooms in the Township of Westfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey, on the 27th day of January, A. D., 1883, at eight o'clock in the evening, for the purpose of taking such action as may be necessary to properly organize a Fire Company, according to the Statute to protect life and property from fire, and such persons intending to become members thereof, are requested to be present thereat.

Dated Westfield, N. J., Jan. 9th, A. D., 1883.

F. R. Pennington,	Thomas Lowe,
R. Scofield,	R. Hart, Jr.,
J. R. Harrison,	John Hodges,
George W. Peck,	C. Eayers,
H. Baker,	P. Frazee,
George Todd,	E. K. Sharpe

jan12w3

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Own Your Own House--Now is the time.

Save half your rent. The interest on $1,000 is sixty dollars a year. A $1,000 house will rent for $150. A $500 house will rent for $75. The interest on $500 is $30. Will sell separately on Monday, Jan. 15th, at 4 o'clock, p. m., on the premises, two houses, Nos. 77 and 79 Second street, between New and Liberty sts., to the highest bidder, without reserve. If stormy sale at Miller's Hotel, same day and time. Terms—One-half cash; ten per cent. day of sale; forty per cent. on delivery of deed; balance on bond and mortgage. Don't say after the sale "I had no idea it would sell so cheap. I wish I had been there!" I tell you it will positively be sold without reserve.

WALLACE VAIL,
Agent and Auctioneer.

Course of Six Lessons in Cookery
WILL BE GIVEN IN THE
Y.M.C. Association Hall,
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

By Miss JULIET CORSON, Superintendent of the New York School of Cookery, assisted by Mrs. F. M. TAYLOR, on February 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th and 7th, 1883, at 3 p. m.

COURSE TICKETS, $3.—For sale at Reynolds' Pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.—jan12-1m

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE
First National Bank,
At Plainfield, in the State of New Jersey, at the close of business Dec. 30, 1882.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts	$416,851 74
Overdrafts	339 60
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation	300,000 00
U. S. Bonds on hand	50,000 00
Due from approved Reserve Agents	41,830 43
Due from other National Banks	3,346 60
Real Estate	32,735 50
Checks and other Cash Items	7,736 36
Bills of other Banks	16,003 00
Fractional Paper Currency, nickels and pennies	209 30
Specie	4,304 48
Legal Tender Notes	34,432 00
Redemption Fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)	9,000 00
Total	$923,471 86

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock paid in	$300,000 00
Surplus Fund	30,000 00
Undivided profits	8,744 67
National Bank notes outstanding	177,300 00
Dividends Unpaid	8,764 00
Individual Deposits subject to check	321,997 87
Demand Certificates of Deposit	64,374 85
Due to other National Banks	5,139 02
Due to State Banks and Bankers	301 27
Total	$923,471 86

State of New Jersey, County of Union, ss.

I, Carmon Parse, Cashier of the above-named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
CARMON PARSE, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 9th day of Jan., 1883.
NELSON RUNYON,
Master in Chancery of N. J.

Correct.—Attest,
ENOS W. RUNYON,
I. D. TITSWORTH, Directors.
WM. McD. CORIELL,

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

AN ORDINANCE

To amend an Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors, adopted February 23d, 1875, readopted March 8, 1875.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That section seventeen of said ordinance is hereby amended by striking out, in the fifth line of said section in the printed book of general ordinances, after the words "for each license to an inn and tavern keeper to sell spirituous and fermented liquors, the sum of" the words "Two hundred dollars ($200)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Three hundred dollars ($300)"; and by striking out in the tenth and eleventh lines of said section, after the words "for each license to a person other than an inn and tavern keeper to sell spirituous and fermented liquors the sum of" the words "Three hundred dollars ($300)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Five hundred dollars ($500)."

Sec. 2. That section thirteen of said ordinance is hereby amended by striking out, after the word "persons," on the first line of said section in the printed book of general ordinances, "licensed under this ordinance."

Applications for Liquor License.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that Charles Smith has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at the southeasterly corner of Front and Somerset Streets, which application is signed by

Joseph A Hatz,	Lawrence O'Neill,
David Bosham,	Theodore Kurshals,
James Connelly,	Mrs Patrick Day,
Augusta Dreier,	Mrs John Burke,
John H Clark,	Dennis Kittribe,
Henry Goeller,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing, to the City Clerk, on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that J. H. Miller has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at Laing's Hotel, on Front street, which application is signed by

John F Emmons,	B A Collins,
John W Laing,	George M Phillips,
Simeon Harris,	William Sutton,
Daniel S Fenell,	Robert Simpson,
P J Flanagan,	Lewis C Dunn,
Wm M Jennings,	William Sullivan,
A. Winter,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk, on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of Spirituous and Fermented Liquors" now in force.
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that Hugh O'Donnell has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at the northwesterly corner of Liberty and Third street, which application is signed by

Patrick Muldoon,	Francis M Genet,
Michael Muldoon,	Patrick Day,
Charles McCann,	Michael Conway,
L Kane,	Patrick Gilloly,
Daniel McCarthy,	Michael Nugent,
James O Keeffe,	Moses Carney,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk, on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of Spirituous and Fermented Liquors" now in force.
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that John Rafferty has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at No. 20, Park avenue, which application is signed by

James McGinley,	James H. Acor,
John H. Stevens,	Edward P. Thorn,
Michael Hughes,	James Cannon,
Matthew Hughes,	James Fitzpatrick,
Edward Hannan,	Thomas Callahan,
Thomas Curran,	John Bergen,
Charles McGinley,	Michael Callahan.

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk on or before the Twenty-ninth day of January, 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.
W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that Edward P. Thorn has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at No. 37 Park avenue, which application is signed by

Anna P. Thorn,	Emma Thorn,
Mulford Cole,	James Keegan,
his	Henry Eggerding,
Francis X McIntyre,	John Rafferty,
mark	Henry Gooch,
Michael Ettinger,	Dan. S. Roberts.

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk on or before the Twenty-ninth day of January, 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license inns and taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.
W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that James Connelly has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at No. 22 Park avenue, which application is signed by

Charles Zimmer,	Patrick Casey,
Mrs. Catherine Flynn,	Charles H. Hand,
James Mulvaney,	Stephen McIntyre,
John Galbraith,	William Mulligan,
Daniel Hogan,	Michael Newman,
Peter Flynn,	Mrs. Mary Moran.

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk on or before the Twenty-ninth day of January, 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license inns and taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.
W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Revenues and Disbursements of the City for the year 1882.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., JAN. 8th, 1883.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

GENTLEMEN:—

Herewith I beg to hand you Statement of Revenue, year 1882:

For general expenses of city	$16 277 97
Statement of ex. of city, 1882	13,092 03
Balance, Excess of Revenue		$ [illegible]
Statement of Rev., year 1882, for Poor Fund	2,498 04
Statement of Exp. for year 1882	2,335 77
Balance, Excess of Revenue		1,[illegible] 67

In addition to the above the principal amounts have been as follows:

Arrears of the State and County taxes 1880 and interest	2,413 20
Arrears of State and County taxes 1881 and interest	12,991 15
Assessment bills, 1878, 1880, 1881	974 00
State and County quota 1882, due Dec. 22d, 1882	37,484 22
Warrants ordered drawn, but not paid, in 1881 for general expenses	10,261 94
For Poor Fund, 1881	2,164 60
Bills contracted in 1881, but not passed (statement annexed) for Gen. ex.	849 71
Statement annexed, for Poor Fund	126 81
Paid on acc't Judgment, prior to 1882	1,877 61
Paid on account of Library Fund	409 68
The total amount of taxes and interest collected the year 1882, was	$36,895 11 for which see report of the Collector J. B. Brown, Esq., to Jan 2d, 1883.

The Finances of the City have been by reason of the unpaid warrants and taxes of 1880 and 1881, and the necessity of transferring from one fund to another in the various settlements during the year 1882, somewhat intricate, and you are respectfully referred to the able report of the City Treasurer for full particulars.

I beg leave also to hand you herewith Report of City Treasurer Van Winkle for 1882. Report of John B. Brown, City Collector for Dec. 1882.

Very Respectfully,
E. H. DEPEW,
Chairman of Finance Com. of 1882.

Statement of expenses paid by the City of Plainfield:

LIGHTING STREETS.

Plainfield Gas L't. Co., Lights	$2,673 30	Rep. $53 60
N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Lt. Co. Lights	1,437 67	Rep. 21 40
D. W. Littell		Rep. 36 35
E. A. Vermeule		Rep. 17 60
	$4 109 97	128 95	$4,238 92

POLICE.

Regular.
C. W. Dodd	$707 12
Robt. Randolph	394 68
Geo. W. Grant	311 71		$1413 48
Special
[illegible] Lynch	$40 35
M. Conway	15 00
Geo. M. Smith	7 25
H. Hamilton	16 00
C. Winter	9 00	$111 10
		$1,524 58
Rent of Station house	$300 00
Supplies for do.	43 60	343 60	$1,867 [illegible]

WORK ON STREETS.

William Hand	$7 50
John C. Mosher	1361 43	1,368 93
J. A. Thickstun, cross walks	$65 72
A. T. Shotwell	89 04	154 76	$1,523 69

PRINTING AND ADVERTISING.

Runyon & Leonard	$[illegible] 75
W. L. Force & Bro.	110 50
E. O. Chamberlain	171 60	$1,1[illegible] 85

STATIONARY.

M. Bell	$49 37
J. P. Howatt	30 00
J. VanWinkle	75	$80 12

ELECTIONS.

Poll ex. Charter election, 1882, Dec. 5th	$231 20

SALARIES.

J. VanWinkle, City Treasurer	$400 00
O. B. Leonard, City Clerk	200 00
Nelson Runyon, City Judge	300 00
C. W. Kimball, Counsel	191 67
Craig A. Marsh, "	200 00
Jas C. Mosher, St. Com'r	300 00
Henry Hamilton, Janitor	111 00	$1,802 67

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

John B. Brown, City Collector	$1,198 67
George W. Moore, Col. of delinquent taxes	870 67
W. A. Pangborn, special Col.	25 00	$2,094 34

ASSESSING TAXES.

J. A. Hubbard, City, County and State	$258 44
School	140 85	$399 29

BOOKS FOR TAX OFFICE.

Nathan Lane & Son, set of books for Col'r office	$66 50

SAFES.

For City Clerk's office, put in	$82 34
For City Col'r office, put in	59 00	$141 34

RENT.

Rent of Council Room, 1 year	$308 44

EXAMINATION OF TAX BOOKS, 1872 TO '81.

J. M. Buck	$275 00
L. F. Wadsworth	49 20
F. L. Marsh	50 00	$374 20

COURT COSTS.

Paid C. W. Kimball	$79 07
Paid C. A. Marsh	22 12
Paid W. B. Maxson	19 82	$121 01

EXTRA ATTORNEY.

Fee paid Thos. N. McCarter	$100 00

SUNDRIES.

Dr. Lowrie Collecting Vital Statistics	$35 40
City Clerk, disbursements	5 65
Jas Maynard, winding clock	6 00
J. P. Howatt, badges	26 75	$73 80

INTEREST.

Paid on Loans at Bank	$156 20
	$13,091 03

Statement of Revenue of the year 1882, applicable to the expenses of the City of Plainfield.

Taxes recd. acc't	1876	$8 54
" "	1877	22 90
" "	1878	61 92
" "	1879	172 88
" "	1880	192 78
" "	1881	1,748 97
" "	1882	7,919 97	$10,128 01
Interest on taxes prior to 1882			209 11	$10,337 12

LICENSES.

Hotels	$680 00
Saloons	2,404 00
Hacks	237 50
Circus and Show	150 00
Advertising	12 75	$3,484 25
Sale of stove		$7 00
Burial Permits		$50 75
J. H. Coward, Township Treasurer		$746 10
Fines recd. from City Judge	$194 50
Less fees	40 25
	$154 25
Fines recd. from the Mayor	3 00	$157 25
		$20,277 95

DISBURSEMENTS OF THE POOR FUND OF THE CITY OF PLAINFIELD, YEAR 1882.

To Plainfield Relief Association	$420 37
do David Hand, Poor House	428 47
do A. Vanderbeek, Overseer of Poor	200 00
do Dr. H. H. Lowrie, City Physician	250 00
do Funerals	61 00
do Board	242 55
do Rent	265 00
do Coal	292 34
do Muhlenberg Hospital	20 00
do Sundries	37 45
	$2,462 58
For expenses of 1881	$ 126 81
" " 1882	2,335 77 $2,462 58

STATEMENT OF REVENUE OF THE YEAR 1882.

Applicable to the Poor Fund of the City of Plainfield:

Taxes received account 1876	$ 1.33
" " " 1877	7.40
" " " 1878	28.32
" " " 1879	68.50
" " " 1880	73.98
" " " 1881	466.51
" " " 1882	2042.13	2,488.04
Penalty received from L. F. Wadsworth		20.00
		$2,508.04

STATEMENT OF BILLS CONTRACTED PRIOR TO 1882, PAID DURING THE YEAR 1882.

Nelson Runyon, City Judge, 1 quarter to Jan. 1, 1882		75.00
Jeremiah Van Winkle, City Treasurer 1 quarter to Jan. 1 1882		75.00
J. Oakley Nodyne, issuing warrants for collecting delinquent taxes for year 1878	45.66
Same for 1879	60.00
Same for 1880	76.30
Same for 1881	46.27	$254.41
Manning Vermeule, Commissioner of Appeal, for years 1875-'6,-'7,-'8,-'9, '80,-'81		14.00

ELECTION EXPENSES, 1881.

H. H. Baker, Inspector 2d Ward,	$10
Jas. O'Neil, " 4th "	10
W. W. Coriell, " 4th "	10	$30.00
Plainfield Gas Light Co. bill Dec. 1881,		121.97
New York and New Jersey Globe Gas Light Co., bill Dec. 1881,	$108 50
New York and New Jersey Globe Gas Light Co. bill Aug. 1881,	86 50	195.00
W. B. Maxson, court expenses, Bolton ag'nst F. P. Good, Feb. 28, 1879.		10 30
		$849 71

TREASURER'S STATEMENT

Of the City Finances from January 3d, 1882, to January 4th, 1883.

RECEIPTS—CITY FUND.

Cash on hand, Jan. 3, 1882		$6,722 10
Taxes, 1876	56 94
" 1877	27 25
" 1878	41 92
" 1879	178 59
" 1880	192 78
" 1881	1748 97	2,246 45
Interest on above years		209 11
Taxes 1882		7,919 97
Licenses, Hotels	680 00
" Saloons	2404 00
" Hacks, &c.	237 50
" Circus and Shows	150 00
" Advertisements	12 75	3,484 25
Sale of Stove		7 00
Burial Permits		50 75
Error in Entry—Interest		43
J. H. Coward, Township Treas., balance		746 10
Loan, 1st Nat. Bank	2000 00	2,000 00
Fines from City Judge Runyon	194 50
Fines from the Mayor	3 00
	197 50
Less Witness Fees, &c.	40 25	157 25
Bal. State & Co. previous to 1881	3079 33
Bal. Judgment Fund to date	672 13	3,751 46
		$24,8[illegible] 91

Mem.—Of am't from city fund, July 3, 1882, to pay State & Co. $2336 34. There has been paid as above 1339 33. Leaving balance unpaid ... 997 01.

DISBURSEMENTS.

Warrants ordered by Council	1881	1882
Regular Police	1198 00	1298 24
Special Police	112 50	101 51
Taking Prisoners to Elizabeth	12 55	7 65
Advertising	642 10	1001 64
Streets, Work on	909 31	1121 48
Sprinkling Park Ave.	36 00
Crosswalks	173 02	69 21
Tiling for Streets	6 45
Surveying, 12, 14.39; 73	111 26
Station House, Rent	312 50	187 50
Supplies and repairs	13 21	21
Common Council, Rent	200 41	211 23
Janitor	100 00	92 20
Stationery	14 05	22 27
Coal and Wood	4 75
Salaries, City Clerk	150 00	202 50
Corp. Counsel, Services	47 97
" " Kimball	124 00	130 00
" " Marsh		17 00
Street Commissioner	200 00	150 00
City Judge	225 00	225 00
City Assessor	260 75	260 25
City Treasurer	225 00	300 00
Gas, &c., N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas	1429 00	1100 24
Plainfield Gas	2001 64	2152 82
Repairs on Lamps	16 01	44 90
Election, Polling Places	75 00
Judges	20 00
Inspectors	50 00	50 00
Clerks	50 00
Notices	1 50
3 Ballot Boxes	45 00
Board of Health, Small Pox
Burying Clothes	8 00
Fumigating	30 10
Physician	112 00
Vaccination	50 50
Medicine	1 75
Legal Expenses, Court	13 28	28 92
Extra Services, Kimball	75 00	119 60
Special, C Parker	100 00
Special, T McCarter		100 00
Liquor Suit	36 00
Extra Services, City Clerk	20 00
Collectors, Taxes in Arrears
Moore	67 30	761 67
Wadsworth		10 00
Warrants, Nodyne		244 61
Notices to Delinquents		45 87
Pangborn		25 00
Books		66 50
Safe for City		82 34
Safe for City Clerk		59 00
Interest on Warrants per Cert.	279 40
Damages Plainfield Ave.	187 85
Commissioners, Linfield Ave.	275 00
Rent of Hall, Public Meeting	15 00
Care of Town Clock	6 00
Vital Statistics	61 00	22 35
Dog Killer	9 00
Loan Note, 1881	2000 00
Discount Loans, 1881		156 20
Hackmen's Badges		26 75
Examining Coll. Clerk's Books		411 20
Commissioners of Appeal		14 00
Taxes allowed, Firemen		101 33
	10261 94
Amount Warrants paid 1882		11329 41
" " " 1881		10261 94
Amount loaned to pay State & County Quota 1882		4500 00
Bal. this am't in Bank, Jan. 3		6813 10
		$32904 84

Warrants unpaid.
Ex-Coll Clerk's acct	128 00
Police	146 00
Streets	107 29
Salaries	1042 51
Advertising	40 45
Gas and Oil	1309 06
Coll. Taxes	1149 55
Coll. Delinquent	109 00
C C and Stationery	123 61
Station House	93 25
Election	216 75
Sundries	155 90	4541 40
Balance cash available		77 70

RECEIPTS—POOR FUND.

Bal. on hand Jan. 3, 1882		$4087 22
Taxes 1876	1 33
" 1877	7 40
" 1878	28 32
" 1879	68 50
" 1880	73 98
" 1881	466 51	632 36
" 1882		2042 13
Penalty from L F Wadsworth		20 00
		$6176 [illegible]

DISBURSEMENTS.

Warrants by order of Council.	1881	1882
Board and Clothing	224 87
Rent	404 35
Provisions	669 92
Fuel	216 75
Physician	221 00
Medicine	10 20
Burial Lot	40 00
Funeral Expenses	127 00
Opening Graves	18 00
Care of Foundling	2 00
Overseer's Books	2 00
Salary, Overseer Giddes	29 85
" " Vanderbeek	150 00
Interest on Warrants	96 40
Board and Clothing		691 97
Rent		237 00
Provisions		348 17
Fuel		271 79
Physician		250 00
Funeral Expenses		48 00
Salary Vanderbeek		150 00
Moving Furniture		9 00
Care of Sick		6 00
Taking Pauper to Asylum		22 70
Amount Warrants paid 1882		2039 63
" " " 1881	2164 60	2164 60
Amount loaned to State & Co Quota 1882		2730 48
Balance in Bank Jan. 3, 1883		518 72
		$7478 [illegible]

Warrants unpaid.
Salary	50 00
Rent and Supplies	306 70
Funeral Expenses	30 00
Fuel	48 59	435 29
Balance cash available		579 47

RECEIPTS—STATE AND COUNTY.

Bal. on Hand, Jan. 3, 1882		34 85
Taxes 1872	33 20
" 1873	27 50
" 1874	13 86
" 1875	22 34
" 1876	27 90
" 1877	204 67
" 1878	602 45
" 1879	452 55
" 1880	6402 91
" 1881	13118 40	21300 81
Interest on above years		1782 72
Taxes 1882		30174 74
Amount from city fund, 1882	4500 00
Amount from poor fund, 1882	2730 48	7230 48
		$60,221 70

DISBURSEMENTS.

Paid arrearages taxes 1880	2200 00
Interest in full	412 03
Arrears 1881	13950 00
Interest in full	191 24
Account, 1879 and 1880	493 05
" 1881	371 00	17426 25
Treasurer, 1882		30 00
Tax of 1882 in full		37484 22
Jan. 3, 1883, Am't transferred to Gen. Fund from taxes of 1872 to 1881 inclusive		5300 29
		$60221 76

RECEIPTS—JUDGMENT FUND.

Balance on hand, Jan. 3, 1882	1877 97
Taxes of 1881	431 75
	$2309 72

DISBURSEMENTS.

Paid Judgment Underdonk	500 00
" M. Stelle	156 00
" D J Boice, costs	201 81
" D J Marshall	112 70	1877 61
" Magie & Cox		160 98
Am't transferred to Gen. Fund Jan. 3, 1883		472 13
		$2309 72

RECEIPTS—LIBRARY FUND.

Balance Jan. 3, 1882		626 17
Taxes 1881	144 01
Taxes 1882	661 37	805 38
		$1431 55

DISBURSEMENTS.

Paid Orders, 1 to 26 inclusive	409 68
Balance Jan. 3, 1883	1021 87
	$1431 55

J. VANWINKLE, Treasurer.

Collector's Report.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., JAN. 8th, 1883.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

GENTLEMEN:—

The following is a report of moneys received by me for Taxes during the month of December, 1882.

J. B. BROWN, ex-Collector.

Year.
1872,	Poll Tax	$ 1 00
1877,	"	1 00
1878,	"	2 00
1879,	"	2 00
1880,	"	8 00
1881,	"	9 00
1882,	"	335 00
	Total	$358 00
	SCHOOL POLL TAX.
1877,	School Poll Tax	50
1878,	" "	1 00
1879,	" "	1 00
1880,	" "	2 50
1881,	" "	4 50
1882,	" "	277 50
	Total	$287 00
	STATE.
1872,	State Tax	4 00
1877,	"	14 26
1878,	"	15 12
1879,	"	2 34
1880,	"	6394 44
	Total	$6,423 96
	COUNTY.
1872,	County Tax	42 20
1877,	"	40 50
1878,	"	57 76
1879,	"	61 41
1880,	"	74 60
1881,	"	226 00
1882,	"	12,802 36
	Total	$13,306 21
	STATE SCHOOL.
1872,	State School Tax	34 40
1877,	" "	19 29
1878,	" "	20 25
1879,	" "	20 37
1880,	" "	28 97
1881,	" "	100 19
1882,	" "	5,063 61
	Total	$5,301 45
	COST AND INTEREST, STATE AND COUNTY.
1872,		81 25
1877,		27 11
1878,		30 75
1879,		19 43
1880,		18 44
1881,		37 80
	Total	184 76
	JUDGMENTS.
1881,		38 80
	Total	$38 80
	LIBRARY FUND.
1881,		8 97
1882,		477 37
	Total	$486 34
	CITY.
1878,		35 75
1879,		88 48
1880,		21 16
1881,		107 56
1882,		5,479 86
	Total	5,807 78
	POOR.
1878,		8 19
1879,		16 66
1880,		4 12
1881,		40 32
1882,		1,906 76
	Total	$1,976 28
	SCHOOL AND BONDS.
1878,		20 13
1879,		20 50
1880,		19 60
1881,		198 77
1882,		9352 10
	Total	$9,628 72
	COST AND INTEREST, CITY.
1878,		22 83
1879,		27 36
1880,		5 84
1881,		58 76
1882,		6 10
	Total	$119 41
	TOTALS.
Total for year	1876	$124 68
" "	1877	102 65
" "	1878	226 20
" "	1879	217 44
" "	1880	177 68
" "	1881	904 71
" "	1882	39,428 29
	Sum Total	$41,178 18

DISBURSEMENTS.

Dec. 23d, 1882, By check to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer	$28,000 00
Dec. 30th, 1882, by Firemen Certificates paid City Treasurer	101 38
Jan. 2d, 1883, Paid Board of Education	9,901 52
Jan. 2d, 1883, By check to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer	3,175 62
Total	$41,178 18

PLAINFIELD, New Jersey, January 4th, 1883.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith respectfully submit to your Honorable body a report of receipts and disbursements of moneys by me as Collector of the City of Plainfield during my term of office ending January 1st, 1883.

Yours Respectfully,
JOHN B. BROWN.

RECEIPTS.

Total	[illegible]
Cost and Interest, City	[illegible]
Balance and On Accounts	[illegible]
School and Bonds	[illegible]
Poor	[illegible]
City	[illegible]
Library	[illegible]
Judgments	[illegible]
Cost and Interest State and County	[illegible]
State School	[illegible]
County	[illegible]
State	[illegible]
School Poll Tax	[illegible]
Poll Tax	[illegible]
Year	[illegible]

DISBURSEMENTS.

1882.	Feb. 6, by check	for account of Board of Education,	$ 381 89
"	"	to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	3,318 20
" 13,	"	" "	1,100 00
Mch 4,	"	" "	2,373 86
" 6,	"	for account of Board of Education,	607 61
" 6,	"	" "	4,229 80
" 20,	"	to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	1,300 00
April 1,	"	" "	2,512 65
" 5,	"	for account of Board of Education,	926 41
" 20,	"	to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	600 00
May 1,	"	" "	676 21
" "	"	for Board of Education account,	366 27
June 2,	"	" "	87 66
" 2,	"	to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	109 79
July 1,	"	" "	1,366 00
" "	"	for account of Board of Education,	801 00
Aug 3,	"	" "	111 71
" 4,	"	to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	684 39
Sep. 1,	"	for account of Board of Education,	40 25
" 2,	"	to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	409 07
Oct. 6,	"	" "	396 19
" "	"	for account Board of Education,	141 64
Nov. 3,	"	" "	347 25
" 3,	"	to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	1,644 38
" 4,	"	for account of Board of Education,	1,886 48
" "	"	to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	3,011 40
Dec. 4,	"	" "	3,179 28
" "	"	for account of Board of Education,	1,462 69
" "	"	" "	1,400 10
" 23,	"	to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	28,000 00
" 30,	"	Firemen Certificates paid J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	101 37
1883. Jan. 2,	"	for account Board of Education,	5,007 66
"	"	" "	3,107 87
2,	"	J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer,	3,175 62
			$80,[illegible] 11

NOTE—
Paid Board of Education, $25,902 78
Paid City Treasurer, 54,752 33

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S

SPECIAL SALE
OF
White Goods,
Bought at a CLEARING-OUT SALE.

These Goods are Way Down in Figures
COMPRISING
Plaid Nansooks,
Plaid and Striped Pique,
ONE LOT OF
Table Linen of 120 yds.
ONE LOT OF White Dollies,
25 Dozen Ladies Fine Colored Border, Hemstitched
Handkerchiefs,
25 Doz. Ladies Fine Hemstitched
Handkerchiefs,
PLAIN WHITE.

The prices of these Goods will be quoted at the different departments in the Store.

New Goods
WILL BE Added Constantly.

G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PURE WINES & LIQUORS!
For Family or Medicinal Use.
—:o:—
A Quart Bottle Bouche fils & Co's. Dry Verzenay Champagne, $1.80. Pints, $1.00.
" " " Nap. Cabinet. - - $2.20. " $1.25.
A Good Cooking Brandy for $1.00 per bottle.
" " Sherry " 45 cts " "
The BEST of ROCK CANDY and RYE WHISKEY, 30 to 80 cts. per bottle.
A bottle of GIN, Warranted Pure, bottled in HOLLAND, $1.00.
BURNETT'S OLD TOM GIN, $1.00 per Bottle.
BASS ALE, $2.15 per Dozen.
GUINNESS' STOUT, $2.10 per Dozen.
Sole Agent for Wirtz bottling of Ballantine's and Milwaukee Lager.
Ten cents per dozen allowed for empty Ale and Porter Glass-Bottles.
A Large Variety of Wines, Whiskeys, Brandies and Rums.
A very Fine Old Medford Rum.
KRONTHAL, [a German Spring Water] 20 cts. per bottle.
RHINE WINE, [qts. and pts.] 75 cts. to $1.50 per bottle.
GINGER ALE, [Imported] $1.50 per Dozen.
GINGER ALE, [American] $1.25 per Dozen.
CLARETS, from 40 cts. to $1.20 per bottle.
The place to buy these Goods at Reasonable Prices, is
E. P. THORN'S Mansion House,
PARK AVENUE,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Slaughter! Slaughter!
IN THE PRICE OF CLOTHING!

Overcoats $3.50,	former price,	$5.00.
" 4.50,	" "	6.50.
" 5.00,	" "	7.50.
" 8.00,	" "	10.50.
" 9.00,	" "	14.00.

Scotch Cheviot suits at $12, former price, $18.

Youth's Overcoat $4, former price, $6.50.

S. C. LILIENSTERN,
The Leading Plainfield Clothier and Merchant Tailor,
22 West Front Street, - Plainfield, N. J.
mch24

A. VANDERBEEK,
(Chautauqua Building.)
No. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DEALER IN
Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments,
Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

FOREST and STREAM
And Rod and Gun!

THE AMERICAN SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL!

A twenty-eight page weekly journal, devoted to the interests of Gentlemen Sportsmen and their Families. Treats of Natural History, Shooting, Yachting and Canoeing, Fishculture, the Kennel, Fishing, the Rifle, and all gentlemanly outdoor sports. It is without a rival. Price, Four Dollars a year. Try it. A Specimen copy will be sent post-paid for six cents. For sale by newsdealers everywhere.

Forest and Stream Publishing Company.
New York City. j12-4w

Carney Bros.,
NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.
Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.

PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.

Grates and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at jobber's prices. Bring your Tin Ware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials and our work always gives satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Tinware made to order.

RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.

—SANITARY PLUMBING—mc9

WANTS and INFORMATION

25 Cents for one insertion of 3 Lines. Each additional line, 5 cents extra. Fifteen cents for each subsequent insertion of ads.

WANTED—Hands for top finishing fine pants. Work delivered within the city limits. Apply to Schepflin, Baldwin Tweedy & Company, Front and Grove streets.

FOR SALE—A Brunswick and Balke Co's Billiard Table. Complete. Address C. CONSTITUTIONALIST office.

GROCER clerk wants a position. Best of recommendation and references. Address GROCERIES, P. O. Box 281, Plainfield, New Jersey.

WANTED—A man with a small family to take a farm on shares near the city of Plainfield. For particulars address R. B., Box 489, Plainfield, New Jersey.—j12m1

WANTED—A small house within five minutes walk of the depot for a man and wife. Will buy if sold cheap or will rent. Address with particulars T. C. C., Box 324 Plainfield P. O.—1w

WANTED TO RENT A GOOD HOUSE—The owner to board out the rent. Address Box 1224. Plainfield Post-office.—1w

WANTED TO RENT—By first of May a house of ten to twelve rooms with modern improvements in good neighborhood. Rent about four hundred dollars. No notice taken unless location and particulars are given to Post-office box 1166.—d28tf

BOARD AT 31 EAST FRONT STREET—Table board for gentlemen at moderate terms.—Also two pleasant front rooms to let with board. dec29—tf

GRANDFATHER CLOCKS—Three of them, in first-class running order, each over 100 years old, for sale cheap. Can be seen at Moore's Jewelry Store, North ave., near depot. ja14-tf

PHAETON FOR SALE—Inquire at 147 Central Avenue, this city. jy14-tf

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET to Gentlemen, without Board, at 14 W. Front Street. MRS. P. DUNN. jl14tf

BOARD can be had in a private family, large airy rooms, shaded lawn, on Front street. References given and required. Stabling, if required. P. O. Box 49, Plainfield, N. J. jun6tf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.

All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing
Made to Order and Ready Made,
From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boy's. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing
Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.
fe16

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate Agent!
12 DUER ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Houses Rented and Collections Made and prompt returns.

To Rent—Several houses in North Plainfield; location desirable and rent reasonable.
For Sale—Dwellings and Farms, from $1,000 to $30,000. 1085-tf

GRAND OPENING!

GRAND OPENING of Holiday Goods at CLARK'S Jewelry Store. Come and examine our large and handsome stock before purchasing. We have a line of goods direct from the Manufacturer's and at prices so low that all can buy. New goods! New patterns. Elegant and beautiful. Must be seen to be appreciated. Call and see for yourselves. No. 9 Park avenue.

DON'T MISTAKE THE STORE!

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SALE OF LANDS FOR TAXES IN FANWOOD TOWNSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a warrant, issued by the Township Committee of Fanwood Township, Union County, N. J., under their common seal, signed by their chairman and attested by their clerk, pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided for the collection of taxes laid on certain lands in said township for the year 1881, the subscriber, constable of said township, will on Monday, the 22d day of January, 1883, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., of said day, at the hotel of Henry Brittle, in the township of Fanwood, Union County, N. J., by public auction, sell the lands and premises hereinafter described, taxed to the undernamed persons, to make the taxes with interest, costs, fees, charges and expenses thereon, to any person or persons who will take the same for the shortest time, not exceeding thirty years, and pay the amount due thereon. The following is a correct list of those in arrears for taxes for the year 1881, and a description of the lands upon which said taxes have been laid and that are to be sold hereunder:

The sum of fifteen dollars and five cents ($15.05) for the year 1881, against John Barry, for and on account of 37 acres, on line of Westfield township, in road district, No. 5.

The sum of forty-nine cents, (.49) for the year 1881, against Thomas Cook, for and on account of 2 lots, in road district No. 1.

The sum of thirty-two cents, (.32) for the year 1881, against ——— Delmidge, for and on account of 1 lot, in road district, No. 2.

The sum of sixty-two cents, (.62) for the year 1881, against Harriet Brown, for and on account of 3 lots, block 8, Stanberry farm, Nos. 48, 49 and 79, in road district, No. 2.

The sum of sixty-three cents, (.63) for the year 1881, against James Flynn, for and on account of 4 lots, block 9, Stanberry farm, Nos. 36, 37, 38 and 39, in road district, No. 1.

The sum of thirty-two cents (.32) for the year 1881, against Henry F. Pease, for and on account of 1 lot on Westfield road, in road district, No. 2.

The sum of thirty-two cents, (.32) for the year 1881, against John H. Kitchen, for and on account of one-quarter acre of land, on Freeman Place, in road district, No. 2.

WM. N. PANGBORN,
Fees $12.60. CONSTABLE.
Dec. 15, 1882.—5w.

Fine Butter & Cheese

Taylor's Cash Meat Market

Is now heavily stocked with Butter and Cheese of all grades from common to the finest produced. These goods are bought for cash in large quantities by an expert buyer and will be sold at a reasonable profit. In a few days we shall have a large consignment of the noted in 10 lb. pails. The price is very high, but some people will have it. Families desiring to purchase Butter by the Tub will be supplied with a prime article at a close price.

Elgin Creamery Butter

N. J. RANDOLPH,
Manager.
No. 34 Park ave.

HOLIDAY GIFTS!
AT SWAIN'S,
No. 32 West Front street.

PAINTINGS,
ENGRAVINGS,
ETCHINGS,
BEVELED MIRRORS,
ROGERS GROUPS,
ARTISTS' MATERIALS,
CHRISTMAS CARDS, ETC. All at New York prices—d8lm

JOHN B. CLARK, dealer in Fruits, Nuts, Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, &c. Pies and Temperance Drinks. Fresh roasted Peanuts every day. Corner of Front and Somerset Streets Plainfield, N. J.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

VILLIERS is coming!

OH for an Opera House!

"RABBIT SOUP" is not in season now.

COUNCIL meeting next Monday evening.

CLEAN your sidewalks after a fall of snow.

THE snow storms of last week interfered with the gathering of ice.

BY an advertisement in another column, an opportunity is shown whereby a man can buy a home for less than he can rent one.

As will be seen by their advertisement, the Bachman Bros., have taken the business in their own hands, as we told our readers recently.

As usual, Callender's Consolidated Minstrels gave in this city last Monday evening, one of the best entertainments we have ever attended.

SAMUEL RANDOLPH, a driver in the employ of A. D. Cook & Bro., fell in getting out of his wagon, Tuesday, and striking the ground severely bruised his side.

ON the evening of Monday the 29th inst. The Plainfield Saengerbunders will enjoy an entertainment among themselves, of pleasure and dance. None but members are to be invited.

COMMENCING next Monday, 15th inst, at 3 p. m., Mr. E. P. Thorn will sell at public auction, on the premises, the entire household goods, &c., now contained in the Mansion House. Sales will be continued every Monday, same house and place, until all is sold.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST of last week said: "Our congratulations are herewith tendered the new City Clerk. He will find the duties of the office onerous in the beginning but upon acquaintance the labor will be lightened." His duties have been "lightened," since.

MESSRS Oliver Ditson & Co., of Boston, have recently issued a charming little variety of music, in their usual attractive style, and at prices far below its worth. The music is both vocal and instrumental, including quartettes, choruses, polkas, galops and other easy arrangements of popular compositions.

MESSRS Carney Bros., have shown themselves to be artistic metal-workers as well as mechanics of ability. This firm has just completed the large ornamental roof to be placed on the top of the North Plainfield Public School-House cupola. It is made of galvanized iron and a model of good workmanship and tasteful design.

THE members of the Crescent Base Ball Association are requested to meet in the hall of the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening next. Business of importance is to be considered and the prospects of the coming season discussed. In consequence, the meeting is to be a most important one, and it is particularly requested that all attend.

THE elegant sleighing we are having and are to have for sometime, is bringing many customers daily to French's sleigh and cutter repository on Somerset street. Here can be found the handsomest line of these articles in the State, at unusually low prices. The most stylish and beautifully trimmed sleighs owned in this city, are from this establishment.

THE opening services in the new chapel of the Congregationalists, were held during Sunday morning last. The preliminary programme included a prayer of invocation, singing and responsive reading by the congregation and an anthem by the choir. The dedicatory services were a brief historic review by pastor, reading of the Scripture, prayer, hymn 1016, and the offertory. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper, followed.

AN exceedingly painful operation was recently performed upon the P. S. of Plainfield Lodge I. O. O. F. which that officer bore with the coolness and nerve he is so noted for. The operation was an entire successful one in every respect, and under the care of Dr. W. W. Dorland of Somerville, the patient is doing as well as could be expected. Considerable of the P. S's jaw was carried away by the performance, but he still has enough, and to spare.

THE attempt to construe the resolutions passed by the Council at their last meeting as a personal indignity offered ex-City Clerk Leonard, is utterly without foundation. At the same meeting of the Council, he was unanimously requested to act as Clerk pro tem, and a vote of thanks was tendered him before the Council adjourned, the motion being made by the same member who offered the resolution. The object of the Council was to prevent all possibility of a contest.

DURING the evening of Thursday of next week, there will be given in St. Mary's Hall a sociable in honor of the ladies of the parish who so kindly assisted at the late successful fair. The best of music will be furnished and a pleasant time is assured. Tickets will be placed at the very reasonable price of twenty-five cents each, with complimentary admission to the friends of those whose earnest efforts have called forth an expression of thanks in this most appropriate manner.

HARMONY in the Hospital has been promoted—in fact established—by a change in the positions of the individual members of the staff. Dr. Charles A. Hart is to hereafter have sole charge of certain diseases peculiar to the weaker sex. Dr. Harvey D. Burlingham will superintend the medical department henceforth; and Drs. T. H. Tomlinson and George W. Endicott will act in cases demanding surgical treatment. Had a selection been made, from the entire staff of the state, men more capable could not have been picked out for the several places.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST has, undoubtedly, been put to many base uses during the fifteen years of its existence. It has lent a certain symmetry to the back of innumerable dresses; covered the shelves of many a tidy housewife's pantry; kept "bawkies" from entering through broken window panes, and fattened numerous William Goats. It remained for a recent addition to our population to discover another blessing it was capable of—she uses it to put under the sewing machine to keep her feet warm.

THE name of Miss Juliet Corson is well-known throughout this and other countries, but no one could ever compute the happiness she has, indirectly, brought into many a household. As Superintendent of the New York school of cookery, Miss Corson has taught the women of our nation what they were so ignorant of—namely how to cook a meal as it should be cooked and how to prepare such economically. The poet has said: "Man can not live without love, what is love but repining? But show me the man that can live without dining." Many a maid remains a maiden still, because he who might have given her a home is afraid to trust his digestive organs to her ignorance of their righteous demands. Miss Corson will give a series of six lessons in cookery, in this city, during the afternoons of Feb. 1, 2, 3, 5, 6 and 7, in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall. Tickets for the entire course may be purchased at Reynolds' Pharmacy at $3 each. During the lessons a complete dinner will be gotten up and cooked, every afternoon, and the dishes may be eaten at but the cost of the materials.

OH, for an Opera House.

WE didn't go to New York last Sunday as we intended—the walking was bad.

J. J. VILLIERS—the humorist—will shortly give an entertainment in this city.

NEW By-laws have been issued by the Saengerbund, printed in both English and German languages.

THE Board of Education has organized for the present year by re-electing President Kirkner and Secretary Murray.

THE plum puddings made by Mrs. T. H. Taylor, and for sale at Reynold's Pharmacy, are just elegant. Try them.

A NEW opera-house is to be built in Newark on the property running through from Bank to Academy street, near Broad street. Oh! that we could record such good news for Plainfield.

VENNOR says that the dreadful March storm predicted by Prof. Wiggins is simply ridiculous. Vennor believes that the March storms will not be of more than ordinary severity. Make your bets, gentlemen.

THE Y. M. C. A have secured the services of Mr. H. A. Williams as Secretary of the Association for the next year. Mr. Williams has acted as Secretary for the past five months and gives universal satisfaction.

WINFIELD S. Angleman, former Librarian of the Y. M. C. A., having secured a lucrative position in the office of the Indiana, Bloomington and Western Railway Company, started on Monday last for his new home.

AMONG the appointments to be made in city officials by Mayor Maxson, is that of Overseer of the Poor. We doubt if a better or more faithful official could be found for the position than the present incumbent, Andrew Vanderbeek.

A NUMBER of subscribers to THE CONSTITUTIONALIST ever since its first number was issued fifteen years ago, walked up to the Captain's office last week and renewed their subscription for another year with the requisite number of sheckels.

THE recent sleighing has given and impetus to the Livery business, and no place of Plainfield's size in the State, contains handsomer turn-outs that those to be secured of our popular livery merchants, Cadmus, on Park ave., Roberts, at the old established Laing's Hotel.

SOME friend in the far west—Denver Col.—sends us a copy of the Tribune of that city, containing a report of the enormous receipts of the Tabor Opera House during the past year. The article is "scored" with a blue pencil and the words "Oh for an Opera House."

A YOUNG lady of this city was entering a Park Avenue store, last Monday afternoon, just as the street parade of the "Congress of Consolidated Colored Celebrities" was passing. She stopped and was heard to remark to a companion, "wait till the clouds roll by."

"SAMMY" Thompson of Somerville, during former years a member of our police force, has been convicted before Judge Magie of illegal liquor selling. Sammy expects to be at home again this time next year. Just now he is boarding elsewhere at the expense of the State.

WE wish herewith to thank the many friends who enquire so kindly after our health. An acquaintance—we meet as strangers since—persuaded us to block out a pair of side whiskers, recently. Thoughtlessly we did so without considering the strain on our constitution. We are able to be out again.

A PHYSICIAN gives the following rule by which to determine diphtheria from ulcerated sore throat. He says: "If the throat is red and smaller, no fear of diphtheria. But if it looks as though somebody blew a handful of ashes into the throat—dull gray color—look out. It's diphtheria's danger signal.

MR. S. E. Flower, the Crayon Artist, whose visit to this city we announced recently, advertises in our issue to-day what he proposes to give the public. This gentleman is highly recommended as to talent and fair dealing, and patrons of the past speak flatteringly of the satisfaction he always accords.

THE work of blasting out the rocks on the mountain side of the road at the "Notch" and filling in with the debris the deep hole washed out of the former road bed by last Fall's great freshet, is progressing favorably. Mr. Robert Simpson is superintending the work, Messrs Wilson & Simpson have the contract, which is sufficient guarantee that the work will be well-done.

MR Alexander Runyon, Undertaker, has taken into partnership with him, his youngest son, Elmer, and will move into his new quarters on Front street, next to Demarest's Grocery, as soon as the new building to be erected there is completed. In the performance of the duties devolving upon them when necessary, the Messrs. Runyon will be found an attentive and obliging firm.

THE third of the matinee series of Steinway Hall Concerts by Theo. Thomas and his unrivalled orchestra, will take place Thursday afternoon of next week. The soloists will be Mme. Gabriella Boema, Miss Marion Espa, Miss Adele Margulies and Mr. Sam Franko. At the fourth matinee, on the 25th inst., Miss Jessie Pinney will be the solo pianiste.

MR. E. P. THORN, of the Mansion House, has a pet black bear about six months old, and Major Godown has a black pointer puppy. It is a most comical sight to see these two animals playing and romping together. The bear enjoys the fun as much as the puppy and when the latter is a little too rough, gives him a slight hug as a reminder that he, the bear, was the stronger of the two.

THE alarm of fire which caused the fire department of this city to turn out about 10 o'clock a Thursday morning of last week, was caused by the burning of the barn of Willard Ide, at Leesville, Rahway. A horse, cow, lot of poultry and a large quantity of hay and grain was destroyed. The fire was of incendiary origin. Mr Ide is the father-in-law of Mr. D. W. Littell, of this city.

NEXT Sunday evening two Union Prayer Meetings will be held as concluding the Week of Prayer, in the Trinity Reformed and First Baptist churches, beginning at one quarter of 8 o'clock. The division of ministers and churches is as follows. At the Trinity Reformed church, Rev. Messrs. Raymond, Lowry, Lewis and Ketcham. At the First Baptist church, Rev. Messrs. Yerkes, Manchee, Fairfax, Stockton and Bliss.

A FORTUNE awaits the man who will, in this city, build a first-class bowling alley, with all the modern improvements (excepting a bar), situated in a neighborhood convenient to the greatest number, and that can, during certain evenings in the week, be rented for private use by clubs of ladies and gentlemen which will be formed. There is, just at present, no kind of bodily exercise more strongly recommended or sport more popular than the rolling of ten pins. It is an amusement that is fashionable, healthful, moral and exciting.

Installation of Officers.

At a regular communication of Jerusalem Lodge No. 26, held at Masonic Hall in this city, Tuesday evening, Jan. 2, the following officers were installed:

B. F. Coriell, W. M.
John Ulrich, S. W.
John Chandler, J. W.
Ed. Nelson, Secretary.
J. G. Miller, Treasurer.
T. H. Morse, Chaplain.
W. H. Sebring, S. D.
Jno. Swackhammer, J. D.
Wm. Kraus, S. M. C.
Wm. Wright, J. M. C.
David Weaver, } Stewards.
W. V. Munday, }
Chas. Westphal, Tyler.

Council Proceedings.

The New Organization elects another Clerk—Councilman Marsh acts in that position for a short time—The Standing Committees for the present year—Six Petitions for Liquor Licenses presented—The Annual Reports of ex-Officers for the past year—Claims already!—The official papers for 1883 to be the same—The latest Amendment to the Liquor License Ordinance, progressing rapidly—Subsequent and other Proceedings, below.

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 8TH.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment, President Livingston and Clerk Leonard in their respective Chairs.

Upon the President calling the meeting to order, Mr. Coriell rose and offered a resolution to the following effect: In consideration of the indefiniteness of the election for City Clerk at last meeting, and in order that any uncertainty may be removed, and all conflicting claims for the position be settled, the office be declared vacant and a new election of City Clerk be ordered.

Mr. Marsh desired to be heard on a point of order before the matter was put before the body. He held that under the Rules of Order adopted, the Council could not allow the presentation of a resolution at that stage of the proceedings unless those rules were suspended.

The President ruled the point as well taken.

Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak, moved that the rules be suspended for the purpose.

Motion lost.

Negative—Jones, Livingston, Marsh, Ross, Serrell and J. Simpson—6.

Affirmative—Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Polak and R. Simpson—5.

Mr. Coriell moved, seconded by Mr. Polak, that the resolution adopting the rules of order now in force, be rescinded.

Carried.

Affirmative—Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Livingston, Polak, Ross, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—8.

Negative—Jones, Marsh and Serrell—3.

The Council then being without any restricting rules of order, and enjoying the blessed privilege of doing just as it pleased, Mr. Coriell again presented his resolutions.

Upon the question, Mr. Marsh spoke strongly in favor of a new election. He stated his disbelief that at the last meeting of the new Council any Clerk had been elected. There had been three names placed in nomination, and after several ballots there appeared one for "Dunham." No such person had been named before the Council and no one person of such name had been elected. But the speaker held that it was just as practicable to elect without first removing the Clerk the Council had.

Mr. Jones expressed his belief that if Mr. Coriell thought Mr. Dunham elected he would not present the resolution offered.

Messrs. Serrell and J. Simpson took the same ground held by Mr. Marsh in regard to proceeding directly to elect a Clerk without first removing the only Clerk the Council had.

Mr. Marsh moved to amend the resolution by striking out the clause removing all aspirants, claimants, or occupants of the office in question, and inserting words providing for an election of a clerk at once. Seconded by Mr. Serrell.

A rising vote resulted as follows:

Affirmative—Jones, Marsh, Ross, Serrell and J. Simpson—5.

Negative—Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Polak and J. Simpson—5.

The President announced his vote in the negative and declared the amendment lost.

Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell, moved that the resolution be laid on the table.

Lost by the same vote as the last.

The original resolution was then put and carried.

Affirmative—Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Livingston, Polak and R. Simpson—6

Negative—Jones, Marsh, Ross, Serrell, and J. Simpson—5.

The council being thus without a clerk, Mr. Marsh of their own number was chosen to fill that position until the election of another.

The President announced that nominations for a City Clerk were now in order.

Mr. Serrell nominated W. L. Hetfield—at the same time expressing his belief that although "Mr. Dunham" was undoubtedly able to fill the office, yet he considered Mr. Hetfield possessed of just the experience and capability necessary for the position.

Mr. Polak nominated F. A. Dunham.

Mr. Jones nominated O. B. Leonard.

The latter thanked the gentleman for his courtesy, and also his friends in the Council who had been so persistent in their efforts to elect him (the speaker). But he claimed their permission to most respectfully and emphatically decline the nomination.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak, the nominations were closed.

The President appointed as tellers, Messrs. Coriell and Ross.

A ballot being then taken, resulted as follows:—W. L. Hetfield, 6; F. A. Dunham, 5.

The President declared Mr. W. L. Hetfield the choice of the Council as its Clerk for the present year.

Mr. Coriell moved, seconded by Mr. Polak, that the rules of order adopted by the last Council, be adopted by the present Council until otherwise ordered. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Serrell, seconded by Mr. J. Simpson, that Mr. O. B. Leonard be requested to act as Clerk during the continuance of the present meeting. Carried—All aye.

The acting-Clerk then called the roll.

Present—President Livingston, and Messrs. Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—11.

Absent—None.

The President announced the following as the Standing Committees for the present year:

Licenses: Gardner, Ross, Polak.

Police: Jones, Gardner, R. Simpson.

Printing and Stationary: Ross, Marsh, Serrell.

Salaries, Officers & Elections: Marsh, Serrell, Jones.

Alms: Beguelin, Jones, J. Simpson.

Finance: Serrell, Coriell, Beguelin.

Fire, Water and Lamps: Polak, J. Simpson, Coriell.

Laws and Ordinances: Coriell, Polak, Marsh.

Streets and Public Health: R. Simpson, Beguelin, Gardner.

Auditing: J. Simpson, R. Simpson, Ross.

PRESENTATION OF COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS.

The following petitions were read by the clerk:

For a liquor license, by John Haffer, to keep a saloon in the first ward.

By J. B. Miller, to keep an inn and tavern in the 4th Ward.

By E. P. Thorn, to keep a saloon in the 1st Ward.

By Charles Smith, to keep a saloon in the 4th Ward.

By James Conneely, to keep a saloon in the 4th Ward.

By Hugh O'Donnell, to keep a saloon in the 4th Ward.

All ref'd to the Com. on Licenses.

The President, in the name of the Council, invited the chairman of the Finance Com. of the last Council to present any such annual reports as he might desire.

Mr. Depew thereupon handed to the President his report of the City's Revenue during the year 1882 specifying the receipts and disbursements of such on account of the General and Poor Funds. Also there with the annual reports of the City Collector and City Treasurer.

The acting Clerk read from the same for about thirty-eight minutes and then stated that it would take fully a hour and a half to finish. Further reading was dispensed with and the documents were received, and ordered filed.

Mr. Serrell moved that a vote of thanks be tendered Mr. Depew by the Council as a token of their appreciation of the care he had displayed in presenting the Council with so complete a financial review of the past year. So ordered.

Mr. J. Simpson asked if there had been money in the bank to meet the warrants included in the reports as paid.

The President very decidedly ruled that Mr. J. Simpson was out of order.

The Clerk read a claim from the late City Collector for services rendered; also a communication requesting an examination of all accounts and a surrender of his bond.

On motion laid on the table.

Upon being accorded the privilege of addressing the Council, Mr. Depew expressed his thanks to the members collectively for their courtesy to himself, and made a brief additonal statement to the effect that he knew of no bills that the present Council would be called upon to pay that had been incurred by the last Council.

PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS.

By Mr. R. Simpson—P. Lynch (services as special policeman) $6 75; J. Maynard, (winding the city clock) 7.

By. Mr. Serrell—ex-Collector J. B. Brown (fees &c) $819 54.

All of the above ref'd to the proper Com's.

Mr. R. Simpson presented the bond of Amos Moffett, as Constable, in the sum of $1,000; signed by E. P. Thorn and T. H. Tomlinson. Ref'd to laws Com.

Mr. Polak offered for adoption a resolution to the effect that the "official papers" for the present year be the CONSTITUTIONALIST and the Daily Bulletin.

Mr. Marsh moved to amend by including the Central Times. Seconded by Mr. Jones.

Mr. Marsh spoke strongly in favor of his motion. He called the attention of the council to the fact that he only read the Times and urged its retention as one of the original three.

The amendment was carried by the following vote:

Affirmative—Beguelin, Jones, Marsh, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson—6.

Negative—Coriell, Gardner, Livingston, Polak, R. Simpson—5.

The motion as amended was carried by the following vote:

Affirmative—Beguelin, Coriell, Jones, Marsh, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson, R. Simpson—8.

Negative—Gardner, Livingston, Polak—3.

Mr. Serrell presented a resolution providing for the appointment of a special officer to act as the Collector of delinquent taxes and to whom the warrants for such purpose be issued.

On motion the resolution was ref'd to the laws Com., for its report thereon, with a request that such committee recommend some person to act as such officer.

Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell, called from the table the ordinance to amend the Liquor Ordinance, and moved the same have its' second reading. Carried.

The Clerk read the ordinance the second time and by sections. Mr. Marsh offered a number of amendments which were adopted and the ordinance was ordered engrossed preparatory to its final passage by the following vote:

Affirmative—Coriell, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Ross, Serrell, R. Simpson—7.

Negative—Beguelin, Gardner, Livingston, J. Simpson—4.

Mr. Serrell moved that when the council adjourn it be until one week from date. Carried.

The communication of ex-Collector Brown was taken from the table and ref'd to the Finance Com.

On motion of Mr. Coriell the City Clerk was instructed to have printed for the use of the Council, 100 cards of the standing committees.

On motion of Mr. R. Simpson, seconded by Mr. J. Simpson, the statement of the Chairman of the Finance Com. of the last Council, and the Annual Reports of the City Treasurer and the City Collector for the year 1882, were ordered printed in full in the official papers.

Mr. Serrell moved, that the Mayor and the Treasurer be authorized to renew the two notes of the City now in the First National Bank, both past due, for $2,600 and $3,000 respectively, at 30 days time. Carried—All aye.

It was moved by Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Serrell, that the thanks of the Council be tendered Mr. O. B. Leonard for his services to the present Council during this meeting. Carried—All aye.

On motion the Council then adjourned.

Personalia.

Mr. Calvin Neighbour, of West Front Street, has a brother in the Legislature.

Good fortune never comes alone. Walter L. Hetfield has been elected City Clerk and the father of a handsome boy baby, both very recently.

Mr. Wm. Egbert departed for Denver, Col., on Thursday of last week, where he will engage in business. His many friends in this city wish him success.

Samuel Manning Esq., of this city is spending a few weeks enjoying the balmy zephyrs of Aiken, S. C. while his many friends in Plainfield are being "snowed under."

Miss Katie Wotherspoon of East 19th street, New York, formerly of this city, has been the guest for some time recently of ex-Governor George B. McClellan and family at their Winter residence in Washington, D. C.

Our congratulations are extended our brother editor and Plainfielder, Ernest O. Chamberlin, Esq., upon the high honor just conferred upon him by his appointment as private secretary to the President of the New Jersey Senate.

At last Cupid has ensnared another victim after a long siege. Last Sunday evening our esteemed friend, Daniel Webster quietly entered into a life contract with the lady of his choice, Miss Sarah Ann Stuart, daughter of Geo. Stewart, Esq., of North Plainfield. "Dan" and his fair bride have the well wishes of a host of friends for their future welfare.

The Puerto Plata Journal of Commerce, of St. Domingo, of the date of Dec. 2nd, 1882, contains a flattering notice concerning ex-Councilman Washington Lithgow, of this city, who recently returned to his business in that country, from a visit to England on business in connection with the Central Sugar Factory, which the Lithgow Brothers are building in San Marco, and also to promote the establishing of other Centrals by persons at home and abroad. Mr. Lithgow was honored with a serenade on his arrival at Puerto Plata.

Democratic County Executive Committee.

The Union County Democratic Executive Committee, met at Library Hall, Elizabeth, on Monday afternoon last, and organized for the ensuing year by the election of the following officers;

President—Thomas B. Budd.
Secretary—Charles Ryan.
Treasurer—J. Williams Crane.

READ the reports of the City Collector and the Treasurer for the past year, as published elsewhere, and give those gentlemen the credit they certainly deserve as efficient and faithful officers.

Caught and Caged.

"Duck" Wilson, a quondam resident of this city, was recently languishing in the County jail at Somerville, but naturally aspiring for a less monotonous boarding place, he "shook the jug" and left for parts unknown to his former landlord, leaving nothing behind except an unexpired sentence for helping himself to Mr. George Pound's salt hides.

Charley Perrine is a peripatetic who frequents the sunny side of Plainfield thoroughfares during the day, and the warm shelter of suburban fences at night. He is a youth to fortune, but not fame, unknown, and rejoiced in a friendship with the "Duck" referred to.

A few weeks ago—just after the Somervillian had been missed—the two met by arrangement in this city, and after drawing about $700 from Mr. A. S. Streuli's stable, attached to that gentleman's residence on Prospect Avenue, where Mr. Streuli's coachman had laid it away, sailed for New York State to hunt the festive Buffalo in that city. Here they indulged in so much setting-up, and became so entirely broken-up, that they were eventually taken-up by the blue-coated Buffaloes and lodged in the lock-up.

Charles W. Dodd is the Chief and Captain of Plainfield's police force of 2 men. He heard of the coachman's loss and the whereabouts of our two heroes. He went to Trenton and secured such papers as were necessary, and then to Buffalo. Here he discovered that the men he was after had already commenced proceedings, through a lawyer, for a writ of Habeas Corpus, and would probably be released by some such means before Dodd could secure a necessary requisition. Then Dodd was mad. The only train leaving the City just then, was on a branch road running to a small country town. On this he took passage for himself and prisoners, and soon had them locked away from their Buffalo Counsel.

Hurrying back, the Governor's permission to leave the State with his captives was obtained by Dodd, but meanwhile the pair had broken out of the cells, though not the walls, of the "The Little Brown Jug" in which he had left them. Dodd returning just in time to catch them on the fly, pad-lock them together, and bring them overland to Warden Cahill's Tavern in Elizabeth.

The Grand Jury indicted "Duck" and his pall Monday, and in the County Jail of Union they await a trial. What remained of the stolen money was recovered as well as a coat, taken at the same time, which will help to fasten their guilt upon them.

Fire Board Meeting.

The Board of Managers of the Plainfield Fire Department met in the Council room, Wednesday evening. Present—President Van Winkle and Messrs Depew, Jones and Fisig. The minutes of the last regular meeting of Dec. 7th were approved as read by Mr. Depew, acting as Secretary in the absence of Mr. Gillies. Messrs Alexander Manning, Eng. Co. No. 2, John E. Kitchen, William Sullivan and S. H. Vincent, Zephyr H. & L. Co., were confirmed as members by the Board. The bill of W. L. Force & Bro., $15 50 was ordered paid and that of P. Rickett $35 55, if found correct. On motion the Chief was authorized to provide horses for the steamers and truck in case of a fire during any impassibility of the streets. Chief Vail stated that the boys of the Public School threw stones at the bell, and striking it had called out the Department on two occasions. He had reported the offence to School Trustee Murray. The action of Zephyr Hook & Ladder Co., in expelling their Foreman for reasons, was discussed by the Board. The acting Secretary stated that he had forwarded a notice to the expelled member to appear and defend himself from the charges. On motion the matter was laid over until the next regular meeting. The Board then adjourned.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The books of the Library are being re-catalogued and soon the new catalogues will be ready for distribution. The committees for the coming year have been appointed, and are going to commence active work immediately.

Young men, don't forget the meeting for prayer and song, on Monday night at eight o'clock. The last meeting was of great interest.

Attention of members and young men in general is called to the fact that the game room is open every afternoon and evening for their use.

The second Lecture of the Y. M. C. A. Course, will be delivered by Geo. Makepeace Towle (ex-U. S. Consul to France and England) on Thursday evening, Jan. 18th, in the Methodist church. Tickets for the lecture can be procured at Reynold's Pharmacy, cor. North and Park avenues. Mr. Towle is one of the most agreeable speakers on the lecture platform, is full of enthusiasm, and invests the subject with real interest.

St. Mary's Fair.

The Fair for the benefit of this church, which closed Thursday evening of last week, was one of the most successful ever given in this or any city. About $1,800 was the amount cleared, the Sunday School table—thanks to the efforts of its lady-like attendants—alone taking in about $300.

The several contests resulted as follows: The most popular fireman, Foreman Saltzman, of "Alerts;" second, Chief of the Department, Vail. The most popular hack-man, P. Keely. The contest for the watch resulted in votes for the Temperance society's candidate being cast to the amount of $379.72, and by the Hibernians, 224.60. Mr. John Martley, of the former organization, was the lucky man.

COMMUNICATED.

For "The Constitutionalist."

Exceptions to the Mayor's Message.

MESSRS EDITORS:

Mayor Maxson in his message to the Council uses the following language:—"Until the year 1879, no urgent effort seemed to have been made to collect the delinquent taxes, although the power to do so up to that time was unchallenged." Now, I desire to take positive exceptions to these statements, as I had the honor to represent the people in the Common Council the two previous years (1877 and 1878) and the Council of 1878 was the first to inaugurate the system of collecting delinquent taxes by a special Collector, and Mr. George W. Moore was appointed that year (1878) to collect delinquent city, poor and school taxes; and did collect about $4,000 or more, and was about two years in getting his pay, therefore it must be remembered that in 1877, and prior to that time, the state and county taxes were collected by the township authorities, and when the township committee went out of office late in 1878 there was a warrant issued by the committee to a constable for the collection of the state and county taxes then in arrears, as the law directed. As to the power being "unchallenged" to collect delinquent taxes up to 1879 I would inform his Honor, that the power was seriously challenged to collect delinquent city taxes, therefore no levies were made. As to the state and county taxes, the common council of 1877 and previous councils, had nothing to do, for the reasons stated above, but the council of 1878 did put forth every effort possible, and as "urgent" as possible, to collect all the taxes, delinquent and otherwise, that came under their jurisdiction. The power to collect taxes previous to, and since 1879, and until last year when the new law was passed—was the same. It is my belief however that all the taxes could have been collected under the City Charter, had the Charter been fully complied with, and conformed to by certain city officials (Judge and Collector) and that no extra legislation was necessary. The power to collect delinquent taxes was "challenged" because of the incompetency or negligency of the officials whose duty it was to execute the law, and for no other reason.

E. L. MORRIS.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

David T. Pierson, who has been on a visit to his friends in Baltimore for the past week, returned on Monday last.

Charles Weeks is erecting a dwelling house on North avenue, on a lot of land he recently purchased of Jos. G. Hanson.

Joe Perry commenced cutting ice on Tuesday last, on Parkhurst pond, at Branch Mills, and is filling his large ice house recently erected on the bank of the pond.

It is reported that Samuel H. Lockwood has leased and expects to occupy the hotel at Mount Bethel, near Coontown, the present proprietor, Jake Bilman, having rented the Farmer's Hotel at Plainfield.

The residents of Smoky Hollow have laid in their winter's supply of coal from the scene of the accident to the coal train last week, several car loads of black diamonds having been scattered along the embankment.

Aunt Sally Mc Vicar, wife of Frank Mc Vicar, residing on Morgan hill, died on Monday last from old age. She was formerly a slave in New Jersey and was owned by a gentleman in Morris county by the name of Mc Murty.

On next Sunday evening, Jan. 14th, a union meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church. All sister churches of our town are invited to be present and take part in the services.

Sparkman & Seager, carpenters and builders, have leased a lot of ground, corner of Quimby and Elm streets, on which to erect a carpenter shop, their present place of business on Broad street, being too small for their increasing business.

Edmund D. Chamberlain, Esq., has erected an ice house of a peculiar shape, it being round, seventeen feet in diameter and fourteen feet in depth. It will hold about eighty-five tons. Mr. Chamberlain has just finished filling it with splendid ice, nine inches in thickness, from Lambert's pond.

Our town is again without a newspaper. On Saturday last the Westfield Monitor announced that it would be the last is*sue of the paper from our place*, it having been in existence about one year. The editor and publisher, Mr. Genung, we understand intends removing to Orange, and publishing in that town a full fledged Democratic paper, instead of neutral, as was the Monitor.

On Sunday evening last, union services were held in the Methodist church. The Rev. N. W. Cadwell of the Presbyterian church, delivering the address. The Rev. Henry Neill of the Congregational church and the Rev. Joseph Greaves, assisted in the services. On Tuesday evening a union meeting was held in the Baptist church and on Wednesday evening in the Congregationalist church.

On Sunday last Amy Chamberlain, aged 16 years, daughter of Wm. B. Chamberlain, died from the effects of injuries received Dec. 9th last, by her dress catching fire while she was trying to put out the flames in the woods adjoining her father's residence on North avenue. She has suffered severely ever since from the effects of the burns at that time, and to which she finally succumbed on Sunday last.

Freeholders Isenmann of Cranford, Briant of Summit and Halliday of Rahway, were appointed by the Court of Common Pleas of Union county to review the assessment of benefits and damages made by the surveyors of highways, in laying out the extension of Kimball avenue and Orchard street. They meet on Monday, Jan. 15th inst; at 10 a. m., to view the land over which the new roads are proposed to pass, and make any change in the assessments that may in their judgment be necessary.

The Township Committee met at Town Rooms on Thursday evening, Jan. 4th, at 7 p. m. Present Robert R. Sinclair, Evert M. Pierson and Oliver M. Pierson. Luther M. Whitaker, Clerk. The following bills, on motion, were ordered paid. Poor bill of Samuel E. Young for groceries furnished Mrs. Matilda Ross, for year ending Dec. 15, 1882, $58. S. E. Young for services as Overseer of Poor for year, $35. Bill of James S. Vosseller, County Clerk, recording tax deed, $3 25. The following road bills were audited and on motion ordered paid:

John Hetfield,	O of R Dis. No.	1,	$ 25.05
Nich. Kaylor,	"	3,	56.44
A. L. Roff,	"	4,	360.76
Theo. Hetfield,	"	9,	34.57
John R. Scudder,	"	11,	189.19
Joseph Cory,	"	5,	20.17
Manning Perrine,	"	15,	16.26
Joseph Moffett,	"	6,	591.69

The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That a tax deed be granted to Robert Woodruff for a lot of land on Washington street, amount paid $7.23.

On motion adjourned, subject to call of Chairman.

MISCELLANY.

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 32 West Front Street.

Marshall T. Polk, the defaulting bank Treasurer of Tennessee, has been arrested in Texas.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

A Harlem letter carrier has been found to have abandoned much of the mail matter intrusted to him for delivery, so as to save himself the trouble of distributing it.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

A full line of miscellaneous and chil*dren's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.*

Mayor Edson ordered the flags to be placed at half-mast on the City Hall on the day of Gambetta's funeral.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Fron street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties can now purchase elegant patterns of wall paper of H. S. Barnes, 6. W. Front street, at greatly reduced prices. tf

Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt was on Friday last elected President of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis or "Nickel-Plate" Railroad.

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 32 West Front Street, at the New York price. m17tf

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Demeza's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.—William J. Coughlin, Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876, I was taken with bleeding of lungs followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past.

For thick heads, heavy stomachs, bilious conditions, "Wells' May Apple Pills" anti-bilious, cathartic. 10 and 25c.

ANOTHER PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.—Boston, Mass., May 9th, 1881.—I know parties who have tried all kinds of medicines for Lung Diseases, who say that Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the lungs is a complete success. DR. CHAS. H. WOOD.

During the past season, 19,151 boats; 680 barges; 1583 steamers, and 460 rafts have passed through the canal at Bound Brook.

DON'T DIE IN THE HOUSE.—"Rough on Rats" clears out rats, mice, roaches, bed-bugs, flies, ants, moles, chipmunks, gophers. 15c.

GOOD FOR BABIES—With a baby at breast nothing is so useful for quieting my own and baby's nerves as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It prevents bowel complaints, and is better than any stimulant to give strength and appetite.—A Newark Mother.

Best ever made, Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar-coated; no griping; only 15 cents a box, of Druggists or mail. Standard Cure Co. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

SKINNY MEN.—"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia, $1.

USEFUL IN THE FAMILY.—We usually leave it to doctors to recommend medicines, but Parker's Ginger Tonic has been so useful in our family in relieving sickness and suffering that we cannot say too much in its praise.—Salem Argus.

Malaria, Chills and Fever, and Bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills—an infallible remedy; never fail to cure the most obstinate, long-standing cases where Quinine and all other remedies had failed. They are prepared expressly for malarious sections, in double boxes, two kinds of Pills, containing a strong cathartic and a chill breaker, sugar-coated; contain no Quinine or Mercury, causing no griping or purging; they are mild and efficient, certain in their action and harmless in all cases; they effectually cleanse the system, and give new life and tone to the body. As a household remedy they are unequaled. For Liver Complaint their equal is not known; one box will have a wonderful effect on the worst case. They are used and prescribed by physicians, and sold by Druggists everywhere, or sent by mail, 25 and 50 cent boxes. Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, best ever made, only 15 cents. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

Mayor Edson has refused the application of Salmi Morse for a license for a hall in which he proposed to produce the Passion Play.

See a woman in another column, near Speer's Vineyards, picking grapes from which Speer's Port Grape Wine is made, that is so highly esteemed by the medical profession, for the use of invalids, weakly persons and the aged. Sold by druggists. -1y11-1y

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead, and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. SMITH, KLINE & CO., Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia, and HALL & RUCKEL, New York. ja16-1y

The youthful color, beauty and lustre are gradually restored to gray hair by Parker's Hair Balsam.

WESTFIELD ADVERTISERS.

C. A. SMITH,
DEALER IN
Coal, Lumber, and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Agent for Lister Bros., Bone and Phosphates for Westfield and Fanwood.
UNLEACHED ASHES AND LAND PLASTER BY THE LOAD OR CARGO.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone Call No. 26. may19

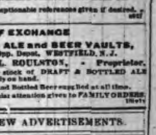
CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the interest of the people.
OFFICE, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also
Standard Fertilizers,
Such as Mapes's, Lister's, Stockbridge & Bowker's Phosphates and Bone Manures, for all crops, bought low for cash, and will be sold at reasonable prices.
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
German Valley Lime, by the carload, &c.
E. H. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 60, SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J. ap21tf

C. E. AGUIRRE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
OFFICE at Gale's Pharmacy.
Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty
All work guaranteed to be FIRST CLASS, and to give entire satisfaction. 8oly

JOHN KANE,
WESTFIELD, N. J.
Driven and Drilled Wells.
REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Unexceptionable references given if desired. ap1

TURF EXCHANGE
ALE and BEER VAULTS,
Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J.
JOHN L. ROULSTON, - Proprietor.
Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand.
Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all time.
Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS. 18oly

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.



DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar-cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java, Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,

Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

WHITNEY
Offers a large stock of Hamburg Edgings at Very Low Prices.

MUSLINS!
At N. Y. Wholesale Prices.

LOOK AT OUR 25c. TOWELS.

Kid Gloves a Specialty.

Have just received a lot of 5-hook Foster Kids, black and colors, which we offer at $1.00, the usual price is $1.50. Also, the celebrated Mignon Kid, (every pair warranted), $1.25.

Closing out Underwear at decided bargains. Carpets, Oil Cloths, Druggets and Mats, at

S. H. WHITNEY'S,
(Opposite Post-office.)

TITSWORTH'S
VAIL BROS. PHILA.
SURE CURE
PHILA.
FOR MALARIA

A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY

Vail Bros., Philadelphia.

Mrs. John Burke

Has appointed Thomas Burke and Thomas McCue Managers of the business of the late Jno. Burke, who purchased the right to use Harris' Patent Apparatus for removing Night Soil and Cleaning Cesspools in this city. We respectfully solicit a trial of the machine, guaranteeing entire satisfaction in all cases. Charges reasonable. The apparatus is so constructed that it is used in the day time and no smell is perceptible during the operation. All orders addressed to Mrs. JNO. BURKE will receive prompt attention. Telephone Call 58. P. O. Box 116, Plainfield, New Jersey.

PECK'S CORNER.

COME TO PECK'S

And Look at Linen Towels at 25 Cents!

A bite.

COME TO PECK'S AND LOOK AT TABLE DAMASK AND NAPKINS. ALSO, CRASH AND GLASS TOWELING. WE ARE NOT GIVING THESE GOODS AWAY BUT ARE SELLING THEM JUST AS LOW AS YOU CAN BUY ANYWHERE, AND WE THINK A LITTLE MORE SO. COME AND SEE. THIS STORE CLOSES AT SEVEN O'CLOCK, P. M.

Curtiss & Griffen.

LEVER
Hay and Stalk Cutter,
The Best in the Market.

Clinton Shellers,
AND THE
"A.B.C.," Right-hand
WOOD FRAME
Sheller & Separator.

ROEBUCK WEATHER STRIPS.

Lanterns, Street Lamps, Dash Lamps.

Remember, at our Store you BUY GOODS 5 Per Ct. Cheaper For Cash than for Credit.

No. 13 East Front street, - Plainfield, New Jersey.

Bachman Bro's Dry Goods Store!

THE NEW FIRM OF BACHMAN BROTHERS HEREBY ANNOUNCE TO THE PUBLIC, THAT THEY WILL, AS HERETOFORE, TAKE ALL PAINS AND EFFORTS TO TREAT THEIR PATRONS WITH ALL DUE RESPECT, AND GUARANTEE TO SELL THEM GOODS AT THE LOWEST PRICES, AND AS REPRESENTED.

Very Respectfully,
Bachman Bros.

This space will contain a special announcement next week of D. Boehm & Bro. Look out for it.

JUST IN STOCK!
FALL Hats

FALL Hats
LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S,
Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.
Horse Sheets and Lap Robes.
Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices. jun3-1y

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

THE BAD BOY.

"What is that I heard about your pa's being arrested in Chicago?" said the groceryman to the bad boy, as he came in with a can for kerosene and a jug for vinegar.

"Well, it was true, but the police let him go after they hit him a few licks and took him to the station," said the boy, as he got the vinegar into the kerosene can and the kerosene in the jug. "You see, pa and me went down there to stay over night, and have fun. Ma said she druther we would be away when they were at cleaning house, and pa thought it would do me good to travel and sort of get tone and he thought maybe I'd be better and not play jokes, but I guess it is born in me. Do you know, I actually think of mean things to do when I am in the most solemn places. They took me to a funeral once, and I got to thinking what a stampede there would be if the corpse would come to life and sit up in the coffin, and I snickered right out, and pa took me out doors and kicked my pants. I don't think he orter kicked me for it 'cause I didn't think of it a purpose. Such things have occurred, and I have read about them, and a poor boy ought to be allowed to think, hadn't he?"

"Yes; but what about his being arrested? Never mind the funeral," said the groceryman, as he took his knife and picked some of the lead out of the weights on the scales.

"We went down on the cars, and pa had a headache, because he had been out all night electioneering for the Prohibition ticket, and he was cross and scolded me, and once he pulled my ear 'cause I asked him if he knew the girl he was winking at in the seat across the aisle. I didn't enjoy myself much, and some men were talking about kidnapping children, and it gave me an idea, and just before I got to Chicago I went after a drink of water to the other end of the car, and I saw a man who looked as though he wouldn't stand any foolishness, and I whispered to him and told him that the bald-headed man I was sitting with was taking me away from my home in Milwaukee, and I mistrusted he was going to make a thief or a pickpocket out of me. I said 'S-h-h-h,' and told him not to say anything or the man would maul me. Then I went back to the seat and asked pa to buy me a gold watch, and he looked mad and cuffed me on the ear. The man that I whispered to got to talking with some other men, and when we got off the cars at Chicago a policeman came up to pa and took him by the neck and said, 'Mr. Kidnapper, I guess I will run you in.' Pa was mad and tried to jerk away, and the cop choked him, and another cop came along and helped, and the passengers came around and wanted to lynch pa, and pa wanted to know what they meant, and they asked him where he stole the kid, and he said I was his kid, and asked me if I wasn't, and I looked scared as if I was afraid to say no, and I said, 'Y-e-s, s-i-r, I guess so.' Then the police said the poor boy was scart, and they would take us both to the station, and they made pa walk spry, and when he held back they jerked him along. He was offul mad, and said he would make somebody smart for this, and I hoped it wouldn't be me. At the station they charged pa with kidnapping a boy from Milwaukee, and he said it was a lie and I was his boy, and I said of course I was, and the boss asked who told the cops pa was a kidnapper, and they didn't seem to know, and then the boss told pa he could go, but not to let it occur again, and pa and me went away. I looked so sorry for pa that he never tumbled to me—that I was to blame. We walked around town all day, and at night pa was offul tired, and he put me to bed in the tavern, and he went out to walk around and get rested. I was not tired and I walked all around the hotel. I thought pa had gone to a theatre and that made me mad, and I thought I would play a joke on him. Our room was 210, and the next room was 212, and there was an old maid with a Scotch terrier occupied 212. I saw her twice and she called me names, 'cause she thought I wanted to steal her dog. That made me mad at her and so I took my jackknife and drew the tacks out of the tin thing that the numbers were painted on, and put the old maid's number on our door and our number on her door, and then I went to bed. I tried to keep awake so as to help pa if he had any difficulty, but I guess I got asleep, but woke up when the dog barked. If the dog had not woke me up the woman's screams would, and if that hadn't, pa would. You see, pa came home from the theatre, about 'leven, and he had been drinking. He says everybody drinks when they go to Chicago, even the minister. Pa looked at the numbers on the doors all along the hall till he found 210, and walked right in and pulled off his coat and threw it on the lounge where the dog was. The old maid was asleep, but the dog barked and pa said: 'That scrub of a boy has got a dog in here!' and he kicked the dog and then the old maid woke up and said: 'What's the matter, pet?' Pa laffed and said: 'Nothin' the mazer with me, pet,' and then you ought to have heard the yelling. The old maid covered her head and kicked and yelled, and the dog snarled and bit pa on the pants, and pa had his suspenders unbuttoned, and he went out into the hall, and I opened our door and told pa he was in the wrong room, and he said he guessed he knowed it, and he came in our room and I locked the door, and then the bell boy and the porter and the clerk came up to see what ailed the old maid, and she said a burglar got into her room, and they found pa's hat on the lounge, and they took it and told her to be quiet, and they would find the burglar. Pa was so scared that he sweat like everything, and the bed was offul warm, and he pretended to go to sleep, but he was wondering how he could get his hat back in the morning. I told him it would be hard work to explain it to ma how he happened to get into the wrong room, and he said it was not necessary to say anything about it to ma. Then he gave me five dollars to buy him a new hat, and said I might keep the change if I would not mention it when I got home, and I got him one for ten shillings and took the eight o'clock train in the morning and came home, and I suppose the Chicago detectives are trying to fit pa's hat on a burglar. Pa seemed offully relieved when he got across the State line into Wisconsin. But you'd a died to see him come out of that old lady's room, with his coat and vest on his arm, and his suspenders hanging down, looking scart. He darsent lick me any more, or I'll tell ma where he left his hat."—Milwaukee Sun.

The English call baggage luggage. A baggage in that country is a young and slatternly person of the female sex.

A CHINESE NEW YEAR'S CELEBRATION.

The Chinese New Year's day in 1882 fell on the 17th of February. They have a week holiday at their New Year, just as we do between the 25th of December and the 1st of January.

In the cities they make a fine display of fire-works, but none of the Chinese people in Santa Barbara are rich, so there were no fire-works, except crackers; but there were barrels and barrels full of these, and the Chinese boys do not fire off crackers on their New Year's day as American boys do, a cracker at a time or one package at a time; they bring out a large box full or a barrel full, and fire them off, using them all up, package after package, as fast as they can, till the air is as full of smoke as if there was a fire, and the ground is covered with red, half-burned ends.

Long before we reached the part of the town where most of the Chinese live, we heard the noise of the crackers going off; but the Chinese did not seem to mind it at all. They were hopping about in the smoke, pouring the crackers out on the ground, box after box, barrel after barrel. You could not see their faces clearly for the smoke. Groups of American boys stood as near as they dared, looking on. Now and then one would dart in and snatch up one cracker, or a string of them, which had not gone off.

I thought the American boys had almost as much fun out of it as the Chinese.

Every Chinese family keeps open house on New Year's day. They set up a picture or an image of their god in some prominent place, and on a table in front of this they put a little feast of good things to eat. Some are for an offering to the god, and some are for their friends who call.

It was amusing to watch the American boys darting about from shop to shop and house to house, coming out with their hands full of queer Chinese things to eat, showing them to each other and comparing notes.

"Oh, let me taste that!" one boy would exclaim, on seeing some new thing; and, "Where did you get it? which house gives that?" Then the whole party would race off to make a descent on that house and get some more. I thought it wonderfully hospitable on the part of the Chinese people to let all these American boys run in and out of their houses in that way, and help themselves from the New Year's feast.

Some of the boys were very rude and ill-natured—little better than street beggars; but the Chinese were polite and generous to them all.

In some of the stores there were men playing a game which has been played, under different names, all over the world. It consists simply in one man holding out his hand, with part of the fingers closed and part open, and his antagonist calling out, instantly, how many of his fingers are open. One would think nothing could be easier than this. But when the movements are made rapidly it is next to impossible to call out the number quickly without making a mistake. For every mistake a fine of some sort, according to the agreement of the players, is to be paid. These Chinese men played it with such vehemence that the perspir*ation stood on their foreheads, and* their shrill crying out of the numbers sounded like unbroken sentences; there did not seem a breath between them. They rested their elbows on the table, and, with every opening and closing of the fingers, thrust the fore arm forward to its full length, so there was violent exercise in it.—H. H.,' St. Nicholas.

GOOD THAT NEWSPAPERS DO.

All popular clergymen nowadays have a say about the newspapers. The most influential pulpits cannot ignore journalism, nor do the prominent preachers try to do so. On the contrary, secular journalism is recognized in the churches by all the influential religious teachers, as one of the great moral and social forces at present shaping the destiny of society. One of the recent contributions to pulpit oratory on the public press was made by the Rev. J. M. Savage, of Boston, who, on a recent Sunday, took occasion to say that it was a grave mistake to suppose that the world was more wicked at present than ever before, because the newspapers recorded so many crimes every day. The reverend gentleman went on to argue that the exposure of wrong-doing in the newspapers was beneficial, because it deterred bad men from committing evil. Very truthfully he contended that numerous individuals were checked in the commission of crime, through fear of exposure. And exposure, claimed the Rev. Mr. Savage, is dreaded more by the average man than the "wrath of Heaven." Strong language this, but it is none of ours; it is that of a preacher of the gospel, who stated a deliberate opinion.

The Rev. J. M. Savage, of Boston, is undoubtedly right in his conclusion that newspapers are of incalculable benefit to mankind because they turn blazing streams of light on the deeds of men. There is no escaping the glare of the press; men may condemn it, sneer at it, anathematize—escape from it they cannot. So long as designing persons can deceive their fellow-men by simulating goodness while working evil, the world may seem to be improving when it is really deteriorating. With an active agent constantly at work laying bare hypocrisy—stripping the masks from rogues in the disguise of honest men—mankind may appear to grow worse, when in reality an improvement is being wrought. Certain exposure of crime prevents crime; with a certainty of punishment men inclined to do evil will not transgress the laws. And further, as the Rev. Mr. Savage justly says, the dread of exposure is a great check to wrong-doing. In exposing crimes and criminals, newspapers perform a great and good service to society.—Printers' Circular.

HOW TO WARM THE FEET.

Pressing the palm of the hand closely over the instep and toes while the boots are on will restore circulation. The hands of another person are better than one's own hands; but the latter will answer. Putting the right leg across the left knee and firmly grasping the instep and toe of the shoe or boot with the left hand will in a little while induce a warmth in the right foot; then put the left foot across the right knee and grasp that with the right hand and hold it until it becomes warm.

Putting thin soled slippers on the feet and sliding them rapidly over a woolen carpet—a Brussels, a velvet, a Wilton or an Axminster preferable—is another effective plan. The exercise continued for a few moments will make the feet "burning hot," to make use of a common expression.

DID NOT PROPOSE TO WEAKEN.

The editor of the Savannah News publishes a card as follows: Kind reader, did you ever know what it was to have a man tell you that if you dared to do a thing he would shoot you on sight? If you have never had your life threatened and jeopardized in that manner, you really don't know how much fun you have missed. Only a few evenings ago, just about the time that night was drawing her sable mantle o'er the departing day, we were met on Congress street by a young man, who threatened to shoot us if we published his name again; and really, now, laying all jokes aside, the want of an opportunity and his absence from the Mayor's court are the only things which keep his little artillery so humble and quiet, for if he ever waltzes before Captain Jack again, he is our meat, and don't you forget to remember it. Now, that was bad enough, though we had just about recovered from the shock when we were informed by another young man that we "would be shot down, if we dared to publish his name." Well, somehow or other, we got a little careless and published it; but, strange to say, we are still alive and kicking. Now here, that's entirely wrong. We thought you were a man of your word, and really didn't think that you would lie about such a small thing as shooting us, and what is more, it is certainly very discourteous in you to keep us in such melancholy suspense. If you didn't mean business, why didn't you keep your tongue in your mouth and give your teeth a holiday. Now, gentlemen of arms, we are getting very tired of having our friends go around every week or two pricing mourning goods and looking at the most fashionable and stylish goods in that dark line. We don't mind your threats, for we are never happy unless we are in trouble, and while we haven't the least desire to make a mutilated corpse, we wish you to distinctly understand that we are still on deck and don't feel the least uneasy, for men of your calibre would have to muster extra courage to even shoot with a brick and cut for home.

N. B.—Address same as usual; post-office box 44; office, No. 5 Drayton st., office hours all day and about half the night.

FOURTEEN GREAT MISTAKES.

It is a great mistake to set up our own standard of right and wrong and judge people accordingly.

It is a great mistake to measure the enjoyment of others by our own.

To look for judgment and experience in youth.

To expect uniformity in opinion in this world.

To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.

Not to yield to immaterial trifles.

To look for perfection in our own actions.

To worry ourselves and others with what cannot be remedied.

Not to alleviate all that needs alleviation as far as lies in our power.

Not to make allowance for the infirmities of others.

To consider everything impossible which we cannot perform.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.

To expect to be able to understand everything.

The greatest of all mistakes is to live only for time when any moment may launch us into eternity.

THE COURT'S MISTAKE.

Judge Davis used to tell some admirable stories of an old Illinois Judge, one of which we chance, particularly to remember. One of the Judges was rather remarkable for conveying to jurors in his charges to them his own opinions with regard to the merits of the case. In one case he had done so with great plainness, but to his amazement the jury hung out for hours without coming to an agreement. The Judge inquired of the bailiff what was the matter, and learned from him that one juror was hanging out against the other eleven. He sent for the jury at once and, stating to the jurors that he had plainly estimated how the case ought to be decided, said he understood one juror was standing out against the other eleven. He proceeded to rebuke the juror sharply. The obstinate juror was a nervous little man, and as soon as the Judge was done he rose and said: "Judge, may I say a word?" "Yes, sir," said the indignant Judge: "what have you to say?" "Well, what I want to say is, I am the only feller that's on your side."

A distinguished scholar and writer recently said: "I flounder in a sea of scraps." In these days, when the papers contain so many fine sentiments, beautiful descriptions, touching incidents, items of importance, and matters of permanent interest, culled from all departments of life, there is scarcely a day in which something does not strike the eye which the reader wishes to preserve, in order to remember and perhaps to use. One of the first things a bright boy or girl should make is a scrap-book of things which interest most. If you have no book, put your selections in different envelopes, according to subjects. The newspaper is a circulating library, with a little of everything in it, and a little for everybody. Make sure of your part of it as you read.

The fashion reporter who wrote with reference to a belle, "Her feet were incased in shoes that might be taken for fairy boots," tied his wardrobe up in a handkerchief and left for parts unknown when it appeared the next morning: "Her feet were incased in shoes that might be taken for ferryboats."

The difficulty: Health journals say that to retain a sound constitution a man must lie on the right side. Yes, but which is the right side? Every lawyer, preacher and editor in this country thinks the side he is lying on is the right one.

He was a pretty close man, without doubt. At breakfast he cut an egg in two and gave the new hired man one-half of it. The help ate it, and held out his plate for more. "What!" gasped the host. "Want a hull egg?" "Of course I do," said the man. The boss stared blankly at him for a moment, and then pushing the half egg across the table snappishly cried: "Take it, eat it, and kill yourself!" The man ate it and is still alive.

A well-known English citizen of Fall River, Mass., who, by hard labor, frugality and fortunate investment, has acquired a handsome property, was called as a witness in the Superior Court of that city. Upon taking the stand the counsel propounded the customary conundrums concerning his age, occupation, etc., finally eliciting the complacent reply, "I am a gentleman." "How long," queried the lawyer, "have you been one?" The witness promptly replied, "about five years, sir."

AFTER-DINNER READING.

A sage hen—one who avoids the hawk.

The man doesn't live who is in dead earnest.

Simples says his wife is a splendid sample of the "opposite sex."

What belongs to yourself and is used by everyone more than yourself? Your name.

The æsthetic are gaining strength and assurance. They speak of hash as a "mosaic."

"Something left over from the fight of yesterday," was the Duke of Wellington's definition of hash.

An editor, only married a short while ago, the following week printed a fierce article against "bossism."

An Irishman tells of a fight in which there was but one whole nose left in the crowd, "and that belonged to the tay-kettle."

Help from an unexpected quarter, as the tramp remarked, when a twenty-five cent piece was handed him by the "lady of the house."

"What is the worst thing about riches?" asked the Sunday-school superintendent. And the new boy said: "Not having any."

Most people know something about the discipline of poverty, and feel quite ready to experience some of the awful responsibilities of wealth.

Habit takes strong hold on man. A New York Assemblyman wouldn't vote for a bill increasing his own salary till somebody paid him a bribe to do so.

During the ninth waltz, Oscar, pointing to his boots, remarked to Felicitana, "You can't say I have no polish." "No," said she, "but you shine at the wrong end."

When a man told his wife that he had just traded for a new spring wagon she replied, "You dunce, you! why did you get a spring wagon in the fall of the year?"

The fool howleth against his mother-in-law and dieth of dyspepsia; the wise man sendeth for her, and she teaches his darling little tootsy wootsy how to cook. —Boston Star.

"Silver dollars with holes in them are painfully numerous," said a country editor, "but they are not half so painfully numerous as holes without any silver dollars around them."

A little girl had been scolded by her grandmother. She picked up her little kitten, and caressing it, said, "I wish one of us three was dead. And it ain't you kitty, and it ain't me."

There are some circumstances under which a man gets hung in Nebraska simply for riding horse. For instance, if a does so without the knowledge and consent of the animal's owner.

"I am going to tell you a true story," said Colonel Brager, "and truth, you know, is always stranger than fiction." "Yes, the kind you put in your true stories beats fiction blind," remarked a by-stander.

First swell: "By Jove, Fred, that is quite the highest collar I've struck yet?" Second swell: "Think so, old man? Well, I don't mind telling you it's a little idea of my own. It's one of the guv'nor's cuffs."

A French chemist thinks he can resuscitate a human body after it has been frozen a few weeks. He might experiment on Oscar Wilde, and if he missed the combination people would be just as well satisfied.

"My young friends," said a wise teacher to pupils, "if God gave you talents remember not to bury them in a napkin. But if He only gave you a napkin, don't think to flourish it will seem to be full of talents."

A citizen recently found a hunk of soap in a plate of Saturday night chowder, and the proprietor excused himself by saying, that the clam had probably chewed up a bar, as he had missed one. Let's soap it was a lie.

"Come here, my young friend," said the visitor to Sharp's hopeful, "and tell me what you are going to do when you grow to be a man." "Do?" replied the youngster, "do my creditors, I suppose. That what pa says you have done."

A candidate for the office of Auditor of Public Accounts was suddenly called upon for a speech. On rising he commenced: "Fellow-citizens, you have called on me for a few remarks. I have none to make. I have no prepared speech to make. Indeed, I am no speaker: I only want to be an auditor."

A clergyman lost his hat one evening recently and was obliged to go home with a shabbier one, which had been left in the place of it. Next day the hat was returned by the penitent appropriator, who thus apologized: I'll never take a minister's hat again. You cannot think of what queer things I've had running thro' my head ever since I put that hat on.

Some people, ignorant of what good editing is, imagine the getting up of selected matter to be the easiest work in the world to do, whereas it is the nicest work done on any paper. If they see the editor with scissors in his hand, they are sure to say: "Eh, that's the way you get up original matter, eh?" accompanying their new and witty question with an idiotic wink or smile. The facts are that the interest, the variety, and the usefulness of a paper depend in no small degree upon the selected matter, and few men are capable of the position who would not themselves be able to write many of the articles they select. A sensible editor desires considerable selected matter because he knows that one mind cannot make so good a paper as five or six.

The following true story just reaches us: A Jamaica Plain Republican told his wife a few days before election that if Massachusetts went Democratic he should leave the State, and that he meant it too. Upon waking the morning after election he remarked that his olfactories were not greeted with the usual odors from the kitchen, and going to the door he called to his wife to inquire the cause, noting at the same time that preparations to move were apparently going on down stairs. She informed him quietly that the State had gone Democratic, and he called savagely for a paper that he might know the worst. It was brought to him, and he was closeted with it for some time, then coming to the door he shouted to his wife, "Get the breakfast, Mary; no matter about moving, there isn't any place to go to."

CATCHING A DEVIL.

Some time ago, during a camp meeting in Arkansaw, an old minister, more noted for his "shoulder striking" qualities than for ecclesiastic oratory, was strolling around the grounds, when, after wandering rather far from the flock, he was suddenly confronted by a tall, dark, horned object. "Who are you?" demanded the minister. "I am the devil," replied the object, in a deep, base-ball accent, followed by a loud snort. "What do you want?" "I want you," and the devil jumped up and popped his hoof together. "All right," said the old man, and seizing a pole he knocked the devil down and tying him with his suspenders he hurried to the nearest telegraph office and notified the Sheriff that the devil had been at last captured. The Sheriff summoned a posse and hurried to the place, when it was soon discovered that the devil was only a young man who had been beaten by the old minister in a horse trade.

HE BELIEVED IT.

"I have been told," said Mr. Dubious, watching the great steam-hammer in the rolling mill, "that a good hammerman can break the crystal of a watch with that thirty-ton hammer." "Yes, sir," said the hammerman, "it can be done." "I should like to see it," said Mr. Dubious, eagerly, feeling in his watch pocket. "I can do it, sir," replied the man. "And will you," replied Mr. Dubious, drawing out his watch; "come, I am anxious to see it tried." He laid his watch on the great anvil plate. The hammer rose up to its full height and the next instant all its ponderous weight, with a crushing force that shook the ground for an acre round, came down on that watch. "There," said the hammerman, quietly, "if you don't believe that crystal is broken just stoop down and you can see it sticking to the hammer." Mr. Dubious swallowed a whole procession of lumps and gasps before he could speak. "But I forgot to say," he exclaimed, "that it was to break the crystal without injuring the watch." "Oh, yes," said the hammerman, "yes, I know; I have heard that rubbish myself; but it's all gammon. I don't believe it can be done. But you can break the crystal every time."

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters gives steadiness to the nerves, induces a healthy, natural flow of bile, prevents constipation without unduly purging the bowels, gently stimulates the circulation and by promoting a vigorous condition of the physical system, promotes, also, that cheerfulness which is the truest indication of a well-balanced condition of all the animal powers. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

R. R. Fairchild.

Furniture! Furniture!

SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS.

A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!

Bed-room Suites,
IN ASH AND WALNUT.

Cottage Suites,
IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.

Bed Lounges.
AS LOW AS $7.50.

WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES.

Mattrasses and Spring Beds,
OF ALL KINDS.

Come to Fairchild's,
AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.

18 West Front Street.

Parlor Novelties!

The following Styles are our "Latest" and will upon examination be found the most attractive and choice goods offered this season.

THE "Sutherland"

A solid Rosewood Suit, beautifully carved, composed of six pieces, each different, but forming a beautiful group

THE "Egyptian"

Also a Group Suite, in Rosewood or Ebony. Is a perfect "Gem." The ornamentation truly Egyptian and very artistic.

THE "Rockingham"

In Mahogany or Ebony; entering both in comfort and elegance, this is a commendable suite.

THE "Chippendale"

We show four suites on this order, all in old Mahogany. This line is best adapted for odd pieces. We display a full line of "Antique" coverings, specially imported for these frames.

The "NORFOLK," "DOVER," "KENSINGTON," "SYDENHAM," "PARIS," "[illegible]," and "LONDON," are all beautiful, designated and executed by one of our most skilled designers (a genius) and we delight in displaying his full line in our Warerooms.

Hundreds of ODD, EASY and RECEPTION CHAIRS, in endless variety.

INSPECTION INVITED.

R. W. MAHAFFEE'S
EXPRESS.
Furniture & Goods Removed

And all kinds of EXPRESS WORK carefully attended to with PROMPTNESS and DESPATCH.
Orders left at Buchman's Blue Front Market, Park avenue, opp. North avenue.

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,
(Successor to Geo. Watts)
No. 6 Somerset St.
BUTCHER,
and dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats of the Finest Quality, and at prices consistent with the times.
I will endeavor to please all who favor me with their patronage. a30ef

---

LEWIS & CO.,
Butchers!!
AND DEALERS IN
Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry, Sausage, Hams, Bologna, Head Cheese and Mince Meat.
Park Avenue,
[AT THE OLD STAND,]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
a3tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Plainfield, N. J. Grocery, Bakery and Dwelling, combined with stable; centrally located, a good chance for a live man. Apply to E. C. Mulford, Real Estate Broker. Office, Depot building, Plainfield, N. J. a6tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT DISPLAY OF
HOLIDAY GOODS
At Meyer Brothers,
771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.

Embroidered Table Covers from $[illegible] upwards. Embroidered Piano Covers from $[illegible] upwards. Gent's Cardigan Jackets at actual [illegible] prices. Silk Handkerchiefs in great variety at wholesale prices. Jewelry at reductions in large assortment. Ladies and Gent's Gloves in every fashionable style.

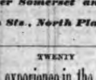
Cloaks and Shawls!

Our fur-lined twenty dollar Circular reduced to fifteen dollars. Our 18 dollar Silk Dolman reduced to twelve dollars. All our other Cloaks reduced in proportion. An immense assortment of double and single and also heavy Beaver Shawls at the lowest prices at

MEYER BROTHERS,
771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.
o6tf

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

TWENTY
Years experience in the business.
SECOND STREET, 2 doors above Peace street.



STEVENS & CORCORAN, Horse-shoers, give particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, [illegible] and Interfering Horses. Speedy Cutters stopped in an incredible short space of time. Horses with diseased feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

PURE INDIA TEAS

From the Districts of ASSAM, CHITTAGONG, CACHAR, KANGRA VALLEY, DARJEELING, DEHRA DOON, and others. Absolutely Pure. Superior in Flavor. The Most Economical. Requires only half the usual quantity. Sold by all Grocers. JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO., Agents of the Calcutta Tea Syndicate, 130 Water St., N. Y. nov16y1

DO YOU PLAY? WHY NOT?

By using SOPER'S INSTANTANEOUS GUIDE to the Keys of the Piano and Organ, any person, man, woman or child who can read or count figures, can learn to play in ONE HOUR without a teacher. This is no humbug. The Guide, with 20 pieces of music, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1 00. Send 10 cents for sample of music. Agents wanted. Address,
CHARLES HEARNE,
m8y1 31 Frankfort St., N. Y.

For Sale or To Let.
A
Very Desirable Residence,
—ON—
WEST SEVENTH ST.,
(UNION AVENUE.)
House contains 13 large rooms, and modern improvements. One acre of ground, large barn, henery, &c. For particulars address,
J. W. JOHNSON,
a26f 27 East Seventh street, near Broadway.

The A. Saltzman Watch

CHAUX-DE-FONDS.
EXPOSITION
1879
MEDAL
1879
BRONZE
JEAN RICHARD

Ask your Jeweler for it
Before Purchasing any other.
8101

SPEER'S
PORT GRAPE WINE
Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.
Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Speer's Port Grape Wine
FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable Tonic and Strengthening Properties are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

SPEER'S
P. J. Sherry.

The P. J. SHERRY is a wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made. For Purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unexcelled.

SPEER'S
P. J. Brandy.

This BRANDY stands unrivalled in this country, being far superior for medicinal purposes. IT IS A PURE distillation from the grape, and contains valuable medicinal properties. It has a delicate flavor, similar to that of the grapes from which it is distilled, and is in great favor among first-class families. See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle. Sold by all Druggists. 1y21-ly

---

Washington Valley
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE. ICE. ICE.
SIMPSON & CO.,

Beg respectfully to inform their patrons and public of Plainfield generally that they are prepared to supply the FINEST QUALITY OF ICE IN THE TRADE.

Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.

Families will see the propriety of using only Pure Spring Water Ice. Orders received at John Walker's Bakery, also at 130 West Front St., or P. O. Box 641, will receive prompt attention.

SIMPSON & CO. have a large lot of Arbor Vitæ, Norway Spruce and Maple trees for sale.

They are also prepared to supply Masons or others with Second Mountain Quarry Stone, at the lowest prices.

GRADING & CONTRACTING
in all its Branches.
m8tf

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,
Real Estate & Insurance Agent,
OFFICE—East Room, Central R. R. Depot
RESIDENCE—59 East 5th Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Real Estate for Sale. Rent or Exchange.
Authorized Agent for the following Fire Insurance Companies:
NORTH AMERICA, of Phila. Assets, January 1st, 1881, - - - $9,[illegible]
PHŒNIX ASSURANCE CO., of London, Assets, - - - $5,[illegible],504 44

Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.
MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.
19mly

POPE'S
Life and Fire Insurance Agency.
Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money Invested on Bond and Mortgage for other Parties. Government BONDS Bought and Sold.
FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK for sale in quantities to suit purchasers.
Office over City National Bank.
FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.
m07y

FIRE INSURANCE!
The undersigned having been appointed agent for the
Star and Merchants
Fire Insurance Co's of the
City of New York,
are prepared to furnish substantial indemnity against loss by Fire and solicit applications from the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.
NATHAN HARPER
nov1

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE
is Selling WINTER
Boots & Shoes
At VERY LOW PRICES!
11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD. ja18y

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 4 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of desirable goods direct from Manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES. dec26y1

SOLOMON FLAIG,
FASHIONABLE
Boot&ShoeMaker
74 FRONT ST.,
COR. CHURCH, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Opp. the First Presbyterian Church.
FINE CUSTOM WORK
At prices to suit the times.
Ladies' Shoes
Made in the Latest Style.
Repairing Neatly and Promptly Done
Leather and Shoemakers' Findings at lowest retail prices. 17y4y

MISCELLANEOUS.

Cooking Stoves
and Ranges.
(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)
—:0:—
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.
—:0:—
Agricultural Implements
Of all Kinds, CHEAP.
—:0:—
Super-Phosphates and Bone.
—:0:—
NEW YORK PLOWS,
Also,
The South Bend Chilled Plow,
BEST IN THE WORLD. Superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at
No. 18 EAST FRONT ST.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
C. O. Meeker & Co.
All the above Cheap for Cash.
1en18y

Coal. Coal. Coal.
FINTIN HIBBITS
Respectfully informs the public of Plainfield and vicinity that he is prepared to supply the best
Lehigh Valley Coal,
of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!
The above coal is all shipped to South Plainfield by the Packer R. R.
Orders sent by mail, BOX 1,188, will be promptly attended to, or No. 18 LIBERTY ST., PLAINFIELD. 7oy1

J. N. SCHENCK,
-Practical Machinist!-
RACE STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.
To those contemplating putting heat in dwellings, I would state that I am manufacturing a
Sectional Safety Boiler
for such purposes, which far exceeds any of my previous attempts. I have one in my own dwelling which I will be pleased to show to all calling.
Machinery of Every Description
Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.
9da1f

O. M. DUNHAM,
Merchant Tailor,
No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,
[NEXT TO LAING'S HOTEL.]
Also, Agent for the
Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.
5mvly

HARPER'S INKS, black, violet and red, and Harper's Mucilage, all of superior quality, can be had, in quantities to suit purchasers, of the manufacturer Joseph M. Harper, No. 49 West Second Street, Plainfield, N. J. Orders through the mail will receive prompt attention. m8

MISCELLANEOUS.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office,
Dec. 4th, 1882.

Joseph T. Vail, Administrator of John Burke, deceased.

On application of the above named Administrator it is ordered that said Administrator give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this order, within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in the CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said administrator.

By JAS. J. GERBER,
d15w9 Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office,
Nov. 18th, 1882.

Anna Elizabeth Crum, Nicholas Henry Heidelof and John Jacob Heidelof, the executors of Warner Heidelof, deceased.

On application of the above named Executors, it is ordered that said Executors give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this order, within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days; by advertising the same in the CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action thereof against the said executors.

By JAS. J. GERBER,
no24w9 Surrogate.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is Hereby Given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of ANNA S. BARCLAY, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the Tenth day of January next.

Plainfield, Oct. 21, 1882.

ROBINSON POUND,
n3w2 Executor.

ADMINISTRATRIX SETTLEMENT. Notice is Hereby Given, That the account of the subscriber, Administratrix of John F. Gross, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the fourteenth day of February next.

CLARA B. GROSS.
Dated Dec. 6, 1882. d8w9

MISCELLANEOUS.

Special Notice!
We close at 6 p. m. sharp; having only 14 hours a day for business, we offer our
ENTIRE STOCK
OF Farming Utensils
AND
House Furnishing Goods
At reduced prices, for cash, as we must do as much now in 14 hours as we formerly did in a whole day's work.
FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS of TIN WARE
To be closed out within the next 30 days.
PLOWS AND HARROWS AT COST.
BERRY & THORN.
my28-tf

LIGHTNING RODS.
Persons contemplating putting RODS ON THEIR BUILDINGS, will study their interests by examining both Rod and References.
L. J. HAWLEY'S
PATENT.
Office with E. C. Mulford, Real Estate Broker, Depot Building, Plainfield, N. J. jn16tf

---

Furnaces and Ranges,
STOVES, PUMPS, SINKS,
Gas Fixtures, Etc.
TIN, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.
Tin Roofing and Jobbing!
Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.
Apply to
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 8 North avenue, Plainfield.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED
SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.
feb6tf

HEMORRHOID OR PILES
Permanently Cured,
IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID.
Or money refunded. Also Ulcers, Fistula and Fissures, cured without knife. I have opened an office at LAING'S HOTEL, Plainfield, New Jersey, where I will be in attendance on TUESDAY, DEC. 26TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 9TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 23D.
From 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. My treatment is that known as Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff system of treating rectal diseases. This is not the painful Carbolic Acid treatment.
Any one wishing to be treated at their homes can do so by sending name and address.
Send for circulars with some of the best citizens of Trenton and Lambertville as references.
Any further information cheerfully given at my office or by mail. Charges always moderate.
R. REED, M.D., Lambertville, New Jersey. o30d6m

THE LILIPUTIAN

BAZAAR

FURNISHES UNEQUALED FACILITIES FOR THE ECONOMICAL AND SATISFACTORY OUTFITTING OF CHILDREN. Besides the CONVENIENCE of being able to procure every article needed for complete outfits for all ages up to 14 [illegible] in our establishment, we furnish CLOTHING for BOYS, GIRLS, and BABIES, which FOR STYLE, PERFECTION IN FIT and QUALITY OF WORKMANSHIP, is far superior to that ordinarily sold ready made, and at lower prices. Mail orders have careful attention. Catalogues free.

BEST & CO.,
60 West 23d St., bet. 5th and 6th avenues, New York.
se27m3

A CARD.
W. H. SEBRING announces that he is now prepared to take orders for FINE CUSTOM SHIRTS at reduced prices, using the very best material, with a 3 or 4-ply all linen bosom. Extra quality. Workmanship, quality and fit guaranteed. No gentleman obliged to accept any unless entirely satisfactory. Orders received at Vanderbeek's Music Store. Gentlemen not finding it convenient to call will be waited upon at their residence or place of business.
W. H. SEBRING, Manufacturer,
Plainfield, N. J.

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of N. J.

Stations in New York foot of Liberty St. In Brooklyn—Jewell's Wharf, foot of Fulton st.

Arrangement Commencing June 26, 1882.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield 3.34, 5.42, 6.21, 7.01, 7.31, 7.58, 8.03, 8.21, 8.44, 10.02, 10.37, 11.50 a. m. 12.29, 1.57, 3.26, 4.19, 5.47, 5.28, 7.01, 8.42, 9.48, 12.11 p. m. Sunday—3.34, 8.57, 10.26, a. m., 1.50, 3.00 p. m.

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street 4.00, 7.45, 8.00, 9.00, 10.00, 11.15 a. m. 1, 1.30, 3.30, 3.45, 4, 4.30, 5, 5.15, 5.30, 6, 6.30, 7, 8, 9.30, 10.30, 12 p. m. Sunday—5.45 a. m., 3.30, 12 p. m.

For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.

Connection is made at Jersey City station to and from Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City, by boat of the "Brooklyn and Erie Annex."

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield 3.42, 6.21, 7.01, 7.58, 8.03, 8.21, 8.44, 10.02, 10.37, 11.50, a. m., 12.29, 1.57, 3.26, 4.19, 5.47, 5.40, 7.01, 8.42, 9.48 p. m.

Leave Newark—6.30, 7.30, 8.00, 9.40, 10.45, 11.35 a. m., 1.00, 1.35, 3.30, 4, 4.30, 5.00, 5.35, 5.57, 6.40, 7.05, 8.10, 9.30, 11.30 p. m.

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 7.49, 9.55, 11.44 a. m. 2.04, 4.37, 5.04, 5.21, 5.08, 6.26, 7.09, 8.48, 9.14, 11.45 p. m. Sunday—6.49 p. m.

Leave Somerville 6.00, 6.35, 7.05, 7.30, 8.05, 9.21, 9.35, 10.15 a. m. 1.00, 3.00, 3.30, 5.35, 6.30, 8.48 p. m. Sunday—8.25 a. m., 6.45 p. m.

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 7.49, 9.55 a. m. 2.04, 4.37, 5.04, 6.26 p. m. Sunday—6.49 p. m.

Leave Easton 6.30, 7.00, 8.55 A. M., 12.50, 4, 6.55 P. M. Sunday—7.00 a. m.

In addition, a train leaves Phillipsburg DAILY 6.00 P. M.

Westward Connections

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

7.49 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamanend, Tamaqua, Drifton, Upper Lehigh, Scranton, &c.

9.55 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Nanticoke, Upper Lehigh, Scranton, &c.

2.04 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, &c.

4.37 p. m.—For Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Drifton, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c.

5.04 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Easton, &c.

5.21 p. m.—For Somerville, Flemington, &c.

6.26 p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, &c.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield 7.58, 10.37, 11.05 a. m., 1.57, 3.47, 5.40 p. m.

Leave Plainfield 7.58, 10.37, 11.05 a. m., 1.57, 3.47, 5.40 p. m. for Freehold and Keyport.

New York & Philadelphia-New Line.

BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia for Ninth and Green Sts., 1.28, 8.21, 10.22, a. m., 12 m., 2.19, 5.04*, 6.46*, 7.49, p. m. Sunday—1.28, 9.44 a. m., 6.21 p. m.

For Third & Berks Sts., 8.21 a. m., 12 m., 2.19, 5.04*, 6.46*, 7.49 p. m. Sunday—9.46 a. m.

Leave Plainfield for Trenton 1.28, 8.21, 10.22 a. m., 12 m., 2.19, 5.04*, 6.46*, 7.49 p. m. Sunday—1.28, 9.46 a. m., 6.21 p. m.

RETURNING.

Leave Phila. Station Phila. & Reading Railroad 9th & Green Sts., 8.30*, 9.30, 11 a. m., 1.15, 3.45*, 5.40, 6.45*, 12 p. m. Sunday—8.30 a. m., 5.30, 12 p. m.

From Third and Berks Sts. 8.10, 9.20*, 9.10, a. m., 1, 3.30*, 5.30, 6.30*, 11.30 p. m. Sunday—8.15 a. m., 4.30 p. m.

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker Streets, 1.25, 9.10, 9.55*, 10.06, 11.56 a. m., 2.46, 4.25*, 6.55, 7.25*, p. m. Sunday—1.25, 9.15 a. m., 6.15 p. m.

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A MAN
WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

By the central position of its line, connects the East and the West by the shortest route, and carries passengers, without change of cars, between Chicago and Kansas City, Council Bluffs, Leavenworth, Atchison, Minneapolis and St. Paul. It connects in Union Depots with all the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans. Its equipment is unrivaled and magnificent, being composed of Most Comfortable and Beautiful Day Coaches, Magnificent Horton Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman's Prettiest Palace Sleeping Cars, and the Best Line of Dining Cars in the World. Three Trains between Chicago and Missouri River Points. Two Trains between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, via the Famous

"ALBERT LEA ROUTE."

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened between Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News, Chattanooga, Atlanta, Augusta, Nashville, Louisville, Lexington, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Omaha, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers Travel on Fast Express Trains.

Tickets for sale at all principal Ticket Offices in the United States and Canada.

Baggage checked through and rates of fare always as low as competitors that offer less advantages.

For detailed information, get the Maps and Folders of the

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,

At your nearest Ticket Office, or address
R. R. CABLE, Vice-Pres. & Gen'l M'g'r. E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Tkt. & Pass. Agt.
CHICAGO.
feb17-1y

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM.

This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. It contains materials only that are beneficial to the scalp and hair and always

Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair

Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching. HISCOX & CO., N.Y. 50c. and $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs and medicines.

PARKER'S
GINGER TONIC
A Superlative Health and Strength Restorer.

If you are a mechanic or farmer, worn out with overwork, or a mother run down by family or household duties try PARKER'S GINGER TONIC.

If you are a lawyer, minister or business man exhausted by mental strain or anxious cares, do not take intoxicating stimulants, but use Parker's Ginger Tonic.

If you have Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, or any disorder of the lungs, stomach, bowels, blood or nerves, PARKER'S GINGER TONIC will cure you. It is the Greatest Blood Purifier

And the Best and Surest Cough Cure Ever Used.

If you are wasting away from age, dissipation or any disease or weakness and require a stimulant take GINGER TONIC at once; it will invigorate and build you up from the first dose but will never intoxicate. It has saved hundreds of lives; it may save yours.

CAUTION!—Refuse all substitutes. Parker's Ginger Tonic is composed of the best remedial agents in the world, and is entirely different from preparations of ginger alone. Send for circular to Hiscox & Co., N. Y. 50c. & $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs.

GREAT SAVING BUYING DOLLAR SIZE.

FLORESTON

Its rich and lasting fragrance has made this delightful perfume exceedingly popular. There is nothing like it. Insist upon having FLORESTON COLOGNE and look for signature of

Hiscox & Co.

on every bottle. Any druggist or dealer in perfumery can supply you. 25 and 75 cent sizes.

LARGE SAVING BUYING 75c. SIZE.

COLOGNE.

NOTICE!

The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office, No. 33 PARK AVE.

A. VANDERBEEK
C. O. P. v14tf

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. 30 years' experience. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by Postal, P. O. Box 300, or left at Willett's Shoe Store, No. 4 Park Avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence—No. 84 Front Street, 2 doors above Park av.
11y1

Park Avenue Bakery
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST--SUPPLEMENT.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., JANUARY 12, 1883.

Second Annual Message

OF HIS EXCELLENCY,

GEORGE C. LUDLOW,

GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY.

To the Legislature—Session of 1883.

Gentlemen of the Senate and General Assembly:

The Constitution of our State imposes upon me the duty of communicating to you at the opening of your session, the condition of the State, and of recommending to you such measures as I may deem expedient. In pursuance of that duty, I herewith lay before you, as concisely as is possible, the conclusions which I have reached, in an earnest effort to myself understand the condition of the State in its various departments and institutions, and to discover what, if any, changes will enhance its interests and secure its improvement.

FINANCES.

The reports of the Treasurer and Comptroller will fully inform you of the income and expenditures of the State. Owing to a difference in the methods of keeping certain accounts, of the School and Library Funds, a disparity seems to exist in some of their conclusions, but upon being examined into, it is found that they really agree. The financial transactions of the State are kept by the Treasurer under four general accounts, viz.: Agricultural College Fund, Library Fund, School Fund and State Fund.

The income of the Agricultural College Fund is entirely derived from the interest on one hundred and sixteen thousand dollars ($116,000) of State bonds, purchased with the proceeds of the sale of lands donated by the General Government. It amounts to six thousand nine hundred and sixty dollars ($6,960), and is paid over to the Agricultural College, as designed by the donors of the land.

The State Library Fund, as kept on the books of the Treasurer, but not on those of the Comptroller, consists of a balance, on November 1, 1881, of six hundred and forty-one dollars and twenty-eight cents ($641.28), and an appropriation of seven hundred and fifty dollars ($750). The expenditure of thirteen hundred and eighty-six dollars and four cents ($1,386.04), leaves a balance of five dollars and twenty-four cents ($5.24).

The School Fund.—The Treasurer includes in the operations of this fund the amount received by him as the result of the State School Tax, but as the whole of this amount is returned to the several counties, it will be considered separately.

Under the law of '81, the rate of the school tax was changed from two (2) mills on the dollar of property to four dollars ($4) for each child between five (5) and eighteen (18) years of age. The sum produced was to be paid into the Treasury on the first of the next January; ninety (90) per cent. of it was to be returned within ten (10) days to the counties paying it, and the remaining ten (10) per cent. was to be distributed by the State Board of Education, according to their discretion, among the several counties. The amount produced by this tax and paid into the Treasury during the last year was	$1,322,740 60

And for the preceding year, under the former system	1,017,784 68
Increase	$304,955 32

In the distribution six (6) counties received what they had paid; the counties of Burlington, Essex, Gloucester, Hunterdon, Mercer, Salem, Somerset and Warren, paid fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) more than they received. This amount was, in addition to what they had paid, disbursed among the counties of Atlantic, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Middlesex, Ocean and Sussex. The school tax for 1882 has been levied, and amounts to one million three hundred and forty-two thousand six hundred and fifty-six dollars ($1,342,656), a further increase of nearly twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.)

The assets of the School Fund at the close of the fiscal year were as follows:

Railroad and Bank stock	$46,500 00
United States bonds	555,000 00
Railroad bonds	117,000 00
State and City bonds	35,000 00
Bonds of School Districts	96,200 00
Bonds and mortgages	999,508 56
Principal of Riparian leases	1,124,119 53
Real estate bought at foreclosure	82,000 00
	$3,055,228 03
Interest due on bonds and mortgages	32,616 73
Rents due on Riparian leases	67,718 22
Balance on hand	201,764 29
Total property of the fund	$3,376,727 27
Total property, November 1, 1881	2,899,658 00
Increase during the year	$477,069 27

The receipts of the fund during the year were:

Interest on United States bonds	$12,975 00
Interest on New Jersey bonds	1,200 00
Interest on City and School District bonds	7,544 00
Interest on Railroad bonds	7,020 0
Dividends on stocks	4,320 00
Interest on bonds and mortgages	54,941 56
Rentals on Riparian leases	65,102 45
Grants of Riparian lands	15,240 23
Tax on Hibernia Mine Railroad	831 47
Rents of real estate	3,252 93
	$172,427 64
Being an increase over the amount received during 1881, from the same sources, of $25,518.87.
Besides the above, there was paid into the fund for loans paid off	77,400 00
Riparian leases converted into grants	226,555 50
Cash on hand, November 1, 1881	200,706 15
	$677,089 29

The disbursements were:

Appropriation to Public Schools	$100,000 00
Amount invested	372,200 00
Premiums on United States bonds purchased	3,125 00
Cash on hand, October 31, 1882	201,764 29
	$677,089 29

The State Fund.—The assets of this fund are as follows:

Stock of the Joint Companies	$288,700 00
Bonds of the Joint Companies	24,000 00
	$312,700 00
Besides these there are held Centennial stock (valueless)	74,116 67
County bonds, securing surplus revenue, loaned	764,670 44
	$1,151,487 11

The following table presents a detailed exhibit of the receipts and expenditures of the year, and also their relation to those of the previous year:

RECEIPTS.	1881. $ cts	1882. $ cts	Increase. $ cts	Decrease. $ cts
Tax on Corporat'ns	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
State Tax	[illegible]			[illegible]
State Prison receip'ts	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Inter't & Dividends	[illegible]	[illegible]
Judicial Fees	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Official Fees	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sales of Revision	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Fines and Forfeited Recognizances	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Licenses & Fees	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Fees returned		7,321 29	7,321 29
Sales of Ordnance		[illegible]	[illegible]
Assessments on Private Acts		50 00	50 00

	1881.	1882.
Total receipts	$878,747 87	$825,525 47
Balance at beginning of year	384,730 45	167,274 39
Temporary loan		250,000 00
	$1,263,478 32	$1,240,799 86

DISBURSEMENTS.	1881. $ cts	1882. $ cts	Increase. $ cts	Decrease. $ cts
Court expenses	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Public Debt	[illegible]	[illegible]
State Insane Asyl's	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Legislature	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Deaf & Dumb, Blind & Feeble Minded	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
State Institution for Deaf & Dumb		1,500 00	1,500 00
Militia	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Advertising	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
State Prison Maintenance	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
State Prison Salari's	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
State Prison Rep'rs	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Printing	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Counts Ins. Asy'ums	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Soldiers' Home	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Salaries and Fees	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Reform School	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Industrial School	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Transport'n & Costs	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Clerical service	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
State House Exp's	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Normal School	[illegible]	[illegible]
Normal School Scholarships	5,000 00	5,000 00
Normal Sch. Rep'rs	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Farnum Preparatory School	[illegible]	[illegible]
Education	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Law & Equity Rep's	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Riparian Commis'n	[illegible]	[illegible]
Yorktown Centen'l	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Yorkto'n Memorial		125 00	125 00
Stationery & Post'ge	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Pensions	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Geological Survey	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Inspec'n of Fisheries	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Agricultural Experiment Station	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Legal expenses	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Rifle Association	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Preservation of Records	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
State Bo'd of Health	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Agriculture	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Food Fishes	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
School Fund exp'n's	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Vital Statistics	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Washington Headquarters	[illegible]	[illegible]
Bureau of Statistics	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
State Library	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Soldiers' Children's Home	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Sinking Fund exp's	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Free Sch. Libraries	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Incidentals	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Rep. to State House	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wrecks	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Special Appropria's	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Discharg'd Convicts	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Requisitions	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Binding	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Bounties on Fibrous Plants	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Arsenal	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Inauguration exp's	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Int. on Temp. loans	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Soldiers' St. Bounty	[illegible]	[illegible]		[illegible]
Costs on Forfeited Recognizances	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Bounties on Sugar		[illegible]	[illegible]
Boundary Line		2,300 00	2,300 00
Trenton City Assessments		[illegible]	[illegible]
Constitutional Commission		1,978 15	1,978 15

	1881.	1882.
Total Disbursements	$1,096,203 93	$1,104,303 75
Balance at close of year	167,274 39	136,496 11
	$1,263,478 32	$1,240,799 86

From these figures it will be observed that the disbursements of the past year exceeded the receipts in the sum of two hundred and eighty thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight dollars and twenty-eight cents ($280,778.28). This excess was met by diminishing the bank balance in the sum of thirty thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight dollars and twenty-eight cents ($30,778.28), and by borrowing two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.)

In my annual message of last year, I took pains to lay before the Legislature the exact condition of the State's finances, as I understood them, and to point out how the deficiency which then impended, might be entirely or almost avoided, and the imposition of a State tax rendered unnecessary. Some of the suggestions were adopted, but at so late an hour in the session as to be of use but for a small part of the year, and some were rejected. The added experience of the past year, and a review of its figures, strengthen my conviction that a due attention to the revenues of the State and ordinary economy in its expenditures, will produce the result of making the one meet and provide for the other. Of course this cannot be done if we be content to accept as our receipts whatever the convenience or willingness of those paying, leads them to offer; nor if we continue to appropriate money at the simple demand of those who are to spend it. It does require, however, only such a watchfulness over the income and care in the expenditures as an individual or a company would be required to exercise if they desired to avoid bankruptcy. Because we have the money of the people to draw on by a general tax, which they cannot refuse to pay, is no reason why that power should be used by us, or the burden imposed on them, if circumstances do not absolutely demand it. That property which pays the county and municipal expenses, and for the support of the schools, should not be further taxed until other property, exempt from these burthens, pays an equal proportion (if it be necessary) for the support of the State government.

This view being adopted, there are, then, two questions to be solved:

First. How can the receipts of the State be increased, without a direct tax upon property now otherwise taxed?

Second. How can the expenditures be brought within the limits of the receipts?

I will consider the first question on the basis of the receipts of the year just passed, as given above in tabular form, viewing the subject generally and not in its special application to the present year, the necessities of which should be provided for by the surplus remaining from the State tax imposed last year.

The amount derived from the tax on corporations can be very materially increased, as I have shown under the heading "Railroad Taxation," by such a legislative definition of the words "true value," as will compel it to be estimated at the worth of the property to the company using it; by the closer inspection of the returns and the basis on which they are made, and by the repeal of certain laws therein referred to. If these be done, this branch of taxation should produce fully seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) per annum. The receipts from the State prison should not be less than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000), and may be increased to ninety ($90,000) by the erection of another shop. The amount received from judicial fees is less than it should be, and would be at least twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) if the requirements of the provisions of the law were enforced. The State officers make prompt returns, but some of the county officers do not. The report of the State Treasurer shows that no payment was received either in 1881 or 1882 from Burlington, Ocean, Passaic, Salem or Sussex counties, and none in 1882 from Camden, although it had made return in 1881. It also shows such differences in payments made by counties similar in size, and in those made by the same counties in different years, as to warrant the conclusion that the law must be differently understood or indifferently obeyed. The same remark is true as to fines and forfeited recognizances. While it is impossible to forecast what should be received from this source, yet it is known that, although the law requires the quarterly report to the Comptroller and Treasurer by the County Clerk, of the amount of fines imposed and judgments entered on forfeited recognizances, within ten (10) days after each term of court, and affixes a penalty to the failure to comply with the law, the Clerk of but one (1) county has made such report during the past year. Proper attention to these items and an enforcement of the law, would necessarily result in increased receipts from them. The other items of receipts are, except that of "fees returned," likely to produce about the same amount as last year. To recapitulate—

Railroad tax	$750,000
State Prison receipts	85,000
Interest and dividends	30,000
Judicial fees	20,000
Official fees	12,000
Fines and Forfeited Recognizances	2,000
Licenses and fees and miscellaneous sources	1,000
	$900,000

In addition to the above the State should receive a revenue from corporations, other than railroads which now pay, and banks which owe their existence to the National Government. We have a large number of corporations formed under our laws; receiving from them privileges and immunities peculiar to themselves; claiming and receiving peculiar protection from our courts, and which, under our present system of assessing and collecting, escapes much of the local taxation. A law which should provide for a small State tax on the capital invested in them, levied either upon the capital itself or the product thereof, would produce a large amount in the aggregate, without making the burden of any one large, or being unfair to the corporations themselves. That these corporations should be taxed, has long been recognized in principle, and its application in this State has been deferred only through fear that capital thus taxed would avoid this State and seek investment in others. That danger has been removed by the adoption in both New York and Pennsylvania of systems of taxing corporations. These laws are found to work well in those States, and should do equally well here. The imposition of this tax ought certainly to produce one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) per year, which, added to the receipts as above estimated, would give as the resources of the State, one million dollars ($1,000,000) per annum.

This amount is, I am satisfied, ample for the ordinary expenses of the State, and they should be kept within it. The disbursements from the State Treasury last year reached the sum of one million one hundred and four thousand three hundred and three dollars and seventy-five cents ($1,104,303.75). In order to see how this amount may be brought within the limit above fixed, it will be necessary to closely scan the account of disbursements of the year.

Among the expenditures made last year which will not be necessary to be repeated are those for transportation and costs, Trenton city assessments, interest on temporary loans, expenses of Constitutional Commission, expenses of Yorktown Centennial and Memorial, Soldiers' Children's Home, bounties on fibrous plants, and expenses of Boundary Commission,—amounting to nearly sixty thousand dollars ($60,000).

There should be transferred to the School Fund the expenses of the Normal and Farnum Schools; of the School Fund itself, and of the Riparian Commissioners and the office of State Superintendent of Schools, and the appropriation to free school libraries. By the receipts from the Riparian Commissioners, and from the interest on its investments, the School Fund is growing rapidly; and the only expense to which it is subjected is the appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). This fund has increased in capital value nearly half a million dollars ($500,000) during the past year. Its income for the same period was twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) more than that of the preceding year. The fund is, therefore, amply able to bear these expenses, and should do so. If it is desired to augment the fund still further, the annual appropriation from it of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) might be discontinued, as the amount received from the State school tax, which the appropriation was designed to supplement, has itself increased in the past year more than three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000). My own judgment is, however, that the School Fund is as large as it should be, and its receipts can be well expended in first paying its own expenses, and next in meeting those mentioned above. The transfer of these from the State Fund to the School Fund will save to the former about forty-three thousand dollars ($43,000).

The expense of printing is excessively large, and it needs no further reason to explain why it is so, than will be developed by a glance at the book of legislative documents which contains the reports made to this department and to the Legislature. It will be seen that much of the contents is valueless to the public. Some of the reports contain large quantities of tabular statements and compilations, published by the requirement of law, which are useless; the numbers printed of some are excessive; the book of Minutes of the Assembly, and Journal of the Senate, are unnecessarily spread out, and much matter is put in the volume of legislative documents which should not be placed there. A proper attention given to this subject, and power given to some board to say what shall not be printed, would save the State in this item twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), and yet leave it more than it was in 1879.

The payments to the Soldier's Home should be limited to the regular appropriation of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000). This sum is ample for the needs of the institution if the law in regard to the pensions of the occupants is carried out as it should be. The act paying bounties on sugar raised has served its purpose, and cost the State last year nearly nine thousand dollars ($9,000). If it remains it is likely to cost much more. It should be repealed. The cost of inspection of fisheries has steadily increased from a little over two thousand dollars ($2,000), in 1876, to seven thousand six hundred ($7,600), in 1882. It is difficult to understand the reason for this, in the absence of any report on the subject. It would seem, however, that three (3) or four thousand dollars ($4,000) would be ample. The item of agriculture consists of six thousand dollars ($6,000) paid to the State Agricultural Society (for two (2) years) as a part of their premium lists, and the expenses of the State Board of Agriculture and the visitors to the Agricultural College. The appropriation to the Agricultural Society is unnecessary, and should be discontinued. The item of preservation of records includes a payment made to the Historical Society for publishing certain historical information in regard to the State; the appropriation of three thousand dollars ($3,000) for three (3) years, made in 1881, has sufficed for seven (7) volumes, and the work should be suspended until the State is better able to provide for this class of expenditures. The increase of twenty (20) per cent. made in the salaries of certain officers in the State Prison is scarcely warranted by the reasons given. Unless these are restored to the former figures, the annual cost of running that institution will be increased ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in this single item. I think it would also be well for you to examine into the salaries paid in the other institutions of the State, with a view to their curtailment, if it be found proper so to do. The salaries paid to the officers of the Legislature are entirely out of proportion to the services rendered, and to the compensation of other employees of the State, and ought to be reduced.

The changes indicated above, all of which I am satisfied can be safely and properly made, will reduce the expenditures of the State to about nine hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($950,000).

I can imagine no subject in which the people have a greater interest at this time than the disposition of the moneys which belong to them. It seems to be a most appropriate period to look back at the past, and to ascertain how much of the increase of the expenses has been necessary, and how much can be lopped off. The necessity for such action is certainly pressing enough to warrant you in making this the principal effort of the present session, while there is yet time to avoid the re-imposition of a tax for State purposes.

The increase in the receipts and decrease in disbursements cannot, of course, be entirely effective the present year; but if they be made as suggested, the receipts of the present year, together with the two hundred and seventy thousand dollars ($270,000) produced by the State tax in excess of the temporary loans due, should be sufficient to meet the disbursements, and leave a balance in bank.

SINKING FUND.

The Sinking Fund was established for securing the payment of the war bonds. By the provisions of the act creating it, and the supplements thereto, one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) of these bonds mature each year up to 1891, and after that the amounts annually payable vary from sixty-two thousand six hundred dollars ($62,600) to two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000); of this amount ninety thousand dollars ($90,000) are paid from the State Fund, while the Sinking Fund provides for the remaining ten thousand dollars ($10,000) and the interest upon the outstanding bonds. These bonds amounted on the thirty-first of October last to one million seven hundred and ninety-six thousand three hundred dollars ($1,796,300). The principal of the fund is as follows:

Bonds and mortgages	$689,917 19
Interest due on the same	35,616 55
United States Registered Bonds	20,000 00
School District Bonds	7,000 00
Note secured by chattel mortgage	1,905 05
	$754,438 79
Real estate representing a cost of	400,729 27
	$1,155,168 06

The operations of the fund for the past year are as follows:

Balance in bank, October 31, 1881	$17,713 48
Received from State Fund	90,000 00
Interest on bonds and mortgages	48,892 95
Interest on United States bonds	900 00
Interest on School District bonds	480 00
Rents and produce of real estate owned	6,552 58
Bonds and mortgages sold to School Fund	57,200 00
Bonds and mortgages paid off	14,500 00
Bonds and mortgages partially paid off	13,600 00
Sale of real estate	525 31
School District bond paid off	1,000 00
Notes paid	2,038 39
Miscellaneous	127 00
	$253,529 71
Bonds redeemed	$100,000 00
Interest paid	110,607 00
For repairs and improvements to real estate	6,184 76
Balance in bank	36,737 95
	$253,529 71

It will be noticed by the above that the income of the fund is not sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds and the annual charge of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) toward the payment of the principal. In consequence, the Commissioners have sold to the Trustees of the School Fund certain of their mortgages. The amount of the real estate on hand, the result of purchases at foreclosure sales, is large. Some of it has been disposed of during the year, and more could have been sold, had it not seemed better, in my judgment, to hold it in anticipation of the increase of prices which surely but slowly follows general business activity, than to part with it at a sacrifice. While the real estate will, probably, not bring the amount with which it stands charged, there is no doubt but that better prices can be obtained as soon as the impression, created by the action of the last two or three Legislatures, that the property is to be launched upon the market and sold regardless of value, is dissipated. The effort has been to let the property to careful and responsible par*ties, and to keep up its condition by proper re*pairs, rather than to make a better showing of rent at the expense of the principal. During the year there has been considerable enquiry in the direction of purchase of the real estate, and a much livelier interest evinced.

I am convinced that it is alike the duty and the interest of the State to maintain the fund, and equally so that it is impracticable to manage so large an enterprise as an appendage to any present department of the State government. The policy of the past few years has been to prevent the accumulation of the fund, and even to strip it, and that policy should be reversed. The amount of money placed at the disposal of the Commissioners for office and other expenses, is small, and has prevented the proper surveillance of the property owned by and mortgaged to the fund, and to this fact is attributable much of its present condition. There should be provision made for the employment of a proper person to frequently examine the condition of the property, and to apprise the Commissioners, in order that they may take intelligent action in regard to it. It is to be remembered, that the property mortgaged to and in possession of the fund numbers one hundred and twenty-six (126) pieces, in almost every county of the State, and amounting to a very large sum. No private individual of good judgment would permit such an investment as this to be unwatched, until advised by chance or the failure to pay interest, and yet this is what the Commissioners have been obliged to do. There is every reason to believe, if the Legislature will give its support, that the fund will, in the near future, respond to the earnest and well directed efforts now being made for its improvement.

RAILROAD TAXATION.

When it is remembered that the taxes derived from railroad corporations constitute almost the entire ordinary revenue of the State, it will readily be seen that the method of levying and collecting that tax, and the result thereof, form, at once, one of the most important questions which demand the attention of the Legislature. For the purpose of securing approximate uniformity in the matter, the Legislature, in 1873, passed "An act to establish just rules for the taxation of railroad corporations, and to induce their acceptance and uniform adoption." This act provided that all companies occupying or using railroads in this State should pay: (1st) upon the cost, equipment and appendages of the road, a State tax, of the rate theretofore fixed by law upon such company, or, in default thereof, at the rate of one-half of one per cent. upon such cost; and (2d) upon all the real property by them as aforesaid occupied, used or owned for the purposes of their road or otherwise, (excepting their main stem or road-bed and track not exceeding one hundred (100) feet in width,) to the locality in which it is situate, at the rate of one (1) per cent., upon a valuation to include all improvements, not by way of repairs; each company may hold at their termini, not exceeding ten acres of land, which, with the buildings and improvements thereon, shall be exempt from local taxation.

The act also provided for the appointment of a railroad tax commissioner; for the examination and award, by him, of the amount of local tax to be paid by the company, and for the collection of the same.

In 1876, "An act providing for State taxes on railroads, and the more efficient collection thereof," and a supplement explanatory thereof, were passed, which, while not repealing the act of 1873, supplanted it as far as its application to the State tax was concerned. This act provided that all railroad companies occupying or using railroads in this State, liable to be taxed as such by a general law taxing railroads for State purposes, should pay a State tax of one-half of one per cent. upon the true value of said railroads, their equipments and appendages: provided, that the tax paid by the United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Companies, under the act of 1869, which abolished transit duties, (viz.: two hundred and ninety-eight thousand one hundred and twenty-eight dollars and ninety-six cents [$298,128.96]) should be deemed as a full payment of all taxes to be paid by said United Companies, and by all companies then owned, leased or controlled by it, or of which it owned a majority of the capital stock, or by any company owned, leased or controlled by any company itself owned, leased or controlled by said United Companies, until a tax at the rate of one-half of one per centum upon the cost of such properties should exceed the amount paid by them under the transit duty act of 1869. The act also provided for the return by railroad companies to the Comptroller of the taxable values, as above stated; and for these returns being the basis of taxation, unless the Comptroller should have reason to believe it to be untrue or insufficient, in which case it was to be referred to a Board consisting of the Treasurer, Comptroller and Railroad Tax Commissioner; and in case of dissatisfaction on the part of the railroad company with their award, appeal was to be taken to a justice of the Supreme Court, who was required to summarily hear and decide the appeal. The amount so established by the board of commissioners was made payable on the first of February of each year, and to bear interest from that date at the rate of ten (10) per cent.

It is under these two laws that railroad companies are now taxed, both for State and municipal purposes,—and it is to these laws and their practical operation to which I desire to call your attention.

It will be observed that the rate at which railroad property is taxed, is, as compared with that which affects that of individuals, very small. Take, for instance, the manufacturing and commercial counties of Essex and Hudson, and the agricultural counties of Monmouth and Cumberland. Two hundred and forty million five hundred thousand dollars ($240,500,000) of property in those counties paid in 1881, when no State tax was imposed, four million eight hundred and twenty-four thousand eight hundred and seventy dollars ($4,824,870) in taxes. Had it been railroad property, it would have produced one million two hundred and two thousand five hundred dollars ($1,202,500) —less than one-fourth as much as in its present shape. The present rate was established by the charters of the companies many years ago, when the success of railroad enterprises was the subject of much doubt and uncertainty, and when it bore a more equal comparison with that of the tax on individuals. While the latter has increased very materially, the former has remained the same.

The position of our State, as a necessary link in the great highway between the east and the west, the north and the south, and the virtual terminus of much of it, has raised the railroad interests centreing here to an enormous amount, —second, in comparison with her territory and valuation of property, to that of no other State of the Union, and yet there are but few States in which their proportion of the public burdens is not larger. Because by far the greatest part of this tax is paid in bulk to the State, it seems large; but when it is remembered that this carries with it a practical exemption from municipal taxation, and that the cost of railroad property in this State was, at the close of 1881, as shown by standard authorities, over one hundred and sixty-seven millions of dollars ($167,000,000), the six hundred and forty-three thousand dollars ($643,000) paid to the State is com*paratively small. The law provides for the tax*ation of railroad property at its "true value." As to what elements shall enter into the estimate of that "true value," how far the cost of the enterprise, the money expended on it, the productive capacity of the investment, and the appreciation of the value of its property, shall be considered, it does not say; but it would seem that all of these considerations are essential attributes of the true value of an enterprise. At the beginning of 1877, when the board of railroad commissioners first established the value of the property on which the railroads of this State were to pay tax, there were fifteen hundred and seventy-five (1575) miles of railroad, which had cost over one hundred and forty-six million dollars ($146,000,000). At that time the business of railroads was at the lowest point reached in many years; the market *value of several of them had shrunk to exceed*ingly small figures; some had confessed insolvency and had passed into the hands of receivers, and others were about to do so. Since that time an era of prosperity and solid improvement has set in; roads then in existence have been improved; extra tracks have been laid; large sums have been expended upon increased and improved terminal facilities, upon the road-bed and its equipments; this has been done to meet the demands of an increased business conducted at more profitable rates; much of the property has increased in value, and new roads have been built; and at the close of 1881, there were eighteen hundred and sixty-nine (1869) miles of railroad in the State, which had cost over one hundred and sixty-seven million dollars ($167,000,000), an increase of two hundred and ninety-four (294) miles, and nearly twenty-one million dollars ($21,000,000) of cost over that of 1877. This increase of mileage and cost, and this marked improvement of every element which would seem to go toward forming the true value of the railroads, have resulted in an increase in the assessed value of two million dollars ($2,000,000), and in the taxes of ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

Why the increase has not been greater, and how it can be brought up to a sum commensurate with the surrounding circumstances, are questions for your consideration and decision.

One reason for the failure to increase, is found in the restricted interpretation which has been put upon the words "true value," and that by it the legislative intent has been reduced to the narrowest limits.

Another is, that two (2) large companies, by the contract of their charters and supplementary legislation, do not come under the general law.

One of these is the Morris and Essex, which pays on the cost of its road. This failure to recognize the change in the circumstances of railroad companies now and at the time its charter was granted, is to be regretted, but cannot be changed, unless the State should authorize an application for a reopening of the question by the Supreme Court of the United States, to which the company appealed against the decision of our State courts.

Again, by the act of 1869, which abolished transit duties, it was provided that all companies theretofore paying transit duties should thereafter pay a tax of one-half of one per cent. upon the cost of their works, including all their property not otherwise taxed; said tax, however, not to be a less sum than that paid by it as transit duties for the year 1868; the act was not to apply to any corporation having a contract with the State in reference to taxation, unless its provisions should be accepted by such corporation in place of such contract. In April of that year the United Companies formally accepted that act, and filed their acceptance in the office of the Secretary of State, by which they agreed to pay as the tax upon the property of the three (3) companies forming the said United Companies (viz.: the Delaware and Raritan Canal Company, the Camden and Amboy Railroad and Transportation Company, and the New Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company,) the sum of two hundred and ninety-eight thousand one hundred and twenty-eight dollars and ninety-six cents ($298,128.96), being the amount paid as transit duties in 1868. This was claimed, and has been held by our courts, to be a contract not to be broken or impaired at the legislative will. And yet, afterwards, in 1876, the Legislature, in the railroad taxation acts, provided that the said sum then paid by the United Companies should be received as the tax not only on their own property, but upon the property of every railroad then owned, leased or controlled by them, even, so to speak, to the second degree. Under that law the property of seventeen companies which cost (by their own reports) over thirteen millions of dollars ($13,000,000), has been withdrawn from taxation and brought under the sheltering wings of the United Companies. Not only does the property thus exempted include several of the principal roads of the State, such as the Belvidere Delaware, the West Jersey and its branches, and the Freehold and Jamesburg, but it also includes two roads, not thought of at the time of the abolishment of the transit duties, which were incorporated afterward and built under the general railroad law, subject to its provisions of taxation, and which, so far as I can learn, were never leased to or controlled by the United Companies, or by any company leased or owned by them viz.: the Philadelphia and Long Branch and the West Jersey and Atlantic. If the principle thus sought to be established is correct, then there still exists in the lease of the United Companies the right to build or purchase eleven million dollars ($11,000,000) more of railroads free of taxation. I am well convinced that that principle is not a correct one, and, further, that the acts of 1876, so far as apply to the United Companies, are in direct conflict with a contract between the State and the United Companies, and work wrong and injustice to the State. Had the transit duties been continued, as the State had a right in every aspect of the case to continue them, the sum to be paid by the United Companies at this time would be a great deal larger than that now paid. The abolishment of the transit duties, and the consequent establishment of a sum beyond which they were not for many years to be taxed, was beneficial to them, and was accepted by them as such. It may be said that the tax paid by the United Companies is more, in proportion to the values reported by them, than that paid by any other company. But if it be fairly considered, the claim will be shown to be more apparent than real. It will be noticed that by the act of 1876, the amount to be paid by the United Companies in lieu of transit duties was to be continued until a tax of one-half per cent. upon the cost of the properties should exceed that amount. In other words, that they should not pay upon the "true value," as other roads do under that act, until the cost reached a sum which would produce that amount. Now, in view of the facts that a very considerable proportion of the property of the United Companies is held at the cost price fixed thirty (30) or forty (40) years ago, and has annually risen in value; that its possessions acquired on the shore fronts, and the improvements made thereon, are almost priceless; it is apparent that the true value is very much greater than the cost; and that a tax of one-half of one per cent. upon that value, would produce fully as much as the sum now paid. Again, the act of 1869, being a contract, has been invoked in our courts for the protection of the company against both local and State taxation, and has been held to be good. Being so considered and used as against any change by the State to the disadvantage of the company, it should be equally so as against any change of its provisions to the detriment of the State. The proviso to the first section of the act of 1876, and the explanatory act of that year, do attempt to make such a change, and are, therefore, unjust to the State, and should be repealed.

Before leaving this subject, I would state that, from the opportunities which I have had and from the facts which have been presented themselves, I am led to believe that the labor of securing information in regard to the value of railroad property is too onerous to be conducted by any officer, not specially intrusted with it, and whose time is not wholly at his command for that purpose. The special duties required of the Comptroller in this regard, are foreign to the regular work of his office, are a very large addition to it; and are performed without compensation. He is, for these and other reasons, compelled to depend, in a very great degree, upon the statements made to him by the companies, and prevented from securing such accurate information as would warrant him in rejecting them, as being "untrue or insufficient," and yet, until he does this, the statement of the company is required to be taken. This difficulty can be remedied by vesting the power and duty of examining and approving the reports, and the facts upon which they are based, in an officer specially appointed for that purpose. The law doing this should require annual report of the operations of the office to be made to the Governor and Legislature.

If this be done; the proviso of the act of 1876 be repealed, and the Legislature shall itself give such a construction of the words "true value" as will clearly show them to mean the full worth of the enterprise to the company using it, the tax from this source can be very materially increased, as it undoubtedly should be.

The report of the Commissioner of Railroad Taxation contains much valuable information, and also points out some difficulties in the practical operation of the present law as regards the municipal tax. Suggestions are also made by him of changes which he believes would relieve those difficulties. To these suggestions, and to those which are presented above, I ask your careful consideration, satisfied, as I am, that the subject, because of the principles involved and the importance of its bearing upon the welfare of the State, will amply repay the labor you may put upon it.

THE RIPARIAN COMMISSION.

It is very gratifying to note that the business of the Commission during the past year was much more than double that of the preceding year, thus practically evidencing the recognition by the shore owners of the rights of the State in the riparian land, and their disposition to acquire them for themselves by purchase or lease. These grants and leases have been made in every county of the State fronting on tide waters. The lands still in possession of the State are of great value, particularly in the bay of New York and in the Hudson and Delaware rivers. The operations of the Commissioners during the past year were as follows:

Grants of the fee	$210,152 28
Leases converted into grants	33,275 50
Leases made, at a rental of 7 per cent	197,820 08
	$441,247 86
Received on leases heretofore made	65,202 45
	$506,450 31

Besides these, leases and grants amounting to forty thousand dollars ($40,000) have been agreed upon, but are awaiting the completion of papers. The Commissioners, in accordance with the powers vested in them, and in response to applications for increased accommodations for warehousing, shipping and other commercial purposes, have established a new exterior line for piers further out into the river in front of Jersey City.

STATE PRISON.

The operations of this institution are fully set forth in the reports of the several officers and show a decided improvement over those of last year, owing to the fact that steady employment has been furnished to the men whose labor has been contracted for. The number of convicts in the institution at the beginning of the year was eight hundred and three (803); received during the year, four hundred and fifty-four (454); discharged and died, four hundred and fifty-nine (459); leaving in the prison at the close of the year seven hundred and ninety-eight (798); being five (5) less than at the close of last year. Of this number thirty-two (32) are females, and seven hundred and sixty-six (766) are males. Contracts have been made, and are now in force, with several parties for the labor of these men. These contracts specify the minimum number which the contractors agree to take and pay for, with the right to use a larger number at the same price. The following table shows, in a condensed form, the several contracts; the number which the contractors agree to pay for, the number employed on each, and the price paid per man per day:

CONTRACT.	Min'm No. contr'd for.	No. employed.	Price per day.
Shoes	100	100	60c.
Laundry	80	85	50c.
Shirts	80	95	50c.
Collars	20	60	50c.
Boxes	20	20	50c.
Whips	40	40	50c.
Rubber goods	30	70	50c.
	370	470

Of the two hundred and ninety-six (296) men not actually employed on the several contracts, forty-one (41) are used as runners; twenty (20) in the kitchen and laundry; forty-seven (47) in different trades and employment around the prison and grounds; sixty-four (64) are crippled, old and infirm; sick and attendants in hospital, twenty-eight (28); leaving ninety-six (96) persons capable of labor unemployed.

By the report of the Supervisor, the expense of maintaining the prison during the past year was as follows:

Maintenance	$62,502 80
Repairs	5,784 33
Paid discharged convicts	1,402 00
Salaries of officers and inspectors	9,000 00
Salaries of deputies	51,073 81
	$129,762 94
Earnings of prisoners	68,599 67
Net loss to the State	$61,163 27
Net loss of previous year	68,888 94

The cost of maintaining the institution, as given above, exceeds that of last year by ten thousand one hundred and seventy-two dollars and twenty-six cents ($10,172.26). This is accounted for by the fact that while there was a diminution in the repair account of about five thousand five hundred dollars ($5,500), there was an increase of about eleven thousand dollars ($11,000) in the cost of supplies used in the maintenance of the institution, and of nearly five thousand dollars ($5,000) in the salaries paid to deputies. The earnings of the prisoners show an increase over those of last year, of seventeen thousand eight hundred and ninety-six dollars and ninety-three cents ($17,896.93).

The officers unite in suggesting the propriety, if not necessity, of providing additional shop room and of removing the gas works. Some of them recommend that the west wing be rebuilt. In view of the fact stated above, that there are about one hundred (100) men fit for labor who are not now employed, I renew my recommendation of last year that additional shop-room be provided. There is immediately adjoining the south wall of the prison a large plot of ground available for this purpose. I cannot agree as to the propriety of subjecting the State to the large expense involved in the reconstruction of the west wing. There does not seem to be any immediate necessity for it. The number of inmates at the close of the last two years was less than that of any year, save one, since 1876. In the meantime the north wing has been rebuilt, thus largely increasing the number of cells. It would seem, therefore, that this work can well be deferred. The present location of the gas works is certainly a source of danger to the work-shops to which they are near, and I would recommend that measures be taken to provide for their removal to another point. The law of 1881, limiting the number of convicts to be employed on any one branch of labor to one hundred (100) men, has not worked disadvantageously to the State; the number of men employed is as large as that of any ordinary year preceding it; and the net cost to the State Treasury of running the institution, but for the increased cost of food and other supplies, and the increase in the salaries of the deputies, would compare favorably with that of the most successful period of the management of the institution.

REFORMATORY.

Reform School for Boys.—The number of inmates of the school at the beginning of the year was two hundred and sixty-six (266); committed, one hundred and thirty (130); returned, twenty-three (23); total, four hundred and nineteen (419); ninety-seven (97) of these were discharged, leaving in the institution at the close of the year three hundred and twenty-two (322), a very marked increase over the number of last year. The institution has received from the State Treasury during the past year, thirty-two thousand and seventy-six dollars and twenty-five cents ($32,076.25). Of this amount six thousand dollars ($6,000) was a special appropriation for a new family building; and three thousand dollars ($3,000) which, although paid during the last year, was included in the report of the preceding year. The amount of money from the State expended in the maintenance of the school was, therefore, twenty-three thousand and seventy-six dollars and twenty-five cents ($23,076.25); there was derived from the labor of the boys in the shirt factory, fourteen thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine dollars and ninety-two cents ($14,859.92); from the sale of farm products and miscellaneous sources, three thousand four hundred and ninety-nine dollars and twenty-two cents ($3,499.22), and from the board of boys, five hundred and eighty-nine dollars and six cents ($589.06). The farm products amounted to nearly ten thousand dollars ($10,000), an increase over last year of about thirty-six hundred dollars ($3,600); and over four hundred thousand (400,000) bricks were manufactured, nearly three hundred thousand (300,000) of which were used in the construction of the new family building, a saving of about three thousand dollars ($3,000). Although the work in the laundry is well adapted to the requirements of the institution, in that it allows time for instruction and amusement, the trustees outline a plan of instruction in trades. As this will involve the supplying of workshops, skilled instructors and largely increased steam power, the trustees wisely defer a more elaborate presentation of it to some future time. The Legislature, at the last session, appropriated six thousand dollars ($6,000) for the construction and furnishing of an additional family building. In order to provide additional room, the trustees determined to alter the plans and construct a double building. The appropriation was exhausted in the erection of the walls and putting the building under cover, and the trustees, therefore, ask for an additional seven thousand dollars ($7,000) to complete the building and supply steam, heat, and school furniture and books. Reference is renewed as to the danger of the use of kerosene in the lighting of the building, and the erection of gas works suggested; it is estimated that they could be provided for five thousand dollars ($5,000). The trustees also recommend the appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) for the building of a chapel or assembly room. It is to be regretted that the State has been placed in a position whereby it is compelled to make a further appropriation for the family building, or else lose the advantage of that already made. The great danger to which the buildings are exposed by the extensive use of kerosene, among so many boys, and in buildings so far removed from assistance in case of fire, makes the providing of gas works almost an absolute necessity; and I recommend that a sufficient appropriation be made for it. The health of the institution has been remarkably good; the sickness has been trivial in character, and no deaths have occurred. In all its aspects the condition of the institution is decidedly good, and worthy of commendation.

Industrial School for Girls.—The number of pupils in this institution at the close of last year was twenty-five (25); committed during the year, twenty (20); returned to the school, six (6); making a total of fifty-one (51). Of these, seven (7) have been discharged and returned to friends, ten (10) indentured, and three (3) put on trial, leaving at the close of the year thirty-one (31) inmates. For the support and care of this number, the State has invested in real estate and personal property, as shown by the inventory of the institution, some forty-five thousand dollars ($45,000). The balance in the hands of the treasurer at the close of last year was four hundred and ninety-two dollars and thirty-two cents ($492.32). The receipts were six thousand dollars ($6,000) from the State, and six hundred and forty dollars and ninety-five cents ($640.95) from various sources. The cost of maintenance was six thousand one hundred and fifty-one dollars and seventy-two cents ($6,151.72), leaving a balance on hand of nine hundred and eighty-one dollars and fifty-five cents ($981.55). The general management of the institution has been unexceptionably good, and while the cost for each inmate seems to be large, it is clearly attributable to the large scale on which the institution was projected, and the small number to which it can be made to apply.

SCHOOLS.

The report of the State Superintendent shows a steady improvement in school matters. The school tax has produced very considerably more than last year; the surplus revenue over three thousand dollars ($3,000) more; and the amount raised by district tax for teachers' salaries and maintaining the schools is over twenty-three thousand dollars ($23,000) more. The character of the school buildings is gradually improving; and the total enrollment of pupils is nearly six thousand (6,000) in excess of that of last year.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

The past year of this institution has been a continuance of its successful course. The number of pupils enrolled in the school during the year was two hundred and thirty-three (233)—thirty-five (35) males, and one hundred and ninety-eight (198) females, but three (3) less than last year. Of the total number twenty-three (23)—ten (10) per cent.—were from other States. Twenty-five (25) graduated from the advanced course and fourteen (14) from the elementary. The diploma of the school carries with it the assurance of fitness and scholarship, and the graduates find ready employment in the schools of the State. The health of the institution has been uniformly good during the year. The addition to the boarding houses has been completed; the new building gives additional room in the boarding halls by the removal therefrom of the kitchen, laundry and bath rooms, and provides every appointment necessary for a complete boarding house. The annual appropriation for the support of the school is fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000). In 1872, the Legislature appropriated five thousand dollars ($5,000), annually to be expended in fifty (50) scholarships of one hundred dollars ($100) each, to be allotted among the pupils of the school. In 1873 the Legislature provided that until the system of scholarships should be perfected by the board of trustees of the school, the scholarship fund should be paid toward the purposes connected with the school and boarding house property, as in the judgment of the trustees would be for the best interest of the State and the cause of education. Under this act the scholarship appropriation of five thousand dollars ($5,000) (including that of the previous year) has been paid to the authorities of the school, and been expended for the purposes of the school and for the increase of the boarding house property. In addition to this, a special appropriation of thirty-one thousand two hundred and twenty-five dollars ($31,225) was made in 1879, for the purpose of paying off certain mortgages on the boarding house property. Since 1872, there has been expended upon this property, out of moneys paid directly from the State Treasury, seventy-five thousand one hundred dollars ($75,100), and there has been applied to the school, beside the annual appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), the sum of eleven thousand one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($11,125). No system of scholarships has yet been perfected. The property thus acquired for the boarding houses consists of a plot of land near the school one hundred and forty-five (145) feet by four hundred and eight (408), on which are erected buildings capable of accommodating three hundred (300) female and eighty (80) male pupils, with all the necessary appointments and conveniences. The discretion and skill by which the trustees have succeeded in making such large and extensive improvements, with the comparatively small specific appropriation from the State, is deserving of recognition, and credit is due them for the general management of the schools, in which they have been ably supported by the principal and his assistants. As the trustees have demonstrated that there is no need of the scholarships, and as the necessary buildings are all completed and paid for, the appropriation to scholarship fund might well be discontinued.

LUNATIC ASYLUMS.

The State provides for the care of the insane in its institutions at Morristown and Trenton, and in the county asylums of Burlington, Camden, Cumberland, Essex, Hudson, Passaic and Salem. Toward the support of these institutions the State pays one dollar ($1) per week for each county patient in the several asylums; and seven dollars ($7) per week for each convict-patient in the Trenton Asylum. The counties pay three dollars ($3) per week for each patient sent to the State asylums.

The reports of the managers and superintendent of the Trenton Asylum, show that there were in the institution at the beginning of the year five hundred and seventy-seven (577) patients; received during the year, one hundred and eighty-six (186); total, seven hundred and sixty-three (763); of these seventy-seven (77) have been discharged and fifty-seven (57) died, leaving at the close of the year six hundred and twenty-nine (629) patients. Of these, five hundred and four (504) are county patients; thirty-five (35) are convict patients, and ninety (90) are private patients; five (5) of the last class being from other States. Of the convict patients, three (3) were sent to the State Prison from Bergen; six (6) from Essex; eleven (11) from Hudson; eight (8) from Union; and one (1) from Warren. The board of managers refer to the presence of the convict insane as a "dark spot" in the prosperity and well being of the institution, and ask their removal for several reasons, among them the want of more room for the increasing number of patients. The superintendent also refers to the crowded condition of the institution, and asks to be relieved of the care of this class of patients in order to make place for those for whom the asylum was originally erected. There is no doubt but that the building is crowded beyond its fair capacity for the successful treatment and care of all of its inmates. But, while I am of the opinion that something should be done for the relief of the institution, I am not satisfied that the plan proposed is a proper one, or that, if carried out, it would meet the difficulty it is designed to cure. It seems to me that if a person be insane it matters not, so far as the care and treatment which he should receive are concerned, whether he had been convicted of a crime before that insanity developed or not. The crime itself may have been the result of the latent and hitherto unnoticed mental derangement. Why should it be said that a man who is acquitted by a jury on the ground of insanity should be sent to one class of institution, and that another who was not able to demonstrate his mental weakness until after conviction, should be sent to another? There does not seem to me to be any more difficulty, practically, in caring for insane convicts than for insane gentlemen. If the one be violent or refractory, the same means will curb him that restrains the other; if he be knavish and cunning, the same methods must be used for his control as for that of the other. The causes and results of insanity are varied. The insane convict may be quiet and tractable, and the private patient may be most violent and dangerous. The first may be such as would be pleasant to those around him, and the other may be one who contaminates any with whom he comes in contact. Where, then, is the line to be drawn? Reflection leads me to believe that it should lie between responsibility and irresponsibility. The stroke by which the Divine will blots out a man's reason, should destroy with it the consequences of his previous crime so far, at least, as his treatment in a public institution is concerned. If the convict had remained sane in the prison, the effort would be made to have him forget his evil life and its associations; to become a better man; he would have been attended, if he so desired, by pious persons anxious to teach him of a better life, and to lead him to it; at his release he would have been furnished with means enough to enable him to seek out new associations, and to find proper employment. But because he becomes insane before his release, the stigma is to remain upon him, and he is to be kept aloof from others not so unfortunate, as one doubly accursed. I can see no propriety or justice in the idea, and feel that some other and more effective way should be found to relieve the institution.

The whole institution gives proof of the ability and care with which its affairs are managed. The buildings and grounds are kept in good order; the proper and necessary repairs being made from the current receipts. Besides these a new machine-shop has been built, providing the needed storage-room for oils, &c., and also sleeping-rooms for employees. The farm, garden, dairy, and grist mill, have more than paid their expenses, at the market rate of their productions. The receipts for the year were:—From the State for county patients, twenty-four thousand two hundred and sixty-four dollars and sixteen cents ($24,264.16); for convict patients, thirteen thousand four hundred and fifty dollars and sixty-nine cents ($13,450.69); from the counties for county patients, seventy-nine thousand nine hundred and fifty-five dollars and sixty-eight cents ($79,955.68); from private patients, twenty-four thousand nine hundred and thirteen dollars and fourteen cents ($24,913.14); from sales of products, &c., seven thousand eight hundred and sixty dollars and fourteen cents ($7,860.14); from rents, three hundred and twenty-four dollars ($324); these, with the balance on hand at beginning of year, amounted to one hundred and sixty-six thousand five hundred and eighty-four dollars and twenty cents ($166,584.20). The expenditures were one hundred and fifty-one thousand and sixty-one dollars and fifty-two cents ($151,061.52), leaving a balance on hand at the close of the year of fifteen thousand five hundred and twenty-two dollars and sixty-eight cents ($15,522.68). The annual inventory shows the property of the institution to be one hundred and eight thousand four hundred and eighty-four dollars and eighty-eight cents ($108,484.88), a falling off from last year of about six thousand dollars ($6,000).

The number of patients in the Morristown Asylum at the beginning of the year was six hundred and forty-one (641); received during the year, one hundred and seventy-four (174); discharged, ninety-three (93); died, fifty-five (55); remaining at the close of the year, six hundred and sixty-seven (667). Of these, five hundred and twenty-four (524) were county patients and one hundred and forty-three (143) private patients; of the private patients sixty-*six (66) are from other States. There are no con*vict patients. The receipts of the institution were, from private patients fifty-eight thousand two hundred and thirty-three dollars and three cents ($58,233.03); from the counties for county patients, eighty-seven thousand one hundred and ninety-two dollars and eighty-seven cents ($87,192.87); from the State Treasury, for county patients, twenty-six thousand six hundred and fifty-one dollars and forty-one cents ($26,651.41); miscellaneous sources, five thousand five hundred and ninety-seven dollars and thirty-six cents ($5,597.36); these, with the balance of thirteen thousand eight hundred and one dollars and seventy-six cents ($13,801.76), make the total resources of the institution one hundred and ninety-one thousand four hundred and seventy-six dollars and forty-three cents ($191,476.43). Of this amount one hundred and fifty-nine thousand nine hundred and twenty dollars and seventeen cents ($159,920.17) was expended in the support of the institution and its inmates; thirteen thousand two hundred and eighty-three dollars and thirty cents ($13,283.30) in grading grounds, improvements and repairs to, and painting of, the buildings; and seventeen thousand and seventy dollars and fourteen cents ($17,070.14) remain as balance on hand. The improvements and repairs made to the grounds and buildings consist of the painting of the outside wood and metal work, the grading and sodding of some part of the lawn, the laying out of shade trees, repairs to the bed of the railroad, &c. The officers call attention to the necessity of further improving the grounds, and ask that for this and the ordinary purposes the cost to the counties of supporting the county patients may be increased from three dollars ($3) to three and a-half dollars ($3.50) per week, thus avoiding the necessity of appealing to the Legislature for special appropriations for that purpose. However convenient this plan may be, I cannot consider it a salutary one. It seems to me to be preferable that the price to be paid by the counties and the State for keeping the indigent patients should not be in excess of the cost of maintaining the institution, employing its officers and attendants, and making such repairs as are necessary to keep the buildings and grounds in good order. Anything beyond this should be done subject to the knowledge and approval of the Legislature, and upon specific appropriations made by it. Such part of the increase asked for, as may be found to be necessary for the support of the institution, should be made. It will be noticed that complaints have been made as to the disposition of the waste water from the building, and your attention is called to it in order that the proper remedies may be applied if it be found that the draining of these waters in the adjoining streams tends to pollute them. The system pursued seems to have been carefully devised to avoid the difficulties complained of, and can, no doubt, be readily made to do so.

The question as to the best method of relieving the Trenton Asylum of its overplus of inmates is a serious one, and should be promptly remedied. It will be observed that there are in the Trenton Asylum six hundred and twenty-nine (629) patients, a number much beyond its ordinary capacity for effectual treatment; and in the Morristown Asylum six hundred and sixty-seven (667) patients, a smaller number than that for which it was designed and is capable of accommodating. The transfer of the forty-two (42) county patients sent from Somerset county; the fifty-one (51) from Hunterdon; and the twenty-eight (28) convict patients sent from the counties of Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Union and Warren, one hundred and twenty-one (121) in all, would relieve the Trenton Asylum, and would still leave room in the Morristown Asylum, without disturbing the sixty-six (66) patients from other States. To effect this result, I would recommend that the law be changed so as to authorize these transfers, and also to provide that hereafter the county and convict pa*tients from the counties of Bergen, Essex, Hud*son, Hunterdon, Morris, Passaic, Somerset, Sussex, Union and Warren, be sent to Morristown, and from the other counties to the Trenton Asylum. It is, perhaps, proper here to state that the reason for sending all insane convicts to the Trenton Asylum is that it is claimed that the State Prison act requires their removal to it. If this construction be correct, the act should be modified so as to compel the distribution as above directed.

Besides the inmates of the State institutions there are in the county asylums seven hundred and forty-six (746) patients, divided as follows: Essex, three hundred and twenty-eight (328); Hudson, two hundred and twenty-two (222); Camden, seventy-nine (79); Burlington, sixty-four (64); Passaic, thirty-six (36); Cumberland, ten (10); and Salem, seven (7). For these the State pays one dollar ($1) per week, and the amount paid from the State Treasury during the last year was thirty-seven thousand six hundred and forty dollars and forty cents ($37,640.40). I desire to renew my recommendation of last year that if the State is to continue to contribute toward the support of these institutions, they should be brought more closely under State surveillance. Enquiry should be made as to the condition on which patients are admitted, how they are treated, and how discharged.

DEAF AND DUMB, BLIND AND FEEBLE MINDED.

The number of pupils either wholly or partly supported by this State in institutions located in other States, at the present time, is two hundred and thirty-two (232). Of these one hundred and thirty-nine (139) are deaf and dumb, forty-four (44) are blind, and forty-nine (49) are feeble minded. Provision has been made for the establishment of an institution for the deaf and dumb within this State. When completed, which will be during the present year, it will provide accommodations for about one hundred and twenty-five (125) pupils, with the necessary officers and attendants. The sum appropriated by the act has proved inadequate for the completion of the building, as more repairs and improvements were necessary than had been supposed. The Trustees deemed it best to proceed with the work, as far as the appropriation allowed, rather than to wait another year before commencing it. It is estimated that twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) will be needed to place the establishment in a condition for occupancy. Appropriation should be made by you for this purpose and for the transportation of the pupils to the institution. The number of trustees should be increased so as to provide an equal representation of the several Congressional districts. In doing this it would be well, in my opinion, to form the board exclusive of officers of the State, because the present act imposes upon them extra work, foreign to their official duties, and the participation in the deliberations and acts of the board, may prevent the proper exercise of the supervisory powers and duties vested in them by the law.

HOME FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS.

The report of the Board of Managers fully presents the condition of this Institution, and shows it to be about the same as at the date of the last report. The number of the inmates at the beginning of the year was three hundred and sixty-four (364); admitted during the year, one hundred and five (105); re-admitted, two hundred and thirty (230); total under care, six hundred and ninety-nine (699). Of these, two hundred and sixty-four (264) were discharged, fourteen (14) expelled, and thirty-two (32) have died, leaving, at the close of the year, three hundred and eighty-nine (389), an increase of twenty-five (25). It will be noticed, in this connection, that a very large proportion of the inmates are transient in their attendance, and the reports of each succeeding year show that more than one-half of the inmates are what are called "re-admissions," i. e., persons seeking and using the home at irregular periods. Of the inmates, five hundred and sixty-four (564) served in New Jersey regiments, and one hundred and thirty-five (135) in those of other States and of the United States. Besides the inmates of the Home, its benefits are bestowed upon a class known as "out-patients," as to the number of which I am unable to speak, as the reports are silent upon this subject. The receipts of the institution during the year were thirty-five thousand three hundred and eighty-two dollars and ninety-one cents ($35,382.91) from the State; one thousand and eighty-three dollars and eight cents ($1,083.08) from patients in the Home, receiving a pension of over eight dollars ($8) per month from the general government; four hundred and fifteen dollars and fifty-one cents ($415.51) from sale of refuse and old clothing; and seventy-two dollars ($72) from rent of buildings. These items, with the balance of one thousand and five dollars and sixty-four cents ($1,005.64), make the resources for the year thirty-seven thousand nine hundred and fifty-nine dollars and fourteen cents ($37,959.14). The expenditures were thirty-six thousand seven hundred and two dollars and twenty-three cents ($36,702.23), of which amount nine thousand three hundred and fifty-four dollars and fifty cents ($9,354.50) was cash paid to out-patients; the balance, twenty-seven thousand three hundred and forty-seven dollars and seventy-three cents ($27,347.73), was expended for provisions, salaries, furniture, clothing, medicines, tobacco and the other items of supplies for the home, and the burial of the dead. The act for the organization of the home was passed in 1866, when there was no similar institution provided by the general government, and no pensions paid by it to the soldiers of the rebellion. It was broad and liberal in its scope and policy, and was designed to not only provide a home for these residents of New Jersey who had become disabled, but also to aid those who, by reason of partial disability, were unable to provide for their comfortable support. Its doors were opened to all persons who could show their service and their disability, and it was provided that in return for the support and care thus given, the applicant should agree to transfer to the State, for the use of the home, any pension to which he might be entitled, during the time he should be the subject of its care. The list of expenditures shows that the institution makes every provision for the comfortable support of its inmates, and for the furnishing of medical advice, attendance and supplies, and some of the luxuries. Of the six hundred and ninety-nine (699) persons who were in the home during the year, three hundred and ninety-three (393) of them received pensions from the general government, amounting to from four (4) to eighteen (18) dollars per month, and from these the home received one thousand and eighty-three dollars and eight cents ($1,083.08), an average of about three dollars ($3) per year. It is proper to say, however, in this connection, that the Board of Managers, from their report, do not seem to have collected anything from the inmates receiving eight dollars ($8) and less per month. How many there are of these I am unable to say. But the fact remains that the total received is not as large as is contemplated by the act establishing the home.

In addition to the regular annual appropriation of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), *the Managers ask that an additional appropria*tion of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) be made. Before making the appropriation, I feel that it would be well for you to make an examination into the affairs of the institution, and to take such measures as will recognize the changes made in the condition of the late soldiers, by the very liberal provisions of the general government, in the matter of pensions and the establishment of soldiers' homes at Augusta, Milwaukee, Dayton and Hampton, and which, while amply providing for the comfortable support of those unable by reason of disability to provide for themselves, will not be such as to encourage habits of thriftlessness and a spirit of willing dependence upon public aid. Apart from the very liberal interpretation of the provisions of the law by the Board of Managers, the affairs of the home seem to be well conducted.

MILITIA.

The condition of the National Guard is fully set forth in the several departmental reports. Some falling off in numbers has occurred during the past year. Two (2) companies of infantry and one *(1) battery of artillery have been dis*banded, and one company of infantry has been organized. The organized force consists of forty-eight (48) companies of infantry, and two (2) gatling gun companies,—a total of two hundred and fifty-nine (259) officers and twenty-nine hundred and sixty-one (2961) men, a decrease of three hundred and twelve (312) in the total number. In discipline and soldierly qualities, the high standard of the past, has been maintained. The entire force is armed with the most approved weapons; and all but six hundred (600) of the men supplied with new uniforms. The entire force, though small, constitutes a compact body of well drilled men, under competent officers, well armed and equipped for active service. During the year the First Brigade assembled in one body at Santiago Park, and was drilled in field practice, at which a precision in movement was displayed scarcely to have been expected. The Second Brigade took part in the military parade at Philadelphia, and maintained its well earned reputation. The drill in rifle practice has been kept up with very satisfactory results; all of the companies, save two, having participated in it. In consequence of an unwillingness on the part of the persons having charge of the Stockton Rifle Range to limit the expense necessary for its use by the National Guard, to such an amount as the terms of the arrangement with them fairly required, the practice there was by my order discontinued. The amount of rent paid for rifle ranges was five thousand two hundred and ninety-one dollars and thirty-two cents ($5,291.32), of which three thousand dollars ($3,000) was for the use of Brinton Range for the last year, and the balance was the final payment for the use of Stockton Range the previous year.

YORKTOWN CELEBRATION.

Delays in adjusting certain claims for transportation furnished by the railroad and steamboat companies, and for certain other expenses, prevented the earlier filing with the Comptroller of the report of expenditures connected with the Yorktown celebration. On the 29th of December last, the final payment was audited and paid by the Quartermaster-General, making the total disbursement on this account twenty-six thousand seven hundred and ten dollars and eighteen cents ($26,710.18). The balance, seven hundred and ninety-nine dollars and ninety-nine cents ($799.99), has been returned to the Treasury, and the report filed with the Comptroller as required by law.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The annual report of the Rutgers Scientific School shows that the institution is in a flourishing condition. Its income is derived from the interest paid on the bonds, in which the proceeds of the sale of public lands donated by the general government were invested. At the opening of the college year, the number of applications for admissions exceeded the number of scholarships at the disposal of the trustees. There are now a few vacancies, certain students having failed to qualify for admission or to retain their appointments, but the vacant places are wanted by others, and will be occupied. Interesting statistics, recently collected, as to the occupation of the students who have left the college within the last few years, show that the graduates are applying their training to the practice of agriculture and the mechanic arts, and prove the advantages of an education in this Institution. The college farm is proving to be a most valuable aid in teaching agricultural principles to the working farmers of the State. It is also furnishing an almost indispensable adjunct to the successful working of the State Agricultural Experiment Station.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATIONS.

The work of this department has been prosecuted during the year with the usual ability and vigor, and with results valuable to the agriculture of the State, in the interest of which it was established. The aim is, by accurate testing of various soils and crops to determine which are the best adapted to the other, and what fertilizers can supply special deficiencies. The experiments in the laboratory are supplemented by trials in the field at the station farm, and the result of the findings conveyed to the farmers of the State by bulletins issued by the department, and sent to all who may desire them. The result is not only the awakening of a renewed interest in the minds of agriculturists, but also the conveying of intelligence, which otherwise could only be obtained by them through costly experiments. It is gratifying to find that the work of the station is appreciated by the farmers, as is evidenced by the many letters of enquiry and of acknowledgment received from them. While not neglecting other crops, an extended system of analyses and experiments have been made on the culture and capability of the sorghum plant as a food for cattle and as a producer of sugar. Field experiments on corn have been made on land in seven (7) counties of the State, and many analyses made of fertilizers, food and fodders, and milk.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

The Geological Survey continues to do its useful work in developing and publishing the natural productions and resources of our State. The geodetic survey which forms the basis of geographic maps, has been extended over nearly three-fourths of the State. The topographical survey has been actively prosecuted during the year, and seventeen hundred and forty (1740) square miles are now surveyed, of which eight hundred and forty-seven (847) square miles, covering the district most densely populated, have been mapped and the maps extensively distributed. These maps give the heights of all parts of their surface above the sea-level, and are of very great use in projecting works of drainage, water supply and road and railroad locations. The later surveys have been directed so as to cover the mountain region in which our iron mines are worked, and these will be completed in the early part of next season.

The iron and zinc mines are shown to have continued in their yield, and a number of valuable mines have been opened during the last year. The industries dependent on our fire and potter's clays have been in full activity. The question of water supply occupies a large space in the report. It is shown that more than half the population of the State is now dependent on public water-works for their supply, and that there is urgent need for this supply to be kept pure and abundant.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The work which has been accomplished by the State Board of Health, for the last year, is very fully set forth in its sixth report. Local boards of health frequently avail themselves of the opinions and advice of this board. It also conducts various investigations of much importance in conserving the health and life of the people of the State. In the early part of the year a sanitary inspection was made of the more prominent resorts upon our sea-coast as well as several special localities to which the attention of the board had been called. In addition to the important duties previously assigned to the board, the sanitary inspection of charitable and penal institutions which the last Legislature authorized, has revealed important facts and resulted in some valuable improvements.

The laws prohibiting the sale of unsafe kerosene and of adulterated milk, foods and drugs, have been faithfully supervised. Under the law as to the contagious diseases of animals, the board has had occasion to guard localized outbreaks, and has succeeded in preventing their spread.

LABOR BUREAU.

The report of this department gives evidence of much work done during the year, in the direction of fulfilling the function for which it was created. Occupying, as it does, the position of a friendly intermediary between the employers and employees, with the power and ability to collect information bearing upon their mutual relations, it is of value to both, in being able to correct misapprehensions. The report contains collated statistics as to the manufactures of the State, and special facts relative to breweries, the iron and paper trades, and the oyster industry. Under the act of last year, report has been made to the Bureau showing that there had been confined during the six months up to October thirty-first last, in the twenty-three (23) county jails of the State, seven thousand five hundred and thirty-three (7,533) persons, of whom three hundred and twenty-one (321) were under the age of sixteen (16) years.

By an act passed in 1880, the State agreed to pay bounties for the cultivation and manufacture within the State of certain fibrous plants, and appropriated fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), to be expended in bounties for the plants grown, for the cleaned fibre, and for ramie yarn, (not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) each), and to be paid for a period not to extend beyond April first, 1885. In 1881, a similar act was passed relative to sugar, except that there was no limit as to the amount to be paid. To the Chief of the Bureau of Labor and Industries was assigned the duty of examining these claims, and certifying as to their correctness. Under the act relative to fibres, he has approved and certified bills to the full amount authorized to be paid for the plants and the fibre. The act is, therefore, exhausted as to these two subjects, and authorizes until 1885 the payment of not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) for the yarn. There is no probability that this sum will be called for. Under the sugar bounty act, there have been examined and certified bills amounting to eight thousand six hundred and seventy-eight dollars and forty-four cents ($8,678.44), for over six thousand (6,000) tons of cane raised, and about one hundred and sixty (160) tons of sugar manufactured.

The land on which this cane was raised contained between eight and nine hundred (8-900) acres, some of it just stripped of wood: the poorest of these lands produced four (4) tons of cane to the acre, and some as high as twelve (12) tons. Offers of two and a half dollars ($2.50) per ton were made to farmers for all the cane they would raise, independent of the seed. About one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) bushels of seed are produced to the ton of cane, and it is worth seventy (70) cents per bushel. So that an acre of land worth twenty-five dollars ($25) produced a crop worth over fourteen dollars ($14); and an acre worth fifty dollars ($50) produced a crop worth over forty dollars ($40). To induce people to recognize this fact, the State has paid very liberally. The experiment has demonstrated that the dry, sandy soil of certain of the southern portions of the State is eminently fitted for the successful growth of the sorghum plant, and, having served its object, should be discontinued. It was not recognized at the time of the passage of the act that its conditions could have been so easily filled, or that the expense of carrying it out would have been so large. If it is allowed to remain in its present condition, it will cost the State a very large amount of money, as others come into the raising of the cane, and nothing further will have been gained than the knowledge we now have.

PILOTAGE.

The report of the Pilot Commissioners presents the operations of the year. The Commissioners note that the act of the last Legislature, providing a penalty for the deposit of refuse matter in the navigable waters in New York and Newark bays, has had the effect of causing a discontinuance of the practice, and no complaints have been made of its violation. They also report a gratifying increase in the number of vessels piloted to and from Perth Amboy.

PENSIONS.

Under an act of the Legislature of 1874, the State pays a pension of one hundred dollars ($100) per year to soldiers and sailors of the war of 1812, who do not receive pensions from the general government. At the beginning of the year there were twenty-eight (28) of these, and during the year six (6) have died. Besides these, pensions are paid by special laws to one (1) member of the National Guard who was disabled, and to the family of another, who died from disease contracted, in the service of the State. Under a joint resolution of 1880, the Adjutant General was directed to examine into the claims of indigent persons, for pensions from the general government, and to urge their allowance by it. The duty thus assigned to this officer has been zealously and effectively performed. By it the labor of the department has been very materially increased, necessitating as it does, an immense amount of search into the records, correspondence with the parties and the authorities at Washington, and frequent visits there. To provide for it there has been no increase either in the clerical force of the office, or in the compensation paid the present assistants. I feel that it would be but proper that a larger amount should be placed at the disposal of the department, in order that those who do the work may be fairly compensated for it.

BOUNDARY.

The Commissioners appointed to act with a similar body from New York, in establishing and marking the northern boundary line of this State, have about concluded their labors. A re-survey of the line has been made and mapped; the old monuments have been reset and fastened, and additional ones have been placed at all road and railroad crossings. Large and substantial monuments have been placed at either end of the line. The notes and descriptions have been copied in duplicate record books, and duplicate maps are near completion. A final meeting of the joint commission will soon be held, and the result of their labors submitted in a report to the Legislature during the session.

WATER SUPPLY.

The importance of a broad and comprehensive consideration at the present time, of the probable demand and supply of water for domestic purposes in the future, cannot be overestimated. If there is any one subject in which the State's right of eminent domain should be reserved for the use and benefit of the public, it is in the God-given waters of our streams, so necessary to the convenience, comfort and health of our citizens. While many of the communities of the State are at but the threshold of a great growth and prosperity, the sources and courses of their water-supply are, by natural and artificial causes, being both diminished and polluted. It requires no great powers of prophecy to foresee *how dire, at no remote day, must be the conse*quences of this condition of affairs, to the interests of the most advanced portion of our State, unless its evils are recognized and provided against.

The Legislature at its last session directed the appointment of a commission to consider the subject in some of its bearings. I accordingly appointed Messrs. Ashbel Welch, of Hunterdon, George D. Randell, of Essex, Andrew Clerk, of Hudson, and Henry L. Butler, of Passaic. Mr. Lebbeus B. Ward, of Hudson, was subsequently appointed by the commissioners, under the act. The vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Welch, was filled by the appointment of Mr. John G. Stevens, of Mercer.

The consideration given to the subject by these gentlemen has developed the fact that the powers conferred by the present law are not adequate to the work expected to be derived from it. Their report will contain suggestions as to the changes which they consider should be made in it, and their views as to the most useful and practical plan of treating the question.

CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.

In accordance with the requirements of a joint resolution passed at the last session of the Legislature, I appointed as delegates to represent the different institutions of the State at the National Conference of Charities and Correction, John W. Ward, M. D., Superintendent of the State Lunatic Asylum, at Trenton; Samuel S. Clark, M. D., one of the managers of the Asylum at Morristown; Mr. Charles H. Moore, Supervisor of the State Prison; Mr. George W. Helme, one of the trustees of the Reform School for Boys; and Mr. Samuel Allinson, one of the trustees of the Industrial School for Girls. These gentlemen performed the duty thus assigned them, and their report will be found to be very interesting, and will, no doubt, commend itself to your careful consideration.

Their suggestion as to the establishment of a State Board of Charities and Correction, vested with powers of inspection and enquiry, and with the duty of reporting to the Legislature the condition and needs of the asylums, prisons, jails and almshouses of the State, seems to be worthy of adoption.

The State Board of Pharmacy reports one thousand and fifty-one (1051) registered pharmacists in the State at the close of the year. Of seventy-eight (78) applicants for registration during the year, twenty-four (24) have been rejected.

Commending to your care the interests of the State, I beg leave to express the hope that your sitting may be pleasant to yourselves, and of advantage to those whom you represent.

G. C. LUDLOW.

Executive Department, Jan'y 9, 1883.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors,
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("Chautauqua Building,")
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 1 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor adjoining Flagg's Hotel Building.
Terms:—$2.00 a Year in advance.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1883. No. 3.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

SPACE	WEEKS. 1	2	3	MONTHS. 1	2	3	6	12
1 in...	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in...	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in...	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
4 in...	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
5 in...	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
¼ col...	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
½ col...	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 col...	12.00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	140.00

Double column ads 50 per cent. advance of above rates.

One half-inch advertisements inserted for one week at 25 cents each.

Net rates for all advertisements and no deviation.

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTIN'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
S. Brittin - - - Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.

FARMER'S HOTEL,
SOMERSET ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
(Next to Brook.)
W. HEIDLOFF, - - Proprietor.
Horses and Carriages to Let. Horses Boarded by the DAY, WEEK or MONTH. ap9y1

FRENCH BRO'S, jaly1
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FLOUR, FEED, MEAL, HARD WOOD AND LUMBER,
Somerset Street. Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to. ap4y

GEORGE R. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wools, Sheep Skins & Tallow
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Scraps, for sale Cheap only for Cash. jan1y1

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds,
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
Cor Park Ave. and Second St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET,
ESTABLISHED, - - - 1839.
Bread, Cakes, Pies, Confectionery, &c. made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention. feb8y1

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Flagg's Hotel) Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony St., North Plainfield.
5th house from Somerset St.—left hand side.
Information imparted as regards present and future events, likewise Marriages, Journeys, Lawsuits, &c. She converses in English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed. ap2y1
My husband is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c., cheap for cash.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 26 Park Ave.,
[NEAR SECOND STREET.]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. ☞ REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO!

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works.
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders delivered and set up. L. MANNING,
Front St., next to M. E. Ch., Plainfield, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y. jan6y1

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay,
Straw, &c.,
Peace St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Woods a specialty.
Orders left as above, or addressed to P. O. BOX 66, will receive prompt attention.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS,
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Duer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All wagon orders received and delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
Thankful for past favors I solicit a continuance of the same.

HENRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.,
No. 14 East Second Street,
Bet. Peace St. and Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Also Bottler of Porter, Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and [illegible] Celebrated Weiss Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it to all desiring a cooling and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, families, &c., supplied at the lowest rates for first-class goods. ap7tf

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
Mr. Intyre's Building. Plainfield, N. J.
(P. O. Box, 128.)
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

BENTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures,
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. 2d St. & Madison Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL,
Steiner Place, North Plainfield.
Hardwood mantels and trimmings a specialty. Contracts for all kinds of carpenter work completed. Estimates furnished. Address Plainfield Post-office.

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

MANSION HOUSE!
Cor. Park Ave. & 2d St.,
[One Block from Depot]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
E. P. THORN, Proprietor.
A fine BILLIARD ROOM is attached to the Hotel.
Pure Liquors, Ales, Wines & Segars,
A Specialty at the Bar.
☞ SEE MANSION HOUSE ADV. ON 4th PAGE.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agency for Ulman, Goldsborough & Forster's Atlas, Wilson & Alarm Club Whiskies, Bottled Expressly for Families. Also a full line of Acker, Merrall & Condit's Whiskies and Wines. aug1y1

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 39 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with the Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

CENTENNIAL HALL,
5 SECOND STREET,
FRED. CASPAR, Prop'r.
Sole Agent for Feigenspan & Co's
Champagne Lager Beer.
All kinds of LAGER BOTTLED EXPRESSLY FOR FAMILY USE.
Prompt attention given to orders, and delivery made to any part of the city.

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r.
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.
feb8y1

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts, North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours.

SMITH'S
Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
Blatz's Old Stand, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Alderberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine, and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Also, Ales, Liquors, Segars.
☞ Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 9 to 1.

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND St.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Delaney Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour.

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 1 EXCHANGE PLACE, FIVE DOORS WEST FERRY, JERSEY CITY.

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield. P. O. Box 1[illegible]. Families supplied with pure Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel opp. old Post-office delivered free of charge.

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
HART MOORE, SAMUEL GOODSHALL,
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the traveling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
Brunswick, Balke & Co., Celebrated Pool and Carom tables.
Nothing but temperance drinks, such as Lemonade, Sarsaparilla, Soda Water, &c., also Segars dispensed over the Bar.
Orders taken and executed for painting tin roofs with oxide of iron paint ap7y1

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD
ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT THE
Plainfield Academy for Boys,
Seventh street, inspect the new building, and see the working of the school.
GERMAN, Natural Method, Daily at 10 a. m.
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French.......... $100
Elementary Department, without German and French.......... 80
Primary Department, without German and French.......... [illegible]
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for ladies and gentlemen, by the Natural Method, meet in the afternoon and evening.
Principals—James Lyon, J. C. Lewinsky, Ph. D. (of Berlin University). With experienced assistants.
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box 773.

Craig Place School,
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. AUSTIN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Yara.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 22 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 15 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of
Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco, Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

MILLINERY.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 41 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mlle. Doane, 849 Broadway, N. Y. ap1y1

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Stillman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

HOTELS, ETC.

LAING'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH B. MILLER, - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS. GEISE'S
:R:E:S:T:A:U:R:A:N:T:
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
19 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for Ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style.

Accommodation Express.
PETER RICKERT, Prop'r, OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Cor. Cherry St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. The Accommodation Express will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering Goods or Baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., with care and safety. Prompt attention given to all orders.

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue,
P. O. BOX 296.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention.

WM. C. SMITH,
Mason and Builder,
MANNING AVENUE,
First brick house on the right hand side from Somerset Street,
North Plainfield, N. J.
☞ Jobbing Promptly Attended to. Special attention given to Kalsomining.
Orders may be sent to residence or by mail

PROSPECT HILL FARM
BOARDING STABLES.
HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD
On the most reasonable terms. Large, roomy, airy box stalls. Address, G. DeWITT GARRETSON, Bound Brook, New Jersey. Best city references given.
ESTABLISHED 1875. - P. O. BOX [illegible]

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
ALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

ESTABLISHED 1836.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
INTERIOR DECORATORS,
FINE WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,
LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC., ETC.
321 Canal Street, New York.
[Telephone Call—Spring 434.]
GEO. F. BROWN—Residence—11 Duer Street, Plainfield. P. O. Box 1634.

NEW STYLES
WALL PAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTIST COLORS, Etc.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
Between Front and 2d Sts., PLAINFIELD N. J.
P. O. BOX, 362.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
In all their branches.
☞ Satisfaction Guaranteed on all Work. ☜

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING,
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St.
P. O. BOX, 331.
D. WEAVER. P. WEAVER.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

A. A. TITSWORTH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
(Successor to J. R. & F. A. Dunham.)
OFFICE—15 East Front St.,
(Albert's Building.)
Special attention given to Map Drawing, Lettering in India Ink, etc. Copying and Computing.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL,
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM 3:30 to 5:30.
Dodworth's New Lanciers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. 29th.—tf

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!

New Livery!
Having assumed control of the well-known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, cor. Park Avenue and Second St., the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.
New Stock and Material
Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, SIDE-BAR AND TOP BUGGIES, &c., of the LATEST MAKE and STYLE, and other new material will constantly be added.
The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock for themselves.
Yours, Very Respectfully,
J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS,
(Of the late firm of Roberts & Cadmus,)
Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and patrons that he has purchased the stock and leased the premises of the well-known liveryman, Mr. John W. Laing, who for the past many years has so satisfactorily conducted the business on
FRONT STREET,
Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer demands for all kinds of turn-outs at short notice, and hopes for a continuance of past favors. ☞ The boarding and care of horses a specialty.

Mansion House Stables.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALBERT HEDDEN, Prop'r.
Horses and Carriages to let on reasonable terms.
☞ Office on SECOND ST., next to the Mansion House.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

TWO AT THAT GAME.

A week at the watering place, and most of the time each day spent in the company of Mr. Manwell, the gentleman Miss Elsworth's old friend, Ned Whittaker, had introduced to her one morning on the piazza. She had sailed with him, had strolled with him, or ridden with him along the shores on the moonlight evenings, and she had danced with him in the thronged drawing-rooms.

Miss Elsworth was not a flirt, who distributed her likings among many gentlemen; and she had found her ideal well nigh realized in Mr. Manwell. Only the evening before, their talk had withdrawn itself from the general topics, which to each other had been congenial, and in her admiration of his intelligence and manliness, she had encouraged an approach to that personal sort of conversation which relates to love and matrimony.

And now, to find Mr. Manwell this morning, with his coat off and Smith's apron on, engaged in mending a lock! He was doing it publicly. The lock was on the door that led to the middle of the front piazza, where the fashionably dressed ladies and gentlemen were sitting or promenading.

His back was toward her as she approached, leaning on the arm of her friend, Annie West. She recognized him, and looking intently at him, gave her companion over to a party of young ladies near, and stopped and spoke to him.

"Do you like that sort of work, Mr. Manwell?"

"I do, Miss Elsworth. I believe I am a natural mechanic."

"It appears odd, to see you do this."

"It is my trade," he replied, rising from his work and turning to her.

Her cheek blanched a little. "Your trade?" she said faintly.

"My trade, Miss Elsworth. The proprietor said the lock needed mending, and I told him I could mend it for him."

The party of girls came along just then. After wondering at Mr. Manwell a while, and laughing at him, they proposed to ride. There was three carriages among them all; these would take the party.

Ned Whittiker had joined them.

"What the deuce are you about here?" he exclaimed to Mr. Manwell. "Ah," he added, as the latter turned and glanced at him; "but while you are here you might as well enjoy yourself."

Mr. Manwell excused himself from joining the party, and they all went away, leaving him to complete his work.

"It is well," he muttered to himself. "If she cannot take me as I am, she is not worthy of me. The woman that marries me must take me for myself."

He stood and looked after her until she disappeared. She did not once turn to look back.

He gave his shoulders a shrug, compressed his lips, uttered a cynical "humph!" and turned to finish his work.

"Let it be so," he muttered, when he was through, and was putting on his coat. "I thought perhaps, I had found a woman after my own heart. But let it be so. Amid this world of wealth and fashion, she, too, has lost her soul. Let her go."

He avoided her hereafter. He did not seek to catch her eye for a bow of recognition. When she entered the drawing room where he was, he would go out by another way. But he was more than ever in the company of Ned Whittaker. Ned in passing to and fro between Miss Elsworth and him, served still as a link between them.

"You are a cynical fellow," said Ned one day. "Why don't you take people as they are? You will find good enough in them."

"But they won't take me as I am; that is the trouble."

"Pooh! You see yourself that she allows no other suitors to accompany her. Don't you see that she is alone, or with the girls most of the time?"

"Her heart is full of vanity."

"Pshaw! She is trained to luxurious notions; that's all."

Manwell's trunk was awaiting him and the stage, outside on the piazza, at the time this conversation was going on. On the trunk were the initials, "G. M." Miss Elsworth, passing that way, saw the initials—not by chance, for she had been very busy scrutinizing the trunks that lay together in a pile—and when she saw the initials started and turned pale. She recovered herself, and withdrew with her companions a little way, and then stood still and watched. Soon Manwell came out with Ned upon the piazza. He chanced to turn his eyes toward her and their eyes met—met for the first time since she had left him, while he was at work upon the lock. She did not turn away her eyes. She bowed. He approached her and gave her good-by.

What the conversation was then, enacted between the two when they were alone, by means of Ned's ingenuity in spiriting away the rest of the company, is unknown save the following:

"But I am a blacksmith," said Manwell.

"No matter."

"Are you willing to live the life of one who, with his hands, earns his daily bread?"

"I am willing to undergo anything to be with you. I have suffered enough. During these last few days I have learned what it is to despair of being mated to one I love.

"But your mother—your father?"

"Unless I am willing to leave them for your sake I am not worthy of you."

"But the loss of wealth, position, of the surroundings of refinement?"

"Do not say anything more. I am willing to leave all for your sake. I weary of being without you."

"Would you be willing to become my wife this day—this hour?" Your father and mother might put obstacles in your way!"

"I am willing this hour—this minute. They still think you are wealthy—as I did."

"Come, then, we will go on our way with Ned, and become, before the world, what we are now in spirit—husband and wife; and then, at once, we will take the cares for the home I have for you—a home which, though lowly, you will make happy."

"Whither you go I will go."

They were married in a quiet way in the little watering place chapel, with the wicked Ned conniving at the mischief. The next train sped them to the city.

"I will show you the shop where I work," said Manwell when the carriage which they took at the depot had drawn up before one of the long line of brownstone houses, in a splendid part of the city.

"What do you mean?" she demanded, as she accompanied her husband up the broad steps at the door.

"Mean," he replied, "that this is the home, and this is the workshop."

He led her in, and amid other rooms to which he conducted his wife, was one fitted up as a workshop, where he said he was accustomed to indulge his love for mechanical work, after having, he assured her, regularly served his time at learning his trade.

Mrs. Manwell stood and looked at him intently.

"Is this your house?"

"Yes, madam."

"And you are not poor, but rich?"

"You speak the truth, Mrs. Manwell."

"And why did you play the jest upon me?"

"To see whether you really loved me for my own sake."

"Ah, pretty, indeed! And suppose you do not love me?"

"But I do."

"Humph!"

So there was a little family quarrel on the spot.

"Now invite your father and mother to come and see us," said Manwell, after the clouds had somewhat cleared away.

"I will," she replied; "I will. But first you must go with me to see them, and pacify them in view of what we have done."

"Very well."

In a few days they started out in the carriage on their errand. Mrs. Manwell gave the directions to the driver, and her husband expressed his wonder at the increasing squallor of the neighborhood through which they rode. The carriage drew up before a miserable-looking tenement-house and stopped.

"Where the deuce are you taking me?" asked Manwell, looking sharply at his wife.

"Come and see," she replied, as she proceeded to step from the carriage.

"Here wait," he exclaimed, after his first hesitancy, "let me get out first and help you out. What does this mean!"

"Follow me," was her reply.

She led him up stairs, up, up, through throngs and dirt, and smells to the fourth story. Here she opened the door without knocking, and the two entered. The woman was dressed neatly, and so were the children; but they were dressed very poorly, in keeping with the place. The man was clad more carelessly, and even more poorly. On his head he kept his hat, which certainly was fully half a dozen years old.

"My husband, Mr. Manwell; my father and mother, brothers and sisters," said Mrs Manwell, introducing all parties.

Manwell stooped and stared without speaking.

"Ask their pardon, George," said Mrs Manwell, "for running away with me."

"Who are they?"

"Have I not told you! didn't I introduce you?"

"Who were those at the watering-place?"

"Some wealthy people who had seen me at the milliner's where I sewed for a livelihood—served my trade, George,—and fancied my appearance, dressed me up and took me with them."

"You jest."

"Do I? Do I, indeed! These people seemed to recognize me as a daughter and a sister. Jest, indeed! You will find that out."

"You are too cultivated, too tasteful, too fine-featured."

"All this," said Mrs. Manwell, "a milliner may be, or a sewing-girl. Look for yourself among the class. Is it not true? All that we girls need is dress."

Manwell lifted his fist and dashed it through the air. He ground his teeth, and, turning away, left the room, slamming the door violently behind him.

His wife took off her hat and cloak, and flung herself down at a table, and buried her face in her handkerchief.

The door opened again and Manwell put in his head.

"You have deceived me," he said, "but, come, you are my wife, and I will try to bear it."

She sprang to her feet and confronted him.

"Your wife, am I?" she exclaimed, "and doomed to live with one who does not love her, but was in love with her circumstances? No, sir; you may go; I will not live a wife unloved for myself—you make take me thus or I will stay. Still I can work."

He closed the door and retired down stairs to the street, clenching his hands and his teeth as he went.

"The horrible disgrace of it," he muttered. "The derision that will be my lot. And then to marry such a girl!"

But at the street door he tarried. He had to struggle with himself all alone. Suddenly he turned and dashed impetuously up the stairs, flung open the door of the room, seized his wife in his arms and clasped her to his heart.

"My wife," he whispered in her ear; "such you are and ever shall be, before God and before the world."

"Now I begin to think that you love me," she said, smiling in his face. "You do love me? You really think you do, George?"

He clasped her more tightly to him.

"Come, then," she said, "though of such parents as these, poor as they are, I should not feel ashamed—yet they are not my parents, but have only played a part in which I have instructed them. Shake hands with them, George, they are worthy people."

And he did shake hands with them, and, what is more, he helped them.

A merry party was gathered that evening at Manwell's house, a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Manwell and other guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth, a young lady acquaintance of the watering place, and Ned Whittaker. Ned was in better spirits, nor, let it be stated, were Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth, displeased, who forgave their daughter and husband without hesitation.

"I say, George," said Ned, whispering in Manwell's ear, "two can play at that game can't they?"

Manwell took Ned's jeering very soberly. "Yes," said he, after a few moments of thoughtfulness, "and the experience has taught me a lesson. What fools the pride of wealth makes of us all! I thought she ought to have taken me regardless of my circumstances, for myself alone, and without hesitation, even. And yet, when she tested me, I myself was found wanting. Shall we ever learn to disregard a person's occupation and to look only at the character and the soul?"

Ned shrugged his shoulders dubiously.

"I think I have learned the lesson," Manwell added.

One may smile respectfully when Carlyle says of "his Jennie": "Not all the Sands and Elliots and babbling sales of 'celebrated scribbling women' that have strutted over the world in my time, could, it seems to me, if all boiled down and distilled to essence, make one such woman." But remembering Mill's similar wife-worship, it is a slight shock to one's feelings to read Carlyle's disparaging allusions to his friend's bride. It would be interesting to know in propria persona what Mill thought of Mrs. Carlyle.

THE HUMOROUS PAPERS.

WHAT THEY HAVE TO SAY THIS WEEK.

TROUBLES OF AN ELECTOR.

The Local Option bill was carried in Hartford County, Md., at the recent election. Old Uncle Dennis, a colored individual, came in to see us one morning soon afterward, looking as if he had been sent for and couldn't go. "What's the matter, Uncle Dennis?" "Ise all broke up," sighed the old man, as he seated himself and deposited his beaver between his feet. "De fac' am, I don went to 'lection an' Ise felt wrong ebber since." "What's wrong?" we asked again. "I'll tell yer chile. I sorter had my mind made up 'for I went 'bout dis Lopal Auction. I went dar, and 'for I dun voted 'long cum a nice looking man, perzactly like a preacher, an' says he, 'Is you for Lopal Auction?' Says I, 'I is. My mudder an' granmudder was Lopal Auction men, an' so is I.' Den he up, an' says he, 'Take dat, for Lopal Auction,' an' he give me one on de nose. Dat settled me; I changed my mind, an' when dey was a ruff looking chap cums up an' axed me, 'Is you for Lopal Auction?' Says I, 'I ain't, I nebber wos, an' I nebber shall be, my mudder—' with he stopped me' Says he, 'Nebber mind your mudder, take dis for de cause of temperance,' an' wif dat he made me see mo' stars dan I ebber hern ob. Now I ax is dar any udder party? kase if dar am, I'm gwine ter jine it."

DEFICIENCIES IN A CHEESE SHOW.

Now, if cheese could dance a double clog dance and get off conundrums and laugh at them, it would be different. If a lot of cheeses could be arranged in a semi-circle, with "end cheeses," and each cheese could sing a song or tell an old story, like the back number of a nigger show, and some of the cheeses could dress up like females and then turn back somersaults, we might turn out and patronize the show and buy seats several days in advance. Or, if a firkin of butter could play "Hamlet" and another firkin could play "Ophelia," which we are sure butter could do as well as some of those human beings do, who attempt it, it would be a novelty that would draw and fill the exposition. To see a firkin of butter come on to the stage in black tights, and have an interview with another firkin as the "ghost," would take the cake, but they do not attempt such amusement. They are only plain, unvarnished butter. If the Jersey heifer on exhibition could play a society play, or sing in the opera, and the heifer was properly advertised as having flirted with an imported steer, the heifer would draw well, no doubt.—Peck's Sun.

HE MAY STAY.

A perfectly formed specimen of the tramp yesterday called into a top floor office in Detroit, and on being asked his business he replied:

"Could you spare half a dollar to a man who wants to reach Buffalo?"

"No, sir."

"Could you spare a quarter?"

"Not unless he earned it."

"Could he earn it?"

"Yes, sir. There's a ton of coal at the curbstone which I want brought up here."

"A whole ton?"

"That's what I paid for."

"And four stairs high?"

"Yes, this is the fourth story."

The man sighed heavily and was going away when the gentleman called out:

"Well, what do you say?"

"I can't promise, sir. I'll walk around the block and consult my feelings as to how bad I want to reach Buffalo. The more I look at the coal the more I think Detroit the nicest place in the world to winter in."—Free Press.

ALLSPICE.

The operators in the mythical mines are always willing to let you in; but there is quite a difference between letting you win.

The same law which says that a note of hand made on Sunday is not legal says that a marriage contracted on that day is all O. K. in the eyes of the law.

"I hears smart men say dat time is different at different places," said Uncle Mose. "I believe dat's a fact, fur de time allers feels longer to de boy who holds de hoss den ter de man who goes inter de whiskey shop."

One cannot but view with alarm the reported growth of sponge culture in Florida; for any one who has suffered from the experience knows that the "cultered sponge" is the very worst of the whole species.

"Story," said an American friend who was watching the great American artist at work in his studio at Rome. "I wish to ask you a question. In Heaven's name tell me what induced you to give up the glorious profession of the bar to come to Rome and pinch mud?"

The Post Office Department exhibits a gleam of common sense in tackling names of post-offices. There should not be two of the same name in America, and neither should the town have one name and the post-office another. There ought to be names enough to go round without doubling on Columbus, Jefferson, Jackson and Jones.

GIRLS.

The girly girl is the truest girl. She is what she seems, and is not a sham and a pretense. The slangy girl has a hard job of it not to forget her character. The gay girl and the rapid girl are likewise wear*ers of masks. The girly girl never bothers* about woman rights and woman wrongs. She is a girl and is glad of it. She would not be a boy and grow up into a man and vote and go to war and puzzle her brains about stock for a kingdom. She knows nothing about business, and does not want to know anything about it. Her aim is to marry some good fellow and make him a good wife, and she generally succeeds in doing both. She delights in dress and everything that is pretty, and she is not ashamed to own up that she does. She is pleased when she is admired, and let's you see that she is. She is feminine from the top of her head to the end of her toes, and if you try to draw her into the discussion of dry themes she tells you squarely that the conversation does not suit her. She is the personification of frankness. There is not a particle of humbug in her composition. Here is a health to the girly girl! May her numbers never grow less.

Last Sunday evening a Boston divine suddenly paused somewhat near the close of the sermon and said: "We would all be glad if that young man in the vestibule would come inside and satisfy himself if she is or is not here. This would be much better than keeping a half inch draft on the occupants of the back pew." And in the solemn silence that followed the congregation could hear a sound outside as of the retreat of an army with banners.

Merely staff—Turkey dressing.

THE LARGEST IN THE WORLD.

HOW THE DAM AT HOLYOKE WAS BUILT AND A DESCRIPTION OF IT.

The dam to supply water to Holyoke, Mass., is the largest in the world. The Great Barrington Courier tells how it was built. In 1848 some Boston capitalists obtained the water power and a dam was constructed. It was completed on Nov. 6, and, a few days after a great river draining 8,144 square miles was checked in a course. The water slowly filled behind the dam, which soon began to leak badly, and showed signs of weakness. The huge blocks of stone composing the bulkhead soon began to upheave under the tremendous pressure, but before they could give way the dam itself was loosened from its fastenings to the rocky bed of the river, and, turning over like an egg shell, released the pent up waters, and was torn into a thousand pieces, and some of it carried miles below.

In the following spring, having cleared away the debris, the owner built two coffer dams, one on each side of the river, and each extending 200 feet from the bank into the stream. The water was pumped out of these coffer dams, and the bed rock of the river bottom was excavated to a depth of six feet. The construction of the main dam was then begun by laying down three 15-inch square sticks lengthwise across the river, with their upper surface in a plane inclined to an angle of 21 degrees. The rock below was cut to give them a proper bearing, and then the sticks were bolted to the rocks with one and a quarter inch bolts, 3,000 of these bolts being used in the whole dam for this purpose.

In this way the dam was started in sections, six feet from centre to centre, and, as the river is 1,017 feet wide at that place, there were 170 sections. These sections were connected or tied to each other by twelve-inch square sticks running across the river. The structure above the foundation sticks was made up of alternate courses of these ties and rafters, also twelve inch square. Between the rafters in the same course with the ties, short blocks were introduced to stiffen and prevent the bending of the rafters. At the splicing of the rafters long pieces were put in and treenailed to the rafter with eight two-inch tree-nails of oak. The foot of each rafter was scribed and bolted to the rock with 1½ inch iron bolts. The structure was then reared to its full height and its upstream surface covered with six-inch plank, with the exception of a space sixteen feet wide which was left temporarily open. The toe of the dam was secured by placing a second covering of plank at right angles to the first with the lower end scribed and bolted to the rock. Except the space left temporarily open, it was filled solid with gravel. The crest of the dam, four feet on the upstream side, was covered with boiler iron, three-eighths of an inch thick, to protect the top from the blows of drift-wood and ice.

In this manner 400 feet of the dam was completed, 200 feet on each side of the river. As the summer advanced and the water became lower, the coffer dams were extended 200 feet farther on each side, crowding the water in a channel 217 feet wide in the middle of the stream. The structure was continued as above described through the extended coffer dam.

There then remained only the central portion of 217 feet to be completed. Here, to dispose of the water, it became necessary to remove the coffer dams previously constructed, and let the water into the portions of the main dam already completed. A strong coffer dam was then thrown across the gap, four feet higher than the first ones, raising the water and forcing it through the opening left in the main dam. This accomplished and the water pumped out of the coffer dam, the last part of the structure was rapidly pushed forward to completion. The coffer dam in the centre was then removed, and the dam then stood complete, except the opening in the planking, through which the water was then running the whole breadth of the river.

Nothing remained but to close this opening. This was done by building gates of the width of the opening, sixteen feet, and each eighteen feet long. These gates were put together on the slope of the dam above the opening and hung by five strong hinges each to the planking already spiked down. When finished, these gates were raised by derricks and lowered partly over the opening, held in place by a post attached to a lever, which, by power applied at the proper time, would remove the post, leaving the gate to drop into place. All the outer openings in the dam except these gateways had been closed before the removal of the coffer dam. Forty-six gates, each eighteen feet long, were constructed to close these openings.

In all this work nearly 4,000,000 feet of lumber were used. All open spaces were filled and closely packed with stone, as well as gravel, to a height of ten feet, and the planking of the upper portions of the dam was doubled to a thickness of eighteen inches of solid timber. The bed of the river was graveled seventy feet above the dam, and this graveling was continued over thirty-four feet of its sloping surface, which was ninety-two feet from foot to crest. The masonry of the abutments was made of heavy ashlar work, built on a solid edge, and heavy enough to withstand the heavy pressure to which it is subjected.

The gates were closed on October 22, 1849, and in the presence of 3,000 spectators, the water filled the pond behind the dam and in the evening was so high that it ran over it in one unbroken sheet, and fell thirty feet to the foot of the dam. A rough estimate of the lateral pressure which the dam sustains, gives nearly twenty-nine millions of pounds, the vertical pressure being nearly three times that amount. The total cost of the structure in 1849 was set down at $150,000.

Eighteen years after the dam was built it was feared that it had become weakened by the action of ice and water, and after the spring freshet of 1868 the anxiety of the owner led the company to an examination of the front foundations, a difficult and perilous undertaking. It was found that the force of heavy logs and huge ice cakes brought down by the floods had worn away the front timbers, to the length of twenty feet in some instances, and taken out large pieces of rock foundation, some of them weighing twenty tons, leaving great holes in front of the dam. To check this wearing action it was decided to strengthen the dam by building a front extension similar in form to the original structure, in such a way that the dam should have a sloping front, giving the dam the form of a roof. The new structure was fifty feet wide at the base, rising about five feet from the level of the stream below, and thence sloping to the top of the old dam. Work was begun in September, 1868, and completed in the same month in 1870, and its cost was about $350,000, more than double the cost of the original structure.

At the bulkhead of the dam water is taken into a canal which extends over one mile through the centre of the city. On the lower side of this canal are many raceways through which the water runs and turns water-wheels connected with the mills built over them. The water is discharged into another and lower canal from which it runs partly through raceways into a third canal on the lowest level which discharges it into the river, the water being utilized in each fall in mill powers.

GEMS.

A corset is nothing more nor less than a waiste-basket.

"The parting gives me pain," as the man said when he had a troublesome tooth extracted.

Breeches of etiquette—Black cloth, accompanied by vest, swallow-tail and tie of the same hue.

There are a great many excellent stoves in the market, but there is no base-burner like the mother's slipper.

"Money is active," Fogg read in his newspaper. "That's so," he said. "It is active enough to keep out of my reach."

"Oh, you be darned," as the Christmas present said when it slipped through the hole in the heel of the hung-up stocking.

"Do you think you'll be able to pull through?" anxiously inquired the needle of the thread. "Eye guess so," was the curt response.

A mother, who fondly puts the query to her son, "What would you do without a mother, Tom?" was dumbfounded with the reply, "Do as I like, ma."

A Western editor, in response to a subscriber who grumbles that his morning paper was intolerably damp, says, "that is because there is so much due on it."

"I tell you, gentlemen, that dog of mine is an intelligent critter." "Possibly," muttered Fogg; "but you wouldn't think it, judging from the company he keeps."

"It is not right to spoil a golden wedding," was the ground on which a Missouri Judge recently refused a divorce in a case where the parties had lived together forty-nine years.

The plumber is just the same in Paris. One of this order brought in a bill which read: "For trying to stop, without being able to do so, a leak in the water-pipe, fourteen francs."

"No," said the prominent member of a Vermont parish, "Jackson will never do for a deacon. He hain't got the qualifications. Why, durn it, I've cheated him on a horse trade myself."

Miss Daisy's notion: Miss Daisy Farley, (of Boston)—"Oh, Mr. Cheviot, I hear you have just returned from the West! Now sit down and tell me all about Chicago and ranch life.

Old saying: "I have divided my subject," began the parson, "into two heads." "Two heads with but a single thought," whispered Fogg to Mrs. F., and then he closed his eyes for the usual nap.

A young man in the "Answers to correspondents" column in a New York paper asks: "How can I gain a copious command of language?" We would suggest that he try sitting down on a tack.

When a Southern man has a lot of chickens in his hen house, the neighbors turn in and elect him to Congress so that they can take a whack at the fowls with no one to interfere. Congress is of some use in that country.

"Joe, my dear," said a fond wife to her husband, who followed the piscatory pro*fession, "do brighten up a little, you look* so slovenly. Oh what an awful recollection it would be for me if you should get drowned looking so!"

A bore once said to Jerrold, in a company which was discussing the merits of a certain piece of music, "That song, sir, always carries me away." The wit quietly turned to his friends and asked: "Will some one kindly sing it?"

"I want a good match safe," the customer said. And the new boy promptly dipped a box of matches in the water pail and handed them out. "There," he said, "you can't buy 'em any safer'n that in all America; Wouldn't burn if you stuck 'em in the stove."

Misapplied skill: An old beggar woman addresses one of our friends: "Charity good sir. Six children—no bread in the house." "Yes, I know; the old story—" "Oh, sir, misery devours us. My husband was blind, but by an operation he has recovered his sight."

"Doctor," asked Brown, "why don't you put Fenderson on a close diet? Don't you think it would be a benefit to him?" "Undoubtedly," said the doctor; but it would be no benefit to me. I might lose a patient, and when I lose a patient," he added, "I prefer to lose him in the regular way."

A little boy had his long curls cut off the other day, and was annoyingly reminded of the fact by the remarks of all his friends. Going with his family into the country, soon after his arrival he came running into the house in great sorrow, crying: "Mamma, mamma, even the hens laugh at me; they all say: 'Cut-cut-cut-got-your-hair-cut!'"

They had been engaged to be married fifteen years, and still he had not mustered up resolution enough to ask her to name the happy day. One evening he called in a particular frame of mind and asked her to sing something tender—something that would "move" him. She sat down at the piano and sang, "Darling I am Growing Old."

"I ain't got enough sense to vote at ward election," remarked old Isom, yesterday. "Why," asked a bystander. "Yer see, a nigger what keeps a bacon store at de udder end ob de town give fifty cents premium on a silver dollar made last year. I tuk a dollar wid de correck date, an' goin' to de store, handed it ter him, and tole him ter gin me de premium. He looked at de dollar, handed me fifty cents and dropped it in de dra'wr. I tuk de fifty cents an' come on up town. I have just diskivered dat I'se out fifty cents. I repeats that I ain't got sense enough ter vote, and de Newnited States can have my freedom back at any time de secretary of war will notify me ob dat fack."

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

THE REPUBLIC.

The simplicity which attended the inauguration of Governor Cleveland of New York commends itself to popular approval.

Unheralded by martial music, the roar of artillery, or ostentatious parade of any kind, the incoming Chief Magistrate of the great Empire State, taking the arm of his immediate predecessor, and accompanied by their respective staff officers, walked into the Senate Chamber and registered the solemn obligation imposed upon him by the Constitution.

There was a grandeur displayed by Governor Cleveland on assuming official duty a hundred fold more dignified and effective than the elaborate ceremonial and foolish flummery so often of late years associated with similar occasions.

It was grand because plain, and supremely loyal because in direct accord with the spirit of representative institutions.

We hope the example so worthily set by Governor Cleveland will be closely imitated by all future Executives whether State or National.

The natural characteristics of our system of government are plainness and practical utility. Pomposity and pretense belong to Monarchy not Republicanism, and it behooves the American people to demand that both the style and purpose of their inherited civil freedom shall be exercised and perpetuated, as the illustrious grantors of a century ago designed:

The Revolution won and the Constitution ordained a government of the people for the people alone, not to worship personal greatness, as Romans hailed their Cesars, and as Kings and Emperors still receive slavish homage, but to honor chosen officials as custodians of the public good and commissioned agents of the peoples' sovereign power.

A foremost duty of the present day is to preserve the purity and vigor of the Republic of Washington, Jefferson, Franklin and Hancock.

Between its real blessings and the tinseled tyranny of kingcraft there is a gulf deep and wide, which may be bridged, but which never will be, if the people are awake to danger and spy out each masked enemy.

Forever live the Republic!

* * *

THE FACT OF THE MATTER.

Our inaccurate contemporary, the New York Sun, contained an editorial in its issue of Tuesday last to the effect that Gen. McClellan with Fitz John Porter, had entered into agreement to deliver a certain amount of Democratic influence towards the nomination of Gen. U. S. Grant as the next Presidential candidate of the Republican party. The Sun thereby merely displayed its ignorance of the character of Gen. McClellan, or else wilfully misrepresented the fact of the matter. The gentleman referred to is too staunch and uncompromising a Democrat to even accept anything in the gift of the Republican party, let alone to assist in any manner the accomplishment of its designs or the aims of its adherents.

* * *

Houma, La., has a 13-year old girl with a light brown beard two inches long.

* * *

Modern extravagance is a social malaria, which ought to be effectually dispelled by the wholesome influence of common sense.

* * *

A more straightforward business like document never emanated from official pen than the recent annual message of Governor Ludlow.

* * *

To raise revenue with rigid equity, and expend it honestly and solely for the public good, is a principle of Democracy as old as the party.

* * *

Congressmen now eye River and Harbor bills with as much terror as a city sportsman does a big blacksnake on a huckleberry bush. 'Tis well.

* * *

The Secretary of War declares that the money appropriated for the waters of Cheesequakes and Rancocas are needless expenditures. What does he, a Western bushwhacker, know about the streams of New Jersey?

* * *

The stubborn opposition to rendering justice to General Fitz John Porter, even after the unreserved endorsement given him by such an eminent soldier as General Grant, certainly evidences the intensity of political bitterness.

* * *

The bursting of a couple more New Jersey Banks because their officers stole the funds, adds another chapter to the already voluminous record of official rascality. Let an additional State Prison rear its massive portals at once.

* * *

If one-half the effort to feed monopoly cormorants in the United States was exerted towards opening foreign markets for the legitimate productions of American industry, great would be the enhanced pecuniary welfare of the people.

* * *

The most absurd thing in this country is the sight of a brainless fop, strutting about like a peacock, because some one of his ancestors was a respectable and useful personage in the world, or had more money than his honest neighbors.

* * *

Governor Butler, of Massachusetts, recommends that an attempt to wreck a railway train be made a capital crime. A bill to that effect has been introduced into the New York Legislature, and we trust like action will be taken by our law makers at Trenton. If any miscreant deserves hanging it is a car wrecker.

* * *

We allow foreign corporations to come here and root out home chartered institutions, but obstinately refuse our own merchants the privilege of purchasing steamships abroad for the purpose of endeavoring to re-establish American supremacy on the seas, and keeping among ourselves the profits of commercial enterprise.

* * *

The Governor in his Message says the expenses of the Legislature "are entirely out of proportion to the services rendered," and ought to be reduced. Now here is an excellent chance for those members who desire to reform the printers to save the State about twenty thousand dollars a year by introducing and passing an amendment to the Constitution reducing their own salaries one-half. No doubt the people would approve the measure at the polls. This would, indeed, be genuine reform. Who will first move in this matter?—N. Brunswick Fredonian.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Both Houses of the Legislature convened on Monday night, but the Assembly was only in session a short time out of respect for Speaker O'Connor, whose daughter died on Sunday last, in Newark. Assemblyman Chapman acted as Speaker. Thirty-nine bills were introduced in both Houses, most of them of minor importance. Resolutions of condolence were passed in the House sympathising with Speaker O'Conner in his sudden bereavement. Senator Vail introduced bills, providing for Boards of Freeholders to issue bonds to pay for rebuilding bridges when necessities of the kind should arise by their destruction by sudden floods, also a bill providing that where a sheriff fails to renew his bonds, such failure shall not work a forfeiture of his office, unless under certain specified conditions. The Governor sent to the Senate the following nominations, which were referred to the Judiciary Committee, except that of Chas. H. Winfield, which was confirmed:

Justices of the Supreme Court—Bennett Van Syckel and Edward W. Scudder, reappointments.

Lay Judge of the Court of Errors and Appeals—Wm. Patterson, Middlesex.

Lay Judges of the Court of Common Pleas—William S. Yard, of Mercer; G. F. Newton, Middlesex.

Commissioner of Sinking Fund—Jos. L. Bodine, Trenton.

Chief of Bureau of Statistics—James Bishop, of Middlesex.

Prosecutors of Pleas—Essex, Oscar Keen; Hudson, Chas. H. Winfield; Morris, Willard W. Cutler.

Law Judges of Common Pleas—Bergen, Wm E. Skinner; Hudson, A. T. McGill; Morris, Francis Childs; Union, T. F. McCormick.

All these, excepting the name of Wm. E. Skinner, were confirmed by the Senate on Tuesday evening.

The President of the Senate announced the following Committees:

Standing Committees.

Judiciary—Vail, Youngblood, Paxton.

Revision of Laws—Applegate, Schenck, Wortendyke.

Finance—Merritt, Griggs, Miller.

Municipal Corporations—Taylor, Stainsby, Paxton.

Education—Havens, Nichols, Cochran.

Militia—Nichols, Havens, Wortendyke.

Railroads and Canals—Griggs, Ferrell, Vail.

Corporations—Youngblood, Doughty, Hires.

Agriculture and Agricultural College—Merritt, Applegate, Smith.

Fisheries—Vail, Taylor and Beatty.

Banks and Insurance—Schenck, Youngblood and Paxton.

Miscellaneous Business—Hires, Applegate and Wortendyke.

Elections—Merritt, Havens and Carpenter.

Unfinished Business—Griggs, Stainsby, and Ferrell.

Claims and Pensions—Stainsby, Havens and Carpenter.

Riparian Rights—Applegate, Vail and Cochran.

Engrossed Bills—Hires, Griggs and Carpenter.

Joint Committees.

Treasurer's Accounts—Stainsby, Griggs and Doughty.

State Prison—Taylor, Nichols, Ferrell.

Lunatic Asylum—Youngblood, Smith, Vail.

Public Grounds and Buildings—Hires, Griggs, Smith.

State Library—Youngblood, Merritt and Carpenter.

Federal Relations—Schenck, Stainsby, Beatty.

Sinking Fund—Griggs, Merritt, Carpenter.

Commerce and Navigation—Hires, Applegate, Miller.

Printing—Nichols, Taylor, Cochran.

Passed Bills—Havens, Hires, Beatty.

Soldiers' Home at Newark—Stainsby, Vail, Paxton.

Reform School for Boys—Applegate, Schenck, Miller.

Industrial School for Girls—Taylor, Havens, Carpenter.

The House adjourned to Wednesday morning out of respect to Speaker O'Connor, who buried a daughter on Tuesday. On Wednesday he announced his Committees as follows:

Elections—Robbins, Hill, Stony, Haines, Field.

Miscellaneous Business—Shannon, Wortendyke, Larison, Parsons, Mills.

Joint Committees.

Treasurer's Accounts—Borton, McLaughlin, Armitage, Hutchinson, Gaston.

State Prison—Convery, Forman, Shannon, Gill, Wanser.

Public Printing—Hill, Flynn, Lake, Applegate, Hoffman.

State Library—Chapman, Clark, Neighbor, Shields, Weaver.

Lunatic Asylums—Steljes, Neighbor, Robbins, Young, Lewis.

Public Grounds and Buildings—Byrnes, Van Bossum, Scott, Bamford, Mills.

Commerce and Navigation—Ludlum, Kelly, Budd, Coombs, Jenkins.

Passed Bills—Harrigan, Wildrick, Chattle, Cole, Campbell.

Federal Relations—Wortendyke, Jernes, Smalley, Haines, Campbell.

Sinking Fund—Cronk, Flynn, Rich, Cator, Woodruff.

Soldiers' Home at Newark—Murphy, Shannon, Stony, Parsons, Crammer.

Reform School for Boys—Lake, Freeman, Byrnes, Goodwin, Hutchinson.

Industrial School for Girls—Larison, Convery, Forman, Stafford, Bryant.

Ways and Means—Forman, Chapman, Cronk, Young and Sheldon.

Judiciary—Neighbor, Rich, Armitage, Gaston and Parsons.

Agriculture and Agricultural College—Wildrick, Smalley, Budd, Coombs and Weaver.

Education—Armitage, Steljes, Chattle, Gill and Gaston.

Engrossed Bills—Jernes, Byrnes, Cronk, Crammer and Applegate.

Municipal Corporations—Clark, Arbuckle, Jernes, Sheldon and Shields.

Militia—Arbuckle, Convery, Chapman, Sheldon and Crammer.

Claims and Revolutionary Pensions—Scott, Chattle, Harrigan, Bryant and Mills.

Corporations—Freeman, Murphy, Barton, Cator, Young.

Banks and Insurance—Ross, Arbuckle, Robbins, Hutchinson and Stafford.

Unfinished Business—Kelly, Lake, Flynn, Campbell and Lewis.

Incidental Expenses—McLoughlin, Larison, Hill, Bamford and Cole.

Stationery—Flynn, Steljes, Murphy, Woodruff, Wanser.

Riparian Rights—Van Bossum, Borton, Clarke, Lewis and Goodwin.

Revision of Laws—Rich, Neighbor, Van Bossum, Cator and Jenkins.

Fisheries—Smalley, Budd, Ludlum, Goodwin and Bryant.

Railroads and Canal—Stony, Harrigan, Freeman, Lewis, Gill.

In the Senate Tuesday night, the whole session was taken up with discussing the printing question, which is just now agitating the "reformers" of that body. Several bids were received to do the current printing, but the Senate wisely halted in the award of any contract, and referred the bids to the Printing Committee. Mr. Merritt offered a joint resolution, which proposes to amend the Constitution of the State by inserting therein a section, prohibiting the manufacture or sale or keeping for sale any alcoholic or intoxicating liquors in the State, the people to vote on the amendment. The Senate adjourned to next Monday evening. The Democratic and Republican caucuses to nominate a U. S. Senator, will be held Monday night next.

* * *

Krupp's works, at Essen, now employ some 439 steam boilers; 456 steam engines, with an aggregate horse power of 18,200; 89 steam hammers, varying in weight from 200 pounds to 50 tons; 21 rolling mills; machines for making tools, 1,622; furnaces; 25 locomotives, and five propellers, with a tonnage of about 8,000. Annual production, 300,000 tons steel and 26,000 tons iron.

* * *

In the Senate, on Thursday last, the bill for the relief of Fitz John Porter was passed by a vote of 33 yeas to nays, Senators Cameron, Hoar and Sewell being the only Republicans who voted in the affirmative.

* * *

So overwhelmingly in debt is Pickens county, Alabama, that property can hardly be given away. A few days ago 285 acres of fine timber land and a mill in good condition brought but $210.

LOCAL ANNEX.

A Denial.

The Sun publishes the following letter from Senator McPherson, denying the facts set forth in the declaration of one Joseph F. Rusling, in a suit brought against the Senator for the recovery of a large sum of money:

"TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: In some of this morning's papers I notice extended extracts from a bill of complaint which Joseph S. Rusling has filed against me in the United States Circuit Court. I emphatically deny each and every allegation therein made, and I wish particularly to deny that I ever attempted to influence legislation for my own or any other person's pecuniary benefit. I have refused to compromise what I know to be an entirely unfounded claim, choosing rather to contest its validity with the greatest publicity in the courts of law where I shall defend and vindicate my public, private, and business character from such attaks as the one which has just been made. It is significant that Mr. Rusling has waited until the eve of the Senatorial election in New Jersey, to enforce in this way a claim which he alleges to be of several years standing, but of which I have only recently been apprised.

J. R. McPHERSON.

Jan. 14th, 1883.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Amusement Committee are arranging to make the amusement room more complete in its attractions. This room is open every afternoon and evening (Sundays excepted) for young men.

An effort is being made to increase the membership and the committee are meeting with much success. The bible study for Saturday evening will be the 2d chapter of Acts. Will those who can be present? The study is from 8 to 9 p. m., only one hour.

The rooms will be open on Sunday morning from 9 to 10:15 o'clock. Free to all young men.

The prayer and song meeting for young men on Monday evening will be conducted by Mr. Earl M. Cook. Topic "The conversion of one young man," Acts 9-15. This meeting is but one hour in length. Will young men, remember the meeting, Monday night at 8 o'clock.

It is wished that the young men would remember the suggestions on the back of the topics.

1st—Be faithful in attendance.

2d—Sit in front.

3d—Read the texts noted for the evening and make them a subject of thought and prayer.

4th—Come with prayer expecting a blessing and bring some young man with you.

5th—Take part promptly as the meetings are but one hour in length.

6th—All prayers and remarks should be brief.

7th—Tarry at the close of the meeting to exchange friendly greetings and become better acquainted with one another.

The Drive-Well Cases.

A dispatch from Washington states that in the Indiana drive-well case the U. S. Supreme Court stood four to four, and being unable to agree, filed no opinion.—Mr. Mathews was absent. The result is considered highly gratifying to the defendants in this and other States. The Indiana case is said to have been the weakest possible for the defense, none of the evidence as to prior use taken in the Minnesota causes was in the Indiana case. In the latter cause Green's claim of being the inventor of the driven well was not even disputed and no evidence whatever was taken to show abandonment or dedication to the public. Six witnesses, claiming to be experts, were sworn on behalf of Green as to the validity of the patent and the patentability of his claims, and not a single witness was called to dispute their testimony.—As far as the rights of the defendants are concerned the cause was submitted on but little else than the face of the patent, while complainants offered a large amount of testimony to strengthen their position. While delaying the Iowa and Minnesota causes, the complainants were urging the Indiana cause to a hearing before the Supreme Court, hoping to get a favorable decision and thus embarrass the defendants in these States. That their schemes have miserably failed is a matter of congratulation to the public, and highly creditable to the discernment of the Supreme Court. Upon the stronger and almost conclusive record made in the Minnesota cases the ultimate defeat of the patent can scarcely now be considered a matter of doubt.—Daily Tribune, Winona, Minn.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

The irrepressible John Peiffer is again in the hack business at the depot in the employ of our liveryman, Mr. Bortis.

There is to be another fire company formed in our town on the 27th inst. We have two already, but the more the merrier. Westfield is growing fast. Why not have a paid department?

Hank Dougherty, our popular blacksmith, on last Monday made the shoes and shod seventeen horses all around. Where can a blacksmith be found to beat it? Hank was not very tired either after his day's work.

"Old Black," a family horse, which formerly belonged to Ephram Clark, and since Clark's decease, to James T. Pierson, died last week from old age. Persons who know him, say he was over thirty-five years of age.

Mrs. Dr. Baldwin, who has been living in Southern China for a number of years past, delivered a lecture on Tuesday evening at the Methodist church on the subject of Missionary work in that benighted land. There was a large audience to hear her, and everyone seemed glad they had heard her very interesting lecture.

Edward E. French, son of Jacob D. French, who has been residing at Trinidad, Colorado, for the past few years, engaged in railroading on the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, met with quite a serious accident, on Dec. 30th. He was engaged in coupling cars and had his left hand so crushed that it was necessary to amputate all the fingers.

Mr. Shiller, residing on Broad street, while sleighing Friday afternoon on North avenue, ran against a stone along side of the road, overturning the sleigh and throwing Mr. Schiller out. The horse running away came down Broad street with only the shafts attached, and ran to the residence of Wm. Stitt where he was caught, having injured his hind legs quite severely.

On Sunday morning last, Wm. S. Miller of our town, was found dead in his bed at the Galt House in New York city. The cause of death was supposed to be heart disease. His was aged sixty two years. His remains were brought to Westfield on Monday evening to the residence of his brother on Central avenue. The funeral services were held on Tuesday, and the body interred in the family plot, in the old burying ground adjoining the Presbyterian church.

Our ice merchant, J. Henry Manning, has concluded not to fill the ice house on Clark Lake, it being so much out of repair, and has made a contract with Mr. White of Rahway, for all the ice he will need the next year, from Mr. White's house adjoining Bloodgood's pond in Clark Township. Mr. White has his large house nearly filled with clear and pure ice, at least nine inches in thickness. The pond of water at Clark's Lake is so shallow that it seldom freezes so that ice can be harvested over six inches in thickness.

Susan A. Foster, daughter of the late Amos C. Foster, died at the residence of her brother-in-law, John L. Houlston, on Friday morning last from Pneumonia. Her funeral occurred on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. Warren Hoagland officiating. Burial in Fairview Cemetery.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 17th inst. Miss Ida Welch was united in marriage to Jonas S. Miller at the residence of the bride's mother, corner of Broad and Elm Sts. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. N. W. Cadwell of the Presbyterian church. There was a large number of persons present including relatives and invited guests. The bride received a large number of valuable gifts of silver ware, &c. After the wedding feast was over, the bride and groom left on the 9.30 p. m. train for Philadelphia, and from thence to Baltimore and Washington on their wedding tour.

On Monday last, Freeholders Isenmann of Cranford, Briant of Summit and Halliday of Rahway, met pursuant to an order of the Court of Common Pleas, at Westfield Hotel at 10 a. m., for the purpose of reviewing the assessment of damages made by the surveyors of highway about two months ago, in the laying of the extension of Kimball avenue and Orchard street from Elm street to Prospect street. John Isenmann was chosen chairman and A. J. Halliday, secretary. James C. Bolton of Bergen Point, represented the owners of the land taken; Frank Bergen of Elizabeth, the applicants for the road, and James G. Clark the Township of Westfield. After the organization, an adjournment was had to allow the Freeholders to view the proposed streets. Upon reassembling the following witnesses were examined in regard to the value of land taken by the streets; Jas. L. Miller, Joseph Moffett, Wm. T. Peck and Wm. M. Townley, after which arguments were heard from the respective counsel representing the different parties interested. After due deliberation the following are the decisions of the Freeholders in each case of land taken, compared with the report of the surveyors of highway, showing the opinions of two sets of persons in regard to the value of land in the township of Westfield. For Wm. M. Townley, the surveyor awarded him $200, the freeholders $702.50, an increase of $502.50. For Eliza J. Peek, the surveyors awarded her $200, the freeholders $660, an increase of $460. For Isabella A. Miller, the surveyors awarded her $100, the freeholders $410, an increase of $310. For Stephen S. Mapes the surveyors considered his damages and benefits equal; the freeholders awarded him $250 damages. For Oscar M. Arnold, the surveyors awarded him $50; and the freeholders $555, an increase of $505. Making the total award to owners of land taken by the surveyors of highway the sum of $550, and the award made to same owners by the freeholders $2,577 50, being an increase of $2,027 50, which under the law of the state has to be assessed to the township at large. The question that is now agitating our tax payers is whether the extension of the roads is worth to the township at large the sum of $2,027 50, which they will eventually have to pay if the roads are allowed to become public roads.

DEATHS.

CORNWALL—In this city, Jan. 16, Fannie S., daughter of B. F. and J. V. Cornwall, aged 13 years, 3 months, 19 days.

GREEN—In this city, Jan. 6, of pneumonia, George, and on the 7th, of the same, Harry, twin children of Anthony Green, aged 6 months.

GURNELL—In this city, of pneumonia, Jennie, daughter of Thomas and Maria Gurnell, aged 2 years, 9 months.

KELLY—In this city, Jan. 12, of convulsions, Abbie, daughter of Edward and Mary E. Kelly, aged 2 years.

PATTERSON—In Fanwood, Jan. 16, of consumption, Kate A., daughter of Joseph A. and Adelia Patterson, aged 29 years, 4 months.

SMITH—In this city, Jan. 11, of scarlet fever, Grace E. daughter of Wm. C. and Lucinda Smith, aged 6 years, 27 days.

TOWNLEY—In Berkley Heights, Jan. 16, of pneumonia, Hannah E. Mulford, wife of David E. Townley.

WILSON—In this city, Jan. 15, of membranous croup, Charles, son of Alson and Maria Wilson, aged 2 years, 4 months.

WALBRIDGE—In Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 11, 1883, after a protracted illness, Mrs. Wilhelmina C. L., widow of the late G. B. Walbridge of that city and mother of George B. Walbridge and Mrs. Isaac L. Miller, of this place.

STOCKTON—In this city, on Wednesday, Jan. 17th, 1883, Richard Markley, youngest child of Harry M. and Virginia B. Stockton, aged 7 months, 16 days.

Funeral and interment at Philadelphia, Pa.

SELLICK—In North Plainfield, Jan. 18th, 1883, Charles M. Sellick, aged 57 years.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,

UNDERTAKERS,

Successors to

DAVID LEESON.

A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c. constantly in stock at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.

Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.

Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
GEO. C. FORD. GEO. M. STILES.
jl28yl

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 10 Park avenue (Jules Boates' Hair Store) Residence, No. 11 Third st., cor. New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable. oi6yl

---

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
40½ West Front St.
RESIDENCE—Front St., opp' Washington Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ap1yl

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield,
Have a
—General Line of Groceries,—
Equal to any in the Market. Also, have other grades at lower prices
And are Agents for the
"Gem" a New Process Flour,
Please call and examine our COFFEES & TEAS.
Goods Delivered to any part of the city.
may8yl

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Jan. 4th, 1883.

Andrew J. Ryan, the Executor of Jonathan Dolbier deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the creditors of the said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the estate, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, for the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, publication being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Executor.

By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Collector's Report.

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 1, 1882.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

I herewith respectfully submit my report of moneys received from taxes from all sources from Oct. 1, 1882 to Nov. 1, 1882, for years prior to 1882.

JOHN B. BROWN, Collector.

RECEIPTS.

Poll Tax,	1872	21 70
	1873	4 00
	1874	2 00
	1875	18 00
	1876	4 00
	1877	11 00
	1878	13 00
	1879	14 00
	1880	21 00
	1881	29 00
School Poll,	1872	1 00
	1873	2 50
	1874	1 00
	1875	1 00
	1876	2 00
	1877	3 00
	1878	7 00
	1879	8 00
	1880	10 50
	1881	13 00
State Tax,	1873	61
	1874	42
	1876	99
	1877	12 72
	1878	11 72
	1879	6 25
County Tax,	1873	4 34
	1875	1 66
	1876	2 40
	1877	30 21
	1878	44 74
	1879	28 79
	1880	146 97
	1881	291 49
State School Fun.	1873	8 37
	1875	62
	1876	1 28
	1877	17 64
	1878	25 41
	1879	24 64
	1880	71 71
	1881	100 72
Cost and Interest, State and County		200 20
Balance " "	1873	9 60
On Account " "	1877	12 42
" " "	1878	12 38
Library Fund, 1881		7 80
Judgment Account, 188[illegible]		22 16
City Tax,	1876	72
	1877	4 41
	1878	4 24
	1879	16 37
	1880	23 44
	1881	58 14
Poor Tax,	1876	16
	1877	1 48
	1878	1 54
	1879	5 90
	1880	2 34
	1881	22 15
School and Bonds,	1876	84
	1877	7 96
	1878	7 31
	1879	28 17
	1880	44 32
	1881	156 47
Cost and interest, City		80 78
		$2,091 86

DISBURSEMENTS.

Nov. 2, 1882, To Board of Education	242 21
Nov. 3, 1882, To City Treasurer	1844 50
	$2091 86

PLAINFIELD, New Jersey, Dec. 1, 1882.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—I herewith respectfully submit my report of monies received from taxes for the month of November, and for years prior to 1882, from Nov. 1st, 1882 to December 1 1882.

JOHN B. BROWN, Collector.

1872,	Poll Tax	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	State	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State School	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
1873,	Poll Tax	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	State	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State School	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
1874,	Poll Tax	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	State	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State School	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
1875,	Poll Tax	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	State	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State School	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
1876,	Poll	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	State	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State School	[illegible]
"	City	[illegible]
"	Poor	[illegible]
"	School and Bonds	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
1877,	Poll	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	State	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State School	[illegible]
"	City	[illegible]
"	Poor	[illegible]
"	School and Bonds	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
1878,	Poll	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	State	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State school	[illegible]
"	City	[illegible]
"	Poor	[illegible]
"	School and Bonds	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
1879,	Poll Tax	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	State	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State school	[illegible]
"	City	[illegible]
"	Poor	[illegible]
"	School and Bonds	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
1880,	Poll Tax	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State School	[illegible]
"	City	[illegible]
"	Poor	[illegible]
"	School and Bonds	[illegible]
"	Cost and Interest	[illegible]
1881,	Poll Tax	[illegible]
"	School Poll	[illegible]
"	County	[illegible]
"	State School	109 12
"	Judgments	20 75
"	Library	6 90
"	City	8 66
"	Poor	31 11
"	School and Bonds	144 78
"	Cost and Interest State and County	66 72
"	City	39 44
		$1694 63
1882		9,329 84
	Total	$11,046 47

DISBURSEMENTS.

Dec. 2, 1882, By check to J. Van Winkle, City Treasurer	$6178 26
" 4, " " First National Bank acc't Board Ed'tion	1492 00
" 4, " " Same	1496 10
	$10,961 47

Sixty-two dollars amount collected for School Poll Tax is in my hands by advice of Corporation Counsel.

JOHN B. BROWN, Collector.

Own Your Own House—Now is the time.

Save half your rent. The interest on $1,000 is sixty dollars a year. A $1,000 house will rent for $150. A $500 house will rent for $75. The interest on $500 is $30. Will sell separately on Friday, Jan. 19th, at 4 o'clock, p. m., on the premises, two houses, Nos. 77 and 79 Second street, between New and Liberty sts., to the highest bidder, without reserve. If stormy sale at Miller's Hotel, same day and time. Terms—One-half cash; ten per cent. day of sale; forty per cent. on delivery of deed; balance on bond and mortgage. Don't say after the sale "I had no idea it would sell so cheap. I wish I had been there!" I tell you it will positively be sold without reserve.

WALLACE VAIL,
Agent and Auctioneer.

Course of Six Lessons in Cookery

WILL BE GIVEN IN THE

Y. M. C. Association Hall,

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY,

By Miss JULIET CORSON, Superintendent of the New York School of Cookery, assisted by Mrs. T. H. TAYLOR, on February 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th and 7th, 1883, at 3 p. m.

COURSE TICKETS, $3.—For sale at Reynolds' Pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.—jan12-lm

---

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

TO GET A

Life Size Crayon Portrait

In free hand for the unprecedented small sum of

Twelve Dollars!

By the well-known artist,

SIDNEY E. FLOWER,

Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 20 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo. or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Hand in orders early at Studio or Estil's bookstore, for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT a meeting will be held at the Lyceum Rooms in the Township of Westfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey, on the 27th day of January, A. D., 1883, at eight o'clock in the evening, for the purpose of taking such action as may be necessary to properly organize a Fire Company, according to the Statute to protect life and property from fire, and such persons intending to become members thereof, are requested to be present thereat.

Dated Westfield, N. J., Jan. 9th, A. D., 1883.

F. H. Pennington, Thomas Love,
H. Beebe, E. Hart, Jr.,
J. S. Harrison, John Hodges,
George W. Peck, C. Squire,
H. Bates, P. Frenner,
George Todd, E. E. Sharpe.
jan12w3

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Applications for Liquor License.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that Charles Smith has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at the southeasterly corner of Front and Somerset Streets, which application is signed by

Joseph A. Blatz, Lawrence O'Neill,
David Meeker, Thomas Kavanagh,
James Connolly, Mrs Patrick Day,
Augusta Dfeiser, Mrs John Burke,
John H Clark, Dennis Kilbride,
Henry Goelier,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing, to the City Clerk, on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.

WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that J. S. Meier has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at Laing's Hotel, on Front street, which application is signed by

John P Emmons, B A Collins,
John W Laing, George M Phillips,
Simeon Harris, William Sutton,
Daniel s Pound, Robert Simpson,
P J Flanagan, Lewis C Dunn,
Wm M Jennings, William Sulivan,
A. Winter,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk, on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of Spirituous and Fermented Liquors" now in force.

WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that Hugh O'Donnell has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at the northwesterly corner of Liberty and Third street, which application is signed by

Patrick Muldoon, Francis M Genet,
Michael Muldoon, Patrick Day,
Charles McCann, Michael Conway,
L Kane, Patrick Gallagher,
Daniel McCarthy, Michael Nugent,
James O Keeffe, Moses Carney,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk, on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of Spirituous and Fermented Liquors" now in force.

WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that John Rafferty has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at No. 24 Park avenue, which application is signed by

James McGinley, James H. Acor,
John H. Stevens, Edward P. Thorn,
Michael Hughes, James Gannon,
Matthew Hughes, John Fitzpatrick,
Edward Hughes, Thomas Callahan,
Thomas Curren, John Bergen,
Charles McGinley, Michael Callahan,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk on or before the Twenty-ninth day of January, 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.

W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that Edward P. Thorn has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at No. 17 Park avenue, which application is signed by

Anna P. Thorn, Emma Thorn,
Malachi Cole, James Keegan,
his Henry Eggerding,
Francis x McIntyre, John Rafferty,
mark Henry Gooch,
Michael Ettinger, Dan. S. Roberts,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk on or before the Twenty-ninth day of January, 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license inns and taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.

W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that James Connelly has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at No. 32 Park avenue, which application is signed by

Charles Zimmer, Patrick Casey,
Mrs Catherine Flynn, Charles H. Hand,
James Mulvahey, Stephen McIntyre,
John Galbraith, William Milligan,
Daniel Hogan, Michael Newman,
Peter Flynn, Mrs. Mary Moran,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reason why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk on or before the Twenty-ninth day of January, 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license inns and taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.

W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 16th, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that James B. Force has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors on the Northwesterly side of Front street, and to keep and use therein four billiard tables, which application is signed by

John H. French, William H. Voorhees,
Alex. Warnock, W. W. Correll,
L. A. McDonough, George Smock,
John Cangerer, J. P. Laire,
R. F. Randolph, Thomas Jennings,
Henry Van Name, William J. Nelson,

Citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reason why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk on or before the Twenty-ninth day of January, 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license inns and taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.

W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Nov. 14th, 1882.

Notice is hereby given that William Sullivan has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at 64 West Third street, which application is signed by his Martin Kane,

William x Sullivan, Stephen White,
mark John Kane,
Henry C. Kline, Barney Kelley,
Mrs. B B Quinn, Thomas Muldoney,
A. McGuigan, Wm. J. Moore,
Mrs. B. Burk, Charles Winston,

Citizens and Freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license inns and taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.

W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 15, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that Charles Bock has applied to the common council of the city of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at No. 3 East Second street, which application is signed by

Fred. Caspar, W. Rein,
Henry Strahm, S. Fleig,
John M. Schorb, John Wolf,
Ted A. Benjamin, M. Lilienstern,
D. W. Littell, Chas. Deuchler,
A. Dehaud,

citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing, to the City clerk, on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of Spirituous and Fermented Liquors" now in force.

WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 15, 1883.

Notice is hereby given that Patrick Day has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors in the building on the southeasterly side of Third street, which application is signed by

Mary Day, Thomas Mealy,
James Mahon, Edward Cline,
Festus Hibbits, Patrick Moran,
Randolph Marsh, Charles Carty, his his
John X Kane, Daniel X Conway, mark mark
Edward Connors, James Flynn,

citizens and Freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk, on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, A. D. 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of Spirituous and Fermented Liquors" now in force.

WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.

AN ORDINANCE

To amend an Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors, adopted February 1st, 1875, readopted March 8, 1875."

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That section seventeen of said ordinance is hereby amended by striking out, in the fifth line of said section in the printed book of general ordinances after the words "for each license to an inn and tavern keeper to sell spirituous and fermented liquors, the sum of" the words "Two hundred dollars ($200)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Three hundred dollars ($300)"; and by striking out in the tenth and eleventh lines of said section after the words "for each license to a person other than an inn and tavern keeper to sell spirituous and fermented liquors the sum of" the words "Three hundred dollars ($300)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Five hundred dollars ($500)."

Sec. 2. That section thirteen of said ordinance is hereby amended by striking out, after the word "persons," on the first line of said section in the printed book of general ordinances, the words "licensed under this ordinance."

Mrs. John Burke

Has appointed Thomas Burke and Thomas McCarthy Managers of the business of the late Jno. Burke, who purchased the right to use Harris' Patent Apparatus for removing Night Soil and Cleaning Cesspools in this city. We respectfully solicit a trial of the machine, guaranteeing entire satisfaction in all cases. Charges reasonable. The apparatus is so constructed that it is used in the day time and no smell is perceptible during the operation. All orders addressed to Mrs. JNO. BURKE will receive prompt attention. Telephone Call 36. P. O. Box 716, Plainfield, New Jersey.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S

SPECIAL SALE

OF

White Goods,

Bought at a CLEARING-OUT SALE.

These Goods are

Way Down in Figures

COMPRISING

Plaid Nansooks,

Plaid and Striped Pique,

ONE LOT OF

Table Linen of 120 yds.

ONE LOT OF

White Doilies,

25 Dozen Ladies Fine Colored Border, Hemstitched

Handkerchiefs,

25 Doz. Ladies Fine Hemstitched

Handkerchiefs,

PLAIN WHITE.

☞ The prices of these Goods will be quoted at the different departments in the Store.

New Goods

WILL BE

Added Constantly.

G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

FOREST and STREAM

And Rod and Gun!

THE AMERICAN SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL!

A twenty-eight page weekly journal, devoted to the interests of Gentlemen Sportsmen and their Families. Treats of Natural History, Shooting, Yachting and Canoeing, Fishculture, the Kennel, Fishing, the Rifle, and all gentlemanly outdoor sports. It is without a rival. Price, Four Dollars a year. Try it. A Specimen copy will be sent, post-paid for six cents. For sale by newsdealers everywhere.

Forest and Stream Publishing Company.
New York City. j12-4w

Carney Bros.,

NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.

Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.

PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.

Grates and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at jobber's prices. Bring your Tin Ware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials and our work always gives satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Tinware made to order.

RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.

—SANITARY PLUMBING—

may7

WANTS and INFORMATION

☞ Cents for one insertion of 3 Lines. Each additional line, 5 cents extra. Fifteen cents for each subsequent insertion of ads.

FOR SALE.—A Brunswick and Balke Co's Billiard Table. Complete. Apply at Metropolitan Hotel, North Avenue, near depot.

A YOUNG GIRL of respectable family, but humble means, would be glad to secure a place where she might help in the care of children and do plain sewing or wait on an invalid lady. A permanent home more of an object than high wages. For further particulars inquire at the office of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.—tw

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Plainfield, N. J., Grocery, Bakery and Dwelling, combined with stable; centrally located. A good chance for a live man. Apply to E. C. Mulford, Real Estate Broker, Office, Depot building, Plainfield, N. J. m26tf

WANTED—A man with a small family to take a farm on shares near the city of Plainfield. For particulars address E. B., Box 465, Plainfield, New Jersey.—j11m1

WANTED TO RENT—By first of May a house of ten to twelve rooms with modern improvements in good neighborhood. Rent about four hundred dollars. No notice taken unless location and particulars are given to Post-office Box 1146.—d28tf

BOARD AT 57 EAST FRONT STREET—Table board for gentlemen at moderate terms.—Also two pleasant front rooms to let with board. dec10—tf

GRANDFATHER CLOCKS—Three of them, in first-class running order, each over 100 years old, for sale cheap. Can be seen at Megie's Jewelry Store, North ave., near depot. 1e14-tf

PHAETON FOR SALE—Enquire at 107 Central Avenue, this city. ip14-tf

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET to Gentlemen, without Board, at 14 W. Front Street. j11tf MRS. P. DUNN.

BOARD can be had in a private family, large airy rooms, shaded lawn, on Front street. Reference given and required. Stabling, if required. P. O. Box 46, Plainfield, N. J. jastf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Make a note of this!

DON'T FORGET THE AUCTION

Sale of Carpets, Beds, Bedding, etc.,

at the Mansion House, on

Monday afternoon next,

Twenty-second instant, at 3 p. m.

Sales will be held every Monday,

same hour and place until all is sold.

Slaughter! Slaughter!

IN THE PRICE OF CLOTHING!

Overcoats	$3.50,	former	price,	$5.00.
"	4.50,	"	"	6.50.
"	5.00,	"	"	7.50.
"	8.00,	"	"	10.50.
"	9.00,	"	"	14.00.

Scotch Cheviot suits at $12, former price, $18.

Youth's Overcoat $4, former price, $6 50.

S. C. LILIENSTERN,

The Leading Plainfield Clothier and Merchant Tailor,

22 West Front Street, - Plainfield, N. J.

A. VANDERBEEK,

(Chautauqua Building.)

No. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DEALER IN

Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments,

Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CLOTHING!

Fall and Winter.

A. TITSWORTH,

No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.

All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing

Made to Order and Ready Made,

From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boy's. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods, Clothing

Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!

A SPECIALTY.

ALEX. TITSWORTH.

fm18

ISAAC BROKAW,

Real Estate Agent!

12 DUER ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Houses Rented and Collections Made and prompt returns.

To Rent—Several houses in North Plainfield; location desirable and rent reasonable.

For Sale—Dwellings and Farms, from $1,000 to $30,000. 28tf

GRAND OPENING!

GRAND OPENING of Holiday Goods at CLARK'S Jewelry Store. Come and examine our large and handsome stock before purchasing. We have a line of goods direct from the Manufacturer's and at prices so low that all can buy. New goods! New patterns. Elegant and beautiful. Must be seen to be appreciated. Call and see for yourselves. No. 9 Park avenue.

DON'T MISTAKE THE STORE!

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SALE OF LANDS FOR TAXES IN FANWOOD TOWNSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a warrant, issued by the Township Committee of Fanwood Township, Union County, N. J., under their common seal, signed by their chairman and attested by their clerk, pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided for the collection of taxes laid on certain lands in said township for the year 1881, the subscriber, constable of said township, will on Monday, the 22d day of January, 1883, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., of said day, at the hotel of Dennis Brittin, in the township of Fanwood, Union County, N. J., by public auction, sell the lands and premises hereinafter described, taxed to the undernamed persons, to make the taxes with interest, costs, fees, charges and expenses thereon, to any person or persons who will take the same for the shortest time, not exceeding thirty years, and pay the amount due thereon. The following is a correct list of those in arrears for taxes for the year 1881, and a description of the lands upon which said taxes have been laid and that are to be sold hereunder:

The sum of fifteen dollars and five cents ($15.05) for the year 1881, against John Harry, for and on account of 27 acres, on line of Westfield township, in road district, No. 6.

The sum of forty-nine cents, (.49) for the year 1881, against Thomas Cook, for and on account of 2 lots, in road district No. 1.

The sum of thirty-two cents, (.32) for the year 1881, against ——— Delmatge, for and on account of 1 lot, in road district, No. 2.

The sum of sixty-two cents, (.62) for the year 1881, against Harriet Brown, for and on account of 3 lots, block 8, Stanberry farm, Nos. 48, 49 and 50, in road district, No. 2.

The sum of sixty-three cents, (.63) for the year 1881, against James Flynn, for and on account of 4 lots, block 9, Stanberry farm, Nos. 36, 37, 38 and 39, in road district, No. 1.

The sum of thirty-two cents (.32) for the year 1881, against Henry F. Pease, for and on account of 1 lot on Westfield road, in road district, No. 2.

The sum of thirty-two cents, (.32) for the year 1881, against Ella M. Kitchen, for and on account of one-quarter acre of land, on Freeman Place, in road district, No. 2.

WM. N. PANGBORN,
Constable.

Fees $12.60.

Dec. 15, 1882.—5w.

Fine Butter & Cheese

Taylor's Cash Meat Market

Is now heavily stocked with Butter and Cheese of all grades from common to the finest produced. These goods are bought for cash in large quantities by an expert buyer and will be sold at a reasonable profit. In a few days we shall have a large consignment of the noted in 10 lb. pails. The price is very high, but some people will have it. Families desiring to purchase Butter by the Tub will be supplied with a prime article at a close price.

Elgin Creamery Butter

N. J. RANDOLPH,
Manager.
No. 34 Park ave.

HOLIDAY GIFTS!

AT SWAIN'S,

No. 32 West Front street.

PAINTINGS,
ENGRAVINGS,
ETCHINGS,
BEVELED MIRRORS,
ROGERS GROUPS,
ARTISTS' MATERIALS,

CHRISTMAS CARDS, ETC. All at New York prices—dec14m

JOHN H. CLARK, dealer in Fruits, Nuts, Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, &c. Pies and Temperance Drinks. Fresh roasted Peanuts every day. Corner of Front and Somerset Streets Plainfield, N.J.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

On for an Opera House!

J. JAY VILLERS at the Park avenue Baptist church, Monday evening, Feb. 5th.

WE return thanks to Comptroller Anderson for advance sheets of his Annual Report.

AS a remedy for Dyspepsia, go and hear J. Jay Villers at the Park avenue Baptist church, Monday evening, Feb. 5th.

PAY some poor man 25 cents to clean off your walk; it is much cheaper than a fine of $5 for your neglect in that direction.

SATURDAY morning the thermometer registered two degrees below, Sunday morning it was thirty above, and Monday morning it was at zero.

ALL trains from "the city" after the 3:45 of Tuesday afternoon up to 5:30, were delayed by a wrecked coal train at Cranford that spread itself all over the tracks.

No power can take away from us that which we have had. If no more sleighing falls to our lot, we can remember with pleasure the little as we have already enjoyed.

THE new organ of the Trinity Reformed Church, was used last Sunday for the first time. The instrument gave every assurance of desired tone when it becomes more accustomed to use.

THE Summit Record is the latest candidate for public favor in the publishing line. It is published at Summit, Union County, N. J. by Newton Woodruff. It evidences from its first number that the editor will give all the local news of the place.

IT would not be very pleasant for our residents to be brought before the City Judge and fined for not keeping their side-walks free from ice and snow, but that is what will happen unless they comply with the ordinance we publish in full elsewhere.

IT seems probable that the ordinance to amend the Liquor License Ordinance, raising the fees, would be defeated on its final passage. If not, some of the license men in the Council express their determination to vote against the granting of every application that is presented.

THE Lord willing, at the former Y. M. C. A. Hall, Front Street, opposite the Post Office, Sunday next, Jan. 21st, and two following Sundays at 7:30, P. M., Mr. F. W. Grant will give three lectures on "The Mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven," (Matt. XIII.) All are earnestly invited.

THE Forest & Stream is one of the best sporting papers published in the country. It is always brim full of interesting reading matter, such as all true sportsmen love to peruse and contains much valuable information. Read the prospectus in another column and subscribe for it.

THE usual Monthly Parlor Sociable of the Y. P. A., of the Crescent Avenue Church, will be omitted this month and instead the Rev. Mr. Harris, of Princeton College will address the young people. In February the Sociable will take the very interesting and exciting form of a Spelling Match.

MISS JULIET CORSON, Superintendent of the New York School of Cookery, will be assisted in her course of six lessons in cooking at Y. M. C. A. Hall, by Mrs. T. H. Taylor, who has made her way into the hearts of our community by means of the tempting delicacies and palatable dainties she is so clever at concocting.

THE Plainfield Saengerbund will have an evening's entertainment and dance among its members exclusively, on the 29th inst. The Annual Masquerade will be given on the night of Wednesday, Feb. 21st, and already preparations are beginning that have for an object the grandest ball ever known in Plainfield.

SURROGATE Gerber has recently made his quarters at Elizabeth look cosier and more comfortable by the introduction of new carpets, &c. He has also now a fine fire proof vault and safe wherein to keep the valuable records under his charge, something long needed. Mr. Gerber is very popular with all whom he has dealings with.

COUNCILMAN POLAK'S resolution to place on each corner lamp the names of the streets thereat, should be adopted. It is claimed by some of his colleagues that the expense would be too great. Let estimates be called for by the committee on lamps and then the Council could vote understandingly on this matter of more than usual importance.

HAVING purchased the property next to his former place of business on Park Park Avenue, Eggerding, the Tobacconist, has remodelled and fitted up the same in a most attractive manner. At this new stand all grades of cigars, tobacco and smoker's articles can be found in large assortment, at prices as low as possible in accordance with the quality.

D. M. FERRY & Co., Seedmen, Detroit, Michigan, have sent us a copy of their Seed Annual for 1883. It is more beautiful and valuable than ever. The hints on the formation and management of gardens as well as the cultural directions it contains have evidently been prepared by careful hands, and cannot fail to be of great service to all who garden, whether for profit or pleasure.

"WITH malice towards none and good will to all," is the motto adopted—and lived up to—by that very excellent weekly, "The Judge." It is illustrated by probably the most able staff of artists in the world; it is sparkling with wit and fun, without vulgarity; and above all, is published by Americans for Americans. Its announcement for the new Year, will be noticed in our advertising columns.

THE second chapter of a very charmingly illustrated and exciting story, that Peck the popular fancy goods dealer is publishing in his "corner," appears on our third page to-day. The readers of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST—particularly those who love out-door sports—are already greatly interested in the result of the fishing expedition of the hero of the story, and each number of the paper is in demand as the narrative progresses.

DURING Wednesday afternoon of next week, there will be given at the Standard Theatre, New York, a special performance for the benefit of Mr. H. B. Lonsdale, Business Manager, and Mr. Charles Harris. Mr. Henderson has generously given the use of the theatre, and the ladies and the gentlemen of the company, chorus, orchestra and attaches have most kindly volunteered their services. The programme will be: Patience (2d Act) Original Cast, Cox and Box, Trial by Jury.

THE attendance at the Ball of Gazelle Hose Co., last Thursday evening, was not as large as expected owing to the extremely cold weather, but those present at Van Deventer Hall upon the occasion were greatly entertained. Such fine music as was furnished has never been excelled in this city and seldom equalled, and the fire laddies who did so much for the enjoyment of their friends, deserved more extensive patronage. The General Director was Mr. E. B. Daily; Floor Manager, Chas. F. Johnson; Assistants, W. Van Sychel and Lewis Roth; Reception Committee, Jas. Loughlin and G. S. Martin; Committee of Arrangements, E. B. Daily, A. Tharp and Jas. Loughlin.

On for an Opera House!

THE Netherwood post-office has been abolished.

THE medical and financial statement of the Muhlenburg Hospital for the past thirteen months, we give in full this week.

MR. Fred Casper has disposed of his interest in the saloon business to Chas. Bock, an employee in Charles Smith's saloon.

WE publish elsewhere two very interesting documents that give in detail the collection of taxes due prior to the levy of 1882.

WE publish elsewhere very interesting reports of the delinquent taxes of the years prior to 1882, collected by George W. Moore.

WHAT is the use of having any Ordinances if the Council deems it its duty to pass a resolution of warning every time an Ordinance is to be enforced.

WEDNESDAY'S rain carried out the provision of Councilman Polak's resolution and cleared our sidewalks of the snow and ice that had lain there so long.

THE sale of two houses and lots at auction on Second street, near New, by Wallace Vail, agent, was adjourned from last Monday to Friday, Jan. 19, at 4 p. m.

THERE will be given at Mount Bethel, Monday evening of next week, a Grand Farewell Ball by Mr. Jacob Blimm. Admission Free. Music by Professor Noodleroller.

THE friends of the Plainfield Relief Association would like to know that it sent its beneficiaries a warm Christmas greeting in the shape of coal to the amount of sixty dollars.

READ "An ordinance to provide for keeping street sidewalks and gutters free from snow, hail, slosh and ice," which we publish in full in this issue. The law fines you five dollars for its violation.

THE sale of hotel furniture contained in the City Hotel, at auction, was commenced last Monday evening, and was largely attended. The sale will continue every Monday evening until all is closed out.

MR. Jacob Blimm, proprietor of the Mount Bethel Hotel, will sell by public auction, Wednesday next, 10 o'clock a. m., a large lot of furniture, farming utensils, two horses, a cow, wagons, sleigh, etc.

THE Treasurer of the Plainfield Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Mr. S. C. Lillenstern, last week handed the widow of the late John Burke his check for $2,000 as was due her from that Association in consequence of the death of her husband while a member.

THIS (Thursday) evening, the fourth of the Y. M. C. A., Course of Entertainments is being enjoyed by our public at M. E. church. The event is a lecture by George Makepeace Towle, Esq., on "Czar and Nihilist."

MESSRS. C. I. Hood & Co., of Lowell, Mass., are the owners of the designs of four exceedingly pretty plaques, copies of which they offer at the very low price of 25 cents for the set. These can be obtained by sending the price to the above firm.

MESSRS. Weaver Bros. are painting and papering the rooms on Park avenue, to be occupied by Mr. E. P. Thorn as a wholesale and Retail Liquor Store, upon his retirement from the proprietorship of the Mansion House Feb. 1st.

WARREN HOSE CO., No. 3 will hold its Second Annual Ball at St. Mary's Hall, Thursday evening, Feb. 1st. The Committee of arrangements is composed of Mr. John Loughlin, Chairman, and Messrs. Thomas Beikley, Hiram Young, Frank Schuleih and Louis Hagaman.

Temperance in All Things.

The Church Temperance Society, being based on common sense, is bound to succeed. It does not designate every man who takes a little wine for his stomach's sake as a lost sheep and a fallen, degraded sinner. The motto of the Society is "Temperance obligatory; total abstinence discretionary." There is reason in these words, moderation, sense. Total abstinence howlers defeat their own ends; temperance men promote them.

To Whom it May Concern.

There appear to be residents and property owners of this City who seem to be ignorant of the existence of the following City Ordinance which we herewith publish for their benefit. The attention of others is particularly directed to the third section of the same:

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council, do enact as follows: Sec. 1. It shall be the duty of the owner or owners, lessee or lessees, occupant or occupants, and person or persons having charge of every lot or parcel of land upon which is or may hereafter be erected any building, or of any lot or parcel of land which is or may hereafter be vacant, situated on or adjoining any public or improved street in this city, the sidewalks of which are now or hereafter may be flagged, cemented, planked or graveled, severally, to keep a pathway at least four feet in width over the street sidewalk and the street gutters to the width of one foot outwardly from and adjoining the curb or edge of the sidewalk along the entire front of each such lot or parcel of land, or of any such lot or parcel of land be situated upon a corner formed by intersecting streets, to keep such pathway and gutters along both the front and side of each such lot or parcel of land, to the respective widths aforesaid, free from snow, hail, slosh and ice, save as provided in the second section of this ordinance; and it shall be the duty of such persons severally to remove or cause to be removed from such pathway and gutters, to the respective widths aforesaid, all snow, hail, slosh and ice which may have fallen or been formed thereon, within four hours after the same shall have so fallen or been formed, excepting in cases when such snow or hail shall have fallen or such slosh or ice shall have been formed during any night, in all which last mentioned cases the same shall be so removed within four hours after sunrise of the next following morning.

Sec. 2. If in any case such snow, hail, slosh or ice shall be so congealed that the same cannot be so removed without injury to the sidewalks or gutters where the same has fallen or been formed, it shall be the duty of the owner or owners, lessee or lessees, occupant or occupants, and person or persons having charge of every such lot or parcel of land, severally to cause the snow, hail, slosh or ice which shall have been so congealed, to be strewn with ashes, sawdust or sand within four hours after such congealation shall have happened during any night, in all which last mentioned cases such snow, hail, slosh and ice shall be so strewn with ashes, sawdust or sand within four hours after sunrise of the next following morning; and in all cases mentioned in this section all snow, hail, slosh and ice which shall have been so congealed, shall be so removed from the sidewalks and gutters aforesaid to the respective widths aforesaid, within four hours after the same shall have become thawed to such an extent as to render such removal practicable without injury to such sidewalks or gutters, save in cases where the same shall have become so thawed during the night, in all which last mentioned cases the same shall be so removed within four hours after sunrise of the next following morning.

Sec. 3. For each violation of this ordinance every person violating the same shall be subject to a penalty of five dollars, recoverable for the use of the city.

Hotel Changes.

Mr. Chris Van Arsdale, former proprietor of the City Hotel, this city, has leased a hotel property at Milton, Pa. Mr. Geo. B. DeReves, also a former proprietor of the same hotel and the Park House, leases the Taylor House at Jersey City. Mr. Ramsey, formerly of Bound Brook, has leased a hotel property at Long Branch, near the R. R. depot. Mr. Henry Abbott retires from the Abbott House, New Brunswick.

Heavy Bond Forfeiture.

The sureties, Joseph S. Spinney, James McGee, and Orville T. Waring, on the forfeited recognizance of Richard H. Cornwell, against whom several indictments are pending in the United States Circuit Court, having deposited in the registry of the Court the sum of $10,000 being the penalty named in the recognizance, an order directing the Clerk of the Court to withdraw said amount from the Central National Bank and deposit the same, less his commission of 1 per cent., as allowed by the statute, with the Assistant Treasurer of New York, to the credit of the United States, was signed by Judge Benedict, Saturday.

An Old Relic.

Fastened against the north wall of the First Reformed chapel on the corner of Neilson and Bayard streets is an ancient and curious relic in the shape of a painting on wood representing Solomon's Temple on the right, and in the foreground the figure of a high priest, facing the temple, with his hand upraised in the act of prayer. In the background is the city of Jerusalem.

The relic as may be ascertained by the inscription beneath, was taken from the parsonage of the Reformed church, erected at Three-mile Run about 1750, and occupied by the Rev. Johannes Leydt until his death in 1783. It was an ornament over the fireplace, and is supposed to have been brought over to this country from Holland in 1616 or 1617. The colors of the painting, although placed on over 260 years ago, seem almost as bright as if applied within the past year. The slab containing the picture is about five feet in length and fifteen inches wide.—New Brunswick Times.

The City Clerk Controversy.

The facts surrounding the recent proceedings of the Common Council in the matter of electing a City Clerk, have been so misrepresented and distorted that the public have been led to believe in everything excepting the true state of the case. The facts are, Mr. Dunham had received a majority of the votes of the Council for the office of City Clerk. Doubts as to his title to the office were entertained because the first name was not mentioned, but Mr. F. A. Dunham was duly sworn in by Mayor Maxson, and a majority of the Council stated in writing that F. A. Dunham was the person intended. Under the circumstances, it was thought that there was at least ground for a contest on the part of either Mr. Leonard or Mr. Dunham. It was in order to prevent the possibility of litigation, and to remove all uncertainty that the resolutions were passed removing all persons having any claim to the office. Mr. Dunham as well as Mr. Leonard, before ordering a new election. The plan suggested by some of the Council to order a new election without first annuling the claims of the contestants would not necessarily meet the case, for if upon the attempt to elect a new clerk, no person should receive a majority of all the votes (as had been the case for twenty-three ballots before) the question would still be open between Mr. Dunham and Mr. Leonard. The majority of the Council wisely deemed it of paramount importance to prevent the possibility of litigation, cases of mandamus or quo warranto, and hence at once cut the knot by putting an end to the claims both of Mr. Dunham and Mr. Leonard, and electing a clerk pro tem from the Council. This accomplished, they knew who was the proper person to sign warrants, licenses, ordinances and other documents requiring the signature of the City Clerk, and if the attempt to elect a new City Clerk should fail, no harm could come to the City. The course of the Council cannot fail of receiving the approval of the people, and the idea that any indignity was cast or intended to be cast upon either Mr. Leonard or Mr. Dunham is palpably absurd.

New Jersey Editorial Association.

The twenty-seventh annual meeting of this Association was held at the American House last Monday. There was a large attendance of members and much interest was manifested in the proceedings.

The meeting was called to order by John F. Babcock, Esq., President.

The roll of newspapers was called by the Secretary, Chas. Betchel, Esq.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with on motion of Mr. Simerson.

The following propositions for membership were made:

John T. Morrell, Beverly Banner; Bartram L. Bonsall, Camden Post; Lawrence S. Mott, Trenton Times; J. Townly Crane, Shore Press, Asbury Park; William L. Marshon, Advocate, Rahway; John L. Jones; Democrat-Advertiser, Flemington; A. V. D. Honeyman, Unionist-Gazette, Somerville; Fred. Borden, Madison Eagle, James P. Logan, Enterprise, Burlington.

The propositions were referred to the Executive Committee, which retired and subsequently reported favorably thereon.

The candidates were elected.

Major Yard presented his report as Treasurer, which showed the receipts during the past year to have been $226.56; balance on hand at last report, $776.61. Total, $1,003.17. The disbursements were $56.85, leaving a balance on hand of $947.32. The receipts of the excursion account were $2,538, and when the expenses were paid a balance was left of $63.06, which was paid to the general account.

The report was received and filed.

The Executive Committee made a report upon a letter from Henry Kurtz, an old member from Camden, asking that he be retired on the honorary list. The Committee recommended that he be made an honorary member. The report was adopted.

The President appointed as the Committee to nominate officers: Messrs. A. A. Vance, W. B. Guild, John Simerson, J. E. Watkins and E. F. Applegate.

The Secretary, Charles Bechtel, Esq., presented his report, which showed 191 journals in the State, being an increase of three over last year. The report was received and filed.

The Committee on Nominations reported the following as officers for the ensuing year:

President—Jas. D. Flynn, Bordentown Register.

Vice President—First District—Alfred Cooper, Cape May Gazette; Second District J. E. Watkins, Moorestown Chronicle; Third Dist—W. L. Force, Constitutionalist, Plainfield; Fourth Dist.—W. G. Gallis, Hunterdon Republican; Fifth District—S. L. Garrison, Bulletin, Boonton; Sixth District—William B. Guild, Journal, Newark; Seventh District—Ed. Gardner, Times, Bayonne.

Secretary—Charles Bechtel.

Treasurer—James S. Yard.

Executive Committee—S. Chew, A. A. Vance, John F. Babcock, Lewis S. Hyer.

The Committee also reported a proposition to change the constitution, making the Executive Committee consist of seven members. The report was adopted, the proposed change of the constitution laid over until the next annual meeting, and the persons recommended as officers were declared elected.

The retiring President, Mr. John F. Babcock, delivered an interesting address in compliance with the constitution of the Association.

Council Proceedings.

All Present—Sundry Claims—Property Owners to be Prosecuted for not cleaning their Sidewalks—Four More Applications for Saloon Licenses—An Effort to have the Streets' Names on Lamp Posts Squelched—Collector Johnson the Man to Collect—A Special Committee Appointed in the Clerk Matter—Adjourned Until the 29th.

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 15TH.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment.

Present—President Livingston and Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—11.

Absent—None.

The minutes of the previous meetings of Jan. 1st and 8th, approved as read.

PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS.

By Mr. Polak, D. W. Littell, repairing lamps, $11 90.

By Mr. R. Simpson, A. V. Shotwell, laying cross-walk, $26.28.

By Mr. Beguelin, Mrs. Gamberton, $9; Mrs. D. Randolph, 10; Chas. Hyde, $7.

All the above referred to the proper Committees.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Coriell from the Laws Com., reported its approval of the resolution referred to it at the previous meeting, providing for the appointment of an officer to collect delinquent taxes and by whom should be received and executed the warrants for such purpose. The Com. recommended the name of Geo. W. Moore as an officer to be designated, and suggested that he give an approved bond for the faithful performance of the duties of the office.

On motion of Mr. Jones, seconded by Mr. Serrell, the report and its recommendations were laid on the table.

Mr. Coriell from the Laws Com., reported from the bond of Amos Moffett, presented at the last meeting, as not conforming with all the requirements, and recommended its return to that Officer for correction. So ordered.

Mr. Jones from the Police Com., reported as correct the claim of P. Lynch, for services as Special Policeman, $6.75. Returned to the Com. for its endorsement.

NEW BUSINESS.

Mr. Polak moved for adoption a resolution to the effect that occupants and owners of property be compelled to keep their sidewalks free from snow and ice, under a penalty of $5 for each offence.

Mr. Coriell thought that the Mayor should give such notice and see that the Ordinance is complied with.

Mr. Serrell quoted from the Ordinance (as published elsewhere) and held that such covered the matter without any resolution.

Corporation Counsel Marsh being called upon for his opinion in the matter said that although it was plainly the duty of the Mayor to enforce the Ordinances, still it would be no harm to call the attention of the public, by means of printed notices, to the fact of its being the intention of the Council to enforce the law and its penalties.

Mr R. Simpson considered it unneces*sary to circulate printed notices to any* such effect when the law could be used in enforcing the penalties of the offence.—He thought it the duty of the Street Commissioner to give all the notice required as a warning to those neglecting to comply with the Ordinance.

The Corporation Counsel sustained Mr. Simpson in his view of the matter. The Ordinance, he said, was sufficient notice to the property owners, and the Street Commissioner or police need only enter a complaint against the offenders in order that such might be made to suffer the penalty.

On motion of Mr. Gardner, the rules were suspended and the following applications for liquor licenses were received:

To keep a saloon, by Charles Bock, No. 5 East Second Street, 1st-Ward.

Also P. Day, Third Street, near Plainfield Avenue, 4th Ward.

Also William Sullivan, No. 64 West Third Street, 4th Ward.

Also James H. Force, West Front St., 4th Ward.

All referred to Com. on Licenses.

Mr. Gardner presented the claim of E. O. Chamberlin, advertising, $121. Referred to Printing Com.

Mr. Marsh moved an amendment to the resolution of Mr. Polak, to the effect that owners and occupants of property be notified that the snow and ice in front of such property must be removed or strewn with sand, ashes or saw-dust, within four hours after it has fallen, under a penalty of five dollars. And that a failure to comply with the ordinance will subject the offender to immediate prosecution. Seconded by Mr. Serrell.

Mr. Coriell didn't think that the resolution amounted to anything. He thought that if two or three of the offenders were brought before the City Judge and fined, it would be the most effective warning.

The resolution as amended was then adopted. All voting aye.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Mr. Polak moved for adoption a resolution to the effect that the Com. on lamps be instructed to have placed on all lamps now or hereafter located on any corner, the names of the streets thereat. Seconded by Mr. Coriell.

Mr. Jones moved as an amendment, that the Com. first ascertain the expense of carrying out such instructions and report such cost to the Council before going on with the work. Seconded by Mr. Marsh.

The President after calling Mr. Serrell to the Chair, spoke against the resolution as involving great expense, and moved the whole matter be laid upon the table. Seconded by Mr. Marsh and carried, after Mr. J. Simpson had remarked that the Council found it hard enough to light the lamps, let alone painting them with the names of the streets.

On motion of Mr. Serrell a recess of ten minutes was taken.

Upon re-assembling, Mr. Marsh moved that when the Council adjourn it be until Monday evening, the 29th inst. Carried.

Mr. Marsh called from the table the resolution providing for the appointment of an officer to collect the delinquent taxes.

The same was read by the Clerk with the recommendation of the Com. on Laws that Geo. W. Moore be designated as such officer.

Mr. Serrell said that the only question that arose in the matter was as to who was the better person to appoint. He moved to amend the report by the substitution of the name of John Johnson for that of Geo. W. Moore. He held that if the latter was appointed to collect the delinquent taxes the City Collector would have no fees nor services to render until the taxes of 1883 were due. He had seen Mr. Johnson and he expressed himself as being able and willing to undertake the work at a compensation of 3 per cent. on the taxes of 1882 and 10 per cent. on the taxes prior to that year, and costs on all.

Mr. Beguelin seconded the amendment.

Mr. Corriell stated that Mr. Moore had been the only man found in many years that pursued the matter so closely that delinquents had been forced to settle. Having been so energetic, the speaker thought him the best man for the office, but if Mr. Johnson could and would do as he said, he should be given a chance. Mr. Coriell wanted to see all the taxes collected with interest and would vote for any man who would accomplish such results.

Mr. Marsh spoke of the fact that it had been the custom of previous Councils to appoint a collector of delinquent taxes and Mr. Moore had been such officer. Consequently he had his hand in and could the more readily and easily pursue the matter, but at the same time the speaker had no desire to interfere with Mr. Johnson's rights.

Mr. J. Simpson thought it cost the city too much to collect its taxes, and could not understand why a Collector could not be elected who could collect the taxes himself.

Mr. Serrell stated that he had no objection to Mr. Moore, but the Council should be guided by the vote of the people which had designated Mr. Johnson as City Collector.

Mr. Beguelin though, if Mr. Moore was appointed there was no need of another Collector, and that the appointment of Mr. Moore would seem to imply that the Council had no confidence in Mr. Johnson. He felt that it was due the latter that he should have a trial at least.

Mr. Marsh read from the Law of '82 to the effect that the Council had the power to revoke at any time the appointment of the officer and appoint another in his place.

The amendment was then carried, Mr. Gardiner voting in the negative.

The Resolution as amended was adopted, all voting aye.

It was moved by Mr. Marsh, seconded by J. Simpson, that the Finance Com be instructed to arrange with Mr. Johnson for compensation on a basis of 3 per cent on the taxes of 1882 and 7½ per cent. on the taxes of the year prior.

Carried, all aye.

Mr. Serrell moved that a Special Committee be appointed to act with the Corporation counsel in conference as to the best proceedings to adopt in bringing the matter of ex-Collector Clark's deficiency to a just settlement.

Seconded by Mr. Marsh and carried; all aye.

The President appointed as such committee Messrs Serrell, Coriell and J. Simpson.

The Council then adjourned.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Vanderhoof, of Park avenue, will spend the Winter at The Albemarle, New York, taking their servants and livery with them.

A Cure for Cold Feet.

The Philadelphia Ledger says: People who write or sew all day, or rather those who take but little exercise, may warm their cold feet without going to the fire. All that is necessary is to stand erect and very gradually to lift one's self up upon the tips of the toes, so as to put all the tendons of the foot at full strain. This is not to jump or hop up and down, but simply to rise—the slower the better—upon tiptoe, and to remain standing on the point of the toes as long as possible, then gradually coming to the natural position. Repeat this several times and, by the amount of work the tips of the toes are made to do, in sustaining the body's weight, a sufficient and lively circulation is set up.

THE HOSPITAL AND ITS WORK.

A Review of its Thirteen Months' History.

MR. EDITOR:—The Managing Committee of Muhlenberg Hospital desires to extend thanks to the friends who have so liberally contributed money and other articles to the support of the Hospital since the enterprise was originated, and also submits herewith for publication the medical and financial statements of the Hospital for the first thirteen months, since its opening, viz., December 1st, 1881 to January 1st, 1883.

These statements will put before your readers the number and character of the cases treated, the items of expense incurred, and the sources of income from the opening of the hospital to the first of the present year. It is a gratification to the management to say that owing to the liberality of those who have contributed, all demands have been met and there are no unpaid bills or outstanding obligations of any description.

The work of the hospital (a large proportion of which is charity) has steadily increased during the past year, and the necessity for such an institution has been abundantly demonstrated, not only by the results accomplished, but by the way it has commended itself to the good people of Plainfield. The estimates for the coming year contemplate an expense of about eighteen hundred dollars, which it is hoped may be secured by a continuation of and increase in the individual annual subscriptions heretofore so generously made. It is desired to secure if possible two hundred annual subscriptions averaging ten dollars each. The amount thus raised will provide for the current expenses, and also a necessary margin for repairs and other incidentals.

The hosp'tal is open for visitors every Tuesday and Friday afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock, when the superintendent will be glad to see any one who may desire to inspect the premises.

Yours very truly,
JOHN M. WHITON,
Chairman Managing Committee.

Statement of patients received and treated at Muhlenberg Hospital from December 1st, 1881 to Jan. 1st, 1883.

Males—in doors	19
Dispensary	7	26
Females—in doors	23
Dispensary	3	26
Total received at hospital		52
Discharged, recovered		43
Died		4
Improved		3
Still under treatment		3
Total		53
Surgical operations reparative and plastic all successful		11

Diseases Treated.	Cases.
Uterine Disease	12
Wounds	6
Fractures	6
Varicose Ulcers	6
Burns	1
Hip disease	2
Phthisis	3
Spinal disease	1
Spinal injury	1
Railroad injury	4
Malaria	3
Hemorrhoids	1
Fistula in ano	1
Tumors	1
Eye disease, Phlectumae	1
Phimosis	1
Necrosis	1
Varicocele	1
Premature confinement	1
Total	53

G. W. ENDICOTT,
Director Medical Staff.

The following is the treasurer's report of the finances for the entire period:

RECEIPTS.

1881. Dec. 1. Cash on Hand			[illegible]
1883. Ladies' Auxiliary Board.
Collections [illegible] months	[illegible]
One Dollar Subscriptions	[illegible]
Contributions for charity patients	[illegible]
Furniture, bought & donated	[illegible]
Tea donations	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible] entertainments, donations, etc.	[illegible]
Contributions, Board of Gov'rs	[illegible]
S. B. Underhill, [illegible]	[illegible]
Grace church	[illegible]
Crescent Ave.	[illegible]
Seventh Day Bapt.	[illegible]
Collections at [illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Payments by patients		[illegible]
		[illegible]

DISBURSEMENTS.

1883. Payments on Building	[illegible]
Furniture	[illegible]
Insurance	[illegible]
Printing, Engravings, &c.	[illegible]
Provisions	[illegible]
Fuel	[illegible]
Salary, Superintendent	[illegible]
Nurse	[illegible]
Cook and extra help	[illegible]
Medicines	[illegible]
Paid by H. F. Reynolds	[illegible]	[illegible]
Balance on hand		[illegible]
By Capital		[illegible]
To Cash on hand	[illegible]
To Building	[illegible]
To Insurance	[illegible]
To Furniture	[illegible]
Loan 5 per cent [illegible]	[illegible]
	[illegible]	[illegible]

Jan. 1, 1883. CHAS. SCHIPPER, Treasurer.

An Official Expression of Thanks.

At the regular monthly meeting of the St. Mary's T. A. B. Society, held in St. Mary's Hall, on the 8th inst, it was unanimously resolved to tender a vote of thanks to the ladies and their friends, who contributed to make the Temperance Department of the late Fair a success. The Society wishes in a special manner to publicly express its gratitude to the young ladies who were chiefly instrumental in securing the contested watch for the Temperance candidate, Mr. John Martley.

By order of Com. on Resolutions,
JOHN SULLIVAN,
PATRICK DONOVON.

MISCELLANY.

Cheap Living.

Plainfield Cheap Cash Meat Market, N J. Randolph, Manager. For the information of cash buyers who have an eye to economy, we would say that money will go about as far in this market as it will anywhere in the United States. As specimen quotations: You can buy Trenton hams, ordinary size, at 14 cents; the small sizes, which are cut from Jersey Spring pigs, sell at 15 cents. They are cured in the old-fashioned country style and are very fine. Trenton sausage, loose, 14 cents, in skins, 14 cents. Round steak, from Trenton slaughtered cattle, 16 cents. Fresh Beef Rounds for Curing, 12½ cents.

We have a large stock of Butter and Cheese, which seems to be a part of every well-kept market. Butter has declined in New York fully 5 cts. per lb. the last 30 days, and will probably go still lower.—The decline is mostly on Summer and early Fall grades. We have reduced our prices accordingly, and now sell the Very Finest Fresh Made New York Dairy at 32 cts. Finest Western Creamery, 30 cts., and a good, sound sweet article at 25 cts. Families supplied by the tub at still lower prices. We have 100 9 lb. pails of the famous Elgin Creamery, which costs so high that we are ashamed to quote it, but we will sell it at 45 cents.

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

In the streets of Moscow persons are daily found frozen to death.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 32 West Front Street.

According to a local newspaper, cattle valued at $13,500,000 are now grazing in what was six years ago absolutely Indian country in Texas.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

Governor Ludlow has taken up his residence during the session of the Legislature, at No. 156 West State street, Trenton.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

California is not generally considered a cotton State, yet one plantation in Sonoma county this season yielded 40,000 pounds from 225 acres.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

The largest and most perfect ice-bridge ever seen across the chasm below the falls formed last Sunday night. It is over a mile in length, and will remain during the rest of the winter.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

In South Australia in 1880-81 there were 4,337 acres of vines, producing 500,955 gallons of wine; in New South Wales there were 4,724½ acres of vines, producing 584,282 gallons, and in Victoria there were 4,281 acres, producing 574,143 gallons. Recent reports state that the production will soon be doubled.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties can now purchase elegant patterns of wall paper of H. S. Barnes, 6 W. Front street, at greatly reduced prices. tf

The new college at Cambridge University, in England, Selwyn College, bids fair to be as brilliant a success at Cambridge as Keble has been at Oxford. Only sixty students can be accommodated so far, as the £38,000 originally subscribed did not suffice to build more than the first block. Selwyn is the first new college added to the University during the present century.

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 32 West Front Street, at the New York price. m17tf

WITH the mercury ranging from 10 to 30 degrees below zero in different parts of the country, there is every indication that the ice crop will be a success this season.

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Demaan's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

A California capitalist hypothecated a large block of mining stock for a loan; the stock immediately began to rise, and the person to whom it was pledged sold it. When the price fell he bought it back, clearing $295,000 by the transaction. As soon as the real owner heard of the speculation he sued for the entire profit as belonging to him, and the Supreme Court has decided in his favor, and ordered the sum paid to him.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.—William J. Coughlin, Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876, I was taken with bleeding of lungs followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past.

ANOTHER PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.—Boston Mass., May 9th, 1881.—I know parties who have tried all kinds of medicines for Lung Diseases, who say that Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the lungs is a complete success. DR. CHAS. H. WOOD.

SKINNY MEN.—"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia, $1.

GOOD FOR BABIES—With a baby at breast nothing is so useful for quieting my own and baby's nerves as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It prevents bowel complaints, and is better than any stimulant to give strength and appetite.—A Newark Mother.

Best ever made. Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar-coated; no griping; only 15 cents a box, of Druggists or mail. Standard Cure Co. Sold by H. F. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

For thick heads, heavy stomachs, bilious conditions, "Wells' May Apple Pills" anti-bilious, cathartic. 10 and 25c

USEFUL IN THE FAMILY.—We usually leave it to doctors to recommend medicines, but Parker's Ginger Tonic has been so useful in our family in relieving sickness and suffering that we cannot say too much in its praise.—Salem Argus.

Malaria, Chills and Fever, and Bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills—an infallible remedy; never fail to cure the most obstinate, long-standing cases where Quinine and all other remedies had failed. They are prepared expressly for malarious sections, in double boxes, two kinds of Pills, containing a strong cathartic and a chill breaker, sugar-coated; contain no Quinine or Mercury, causing no griping or purging; they are mild and efficient, certain in their action and harmless in all cases; they effectually cleanse the system, and give new life and tone to the body. As a household remedy they are unequaled. For Liver Complaint their equal is not known; one box will have a wonderful effect on the worst case. They are used and prescribed by physicians, and sold by Druggists everywhere, or sent by mail, 25 and 50 cent boxes. Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, best ever made, only 15 cents. Sold by H. F. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

DON'T DIE IN THE HOUSE.—"Rough on Rats" clears out rats, mice, roaches, bed-bugs, flies, ants, moles, chipmunks, gophers. 15c.

See a woman in another column, near Speer's Vineyards, picking grapes from which Speer's Port Grape Wine is made, that is so highly esteemed by the medical profession, for the use of invalids, weakly persons and the aged. Sold by druggists. 1y31-1y

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead, and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. SMITH, KLINE & CO., Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia, and HALL & RUCKEL, New York. jo16 ly

The youthful color, beauty and lustre are gradually restored to gray hair by Parker's Hair Balsam.

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS TO LIVE.—From John Kuhn, Ind., who announces that he is now in "perfect health," we have the following: "One year ago I was to all appearance, in the last stages of Consumption. Our best physicians gave my case up. I finally got so low that our doctor said I could not live twenty-four hours. My friends then purchased a bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, which considerably benefited me. I continued until I took nine bottles. I am now in perfect health, having no other medicine."

Dr. DeWitt C. Kellinger's Liniment is an infallible cure for Rheumatism, Sprains, Lumbago and Diseases of the Scalp, and for promoting the growth of the Hair.

Edey's Carbolic Troches cure colds and prevent disease.

WESTFIELD ADVERTISERS.

C. A. SMITH,
DEALER IN
Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Agent for Lister Bros. Bone and Phosphates for Westfield and Fanwood.
UNLEACHED ASHES AND LAND PLASTER BY THE LOAD OR CARGO.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone Call No. 24. may19

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the interest of the people.
OFFICE, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also
Standard Fertilizers,
such as Mape's, Lister's, Stockbridge & Bowker's Phosphates and Bone Manures, for all crops, bought low for cash, and will be sold at reasonable prices.
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
German Valley Lime, by the car load, &c.
E. M. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 40, SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J. ap2ltf

C. E. AGUIRRE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Office at Gale's Pharmacy.
Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty
All work guaranteed to be FIRST CLASS, and to give entire satisfaction. 26elj

JOHN KANE,
WESTFIELD, N. J.
Driven and Drilled Wells.
REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Unexceptionable references given if desired. sotf

TURF EXCHANGE
ALE and BEER VAULTS,
Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J.
JOHN L. ROULSTON, - Proprietor.
Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand.
Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all times.
Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS. 18y1*

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java, Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,

Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

WHITNEY

Offers a large stock of Hamburg Edgings at Very Low Prices.

MUSLINS!

At N. Y. Wholesale Prices.

LOOK AT OUR 25c. TOWELS.

Kid Gloves a Specialty.

Have just received a lot of 5-hook Foster Kids, black and colors, which we offer at $1.00, the usual price is $1.50. Also, the celebrated Mignon Kid, (every pair warranted), $1.25.

Closing out Underwear at decided bargains. Carpets, Oil Cloths, Druggets and Mats, at

S. H. WHITNEY'S,

(Opposite Post-office.)

Japanese Salve!

For Chapped Hands and Lips, Frosted Feet and all Skin Diseases.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT.

A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY

Vail Bros., Philadelphia.

PECK'S CORNER.

COME TO PECK'S

LADIES, MISSES AND CHILDREN'S CORSETS AND CORSET WAISTS

At Peck's.

YOU CANNOT FAIL TO FIND JUST WHAT YOU WANT

At Peck's.

STORE CLOSES AT 7 P. M.

Curtiss & Griffen.

LEVER
Hay and Stalk Cutter,
The Best in the Market.

Clinton Shellers,
AND THE
"A.B.C," Right-hand
WOOD FRAME
Sheller & Separator.

ROEBUCK WEATHER STRIPS.

Lanterns, Street Lamps, Dash Lamps.

Remember, at our Store you BUY GOODS 5 Per Ct. Cheaper For Cash than for Credit.

No. 13 East Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Bachman Bro's Dry Goods Store!

THE NEW FIRM OF BACHMAN BROTHERS HEREBY ANNOUNCE TO THE PUBLIC, THAT THEY WILL, AS HERETOFORE, TAKE ALL PAINS AND EFFORTS TO TREAT THEIR PATRONS WITH ALL DUE RESPECT, AND GUARANTEE TO SELL THEM GOODS AT THE LOWEST PRICES, AND AS REPRESENTED.

Very Respectfully,
Bachman Bros.

'Ain't Half Told?

To reduce the stock before we take our annual inventory (February first) we have marked the following goods to which we invite our customer's attention.

Fruit of the Loom 4-4 Muslin,	9½	Cents.
Lonsdale, 4-4 Muslin.	9½	"
Dwight Anchor, 4-4 Muslin,	10	"
Wamsutta, 4-4 Muslin,	12	"
Utica, (Nonpariel)	12½	"
Utica, extra heavy,	11	"
Fruit of the Loom, 5-4 Pillow casing,	17	"
" " " 6-4 "	20	"
Utica, (Sheeting) 9-4 and New York Mill,	29	"

Other brands of Sheeting positively at New York cost. Also 9-4 Twilled Sheeting 33 cents. Table Linens, Napkins, Towels, Doylies, Tidies in immense quantities and varieties. Worsted in double, single and split, all colors, 9 cents per ounce. Our Millinery stock we have reduced 50 per cent to close. 100 Dolmans, Cloaks, Havelocks, at half former prices.

At D. Boehm & Bro., 7 West Front street.

JUST IN STOCK!

FALL Hats FALL Hats

LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S.

Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.

Horse Sheets and Lap Robes.

Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices. jan3-

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

"NOT AT HOME," NEW YEAR'S DAY.

If we haven't had a time this week no mortal family ever had. In the first place, baby raised Cain all Christmas morning, and scared ma and Aunt Sophia into a conniption, and three doctors consulted for an hour before they discovered that the yelling didn't mean meningitis, but a small rubber band off his fly killer, which Johnny has slipped on baby's leg in a crease of the fat, where it wouldn't show. Then, of course, Johnny got an awful trouncing from pa, who said he knew all the time what a chucklehead our doctor was, and that Aunt Sophia hadn't any more sense than a hen to send three tom-fool telegrams in 10 minutes to Delmonico's to call him home from a stag breakfast in time to see baby die, which, of course, baby didn't. Then next morning Johnny was sick, and the doctor told ma it wasn't scarlet fever but raisins, which Aunt Sophia had given him for learning his catechism. Well, of course Aunt Sophia said it was a judgment on pa for having trounced Johnny Christmas day, and then she went up stairs and read a hymn to Johnny, and rubbed on turpentine where the raisins hurt, and gave him the bottle to keep, and asked him if he wasn't sorry for having jammed her cat's head into the milk jug Saturday, and Johnny said he was, and then Aunt Sophia brought Romeo in, and Johnny rubbed his back to see the electricity, and Aunt Sophia slipped down stairs with tears in her eyes and told ma that if Johnny would die now he would go straight to Heaven, and that it was the sweetest thing she ever saw to see how he had reconciled Romeo. Just then Romeo came whizzing down stairs like a sky-rocket, and raced around the room and out of it, and down stairs and up, and left a streak of bad smell all over the house like fresh paint, and Helen screamed, and Gwen called William, and William got out his pistol, and ma nearly fainted, and Jane, the house-girl, ran out to call the policeman, who is her cousin, and pa laughed and told Aunt Sophia that he used to reconcile cats with turpentine, too, when he was a boy, and that he guessed Johnny would live till morning if she'd go up and read him another hymn, and my! but Aunt Sophia was so mad you couldn't think.

But all this wasn't a circumstance to what happened yesterday. You see ma had invited Mr. and Mrs. Van Bumblebug and the Misses De Upenkoff and young Brentwood Fidelstring to dinner, and Mr. Forsyth was coming, of course, and pa said William could trot Adele around too, and William said he would if Gwen would invite her, which Gwen did, and then pa said that to sort of even up that pew business he guessed he'd ask the Rev. Mr. Limber, who would do to fill up, anyhow. Now, you know the Van Bumblebugs are awfully big people, although they do say Mrs. Van Bumblebug was his first wife's milliner, which is awfully low, and that Mr. Van Bumblebug has gout so bad that he can't spell—and then the Misses De Upenkoff are really so aristocratic that neither of them have ever married, although ma says the youngest has been just 19 ever since the Summer before the Centennial, and Aunt Sophia thinks young Brentwood Fidelstring is the greatest catch of the season because he is so pious and rich, although pa says he don't know enough to come in when it rains. So the girls had a regular hair-dresser come, and ma forgot her neuralgia and got out her diamonds, and William spent half an hour polishing his nails, and Romeo was soothed with some sweet oil and had a red ribbon tied round his neck, and Gwen fixed up the pug, and Johnny promised Aunt Sophia to be real good, and pa hired two waiters, and we all got ready for a swell time.

Well, 7 o'clock came at last, and Mr. Limber was the first to arrive. Then the Misses De Upenkoff came, with a maid, and William brought Adele, who struck up a flirtation the first thing with young Brentwood Fidelstring, and made William so jealous that he was cross-eyed; and, finally, the Van Bumblebugs rolled up, and the party was complete, for Mr. Forsyth had been at the house all the afternoon with Gwen. Of course, we told the hired waiter not to announce dinner right off, even if the Van Bumblebugs were late, and Mr. Limber said what a fine head Johnny had—just like his pa's; and Aunt Sophia said that Johnny wasn't well enough to remember his text, and Mr. Limber asked ma why she didn't try the faith-cure by laying on of hands, and pa winked at Mr. Forsyth and said he had tried it and really thought it was the only thing that ever did Johnny any good, and Mr. Limber couldn't see what there was in that to make ma smile or Aunt Sophia mad. But just then the waiter said dinner was ready, and Mr. Fidelstring took Adele in, which broke poor William all up. Then Mr. Van Bumblebug tucked the corner of his napkin under his collar and Mr. Limber said grace, and Johnny put a pinch of cayenne pepper on the pug's nose so that he nearly sneezed his head off; so that after Mr. Limber said Amen, pa remarked very sweetly that Johnny wasn't at all well and that Jane had better take him up to bed until he could give him a little more faith-cure by and by.

Well, you know the dinner was really given to Mr. Van Bumblebug, whose broker went crazy about a week ago, and pa said that by shoving a bottle or two under Mr. Van Bumblebug's vest he guessed he could get his custom, and we could go to Saratoga next Summer. So of course we were all anxious to make it as pleasant for Mr. Van Bumblebug, and also for Mrs. Van Bumblebug, for pa says she has ruled the roost ever since she saw Mr. Van Bumblebug's name in the list of those who were at the French ball last Winter. And so we just sat and listened while Mrs. Van Bumblebug talked family through the oysters and soup and fish clear to the roast beef, and the elder Miss De Upenkoff, who sat next to William, said she never could marry a man who hadn't blood, and Mr. Forsyth whispered to Gwen that he guessed the man could stand it if Miss De Upenkoff could. Well, just as we were in the middle of all this, who should come in but Jane, the house-girl, looking like she had seen a ghost, and whispered to ma, and ma turned red, and pa asked what was the matter, and ma said "nothing," and poor Aunt Sophia looked round to see if Romeo was all right, and ma asked us to excuse her just a minute, and was about to leave the room when the door flew open, and who should walk right in but Cousin Sue, fresh from the country, and looking ugly enough with her freckles and pink silk to curdle the devil's own milk, as pa afterward said. There she was—was Cousin Sue—and there was no helping it, so ma had to smile and say how glad she was that Cousin Sue had surprised us, and Cousin Sue said she knew we would be, and pa said he was so delighted he couldn't think, and then Cousin Sue was presented to everybody she didn't know and sat down in Johnny's place and said that she was tuckered clean out with railroading and wouldn't trouble the cook to warm over the soup.

The rest of that dinner pa said afterward was like a nightmare. Cousin Sue talked all the time. She found out that Mrs. Van Bumblebug used to be a Miss Tomkins, and asked her if she wasn't related to the Tomkinses who kept a pie store in Utica, and when Mrs. Van Bumblebug said with great dignity that she wasn't, Cousin Sue said that she wondered what possessed that John Tompkins to lie so, for he had often spoken of Mr. Van Bumblebug as his rich brother-in-law. Then Cousin Sue remembered having met Miss De Upenkoff's father when he was drumming for a wholesale candy house in Newburg years ago, and asked Mr. Fidelstring if he had ever tried witch hazel to cure those pimples on his forehead, and that if he would give her his address she'd send him a bottle just like that which had healed William when he had sore eyes.

Well, of course everybody went home very early, and then Cousin Sue said she never had enjoyed herself better in her life, but guessed she'd go up to bed, and went; and then ma asked Aunt Sophia did she ever, and Aunt Sophia said she never, and pa slammed the door and kicked the pug half-way across the room, and told William to quit drying his brains up with that cigarette, and said if ma had any more specimen relatives to trot out he'd like to see 'em, and that of course now Mr. Van Bumblebug would give him all his custom—oh, yes, certainly! And then he put on his overcoat and said he was going out to get the fresh air, and didn't get back until after 3 in the morning; and when ma asked him at breakfast what had spoiled his new silk hat he said Rushton Foster had sat on it at the club.

We won't receive to-morrow. Cousin Sue brought down a pea-green silk and her set of coral, and a hundred printed cards with silver borders, and said she came on purpose to see a real New York reception, but ma told her that the custom isn't swell any longer, and wrote a line to the Home Journal to say that we were going to spend a week or two in Stamford, and so we won't be at home to any one but Mr. Forsyth until after Cousin Sue goes. Meanwhile pa eats at the club.—H. G. C. in N. Y. Times.

GLEANINGS.

At a fashionable wedding in Boston the floral piece suspended over the bridal couple was a yoke.

A cooking range in a Montreal kitchen blew up a few mornings since by reason of the freezing of the pipes, and killed a servant girl.

Joseph Sanville and Miss Rauliar, in crossing the river at Two Rivers, Wis., on Jan. 5th, broke through the ice and both were drowned. They were to have been married.

In the House on Friday last the District of Columbia Appropriation bill, appropriating $3,443,847, or $27,191 less than the amount of the last appropriation, was passed.

The ice men on the Kennebec River are not at all cheerful, for the cold weather and the consequently congealing rivers are too widely extended for their pecuniary interests.

The Secretary of the Navy has sent a communication to the Senate recommending the construction of four steel cruisers, one iron despatch boat and one cruising torpedo-boat.

A clergyman in Lynn, Mass., noted, as the local chronicler says, for singular remarks, surprised the Sunday School by alluding to St. John and St. Peter as Mr. John and Mr. Peter.

An Indiana photographer put the heads of two wealthy young women on the bodies of ballet dancers, and sold the pictures, for which freak of business he has been sued for $10,000 damages.

Senator West on Friday last reported to the Senate a bill defining the duties of the Interior Department with regard to the Yellowstone Park and extending the area of the park by 3,344 square miles.

In Suffolk, England, last month, a property of 225 acres, with residence, brought no higher bid than $15,000. It had been bought for $65,000, and the reserved price was $40,000 so it was not sold.

Tom Thumb and his wife have grown so much that they are no longer curiosities. They have opened a museum in Chicago, and advertise as attractions a pair of midgets one third of their own size.

A medical purveyor of the United States Army at St. Louis says that the accumulation of worthless medicines disposed of from time to time by the Government is bought by dealers and resold to the trade.

A man desired to bury his amputated leg in a Dubuque cemetery, but the superintendent refused to allow it, on the ground that a burial permit was necessary for every interment, and such a document could only be procured for an entire body.

Red Cloud has filed a claim against the Government for the value of a lot of horses taken from his tribe ten years ago by General Crook. The savage leader hasn't been in Washington very long, but it is plain enough that he is getting a pretty tight grip upon the spirit of our glorious institutions.

Two young women went to Troy from a neighboring village, one being clad mainly in clothes borrowed from the other. At midnight they quarrelled in the street, and the lender of the garments demanded their return, then and there, and forthwith stripped her companion of her bonnet, cloak and dress and carried them away. The shivering victim of broken friendship was taken to a police station, and thence sent home in an overcoat.

Forty electric lights in a Chicago store suddenly ceased to burn Thursday night, and a rat was found under the dynamo, one leg raised as if about to take another step. The rat was dead and rooted to the spot. He had leaped first on one of the copper conductors underneath the brush and in stepping on another closed the circuit so that the entire current from forty-eight machines passed through his body and prevented it ascending.

The coinage executed at the United States Mint, in Philadelphia, during the year 1882 aggregated 69,967,290 pieces, valued at $48,309,385. This amount was made up as follows: Double eagles, 630; eagles, 2,324,480; half eagles, 2,514,560; $3. pieces, 1540; quarter eagles, 4040; dollars, 5040; total gold, 4,850,290 pieces. Dollars, 11,101,100; half dollars, 5500; quarter dollars, 16,300, dimes, 3,911,100, total silver, 15,034,000 pieces. Five cents, 11,476,600; three cents, 25,300; cents, 38,581,100.

Mr. Phineas T. Barnum's New Year's gift to each of the letter-carriers in Bridgeport, Conn., was a copy of his own autobiography.

Canned goods, hermetically sealed, are now mailable as fourth-class mail matter, which describes the average article of that sort to a nicety.

A Spanish pistareen, of the date of 1578, was recently found by Samuel Y. Briant, of Lower Alloways Creek, Salem county, while tearing down an old building. The date is still very plain, although the coin is considerably battered and out of shape.

The wife of J. V. Stillwell, a railroad employee, has made a death bed confession near Mount Vernon, Ohio, of the commission of three murders. She says she killed her first husband, Benjamin Swiegert, in Marysville, Missouri, in 1877, with the assistance of her mother and brother; that she and her mother and brother killed a strange woman in a boarding house, for her money; and that at Rule, Nebraska, in May, 1880, she strangled her own fourteen year old daughter, in the presence of her mother. She also says she attempted to kill her present husband three times to obtain his life insurance. She is dying of consumption.

STATE ITEMS.

The wages of the miners in Morris county are to be cut down to $1.25 per day.

A new iron company has purchased about 1,500 acres of iron land in Morris county.

Drew Seminary, at Madison, Morris county, has graduated 300 Methodist preachers in 13 years.

The State Historical Society will hold its thirty-eighth annual meeting at the State Capital on Thursday, the 18th inst.

Gordon's Press Works, at Rahway, turned out three hundred and seventy-five printing presses for the year ending Dec. 1st.

The Passaic County Grand Jury will investigate several cases of alleged bribery at the last election, of which Prosecutor Stevenson has the evidence.

A young lady rushed into a down-town Justice's office at Camden, one night recently, and breathlessly asked for a warrant against a young man who she said had "reduced her."

The Grand Jury of the December term of the Burlington County Courts, have found a bill of indictment against Geo. P. Conover, late Sheriff of the county, for embezzlement of the county funds.

A syndicate composed of the summer cottagers at Seabright, Monmouth Beach, and adjoining villages, has purchased the steamer St. Johns for $110,000. It will be put on the route between New York and Sandy Hook in the Spring.

Three years ago bees made a nest in house occupied by Peter Hubert, of Stanhope. The mine was recently opened, and combs six feet long were brought to view. A large quantity has been taken out from between the weather-boards, and it is said that the aggregate will reach 300 pounds.

Thomas Dunn, of No. 306 First-street, was arrested in Jersey City on Friday last, on complaint of the Baxter Electric Light Company, who charges that he tied together a wire of that company and a bell telephone wire, with the design of doing malicious mischief. The wires were in some means brought into contact with each other a few nights ago. The city was left in darkness, and much damage was done in the telephone office by the interruption or diversion of the current.

Henry S. Harris, of Belvidere, N. J., the present member of Congress from that district, has served a notice upon Mr. Howey, Congressman-elect, that he will contest his right to a seat in the next Congress on the ground that money was used in Howey's interest to bribe voters; that large sums of money were used for Howey that had been assessed and collected from United States officials, contrary to law; that men who would have voted for Harris were intimidated into voting for Howey; that persons who would have voted for Harris were by threats intimidated from voting at all; that many votes were cast for Harris that were not counted and canvassed for him, and that many who meant and supposed they were voting for Harris, by the use of deceptive ballots voted for Howey. The notice is dated December 28, 1882.

THE GOVERNOR'S APPOINTMENTS.

The prominent appointments of the Governor this Winter, are as follows: two members of the State Board of health, in place of Cyrus F. Brackett and Theodore R. Varick; Commissioner of Railroad Taxation; three Commissioners of Fisheries; two justices of the Supreme Court to succeed Justices Scudder and Van Syckel; a judge of the Court of Errors and Appeals; a Commissioner of the Sinking Fund; two Commissioners of Pilotage; Prosecutors of the Pleas in place of Alexander T. McGillis Hudson; Alexander H. Sharpe, in Atlantic and Jame R. Hoagland, in Cape May; Lay Judges in place of Joseph Scull of Atlantic; Clayton A. Black of Burlington; Isaiah Woolston of Camden, Somers Gandy of Cape May, Nathaniel Stratton of Cumberland, Stephen W. Tichenor of Essex, Samuel T. Miller of Gloucester, John L. Jones of Hunterdon, Wm. S. Yard of Mercer, Charles F. Newton of Middlesex, John L. Wheeler of Monmouth, Richard H. Conover of Ocean, Henry P. Simmons of Passaic, William Plumber of Salem, John M. Garretson of Somerset, Hiram C. Clark of Sussex, Jehiel T. Kern of Warren. Law Judges are to be appointed in place of William E. Skinner of Bergen, Francis Child of Morris, and Thomas F. McCormick of Union.

FURNISHING FOWLS.

A colored lady approached a white woman the other day and applied for a situation as cook.

"You have had experience as a cook, I suppose."

"Yessum."

"Why did you leave your former place?"

"De biler busted."

"What boiler?"

"At de saw-mill. I was cookin' fur de han's."

"What were your duties, mainly?"

"Roast taters an' furnish chickens."

"Chickens are cheap in the country, aren't they?"

"Dese was."

"Where did you get them?"

"Dat's what the owner ob de mill wanted to know, but de secret is what I bases my 'ficiency on. Ef you wants me, I'll roast taters an' furnish de chickens for a dollah a week."

"You steal the chickens, don't you?"

"Wall, lady, some folks might call it dat, but da'd soon git used ter it and call it 'furnishing fowls.' Doant want me yer say? Good day, lady. I'll go ober here and strike de preacher's family."

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

Pickerel weighing from five to eight pounds apiece are being caught through the ice on Long Pond, near Sagg Harbor.

Maurice Daily defeated the champion Laxton, in a game of billiards, 500 up for $500, in New York City last Saturday night. The score stood 468 to 500.

A golden pheasant, supposed to have escaped from Lorillard's collection at Jobstown, was shot recently on Duck Island, by a Bordentown gunner.

A sportsman named John W. Hawkins was arrested at Mays Landing last week, and held in $200 bail for hearing on the charge of killing game out of season. He shipped his game to Philadelphia.

Samuel Graham, aged 52 years, one of the wealthiest farmers of Huntingdon, Pa., fatally shot himself while gunning near Pleasantville, recently. In 1880, while gunning, he accidently shot himself in the right leg, necessitating the amputation of the limb.

A remarkable pigeon roost near Macon, Miss., embraces forty acres in a valley surrounded by precipitous hills. A creek spreads over most of it, and a thick growth of vegetation makes an impenetrable morass. The birds seem to be prompted by instinct to select this as the safest lodging place for them in the region. Between sunset and dark, they fly in from all quarters in immense numbers, darkening the heavens and making a roaring noise.

The open season for shooting rabbits, quail and ruffed grouse (commonly called partridge) expired with Dec. 31st, 1882. It is now illegal to kill, take or have in possession any game of the above description. The penalty for so doing or having is $15 in each case. The past season has not been a very prolific one for game. There was a fair flight of fall woodcock, but the birds did not tarry long. Rabbits seem to be scarce, as well as ruffed grouse, but numerous bevies of quail have been seen in various quarters since the law was off. If there comes no deep snow the present winter, there is every prospect of an abundance of this fine game bird the next season. So mote it be.

WIT.

"The more you speak of yourself," said Zimmerman, "the more you are likely to lie."

Among the items in a shoemaker's bill presented to a Kingston man was "Heels on wife, twenty five cents."

It is suggested by a lady that the reason they say "her" and "she" when they speak of ships, is that they are so very docile and obedient.

If a two wheeled wagon is a bicycle and a three-wheeled wagon a tricycle, what would you call a five-wheeled one? A V-hicle, of course.

A person having asked how many "dog days" there were in the year, received for an answer that it was impossible to number them, as "every dog has his own day."

There is no law in this country to oblige the owner of a clipped horse to pass the winter without flannels or overcoat. That's where he has the advantage over brute creation.

A little girl of six years, when asked to whom she gave the order at the butcher's, replied: "To the man with the dimples in his face." The man was deeply pitted by small-pox.

SAYINGS OF JOSH BILLINGS.

If you kan't trust a man for the full amount, let him skip. This trying to git an average on honesty haz always been a failure.

There iz no teaching in silence—silence is a hard argument to beat.

Don't mistake habits for karakter, the man of the most karakter haz the fewest habits.

There's cheats in all things—even pi-zen is adulterated.

The man who is thoraly polite is 2-thirds of a Christian anyhow.

Kindness iz an instinkt, politeness only an art.

There is a grate deal of learning in this world which iz nothing more than trying to prove what we don't understand.

My dear boy there are but few who ken commence at the middle of the ladder and reach the top—and probable you and I don't belong to that number.

ROLL OF HONOR OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS FOR DECEMBER, 1882.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Senior Class.

Roberta Lee Rase,
Mary E. Clem,
Francesca Escousse,
Laura Gardner,
M. Lilian Newman.
Ida F. Recap,
Eleanor Sherwin,
Alice M. Thompson,
Jennie Vosseller,

Junior Class.

S. Lena Rase,
Mary L. Betts,
Minnie M. Bird,
Florence M. Clark,
Belle Clem,
Mary F. DuBois,
Edith M. Esty,
Carrie D. Hazen,
Kate S. Hazen,
Alice Holmes,
Alice L. Livermore,
Carrie F. Pike,
Nellie A. Potter,
Ida L. Spicer,
Maggie A. Manning,
Florence A. Stevens,
Madge L. Sutphen,
William C. Hubbard,
Leonard W. Manchee,
Harry G. Squires,

Third Class.

Ethel B. Bowers,
Maude A. Bowers,
Maria E. Cornwell,
[illegible]
Florence G. Hawkins,
Gertrude Holden,
Annie A. Moore,
Carrie A. Rose,
Minnie B. Runyon,
Lulu B. Thomas,
Jennie Van Winkle,
Frank F. Baynon,
Harry L. Day,
Arthur H. Mulford.

Fourth Class.

Carrie E. Betts,
Anna L. Case,
[illegible]
Lizzie Darling,
Sarah Gardner,
Lina Garretson,
Edith E. Leonard,
Ella G. Laing,
Henrietta Lilienstern,
Eva A. Peer,
Martha E. Runyon,
Laura E. Runyon,
Fred T. Cuthbert,
Theodore J. Gillies,
William B. Gilbert,
Clarence Haviland,
Fred H. Manning,
Frank E. Newman.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

First Class.

Laura T. Baker,
Clara M. Burt,
[illegible]
Agnes Chamberlain,
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Carrie Gardner,
[illegible]
Augusta Holmes,
Julia J. Johnson,
Florence Kennedy,
[illegible]
Eleanor G. Osgood,
Mabel A. Rice,
Charlotte Stephenson,
Minnie Squier,
Lizzie A. Stewart,
Marion Tingley,
Lucia N. Wood,
Marian J. Wendell,
William C. [illegible],
[illegible] L. Gilbert,
Frank J. Hubbard,
Edward F. Low,
Walter J. Moore.

Second Class, 1st Division.

[illegible]
Lulu Betts,
Emily Carroll,
Lulu Dayton,
Florence Hand,
[illegible]
Carrie M. Runyon,
Marion F. Randolph,
Anna A. Searing,
Sarah C. Sharp,
Annie Ten Broeck,
Minnie J. Wooden,
[illegible]
Gordon Barton,
Harry H. Coward,
Spencer C. Crane,
[illegible]
Harvey Morgan,
[illegible]
Frank E. Searing,
Harry M. Wade.

Second Class, 2d Division.

[illegible]
Mary E. Vanderveer,
[illegible]
Walter N. Chamberlain,
[illegible]
W. Duncan Morgan,
[illegible]
William N. Runyon,
Walter Thorn,
George V. Wendell.

Third Class, 1st Division.

Florence Baldwin,
E. Jessie Compton,
Mary E. French,
[illegible]
Carrie T. Moffett,
Edith Needham,
[illegible]
Louise B. Runyon,
[illegible]
Theodore T. Doane,
William E. Moffett,
Walter N. Martin,
Harry C. Runyon,
Arthur Stryker,
Nelson VanWinkle,
[illegible]

Third Class, 2d Division.

[illegible]
Helen A. Coward,
Vinnie L. French,
[illegible]
Annie A. McNaughton,
[illegible]
Edward J. McKenny,

Fourth Class.

Jennie Allen,
[illegible]
Phebe E. Clarkson,
Nellie B. Crawford,
[illegible]
Mary E. Thompson,
[illegible]
John J. Curren,
[illegible]

Fourth Class—[illegible]

[illegible]

DISASTERS TO STEAMSHIPS.

By reference to a carefully compiled list of marine losses in 1882, given in a recent issue of the Tribune, we learn that shipping disasters are on the increase. This list gives a total of 284 steamships and large river steamboats, which have met with disaster. Only a few of these have been floated and repaired again. The aggregate tonnage was 330,065 tons. Of these the British vessels numbered 192, with a total of 236,516 tons; American, 16, and 13,972 tons; Austria 2, and 3,062 tons; Belgian 3, and 4,247 tons; Chilian 1, and 997 tons; Danish 5, and 5,013 tons; Dutch 6, and 9,228 tons; French 16, and 12,847 tons; German 17, and 14,735 tons; Italian 1, and 843 tons; Russia 5, and 5,986 tons; Spanish 11, and 9,087 tons; Swedish 3, and 2,309 tons; Greek 1, and 1,280 tons; unknown nationality, 40. Of this list 141 were stranded, 32 were sunk by collision, 4 were destroyed by explosion, 52 foundered, 3 capsized, 2 were burned, 6 were sunk by ice, 7 were abandoned in a sinking condition, and 25 are missing. The total number of lives lost was 2,069.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters gives steadiness to the nerves, induces a healthy, natural flow of bile, prevents constipation without unduly purging the bowels, gently stimulates the circulation and by promoting a vigorous condition of the physical system, promotes, also, that cheerfulness which is the truest indication of a well-balanced condition of all the animal powers. For Sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

R. R. Fairchild.

Furniture! Furniture!

SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS.

A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!

Bed-room Suites,
IN ASH AND WALNUT.

Cottage Suites,
IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.

Bed Lounges,
AS LOW AS $7.50.

WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES,

Mattrasses and Spring Beds,
OF ALL KINDS.

Come to Fairchild's,
AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.

18 West Front Street.

Parlor Novelties!

The following Styles are our "Latest" and will upon examination be found the most attractive and choice goods offered this season.

THE "Sutherland"

A solid Rosewood Suit, beautifully carved, composed of six pieces, each different, but forming a beautiful group.

THE "Egyptian"

Also a Group Suite, in Rosewood or Ebony. Is a perfect "Gem." The ornamentation truly Egyptian and very artistic.

THE "Rockingham"

In Mahogany or Ebony; catering both to comfort and elegance, this is a commendable suite.

THE
"Chippendale"

We show four suites on this order, all in old Mahogany. This line is best adapted for odd pieces. We display a full line of "Antique" coverings, specially imported for these frames.

The "NORFOLK," "DOVER," "KENSINGTON," "SYDENHAM," "PARIS," "AMICUS," and "LONDON," are all beauties, designated and executed by one of our most skilled designers (a genius) and we delight in displaying his full line in our Warerooms.

Hundreds of ODD, EASY and RECEPTION CHAIRS, in endless variety.

INSPECTION INVITED.

Jas. M. Dunn,

Dealer in

GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.

JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED
SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR.

No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.
fe6d1f

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,
(Successor to Geo. Watts)
No. 8 Somerset St.
BUTCHER,

and dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats of the Finest quality and at prices consistent with the times. I will endeavor to please all who favor me with their patronage. o30y1

LEWIS & CO.,
Butchers!!

AND DEALERS IN
Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry,
Sausage, Hams, Bologna,
Head Cheese and Mince Meat.

Park Avenue,
(AT THE OLD STAND.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
d2tf

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT DISPLAY OF
HOLIDAY GOODS
At Meyer Brothers,
771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.

Embroidered Table Covers from 80 cents upwards. Embroidered Piano Covers from $3.25 upwards. Gent's Cardigan Jackets at astonishingly low prices. Silk Handkerchiefs in great variety at wholesale prices. Jewelry and Notions in large assortment. Ladies and Gent's Gloves in every imaginable style.

Cloaks and Shawls!

Our fur-lined twenty dollar Circular reduced to fifteen dollars. Our 14 dollar Silk Dolmans reduced to twelve dollars. All our other Cloaks reduced in proportion. An immense assortment of double and single and also heavy Beaver Shawls at the lowest prices at

MEYER BROTHERS,
771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.
o9tf

JAMES K. ARNOLD,

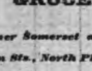
GROCER,

Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

TWENTY

Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET, 2 doors above Peace street.



STEVENS & CORCORAN, Horse-shoers, give particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Stumbling and Interfering Horses. Speedy Cutters stopped in an incredible short space of time. Horses with diseased feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

PURE INDIA TEAS

From the Districts of ASSAM, CHITTAGONG, CACHAR, KANGRA VALLEY, DARJEELING, DEHRA, DOON, and others. Absolutely Pure. Superior in Flavor. The Most Economical. Requires only half the usual quantity. Sold by all Grocers. JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO. Agents of the Calcutta Tea Syndicate, 130 Water St., N. Y. nov10y1

DO YOU PLAY? WHY NOT?

By using SOPER'S INSTANTANEOUS GUIDE to the Keys of the Piano and Organ, any person, man, woman or child who can read or count figures, can learn to play in ONE HOUR without a teacher. This is no humbug. The Guide, with 20 pieces of music, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1.00. Send 10 cents for sample of music. Agents wanted. Address,
CHARLES HEARNE,
m6y1 11 Frankfort St., N. Y.

For Sale or To Let,
A
Very Desirable Residence,
—ON—
WEST SEVENTH ST.,
(UNION AVENUE.)

House contains 13 large rooms, and modern improvements. One acre of ground, large barn, henery, &c. For particulars address,
J. W. JOHNSON,
n2tf 27 East Seventh street, near Broadway.

The A. Saltzman Watch

EXPOSITION
1879
SOCIÉTÉ D'ÉMULATION INDUSTRIELLE DE LA CHAUX-DE-FONDS
CHAUX-DE-FONDS
1879
MEDAL
BRONZE
DANIEL JEAN RICHARD

Ask your Jeweler for it
Before Purchasing any other.

SPEER'S
PORT GRAPE WINE

Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.

Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Speer's Port Grape Wine
FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the Juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable Tonic and Strengthening Properties are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

SPEER'S
P. J. Sherry.

The P. J. SHERRY is a wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape, from which it is made. For Purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unexcelled.

SPEER'S
P. J. Brandy.

This BRANDY stands unrivalled in this country being far superior for medicinal purposes.

IT IS A PURE distillation from the grape, and contains valuable medicinal properties.

It has a delicate flavor, similar to that of the grapes, from which it is distilled, and is in great favor among first-class families.

See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists. 1y31-1y

Washington Valley
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE. ICE. ICE.
SIMPSON & CO.,

Beg respectfully to inform their patrons and public of Plainfield generally that they are prepared to supply the FINEST QUALITY OF ICE IN THE TRADE.

Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.

Families will see the propriety of using only Pure Spring Water Ice.

Orders received at John Walker's Bakery, also at 100 West Front St.; or P. O. Box 641, will receive prompt attention.

SIMPSON & CO. have a large lot of Arbor Vitae, Norway Spruce and Maple trees for sale.

They are also prepared to supply Masons or others with Second Mountain Quarry Stone, at the lowest prices.

GRADING & CONTRACTING
in all its Branches.
m3tf

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,
Real Estate & Insurance Agent,
OFFICE—East Room, Central R. R. Depot
RESIDENCE—69 East 6th Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Real Estate for Sale, Rent or Exchange.
Authorized Agent for the following Fire Insurance Companies:
NORTH AMERICA, of Phila. Assets, January 1st, 1881, [illegible]
PHENIX ASSURANCE CO., of London, Assets, [illegible]

Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.
MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.
15m1y

POPE'S
Life and Fire Insurance Agency.

Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money invested on Bond and Mortgage for other Parties. Government BONDS Bought and Sold.

FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK for sale in quantities to suit purchasers.

Office over City National Bank.

FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.
m87y

FIRE INSURANCE!

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the

Star and Merchants
Fire Insurance Co's of the
City of New York,

as prepared to furnish substantial indemnity against loss by Fire and solicits applications from the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.

NATHAN HARPER
m09

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE
Is Selling WINTER
Boots & Shoes
At VERY LOW PRICES!
11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD. 1m11y

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 4 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of desirable goods direct from Manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES. dec6dy1

SOLOMON FLAIG,
FASHIONABLE
Boot & Shoe Maker
74 FRONT ST.,
COR. CHURCH, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Opp. the First Presbyterian Church.
FINE CUSTOM WORK
At prices to suit the times.
Ladies' Shoes
Made in the Latest Style.
Repairing Neatly and Promptly Done
Leather and Shoemakers' Findings at the lowest retail prices. 1y4 dy

MISCELLANEOUS.

Cooking Stoves
and Ranges.
(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.

Agricultural Implements
Of all Kinds, CHEAP.

Super-Phosphates and Bone.

NEW YORK PLOWS,
Also,
The South Bend Chilled Plow,

BEST IN THE WORLD Superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at

No. 18 EAST FRONT ST.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,

C. O. Meeker & Co.
All the above Cheap for Cash.
1m11y

Coal. Coal. Coal.
FINTIN HIBBITS

Respectfully informs the public of Plainfield and vicinity that he is prepared to supply the best

Lehigh Valley Coal,
of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!

The above coal is all shipped to South Plainfield by the Packer R. R.

☞ Orders sent by mail, BOX 1,186, will be promptly attended to, or No. 18 LIBERTY ST., PLAINFIELD. 1oy1

J. N. SCHENCK,
Practical Machinist!
RACE STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.

To those contemplating putting heat in dwellings, I would state that I am manufacturing a

Sectional Safety Boiler

for such purposes, which far exceeds any of my previous attempts. I have one in my own dwelling which I will be pleased to show to all calling.

Machinery of Every Description Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.
5m1f

O. M. DUNHAM,
Merchant Tailor,
No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,
(Next to Laing's Hotel.)
Also, Agent for the
Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.
5m1y

HARPERSINES, black, violet and red, and Harper's Mucilage, all of superior quality, can be had, in quantities to suit purchasers, of the manufacturer Joseph M. Harper, No. 22 West Second Street, Plainfield, N. J. Orders through the mail will receive prompt attention.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.
Union County, Surrogate's Office,
Dec. 4th, 1882.

Joseph T. Tell, Administrator of John Burke, deceased.

On application of the above named Administrator, it is ordered that said Administrator give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this order, within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in the CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said administrator.
By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.
d11w9

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.
Union County, Surrogate's Office,
Nov. 10th, 1882.

Anna Elizabeth Crum, Nicholas Henry Heidelof and John Jacob Heidelof, the executors of [illegible] Heidelof, deceased.

On application of the above named Executors, it is ordered that said Executors give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this order, within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in the CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said executors.
By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.
n16w9

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is Hereby Given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of NATHAN ROGERS, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.
ELIAS R. POPE.
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.—j18w5

EXECUTORS SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers, Executors of Charles R. Stillman, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the county of Union on Wednesday the twenty-first day of March next.
MARY S. STILLMAN,
JARED K. MYERS.
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.—j18w5

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, (Administratrix of Elizabeth Heinzer deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.
LEWIS W. HEINZER.
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.—j18w5

ADMINISTRATRIX SETTLEMENT. Notice is Hereby Given, That the account of the subscriber, Administratrix of John P. Gross, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the fourteenth day of February next.
CLARA E. GROSS.
Dated Dec. 8, 1882. d9w9

MISCELLANEOUS.

Special Notice!

We close at 6 p. m. sharp; having only 14 hours a day for business, we offer our

ENTIRE STOCK
OF Farming Utensils
AND
House Furnishing Goods

At reduced prices, for cash, as we must do as much now in 14 hours as we formerly did in a whole day's work.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS of TIN WARE
To be closed out within the next 30 days.

PLOWS AND HARROWS AT COST.

BERRY & THORN.
f23tf

LIGHTNING RODS.

Persons contemplating putting RODS ON THEIR BUILDINGS, will study their interests by examining both

Rod and References,
L. J. HAWLEY'S
PATENT.

Office with E. C. Mulford, Real Estate Broker, Depot Building, Plainfield, N. J. jh16tf

Furnaces and Ranges,
STOVES, PUMPS, SINKS,
Gas Fixtures, Etc.

TIN, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.

Tin Roofing and Jobbing!

Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.

Apply to

D. W. LITTELL,
No. 8 North avenue, Plainfield.

HEMORRHOID OR PILES
Permanently Cured,

IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS, WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID, Or money refunded. Also Ulcers, Fistula and Fissures, cured without knife. I have opened an office at LAING'S HOTEL, Plainfield, New Jersey, where I will be in attendance on TUESDAY, DEC. 26TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 9TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 23D.
From 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. My treatment is that known as Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff's system of treating rectal diseases. This is not the painful Carbolic Acid treatment.

Any one wishing to be treated at their homes can do so by sending name and address.

Send for circulars with some of the best citizens of Trenton and Lambertville as references.

Any further information cheerfully given at my office or by mail. Charges always moderate.
R. REED, M.D., Lambertville, New Jersey. o30m

THE

LILIPUTIAN
BAZAAR

FURNISHES UNEQUALED FACILITIES FOR THE ECONOMICAL AND SATISFACTORY OUTFITTING OF CHILDREN. Besides the CONVENIENCE of being able to procure every article needed for complete outfits for all ages up to 16 years in one establishment, we furnish CLOTHING for BOYS, GIRLS, and BABIES, which FOR STYLE, PERFECTION IN FIT and QUALITY OF WORKMANSHIP, is far superior to that ordinarily sold ready made and at lower prices. Mail orders have careful attention. Catalogues free.

BEST & CO.,
60 West 23d St., bet. 5th and 6th avenues, New York.
oc11m6

A CARD.

W. H. SEBRING announces that he is now prepared to take orders for FINE CUSTOM SHIRTS at reduced prices, using the very best material, with a 3 or 4 ply all linen bosom, extra quality Workmanship, quality and fit guaranteed. No gentleman obliged to accept any unless entirely satisfactory. Orders received at Vanderbeek's Music Store. Gentlemen not finding it convenient a call will be waited upon at their residence or place of business.
W. H. SEBRING, Manufacturer,
Plainfield N. J.

R. W. MAHAFFEE'S
EXPRESS.
Furniture & Goods Removed

And all kinds of EXPRESS WORK carefully attended to with PROMPTNESS and DISPATCH.

☞ Orders left at Beckman's Fine Front Market, 4th avenue, opp. North avenue.
[illegible]

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of N. J.

Stations in New York foot of Liberty St., in Brooklyn—Jewell's Wharf, foot of Fulton st.

Arrangement. Commencing Jan. 8, 1883.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]
Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street [illegible]

For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.

Connection is made at Jersey City station to and from Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City, by boats of the "Brooklyn and Erie Annex."

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]
Leave Newark [illegible]
Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield 7.49, 9.55, 11.44 a. m. [illegible]
Leave Somerville [illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield 7.49, 9.55 a. m. [illegible]
Leave Easton 6.50, 7.50, 9.57 A. M., [illegible]
In addition, a train leaves Phillipsburg DAILY 6.00 P. M.

Westward Connections
LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

7.49 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamanend, Tamaqua, Drifton, Upper Lehigh, Scranton, &c.

9.55 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Nanticoke, Upper Lehigh, Scranton, &c.

2.04 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, &c.

4.27 p. m.—For Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Drifton, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c.

5.04 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Easton, &c.

5.31 p. m.—For Somerville, Flemington, &c.

6.28 p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, &c.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield 7.56, 8.01, 10.27, 11.05 a. m., 1.27, 3.47, 5.48 p. m.
Leave Plainfield 7.56, 8.01, 10.27, 11.05 a. m., 1.27, 3.47, 5.48 p. m. for Freehold and Keyport.

New York & Philadelphia New Line.
BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia for Ninth and Green Sts., [illegible]
For Third & Berks Sts., [illegible]
Leave Plainfield for Trenton [illegible]

RETURNING.

Leave Phila. Station Phila. & Reading Railroad 9th & Green Sts., [illegible]
From Third and Berks Sts., [illegible]
Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker Streets, [illegible]

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

By the central position of its line, connects the East and the West by the shortest route, and carries passengers, without change of cars, between Chicago and Kansas City, Council Bluffs, Leavenworth, Atchison, Minneapolis and St. Paul. It connects in Union Depots with all the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans. Its equipment is unrivaled and magnificent, being composed of Most Comfortable and Beautiful Day Coaches, Magnificent Horton Reclining Chair Cars, Pullman's Prettiest Palace Sleeping Cars, and the Best Line of Dining Cars in the World. Three Trains between Chicago and Missouri River Points. Two Trains between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul, via the Famous

"ALBERT LEA ROUTE."

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened between Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News, Chattanooga, Atlanta, Augusta, Nashville, Louisville, Lexington, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette, and Omaha, Minneapolis and St. Paul and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers Travel on Fast Express Trains.

Tickets for sale at all principal Ticket Offices in the United States and Canada.

Baggage checked through and rates of fare always as low as competitors that offer less advantages.

For detailed information, get the Maps and Folders of the

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,

At your nearest Ticket Office, or address
R. R. CABLE, E. ST. JOHN,
Vice-Pres. & Gen'l M'g'r. Gen'l Tkt. & Pass. Agt.
CHICAGO.
feb17d1y

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM.

This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. It contains materials only that are beneficial to the scalp and hair and always

Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair

Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching. HISCOX & Co., N.Y.

50c. and $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs and medicines.

PARKER'S
GINGER TONIC

A Superlative Health and Strength Restorer.

If you are a mechanic or farmer, worn out with overwork, or a mother run down by family or household duties try PARKER'S GINGER TONIC.

If you are a lawyer, minister or business man exhausted by mental strain or anxious cares, do not take intoxicating stimulants, but use Parker's Ginger Tonic.

If you have Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, or any disorder of the lungs, stomach, bowels, blood or nerves, PARKER'S GINGER TONIC will cure you. It is the Greatest Blood Purifier

And the Best and Surest Cough Cure Ever Used.

If you are wasting away from age, dissipation or any disease or weakness and require a stimulant take GINGER TONIC at once; it will invigorate and build you up from the first dose but will never intoxicate. It has saved hundreds of lives; it may save yours.

CAUTION!—Refuse all substitutes. Parker's Ginger Tonic is composed of the best remedial agents in the world, and is entirely different from preparations of ginger alone. Send for circular to Hiscox & Co., N. Y. 50c. & $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs.

GREAT SAVING BUYING DOLLAR SIZE.

FLORESTON

Its rich and lasting fragrance has made this delightful perfume exceedingly popular. There is nothing like it. Insist upon having FLORESTON COLOGNE and look for signature of

Hiscox & Co.

on every bottle. Any druggist or dealer in perfumery can supply you. 25 and 75 cent sizes.

LARGE SAVING BUYING 75c. SIZE.

COLOGNE.

NOTICE!

The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office, No. 33 PARK AVE.
A. VANDERBEEK
v14tf C. O. A.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.

Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. 20 years experience. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by Postal, P. O. Box 390, or left at Willett's Shoe Store, No. 4 Park Avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence—No. 54 Front Street, Second above Peace st. jly9tf

Park Avenue Bakery
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r

FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1883. No. 4.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("Champion Building,")
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 3 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor adjoining Pugg's Hotel Building.
Terms—$2.00 a Year in advance.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTIN'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
E. Brittin - - - Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.

FARMER'S HOTEL,
SOMERSET ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
(Back to Brook.)
W. KEIDLOFF, - - Proprietor.
Horses and Carriages to Let. Boarded by the DAY, WEEK or MONTH.

FRENCH BRO'S,
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FLOUR, FEED, MEAL, HARD WOOD AND LUMBER.
Somerset Street, - - Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

GEORGE R. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wool, Sheep Skins & Tallow.
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Scraps, for sale Cheap, only for Cash.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds,
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
Cor. Park Ave. and Second St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. L. HUMMER.

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET.
ESTABLISHED, - - - 1858.
Bread, Cakes, Pies, Confectionery, &c., made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention.

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Flagg's Hotel) Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST.
Residence—Harmony St., North Plainfield.
5th house from Somerset St.—left hand side.
Information imparted as regards present and future events, [illegible] Marriages, Journeys, Lawsuits, &c. She converses in English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed.
My husband is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c.—cheap for cash.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 26 Park Ave.,
(NEAR SECOND STREET.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works.
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders delivered and set up.
[illegible] M. E. [illegible], Plainfield, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y.

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay,
Straw, &c.,
Peace St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Woods a specialty.
Orders left as above, or addressed to P. O. BOX [illegible], will receive prompt attention.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS,
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Duer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All wagon orders received and delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
Thankful for past favors, I solicit a continuance of the same.

HENRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.
No. 14 East Second Street,
Bet. Peace St. and Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Also Bottler of Ballantine's Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and Adrain Pope's Celebrated Weiss Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it as an invigorating, cooling and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, Families, &c., supplied at the lowest prices for first-class goods.

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
McIntyre's Building, Plainfield, N. J.
(P. O. Box, 126.)
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

BENTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures.
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. [illegible] & Madison Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL.
[illegible]
[illegible]

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

MANSION HOUSE!
Cor. Park Ave. & 2d St.,
(One Block from Depot)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
E. P. THORN, Proprietor.
A fine BILLIARD ROOM is attached to the Hotel.
Pure Liquors, Ales, Wines & Segars,
A Specialty at the Bar.
SPORT MANSION HOUSE ADV. ON 2d PAGE.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agency for Ulman, Goldsborough & Porter's Atlas, Wilson & Alexis Club Whiskies, Bottled Expressly for family use. Also a full line of Acker, Merrall & Condit's Whiskies and Wines.

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 39 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and refurnished the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with the Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

CENTENNIAL HALL,
5 SECOND STREET,
FRED. CASPAR, Prop'r.
Sole Agent for Feigenspan & Co's
Champagne Lager Beer.
All kinds of LAGER BOTTLED EXPRESSLY FOR FAMILY USE.
Prompt attention given to orders, and delivery made to any part of the city.

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r.
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours.

SMITH'S
Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
Slater's Old Stand, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Elderberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Birch, Ales, Liquors, Segars.
Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 9 to 1.

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND Sts.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Brierly Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour.

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 7 EXCHANGE PLACE, FIVE DOORS WEST FERRY, JERSEY CITY.

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield, P. O. Box [illegible]. Families supplied with Lager Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel and Post-office delivered free of charge.

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
BART MOORE. SAMUEL GOODMAN,
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and refurnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the travelling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
[illegible]
[illegible]

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD
ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT THE Plainfield Academy for Boys,
[illegible]
[illegible]
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box 126.

Craig Place School,
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. J. OSTEN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Vara.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobacco, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in Havana & Domestic
—SEGARS!!—
No. 28 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 15 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of
Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco, Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

MILLINERY.

MRS. P. DUNN,
HAS THE LATEST STYLE OF
Millinery, Bonnets, Hats, Ect.
BLEACHING AND PRESSING Done at short notice. Feathers curled and Dyed. Pinking done. A large assortment of Hair, Braids, Switches and Curls. Particular attention paid to selecting Hair to suit customers. Hosiery, Gloves, Corsets, Etc. Also, Fancy and Dress Goods.
14 West Front street.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 49 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mlle. Dunne, 946 Broadway, N. Y.

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Stillman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors, a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

HOTELS, ETC.

LANG'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH B. MILLER, - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates.
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS GEISE'S
:R:E:S:T:A:U:R:A:N:T:
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
10 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style.

Accommodation Express.
PETER RICKERT, Prop'r. OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Cor. Cherry St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. The Accommodation Express will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering trunks or baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., with care and safety. Prompt attention given to all orders.

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—7th Park Avenue.
P. O. BOX 300.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent,
[illegible]
[illegible]

PAINTERS & PAINTERS' SUPPLIES.

ESTABLISHED 1858.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
INTERIOR DECORATORS,
FINE WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,
LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC., ETC.
321 Canal Street, New York
(Telephone Call—Spring 281.)
GEO. F. BROWN—Residence—11 Duer Street, Plainfield. P. O. Box 1624.

NEW STYLES
WALL PAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTIST COLORS, Etc
A. SWALM,
No. 5 North Avenue, Plainfield.

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER.
WASHINGTON ST.,
between Front and 2d Sts., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
P. O. BOX 363.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
in all their branches.
Satisfaction guaranteed on all Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING.
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St.
P. O. BOX, 281.
D. WEAVER. P. WEAVER.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

A. A. TITSWORTH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
(Successor to J. S. & F. A. Dunham.)
OFFICE—15 East Front St.,
(ALBERTI'S BUILDING.)
Special attention given to Map Drawing, Lettering in India Ink, etc. Copying and Computing.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL,
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM 3.30 to 5.30.
Dodworth's New Lanciers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. 26th.

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!
New Livery!
Having assumed control of the well-known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, cor. Park Avenue and Second St., the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.
New Stock and Material
Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, HIGH-BAR AND TOP BUGGIES, &c., of the LATEST MAKE and STYLES, and other new material added constantly to keep up.
The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock for themselves.
Yours, Very Respectfully,
J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS,
(Of the late firm of Roberts & Codman,)
Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and the public that he has purchased the stock and leased the premises of the well-known livery man, Mr. John W. Loizeaux, who for the past many years has so satisfactorily supplied all the customers.
FRONT STREET.
Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and willing to answer all calls for a conveyance of any kind. [illegible]
[illegible]

Mansion House Stables.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALBERT REDDEN, Prop'r.
[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A COUNTERFEIT PRESENTMENT.

One night we were sitting in our mining cabin, discussing the news and telling stories of peril and adventure. I had been a commercial traveler out in the wild district, and, having found it the best paying of my routes, I often returned to it, so that I had become generally well acquainted with the old mining camp "Simmonses Flat."

This camp was one of the richest on the Pacific Coast, and on the whole I found the miners the most civilized I had yet met with. I was, in fact, more of a peddler than a legitimate drummer, and was always made very welcome at the camp, which I supplied with many of the necessaries of living.

The conversation, after awhile, turned on the inevitable Chinese question, and the indignation against the almond-eyed was becoming boisterous, when I threw in my word for Hap Lee.

Hap was the errand boy, washer-woman and barber of the Flat—a little, good-natured, cunning Celestial—whom the "boys" were always finding fault with, but who had made himself indispensable to them.

One article or another, of more or less value, would mysteriously disappear from the camp never to return, but no amateur detective could succeed in fastening the smallest peculation on Hap.

We had another Chinaman, who officiated as cook. Heaven knows what his real name was, but in camp he was always called Gin Sling, and he answered to the name as readily as his surly nature would allow.

He was the opposite to Hap Lee both in appearance and disposition. He had a brutal manner, a gigantic frame, and the wickedest expression on the ugliest face I had ever seen.

Gin had none of the obsequiousness of his countrymen, but asserted himself on all occasions; and as he had shown the most desperate bravery in the numerous drunken battles of the Flat, he was regarded with a trifle of fear by his employers. However, as he was industrious, and was satisfied with little pay, he "filled the bill" for Simmonses Flat.

A few days before that on which my story opens, I had an altercation with Gin Sling, in which I was at length irritated to such a degree that I struck him in the face. He drew his long knife, and I should soon have been beyond all possibility of striking any one again, when instantly twenty revolvers glistened from all points of the compass in the hands of the miners who had stood by listening to us.

I was a favorite with them, and as Gin looked about him, he gazed into the barrels of the shooting-irons, all leveled with harmonious accord at various parts of his body.

Gin replaced his knife in his belt, gave me one look which I shall never forget, and walked quietly away.

For the few intervening days I saw little of him, and he appeared to avoid me. So I tried to laugh off, even to myself, the apprehension I always felt.

'I tell ye, boys,' remarked Noll Blake, a large-boned, good-natured son of the West, 'that that Hap Lee knows where all our dust's is gone that's disappeared so quiet. Chaneymen has pooty long fingers.'

'Why don't you blame it on Gin Sling, then?' I asked.

Even while we were discussing the subject, the door opened, and Tim Fellow entered the cabin. He marched straight toward the fire-place, took from his pocket a bundle of new bank-notes, and hurled them toward the fire. They struck the side of the fire-place and fell to the floor at my feet. As I picked them up, Tim said:

'You can keep 'em if you want 'em.'

'Why, Tim,' I rejoined, 'there's exactly two hundred dollars here.'

'Now, boy,' shouted Tim, with sparkling eyes and flushed face, 'don't tell me about Chaynese thievin'! Ef you want an out-an-out thief, go to 'Frisco and sell your dust. Why, what is them two hundred dollars? Them's the proceeds of two hundred and fifty dollars worth of dust. Well, all of them is counterfeits, and I'm going back to 'Frisco to find the fellow as gimme 'em. Old Nathans told me as they was counterfeit,' and Tim strode quickly back to the door and was gone.

'There'll be trouble in 'Frisco to-morrow,' said Noll Blake, shaking his huge head.

A confirmatory murmur followed the words. I did not pay any attention to the conversation, but sat reflecting, with the condemned notes in my hand, till I was roused by one of my companions saying:

'You might as well sling them into the fire at once.'

'Hold on,' I answered. 'I bet I can put them to use. Who's giving any washing to Hap Lee to-morrow?'

'Why, I am,' said Blake.

'Well, then,' said I, 'these notes are excellently counterfeited. Old Nathans never makes a mistake. If he hadn't condemned them, I'd thought sure they were genuine. Is your vest going to be washed? Yes? Then so much the better. Now, suppose we put those counterfeits in the pocket of the vest, and Hap leaves them there? But first we'll mark them.'

A shout of approval followed. Noll Blake asked, doubtfully:

'Don't you think that little rat'll find out they're not genuine? Them Chaymen beggars is a darned sight more up to snuff than we are.'

But I assured him that nobody on the Flat excepting old Nathans, who was infallible, could detect the counterfeit; so the crisp twenty-dollar notes were rolled up in a package and placed carefully in one of the pockets of the vest. The soiled shirts were thrown into a bundle with the vest, and we all went to bed in high expectation of the event.

The next morning the bundle was sent to Hap. Washing was an expeditious process in Simmonses Flat. Ironing was dispensed with, and thorough drying was too fine a process, so that we expected the bundle back the next day.

Late in the afternoon, Tim Fellow returned from San Francisco, after having ransacked the city in vain for the swindler. The trick was explained to him, and he heartily approved of it, declaring it was worth more money than he had lost.

The following morning, we were about leaving the cabin on our various pursuits, when Hap Lee entered with a bundle, and after grinning around in the most friendly way, said:

'Blake. Washee. Dollar.'

Noll gave him a dollar, with a hand trembling with excitement, and Hap went out. The minute the door was closed, a rush was made upon the bundle, the vest was torn out, and Noll Blake pulled out from the pocket a little paper bundle.

There was a dead silence as he opened the wrapper. But as he spread out the ten bills on the rude table a shout of surprise burst from all. There they were, not even wet, which proved that Hap must have found them, and replaced them in the pocket after washing the vest.

Everybody except Noll agreed with me that Hap was the pink of honesty. Noll swore he had found out they were counterfeit, but no one would believe it now. I gathered up the notes, and going to the fire, remarked:

'I guess we may as well burn them now.'

'Let me see them notes again,' said Noll.

They were handed to him, and he examined them carefully. Then he asked:

'Where did you mark them fore notes the other night?'

I took the bills to show him, but there was no mark on any of them. They were not the same bills at all. The original notes were excellent counterfeits. These were the most wretched imitations I had ever seen.

The game was clear now, and Hap had almost succeeded in it. He had replaced the ten bills, which he believed to be genuine, with the miserable counterfeits he had picked up somewhere.

Noll declared he must have made them himself. He could believe almost anything of Hap Lee; and, indeed, so could I, now my allusion was so rudely dispelled.

We scoured the Flat in search of Hap, but he had disappeared. We found that he had started in the direction of 'Frisco, but we could as easily have traced a bird in the air as followed Hap's trail when he did not wish to be found, and we knew it.

I thought I had seen the last of Hap Lee and the counterfeits, but I was mistaken.

The afternoon of that day I got my large valise packed, shook hands with all the boys, who gave me many kind wishes, mounted my horse, and set out on the road to 'Frisco.

I passed onward, meditating on Hap's character, and about five o'clock I came to that ugly part of the road which every traveler between San Francisco and Simmonses Flat shudders to see.

The road narrows considerably at this point, sinks down into a deep glen, and winds about, so that a traveler one hundred yards on either side of the glen would not be aware of its existence.

To the right of me towered granite rocks; on the left were the trees of a thick and gloomy wood. The overhanging foliage made the spot dark at noon-time, so that I had to pick my way carefully.

I had just reached the bottom of the glen, and was calculating the steepness of the ascent on the other side, when something like a long snake sprang out from the trees to the left, and my arms were pinioned to my side.

The next moment I was hurled heavily from the saddle to the ground, and my feet were tied. I saw Gin Sling standing beside me, with a knife in his hand, and a leer of satisfaction on his brutal face.

I had been lassoed, and my horse was standing near me, looking about with a bewildered air. I had no hope now. I mentally ejaculated such prayers as came into my mind, and composed myself for death.

Gin approached, grinding his teeth and muttering to himself, in Chinese. But now from the same wood came no less a person than Hap Lee himself.

Without looking at me, he addressed an earnest remonstrance to his countryman. At every pause he made, Gin shook his head and came nearer to me.

At length, Hap held up one of the very notes he had stolen.

Gin paused, but shook his head. Hap held up one after another, till the whole ten were exhibited. It was too much for Gin. He calculated the long course of more than brutal debauchery this money would secure him in dens of the Chinese quarter of the great city. He threw down his knife, and held out his hand. By his gestures, I could see that Hap had made him go through the formula of some Chinese oath. He then got the money and sprang into the wood. When Hap had released me, I fell upon his neck, exclaiming:

"Hap, you have saved me!"

"Hum!" said Hap. Then he took from his pocket a book, on the corner of which was written, "Hap Lee, in account with the First National Bank of San Francisco." He tore a blank leaf out and said, "You writee what I do. Say I givee money to save your life. I wantee go back to Simmonses Flat. Mebbe they mad at Hap there; you writee."

As well as I could in the dim light, I wrote a note addressed to Noll Blake, saying that Hap had saved me, and asking him and the miners to forgive him anything he might have done, for my sake. Hap pocketed this, and then edging over toward the horse, said:

"Me just comee from 'Frisco."

"Ho, ho," said I, a light breaking in on me. "Then you found that the notes were—"

"Cloonterfeitee!" rejoined Hap, with an indescribable twinkle of his little gray eyes. "Gin Sling dammee fool."

And the next moment he had flung himself on my horse, and was tearing back on the road to Simmonses Flat.

"Hold on there, you rascal," I shouted. But Hap was gone. I found that my watch, my revolver, and all my loose cash, were gone, too. But my business was urgent at San Francisco, and I walked all the way.

I have often reflected on Hap's motive in saving me, and I am obliged to think he did so less to please me than to give himself the exquisite pleasure of cheating his countryman.

But "All's well that ends well," says I.

PROTECTING HIS CHARACTER.

Entering the shop of his tailor the other day, he said:

"Sir, I owe you sixty dollars."

"Yes, sir, you do."

"And I have owed it for a year?"

"You have."

"And this is the fifth postal card you have sent me regarding the debt?"

"I think it is the fifth."

"Now, sir, while I cannot pay the debt for perhaps another year, I propose to protect my character as far as possible. Here are twelve two-cent stamps. You can use them in sending me twelve monthly statements of account, and can thus save your postal cards and my feelings at the same time."

It is said that the tailor has credited the twenty-four cents on account, and feels that he has secured more of the debt than he had any reason to hope for.

Many a small man is never done talking about the sacrifices he makes, but he is a great man indeed who can sacrifice everything and say nothing.

Many are as fond of secrets as those who do not seem to keep them; they covet them as the spendthrift covets money, merely that they may circulate it.

A RACE FOR LIFE.

I was always very fond of bicycling, and from the time when I was a small boy, and labored for hours with a boneshaker, to the days when I became the proud possessor of one of the first bicycles ever manufactured, I reveled in the exhilarating pastime, spending hours which should have been otherwise occupied on the back of my iron horse, thus putting my physical powers a long way ahead of my mental. In fact, I hated the sight of a book, and was never happy unless scouring the country on my bicycle. My father was a doctor in a Kentish village, and having a large family, he was thankful, indeed, when, at the age of nineteen, a commission was obtained for me by a wealthy friend in a regiment about to sail for India.

A grand new bicycle was my father's parting present to me, and great was my delight at finding that another young "sub" in my regiment was also a bicyclist. In these days, when the "iron wheel" has so many votaries, this may seem nothing strange; but to realize my surprise and pleasure, you must remember that a bicycle was then a comparative curiosity, and a bicycler a person to be stared at and admired, or otherwise. Our bicycles were, I believe, the first ever seen in India; and as we rode together into the town, some days after our arrival, one would have thought it the triumphal entry of some Eastern potentate.

I could fill a book with the curious incidents which befell us in going "up country." Our regiment was always on the move, and panics of one kind or other were very frequent on our bicycling excursions.

One evening after mess Fred and I drew up and signed articles to ride a ten-mile race.

There was a grand native road within a short distance of our camp, running away for ten miles as flat as a drawing board. It lay through the open plain, and then a deserted tract was reached, becoming wilder as the road proceeded, and finally swallowing it up in an impenetrable jungle. It was on this road I intended to train. Fred had found a circular path around some native huts a short way from the station, measuring about six laps to the mile, and here he prepared himself for the coming struggle.

After a week of such training as would make a modern athlete's hair stand on end—meat almost raw, chopped very finely; little drinks of neat brandy, etc.—we considered ourselves fit for the contest; and the adventure I am about to relate occurred the evening before the eventful day. I was just starting for a last ride over my favorite course when an officer stopped me and said:

"Have you heard of the tiger, Harvey?"

"No," I answered.

"The natives have just brought word that a large tiger is marked down in the jungle about ten miles from here; so don't go too far this evening."

"All right," I laughed. "I think a tiger would find it a difficult matter to catch me—my training would tell on him."

I had not seen any large wild beasts as yet, and my notion of a tiger was a thin, sleepy-looking animal, as I had once seen in a travelling menagerie. Away I rode, my comrade's caution forgotten before I had gone a mile.

I started at a good pace, but not racing, as I intended to do all I knew coming home. In about an hour I reached my usual halting place, ten miles from the camp; but this being the last night of my training, I made up my mind to ride another couple of miles, and then do the whole distance back at my best pace.

I rode on and in another ten minutes found myself in the jungle.

Now for the race home.

Dismounting, I oiled my machine, tightened up every screw, and then sat down on a boulder to rest and enjoy the prospect. A beautiful scene it was too! Above me rose the grand mountains, their snowy tops blushing crimson in the setting sun; here a little waterfall, like a thread of gold and silver, flashing down the mountain-side, and twining in and out among the masses of trees and rocks; there a glimpse of fairyland through a jungle vista. A pool, or "tank," as they are called, surrounded by dense foliage, festooned by parasitical climbing plants, glowing with flowers of every imaginable hue; humming-birds, like fiery gems, flashed hither and thither, darting in and out among the trees. On the "tank" floated water-fowl of every kind, and the banks were alive with gorgeous birds, their plumage rivaling the flowers in brilliancy and variety of color. But now the shadows were deepening, the crimson of the mountain-tops had disappeared, and the cold snow began to look gray and ghostly. A flying fox went rustling past me, and I hastily prepared to mount; for there is scarcely any twilight in India, and I knew it would soon be dark.

As I rose, my eyes encountered something which made me start and nearly drop my bicycle.

There, not forty yards off, was a tiger. I knew the animal well enough; but how different he looked from the lean, half-starved little beast I had seen at home! He had just come into the open space from a dense jungle-brake, and sat there, washing his face and purring in a contented sort of way, like a huge cat.

Was I frightened? Not an atom; I had my bicycle and a start of forty yards, so if I could not beat him it was a pity.

He had not seen me yet, and I stood for another minute admiring the handsome creature and then quietly mounted (the tiger was directly on my right while the road stretched straight away from me). The noise I made roused him; he looked up, and then, after deliberately stretching himself, came leaping with long, graceful bounds over the rank grass and rocks which separated him from the road. He did not seem a bit angry, but evidently wished to get a nearer view of such an extraordinary object.

Forty yards, however, I thought was quite near enough for safety. The tiger was in the road behind me now; so I pulled myself together and began to quicken my pace.

Would he stop, disgusted, after the first hundred yards, and give up the chase, or would he stick to it? I quite hoped he would follow me, and already pictured in my mind the graphic description I would write home of my race with the tiger.

Little did I think what a terrible race it was going to be. I looked behind me. By Jove! he was "sticking to it." I could not judge the distance, but at any rate I was no further from him than when we started. Now for a spurt! I rode the next half-mile as hard as I could, but on looking round found I had not gained a yard.

The tiger was on my track, moving with a long swinging trot, and going quite as quickly as I was.

For the first time I began to feel anxious, and thought uneasily of the long ten miles which separated me from safety.

However, it was no good thinking now; it was my muscle and iron steed against the brute. I could only do my best and trust in Providence.

Now, there was no doubt about the tiger's intention, his blood was up, and on he came, occasionally giving vent to a roar which made the ground tremble. Another mile had been traversed, and the tiger was slowly but surely closing up.

I dashed my pouch to the ground, hoping it would stop him for a few seconds; but he kept steadily on, and I felt it was then grim earnest.

I calculated we must be about seven miles from camp now, and before I could ride another four my pursuer, I knew, must reach me. Oh, the agony of those minutes, which seem to me like long hours.

Another mile passed, then another. I could hear him behind me now—pad, pad, pad, quicker and quicker, louder and louder. I turned in my saddle for a moment, and saw that there were not twenty yards separating us! How enormous the brute looked, how terrible! His huge tongue hung out, and the only sound he made was a continual hoarse growl of rage, while his eyes seem to literally flash fire.

It was like some awful nightmare, and with a shudder I bent down over the handles and flew along.

As I now sit quietly on my chair writing I find it hard to analyze the crowd of memories that went crashing through my brain during that fearful ride. I saw long-forgotten events in which I had taken part rise up distinctly before me; and while every muscle was racked with my terrible exertion, my mind was clear and my life seemed to pass before me like one long panorama.

On, on, on; the slightest slip, I knew, would be fatal; a sudden jolt, a screw giving, and I should be hurled to instant death.

Human strength would not stand much more; the prolonged strain had told up on me, and I felt it would soon be all over. My breath came in thick sobs, a mist gathered before my eyes—I was stopping; my legs refused to move, and a thousand fiends seemed to flitter about me, holding me back, back! A weight like lead was on my chest; I was choking, I was dying. Then a few moments, which seemed a lifetime, and then—crash—with a roar like thunder the tiger was on me, and I was crushed to the ground.

* * * * *

After many days of unconsciousness and a raging fever, reason gradually returned and I learned the particulars of my deliverance.

A party of officers had started with a shikaree (or native hunter) to a trap which had been prepared for the tiger. A goat was tethered on the outskirts of the jungle, and the sportsmen had started to take up positions in the trees near to wait for their game, which the bleat of the goat in the stillness of the night would speedily have attracted.

They were talking of our coming bicycle race as they went along, and expecting every moment to meet me on my return journey. As they passed a clump of bushes I came in sight, about a quarter of a mile in front of them, whirling along in the cloud of dust, which hid my terrible pursuer. They soon, however, saw my awful danger. The huge brute, mad with rage, hurled itself upon me just as we reached them.

My friend stood almost petrified with terror and did not dare to fire; but the shikaree, a man of iron nerve, and accustomed to face sudden danger of all kinds in the hunting-field, sprang quickly up within a yard of the tiger, and, putting his rifle almost to the animal's ear, fired twice and blew its brains out, just in time to save my life. I was drawn from the palpitating body of my dead enemy, every one present believing that it was all up with me.

Making a litter of boughs they carried me into the camp, where I lay for many weeks lingering between life and death.

SOUNDS.

The following curious observations of sound have been carefully verified by an extended series of experiments: The whistle of a locomotive is heard 3,300 yards; the noise of a railroad train, 2,800; the report of a musket and the bark of a dog, 1,800; an orchestra or the roll of a drum, 1,600; the human voice reaches to a distance of 1,000; the croaking of frogs, 900; the chirping of chickens, 800. Distant speaking is heard in the air from below up to a distance of 600 yards; from above it is only understood to a distance of 100 yards downward. It has been ascertained that an echo is well reflected from the surface of smooth water only when the voice is from an elevation. Other similar phenomena connected with the transmission of sound have been observed but the results disagree, either from inaccuracy in the observations, or from the varying nature of the circumstances affecting the number obtained. Such variations occur to the extent of ten to twenty per cent, and even more. The weather being cold or dry, or warm and wet, are the chief influencing causes. In the first case the sound goes to a greater, and in the second to a lesser distance.

THE GIRL WITH BANGS.

Bangs on a girl gives her an unruly look like a cow with a board over her face. You take the gentlest cow in the world and put a board over her face, and turn her out in the pasture, and she gets the reputation of being unruly, and you would swear she would jump fences and raise merry hades, and you would not give as much as ten dollars for her only for beef. It is so with a girl. If she wears her hair high up on her forehead, or brushed back, or even has frizzes, and has a good looking face, you will go your bottom dollar on her, and you feel that she is as good as gold, and that when she tells her young man that she loves him there is no discount on it, and no giggling back; but take the same girl, with her front hair banged, and when she looks at you, you feel just as though she would hook and you can't trust her. "She has a fence jumping look" that makes a young man feel as though she wouldn't be safe unless she was tied head and foot so she couldn't get out of the pasture. A girl with bangs may try to be good and true, but it is awful hard work.

Decency will operate with greater force in some instances than rigor. It is, therefore, my wish to have my whole conduct distinguished by it.

We look at the one little woman's face we love, as we look at the face of our mother earth, and see all sorts of answers to our own yearnings.

Help others and you relieve yourself. Go out and drive the care away from that distressed friend's brow, and you will return with a lighter heart.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

[illegible]	WEEKS.			MONTHS.
SPACE.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Double-column 50 per cent. advance of above rates.

One-half-inch advertisements inserted for one week at 50 cents each.

Net rates for all advertisements and no dead-head.

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

GEMS.

Lie not for any consideration.

You had better take for business a man somewhat absurd than ever formal.

Action may always bring happiness, but there is no happiness without action.

To correct an evil which already exists is not so wise as to foresee and prevent it.

The best remedy against an evil companion is to refuse an introduction to him.

All the scholastic scaffolding falls as a ruined edifice before the one word—faith.

The devil always either comes himself or sends some one when you call for him.

To prove a fool is simply lost labor; therefore do not sit down and scold yourself.

The love of display which results in vulgar ostentation, is the result of selfishness.

Slumber not in the tents of your columns. The world is advancing, advance with it.

The surest way to make ourselves agreeable to others is by seeming to think them so.

Nature goes on her way; all that to us seems an exception, is really according to order.

No joy is ever given freely forth that does not have quick echo in the giver's own heart.

The master of superstition is the people. And in all superstition wise men follow fools.

It was old Sam Johnson who said: "Words are men's daughters, but God's sons are things."

The trouble and worry and wear and tear that comes from hating people is hating unprofitable.

We think our civilization is near its meridian, but we are yet only at the cock-crowing and the morning.

Talking very much and lying just a little are a good deal nearer to each other than most people think.

Always be as witty as you can with your parting bow—your last speech is the one that is remembered.

When you receive a favor, you ought never to forget it, when you do one you ought not to remember it.

"Raise no more spirits than you can conjure down," is the motto of the liquor dealers of this country.

Common sense does not ask an impossible chessboard, but takes the one before it and plays the game.

Good qualities are the substantial riches of the mind; but it is good breeding that sets them off to advantage.

In the calendar of happiness, time is reckoned in minutes; in that of unhappiness, it is reckoned in days.

Truth is good, but beware of barking too close at the heels of error, lest you get your brains kicked out.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.

If you can count the sunny and cloudy days of the whole year, you will find that the sunshine predominates.

A coward boasting of his courage may deceive strangers, but he is a laughing stock to those who know him.

To possess a superior education, without natural ability, is to have a quiver full of arrows without a bow.

As pure and fresh country air gives vigor to the system, so do pure and fresh thoughts tend to invigorate the mind.

Christian forbearance can a great deal better be shown when you are on top of a man than when he is on top of you.

When a misfortune happens to a friend, look forward and endeavor to prevent the same thing from happening to yourself.

To be perfectly just is an attribute of the divine nature; to be so to the utmost of our abilities, is the glory of man.

Poetry is the blossom and fragrance of all human knowledge, human thoughts, human passions, emotions, language.

A crowd is not company, and faces are but a gallery of pictures, and talk but a tinkling cymbal, where there is no love.

"Is that marble?" said a gentleman, pointing to a bust of Kentucky's great statesman. "No, sir; that's Clay," quietly replied the dealer.

Bad temper is its own scourge. Few things are bitterer than to feel bitter. A man's venom poisons himself more than his victim.

Truthfulness is a corner-stone in character and if it be firmly laid in youth, there will never be a weak spot in the foundation.

Men may often stoop to folly or even crime with impunity, if they possess sufficient wealth to purchase silence and stifle opposition.

Jones thinks the man is fortunate who has his will contested after his death only. He says his will has been contested ever since he wedded Mrs. J.

A gentleman presented a lace collar to the object of his adoration, and in a jocular way said: "Do not let anyone else rumple it." "No, dear," said the lady, "I will be careful to take it off."

It was out West that a political delegate moved a bar be set up in the conference room. He said he wanted to stop the numerous motions to adjourn.

On Saturday a Pittsburg man arriving in Newark, ordered the cabman to drive him to the Newark steel works and calmly innocently took him to the City hall.

"Don't stand on ceremony, come in," said a lady to an old farmer, who had called to see her husband. "Excuse me, marm!" exclaimed the man, "I'm standing on the door-mat."

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

FUNDAMENTAL.

A sound and uniform currency, secure from all mercenary designs.

Equal taxation for needed purposes only.

Freedom to earn fair remuneration for labor and an opportunity to invest earnings without extortion.

Laws enacted and impartially enforced for the protection and benefit of all classes of people.

Full liberty for individual industry and enterprise to amass, hold and enjoy wealth, however limited, unawed by corporate or sordid foes of any kind.

Economical and honest expenditure of public money.

Such are the sure ingredients of prosperity, public and private, and they are fundamental principles of the Democratic party.

POPULAR SCRUTINY.

One of the most promising signs of the times is the increasing popular determination to support men for important elective positions who are best qualified, on the score of character, energy and ability, to discharge official duty aright, whether it be executive, fiduciary or legislative.

There has been of late years decided progress achieved along that pathway of needed reform.

It is not now as easy as it once was for smirched and unprincipled men to thrust themselves into office by the mere force of party name and regardless of personal record.

Happily, the people have commenced scrutinizing the real standing of all candidates for suffrage, and of holding representatives to rigid account.

Which is as it should be and must be for public safety.

If the people, acting as sovereigns, will only carry such scrutiny into a war to the hilt against the infamous practice of spending money corruptly for procuring nominations and bribing voters at the polls, a dark stigma will be removed from our national reputation and a foul political sore wisely cauterized.

Fight election bribery to its death!

RECIPROCITY.

Commissioners, of whom General Grant and Mr. Trescott represent the United States, are in session at Washington for the purpose of framing a commercial treaty between this and the Republic of Mexico, and if intelligence and liberality guide such diplomatic endeavor to a successful result, a harvest of mutual advantages to the people of both countries will certainly be reaped therefrom.

Mexico is a magnificent region of largely undeveloped riches. Her natural productions, tropical in character, vary from ours and are needed by us. The United States, skilled in the arts of mechanism and manufacturing and possessing energy and enterprise, coupled with boundless material resources, stands every way fitted to supply Mexican wants and enjoy the benefits of reciprocal intercourse.

The United States and Mexico are sister Republics, their territories join, their governmental systems are congenial, and so should be their national hopes and the prosperity of their respective people. Soon iron bands will link them together and rapid transit from the geographical heart of one to that of the other will be a grand realized fact.

To make those iron bands mutual blessings, and not only the distributers of national wealth, but the strengtheners of national friendship, ought to be the present aimed for object at Washington.

Treaty reciprocity with Mexico, based upon honorable business equity, and clear of political trickery or narrow minded prejudice, would not only prove a bond of enduring amity, but a key for the unlocking of golden treasure.

There is no purpose of higher value to the American people at the present time than the opening and extending of foreign markets for the products of their skill and industry.

That is of paramount importance, and if Congressmen, instead of manipulating selfish schemes and trying how to avoid work of practical public utility, would concentrate thought and dedicate effort for the general welfare of all the people, and for the real advancement of national power and influence, a brighter era would soon dawn for their constituents and a more worthy record be gained for themselves.

The overland express from San Francisco by the Southern Pacific, while stopping near Tehichipa station to attach an extra engine, got away and started back down a steep grade, finally going over an embankment. Twenty persons were killed and several others injured.

There is no valid reason why the United States, with its free intelligence and prolific wealth of soil, forest, stream and mine, should not outrank every other country under the sun as a profitable producer and world-wide disposer of both the necessaries and luxuries of civilized life, even though the word tariff was a thing unknown.

Further despatches referring to the sinking of the Cimbria state that she went down within a few minutes of the collision. There were 380 passengers on board and the crew numbered 110. Of these fifty-six only are known to have been saved. It is, however, hoped that many of the missing have been picked up by passing vessels or by the steamers sent to search for them.

Americans can construct and send locomotives and cars for foreign service from Russia to Australia, but cannot support under their own flag a single steamer between New York and Europe. There is a screw loose somewhere, and Congressional ingenuity appears unable to discover its locality. Possibly, the next House of Representatives may prove wider awake.

The grandest money potentates now swelling around this boasted land of freedom are Corporation Monopolists. They amass fortunes by the millions, profess highly, fatten on costly food, wear purple and fine linen and dazzle in diamonds, yet never a pang of remorse do they evince when pressing the wages of poor over-tasked workmen down to the lowest attainable point, sometimes even to the verge of starvation. They are specimen bricks of the loudly trumpeted humbug styled "protection to labor."

GARDNER AND O'CONNOR.

SKETCHES IN BRIEF OF THE SENATE'S PRESIDENT AND THE HOUSE'S SPEAKER.

President John J. Gardner, of the present Senate hails from Atlantic county, where he is a power in local Republican politics. He was born in the same county, October 17, 1845, and has always lived there, except while doing service in the army during the late war. He was elected Mayor of Atlantic City in 1868, '69, '70, '73 and '74, having declined the nomination in 1872 and 1876. In 1877 he was elected Senator over Doughty (Dem.) by a majority of 26 votes, and was re-elected in 1880 over French (Dem.) and Penney (Gr.) by a majority of 967. His term expires in 1884. Upon his arrival in the Senate, Mr. Gardner at once attracted attention by the wonderful fund of good logic and general common sense that he introduced into every important debate on questions before the Senate. He enters upon his career as President of the Senate with the good will of his colleagues of both political parties, and gives promise of making an exceptionally good presiding officer.

Speaker Thomas O'Connor's general popularity gave him a clear field in his aspiration to the office of presiding officer of the House of Assembly. Mr. O'Connor was born in England, March 12, 1833, and is therefore closing his fiftieth year. Newark has been his residence for years. He enlisted as a private in the Twenty-seventh New Jersey regiment, in September, 1862. At the fall of Atlanta he was promoted to the rank of Major, and he served honorably and heroically until the war ended. The Major is now serving a fourth term in the House, which is honor not often conferred on members belonging to Essex county. During his career as a Legislator he has won golden opinions from both parties, not only for his strict integrity, industry and faithfulness, but for the courage of his convictions, which have been expressed on all occasions. Fearless and outspoken in debate, he never fails to advocate warmly the enactment of good measures, or to denounce the introduction of iniquitous legislation. A rigid party man, still he always respects the opinions of his opponents. If his career as Speaker be not satisfactory to every one, the fault will not be intentional with Mr. O'Connor. His nomination for the office in Democratic caucus was unanimous.

The re-election of Hon. John R. McPherson, to succeed himself in the United States Senate, by the State Legislature last Wednesday, was a just recognition of that gentleman's fitness for the office.

When the Senate at Washington was called to order Tuesday Mr. Butler, of South Carolina, was the only Senator present. The Vice President said: "The Senator from South Carolina will come to order;" and after the prayer was delivered Mr Butler moved a call of the Senate.

John R. McPherson is United States Senator from New Jersey for the term commencing March 4th next. The two Houses of the State Legislature met at noon on Wednesday last in the Assembly Chamber. It has always been the custom of the Legislature on such occasions to select the President of the Senate as presiding officer, irrespective of the political majority on joint ballot. But Mr. Clarke nominated Speaker O'Connor for that position, and he was elected by the vote of his party friends against President Gardner. Eighty-one members were present—not one being absent. Mr. Chattle nominated Mr. McPherson, of Monmouth Beach, and Mr. Youngblood nominated Garrett A. Hobart, of Passaic. Mr. Cator, (Rep.), of Hudson, nominated Governor Ludlow. On roll-call Mr. McPherson received his entire party vote excepting Mr. Flynn, who voted with Mr. Cator, the joint ballot resulting: McPherson, 43; Hobart, 36; Ludlow, 2.

SENATORIAL CAUCUSES.

Last Monday evening the Democratic House of Assembly of this State, held a caucus to determine who should be the candidate for U. S. Senator to succeed Hon. John R. McPherson, in the joint convention of both branches of the Legislature, to be held Wednesday, Jan. 24th. Speaker O'Connor called the House to order, and announced that that body would now proceed to the election of a United States Senator. Assemblyman Neighbor, of Morris, was elected Secretary and Armitage, of Essex, Clerk. A call of the House was made and 58 members answered to their names. Absent, Mr. Ross, sick, Mr. Murphy, out of the city. Mr. Chattle nominated John R. McPherson, of Hudson county. Mr. Parsons nominated Garret A. Hobart, of Passaic county. Mr. Cator said he desired to place in nomination a gentleman not unknown to fame in New Jersey and the United States, Frederick T. Frelinghuysen. The roll was then called with the following result: Voting for Mr. McPherson were Messrs. Arbuckle, Armitage, Borton, Budd, Byrnes, Chattle, Convery, Crook, Forman, Freeman, Harrigan, Hill, Jerome, Lake, Larison, Ludlam, McLaughlin, Neighbor, O'Connor (Speaker), Rich, Robbins, Scott, Stanton, Smalley, Stoney, Van Buskirk, Wildrick and Wortendyke—28. Voting for Mr Hobart were Messrs. Applegate, Bamford, Bryant, Campbell, Cole, Coombs, Cramer, Gaston, Gill, Goodwin, Haines, Hoffman, Hutchinson, Jenkins, Lewis, Mills, Parsons, Sheldon, Shields, Stafford, Warner, Weaver, Woodruff, Young—24. For Mr. Frelinghuysen—Mr. Cator—1. Not voting—Chapman, Clark, Flynn, Kelly, Steljes—5. Absent—Ross and Murphy—2. When the absentees were called for, the Speaker handed a copy of the statutes defining the duties of members to the Clerk and directed that it be read. "I shall now insist," he announced, when the reading had been finished, "on having the roll called till every member present votes for one or the other of these candidates. The Sergeant-at-Arms will see that the door is closed and that no member leaves." A call was made for absentees, when Messrs. Chapman, Clarke, Flynn, Kelly, and Steljes voted for Mr. McPherson. The result of the vote was then announced as follows: McPherson, 33; Hobart, 24; Frelinghuysen, 1. The Speaker then announced Hon. John R. McPherson elected by the House as United States Senator, and directed the Clerk to enter the result upon the minutes of the House. The joint caucus of the Republicans was held in the Senate Chamber. Senator Youngblood presided. The caucus nominated ex-Senator Garrett A. Hobart, of Passaic county, for United States Senator. There were three candidates proposed—Garrett A. Hobart of Passaic; George A. Halsey, of Essex, and Frederick A. Potts, of Hunterdon. The ballot resulted in the selection of Senator Hobart, by the following vote: Hobart, 19; Halsey, 14; Potts, 3.

The exertion of self possessed resources will create and foster business success, while an indolent reliance on the help of others, as a general rule, destroys its vitality.

In the case of Sheriff Forsyth who failed to renew his bonds, the Supreme Court has ordered all writs to be sent to a Master in Chancery until the question could be definitely settled.

Literary Notes.

The North American Review for February opens with a symposium in which the prominent theologians, representing as many religious denominations, give expression to their views upon the question of the "Revision of Creeds." Bishop McQuaid writes of "The Decay of Protestantism," and in essaying to prove his thesis, makes a very adroit use of the admissions of Protestant writers. "The Political Situation" is the joint title of two articles, the one by Horatio Seymour, the other by Geo. S. Boutwell. An article by Dr. D. A. Sargent, on "Physical Education in Colleges," treats a subject of prime importance to the welfare of the youths in our higher educational institutions. Finally, there are two articles on "The Standard Oil Company." Senator Camden of West Virginia defending that corporation against its assailants, and John C. Welch setting forth the reasons for condemning it as a dangerous monopoly. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, N.Y.

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine. The February number is promptly on our table, with its usual manifold attractions—literary and artistic. Among the prominent articles are: "Whisperers," by the Editor, Rev. T. De Witt Talmage; a continuation of De Leon's "The American Pilgrim in Palestine," one of the most interesting magazine articles we have ever read; a continuation also of "Religious Denominations in the United States—What is Congregationalism?" by Rev. Dr. Tarbox; Alfreton Hervey treats of Beethoven, one of the "Sacred Musicians of the Ninth Century," etc., etc. In the department of fiction "Justice Warren's Daughter" and "Weighed and Wanting" are continued, and Julia H. Thayer, Robin W. Pierson, Mrs. Annandale and other popular writers contribute short stories, sketches, essays, etc. There are some excellent poems, many of them beautifully illustrated and in the Home Pulpit is a characteristic sermon by Dr. Talmage, "Hospitality." We can only refer generally to the abundance of good things in this number, which is elaborately embellished. Single copies 25 cents; $3 a year post paid. Address, Mrs. Frank Leslie, Publisher, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

The Art Amateur for January fairly overflows with those designs, illustrations and practical suggestions for art work and home decoration which make this admirable magazine a welcome visitor in so many cultured American households. A superb portrait of the famous English etcher, Francis Seymour Haden; some striking charcoal and pencil sketches by Walter Shirlaw; a very interesting collection of miniatures by Cosway, and a double page of Salmagundi Exhibition sketches are notable features of this number. The illustration of Vallisnar faience, artistic furniture and pianos, tapestry, needlework and jewelry are especially good. Practical articles on fan painting, miniature painting, china painting and art needlework are given, together with valuable "hints for the home" and "answers to correspondents." In the supplement sheets are full-size designs for a panel of cherubs heads; apple blossoms decoration for a vase; birds and pine-needles for a cup and saucer; an ivy and owl decoration of seventeen tiles for a fire-place facing; a four-page floral design from the Royal School of Art Needlework, for an embroidered screen; part of an embroidered cope, and sixteen borders for prayer-book illuminations. Price 35 cents. Montague Marks, publisher, 23 Union Square, New York.

Sham Reformers.

At the annual meeting of the N. J. Editorial Association, held in Trenton Monday, Jan. 15th inst., the retiring President, John F. Babcock, the veteran editor of the New Brunswick Fredonian delivered a lengthy address, reviewing the history of the Association since its organization, and devoting a large portion of it to the sham "reformers" of the State Legislature, who annually are attacked with a fit of spasmodic reform, by curtailing the little patronage awarded to the press of the State, instead of looking where the extravagances of the State actually are. Below we publish a few of the few concluding paragraphs of the address of Mr. Babcock. It will be seen that he shows up in their true light the men who deceive the "dear people" while pretending to serve them.

"This is an era when sham reformers are abroad, men who seek to deceive the people by making great pretensions to honesty, economy and reform, and thereby hope to ride into power and temporary popularity. Our own profession is crowded with men of no respectability or standing to lose, and who seem determined to show that they deserve no public support by their efforts to pull down their neighbors, and brand them as swindlers whose only desire is to defraud the public. Having no character to lose, they denounce those who have spent a lifetime in trying to build up a respectable business and secure an honorable position and competence in the community. They crowd the lobbies of the Legislature, and seek the aid and co-operation of men therein of like character and feelings, and often impose upon those who are more honorable in their intentions. These bogus reformers are generally men who are new in the profession, and who have but a faint idea of its duties and responsibilities, and do not properly understand even the questions they so flippantly talk or write about. With added years and experience these callow reformers, if they do not previously destroy themselves, as is often the case, become more conservative and just to their brethren of press, themselves and the public. But in the meantime they do an immense amount of mischief to the profession and make more difficult their own advancement, saying nothing of the injury they inflict upon the public generally.

"There are a number of men who manage to get into the Legislature and who act as though they were doing the State a service by continually attacking the press. It seems to be the height of their ambition to do what they can to injure the printing business in every possible way, and pretend that editors and printers are the greatest swindlers that the State has to deal with. Not one of them really knows what he is doing, or could show what items enter into the cost of a printing bill, or how much it costs to print a newspaper. And yet they talk as though they were experts, and no doubt do manage to deceive a great many people. They have no regard for the character of the men, who are in every way as honest, respectable and intelligent as themselves, but seem to delight in denouncing and abusing them. They ruthlessly attack men in their several communities, of good standing, who have spent years in building up a reputation for responsibility, honor and usefulness. Such men are demagogues of the worst possible character, whose only object is to make a little cheap capital out of the general desire for reform in the public expenditures, attack the press, which stands between them and the public they desire to fleece. While these glib-tongued and noisy demagogues sometimes succeed in imposing upon their fellow-legislators, we are glad to know, from dealing with them for many successive years, that they really form but a small proportion of the whole number. The majority of legislators we have found to be honorable and sensible men, whose only desire is to do that which is just to all; and when an opportunity is afforded to have matters properly explained to them about a business they know nothing of practically, they generally do that which is right, and refuse to follow the lead of the men who would pull down all that is good that they may [illegible] themselves thereby. There is no honest legislator who does not look well to the respectable newspapers of his own locality before he decides how to vote and act upon important matters, and they are therefore not the willing tools of the demagogues who desire to destroy some necessary public [illegible].

"Nearly all the so-called reforms of demagogues in the Legislature begin and end with the press. Little attention is [illegible] to [illegible]. These demagogues find that the whole [illegible] for the advertising and printing, and [illegible] in the [illegible] make the public believe that the [illegible] be reduced, no matter how, no [illegible] what justice or discretion. This [illegible] is always ready to join hands with the Legislature in reforming any genuine abuses of the press, or any other [illegible] any legitimate public matter. But if I understand the [illegible] of the press of this State they do not intend to longer [illegible] to be the 'only' subjects of 'reform,' [illegible] without making no effort to know the reason why. They will not submit in silence, either. The press feels abundantly able to defend its rights and privileges, and what is more, they intend to do it. There have been pretended reform demagogues in nearly every Legislature during the past quarter of a century, but it is a satisfaction to know that nearly every one of these has been short-lived politically, and very few of them filled a seat in that body for more than one term—their constituents soon finding them out and retiring them to their proper level in the shades of private life. The legislative records prove this assertion."

The New Brunswick Times in alluding to the address, says:

"We recollect one of these fellows, who failed of being returned a second time; but, as consolation for him, he was indicted for forgery and arson. Another of those bogus 'reformers' now has a seat in the Legislature from an adjoining county; and although not so disreputable in his habits as his elder 'reform' predecessor, the following paragraph from the Fredonian shows him up in his true light: 'We know a lawyer who charged a township about five thousand dollars for collecting a claim of seven thousand dollars. Yet when that man got into the Legislature he was a great 'reformer,' and wanted to cut down the prices of public printing about one-third.' It is of such stuff that professed 'reformers' are generally made of."

Ending [illegible] Senator McPherson.

To the Editor of the World:

SIR: Since filing my bills in equity against John R. McPherson I have been made acquainted with facts and circumstances of which, prior to the filing of my bill, I was ignorant and which go to show that he was not pecuniarily interested in stock-cars or patents while a member of the United States Senate. I am now satisfied that his efforts in behalf of legislation were from humane rather than from selfish motives. I also learn from the public press that use is making of my suit to effect unfavorably the political canvass of Senator McPherson. This has not been at any time my intention or desire, and I should greatly regret if it should tend to produce this result. I have therefore directed my legal advisers to discontinue the suit against him. It is only just to say that this discontinuance is made wholly without the knowledge of Senator McPherson.

J. F. RUSLING.

New York, January 23, 1883.

COMMUNICATED.

For "The Constitutionalist."

Fire Escapes.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

Last Saturday night our city was aroused by the ringing of an alarm of fire, and intense excitement prevailed as the rumor spread with lightning rapidity that the Park House was on fire. Notwithstanding the stormy night and the bad condition of the streets hundreds of people hurried to the supposed scene of the conflagration, to help as they expected they might be able to do in some way, or do their utmost in that direction, the unfortunate persons who might be in the hotel, and liable to the awful death of suffocation, or being roasted alive. The feeling of anxiety and horror was intensified by the knowledge that no external means of escape was attached to the hotel.

The fire however was not in the hotel, but near by, the building on fire being a frame stable near the hotel, which was consumed, but the ravages of the flames were stopped in their savage fury by the heroic acts of our brave firemen, who did nobly on the occasion, and were the subject of universal praise by the assembled multitude.

Now, my object in writing this is to set before the people of our city, the danger in our midst of disasters like the Newhall House holocaust, that occurred a short time ago in Milwaukee. The attention of our Councilmen is also called to a general law passed in 1882, Chapter CX, which is entitled "An act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases of fire in hotels and other buildings." Under said law our Common Council can compel the erection of external fire escapes on hotels or boarding houses, public schools or other public buildings, factory, manufactory or workshops of any kind, in which guests, students, employees, or operatives, to the number of thirty or more, are accommodated or steadily or casually at work, or congregate, when any of such buildings are three or more stories in height. The fine for violating such an ordinance would be $200 and the parties so violating would also be liable in an action for damages in case of death or personal injuries sustained in consequence of fire breaking out in any such building, and of the absence of such efficient fire escapes. The Common Council can designate the number, kind, and manner in which said external fire escape or escapes is or are to be erected. The person or persons owning, leasing or in any manner having charge or control of any hotels or other buildings embraced in the law in question, would be responsible for the violation of an ordinance passed under said law, by our Common Council.

E. L. MORRIS.

For "The Constitutionalist."

Woman's Rights.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

It has been said that nowhere do the men show that reverence and tender thoughtfulness due to women as in America. But I am sure were a foreigner's first impression of American gallantry gained from what he saw on any of the N. J. C. R. R. ferry boats when the business men are going to and from New York, he would stoutly deny that statement and not without occasion for so doing. And I know there is not a gentleman among the English, French or German (and those men who take possession of the ladies' cabin consider themselves gentlemen) that would remain seated an instant when ladies were standing. Not long since my indignation was so aroused that I must give vent to my feelings in words. With my arms full of bundles and completely tired out after a long day of shopping, I hurried down Liberty St. to catch the last boat for one of the evening trains. I entered the ladies' cabin only to find it full of men. The seats were nearly all occupied by men, while ladies were standing. In the whole line of passengers on one side of that long cabin, there were not more than half a dozen ladies. When we had nearly crossed the river, a gentleman sitting directly in front of where I stood, anxious to go forward that he might be among the first to rush off of the boat and secure a seat in the car, became suddenly conscious that I was standing, and offered me his seat. Of course I had to do the proper thing—smile sweetly, and thank the gentleman for his thoughtfulness and unselfishness in giving up his seat. Unless our men are gentlemanly enough to grant the ladies their proper rights, the railroad officials should be spoken to.

INDIGNATION.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Ludlow V. Clark, Esq., returned home on Tuesday from a business trip West and South.

The Westfield Athletic Club have rented the Mosher Hall and are about fitting it up as a club room.

Sunday evening, the Rev. Dr. [illegible] will deliver a lecture on "Our Eyes and Ears" at the M. E. Church. The subject will be illustrated with [illegible].

Rev. W. H. Broadhead, of Newark, delivered a lecture in the Congregational Church, Monday evening before the Young People's Association of Christian [illegible] of that church.

Rev. Jas. Gowans occupied the pulpit of the M. E. Church Sunday evening last. The pastor, Rev. [illegible], officiating in the pulpit of the Congregational Church in the absence of the pastor, who was confined to his house by sickness.

Thomas [illegible] who has been our [illegible] at the depot for the past year, has sold out his business to John [illegible]. We understand Mr. [illegible] expects to drive the stage and mail line from Mount Bethel to Plainfield about Feb. 1st, 1883.

On Monday last officer Marsh arrested a young man by the name of Linden upon a charge of forgery committed five years ago in Morris county. He was turned over to the Morris county authorities, an indictment having been found against him at the last term of their courts.

James S. Boyden, son of E. W. Boyden, sailed on Monday for San Francisco, aboard a clipper sailing vessel. Mr. Boyden goes for the benefit of his health. He expects he will take from four to five months before he arrives at San Francisco, and if his health improves he will locate himself there in business.

J. T. Pierson and Wm. Schoonover have leased Clark Lake and the ice house connected therewith and are engaged in filling it. The residents of our town cannot help being well supplied with ice the coming Summer, their being three different ice houses filled, whereas their was only one last year—that of J. H. Manning.

On Wednesday evening last the Westfield Lodge No. 169 of I. O. O. F., installed the following officers: N. G.—Theo. Starr; V. G.—Wm. Armstrong; Recording Secretary—Geo. Trimmer; Financial Secretary—Walter N. Sparkman; Treasurer—Benjamin J. Crosby; District Deputy Grand Master Garrison of Perth Amboy, officiated at the installation.

On Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 16th, Geo. Long started two foxes on the mountain back of Westfield. His dog ran them for about three hours and finally treed them. Mr. Long coming up shot both which proved to be grey foxes about two-thirds grown. Several of our noted hunters have been on the mountains the past week in hopes to start the old foxes, but have failed as yet.

Jas. M. French bought a horse Monday from Aaron Thompson from Finderne. The horse was to be delivered at Plainfield on Monday evening and Mr. French sent his boy to the Farmer's Hotel at the time agreed upon but no horse was there. The boy returned and went next day and got the horse from Mr. Thompson's man. After ten minutes at his new home he died.

Elizabeth Mapes, wife of Albert Mapes and mother of our Freeholder, died on Friday last at Newburg, N. Y., and was buried on Sunday. She was aged seventy-nine years. Her husband was sick at the same time with heart disease and it was feared that the shock of his wife's death would result seriously to him. He has so far recovered, however, that his son brought him home with him to Westfield.

There is considerable talk and excitement among some of the members of a fire company in our town, about the organization of the new company on Saturday evening next. In the mean time members of the Westfield Bucket and Engine Co. No. 1., keep aloof from all dispute and are gaining members every week. We ought to have an organized fire department in our town to be of efficient service if a fire should break out, so that the different companies would be under the control of some person at the head of the department. As it is now, when a fire happens each company is bound to do as its foreman directs.

MARRIAGES.

DUNN—LAWSON—At the parsonage, Elizabeth, N. J., by the Rev. J. [illegible] Allen, Tuesday, Jan. 16, 1883, Frank B. Dunn to Cora E. Lawson, both of Elizabeth, N. J.

DEATHS.

SOFIELD—At Perth Amboy, N. J., on Saturday, Jan. 20th, 1883, after a short illness, Chas. W., youngest son of Theodore A. and Margaret Sofield, in the 6th year of his age.
Newark and New Brunswick papers please copy.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.

A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c. constantly in stock at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.
Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.
Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
GEO. C. FORD. GEO. M. STILES.

P. CASEY & SON.
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 16 Park avenue (John Bunton's Hat Store) Residence, No. 11 Third st., cor. New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
405 West Front St.
Residence—Front St., opp. Washington Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield, N. J.
"General Line of Groceries,"
[illegible]
"Gem" a New Process Flour,
[illegible]
Goods Delivered to any part of the city.

Cigar and Tobacco Store For Sale.
[illegible]

R. W. MAHAFFEE'S
EXPRESS.
Furniture & Goods Removed
[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

HORSES & MULES!
Fresh Arrivals Every Week!
CONSISTING OF Phaeton Ponies,
Coachers,
Trotters,
Drivers,
Saddlers,
Workers—Large and Small.
MULES OF ALL KINDS!
Low priced Horses not suitable for pavements, from $75 to $150.
To select from all the Time!
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED!
Horses delivered to any part of the State.
PRICES REASONABLE!
John W. Morris,
Hester st., Newark, New Jersey.

Dr. J. Jay Villers,
THE CELEBRATED
American Humorist,
WILL GIVE AN ENTERTAINMENT IN THE
Park Ave. Baptist Church
Monday, February 5th,
For benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of
THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.
Subject:—"FUNNY PEOPLE WE MEET."
Admission, ... Fifty Cents.
Tickets at Reynolds' Pharmacy, where seats can be reserved without extra charge, or at the Church on the night of entertainment.
Doors open at 7:30. Commence at 8.

MISS MAMIE KUNKEL,
(Of Baltimore Maryland.)
The Young American PrimaDonna,
WILL APPEAR IN PLAINFIELD,
During the ensuing Spring for the benefit of a Roman Catholic Charity.

Course of Six Lessons in Cookery
WILL BE GIVEN IN THE
Y.M.C. Association Hall,
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY,
By Miss JULIET CORSON, Superintendent of the New York School of Cookery, assisted by Mrs. T. H. TAYLOR, on February 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th and 7th, 1883, at 3 p. m.
COURSE TICKETS, $3.—For sale at Reynolds' Pharmacy, corner Park and North avenues.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY
TO GET A
Life Size Crayon Portrait
In free hand for the unprecedented small sum of Twelve Dollars!
By the well-known artist,
SIDNEY E. FLOWER,
Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 20 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo. or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Hand in orders early at Studio or Estil's bookstore, for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

Applications for Liquor License.

[illegible]
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

[illegible]
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

[illegible]
W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

[illegible]
W. L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S
A New Invoice of
SHIRTING CAMBRIC.
One lot of Gents' Linen Handkerchiefs, Plain and Bordered.
BOUGHT SINCE THE LATE DECLINE IN PRICES.
Don't forget that we are Headquarters for
LADIES' UNDERWEAR!
Full line Children's Black Hose. Fleece-lined. Fine quality.

A Bone Corset, - - - - -	49 cts.
Corded Corsets, - - - -	75 "
Corded Corsets, - - - -	$1.00
French Fine Corsets, - -	1.25
Roth's Double-bone do. -	1.25

COTTAGE DRAPERY!
Various sized Dots.
Ladies who have been waiting for our Kitchen Towel can now be furnished. Lot limited.
SPECIAL!
For one week only we will sell 4-4 "Fruit of the Loom" Muslin in lots not more than fifteen yards, at 9 cts.
G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

Carney Bros.,
NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.
Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.
PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.
Grates and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at jobber's prices. Bring your Tin Ware needing to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials and our work always gives satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Tinware made to order.
RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.
—SANITARY PLUMBING—

WANTS and INFORMATION
[illegible]

FOR RENT—[illegible]
WANTED—A girl for general house work. Inquire of Mrs. [illegible], North Plainfield.
FOR SALE—[illegible]
AN OLD ESTABLISHED PHOTOGRAPHIC Gallery [illegible]
A YOUNG GIRL of respectable family [illegible]
FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Plainfield, N. J. [illegible]
WANTED—[illegible]
WANTED TO RENT—[illegible]
BOARD AT 17 EAST FRONT STREET—[illegible]
GRANDFATHERS' CLOCKS—[illegible]
PHAETON FOR SALE—[illegible]
FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET [illegible]
B[illegible]
H[illegible]
[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Make a note of this!
DON'T FORGET THE AUCTION
Sale of Carpets, Beds, Bedding, etc., at the Mansion House, on Monday afternoon next,
Twenty-ninth instant, at 3 p. m.
Sales will be held every Monday, same hour and place until all is sold.

Slaughter! Slaughter!
IN THE PRICE OF CLOTHING!

Overcoats	$3.50,	former	price,	$5.00.
"	4.50,	"	"	6.50.
"	5.00,	"	"	7.50.
"	8.00,	"	"	10.50.
"	9.00,	"	"	14.00.

Scotch Cheviot suits at $12, former price, $18.
Youth's Overcoat $4, former price, $6.50.
S. C. LILIENSTERN,
The Leading Plainfield Clothier and Merchant Tailor,
22 West Front Street, - Plainfield, N. J

A. VANDERBEEK,
(Chautauqua Building.)
No. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DEALER IN
Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments,
Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.
All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing
Made to Order and Ready Made,
From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boy's. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing
Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate Agent!
11 DUER ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Houses Rented and Collections Made and prompt returns.
To Rent—Several houses in North Plainfield; location desirable and rent reasonable.
For Sale—Dwellings and Farms, from $1,000 to [illegible].

GRAND OPENING!

GRAND OPENING of Holiday Goods at CLARK'S Jewelry Store. Come and examine our large and handsome stock before purchasing. We have a line of goods direct from the Manufacturer's and at prices so low that all can buy. New goods! New patterns. Elegant and beautiful. Must be seen to be appreciated. Call and see for yourselves. No. 9 Park avenue.

DON'T MISTAKE THE STORE!

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Peter Henderson & Co's
COLLECTION OF
SEEDS PLANTS
[illegible] MANUAL of EVERYTHING for the
GARDEN
[illegible]
Peter Henderson & Co.,
35 & 37 Cortlandt St., New York.

THE DINGEE & CONARD CO'S
BEAUTIFUL EVER-BLOOMING
ROSES
[illegible]
THE DINGEE & CONARD CO.
Rose Growers. West Grove, Chester Co. Pa.

FREE [illegible]

Fine Butter & Cheese
Tayler's Cash Meat Market
is now heavily stocked with Butter and Cheese of all grades from common to the finest produced. These goods are bought for cash in large quantities by an expert buyer and will be sold at a reasonable profit. In a few days we shall have a large consignment of the noted
Elgin Creamery Butter
in 20 lb. pails. The price is very high, but some people will have it. Families desiring to purchase Butter by the Tub will be supplied with a prime article at a close price.
N. J. RANDOLPH,
Manager.
No. 24 Park ave.

FOREST and STREAM
And Rod and Gun!
THE AMERICAN SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL!
A twenty-eight page weekly journal, devoted to the interests of Gentlemen Sportsmen and their Families. Treats of Natural History, Shooting, Yachting and Canoeing, Fishculture, the Kennel, Fishing, the Rifle, and all gentlemanly outdoor sports. It is without a rival. Price, Four Dollars a year. Try it. A specimen copy will be sent, post-paid for ten cents. For sale by newsdealers everywhere.
FOREST AND STREAM PUBLISHING COMPANY,
New York City.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

Oh for an Opera House!

Council meeting next Monday evening.

Tuesday was a "cold day" but Senator McPherson did not "get left."

The Saengerbund has a dance at its rooms, Monday evening, all by itself.

There ought to be a splendid ice crop and low prices next Summer. But will there be?

Our sidewalks are pretty thoroughly cleaned of snow and ice, and the pedestrian can pursue his way upright.

Keep your gutters and sidewalks clear of snow and ice; if not for your neighbor's sake, for your own reputation.

A young miss of this city is the owner of quite a novel doll. When you squeeze her (the doll) she sings, "The Sweet Bye and Bye."

The convenience of the public demands the passage by our Common Council of a resolution to place on the corner lamp posts the names of the streets thereat.

Those desiring to enjoy the invigorating sea breezes of Coney Island and Long Branch had better go now as the sea is rapidly swallowing both places up.

A dispatch from Manitoba says: "the temperature here is 46 degrees below zero, the lowest on record." We should hope so. It must be a "cold day" when it drops lower.

The Weekly Prayer Meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held every Monday at 4 o'clock, P. M., at its rooms in the Holly Tree Inn, until further notice.

"Freddy" Gebhard has abandoned Lily and the angry St. Louis reporter, and is en route for New York. It is to be hoped that the country can once more resume business and consider itself safe.

The mistress of a Plainfield Intelligence (?) Office, not far from the station, thus recommended a servant: "She's honest, mum, but she's one of three twins and not as like in her mind as if she'd been born one at a time."

Chapter CCXXVI of the Laws of the 105th Legislature, approved March 29th, 1881, says that the official minutes of city councils shall be published in the official papers. In not obeying the law, our Common Council is liable for the consequences.

The Clinton Democrat advertises as lost "out of a sleigh, a piece of hose belonging to a pump." We suppose the owner was returning from a dance, but how he (or she, as the case may be) lost the hose and not the pump, is beyond our comprehension.

On Thursday evening February 21st, the grand ball masque of the Plainfield Saengerbund will be held at its rooms, corner North and Park avenues. It will be an event of unusual grandeur, and we would advise our citizens to secure their tickets at an early date.

A Salem county weather prophet publishes the following: Hogs' melts point north and south this season, with the largest end invariably at the north. This is a sure indication, we are assured, that the butt end of winter has already been experienced in this section.

Encourage newspaper reading among your children, and you will soon discover what a fondness they will have for their family journal, and how rapidly they will improve. The newspaper is the poor man's library. Every family should be provided with a newspaper.

Vennor's forecast for the latter part of January is as follows: January 23d, gales and very cold weather; 24th, intense cold continues, below zero; 25th, still cold, but moderating; 26th, foggy and much milder, rain; 27th, mild weather, slush; 29th, bright and keen; 30th, fair, cold and windy; 31st, mild with snow flurries.

At the annual meeting of the New Jersey Sanitary Association, lately held in Trenton, resolutions were adopted recommending the passage of a law, at this session of the Legislature, forbidding public funerals when death has been the result of contagious diseases, and requiring the nature of the disease to be stated in the funeral notice.

The following is given as a rule by which the location of storms can be ascertained: The wind almost always blows in a circle around a storm, and when it blows from the north, the heaviest rain is east of you; if it blows from the south, the heaviest rain is west; if it blows from the east, the heaviest rain is south; if it blows from the west, the heaviest rain is north of you.

A lady who is a famous housekeeper recommends an economical plan for making cakes without butter, which may be of use to our readers who have dread of "margarine." Take a piece of fat pork, melt it down and strain it through a piece of coarse white muslin. Set it aside until it is cold. It is then white and firm and may be used like butter in any kind of cake. In pound cake she assures us it is delicious.

There will be four eclipses in 1883, two of the sun and two of the moon. On April 22d, there will be a partial eclipse of the moon, which will be visible on the Pacific coast. The next eclipse will be that of the sun on May 6th; it will be visible in this country. The third is that of the moon on October 16th, and can be seen all over the United States. The last is that of the sun and occurs on October 30th, and will only be partial on the Pacific coast.

Since reporters for New York papers have published so positively that Jacob W. Gebhardt has married or engaged himself to six or seven young ladies, Mr. G. W. Gebhardt, of Clinton, offers a liberal reward for real information of a single such case beyond the one that the young man married and Miss Philhower, whom he claims to have coerced into promising. Scandal-mongers now have an opportunity to put their knowingness to profitable use.—Clinton Democrat.

An exchange very sensibly remarks as follows: It is very important when ordering nursery stock to know that you are getting trees and plants true to name, not so much perhaps on account of money involved as because of valuable time wasted if the goods prove worthless. Therefore always buy of a person personally known to you or one who has credentials from a firm of well-known and established reputation. Strangers who come around and show extraordinary specimens and tell big stories, such as you never saw or heard of before, should be given a wide berth. Look out for them.

A Dunellen lady who has been a sufferer for some time from an illness that called for the treatment of the most experienced physicians, started for New York last Tuesday morning by the C. R.R. While crossing on the boat she was seized with a nervous prostration that so affected her it was found impossible for her to land and she was brought back to the Communipaw side. Here the woman in charge of the ladies' waiting room was most earnest in her efforts for the welfare of the suffering one, and the attention of two sisters of charity also was given. The patient was made most comfortable in every way and with such treatment recovered sufficiently to be removed to her home under the care of her brother within a few hours afterward. Although money was offered, the employees of the road refused to be recompensed in anyway for their attention.

[illegible] the Doors!

Oh for an Opera House!

Who will be President when "Dunnie" goes out again?

J. Jay Villiers at the Park avenue Baptist Church, Feb. 5th.

In another column an indignant lady has a few words to say against the [illegible] men.

That's right; finish what you have to say while you stand with the front door wide open.

Wednesday of last week was one of the January thaw kind and wet feet were in the majority.

A fashionable lady says "nothing is so much in the way at an evening party as one's husband."

The new year is less than a month old, and already a thousand lives have been lost by accident.

The United States mail carried nearly $84,000,000 in money orders last year. Did you get any of it?

The liquor licenses of all Plainfield saloon and hotel proprietors, expire on Thursday of next week.

The winter is more than half gone, and it will soon be time to hear of the failure of the Delaware peach crop.

A furnished house of 11 rooms with all improvements, and also one of 12 rooms, are advertised by us to-day.

We envy the Elizabeth Herald, which can say: "We now have a grand opportunity of having a new Opera House.—Let her whoop!"

On Monday evening, February 5th, that unequalled Humorist, J. Jay Villiers, will give an entertainment at the Park avenue Baptist church.

The penalty for maliciously smashing a window of the New Brunswick Times office was made one year in State Prison by Judge Cogswell last Wednesday morning.

The advice of the Elizabeth Herald: "We advise our friends not to tempt the young man to drink who has sworn off, for, in nine cases out of ten, he acquiesces and your dime is gone."

The cigarette smoker is trying to decide whether to get in on the ground floor of reform and catch a few kisses, or hold on to his vile concoction of tobacco and opium and foreign carcases.

Astronomers say that the nights, during the middle and latter part of this month, will be unusually brilliant with silvery light, on cloudless nights, owing to conjunctions with the planets.

That veteran horse dealer, John W. Morris, in this issue announces his usual offering of a large assortment of all kinds and grades of horses for all work as well as the more fancy drivers. Read the list.

To cure ear-ache, an exchange says: Take a pinch of black pepper, put it on a piece of cotton batting dipped in sweet oil, and place in the ear, tie a bandage around the head, and it will give almost instant relief.

If a cow's hind feet are tied together, she cannot kick. It will make the cow some trouble for a time, but the mind of the milker will be secure and undisturbed. After a few weeks a slight cord on each leg will be enough.

After many months of faithful service in bringing to this city innumerable plum puddings, mince pies &c., to please the palates of our community, one of the span of horses owned by Mr. T. H. Taylor, died recently.

A foolish correspondent asks us why women do not whistle. We answer, because they can't. They might as well attempt to throw stones. However, women often whistle, when they ask for a bonnet and do not get it.—Ramble.

The Y. M. C. A. Lecture of last week, was largely attended by an appreciative audience. The next entertainment of the course will consist of readings by the admired elocutionist, Charles Roberts, Jr., on the evening of February 22d.

From the activity at Edsall's Dry and Fancy goods establishment, and the many who are continually visiting them, we conclude that they are enjoying a brisk business, and are well rewarded for the many inducements they hold out to the public.

The Ball given at St. Mary's Hall during Thursday evening of last week—in honor of the ladies of the parish who had so greatly assisted in the success of the late Fair for the benefit of the church—was, as it deserved to be, a grand affair in every particular.

The Fifth Matinee of the series being given by Theo. Thomas' Orchestra and selected soloists, will take place at Steinway Hall, N. Y., Thursday afternoon of next week, at two o'clock. These popular affairs have gained universal commendation, and are especially enjoyable.

An exchange says an occasional meal of corn burnt on the cob until each kernel is black, or as long as it can be burned and have the corn retain its shape, is greedily eaten by the fowls, and results in a general improvement of their health, and a greater average number of eggs are procured.

The ball of Warren Hose Co. No. 3 to be given on the first of next month is sure to be one of the best this city has experienced in a long time. The arrangements are in the hands of those in every way qualified to furnish all the necessary features that will insure thorough enjoyment for everybody.

By some error, such as will happen in the most unfortunate places, an injustice was last week done a High School scholar by the ommission of his name from the Roll of Honor as published by us. In the list of those so honored in the Junior Class, the name of Percy H. Stewart should have been inserted in place of William Hubbard.

A Grand Complimentary Benefit is to be given at VanDeventer Hall, Tuesday evening, February 6th, by the "Home Dramatic Club," to Warren Eng. Co. No. 3. Upon this occasion will be presented the highly romantic, two-act melodrama, "Michael Earle, or the Maniac Lover." The performance concluding with the laughable farce, "Domestic Troubles."

Plainfield boys can take warning from an incident like the following:—Philip Matthews, aged twenty-two, who was hung at Belleville, Ill., the other day for killing a young girl who refused to marry him, said, in his autobiography, that if he had "followed his mother's teaching he would have grown up a good man and an ornament to society, instead of meeting death at the end of a rope."

The report of Mr. Samuel Manning, Treasurer of the N. J. State Agricultural Society, shows the Association, to be in an exceedingly healthy state considering the drawbacks experienced at the last two fairs. The total receipts of the held fair were $16,473 42. The disbursements were—expenses, including salaries of the employees, $4,990 41; premium account, $6,532 69; a total of $11,[illegible].

The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the coinage of a five cent nickel piece of a new design, which is considered as being more in compliance with the law as regards weight and inscriptions than the present five cent nickle piece. The new coin weighs twenty-one milligrams [illegible] more than the present coin, and is a little larger and thinner than the one now in circulation. On the face of the new coin is a female head surmounted with a fillet upon which is inscribed the word "Liberty," the whole being surrounded by thirteen stars. The reverse side contains a wreath surrounding a Roman numeral representing the denomination of the coin.

There is promised a new time table on the C. R. R. next Monday.

Wednesday was quite cold, but the same day one year ago was much colder.

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A., will be held Thursday evening of next week.

Why doesn't some one provide from their compliments a sum sufficient to put the Town Clock in striking order?

"A little nonsense now and then, is relished by the best of men." Go and hear J. Jay Villiers at the Park avenue Baptist church, Feb. 5th.

It has been ascertained at a Connecticut creamery that it takes ten quarts of milk to make an inch of cream, and an inch of cream makes a pound of butter.

Our subscribers will in a few days begin to receive bills for past due subscriptions. Will they kindly notice the same at their earliest convenience and greatly oblige us?

At 41 West Front street, Mr. Alex. Titsworth is offering a full line of velvet ear-tabs, blue flannel shirts, an extra quality of Cardigan jackets, and other articles to keep you warm.

Even the organ of the temperance party, the Central Times, this week has a word to say against the raising of the License Fee to saloons and hotels. And as usual our contemporary is sound in its argument.

There was a false alarm of fire, Tuesday afternoon last, and as usual no one knows why the bell was rung, and no effort seems likely to be made having in view the discovery of who or what occasioned the useless expense to the department that was thus incurred.

Rumors are prevalent of a concert of vocal and instrumental music that is to be given at Van Deventer Hall, during Monday evening, Feb. 5th. Miss Dewey, Messrs Brown and Runyon, and other local artists are to take part, and Senor Gurnsee of New York is to be the violinist. In our next issue we hope to give the entire programme, trusting, however, that the date will be changed so that the above and Villiers' lecture of the same evening will not divide the public's patronage.

The Y. M. C. A. Reception.

On Tuesday evening, next, the third informal reception will be tendered the young men by the Ladies' Auxiliary. This reception will be strictly informal and for Young Men. There will be a short and varied programme, and the work of the Association will also be presented. All members of the Auxiliary are expected to be present. Will the young men remember the date? It is free to all young men and for them. A committee of young ladies and gentlemen will be in attendance to welcome all who may attend.

Enforcing An Ordinance.

The Jersey City authorities last Friday determined to enforce the ordinance requiring the removal of snow and ice from the walks, and believing that those who consider themselves the better class of citizens should set the example of obeying the laws to their neighbors, a number of arrests were ordered, including such men as ex-Aldermen H. N. and L. E. Wood, Alderman James F. Gannon, F. H. Spengemann, Frank Stevens, and a number of others. Some of them were fined, but others were relieved by the fact that they were only in charge of the property complained of as agents. A policeman who was arrested was discharged because the property was owned by his mother, and the lady was cited to appear in his place.

Personals.

Mr. John W. Murray, Jr., we congratulate you. "Its nice to be a father!"

Mrs. L. Adams leaves Plainfield the first of next week for a short visit with friends in Toledo, Ohio.

Mr. Paul Symons, formerly a merchant of this city and now connected with the Edison Electric Light Co., has removed with his family to Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bofield, for so many years residents of Plainfield, lost their youngest child by death at Perth Amboy, during Saturday last.

The congratulations of a host of friends are extended Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunn. A full explanation may be found among the marriage notices.

Mr. Geo. W. Rockfellow having purchased the grocery of Mr. Dayton of Netherwood, will conduct such business at that suburb hereafter. He will also act as postmaster.

Mr. Frank Bonnell, a son of the late John P. Bonnell, of Green Village, died on Tuesday of last week in New Orleans, of typhoid pneumonia. He was aged 21 years and 1 month.

Miss Mamie Kunkel, a young American prima donna of Baltimore, Md., will shortly appear in public in this city for the benefit of St. Joseph's R. C. church, of North Plainfield.

Mr. A. B. Reynell has recently purchased for $6,000 the residence just erected by Mr. A. J. Winckler, at the corner of Linden and Washington Avenues, North Plainfield.

Mr. John Hall, a former resident of this city, and now of Williamsport, Pa., is enjoying a trip through the far West. He was last heard of at Denver, Col., visiting Mr. F. E. Busby, an old Plainfielder.

Miss Juliet Corson, Superintendent of the New York School of Cookery, is to be in Plainfield next week and commence on Thursday her course of six lessons in cooking at the Y. M. C. Hall, assisted by Mrs. T. H. Taylor of this city.

Mr. Lawrence O'Neill this week purchased of the Plainfield Building Loan & Savings Institution the property included in No's 34, 36 & 38 Park avenue, opposite the Chautauqua Building. The price paid was $12,000—a figure far below the worth of the property.

It was our pleasure to meet our esteemed friend and former Union County resident, Capt. Wm. H. Gill, at Trenton last Monday evening. The Captain is now domiciled at the U. S. Arsenal, near Philadelphia, where he will at all times be glad to see his friends, who are legion.

The Rev. H. DuBergh, recently pastor of St. Mary's parish of this city, has been compelled by reason of his ill health to resign his charge in this country and take up his residence at St. Mary's Abbey, Leicestershire, England. He will be succeeded in Plainfield by the Rev. Father Smith, of Newark.

The Cornell Era says that Mr. P. Williams Runyon, of this city, who is in this year's graduating class of that college, "owing to a number of causes, such as imagination, anxiety and overwork on his Woodford, is too ill to return to the University at present. He prefers the seclusion which New Jersey grants, but will doubtless astonish his friends by the oration he will deliver on the sixth of March."

Charles R. A. McGeachy, formerly the editor of the Dunellen Back, and since manager of the Madison Square "Professor" company, now playing an engagement at the Academy of Minneapolis, Minn., has, as shown by the records of the clerk of the court, taken out a marriage license for himself and Cora Macy, the [illegible] of the company. Subsequently the [illegible] register was found to bear the description of Mr. [illegible] and wife. The company [illegible] of the [illegible] until [illegible]. The happy couple were quietly married the day before. Mrs. McGeachy appeared in her part of the matinee that afternoon. Mr. McGeachy [illegible].

The Elizabethport Row.

The trial of Richard J. Dunn and Wm. E. Forbes, of New York, for the killing of Thos. McKeon, in a riot last September on the [illegible] at Elizabethport, after the Ginger Hills Association's [illegible], commenced Tuesday morning. The defense challenged the whole array of jurors because Sheriff Fenwick failed to summon the panel himself, and drew the panel after his failure to do so. Attorney General Stockton, for the prosecution, admitted that the question affected the constitutional rights of the defendants, and Judge Van Syckle put the trial off for the term, pending a decision in the Supreme Court. The defendants then tried to waive the question, but were not allowed to do so.

New Officers of the Agricultural Society.

The New Jersey Agricultural Society has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Amos Clark, Jr., Elizabeth; Vice Presidents, N. H. Halstead, Newark; Phineas Jones, Newark; N. S. Rue, Fillmore; John S. Irick, Vincentown; E. G. Brown, Elizabeth. Directors—N. S. Rue, William A. Newell, Wm. M. Force, John S. Irick, Isaac S. Buckalew, Dr. Wm. A. Conover, N. N. Halstead, Robert Thatcher, Amos Clark, Jr., Phineas Jones, E. G. Brown, P. T. Quinn, T. T. Kinney, M. A. Wilkinson, Henry C. Kelsey, John Boylan, Wm. F. Kidder, A. D. Newell, E. Dudley, Wm. McKinley, Joseph Colyer, George A. Halsey, John I. Hedly, Wm. S. Taylor, John I. Bishop, A. V. Sargeant, M. H. Allen, Ferdinand Blancke, Mason C. Weld, E. B. Gaddis. Corresponding Secretary, P. T. Quinn, Newark; Recording Secretary, Wm. M. Force, Newark; Treasurer, Samuel Manning, Plainfield. Executive Committee—E. G. Brown, E. A. Wilkinson, Phineas Jones, Joseph Colyer, R. H. Allen.

Executive Session.

In the Executive Session of the Senate, Tuesday morning last the following nominations were read and referred:

For Trustees of the Normal School—First district, Morris H. Stratton, of Salem; Second district, J. Bingham Woodward, of Burlington; Third district, Gilbert Combs, of Monmouth; Fourth district, Rynier H. Veghte, of Somerset; Fifth district, Wm. H. Gillen, of Passaic; Sixth district, Wm. A. Whitehead, of Essex; Seventh district, Chas. E. Imbrie, of Hudson.

For Visitors to the Agricultural College—Second district, Wm. Parry, of Burlington; Fourth district, John De Mott, of Somerset; Fifth district, Cornelius A. Wortendyke, of Bergen; Sixth district, Wm. M. Force, of Essex.

For Managers of Asylum at Morristown—Beach Vanderpool, of Essex; Garret Ackerson, Jr., of Bergen; Edward T. Bell, of Passaic, vice John R. Reed, deceased, (term to expire in 1884); Thos. E. Varrick, of Hudson, vice Joseph D. Bedle, resigned, (term to expire in 1886).

Affecting Plainfield.

The following is a copy of a law introduced into the House of Assembly by Mr. Clarke, of Hudson, the provisions of which apply to Plainfield:

An Act relative to the granting of licenses for the sale of liquor, etc., [illegible] cities of the third class of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cities of this state of the third class, in whose boards of councilmen or boards of aldermen, shall be vested the power to grant licenses for the sale of liquor, no such license shall be granted by any of said boards of councilmen or boards of aldermen in said cities, except upon the recommendation in writing of the party making application therefor by at least five freeholders residing and owning real estate in the [illegible] wherein such application is made, who shall not have recommended for license any other person, [illegible]

2. And be it enacted, That no license for the sale of liquor shall be granted as aforesaid, in any of the third class cities of this state, except upon the filing by the party making application therefor, in the office of the clerk of the municipality where such application is made, a bond, duly approved by said clerk, with two good and sufficient sureties, [illegible] in the sum of five hundred dollars, [illegible]

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts, general or special, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Who is to Blame?

After the late freshet, that did so much damage at Coddington's Mills and beyond, the Township Committee of North Plainfield awarded the contract for repairing the roadway to Messrs. Wilson & Simpson, and notified Mr. P. M. French to rebuild his dam at "the notch," the breaking of which had been the cause of the greatest damage. The contractors thereupon proceeded with their work of blasting and filling-in, and recently succeeded in completing the reconstruction of the road in a very thorough manner, but Mr. French still neglected to do more towards the repair of his property than the erection of a temporary dam of heavy timber. All this might have been sufficient had not the rains of last week so swelled the streams that the dam again burst and the results were another washing-out of the road, the undoing of all that had been done in the way of repair, and the total ruin of about 150 tons of ice at Coddington's Houses where it lay before being stored. The work already done by Messrs Wilson & Simpson must of course be paid for by the Township Committee and also done over again; so, too, must the Coddington Brothers be reimbursed for their loss. The question now is, how far will Mr. French be held responsible for the damage, if, indeed, the claim that he is liable at all is sustained.

Fire!

At about 8 o'clock of Saturday evening, telephonic messages were sent to all the houses of the Fire Department to the effect that the Park House was burning. No. 2 Engine Co., at once started with its steamer without waiting for the horses that seemed necessary on account of the snow and slush that filled the streets waist-deep. Upon arriving at the fire—which was found to be the burning of a small barn on Arlington avenue, just back of the residence of Mrs. Charles Clifton—no time was lost in getting at work, and to the promptness of this company is due the credit of saving an adjoining building that had caught but was speedily extinguished. Gazelle Eng. Co., and Zephyr H. & L. Co., waited for horses and arrived too late to be of much assistance, as did also Warren No. 3, which was pulled all the way from its house by hand.

Messrs. Jas. W. Jackson, J. B. Miller and J. U. Fraley very generously treated the firemen after their arduous labors, for all of which the thanks of the latter were enthusiastically given. The extent of the damage was the entire destruction of the barn, the burning of a hole in the roof of the frame structure adjoining, and the slight injuries sustained by Mr. Ira E. Seay and steamer No. 2, caused by a too sudden contact with a Front street hitching post when passing down off the curb at the corner of Somerset street. Five hundred dollars and a yard of plaster, will cover the entire damage.

Raritan Hose Co. No. 4 of New Brunswick, N. J., has been "salvationed" by the Salvation Army. It has been the custom of this Co. to give an Annual Ball, and tickets were issued and sold for their 10th Annual to be given Feb. [illegible], since the tickets were issued, a change has come over a majority of the members, through the [illegible] of the Salvation Army [illegible] [illegible] the members of the Hose Co. decided to call in all tickets and refund their amount [illegible].

New Jersey Historical Society.

The annual meeting of the New Jersey Historical Society was held in the Supreme Court room at Trenton, January 17th. [illegible] McPherson was among others as a [illegible]. The Committee on Colonial Documents reported that two additional volumes of the New Jersey archives had been published by the State during the year, and that it would take about $20,000 to complete the publication of the series so as to bring the record down to the Revolutionary War. The principal feature of the session was the reading of a paper by E. Wayne Parker on "Money and Taxes in Early New Jersey." Gov. Cleveland and Hamilton Fish, of New York, were made corresponding and honorary members respectively. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. Samuel W. Hamill; Vice Presidents, John T. Nixon, John Clement, Dr. Samuel H. Pennington; Corresponding Secretary, William Nelson; Treasurer and Librarian, Frederick W. Ricord.

The State Experiment Station.

The annual meeting of the Managers of the State Agricultural Experiment Station, which was created by the Legislature several years ago, for the dissemination of scientific information among farmers, was held in Jersey City Tuesday. The election of officers was the chief business to transact. The following were chosen to serve during the ensuing year: President, Thomas H. Dudley, of Camden; Vice President, William S. Taylor, of Burlington; Secretary, Jos. DeWitt, of New Brunswick; Treasurer, James Neilson, of New Brunswick. The term of Dr. Cook, the Director of the Station, holds over.

A committee consisting of Thomas H. Dudley, Dr. Cook, Mr. Neilson and Dominie Robinson, of Paterson, was appointed to go before the State Board of Agriculture and call its attention to the importance of memorializing the Legislature with regard to furnishing means to carry on field experiments more effectively on the farm belonging to the State Agricultural College, and on various soils in other parts of the State. The Board then adjourned.

Alas, Too True!

It seems probable we may be called upon some day to speak of Plainfield young people after the following manner of the Flemington Democrat:

"It is not over much to the credit of Flemington to say that there is a deplorable lack of interest manifested by her young people, both male and female, in matters of literary character. They do not seem at all anxious to acquire useful knowledge or cultivate their minds with that which is ennobling and enduring. So patent is this fact that it has come to be a by-word when a course of instructive lectures is sought to be undertaken, 'Oh, there's no use; the people of Flemington don't care anything about lectures.' At the lecture of Dr. DeHass in the M. E. church last Tuesday night, there was a very conspicuous absence of young men and women. This was greatly regretted. It is a reproach upon the tastes and learning of our young people. Let there be a speedy reform in this thing. Do not let it be said that it takes fifteen burnt-cork comedians, a brass band and an elephant with two trunks to attract the attention of Flemington's young people."

The Cranberry Growers.

The annual meeting of New Jersey Cranberry Growers' Association was held at the State House Tuesday. Sixteen members were present. The President, Dr. J. H. Brakely, of Bordentown, was in the chair, and in the absence of Mr. A. J. Rider, Mr. E. W. Crane, of Caldwell, acted as Secretary. The usual reports were read and adopted, after which an election of officers was held, resulting as follows: President, Dr. J. H. Brakely, of Bordentown; First Vice President, Theodore Budd, of Pemberton; Second Vice President, Dr. E. S. Merriman, of Lakewood; Secretary and Treasurer, A. J. Rider, of Trenton; Corresponding Secretary, Isaac Alger, of Attleboro, Mass.; Statistician, N. R. French, of Elizabeth; Representative in State Board of Agriculture, E. W. Crane, of Caldwell; Executive Committee, Dr. J. H. Brakely, A. J. Rider, E. W. Crane and N. R. French; Corresponding County Secretaries, Atlantic, W. T. Abbott, of May's Landing; Burlington, Theodore Budd, of Pemberton; Camden, Russell Austin, of Camden City; Cumberland, Isaac Manthos, of Vineland; Gloucester, M. M. Chew, of Winslow; Monmouth, S. B. Ovisit, of Farmingdale; Middlesex, F. L. Bochale, of Jamesburg; Ocean, C. L. Holman, of Toms River.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society will be held at the Mansion House, Saturday evening, Jan. 27th next.

A return match at pigeons was shot off at Campbell's Club House, near this city, on Wednesday last, between Dan. Terry and Lebbeus Ayres. Terry won the match, killing 10 out of 19 birds to his opponent's 8. After the match a sweep-stakes was shot between six well-known amateur shots, resulting in a tie between Herbert Chapman and Thos. Acken, after each had killed six straight birds at 21 yards rise. They then divided first money. S. G. Smith won second money.

The first installment of three hundred live quail, purchased by the "New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society" to be set free for stocking purposes in certain counties of the State next Spring, were received by members in this city on Wednesday last. The birds arrived in good condition and were at once placed in the comfortable quarters prepared for them, to be there kept until the proper time arrives for turning them loose. These birds came from the Indian Territory, and are strong and healthy.

Dr. Carver, who since his return from Europe last October has been keeping very quiet, recently announced his intention of accepting the Bogardus challenge, to shoot at 100 pigeons, thirty yards rise, for any sum from $1 to $10,000. When making the announcement Carver was on his way to New Orleans, where he was the early part of last week. The Times-Democrat of Thursday says that Dr. Carver left that city on Wednesday evening for New York. Should the match take place one of the closest contests ever witnessed should be the result. Both claim to be the champions, and if Carver can shoot up to the form he showed in England last winter Bogardus will have to do better than he did in his last matches to win.

The Russian police have made the very sensible order that "calls" for popular performers shall not be extended beyond three reappearances.

The death is announced of Sir Henry Meux, head partner in one of the chief London breweries. He has for some thirty years been a lunatic, and it is probable that his personal estate will prove of enormous value, as the business has been actively carried on.

Col. John B. Bachelder, writing to the Philadelphia Times regarding the death of General Farnsworth at Gettysburg, says that on the third day of the battle Farnsworth was [illegible] [illegible] he shot himself through the heart.

MISCELLANY.

[illegible] Living.

Plainfield Union Cash Meat Market, N. E. Randolph, Manager. For the information of such buyers who have an eye to economy, we would say that [illegible] will go almost as far in this market as it will anywhere in the United States. As specimen quotations: You can buy Trenton bolognas, ordinary size, at 14 cents; the small sizes, which are not from Jersey [illegible], at 15 cents. They are cured in the old-fashioned country style, and are very fine. Trenton sausage, home, 14 cents, in skins, 14 cents. Round steak, home Trenton slaughtered cattle, 15 cents. Fresh Beef Kidneys for Curing, 12½ cents.

We have a large stock of Butter and Cheese, which seems to be a part of every well-[illegible]. Butter has declined in New York dairy 2 cts. per lb. the last 30 days, and will probably go still lower.—The decline is mostly on Summer and early Fall grades. We have reduced our prices accordingly, and now sell the Very Finest Fresh Made New York Dairy at 32 cts. Finest Western Creamery, 35 cts. and a good, sound sweet article at 25 cts. Families supplied by the tub at still lower prices. We have 100 lb. pails of the famous Elgin Creamery, which costs so high that we are ashamed to quote it, but we will sell it at 40 cents.

Women children in Europe after years of marriage often have families in Australia.

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

When so-called silk burns well there's cotton in it. Real silk smoulders into an ash.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

An association of gentlemen has been formed in Chicago, who refuse to pay fare if compelled to stand.

The Pennsylvania railroad is about to establish hospital cars at intervals on the line for maimed employees pending removal.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 23 West Front Street.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

At the instance of the Berlin Anti-Cruelty Society, all public performances of tamers of lions and other dangerous animals will be henceforth prohibited.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Overheard in the cloak room: "Did she marry well?" "Yes, indeed. He's worth over a million and drinks so hard that he never can go into society, so she's not bothered with him."

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

The Emperor's gift of $125,000 to his inundated people is worthy of his rank and it may be hoped will make an impression on Queen Victoria, whose benefactions are usually quite unworthy of her purse and position.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

In the lowest part of the grounds of Gambetta's villa was a rustic edifice, standing on a platform of stone and cement. It is close to a ditch, and looks on a railroad embankment rising high above it. The soil around is stiff and holds water. This was his study.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

Last month there died in a private lunatic asylum at Bonn Peter Grass, a man of humble origin, self-made and self-taught as a painter on glass. He was very successful and many of his technicalities died with him. A number of the windows in Cologne Cathedral and in various famous churches were by him.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

St. Louis society is agitated by the fact that a beau got into a carriage with a belle to escort her home from a ball, at which time his face was smooth and fair, but when he emerged his eye was blackened, as though by a blow from a fist, and the girl walked up the steps of her home alone.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties can now purchase elegant pattern of wall paper of H. S. Barnes, 6 W. Front street, at greatly reduced prices. tf

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 23 West Front Street, at the New York prices. m17tf

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Demena's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Concord Grape Vines.—Fine, vigorous Vines, two, three and four years' old, for sale by the dozen or thousand at the lowest prices. These Vines are raised on the famous Mt. Prospect Vineyards, at Passaic, New Jersey, where the well-known Port grape Wine is produced that is so highly esteemed at Dresden and Berlin, and other European cities to which it is shipped, and that is so highly esteemed by physicians everywhere. Address, Alfred Speer, Passaic, N. J.

Always Reliable.—Dr. [illegible] Syrup of Liverwort, Tar and Canchalagua, [illegible]

The Court of Errors and Appeals has just decided a very important point with reference to stolen bonds. Between 1873 and 1875 the Treasurer of Jersey City, Alexander Hamilton, stole $70,000 worth of city bonds, fled to Mexico and disposed of the stolen property. Innocent purchasers presented these bonds for payment, which was refused on the ground that being stolen chattels they could be reclaimed whenever found. But the Court holds that the bonds are not like merchandise, and that their negotiability alters the law with respect to them so as to protect the bondholders (innocent purchasers) against the wrong-doing of the city's servant.

Read this Letter.—E. C. Chapin, 26 John st., New York, [illegible]

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

[illegible]

WESTFIELD ADVERTISEMENTS.

C. E. SMITH, Dealer in Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers! FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY. [illegible]

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD. Established in the interest of the people. Opposite, FANWOOD STATION. Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also Standard Fertilizers, [illegible]

BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns. [illegible]

E. M. JOHNSTON, P. O. Box 46. Scotch Plains, N.J.

C. E. AGUIRRE, SURGEON DENTIST. Office at Gale's Pharmacy. Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty. All work guaranteed to be First Class, and to give entire satisfaction.

JOHN KANE, WESTFIELD, N. J. Driven and Drilled Wells. Repairing Promptly Attended To. Unexceptionable references given if desired.

TURF EXCHANGE ALE and BEER VAULTS, Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J. JOHN L. ROULSTON, Proprietor. Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand. Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all times. Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar-cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java, Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,

Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Great Reduction in Muslins!

Fruit of the Loom,	9½ cts.
Wamsutta,	11½ "
Fruit of Loom, 5-4	15 "
Utica, 9-4	28 "

Other makes at corresponding low prices.

Now is the time to buy Muslins.

Ladies say our Hamburgs are the best for the prices they have seen.

REMEMBER!

Our popular make of Kid Glove. The best in the market.

Mosquetaire, Foster Lace, Mignon and Alexander. Carpets, Oil Cloths and Window Shades, at

S. H. WHITNEY'S,

(Opposite Post-office.)

Japanese Salve!

For Chapped Hands and Lips, Frosted Feet and all Skin Diseases.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT.

A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY

Vail Bros., Philadelphia.

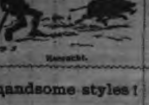
Mrs. John Burke

[illegible]

PECK'S CORNER.

At Peck's.

HAMBURG EMBROIDERIES!



Choice and handsome styles! Fine work and material. Large assortment and low in price. If there are any [there may be some] who have not examined Peck's Embroideries do so.

Curtiss & Griffen.

LEVER
Hay and Stalk Cutter,
The Best in the Market.

Clinton Shellers,
AND THE
"A.B.C," Right-hand
WOOD FRAME
Sheller & Separator.

ROEBUCK WEATHER STRIPS.

Lanterns, Street Lamps, Dash Lamps.

Remember, at our Store you BUY GOODS 5 Per Ct. Cheaper For Cash than for Credit.

No. 13 East Front street, - Plainfield, New Jersey.

Bachman Bro's Large Sale of Hosiery!

HAVING BOUGHT OUT ALL THE SAMPLES OF LADIES HOSE COMPRISING ALL KINDS, TO THE AMOUNT OF 138 DOZEN, FROM ONE OF THE LARGEST HOSIERY FACTORIES IN PHILADELPHIA, WE ASK THE PUBLIC TO COME AND SEE THEM, AND JUDGE FOR THEMSELVES. THESE GOODS ARE WORTH FROM 30 TO 40 CENTS PER PAIR, AND WE CAN OFFER THEM FOR 21 CENTS.

Wamsutta Muslin, - - 11½ Cts. | Anchor Dwight, - - 9½ Cts.

BACHMAN BROTHERS,

27 West Front street, - - - - - - - Plainfield, New Jersey.

'Ain't Half Told?

To reduce the stock before we take our annual inventory (February first) we have marked the following goods to which we invite our customer's attention.

Fruit of the Loom 4-4 Muslin,	9½ Cents.
Lonsdale, 4-4 Muslin,	9½ "
Dwight Anchor, 4-4 Muslin,	10 "
Wamsutta, 4-4 Muslin,	12 "
Utica, (Nonpareil)	12½ "
Utica, extra heavy,	11 "
Fruit of the Loom, 5-4 Pillow casing,	17 "
" " " 6-4 "	20 "
Utica, (Sheeting) 9-4 and New York Mill,	29 "

Other brands of Sheeting positively at New York cost. Also 9-4 Twilled Sheeting 33 cents. Table Linens, Napkins, Towels, Doylies, Tidies in immense quantities and varieties. Worsted in double, single and split, all colors, 9 cents per ounce. Our Millinery stock we have reduced 50 per cent to close. 100 Dolmans, Cloaks, Havelocks, at half former prices.

At D. Boehm & Bro., 7 West Front street.

JUST IN STOCK!

FALL Hats

FALL Hats

LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S,

Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.

Horse Sheets and Lap Robes,

Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel lined, all grades and prices.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

HIS PA GOES A SKATING.

"What is that stuff on your shirt bosom, that looks like soap grease?" said the groceryman to the bad boy, as he came into the grocery the morning after Christmas.

The boy looked at his shirt front, put his fingers on the stuff and smelled of his fingers, and then said, "Oh, that is nothing but a little of the turkey dressing and gravy. You see, after pa and I got back from the roller skating rink yesterday, pa was all broke up and he couldn't carve the turkey, and I had to do it, and pa sat in a stuffed chair with his head tied up, and a pillow acrost his legs, and he kept complaining that I didn't do it right. Got darn a turkey anyway. I should think they would make a turkey flat on the back, so he would lay on a greasy platter without skating all around the table. It looks easy to see pa carve a turkey, but when I speared into the bosom of that turkey, and began to saw on it, the turkey rolled around as though it was on casters, and it was all I could do to keep it out of ma's lap. But I rassled with it till I got enough white meat for pa and ma and dark meat enough for me, and I dug out the dressing, but most of it flew into my shirt bosom, cause the string that tied up the place where the dressing was concealed about the person of the turkey, broke prematurely, and one oyster hit pa in the eye, and he said I was as awkward as a cross-eyed girl trying to kiss a man with a hair lip. If I ever get at the head of a family I shall carve turkeys with a corn sheller."

"But what broke your pa up at the roller skating rink?" asked the groceryman.

"Oh, everything broke him up. He's split up so his bottoms the top of his pants to his collar button, like a bicycle rider. Well, he had no business to have told me and my chum that he used to be the best skater in North America when he was a boy. He said he skated once from Albany to New York in an hour and eighty minutes. Me and my chum thought if pa was such a terror on skates we would get him to put on a pair of roller skates and enter him as the 'great unknown,' and clean out the whole gang. We told pa he must remember that roller skates were different from ice skates, and that maybe he couldn't skate on them, but he said it didn't make any difference what they were so long as they were skates, and he would just paralyze the whole crowd. So we got a pair of big roller skates for him, and while we were strapping them on, pa he looked at the skaters glide around on the smooth waxed floor just as though they were greased. Pa looked at the skates on his feet, after they were fastened, sort of forlorn like, the way a horse thief does when they put shackles on his legs, and I told him if he was afraid he couldn't skate with them we would take them off, but he said he would beat anybody that was there or bust a suspender. Then we straightened pa up, and pointed him towards the middle of the room, and he said 'leggo,' and we just give him a little push to start him, and he began to go. Well, by gosh, you'd a dide to have seen pa try to stop. You see, you can't stick in your heels and stop, like you can on ice skates, and pa soon found that out, and he began to turn sideways, and then he threw his arms and walked on his heels, and he lost his hat, and his eyes began to stick out, cause he was going right towards an iron post.

One arm caught the post and circled around it a few times, and then he let go and began to fall, and, sir, he kept falling all across the room, and everybody got out of the way except a girl, and pa grabbed her by the polonaise, like a drowning man grabs at straws, though there wasn't any straws in her polonaise as I know of, but pa just pulled her along as though she was done up in a shawl strap, and his feet went out from under him and he struck on his shoulders and kept a going, with the girl dragging along like a bundle of clothes. If pa had another pair of roller skates on his shoulders and castors on his ears, he couldn't have slid along any better. Pa is a short, big man, and he was rolling along on his back, he looked like a sofa with castors on being pushed across a room by a girl.

"Finally pa came to the wall and had to stop, and the girl fell right across him with her roller skates in his neck, and she called him an old brute, and told him if he didn't let go of her polonaise she would murder him. Just then my chum and me got there and we amputated pa from the girl, and lifted him up, and I told him for heaven's sake to let us take off the skates, 'cause he couldn't skate any more than a cow, and pa was mad and said for us to let him alone, and he could skate all right, and we let him go and he struck out again. Well, sir, I was ashamed. An old man like pa ought to know better than to try to be a boy. This last time pa said he was going to spread himself, and if I am any judge of a big spread, he did spread himself. Somehow, the skates got turned around side-ways on his feet, and his feet got to going in different directions, and pa's feet were getting so far apart that I was afraid I would have two pa's, half the size, with one leg apiece. I tried to get him to take up a collection of his legs, and get them both in the same ward, but his arms flew around and one hit me on the nose, and I thought if he wanted to strike the best friend he had, he could run his old legs himself. When he began to separate I could hear the bones crack, but maybe it was his pants, but anyway he came down on the floor like one of those fellows in a circus who sprawls himself, and he kept going, and finally he surrounded an iron post with his legs, and stopped and he looked pale, and the proprietor of the rink told pa if he wanted to give a flying trapeze performance he would have to go to the gymnasium, and he couldn't skate on his shoulders any more, cause other skaters were afraid of him.

Then pa said he would kick the liver out of the proprietor of the rink, and he got up and steadied himself, and then he tried to kick the man, but both heels went up to once, and pa turned a back summersault and struck right on his vest front. I guess it knocked the breath out of him, for he didn't speak for a few minutes, and then he wanted to go home, and we put him in a street car, and he laid down on the hay and rode home. Oh, the work we had to get pa's clothes off. He had a ache in his back, and everywhere, and ma was away to one of the neighbors to look at the presents, and I had to put liniment on pa, and I made a mistake and got a bottle of furniture polish and put it on pa and rubbed it in, and when ma came home pa smelled like a coffin at a charity funeral, and ma said there was no way of getting that varnish off of pa till it wore off. Pa's ye holidays are a [illegible] ance, anyway. He will have to stay in the house all this week."

"You are pretty rough on the old man," said the groceryman, "after he has been so kind to you and given you nice presents."

"Nice presents? nothin'! All I got was a 'come to Jesus' Christmas card, with brindle fringe, from ma, and pa gave me a pair of his old suspenders, and a calendar with mottoes for every month, some quotations from scripture, such as 'honor thy father and mother,' and 'evil communications corrupt two in the bush,' and 'a bird in the hand beats two pair.' Such things don't help a boy to be good. What a boy wants is club skates, and seven-shot revolvers and such things. Well, I must go and help pa roll over in bed, and put on a porous plaster. Good-bye."—Peck's Sun.

THE CHECKER BOARD.

Up to three evenings ago such a thing as a checker board was never known in Mr. Grattan's house. He and his aged partner had managed to pass the long evenings very pleasantly, and we supposed they were happy enough until a friend from the East paid them a flying visit, and asserted over and over again that the game of checkers was not only all the rage there, but it served to quicken the perceptive faculties, enlarge the mind, and render the brain more active. After giving the subject due thought, Mr. Grattan walked down town and purchased a checker board, and when evening came he surprised his good wife by bringing it from the woodshed, and saying:

"Well, Martha, we'll have a game or two before we go to the social. I expect to beat you all to flinders, but you won't care."

"Of course not, and if I beat you, why you won't care," she replied.

They sat down, and he claimed the first move. She at once objected, but when he began to grow red in the face she yielded and he led off. At the fourth move she took a man, chuckling as she raked him in.

"I don't see anything to grin at," he sneered, as he moved a man backward.

"Here! you can't move that way!" she called out.

"I can't eh? Perhaps I never played checkers before you were born!"

She saw a chance to jump two more men, and gave the point, but as she moved he cried out:

"Put them men right back there! I've concluded not to move backward, even if Hoyle does permit it."

She gave in again, and when he jumped a man her nose grew red and she cried out:

"I didn't mean to move there. I was thinking of the social."

"Can't help the social, Martha, we must go by Hoyle."

In about two minutes she jumped two men, and went into the king row. "Crown him! Crown him! I've got a king."

"One would think from your childish actions that you never played a game before," he growled out.

"I know enough to beat you."

"You do, eh? some folks are awful smart."

"And some folks ain't!" she snapped as her king captured another man.

"What in thunder are you jumping that way for?"

"A king can jump anyway."

"No, he can't."

"Yes, he can."

"Don't talk back to me, Martha Grattan! I was playing checkers when you was in your cradle."

"I don't care! I can jump two men whichever way you move."

He looked down on the board and saw that such was the case, and roared out, "You've moved twice to my once!"

"I haven't."

"I'll take my oath you have! I can't play against any such blackleg practices."

"Who's a blackleg? You not only cheated, but you tried to lie out of it!"

Board and checkers fell between them. He could get on his hat quicker than she could find her bonnet, and that was the only reason why he got outside of the house first. A Park avenue grocer found him sitting on a basket of cranberries at the door as he was closing up for the night, and asked him if he was waiting for his wife to come along.

"Well, not exactly; I stopped here to feel in my pocket for the key of the barn. I shall sleep on the hay to-night and see if it won't cure this cold in my head."

THE STATE COMPTROLLER'S REPORT.

The annual report of the State Comptroller—for a copy of which we are indebted to that official—is a well prepared and very thorough exhibit of the financial affairs of the State, but is mainly a presentation in greater detail of the figures contained in the Governor's message, the re-publication of which is unnecessary.

Among the additional features is a summary of the abstracts of ratables showing a considerable increase in the taxable valuation of property in the State, as follows:

COUNTIES.	VALUATION OF 1881.	VALUATION OF 1882.	DECREASE.	INCREASE.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

The report describes at length the nature and operation of the State fund proper, and the tax on corporations, and furnishes in detail the expenditures for all purposes. The Comptroller estimates the receipts for the year, available for State expenditures, at $1,355,761 22, which with the balance in the treasury of $116,288 36, will make the amount available for the State fund $1,471,049 58. The expenses are estimated at $1,259,500, in which amount is included certain projected improvements which, it will be optional with the Legislature to authorize, and which, if not authorized, will leave the estimated expenditures at $1,118,000.

A girl in Bloomington, Ill., was offered $500 by her father if she would refuse to marry a man to whom she was engaged, and although the wedding party had assembled at church, she took the money and sent word to the preacher to dismiss the congregation.

A BORDER VENDETTA.

A FATHER'S DEATH AVENGED—A FEUD WHICH BEGUN WITH THE LATE WAR.

William C. Fletcher, passing through Little Rock en route to the Texas border, where he has been for more than ten years past engaged in the cattle business, gave a correspondent a history of a tragic event which occurred recently on the border of the Lone Star State, the particulars of which have never before been made public. At the beginning of the late civil war Abraham Hall lived in one of the thinly-settled border counties. He was 70 years old and reputed to be wealthy, owning a large tract of land, great herds of cattle, and a large but by no means costly residence. He had a family comprising one boy, aged 16, and four girls, ranging from 8 to 15 years. Though the State was in a tumult, the old man claimed to be neutral, and while his neighbors were buckling on the armor, Hall remained at home. The South called for every man capable of bearing arms. Texas was aroused. Hall was called on to volunteer, but declined. One night a party of twelve persons rode up to the house and repeated the demand for volunteers. The old man said he preferred death. He was taken from the house to a little ravine two hundred yards away, a rope put around his neck, the end of which was thrown over a limb of a tree, and Hall was once more asked to reconsider his refusal. The old man declined, whereupon he was drawn up and let down senseless. Reviving, again he refused, and again he was drawn up. This horrible scene was continued until the victim ceased to breathe, and the party rode away. The son of Hall had followed the party when they dragged his father from the house, and, hiding himself behind a clump of bushes, the lad was a silent and horrified spectator. He saw everything, and, more, he recognized every actor in that cruel affair. When the men galloped away he ran from his hiding place, cut down the body, and, flinging himself upon it, registered an oath to slay every man who had taken part in his father's death. Time passed; the war ended; young Hall managed his father's estate and prospered. His sisters aided him in the work. Almost their nearest neighbor was Frank Parker, who led the band that hung old Hall in 1865. Twenty miles east lived John and Thomas Mantooth, two members of the party. The remainder were scattered throughout the state.

One day in October, 1878, young Hall bade his sisters good-bye forever, saying "The time for vengeance has come," and without further explanation he mounted his horse and rode swiftly away. An hour later he drew rein in front of Frank Parker's dwelling. Parker was in the yard. "I come to ask you why you killed my father," Hall said to him. Parker gave the reason, adding that his conscience had troubled him ever since. Hall asked him if he was armed, and when the man drew a pistol Hall did likewise and fired. Parker dropped in the agonies of death. The next day Hall visited the Mantooths. John Mantooth he shot dead on the open prairie, after explaining the object of his visit. Thos. Mantooth met a similar fate on the public highway. Before Spring another of the twelve had been slain, Hall killing his man in a saloon brawl in San Antonio. By this time the remaining members of the band had become alarmed, and Hall suddenly paused in his career of bloodshed. For more than a year nothing was heard of him, and the surviving objects of his hatred were beginning to think he had perished, when he suddenly re-appeared. This time his victim was named Rose, one of the twelve, but he died only after a desperate struggle. The men met one afternoon in the Winter of 1880, in a little village on the Mexican border. A street fight ensued and Rose was killed, falling from his horse and lying on the street, while Hall, though wounded in three places, put spurs to his horse and dashed away. The friends of Rose pursued him into Texas. The pursuit was continued three days, friends of his former victims joining in the chase. Hall was at last run to cover in sight of his home, and near the sight where sixteen years before his father had met his death. Here Hall turned on the pursuing party and fought until he was riddled with bullets.

His oldest sister was a horrified spectator of the tragic end of her brother. A year after she met one of the party in a neighboring town; she was in company with a female friend, and despite the entreaties of her companion, called the man to her, slipping her hand into the pocket of her dress as she did so. "Capt. Davis," said she, when the man came up, "you helped to kill my brother; take that!" and, drawing a revolver, she fired at him. Davis was seriously wounded, and in the confusion the girl escaped. This act alarmed all who had taken part in the death of young Hall, and they resolved upon the extermination of the whole family of Halls, of whom only three were living—the eldest girl and two sisters. One night, after Davis' life had been attempted, the Hall homestead was surrounded by masked men. The barred doors were broken down, and the three girls were mercilessly murdered. The assassins then fired the house and disappeared. The tragedy caused a sensation, but the explanation was made by interested parties that Indians or greasers had murdered the girls, plundered the house, and then set it afire. This was generally accepted, and only lately have the facts in the case leaked out.

HE WANTED TO POSE.

A resident of Park street had a photographer come up the other day for the purpose of taking a view of his residence, and the man of the camera had just got in position when along came an old coon with a buck-saw on his arm and wanted to know what was up.

"Going to photograph the house," was the reply.

"Then I guess I'll pose," remarked the old man. "I'll take a position at the left of the gate and represent the statue of Industry."

The members of the family came out and arranged themselves, and the man called out:

"Here old man, you want to get out of that!"

"Can't I represent Industry?"

"No, sir!"

"Can't I stand over there and represent Laziness?"

"No, sir! We don't want you in the group at all."

"Lemme represent the Sleeping Beauty."

"You go away!"

He drew off to one side, and the passing teams halted to give the artist a chance, and directly the plate was made. Everybody rushed forward when it was ready for inspection, and the old man was one of the first. As the plate was held up he giggled and tickled, and finally burst into a loud laugh. He had dodged around the corner of the house and his full figure was revealed behind the family.

"What do you represent in that attitude?" sternly inquired the photographer.

"Well, I reckon that's a pretty good pose for Contentment."

"Very well. I will now represent Dissatisfaction."

And the artist took the Indian old chap by the ear and walked him out of the crowd and put in a couple of licks which changed the pose of Contentment to that of sorrow.

GLEANINGS.

At Sumpter, in Woodruff county, Ark., a well-flows water that is as sour as vinegar.

A packed jury empanelled in Southampton county, Va., to try a man charged for assault and battery, wrestled with the evidence and arguments of counsel for two days, and finally convulsed the court by returning a verdict of manslaughter.

On a Vicksburg church spire a large hawk perched itself upon the cross, and it remained five days. Then some one shot it. The hawk had no sooner fallen than another took its place. It still sits there, to the disturbance of the superstitious.

European papers state that a Mme. Tambicz, living near Baden, has distinguished herself at the age of 74 years, by giving birth to male twins. Her husband is 86 years old. They have had before but one child, a son, who is now 51 years old.

Miss Mary Allen Allmont Livingstone of New York has secured a verdict of $75,000 in a breach of promise suit against Henry Fleming, the millionaire oil merchant. Miss Livingstone satisfied the jury that not only had Fleming broken his promise, but had also ruined her under cover of his promise.

An Austin grocer grossly insulted Mrs. Mose Schaumburg the other day, without intending it. She is an immensely stout woman; and stepping on the scales, playfully requested the grocer to weigh her. As he adjusted the weights he remarked that she weighed one hundred and ninety pounds, which proved to be her exact weight. "How did you come to guess it?" she asked. "I am used to guessing at weights. I weighed hogs for five years in Cincinnati."

Two Irishmen were dining at a hotel. Upon the table was a dish of horseradish. "Shure," says one, "and what kind of sauce do you call that?" "Indade," says the other, "I don't know but I will find out," and he took a spoonful. Soon the tears began to run down his face. "Be jabers," says the other, "and what are you crying about?" "Ah," says he, "I was just thinking of my old grandmother that died a few years ago." Pretty soon the other one took a spoonful and the tears began to run down his face. "Shure," says the other, "and what are you crying about?" "Ah," says he, "I am so sorry that spoonful you took of the stuff didn't kill ye."

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF CHOSEN FREEHOLDERS OF THE COUNTY OF UNION.

[OFFICIAL.]

ELIZABETH, N. J., JAN. 4th, 1883.

The Board met in regular monthly session on Thursday, Jan. 4th, 1883, at two o'clock p. m.

Present—Director Martine and Freeholders Briant, Clark, Doty, Eller, Halliday, Hubbard, Husbands, [illegible] Mapes, Newberry, Oliver, Smith, [illegible] Thompson, White—17.

Absent—None.

The minutes of the last meeting were read, [illegible] approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From County Physician:

To the Honorable Director and Members of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to respectfully inform your honorable Body that I have in my possession and in charge of the Morgue Keeper at the 1st Dist. of the County, various articles of clothing and other effects—the property of persons who have met with violent and sudden deaths. [illegible]

Very Respectfully submitted,
THOS. TERRILL, JR.,
County Physician.

Freeholder Oliver moved the communication be received and referred to a committee of three.

[illegible] was carried, and the following committee appointed by the Director: Freeholders Oliver, White and Mapes.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

From Committee on Bonds:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Bonds would respectfully report that they have sold to the [illegible]

[illegible]
J. P. HUBBARD,
W. A. [illegible]

On motion, report received and ordered on file.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Clark:

Resolved, That the appropriation for building the bridge between Union and Middlesex, near the residence of Wm. V. McKenna, be increased [illegible] making the appropriation for this county [illegible]

On motion, adopted by a unanimous vote.

[illegible]

[illegible]

LEFT HIS PET.

The story is told in Hartford of a discharged State prison convict who, as soon as he reached [illegible] bread into [illegible] had fed his pet mouse in his cell. The little beast was his only friend for [illegible]. It came from a hole in the [illegible] and was the constant [illegible] his bench. "He would playfully run down my arm and play about my face, let me feed him, and stay by me when I was eating my supper," he said; "and when I went into my cell and didn't pay immediate attention to my little pet, he would chatter and scold at me in such an earnest way that it made me laugh. He was my one friend, and I have come away forgetting him." The agent of the Prison Association restored the mouse to his friend.

"It isn't loud prayers that counts with the Lord so much as four full quarts for every gallon," says an Arkansas circuit rider.

A native of Jersey recently sat in the Jersey City ferry house for three hours and then asked "when the derned thing was git across the river."

A San Francisco paper is pleasant reading while one is enjoying his after dinner cigar. Here is a paragraph: "A Chinaman died of small-pox while lying on a heap of tobacco that was afterwards used in making cigars."

The best fish story of the season comes from Longwood and is vouched for as true. A little six-year-old son of Mr. Fred. Fiester was fishing on that pond one day recently and actually landed on [illegible] pickerel weighing five and a half pounds, but after he got him out was unable to get him home without help. The boy is but thirty-one inches tall, and the fish, when held up, reached from his chin to the ground, being twenty-six and a half inches in length.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED

STOMACH
BITTERS

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters gives [illegible] the liver [illegible] For Sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

R. R. Fairchild.

Furniture! Furniture!

SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS

A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!

Bed-room Suites
IN ASH AND WALNUT.

Cottage Suites,
IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.

Bed Lounges,
AS LOW AS $7.50.

WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES.

Mattresses and Spring Beds,
OF ALL KINDS.

Come to Fairchild's,
AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.
13 West Front Street.

Parlor Novelties!

The following Styles are our "Latest" and will upon examination be found the most attractive and choice goods offered this season.

THE "Sutherland"

A solid Rosewood Suit, beautifully carved, [illegible]

THE "Egyptian"

[illegible]

THE "Rockingham"

[illegible]

THE
"Chippendale"

We show four suites on this order, all in old Mahogany. [illegible]

The "NORFOLK," "DOVER," [illegible] "STONEHAM," "PARIS," "ARICO," and "LONDON," [illegible]

Hundreds of ODD, EASY and RECEPTION CHAIRS, in endless variety.

INSPECTION INVITED.

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,
(Successor to Geo. White)
No. 6 Somerset St.
BUTCHER,
and dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats of the Finest Quality. [illegible]

LEWIS & CO.,
Butchers!!
AND DEALERS IN
Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry,
Sausage, Hams, Bologna,
Head Cheese and Blood Meat,
Park Avenue,
[illegible]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREAT DISPLAY OF
HOLIDAY GOODS
At Meyer Brothers,
771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.

[illegible]

Cloaks and Shawls!

[illegible]

MEYER BROTHERS,
771 & 773 BROAD STREET, NEWARK.

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

TWENTY
Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET, 2 doors above Peace street.

STEVENS & CORCORAN, Horse-shoers, give particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Interfering and Interfering Horses. [illegible]

PURE INDIA TEAS

From the Districts of ASSAM, [illegible] CACHAR, KANGRA VALLEY, DARJEELING, DEHRA, DOON, and others. Absolutely Pure. Superior in Flavor. The Most Economical. [illegible] JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO., Agents of the Calcutta Tea Syndicate, 130 Water St., N. Y.

DO YOU PLAY? WHY NOT?

By using SOPER'S INSTANTANEOUS GUIDE to the Keys of the Piano and Organ, any person, man, woman or child, who can read or count figures, can learn to play in ONE HOUR without a teacher. This is no humbug. The Guide, with 20 pieces of music, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1 00. Send 10 cents for sample of music. Agents wanted. Address, CHARLES HEARNE, 21 Frankfort St., N. Y.

For Sale or To Let.
A
Very Desirable Residence,
—ON—
WEST SEVENTH ST.,
(UNION AVENUE.)
House contains 13 large rooms, and modern improvements. One acre of ground, large barn, stable, &c. For particulars address,
J. W. JOHNSON,
27 East Seventh street, near Broadway.

The A. Saltzman Watch
CHAUX-DE-FONDS. MEDAL. BRONZE. 1876.
Ask your Jeweler for it Before Purchasing any other.

SPEER'S
PORT GRAPE WINE
Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.
Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Speer's Port Grape Wine
FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable
Tonic and Strengthening Properties are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. [illegible] A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

SPEER'S
P. J. Sherry.

The P. J. SHERRY is a wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made. For Purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unexcelled.

SPEER'S
P. J. Brandy.

THIS BRANDY stands unrivalled in this country, being far superior for medicinal purposes. IT IS A PURE distillation from the grape, and contains valuable medicinal properties. [illegible] See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Washington Valley
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE. ICE. ICE.
SIMPSON & CO.,
[illegible] FINEST QUALITY OF ICE IN THE TRADE.
Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.
[illegible]
GRADING & CONTRACTING
In all its Branches.

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,
Real Estate & Insurance Agent,
OFFICE—[illegible]
RESIDENCE—[illegible] Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale, Rent or Exchange.
[illegible]
NORTH AMERICA, of Phila. [illegible]
PHENIX INSURANCE CO., of London, [illegible]
Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.
MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.

POPE'S
Life and Fire Insurance Agency.
Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money Invested on Bond and Mortgage for those residing elsewhere. BONDS Bought and Sold.
FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK [illegible]
Office over City National Bank,
FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

FIRE INSURANCE!
The undersigned having been appointed agent for the
Star and Merchants
Fire Insurance Co's of the
City of New York,
are prepared to furnish substantial indemnity against loss by Fire and solicits applications from the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.
NATHAN HARPER

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE
is Selling WINTER
Boots & Shoes
At VERY LOW PRICES!
11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD.

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 4 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of desirable goods direct from Manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Cooking Stoves
and Ranges.
(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.
Agricultural Implements
Of all Kinds, CHEAP.
Super-Phosphates and Bone.
NEW YORK PLOWS,
Also,
The South Bend Chilled Plow,
BEST IN THE WORLD. Superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at
No. 16 EAST FRONT ST.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
C. O. Meeker & Co.
All the above Cheap for Cash.

Coal. Coal. Coal.
FINTIN HIBBITS
respectfully informs the public of Plainfield and vicinity that he is prepared to supply the best
Lehigh Valley Coal,
of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!
The above coal is all shipped to South Plainfield via the Packer R. R.
[illegible] BOX 1,186, will be promptly attended to, or No. 18 LIBERTY ST., PLAINFIELD.

J. N. SCHENCK,
Practical Machinist!
[illegible] STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.
[illegible]
Sectional Safety Boiler
[illegible]
Machinery of Every Description Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.

O. M. DUNHAM,
Merchant Tailor,
No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,
(Next to Laing's Hotel.)
Also, Agent for the
Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.

WM. C. SMITH,
Mason and Builder,
MANNING AVENUE,
[illegible]
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing Promptly Attended to. [illegible]
Orders may be sent to residence or by mail.

PROSPECT HILL FARM
BOARDING STABLES.
HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD
[illegible]
ESTABLISHED 1862. [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.
Union County, Surrogate's Office,
Dec. 9th, 1882.

[illegible], Administrator of [illegible], deceased.

[illegible]

By JAS. J. GERBER,
Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.
Union County, Surrogate's Office,
Nov. 20th, 1882.

[illegible], Executors of [illegible], deceased.

[illegible]

By JAS. J. GERBER,
Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors
Union County, Surrogate's Office,
Jan. [illegible], 1883.

Andrew J. Ryno, the Executor of Jonathan Dolliver deceased.

[illegible]

By JAMES J. GERBER,
Surrogate.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of NATHAN ROGERS, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.
ELIAS R. POPE.
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers, Executors of [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the twenty-first day of March next.
MARY E. STILLMAN.
JARED K. RYANS.
Dated Jan. 8th, 1883.

ADMINISTRATRIX SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, Administratrix of [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.
LEWIS W. [illegible].
Dated Jan. [illegible], 1883.

ADMINISTRATRIX SETTLEMENT. Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, Administratrix of [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the fourteenth day of February next.
CLARA B. [illegible].
Dated Dec. 8, 1882.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Special Notice!
We close at 8 p. m. sharp; having only 14 hours a day for business, we offer our
ENTIRE STOCK
OF Farming Utensils
AND
House Furnishing Goods
At reduced prices, for cash, as we must do as much now in 14 hours as we formerly did in a whole day's work.
FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS of TIN WARE
To be closed out within the next 30 days.
PLOWS AND HARROWS AT COST.
BERRY & THORN.

Furnaces and Ranges,
STOVES. PUMPS, SINKS.
Gas Fixtures, Etc.
TIN, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.
Tin Roofing and Jobbing!
Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.
Apply to
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 6 North avenue, Plainfield.

HEMORRHOID OR PILES
Permanently Cured,
IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID.
Or money refunded. Also Ulcers, Fistula and Fissures, cured without knife. I have opened an office at LAING'S HOTEL, Plainfield, New Jersey, where I will be in attendance on TUESDAY, DEC. 26TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 9TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 23D.
From 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. My treatment is that known as Dr. A. W. [illegible]'s system of treating rectal diseases. This is not the painful Carbolic Acid treatment.
Any one wishing to be treated at their house can do so by sending me name and address.
Send for circulars with names of the best citizens of Trenton and Lambertville as reference.
Any further information cheerfully given at my office or by mail. Charges always moderate.
[illegible], M. D., Lambertville, New Jersey.

THE LILIPUTIAN
BAZAAR.
[illegible]

BEST & CO.,
60 West 23d St., bet. 5th and 6th avenues, New York.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED
SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of N. J.
Stations in New York foot of Liberty St., for Brooklyn—Jewell's Wharf, foot of Fulton st.
ANTHRACITE COAL USED EXCLUSIVELY. INSURING CLEANLINESS AND COMFORT.
TIME TABLE IN EFFECT [illegible] 1882.
PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK
[illegible]
For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.
[illegible]
PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.
[illegible]
PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.
[illegible]
PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.
[illegible]
In addition, a train leaves Phillipsburg DAILY [illegible]
Westward Connections
LEAVE PLAINFIELD.
[illegible]
Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.
[illegible]
New York & Philadelphia—New Line,
BOUND BROOK ROUTE.
[illegible]
RETURNING.
[illegible]
Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A MAN
[illegible]

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y
[illegible]
"ALBERT LEA ROUTE."
[illegible]
GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,
[illegible]
R. R. CABLE, E. ST. JOHN,
Vice-Pres. & Gen'l M'g'r. Gen'l Tkt. & Pass. Agt.
CHICAGO.

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM.
This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. [illegible]
Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair
[illegible] Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

PARKER'S
GINGER TONIC
[illegible]
GREAT SAVING BUYING DOLLAR SIZE.

FLORESTON
[illegible]
Hiscox & Co.
[illegible]
COLOGNE.

NOTICE!

The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office, No. 28 PARK AVE.

A. VANDERBEEK,
O. O. P.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
[illegible]

Park Avenue Bakery
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY, 2, 1883. No. 5

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("Champagne Building,")
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 1 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor adjoining Fagg's Hotel Building.
Terms—$2.00 a Year in advance.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTIN'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
A. Garvey, - - Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.

FARMER'S HOTEL,
SOMERSET ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
(Hazzle Brook.)
W. HEIDLOFF, - - Proprietor.
Horses and Carriages to Let. Horses Boarded by the DAY, WEEK or MONTH. apl8yl

FRENCH BRO'S,
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FLOUR, FEED, MEAL, [illegible]
[illegible] depot. - - Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 30 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

GEORGE E. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wool & Sheep Skins & Tallow.
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Sponges, for sale Cheap only for Cash.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds.
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
Cor Park Ave. and Second St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. S. HUMMER.

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET,
ESTABLISHED, - - - 1865.
Bread, Cakes, Pies, Confectionery, &c. made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention.

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Fagg's Hotel) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST.
Residence—Harmony St., North Plainfield.
5th house from Somerset St.—left hand side.
Information imparted on matters present and future events, [illegible] Marriages, Journeys, Lawsuits, &c. She Converses
English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed.
My husband is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c., cheap for cash.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 26 Park Ave.,
(near second street)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO!

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works.
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders delivered and set up. L. MANNING,
Front St., next to N. B. Ch., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y.

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay,
Straw, &c.,
Fenee St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Woods a specialty.
Orders left as above, or addressed to P. O. BOX 68, will receive prompt attention.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS.
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Duer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All orders received and delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
[illegible]

HENRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.,
No. 44 East Second Street,
Bet. Fenee St. and Park Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also Bottler of Porter, Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and Adrain Feys's Celebrated Weiss Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it to all desiring a cooling and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, families, &c., supplied at the lowest rates for first-class goods.

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
McIntyre's Building, Plainfield, N. J.
(P. O. Box 490.)
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

BENTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures.
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. 3d St. & Madison Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL.
[illegible] North Plainfield.
[illegible]

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

THE FINEST WHISKEY ever offered for sale in Plainfield can be had at E. P. THORN'S. All those wanting a pure and very old Whiskey for Family and Medicinal use are invited to test it.
Also, a very fine Ale at $1.25 per dozen.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agent for Ulman, Goldsborough & Forster's Atlas, Wilson & Alston Club Whiskies, Special [illegible] for Family use. Also a full line of [illegible] Whiskies and Wines.

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 29 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with the Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

CENTENNIAL HALL,
5 SECOND STREET,
FRED. CASPAR, Prop'r.
Sole Agent for Feigenspan & Co's
Champagne Lager Beer.
All kinds of LAGER BOTTLED EXPRESSLY FOR FAMILY USE.
Prompt attention given to orders, and delivery made in any part of the city.

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts, North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours.

SMITH'S
Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
Mein's Old Stand, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Elderberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine, and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Also, Ales, Liquors, Segars.
Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 9 to 1.

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND ST.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved [illegible] Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour.

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and Wm. streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 1 EXCHANGE PLACE, FIVE DOORS WEST FERRY, JERSEY CITY.

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield. P. O. Box [illegible]. Families supplied with pure Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel opposite Post-office delivered free of charge.

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
HART MOORE. SAMUEL GOODHALE.
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the traveling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
Brunswick, Balke & Co., Celebrated Pool and Billiard Tables.
[illegible]

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD and vicinity are invited to visit the Plainfield Academy for Boys,
Seventh street, inspect the new building, and see the working of the school.
GERMAN, French Spoken, Daily [illegible]
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French $100
Elementary Department, without German and French 80
Primary Department, without German and French 60
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for ladies and gentlemen, by the Natural Method, meet in the afternoon and evening.
Principals—James Lyon, J. C. Lewinsky, Ph. D. (of Berlin University). With experienced assistants.
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box 773.

Caig Place School,
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. AUSTIN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Tobacco.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
SEGARS!!
No. 29 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 15 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco, Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

MILLINERY.

MRS. P. DUNN,
HAS THE LATEST STYLE OF
Millinery, Bonnets, Hats, Ect.
BLEACHING AND PRESSING Done at short notice. Feathers curled and Dyed. Pinking done. A large assortment of Hair, Braids, Switches and Curls. Particular attention paid in selecting Hair to suit customers. Hosiery, Gloves, Corsets, etc. Also, Fancy and Dress Goods.
14 West Front street.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 49 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mlle. Doane, 349 Broadway, N. Y.

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Stillman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

HOTELS, ETC.

LAING'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH B. MILLER, - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates.
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS GEISES
R:E:S:T:A:U:R:A:N:T:
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
11 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for Ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style.

Accommodation Express.
PETER HICKEY, Prop'r, OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Residence, Cor. Cherry St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. The Accommodation Express will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering Goods or Baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., with care and safety. Prompt attention given to all orders.

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue.
P. O. BOX 906.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
[illegible]

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES.

ESTABLISHED 1860.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
INTERIOR DECORATORS.
FINE WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,
LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC., ETC.
321 Canal Street, New York
(Telephone Call—Spring [illegible].)
GEO. F. BROWN—Residence—11 Duer Street, Plainfield. P. O. Box [illegible].

NEW STYLES
WALLPAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTIST COLORS, Etc.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
Between Front and 3d Sts., PLAINFIELD N. J.
P. O. BOX, 369.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
in all their branches.
Satisfaction Guaranteed on all Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING.
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at S. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St.
P. O. BOX, 391.
D. WEAVER. F. WEAVER.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

A. A. TITSWORTH.
Civil Engineer and Surveyor,
(Successor to J. S. & F. A. Dunham.)
OFFICE—15 East Front St.,
(Alpaugh's Building.)
Special attention given to Map Drawing, Lettering in India Ink, etc. Copying and Composing.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for Dancing & Deportment,
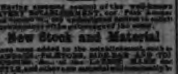
AT SEMINARY HALL,
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM [illegible]
Dodworth's New Lanciers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. 28th.—tf

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!



New Livery!
Having assumed control of the well-known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, cor. [illegible] the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.
New Stock and Material
Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, SIDE-BAR AND TOP BUGGIES, [illegible] STYLES, and other new material [illegible] added.
The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock. [illegible]
Terms, Very Reasonable.
J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS,
(Of the late firm of Roberts & Cadmus.)
Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and patrons that he has purchased the teams and leased the premises of the establishment [illegible] Mr. John F. [illegible]
FRONT STREET.
Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will at [illegible]

Mansion House Stables,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALBERT SEDDEN, Prop'r.
[illegible]

POETRY.

BARBARA FRIETCHIE.

FROM A GERMAN STANDPOINT.

[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A HASTY CONCLUSION.

"By-bye, Dolly. Don't sit up for me. I mayn't be home till late."

And handsome Dick Everett, capped and overcoated, bent to kiss his little wife.

"Must you really go, Dick?" imploringly.

"Must I really go?" he repeated. "What a dreadful solemn face! Yes, you ridiculous darling I really must."

"Why?" persistently.

"Oh, because of an—an engagement I—I cannot break, dear," a trifle guiltily.

"With whom?"

"Good gracious! what an inquisitive little mortal it is, to be sure! Don't trouble your pretty head with business engagements; and, once more my pet, good-bye. And—oh, I say, Dolly," turning back and putting a furry head inside the door, "if you're in search of a job, I just wish you'd mend my overcoat. I noticed a big tear on the cars—it's an ugly tear. Will you?"

And to this rather disconnected speech Mrs. Dick nodded and smiled a bright acquiescence.

The door slammed behind Dick, and she glanced around the cosy, home-like room.

"If only Dick had not been obliged to go out—and such a cold night, too!"

The gas burned brightly; the cheery fire in the grate was a bed of golden coals; the French clock on the mantel ticked musically. Toward the crimson-covered table, on which lay a pile of unopened magazines, looked two wistful blue eyes. But the bride of six months shook her dainty bronze-brown head with resolute determination; and the rosy lips repeated the hackneyed formula, "Duty first, pleasure after."

So, accordingly, the little white hands laboriously lugged and hauled Dick's big overcoat into the room, turned it over, and commenced their occupations. She smiled softly to herself, for her thoughts were pleasant ones, as she sat and sewed; a rarely-pretty picture in the parlor's firelit glow—the childish figure in the soft, dark dress and snowy muslin apron, the busy hands flying briskly through their task.

"To-morrow will be my birthday, and Dick has forgotten it, I know. How sorry he will be when I tell him to-morrow."

And as she broke merrily into "Comin' Thro' the Rye," the dainty French conceit on the low marble mantel silvery struck 10.

She paused, smilingly, with needle suspended, to hear the mad, merry waltz that tinkled out from the little bronze cupids.

Her task finished, she turned the coat over to see if it needed other repairs, and as she did so a small square sheet of paper fluttered from an inside pocket and fell upon the crimson carpet.

She bent forward and picked it up with a low laugh.

"Which of Dick's friends is sufficiently foppish to perfume his letters, I wonder?"

Then she turned it right side up and looked at it. And then she saw—what? Nothing very terrifying, certainly. Only a thick sheet of embossed paper, stamped with a monogram in azure and gold, incomprehensible, as monograms usually are.

A woman's letter—written in a pretty, scrawling, irregular hand, unmistakably a woman's.

The bird-like song died on Dolly Everett's lips; the soft, bright color faded slowly out of her face; the blue eyes grew wider and startled, as deliberately, though almost involuntarily, she read the few words on the page before her. The note ran:

DICK DARLING—I have missed you dreadfully of late. Come! Exercise diplomacy to-night and slip away. I hate her for keeping you from me. Beside, Gester is in town. Is the hint too broad? In spite of all, Dick, ever your EDITH.

This was all, but it was enough. For a few moments Dolly's eyes, blazing, horrified, stared straight at the fateful sheet as though they would shrivel it up with their blue fire.

Then she flung it shuddering from her, as though it were a venomous thing and would sting her.

Who was the woman dared write so to Dick—her Dick? Yes, she told herself with an air of defiant proprietorship, hers only.

She crushed her hands tightly together till the diamonds sent the plain gold circlet into the white flesh cruelly.

Then, as a horrible suspicion leaped to life in her brain, with a low gasp she slipped from her chair and crouched quivering against the great shaggy overcoat.

Her fears took horrible shape. What if he had gone to meet this woman. For how long since he had [illegible] her? [illegible]

And how bitter and hateful he had seemed—he [illegible] happy and light-hearted, [illegible] A thousand [illegible] and glances, before [illegible] unnoticed, now flashed upon her. She snatched up the note again and looked at it.

It was dated the evening of that day.

"Oh, Dick, Dick!" she cried, wildly, "how could you? And—I loved you so!"

Then, with a sudden storm of sobs she broke down altogether, and, burying her face in the crumpled overcoat, wept as if her very heart was breaking, the graceful little figure shaken and convulsed.

The fire burned low in the grate under a coating of gray ashes.

Eleven! Now she did not pause to listen to the silvery music.

Footsteps came along the sidewalk, up the steps; a latch-key turned cautiously in the door. She neither heard nor stirred. In the hall Dick paused, a curious smile on his lips.

"Doll's asleep, as sure as fate?"

He divested himself of hat and overcoat, and, humming a popular air, turned the handle of the parlor.

"And listen while I tell you of the be—"

His song came to an untimely end as he caught sight of the sobbing, shaking little figure on the hearth-rug.

He took one stride toward her, but at the sound of his voice she had sprung to her feet with crimson cheeks and dangerously sparkling eyes.

"Stand off, sir! Don't dare to touch me!"

"Great heavens! Dolly—" in direst bewilderment.

"Don't Dolly me!" facing him like a diminutive tigress—"don't dare to!"

"Dolly!"

"Don't mention my name so soon after hers—this 'Edith' to whom you are 'Dick darling!'"

"Dolly—"

"Can you find no other word with which to defend or vindicate yourself except the repetition of my name!" This last with unnatural calmness.

The temperature had wafted around from the torrid to the frigid zone.

"Have you gone—mad?" slowly.

"If I have, find the cause—there!"

Scornfully she flung him the crumpled sheet.

He snatched it eagerly and read every word.

"Where did you get this, Dolly?"

"There!"

"There!" in blank astonishment.

She pointed dramatically at the tumbled overcoat.

He glanced from the note to the coat, from the coat to the note, and back again to Dolly.

She was longing desperately to steady her voice and still her heart sufficiently to ask him how he liked Gester, just to exhibit a piece of stinging sarcasm; but she could not to save her life.

There was a blank silence a moment, then Dick walked over and picked up the overcoat.

Hark! what was that! Not a laugh, surely.

Yes, a laugh! The maddest, merriest wildest peal that ever rang from human lips.

There on the hearth-rug stood Dick, the coat fallen loosely on the floor, his hands on both hips and laughing—well, he was.

"Dick!" in faltering amazement.

"Yes!" howled Dick. "Oh, Dolly, it's the best joke of the season. Oh-h—"

And then he roared like a circus-mad school-boy again.

"Dick—tell me!"

Then, seeing her white, anxious face, he grew suddenly grave.

"Dolly, did you look at the envelope?"

"I saw none."

He showed her the slip that had fluttered unnoticed under the table.

She read the address:

RICHARD HARVEY, Esq.,
192 South —— street, City.

"Dolly, did you particularly notice the overcoat?"

A tremendous "No!"

"Look, see the velvet collar, those buttons; this pocketbook! Is this my overcoat?"

"Oh, Dick, my dearest, forgive me! No, no, no!"

She was sobbing in his arms now.

"My darling! But," bubbling again into boyish laughter, 'what a glorious joke! To think that I should walk home in, and that you should mend, Dick Harvey's overcoat! Wonder if his folks are going through my pockets now! Who's 'Edith?' His sweetheart, whom he had to sneak off to see, because of a formidable heiress staying at his house at present, to whom his folks are trying to marry him. He told me all about it."

"Dick"—shy arms went creeping around his neck and blue eyes looked luminous through their tears—"I'm never going to be jealous again, I—I'm not even going to ask you where you were to-night," with triumphant heroism, underlaid by a stratum of maddening curiosity.

"My pet, I was just going to tell you, but these will speak better than I can. You see I had not quite forgotten what day to-morrow would be."

He had drawn a leather case from his pocket, and, touching a spring, disclosed a set and necklet of milk-white pearls on a turquoise velvet bed.

"Oh—h, Dick!"

A long-drawn breath, a rapturous lighting of blue eyes, a lifting of rosy lips, and then—well, when she got through, Dick thought himself well repaid.

"Won't there be fun at the office to-morrow. Jealous of Dick Harvey! But, by Jupiter what a reception I got! Oh—oh! Dolly, Dolly, Dolly! it's the best joke on record!"

And Dolly joined him merrily; for after all is not the sweetest laughter that which springs from tears?

QUARREL BETWEEN MARY JANE AND DICKEY.

'Is there any city,' said Dickey, 'which is free from fault.'

'Yes,' said I, 'the New Jerusalem.'

'No,' said Dickey, 'it has one serious fault.'

'What is it?' said I.

'Its inaccessibility,' said she.

'To you, yes,' said I.

'And to you, as well,' said she.

'How?' said I.

'Because,' said she, 'it is said there was silence for a space in Heaven, and where silence is you can't be, for I've got every reader of our paper as a witness that, in spite of all my efforts to keep you still, and not be talking column after column of stuff, you will persist in breaking out every chance you get. You'd make a pretty looking angel, with a pencil in one hand, a note-book in the other, and your tongue wagging like a tickled dog's tail, wouldn't you?'

'Dickey,' said I—but I stopped, for I don't like to see women quarrel, and, besides, I knew if it came to hair pulling I never would have any show, for Dickey could hang [illegible] in that direction.

THE COUNTERFEITER'S CONFESSION.

"Do you see that large handsome man with the iron-gray hair?"

"Number ninety-one?"

"Yes. He is serving a term of twenty years for counterfeiting. He is one of the all-best confidence men alive, and has operated all over the world."

"I would like to talk with him."

"I'll send him to the office, and you can converse with him at your leisure."

* * * * *

Where I was born is not material, and the name of Henry Fontain, which I bear here, is as good for the purpose of my story as the name by which my mother called me ere I came to this place.

I was educated at a German gymnasium, and at twenty-one went two study journalism at the university. There I applied myself for a year or so closely to my studies, but dissipation led to play, and play proved my ruin.

Before the expiration of my second year I was domiciled at Baden-Baden, and the gaming table was my constant resort, gambling my sole occupation and pleasure.

I was very successful and lead an easy reckless life for two years, when an unfortunate occurrence, or rather an unlucky discovery of certain of my irregularities, drove me temporarily from the continent, and in the autumn of 1871 I found myself in the vast, and to me, strange city of London.

I had brought with me from Paris quite a little fortune in money, but ill-luck at play and my customary extravagance had speedily reduced it to less than one hundred pounds, which to a man of luxurious habits was a mere bagatelle. As soon, however, as I realized the low state of my finances, I set about devising some plan for their improvement.

For once, however, my wits seemed to have deserted me. Many trifling matters out of which a few pounds might be realized suggested themselves, all of which I promptly rejected, as no scheme of any magnitude came to my relief.

One morning as I was drinking my coffee and reading the literary notes in the Times, I saw an announcement that William Mason, a retired merchant and a prominent member of the Cobden club, was engaged in writing a work on political economy, with original tables of statistics, that was soon to be issued in fine form by the well-known publishing house of Williams & Abercrombie, in Holborn street.

Thousands in the great city doubtless read the announcement, and forgot it as a matter of little interest or moment, but to me it was an inspiration, suggesting the possibility of a great fortune.

An hour later I had learned that Wm. Mason was a man widely and favorably known throughout England, both by reason of his immense wealth and as being the author of two or three successful books.

That evening I called upon Mr. Mason at his residence, introducing myself as a French Gentleman deeply interested in his favorite study, political economy, and had no difficulty in obtaining an interview.

Well-informed as I was on all the current topics of the day, I made a very favorable impression on Mr. Mason, who, with the simplicity of the man of real genius, took me largely into his confidence, and explained to me the aims and scope of his work that day announced for publication. An hour was thus pleasantly, and to me at least, profitably passed; and when at the expiration of that time I arose to go, I was most cordially invited to call again at my convenience and renew the conversation.

I was jubilant that morning as I walked rapidly to my lodgings to perfect my plans. My visit had been a success. I now knew Mr. Mason, and, what was far greater importance to me, had learned incidentally that he had no acquaintance with Robert Fairchild, the wealthy banker and learned statistician of Liverpool, and that he had never corresponded with him.

That night I wrote Robert Fairchild, over the signature of William Mason, apologizing for intruding on one known to me only by reputation, suggesting to him that I had an elaborate work almost ready for the publishers, and requesting some information as to the number and nationality of emigrants who had sailed from Liverpool to the United States and British colonies during each year of the last decade. I concluded my letter by assuring him that I would gladly credit him in my forthcoming work with any information on the subject that he would be so kind to impart.

Three days later I found in my box at the post-office a long letter from Mr. Fairchild, containing all the information I had asked for, and much besides. He was very profuse in his compliments; the name of William Mason was entirely familiar to all thinking men in Great Britain, and I needed no introduction to him. He concluded by saying: "You are one of the few men of great wealth who have ever labored with brain and pen for the benefit of mankind."

Upon the receipt of this letter, which pleased me exceedingly, I set about putting into execution my already perfected plans. I called upon a skillful engraver on steel, and employed him to engrave in a handsome manner my portrait, from a photograph which I furnished him. That done, I watched the street door of the bindery of Williams & Abercrombie, at 6 o'clock, the hour when the men came out from their work, and selecting the one whom I judged for the purpose, I followed him.

As I anticipated, he had not walked many squares when he entered the door of an ale-house and seated himself at a table. I entered a moment later and accosted him as an old acquaintance. He started and stared at me in a manner that convinced me that he feared recognition, and as he saw in me nothing familiar, an expression of relief crossed his face. I knew that he was the man for my work, and, of course, did not hesitate for a moment.

"You are a bookbinder?" said I.

"Why do you say that?" he answered, quickly.

"Because I saw you come from the bindery of Williams & Abercrombie just now."

"Well, suppose I was, what do you want?"

"I thought at first that I knew you at Leeds, but no matter, what I want is this: In a few days there will come to your bindery from the printers, a new book of Wm. Mason's, entitled, "An Analysis of Production Facilities." I wish to translate this work into the French language, and desire you to procure me, at the earliest possible moment, a complete copy of the unbound sheets."

"And what am I to receive for so dangerous a service as that?" inquired the binder.

"Five pounds; bring them to this address, and you will be paid that amount," replied I, handing him my address.

"Very well, you shall have them the evening of the day the edition is received for binding."

After treating him to a quart of ale I took my departure.

The next day I procured from a tradesman a check for a small amount on the Commercial Bank of London. I called at the bank and requested to have it certified, as I desired to send it to Sheffield to pay for some cutlery I had ordered. In a moment my check was returned to me stamped with the seal of the bank, and attested by the signature of the cashier. Within forty-eight hours I possessed a seal,—the work of the engraver who was making my portrait—the impression of which was exactly identical with that upon the check.

I procured the seal on Saturday, and all day Sunday practiced writing the signature of the bank cashier, Henry Shackleford, until I could produce so close an imitation as to defy, I was certain, the scrutiny of a bank expert.

The next evening I was overjoyed by a visit from the binder, who brought the promised sheets and received in exchange a five pound note.

I had learned from my conversation with Mr. Mason that his work would contain a table giving the yearly emigration from the ports of Great Britain and Ireland.

With trembling hands I turned over the sheets and found, to my great joy, that the table referred to the port of Liverpool was the last on the list and concluded the chapter.

The work contained numerous footnotes in ruby type, and the next morning, thanks to a skillful printer, whose acquaintance I had cultivated for the purpose, page 417 of my special edition of William Mason's great work contained a foot-note, printed in ruby type, and so cleverly executed as to present an appearance uniform with the notes.

The next Wednesday morning I had in my hands an octavo volume, handsomely bound in tree calf, containing as a frontispiece my portrait in steel, with "Yours truly, William Mason," printed under it in my hand writing.

I wrote something complimentary on the fly leaf, and sent the book by express to Mr. Fairchild at his residence in Liverpool. I enclosed a letter thanking him for his kindness, referring him to page 417 for my acknowledgement of his valuable information, and concluding by saying that I would call on him at his residence on Friday evening.

Friday evening, at exactly 8 o'clock, I was ringing the door bell of Mr. Fairchild's elegant mansion, another moment and I was in the drawing room receiving the enthusiastic congratulations of the wealthy banker.

"Let us retire to the library, where we will be free from interruptions," said Mr. Fairchild.

The volume I had sent him lay upon the table, and we were soon deep in a discussion of great national questions.

Before leaving for my hotel, I told Mr. Fairchild that it was my intention to sail the next afternoon for New York. He expressed surprise that I should leave England just as this my great work was in press, and before it was given to the world.

"I am the owner of considerable real estate in New York and Philadelphia," said I, "and I go to the former city to close the purchase of a fine block of houses, for which my agent has been several weeks negotiating. None of my friends in London, except, of course, my family, know of my intended departure, else I am certain they would find means to detain me. I shall return in a month, by which time the ripple, which, I trust I may be pardoned for thinking, the appearance of my book may occasion in certain circles, will have subsided, and I will have escaped all that excitement and anxiety, which has always been peculiarly disagreeable to me."

"But I shall see you again before you sail?"

"Certainly, I will call on you at your bank at 11 o'clock to-morrow, if that will be convenient?"

"Entirely so, I shall expect you at that hour."

It was not without misgivings that I ascended the marble steps of the Underwriters' bank the next morning, but my hand did not tremble as I knocked at the door of the private office of the president.

Mr. Fairchild was expecting me, and gave me a kindly greeting, and we passed half an hour in pleasant conversation.

I said to him that not wishing even my bankers—who were personal friends—to know of my intended absence, I had not procured exchange on New York, but had brought with me my own check on the Commercial Bank for thirty thousand pounds, certified by Mr. Shackleford, the cashier.

"Let me see your check, Mr. Mason," said the banker, "the Commercial is our correspondent in London. I can give you exchange on the Commercial bank, of New York, if you desire."

"I will be much obliged to you," replied I. "I am well acquainted in New York, but it is hardly business-like to present a check on a foreign bank."

Mr. Fairchild rang a bell, sent for the cashier, formally introduced me as William Mason, of London, and requested him to prepare a draft on the Commercial bank, of New York, to my order, for thirty thousand pounds. A moment later I had endorsed my check, and received in exchange the bank draft.

After thanking Mr. Fairchild for his kindness I arose to depart.

"I will see you on my return," said I. "My vessel, the Abyssinia, sails at 4 o'clock, and as I have some small purchases to make I must be moving."

"I regret that I cannot go out with you Mr. Mason, but I cannot well leave the office until the bank closes at 3 o'clock, at which hour I dine at my club. I had counted on the pleasure of introducing you there to day, but I fear it will be too late for you."

I thanked Mr. Fairchild—it would not be possible—shook him heartily by the hand and left the bank.

At exactly fifteen minutes past three I again knocked at the door of the room of the bank president, and was told by a clerk that he had left for the day.

I then asked to see the cashier.

"I am very sorry to trouble you again," said I, "particularly as it is past your banking hours, but it is reported on the street that two New York banks did not open this morning and that a panic is imminent. I know the Chemical bank to be a solid institution, and am, doubtless, too suspicious, but if you can give me bank notes of large denomination for this draft I will sleep easier on my voyage, and will be under many obligations to you."

The cashier thought me needlessly alarmed—he did not believe the report—but he would be only too happy to accommodate me, and handed me sixty Bank of England notes of five hundred pounds each, at the same time advising me to deposit them in the safe on board the steamer.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

	WEEKS.			MONTHS.
SPACE	1	2	3	1	2	3	6	12
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible] per cent. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] advertisements [illegible]

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

I hastened to secure a passage on the Abyssinia in the name of William Mason, and then took the 1 o'clock express for London, and within ten days I was at St. Petersburg, in Russia.

What Robert Fairchild said when he found he had paid thirty thousand pounds for the addition of a single volume to his library I never knew. I watched the London papers, but saw no note of it. The matter was doubtless suppressed to enable the metropolitan police to arrest the false William Mason on the arrival of the Abyssinia in New York.

GLEANINGS FOR FARMERS.

Half a teaspoonful of carbolic acid in a gill of milk is recommended by Mr. J. A. Dodge, in the Journal of Agriculture as an excellent remedy for hog cholera.

The long-continued experiments of Lawes & Gilbert certainly show that nitrogen is the constituent of soils which first fails when cropping is continued without applying manures.

Charcoal should be fed to hogs and poultry. Experiment has demonstrated that the same amount of food will produce a far greater amount of flesh and fat when fed with plenty of charcoal.

Twenty-five tons of hops, valued at $30,000, were harvested in Aroostook county, Me., last year, where six years ago there was scarcely a hop field of any extent, and only a year ago the crop was but five tons.

The general effect of lime is to render available the plant food already in the soil, without itself supplying any significant amount. Liming cannot, therefore, be successfully repeated except at considerable intervals.

A Kentucky farmer cures fowl cholera by boiling a bushel of smartweed in ten gallons of water down to three gallons, and mixing the decoction with their food twice a day for three days, then every other day for a week.

A Southern planter, writing from Southwestern Georgia, in speaking of the amount of farm products that are necessarily allowed to go to waste, says that "an economical Yankee would live on the profits of our wastage."

Mr. W. W. Woodruff, of Vineyard, Ga., has 150 acres in choice fruit. "Thirty thousand vines," the Atlanta Constitution says, "are in sight from the railroad station, and 10,000 pounds of grapes were shipped this season."

Weed out your stock and get rid of the poor milch and butter cows. The profit in a dairy comes wholly from the good cows, while the poor ones not only do not pay for their keep, but they reduce the profit made by the others.

A good butter cow ought not to eat less than from six to eight quarts of meal per day, but not clear corn meal. Bran is not worth much to make butter, but mixed with corn meal gives health and thrift.

An English grower of damson plums reports to the Gardeners' Monthly having sold his entire crop, which realized $550, "to parties who, in the season, go about the country buying up the ripe fruit they can find for dyeing purposes.

Many a man has had his pork fail to keep properly because it was salted in a frozen condition. Frozen meat, whether beef, pork or mutton, will not properly assimilate the salt, and cannot be depended on to keep in hot weather.

In localities where beans are largely grown a difference of 10 to 20 cents per bushel is made in favor of those that have been hand-picked. In a bad lot of beans this is a very tedious operation, and the pickers fully earn the additional price.

WIT.

A matter of course—The race track.

The liquor question—"Have suthin?"

To be sure of good weight—Go to the barber shop Saturday night.

The reason why there are no female bill collectors is that "woman's work is never dun."

"Parson (catechising): "And what is your duty toward your neighbor?" Sharp boy: "To keep your eye on 'im, sir."

A debating society will tackle the question: "Which is the most fun—to see a man try to thread a needle or a woman try to drive a nail?"

Brevity is the soul of wit. The hotel keeper who wrote to a delinquent ex-boarder, "Send me amount of bill," received for reply, "The amount is $19.50."

"How should a turkey be dressed?" A turkey, in order to be well dressed, should be wholly undressed. The few feathers a turkey has when it comes on the table the more angelic it will appear.

"Pa, are we going to have any girlvanized iron on our new house?" "Any w-h-a-t?" "any girlvanized iron?" "Yes, pa? but the teacher says we mustn't say gal? it's girl."

A young man finds himself in a perplexing situation when he is unable to distinguish between the ten-cent cigar purchased for his own enjoyment and the two-for-fives intended for his prospective father-in-law.

It is the dog that has the "pants" and the young man the pantaloons; but it is not unfrequently the case that before the young man can get safely over the fence it is he who has the "pants" and the dog the pantaloons.

A boy in a country school was reading the following sentence: "That lighthouse is a landmark by day and a beacon by night," and rendered it thus: "The lighthouse is a landlord by day and a deacon by night."

First masher: "Well, did you make the acquaintance of that strange girl you were raving over?" Second ditto: "Yes; followed her home." First M.: "How did she strike you?" Second ditto: "She didn't at all; she got her big brother to do it."

"You know I am a member of the fire department," said her father, "and if I find your young spark in the house it will be my duty to put him out." "But, father," replied his daughter, "if you do, like as not I shall have a new flame within a week."

A fashionably attired young lady asked her doctor, the other day, if he did not think that the great weight of the large hats and bonnets now in style had a tendency to cause disease of the brain. "Not at all, my dear Miss; ladies who have brains don't wear these large hats."

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

ATTENTION! DEMOCRATS!

The regular meeting of the Democratic Association, for the month of February, will be held at its rooms, on Tuesday evening, the 6th inst., at 8 o'clock.

JAS. E. MARTINE,
President.
L. F. WADSWORTH,
Secretary.

SOUND.

Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, in an able speech in Congress last week, declared "that he recognized the fact that under the protective system industries had grown up and capital had been invested in such forms that it would not only be wrong, but bad statesmanship to attempt to break them down by sudden and radical change. All that he would do would be to diminish the enormous profits of the manufacturing industries of the country which they derived from the tribute levied on the consuming class."

That is sound doctrine.

Everything needed for just protection to all legitimate pursuits, but nothing for the exaction of tribute from the Farmers, Mechanics and Workingmen of America, who comprise the great mass of consumers, and upon whom prices for articles of necessity above the standard of fair manufacturing profit weigh a heavy burden.

FREEDOM.

Freedom is a grand term, the noblest of aspirations, the happiest of worldly conditions. It represents manly independence and exemption from arbitrary power or control of every kind. It constitutes the high privilege of a people and should be by them guarded as akin to life itself.

Our country is called free, and if the spirit of her organic law had unrestricted sway, she would be so in reality as well as name.

We are free from monarchal and aristocratic institutions. The Revolution swept away those shackles on the inalienable rights of man.

We are free from religious bigotry and persecution. The Constitution by gloriously establishing full liberty of conscience and belief rang the death-knell of barbaric intolerance.

We are free from the blighting curse of human slavery, fastened upon us by English cupidity, and at last dispelled amid the fire and smoke of intestine war.

And so in other particulars the blessings of enlightened freedom mark us a favored people.

Yet the national sky is not clear of dark-robed clouds.

To be really free, the people of these United States, not a privileged portion of them, but all the people, must be made secure, beyond any possible contingency or design, in the opportunity to prosper by their individual industry and thrift, which is now imperilled and in various ways outraged by those arch enemies of justice—the corrupting power of money and the robber greed of monopoly.

That battle is to be fought.

They who would be free must strike blow on blow.

THE VOICE OF LABOR.

One of the most arrogant defenders in Congress of subsidized monopolists is Senator Sherman, of Ohio. He upholds the grabbers in all the demand and all they do, and to him a Republican workingman of Massachusetts thus speaks through the medium of a published letter:

"I have voted the Republican ticket from the start.

My father was a ship-builder and I inherited the business, but legislation, for which you as much as any other living man are responsible, has long since driven me out of that.

To-day I am taxed from 20 to 100 per cent. more for every article of wear for myself and family, for my articles of furniture in my house and for many articles of which my house is composed.

And for what?

That manufacturers may divide from 10 to 40 per cent. and dole out to us from 12 to 15 shillings per day for skilled labor.

They (the bosses) buy labor in Canada or elsewhere at the lowest obtainable figures and we, who have no "protection," must submit to it or starve.

No man in the Senate has had greater opportunities than you have to be informed on this tariff question, and yet when you speak or vote it is always in sympathy with the monopolists and against labor.

Granted that I get more pay than one similarly employed on the other side of the Atlantic, but look at what I pay out for hats, caps, shoes, blankets—everything that we wear—as compared with the prices paid by the poorer-paid mechanics over there.

And the meanest of all is that you and such as you pretend, especially when an election is pending, that you are the workingman's friend!

If protecting these monopolists is not making the rich richer and the poor poorer, then I've got it wrong."

The fact cannot be disguised that the men of this country who are directly interested in the question of labor and most vitally injured by unjust taxation begin to doubt the truth of the story so long and loudly told by the monopolists and their paid advocates. The working classes of the United States find themselves toiling hard year after year and growing no richer. They feel the effect and are searching for the cause.

It will be ascertained one of these days.

Then will the voice of labor demand and receive respectful consideration.

* * *

The present House of Representatives has passed Robeson's bill appropriating millions for the construction of steel cruisers for the Navy, when the country is virtually without ocean commerce to protect, and no serious efforts are being made in Congress to re-establish that once lucrative national interest.

* * *

The Breezy Trenton Times keeps John L. Murphy's bill ($2,[illegible]) for printing the Oyster and Silk job standing at the head of its editorial columns. Now let it put just under it, in stereotype form, the stupendous sums which "Sian" [illegible] has received from the State Treasury, and, if it has space for much more confirmation, it can also give a list of salaries, fees, etc., of the Chancellor, Chancery Clerk, Judges of Courts, etc. While the Times is straddling reform it ought to ride all the h—— it can into the ring.—Elizabeth Herald.

SENATOR McPHERSON.

We never thought it would become our duty to defend the honor of New Jersey's favorite United States Senator, from the attacks of either individual or press. It has come to a pass, however, that an individual has not only attacked the good name of Hon. John R. McPherson, but has also asserted falsehoods against the Democratic press. The Hon. Thomas V. Cator, nominated and elected from Hudson county, as Assemblyman to our State Legislature, in explaining his vote in joint session of both Houses last week on United States Senator, saw fit to read a long speech against Mr. McPherson, wherein Mr. Cator posed as a "Reformer" and "anti monopolist." In this harangue, he asserted that the entire Democratic press of the State were opposed to the re-election of Mr. McPherson. This is untrue. We fail to find in a single exchange of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST from among the State press, a single utterance against that gentleman. Besides, the most influential of the Republican press spoke in high terms of Mr. McPherson previous to and after his re-nomination. In our mind, as well as that of every true Democrat in the State, the Hon. John R. McPherson is an honor to New Jersey, which he represents, and is held in high estimation alike by both of the great parties of the State. The fact that he received a unanimous re-nomination without the aid of money, which he absolutely refused to use, to secure such re-nomination, is sufficient evidence of his purity of character and the worth in which he is held by his constituents.

OUR VIEW OF IT.

The Trenton Times, a new organ recently started, it is said, in the interest of a certain ex-official of the State, who is anxious to get "a back" at the newspapers of Trenton, for fancied reasons, calls for a response from the State press in reference to what it, the Times, calls a "printing swindle." The statements it makes reflects upon the State Legislature and all officials who have by law, given out contracts for State printing. With all the howl the writers in the Times have made about "reform," we doubt if said writers knew at the time what a "token" of paper was, or how much per 1000 "ems" the proprietors of the sheet were paying for their writings. Any intelligent publisher of a newspaper in this State, knows that the price paid for public printing is not any too high at present. Undoubtedly there are abuses in the giving out of contracts by the Legislature, individual members of which, not knowing what a "token," "em" or "folio," is, gives a contract to a favorite friend, who charges for the work performed only that which the law allows. We believe there are tons of useless pamphlets thus printed at the State's expense, which help swell the large amount yearly expended for State printing, and which annually causes the "reform" howl from new members. There are far greater abuses existing in the Legislature, in the way of fees, etc. But, of course, the printers are the first to be struck at. It is time the publishers struck back. The Times desires all the advertising it can get by just such "free notices" as this one, and if there was any foundation for its attack on a certain class of persons to remedy a so called evil, THE CONSTITUTIONALIST would be among the first to sanction its cause and assist in the enterprise. Its "reform" movement seems to us to be a personal one. This is our view of it.

THE LEGISLATURE.

TRENTON, January 30.—Senator Carpenter, (Dem.) called up the concurrent resolution this morning providing for a joint meeting to elect a State Comptroller. Every Republican voted against it, and the meeting will probably not be held for a long time.

The report of the Printing Committee from which so much was expected, was made in the Senate to-day and simply decides that the spoils shall be distributed in the old style.

The Governor sent in the following nominations, which were referred: Port Warden, Camden, W. C. Scudder; Hudson, John Curtis; Harbor Master, Elizabeth, Oliver Conlon; Commissioners of Pilotage, James Parker, W. M. Gamble; Judges of the Inferior Courts of Common Pleas—Atlantic, Joseph Scull; Burlington, Clayton A. Black; Cape May, Somers Gandy; Gloucester, Sam. T. Miller; Ocean, Richard H. Conover; Somerset, John M. Garretson; Sussex, Hiram C. Clark. These are all re-nominations and will undoubtedly be confirmed.

Other bills extend the time for the completion of railroads four years and authorize cities to sell water-works. Mr. Paxton's bill, reducing the number of Pilot Commissioners and decreasing their fees to 2 per cent. of the fees received by the pilots, passed the Senate without opposition.

In the House to-day a long discussion took place over the Senate bill for the prevention of cruelty to children, Mr. Cator strongly opposing it on the ground that it works injury to poor people by depriving them of the proceeds of the labor of their children. The bill, however, passed, with only six votes in opposition. Mr. Clarke's bill compelling telegraph and telephone companies to bury their wires in cities was amended so as to give the companies two years in which to make the change and then ordered to a third reading.

The Democrats held a caucus in the evening and nominated James F. Connolly, of Newark, for State Comptroller, on the fifth ballot.

The most important business transacted in the Assembly on Wednesday was the passage of McLaughlin's bill, which legalizes peaceful strikes. After the railroad excitement of two or three Summers ago an act was passed making strikes illegal, and Mr. McLaughlin's act is practically a repealer of that. Another bill making an important change in the existing jury law was pushed through the House. It makes the verdict of nine members of a jury after six hours of disagreement a verdict of the whole jury. Mr Parsons introduced a constitutional amendment that makes a two thirds vote necessary to override the Governor's veto. As the law stands now the veto can be overridden by the same vote that passed the bill originally.

Mr. Parsons introduced a sweeping act regulating the sale of liquors. It requires each liquor dealer to file a bond of $2,500 as a guarantee for the maintenance of good order and makes the license fees for the sale of malt liquors from $100 to $200 and for spirituous liquors from $200 to $500, according to the location of saloons. The bill also prohibits the sale of liquor to minors.

* * *

Again it is "license" or "no license."

THAT $500 ORDINANCE.

We have always been in favor of a revenue from liquor licenses, to be used in conducting the proper affairs of the city, but do not believe in an extreme revenue for such purpose, because of the traffic engaged in. In our opinion the license fees for the sale of liquor were high enough in this city, before the Common Council passed the recent Ordinance raising the fees to $500 for each applicant for saloon license, or $300 for hotel license. No good to the temperance cause, or benefit to the city, can come from its passage. The Councilmen voting for the measure had their own peculiar ideas about it, but we doubt if their action or votes are endorsed by a majority of the people of Plainfield, who elected them. Already three of the Councilmen, who are license men, express themselves as determined to vote against granting all liquor licenses if the obnoxious ordinance is not repealed. Their action, by so doing, will deprive the Council of a large revenue which it must have to successfully conduct the affairs of the city. Their action, nevertheless, is upheld by a large number of our citizens, who feel that it is more of an imposition than an act of justice, to levy this high revenue on a certain class of people. The license fee of $200 for hotels and $200 for saloons, which has been in existence and force here for years, is higher than that paid in any other city in this State.

STATE ITEMS.

George Pullen, who killed James Dunn in Trenton, November last pleaded guilty and was sentenced to ten years imprisonment. He was indicted for manslaughter.

The grand Jury of Hudson county, N. J., have indicted Bolce, Shaw and Beach, the officers of the broken City Bank of Jersey City for embezzlement. Their trial is set down for February 5.

Charges are made in the City Council at Camden that there has been a misapplication of funds in the Street Department. A committee of three was appointed to investigate the department.

The Delaware and Raritan Canal and the Camden and Amboy Railroad and Transportation companies, give notice that the principal and interest of the bonds of the $1,700,000 loan, maturing Feb. 1, will be paid on that date.

The Grand Army of the Republic of New Jersey held its annual session at Trenton on Thursday of last week. The Grand Commander reported that there were now about 5,000 members in the State, an increase of over 600 for the year. Over $6,000 was distributed during the year for charitable purposes. A banquet was given.

They consume a good deal of whisky in Hackettstown for a no-license town. It is said, with how much truth we do not know, that there is more drunkenness there now than there was when all the hotels had licenses; always a back-door open through which those who want to evade the law may do so with comparative safety.

Peter Ballantine, the head of the great brewing firm of Ballantine & Sons, died on the 23d inst. in the city of Newark, at the advanced age of 92 years. He was born in Scotland, came to this country in his youth and started business in Newark in 1840. Mr. Ballantine was a member of the First Reformed Church of Newark, and was very wealthy at the time of his decease.

At Elizabeth, Judge Van Syckle of the Supreme Court, read a long opinion Monday, concurred in by Judges Depew and Reed, in relation to the controversy in regard to Sheriff Forsyth's delay in renewing his bonds when entering upon his second year in office. The opinion holds that the failure of the Sheriff to renew his bonds does not create a vacancy in the office or render his acts illegal.

Wm. Biese, the colored man who was convicted of manslaughter for the shooting of David Dougherty in a fight last Spring, was sentenced to six months and a day in the State Prison. Petitions from the jury and from a number of prominent citizens were presented for leniency. Judge Van Syckle, in passing sentence, said that there were mitigating circumstances in the case and he charged the prosecutor to have the persons who assaulted Biese brought before the Grand Jury.

The following singular story was told the other day by a gentleman who had been visiting in the vicinity of Hamburg, N. J.: "A daughter of Charles Munson, of Hamburg, died and was laid out in the usual way. Her mother went to attend to the corpse and thought she felt some warmth in the body. A physician was sent for and the girl raised up in her coffin, which so scared her father that he fell down stairs and was killed; the girl fell back again and finally breathed her last.

Engineer Baker, who ran trains 93 and 94 on the Morris Railroad, is said to be in a bad fix. A man so old that he had a daughter married a few months ago, three or four young ladies are said to have sued him for breach of promise to marry them all—and he has a wife living. He was arrested the other day while about to start from Hoboken with his train and they had to get another man to run it. It is said he is out now on bail of $5,000 to appear in court to answer to the suit of one of the young girls aforesaid.

The Philadelphia Record of last Monday contained the following: "George Headley, of New Egypt, Ocean county, N. J., is afflicted with a loathsome disease, resembling leprosy, which has thus far baffled the efforts of the local physicians to cure. Mr. Headley has been the village blacksmith for many years, and is well known among the Grangers of that section, who feel very sorry for their old friend. Six years have elapsed since Mr. Headley became smitten with the unknown malady, but it has only been during the last six months that it has assumed such proportions as to compel him to take to his bed. Within the last half year he has lost seventy-five pounds of flesh, and his attenuated form clearly indicates the suffering he has been obliged to undergo. When forced to give up business his entire body was covered with scales which peeled off at the slightest touch. The skin was blood red and the scales after leaving the body retained the same color for an hour, whereupon they would turn white. Many of the scales were as large as a [illegible]. Now they are much smaller, which is thought to be due to the loss of flesh. Every morning when the sheets of the bed are removed the scales that have fallen off of the body during the night are enough to fill a dust pan. The victim has not a sore on his body, which is one of the reasons advanced by the attending physicians for declaring that it is not a case of leprosy. The neighbors visit the patient's family daily, but none of them have yet been afflicted with the disease.

Treasurer Vincent, of Alabama, has disappeared from Montgomery. The State legislative committee report that he is short about $[illegible] in his accounts.

* * *

An explosion of gas on Saturday last in a man-hole of the American Steam Heating Company at the corner of Broadway and Maiden Lane, injured two persons.

* * *

The frequent explosion of steam and gas pipes in the business streets of New York renders a walk there very much like sauntering around the smoldering crater of Vesuvius.

* * *

Comptroller Anderson, in his excellent report, after making his estimates based on present laws, figures out a surplus of $111,925 for the coming year without resorting to a State tax.

* * *

According to the figures prepared by Mr. McPherson, Clerk of the House of U. S. Representatives, the next House will be composed of 120 Republicans, 6 Readjusters, 2 Greenback-Labor, 5 Independents and 192 Democrats.

* * *

The first law made this year is Senate bill No. 27, introduced by Mr. Stalosby. The act, which was signed by Governor Ludlow, alters the existing one with regard to sales of lands under public statute, by making two instead of four weeks' advertisement sufficient.

* * *

The citizen with a bandaged eye, Westward bound on a Washington train, upon being interrogated as to his mishap, frankly admitted that it was only the result of a slight unpleasantness caused by his asking a non-re-elected Congressman what prospect there was for another River and Harbor bill.

* * *

"Oh for a land where wives are dutiful and husbands are good!" "Oh for a land where the milkmen do not skim the milk on top and then turn it over and skim it on the bottom!" were the frantic words of a lecturer before a New York audience the other night. At last accounts echoing voices still reverberated through that deserted hall—Not here! Not here!

* * *

At Morristown, Jan. 29, the trial of James Treglown for the murder of Sarah Missie Chirgwin, at Port Oram, in June last, began before Judge Magie. The testimony of Dr. Condict, who conducted the post mortem examination, showed that the girl died from drowning. A witness testified to finding the body in the Morris Canal, where it is alleged, Treglown drowned her. The prosecution has thirty witnesses.

New Jersey's Free Masons.

The ninety-sixth annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, was concluded at Taylor Hall Assembly rooms Thursday last. Two new Lodges were granted warrants, Keystone Lodge of Linwood, Atlantic county, and Beethoven Lodge of Paterson, to work in the German language.

The following Grand officers were elected for the ensuing year:

M. W. Grand Master—Rev. Henry Vehslage, of No. 10.

Deputy Grand Master—Joseph W. Congdon, of No. 88.

Senior Grand Warden—James A. Norton, of No. 67.

Junior Grand Warden—Henry S. Haines, of No. 32.

Grand Treasurer—Chas. Bechtel, of No. 5.

Grand Secretary—Joseph H. Hough, of No. 76.

Deputy Grand Secretary—Thomas H. R. Redway, of No. 19.

Grand Chaplain—Rev. G. W. Murray, of No. 130.

Grand Senior Deacon—Benj. B. Ayerigg, of No. 67.

Grand Junior Deacon—Chas. E. Hill, of No. 1.

Grand Marshal—Charles Ross, of No. 33.

Senior Grand Steward—John C. Kenyon, of No. 66.

Junior Grand Steward—John Lilly, of No. 12.

Grand Sword Bearer—S. V. C. Van Rensselaer, of No. 107.

Grand Pursuivant—A. M. Loudenslager, of No. 75.

Grand Instructor—Heber Wells, of No. 88.

Grand Tyler—Gilbert B. Slack, of No. 50.

Organist—Florian Oborski, of No. 29.

The following is the list of the District Deputies.

First—Albert F. Randolph, Bridgeton; Second—Charles H. Mann, Haddonfield; Third—Charles J. Hazard, Hightstown; Fourth—Wm. J. Carlington, Red Bank; Fifth—Wm. J. Hamilton, Roselle; Sixth—Charles H. Brinkerhoff, Newark; Seventh—Richard H. Chipman, Jersey City; Eighth—Joseph Greers, Paterson; Ninth—George W. Fitzgeorge, East Orange; Tenth—Johnathan M. Harris, Phillipsburg.

Martin Isler, Newark, German District.

The officers were installed in due form and the Grand Lodge adjourned.

FIRE MATTERS.

The members of Zephyr H. & L. Co. were agreeably surprised by a number of their friends, last Wednesday evening. The house was taken possession of and dancing and other social pleasures were kept up until the next morning.

At about 8:30 o'clock of Monday evening, an attempt was made to fire a shed in the rear of Gazelle Engine House. A lady living in an adjoining house saw two men leave the building just before the fire was discovered, and a quantity of lighted paper etc., was found on the spot.

Ex-City Judge Runyon discovered the attempt of an incendiary to fire a barn on Richmond street near Fourth, last Friday evening. A bunch of cotton waste soaked in some inflammable liquid had been lighted and suspended inside of the building, and as the burning particles dropped to the floor the fire was started. The occupants of the adjoining house and neighbors were notified, and by their efforts the flames were extinguished.

We unintentionally did the Zephyr Hook & Ladder Co., a wrong in our report of the "Fort House fire" last week, by saying it arrived too late to be of any assistance. The fact of the matter is, it arrived "on the scene" before any of the rest of the Department apparatus, and—as is always the case—its members were among the most earnest in their efforts to save the burning building. The mistake on our part arose for the reason that the Truck arrived before our expeditious reporter and the latter waited for it in vain.

At about three o'clock of Monday afternoon, Mr. D. S. Roberts, proprietor of Laing's Hotel stables, discovered a fire that had started in the upper part of No. 2 Engine House. He called to his assistance some of the Company's members, and by their aid and that of a hand pump and hose, the conflagration was arrested. The cause of the fire is unknown. It started in the bedroom of Steadman, the janitor of the house, which had not been entered, it is said, since the evening before. The supposition is that a lighted cigar had been carelessly dropped on the floor, as the corner of the room occupied by the bed which was then [illegible].

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Our ice merchants have all their houses filled with fine thick ice.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas [illegible] Miller arrived at their home on Friday last, from their wedding tour.

William Clark, one of our old residents on Mountain avenue, is lying seriously ill at Elizabeth.

There was a Union Temperance meeting held in the M. E. church on Sunday evening. It was addressed by Mr. Dio Lewis.

Spelman and Stager have removed from their old quarters on Broad street to their newly erected shop on Quimby street.

The Town Committee held a meeting on Thursday evening for the purpose of finishing the settlement of the overseer of roads' bills and all others against the Township, prior to the making out of the annual financial statement.

The lecture on the Eyes and Ears, advertised for last Saturday evening, was very thinly attended owing to the storm prevailing at that time. The proceeds were for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church.

On Saturday evening last the new fire company held a meeting in the Lyceum rooms, perfected their articles of incorporation, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Foreman—J. E. Pennington; First Ass't—P. Traynor; Second Ass't—T. H. Love; Secretary—G. H. Peck; Treasurer—Ed. Hart, Jr. The name of the new company is Empire Engine Company No. 2.

Wm. Blake, a carpenter, residing on Cumberland street, who has been to work in New York city for some time past with the Metropolitan Telephone Co., cut himself seriously on Monday last with a large carpenter's chisel in the leg just below the knee, making a very painful and serious wound. He was brought to his home on Monday afternoon. He is doing as well as can be expected, but probably will be lame for life.

On Monday evening Lewis Theise, while driving down Westfield avenue, 7 o'clock, saw a bright light in Mr. Edward Harbison's cellar. He thought something was wrong, and on getting out of his wagon and going to the house he discovered that a lamp had exploded which had been left standing on the refrigerator. The fire was put out with old carpets and a few pails of water. But for the timely discovery of Mr. Theise we might have had to record a serious conflagration.

A movement is on foot for the organization of a Fire Department in our town of which we have none as yet, there now being three organizations separate and distinct from each other. It is a wise movement that should have been started some time ago. Instead of wrangling among the different companies, all should be harmony. Having the public safety from fire in their minds, and the best means for suppressing it, they should remember this can only be accomplished by a good organized department with an efficient head of which we have many among us who have belonged to the old volunteer fire department of New York city.

There has been for the past few weeks a serious disorder among the horses owned by a number of our residents, which seems to be an affection of the throat, acting upon the horse similar to diptheria on a human being. It is called by some of our veterinary surgeons Paralysis of the throat, and it is impossible for the animal when attacked by the disease to eat or swallow anything, and they linger a few days and die. Albert A. Drake, Esq. has lost four valuable horses with the disease within two weeks, and he has one or two more sick. Our tinsmith Mahlon H. Ferris has a valuable horse very sick with the same disease, which is beyond recovery.

DEATHS.

CHAMBERLIN—In this city, Jan. 26, 1883, Peter T. Chamberlin, aged 83 years, 3 months, 5 days. Services at house, 5th street, between Liberty and Plainfield ave., Friday at 2 o'clock.

FLAIG—In this city, Jan. 29, 1883, of diphtheria, Marie, daughter of Solomon Flaig, aged 3 years, 1 month, 9 days.

REAL—In Hartford, Conn., Jan. 28, 1883, of bronchitis, Andrew Real, aged 30 years. Interment in Plainfield.

RANDOLPH—Entered into rest in this city, Jan. 27, 1883, of paralysis, Sarah F. Randolph, in her [illegible] year.

CARROLL—At Dunellen, Lawrence Carroll, Jan. 4, 1883, aged 65 years. Interment in this city.

CLARK—Suddenly, in this city, Mary Clark, Jan. 30th, 1883, aged 63 years.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.

A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c., constantly in stock at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.

Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.

Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
Geo. C. Ford. Geo. M. Stiles.

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 10 Park avenue (John Routen's Hair Store). Residence, No. 11 Third st., cor. New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
40½ West Front St.
Warerooms—Front St., opp. Washington ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave. & 2d St., Plainfield.
Have a
"General Line of Groceries,"
[illegible]
"Gem" a New Process Flour,
[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Applications for Liquor License.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., [illegible]
[illegible]
W. L. HETFIELD,
City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE

To amend an Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to License Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors, adopted February 1st, 1874, (amended March 2, 1875.)"

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

[illegible]

Adopted by the Common Council Jan. 29, 1883.
Approved Jan. 30, 1883.
WM. R. MAXSON, Mayor.
Attest: WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED

STOMACH
BITTERS

[illegible] broken down in health and spirits by chronic dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion that follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is a sure guarantee that, by the same means you, too, may be strengthened and restored.

For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY
TO GET A
Life Size Crayon Portrait
in free hand for the unprecedented small sum of Twelve Dollars!
By the well-known artist,
SIDNEY E. FLOWER,

Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 30 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo. or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Hand in orders early at Studio or Estil's bookstore, for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

TO LOVERS OF GOOD MUSIC!

On Monday evening, February 5th, 1883, a Vocal and Instrumental Concert will be given at Vandevenier's Hall, which you are respectfully invited to attend. [illegible]

PART I.

1. Overture—"Martha" .... Flotow.
2. Song—"The Bell Ringer," .... V. Wallace.
3. Sonata, Op. [illegible]—"Theme and Variations," .... [Beethoven].
4. Song—"I seek for thee in every flower," W. Ganz.
5. Trio for Violin, Piano and Organ—"[illegible]" .... Stradella.

PART II.

6. Solo for Violin—"Nocturne" .... Chopin.
7. Song—"The Warrior Bold," .... Sullivan.
8. Song—"Jesus, lover of my soul," .... Gounod.
9. Duet—"The Fleet," .... Millar.
10. Trio for Violin, Piano and Organ—"Traviata," arranged by .... Lettever.

WANTS and INFORMATION

20 Cents for one insertion of 4 lines. [illegible]

LOST—In this city on Thursday morning, Feb. 1st, a gentleman's Fur Driving Glove. A liberal reward will be paid the finder by leaving the same at this office.

FARM FOR SALE—Of 60 or more acres; with stock, crops, and all farm implements. [illegible] Plainfield. [illegible]

WANTED—A competent protestant girl to do general housework. [illegible] P. O. Box [illegible], Plainfield, N. J.

A SMALL amount of money to loan on bond and mortgage, at 6 per cent. Apply to law office of W. N. Stillman, [illegible] West Front St.

HOUSE WANTED—April 1st, in Plainfield, North Plainfield preferred. Small family. [illegible]

A COMPETENT lady Stenographer desires a position as amanuensis. Address, D. F. Lindsley, Plainfield, N. J., or [illegible] Broadway, New York.

FOR RENT—Furnished house, 11 rooms, [illegible]

FOR SALE—A complete house, newly fitted [illegible]

AN OLD ESTABLISHED PHOTOGRAPHIC Gallery for rent in Stillman's block. [illegible]

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Fanwood, N. J. [illegible]

WANTED—[illegible]

WANTED TO RENT—[illegible]

BOARD AT 21 EAST FRONT STREET—[illegible]

GRANDFATHERS' CLOCKS—[illegible]

[illegible] FOR SALE—[illegible]

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET [illegible] MRS. F. DUNN.

BOARD can be had in a private family, [illegible]

[illegible]

A [illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S

A New Invoice of

SHIRTING CAMBRIC.

One lot of Gents' Linen Handkerchiefs, Plain and Bordered.

BOUGHT SINCE THE LATE DECLINE IN PRICES.

Don't forget that we are Headquarters for

LADIES' UNDERWEAR!

Full line Children's Black Hose. Fleece-lined. Fine quality.

A Bone Corset, - - - -	49 cts.
Corded Corsets, - - -	75 "
Corded Corsets, - - -	$1.00
French Fine Corsets, - -	1.25
Roth's Double-bone do. -	1.25

COTTAGE DRAPERY!
Various sized Dots.

Ladies who have been waiting for our Kitchen Towel can now be furnished. Lot limited.

G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

HORSES & MULES!

Fresh Arrivals Every Week!

CONSISTING OF Phaeton Ponies,
Coachers,
Trotters,
Drivers,
Saddlers,
Workers—Large and Small.

MULES OF ALL KINDS!

Low priced Horses not suitable for pavements, from $75 to $150,

To select from all the Time!

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED!

Horses delivered to any part of the State.

PRICES REASONABLE!

John W. Morris,
Rector st., Newark, New Jersey.

Dr. J. Jay Villers,
THE CELEBRATED
American Humorist,
WILL GIVE AN ENTERTAINMENT IN THE
Park Ave. Baptist Church
Monday, February 5th,
For benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of
THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.
Subject:—"FUNNY PEOPLE WE MEET."

Admission, - - - - - - - - Fifty Cents.

Tickets at Reynolds' Pharmacy, where seats can be reserved without extra charge, or at the Church on the night of entertainment.

Doors open at 7.45. [illegible] Commence at 8.

Course of Six Lessons in Cookery
WILL BE GIVEN IN THE
Y. M. C. Association Hall,
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
[illegible]

Live Chickens Wanted
AT TAYLOR'S MARKET,
[illegible] PARK AVENUE.
[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Make a note of this!

DON'T FORGET THE AUCTION
Sale of Carpets, Beds, Bedding, etc.,
at the Mansion House, on
Monday afternoon next,
The Fifth instant, at 3 p. m.
Sales will be held every Monday,
same hour and place until all is sold.

Slaughter! Slaughter!
IN THE PRICE OF CLOTHING!

Overcoats	$3.50,	former	price,	$5.00.
"	4.50,	"	"	6.50.
"	5.00,	"	"	7.50.
"	8.00.	"	"	10.50.
"	9.00,	"	"	14.00.

Scotch Cheviot suits at $12, former price, $18.

Youth's Overcoat $4, former price, $6 50.

S. C. LILIENSTERN,
The Leading Plainfield Clothier and Merchant Tailor,
22 West Front Street, - Plainfield, N. J.

A. VANDERBEEK,
(Chautauqua Building.)
No. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DEALER IN
Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments,
Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, dated January [illegible], A. D., 1883, the subscriber, administrator of [illegible], deceased, will expose for sale at public vendue, on the premises, in the city of Plainfield, county of Union, and State of New Jersey, on MONDAY THE TWELFTH DAY OF MARCH NEXT.
[illegible]
THEODORE M. FRENCH, Administrator.
Dated Jan. [illegible], 1883.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey—Between Mary Ann Hall, complainant, and [illegible], defendants. [illegible]
WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF MARCH, A. D. 1883,
[illegible]
THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate Agent!
[illegible] NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Houses Rented and Collections Made and prompt returns.
[illegible]

MISS MAMIE KUNKEL,
[illegible]
The Young American Prima Donna,
WILL APPEAR IN PLAINFIELD.
During the ensuing Spring for the benefit of a Roman Catholic Charity.

R. W. MANAFFEE'S
EXPRESS.
Furniture & Goods Removed
[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 4 West Front st., Plainfield.

All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing

Made to Order and Ready Made,

From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boy's. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing

Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.

FREE [illegible]

Fine Butter & Cheese
Fresh Fish of All Kinds.
Taylor's Cash Meat Market
[illegible]
Elgin Creamery Butter
[illegible]
N. J. RANDOLPH,
Manager.
No. 34 Park ave.

FOREST and STREAM
And Rod and Gun!
THE AMERICAN SPORTSMAN'S JOURNAL!

A twenty-eight page weekly Journal, devoted to the interests of Gentlemen Sportsmen, and their Families. Treats of Natural History, Shooting, Yachting and Canoeing, Fishculture, the Kennel, Fishing, the Rifle, and all gentlemanly outdoor sports. It is without a rival. Price, Four Dollars a year. Try it. A Specimen copy will be sent post-paid for six cents. For sale by newsdealers everywhere.

Forest and Stream Publishing Company,
New York City.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY, AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

On for an Opera House!

New moon, next Wednesday.

Easter Sunday, March 25th.

Have you taken your house for another year?

We are having exceedingly pleasant Tuesdays.

Next Wednesday is "Ash Wednesday," and Lent begins.

Regular meeting of the Common Council, next Monday evening.

The Council at its meeting of Monday evening, had a large audience.

Two incendiary fires within a few days is the latest record of the "bugs" in this city.

Look out for sneak thieves in your houses, when fires are started in the neighborhood.

February's commutation tickets are of a new style. The numbers are further apart and are placed around the four sides.

The Saengerbund Masquerade at its rooms, Wednesday evening, the 21st inst., will be—as it always is—the event of the season.

Now if the ice worm doesn't get to fooling around, consumers may expect to luxuriate in the commodity next summer at a low cost.

Tickets for Villers' lecture at the Park Avenue Baptist Church next Monday evening, and reserved seats, may be secured at Reynolds' Pharmacy.

The members of the Saengerbund and their families enjoyed themselves hugely at a private entertainment held in the Secretary's rooms, Monday evening.

While engaged in tearing down a building during Thursday of last week, Charles Westphal, a carpenter of this city had his foot crushed by some falling timbers.

Our Health Board is called upon by a correspondent in this issue, to give its attention to the matter of inspecting the milk left at our back-doors by the early dairymen.

It tried hard to snow Monday. Several slight flurries reminded one that six more snows are due and owing, but the wind and temperature interfered and it was snow use.

A correspondent elsewhere gives her view of the rights of women to the seats in the ferry boats, and another is curious regarding the disposition of dog taxes in the past.

Mr. Stephen B. Todd, a well-known resident of this vicinity, and owner of a large part of Dunellen, died at that place during Friday of last week. His funeral occurred on Sunday.

A fashion item says that the favorite color of undressed kids for street wear is dark tan. The fashion originated in Africa, where all the undressed kids seen in the streets are dark tan color.—[illegible].

The unusual opportunity will be presented, next Monday evening, of enjoying the humorous sayings and facial contortions of J. Jay Villers. He will lecture on "Funny People We Meet," at the Park Avenue Church.

City Judge Good, Tuesday morning, dealt out justice to the amount of $10 and 30 days in the case of a Plainfielder who had just finished a three months term in the County Jail. The charge was assault and battery.

A new five-cent nickel is to be issued a little larger and thicker than the present one. As it believed that made in this shape it will sound very much like a quarter, when deftly dropped on the contribution plate, the new coin will doubtless be very popular.

A seven year old lad, living just back of Arnold's grocery store on Somerset street, dragged a pan of boiling water off the kitchen stove Tuesday evening, and by accident spilt the contents over his brother, aged four. The chest of the little one was severely scalded.

It is said that a little strip of flat paper, torn from the edge of a newspaper, moistened in the lips, and drawn under the lid of a eye that is troubled from a locomotive spark or cinder, will, in nearly every case, removed it instantly. It is soft and the sufferer doesn't feel it.

During Monday morning, the horse of Freeholder Hubbard ran away from the corner of Front street, and Park avenue, through Somerset street into Craig Place, and along the sidewalk of the latter thoroughfare until stopped after completely wrecking the vehicle to which it was attached.

The Sunday Tattler of Jersey City is a new and newsy exchange that has just dropped in our sanctum. It is sparkling with the sort of humor and bristling with the kind of enterprise that should consummate its success. Its Trenton correspondence and gossip surpasses anything of the kind in the State.

Wiggins predicted the heavy snow storm which prevailed in Canada on the 29th. He also predicts a heavy snow storm on the 9th of February. That great storm of his, which is billed for 9th of March, he says will surely come, creating great damage to people along the Bay of Bengal and the Gulf of Mexico.

The new C. R. R. time table we spoke of last week, is issued. The only changes are: the adding of eight minutes to the time of the train that formerly left for New York at 2:25 p. m.; the arrival of the 11:44 a. m. train from New York, one minute later; and the Sunday morning train for New York now leaves at 10:38 instead of 10:36.

The Frenchtown Star is poking sharp sticks at its Borough's Councilmen for not cleaning the snow off their respective sidewalks, but read for yourself what the Star says: "All of our Borough Councilmen's zeal in cleaning off sidewalks is not commendable. If it were, this item would not be here. Example is more potent than—a printed ordinance, sometimes."

Some boys playing near the residence of Justice R. O. Horton, of North Plainfield, are supposed to have fired a leaden bullet that came through the kitchen window in close proximity to Mrs. Horton's head. No report of gun or pistol was heard, and consequently it seems probable motive power was furnished the missile by that dreadful weapon named the bean-shooter.

There was a welcome change in the weather Monday and Tuesday. It was warm and the ice began to melt rapidly. Many took advantage of the thaw and cleaned the ice off their sidewalks and out of their gutters. The person who had a dangerous sidewalk and failed to take the advantage of the opportunity offered to make it safe for their fellow citizens is deserving to be fined for willful neglect.

Lovers of good music are to be offered a rare treat in that line, at a concert to be given in VanDeventer Hall, next Monday evening. We publish the programme in full on our second page, showing that the selections have been made with unusual judgment and that the talent engaged is far above the average. The intention of the managers of the affair is to give a first-class entertainment, and any surplus after paying the necessary expenses of the scheme, will be devoted to a charitable object.

On for an Opera House?

The Rev. E. H. Bright of Broadway, lies dangerously ill at his residence of erysipelas.

Even the "Presbyterian" who so persistently criticizes the taking of a collection at a recent church funeral, must send his or her real name before the correspondence can be published.

Miss Corson's series of six lessons in cooking began at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, yesterday. Those not desiring to attend the entire Course may pay for admission to single lessons at the door.

A theatrical company called the "Eviction Combination" visited our city Wednesday evening and commenced a play that the managers probably intend giving elsewhere "with great success."

An eight-year old son of Wm. Frisse of North Plainfield, while playing on Tier's Lake near the Elm street bridge Wednesday, broke through the ice and was rescued by Lo. Hanlon who happened to pass as the lad was sinking for the last time.

The heirs at law of Mrs. Mary A. Pullman are contesting her will before the Orphan's Court of Union county. Mrs. Pullman died last Fall in the Morris Plains Insane Asylum, but the will was made some time before she was declared insane and confined in that institution.

Ex-City Attorney Kimball, as counsel for the school board of Plainfield, has just obtained from Judge Van Syckel at Trenton a rule to show cause why a mandamus should not issue against County Collector Sheridan compelling the latter to hand back $6,366 77 of school moneys applied to make up the city's quota of State and County taxes for 1879.

Our contemporary, The Central Times, with commendable zeal in the cause of temperance, places the date of the expiration of liquor licenses, one day ahead of the provisions of the Ordinance governing the matter. Whether its claim that all saloons—even those whose applications for renewals are before the Council—that sell while action on their licenses for the coming year is pending, are illegally selling, is a question that the opinion of even The Central Times will not settle.

Amateur Theatricals.

During Tuesday evening next at Van Deventer Hall, the Home Dramatic Club will tender Warren Engine Co., No. 3, a grand complimentary benefit, at which will be presented the highly romantic melodrama, "Michael Earle, or the Maniac Lover." The cast of characters includes the amateur talent of this city, and the play will undoubtedly be given in a most creditable manner. The performance will conclude with the enjoyable farce, "Domestic Troubles." Tickets at 25, 35 and 50 cents may be had of members or at Miller's Drug Store.

The N. J. C. R. R., Latest Deal.

At the Jersey Central meeting, Monday, permission was granted the Lehigh Valley road to use 3½ miles of the former's track at Bound Brook. The Lehigh Valley people seem desirous of making a connection with the Newark and New York Branch of the Central road, to come into the L. V. property at Communipaw. To that end, it is now regarded merely as a matter of time, when the Lehigh Valley will cross the Pennsylvania Railway's track at or near Waverly, skirt the lower side of Newark, and carry out their intention of using the Newark and New York road to Communipaw.

A Lighthouse Keeper's Escape.

On the highest peak of the hills of the Highlands of Navesink, New Jersey, stand the famous twin light-houses. During the early storms of last week Job Smith, the assistant keeper, was imprisoned there for four consecutive days keeping lights burning through the dense fogs that veiled the coast for that period. While thus engaged Smith had a narrow escape from a terrible death. The lard-oil which is used in the great lanterns of the Fresnel light is easily chilled, and the night being very cold it was necessary to apply heat to the pipe through which the oil passes to the burners. Smith used the ordinary alcohol flambeau provided for that purpose. Standing directly underneath the lantern he held the flambeau above his head. From some unexplained cause the top of the alcohol holder became detached, and the fluid, which ignited, poured down upon his head. He rushed down the tower into the main building and out of doors, and throwing himself into a snow bank he succeeded in extinguishing the flames. His hair and beard were singed and his clothing was burned and scorched, while about his face and hands he received painful injuries. Returning to the light-house he succeeded in lighting both the lamps and nursed his burns while keeping watch over them during the night. In the morning he succeeded in signalling to the lower Highlands for assistance. The head keeper was summoned and Smith was conveyed to his home. Although he will be disfigured for life his condition is not critical.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

List of topics can be had of the Secretary upon application at the rooms.

The next entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. Course, will consist of Readings by the remarkable Elocutionist, Charles Roberts, Jr. The date is Feb. 23d, in the M. E. Church.

On this (Thursday) evening the monthly meeting of the Board of Managers will be held in the parlor. It is desired that every member of the Board will be present, as considerable important business is to be transacted.

New Jersey now has six General Secretaries in its field. Four have been added in the past five months. A conference of the Secretaries will be held in Newark on Friday, Feb. 16th, to which association workers are invited.

The Amusement room is now well patronized. The boys are now in need of more games. Who will remember them in their want? It is hoped to have this room in first-class order soon; and an attraction to all game loving young men.

The young men's prayer and song meeting on Monday night was attended by between fifty and sixty young men. Much interest was manifest. Will the young men remember this meeting on next Monday evening? Subject will be "Parting promises of Christ."

The Bible class on Saturday evenings is increasing in numbers as well as interest. On Saturday evening of this week the class will be held in the parlor as usual. The study is informal and all are permitted to take part. Young men are cordially invited to attend.

Monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board of Directors will be held at the rooms on Monday, Feb. 5th, at 3 p. m. The ladies have some plans to put into operation to increase the interest in the work. It is hoped all the Board will be present.

Strangers in the city are always welcome to the rooms and all the privileges therein. Come in at any time. Remember that the rooms are open from 9 a. m. to 10:30 p. m., and on Sundays from 9 to 10:15 a. m. The reading room is becoming too small to accommodate them who daily visit it.

On Tuesday evening the fourth monthly reception for young men was held and attended by about 125 young people. The reception was pronounced a grand success by all who attended. Every young man was made to feel at home and that there was a welcome place for him at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. A short programme was carried out which added much to the interest.

Personals.

Mr. Charles H. [illegible], a former resident of Plainfield, in company with his friend, Henry P. [illegible], Assistant County Treasurer of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent a [illegible] on [illegible] Island, Mr. Chas. [illegible] White, of this city on Wednesday last.

Julian Scott, the artist, is engaged on a picture representing a well-known homeopathic resident and physician of this city, at ease among his family. When complete this painting will be a gem.

New Jersey Baptists.

The Baptists of this State are divided into five associations: The West Jersey, with 49 churches, 63 ordained and 10 licensed ministers and 5,561 members. Central New Jersey, with 25 churches, 24 ordained and 3 licensed ministers and 3,790 members. East New Jersey, with 46 churches, 59 ordained and 3 licensed ministers and 6,960 members. North New Jersey, with 41 churches, 40 ordained and 12 licensed ministers and 6,305 members. Trenton, with 23 churches, 20 ordained and 7 licensed ministers and 3,499 members. Total—Churches, 179; ordained ministers, 197; licentiates, 35; members, 26,606. Average membership to church 152.

Grand Army of the Republic.

The Grand Army of the Republic of New Jersey closed its annual encampment at Trenton on Friday last. The following officers were elected: Grand Commander, Gen. E. Fielder, of Jersey City; Senior Vice Commander, Alex. M. Way of New Brunswick; Junior Vice Commander, W. H. Miller of Camden; Medical Director, Dr. W. W. L. Phillips of Trenton; Chaplain, Rev. J. L. Davis of Orange; Delegate-at-Large to National Encampment, W. G. White of Vineland; Delegates—W. B. Titus, C. P. Nicholas, J. P. Yerkes, L. W. Parkhurst, J. W. Thompson; Council of Administration—C. P. Nicholas, F. Riley, R. A. Peloubet, Charles Burroughs, W. H. Rightman.

The Baltimore and Ohio and the Reading.

There is a point in the connection with the new Vanderbilt coal roads which is not known. The trunk line system composed of the Lake Shore, Erie, South Pennsylvania, Philadelphia and Reading, and the New Jersey Central is to be controlled by Vanderbilt, but the Baltimore and Ohio road will be given a New York outlet over it. This will be done on account of the friendship between Presidents Garrett and Gowen. The manner in which the Baltimore and Ohio will get into New York is by means of a road it is now building from Baltimore northward to join a feeder of the Reading which runs out from Philadelphia. The Jersey Central will then be used to New York. The connection will be completed in a few months. This is not an idle rumor, but comes from a source which makes its reliability beyond a question. Vanderbilt has just placed $300,00 of the bonds and stock of the Pittsburg, Mc Keesport and Youghiogheny road in this city.—N. Y. World.

Salvini's Adieu to America.

On the 19th of February, Signor Salvini will commence a short engagement at the Academy of Music in New York. During his stay there he will appear in most of his great characters, especially "Othello." The engagement will also be marked by his first appearance in the grand tragic role of "King Lear." Signor Salvini is regarded as the greatest actor of the age, and the impression he has created wherever he has appeared, whether in this country or in Europe will last for many years to come. It is then with feelings of regret that Signor Salvini's Manager announces that the forthcoming performances of the great Italian artist will be the last he will give on the American stage, and they will partake somewhat of the nature of an adieu to a country and a people from whom he has so frequently received marks of approval and appreciation for the excellence of impersonations. The reputation Salvini has acquired for his matchless presentation of "Othello," is world-wide, and as the one hundredth performance of the play, with Salvini in the title role, will occur during the approaching engagement at the Academy of Music, the event will be recognized by the presentation of a beautiful souvenir to commemorate it. The greatest care will be taken by the management to make the final performances of Salvini memorable and worthy of his farewell as an artist to the American people.

They Say

That the "Salvation Army" will visit Plainfield next week.

That there are now seven votes in the Council against granting licenses to sell liquor.

That Commissioner of Alms Vanderbeck is the best Overseer of the Poor the City ever had.

That in spite of all that he will not be reappointed.

That we are to have an early Spring.

And "Free Rum!"

That some women who "demand" the seats in the ferry boats, are better able to stand than the men who have worked hard all day to earn the money these same women have spent in "shopping."

That many of these "afflicted" maidens will spend the day gazing in store windows and the night in round-dancing.

That young (and old) brides should not neglect sending for "The Household," as advertised on our second page.

That ice has already been harvested in great plenty.

That, nevertheless, the price will be raised next Summer, "in consequence of its scarcity."

That Vennor was correct two days out of a possible thirty-one, last month.

That the owner of the mate to the red mitten left at this office, is welcome to the same.

That this year's peach crop will be a total failure.

That the names of the streets should be painted on the corner lamps.

That there isn't a housekeeper in Plainfield that could not learn something by attending Miss Corson's lessons in Cooking.

That New Jersey is furnishing New York aristocrats with strawberries at $10 a basket and peaches at $2 each.

That many of our residents neglected to clear off their sidewalks during Tuesday's thaw.

That Plainfield could be lighted by electricity with no additional expense.

That the Netherwood Hotel will be opened during the coming Summer.

That those who attend the Second Annual Ball of Warren Hose Co., this (Thursday) evening, are having an immense time.

That you can purchase just the horse you want at J. W. Morris' stables in Newark.

That Alert's XIV Annual Reunion at Laing's Hotel, February 22d, will be the grandest of these grand affairs.

That delinquent taxpayers of personal property ought to remember that, by walking up to the Captain's office now they will save themselves money and the inconvenience of certain proceedings that are not agreeable to well-regulated men.

That one of the most difficult things to do is stand on your head on the ice, and yet every new skater tries to do it.

That the Lord certainly loves a cheerful giver, but not when a man throws a large copper cent into the contribution box.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

All present, and no [illegible]—communications received protesting against the granting of any liquor licenses—[illegible] applications referred to the Committee—Constable Moffett's bond approved—A little talk on the [illegible] question—Serious charges against the Gas Company—[illegible] appropriation made to procure the City Treasurer an iron box—Salaries recommended for adoption for the present year—The Ordinance to increase the liquor license fee, adopted—Regular meeting next Monday evening.

Monday Evening, Jan. 29th, 1883.

Council met pursuant to adjournment.

Present—Pres't. Livingston and Messrs. Boguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson and R. Simpson.—11.

Absent—None.

The minutes of the preceding meeting of the 15th inst., approved as read.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

Mr. Gardner presented a communication from the executive committee of the Plainfield Temperance Union, setting forth wherein seven of the applicants for liquor licenses failed to conform to the provisions of the ordinance.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, referred to License Committee.

Also a communication from the managers of the Children's Home and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, protesting against the granting of any licenses to sell liquor in Plainfield.

On motion of Mr. Jones, received and placed on file.

Mr. Gardner presented the application of Charles Zimmer for a saloon license at No. 19 West Front street; fourth ward.

Referred to Committee on Licenses.

Also another communication from the President and the executive committee of the Plainfield Temperance Union, furnishing evidence why the published applications of O'Donnel, Smith, Day, Sullivan, Bock, Thorn and Force, did not conform to the provisions of the ordinance in respect to their signers.

On motion of Mr. Polak, referred to the License Com. for investigation.

PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS.

By Mr. Boguelin, the claim of Earl Petersen, $12.

By Mr. Polak, the claim of the Plainfield Gas Light Co., $262,40.

Both the above referred to the proper committees.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By Mr. Boguelin, from the Alms Com., as correct the following claims: Charles Hyde, $37; Mrs. Gamberian, $3; Mrs. Randolph, $10.

Referred to Auditing Committee.

By Mr. Coriell, from the Laws Com., as correct the bond of Amos Moffett as constable.

On motion accepted, and the Clerk instructed to have the same recorded in the office of the County Clerk at Elizabeth.

Mr. Serrell asked whether all the bonds accepted by the Council had been so recorded.

Corporation Counsel Marsh stated that the bond of the City Treasurer had not.

Mr. Jones, from the Police Com., reported as correct the claim of P. Lynch, $6.75.

By Mr. R. Simpson, from the Streets Com., as correct the claim of A. V. Shotwell, $26.28.

Both the above referred to Aud. Com.

NEW BUSINESS.

Mr. Polak moved for adoption a resolution authorizing the City Clerk to advertise in the official papers for sealed proposals for furnishing gas, oil or other illuminating substance for lighting the streets during the present year. Such proposals to be sent in on or before the 12th of February, and opened by the Clerk in the presence of the Council.

Seconded by Mr. Coriell.

Mr. Marsh in speaking to the question, said that the City had been abused in the past few years in the lighting of its streets. That it had been paying $4,000 annually for a very poor quality of gas, and for more lights than were furnished. He stated that the City was being charged at that very time for lamps that were not burning.

Mr. Marsh moved to amend to the effect that the proposals be for lighting the streets until two o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Serrell upon seconding the amendment, spoke to the same effect as the previous speaker, and mentioned the location of four lamps that had not been lighted before, during the month, until that evening.

Messrs. Polak and Coriell spoke against the amendment—they thought the time should be left with the Lamps Com., to arrange as instructed by the Council after proposals had been received.

Mr. Jones moved as an amendment to the amendment, that the whole matter be referred back to the Com. on Lamps for it to make out specifications for gas or oil as the case may be, and for time.

Seconded by J. Simpson and carried.

The resolution as amended was then adopted.

Mr. Serrell asked that the Treasurer be authorized to purchase, at a cost not exceeding $15, a galvanized box in which to keep vouchers and other papers belonging to the city.

On motion, the Finance Com., was instructed to procure such—Mr. Polak voting in the negative.

Mr. Marsh moved for adoption a resolution to the effect that all bonds hereafter furnished the city by its officers be properly acknowledged and the sureties justified, and when received be recorded by the City Clerk in the office of the County Clerk at Elizabeth; and that all bonds now in the Clerk's hands in condition to be recorded and all that could be put in such condition, be so recorded.

After some discussion, resolution withdrawn.

Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Coriell, moved that the salaries of the officers of the city, be the same as last year, as follows:—

Corporation Counsel..$500. City Judge.....$500.
City Treasurer.......... 400. Regular Police, [illegible]
Street Commissioner... 300. Chief of Police.. 700.
Overseer of the Poor... 300. City Clerk....... [illegible]
City Physician.......... 200. Janitor, $60, and $3 for each special and adjourned meeting.

On motion of Mr. Polak, laid on the table.

Mr. Marsh called up the "Ordinance to amend an Ordinance," raising the fees for saloon licenses to $200 and inns and taverns to $300. He moved it be put upon its final passage.

Seconded by Mr. Serrell.

Mr. Boguelin moved the ordinance be laid upon the table until the next meeting of the Council. He called upon Mr. Marsh for information as to whether the increase of the fee was for the purpose of raising a revenue or to restrict the sale of liquor.

Mr. Jones thought the Council needed no more light on the matter.

Mr. Gardner seconded the motion to table, which was lost.

The ordinance was then placed on its final passage by the following vote;

Affirmative—Messrs. Coriell, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Ross and Serrell—6.

Negative—President Livingston and Messrs. Boguelin, Gardner, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—5.

The Clerk read the ordinance for the third time, and on motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell, the same was adopted by the following vote:

Affirmative—Messrs. Coriell, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Ross and Serrell—6.

Negative—President Livingston and Messrs. Boguelin, Gardner, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—5.

On motion of Mr. Polak, the rules were suspended, and the Lamps Com., reported as correct the claim of L. W. [illegible], $[illegible]. Referred to Aud. Com.

Council then adjourned.

COMMUNICATED.

For "The Constitutionalist."

The Bad Milk Question.

Messrs. Editors:—A correspondent in last week's Central Times calls attention to the question of impure milk, as possibly being sold in Plainfield. If there are any doubts upon this subject, our Board of Health has ample power to investigate the matter, and to punish any one who should be found guilty of the nefarious traffic; and their attention is respectfully invited to Chapter LXXXI of the session laws of 1882, section 10. The attention of our Common Council is also called to a general [illegible] law approved March 15th, 1882, chapter LXXIV which gives them power to license milk dealers and appoint an inspector or inspectors of milk and provides that said inspector or inspectors shall be paid for their services out of the proceeds of fees for said milk licenses, to the extent of one-third of such receipts; this law and the one first alluded to, worked together, could be made effectual in suppressing any evil milk business that might exist in our city; and it seems to me that our authorities should avail themselves of the provisions of these laws.

R. L. MOORES.

For "The Constitutionalist."

Do Dogs Have Reasoning Faculties?

Messrs. Editors:—I often hear people speak of dogs as being intelligent, sagacious, etc. While they may answer to these, are they creatures of reason, and do they reason upon any subject? It would almost seem sometimes that they must from circumstances that come to our knowledge. It seems that when our town used to raise money to pay for dog damages, the dogs used to kill sheep enough to claim the money raised for that purpose. At least we scarce ever knew our officers to report any money left over or left on hand. Since we have omitted to raise any dog tax, I do not hear of any dog damage. Now the question arises as to whether the reason of reasoning faculties of the dogs, or the actions of the sheep-men, or the officers, or all. This question will bear discussion. If dogs are creatures with intelligence and reason, they ought to be held responsible for damages as well as officers and men. If the reform is on the part of the dogs, they ought to have the credit for it, for it is quite a saving to dog owners. Certainly much money has been raised in years past; and the question arises as to whether the dogs do really kill the sheep, or whether men charged the dogs and raised the money, dividing it among themselves and the officers. Will some man inform the public when there was ever a bill of damages made out according to law, by appraisal and affidavit? Possibly there might have been such a thing in the early settlement of the county by the Scotch. Possibly dogs and men have changed since those times. Early in the history of the christian era there were a class of men called dogs; but I had supposed that since light had come into the world, that kind of dog had ceased to exist. Possibly I am mistaken. This question settled it might settle the whole matter. Perhaps some learned officer might settle the question. If it should be admitted that the dogs charged with killing the sheep are really reasoning creatures; then why should not other animals, quadrupeds, and fowls of the air etc., have reasoning faculties? and if so, will not some one tell us why a Bantam Rooster should attempt to hover a big Shanghai chicken before he is feathered out, and kills the chicken? Such a thing seems rather a strange transaction for a reasonable rooster. Who will explain?

CURIOUS.

For "The Constitutionalist."

A Sensible View.

Messrs. Editors:—In reading the last week's Constitutionalist I came across an article among the communications, in which the writer states her grievances over the behavior of the gentlemen in the New Jersey Central Railroad ferryboats. Although she may be right in some points, I think in the main she is wrong. I do not understand that the so-called "gentlemen" and "ladies" cabins are divided for the exclusive use of each (although no lady would care to enter the former), but are so distinguished, merely that ladies may always find plenty of fresh air and cleanliness in the one, and gentlemen, plenty of smoke and free-and-easiness in the other. Neither would hold all the men who cross the river between certain hours of the morning and evening. In crossing during the middle of the day, I have always found plenty of seats; and if compelled to cross during the hours necessary to business men, I am always willing to stand if need be. Although I may have spent a tiresome day shopping, and would be glad of a seat, so far as I know every man sitting may be more tired than I, and I have no doubt some have been compelled to go to the city that day feeling miserable enough to stay at home if it had been possible. In the mornings, after sitting for an hour in the trains, it is quite a relief to me to stand, and I am often amused upon entering the boat to find myself greeted by two long lines of unfurled newspapers. I may be putting this rather strongly, but I never could understand why a man should be compelled upon all occasions to offer his seat to a woman or forfeit his title of gentleman. Of course there are times when it is necessary to show a certain respect to the weaker sex. If there were one empty seat and a gentleman and lady both standing, I should be surprised to see the gentleman take it. I think that such cases are rare, although something similar happened to myself in going through New York in an elevated train. The car was full and I with many others was standing. A seat was vacated at one of the stations and a gentleman standing near motioned for me to come forward and take it. While I was doing so a young man stepped directly in front of me and sat down. But one must expect to meet boors everywhere. Of course there are exceptions to all cases and many women are not as able as I to stand. Therefore, I consider it the duty of every able-bodied man to give up his seat to any woman with an infant, any old man or woman, or anyone who looks ill, or worn, or otherwise in need of rest, whom he may see, as I should do myself.

JUSTICE.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

Any one having tame pigeons for sale can learn of a purchaser by enquiring at this office.

The five quail purchased by the "New Jersey Game & Fish Protective Society," for stocking purposes, are doing finely.

Mr. Pierre Lorillard has added 300 pair of English pheasants and a large number of partridges and hares to his game preserve in New Jersey.

Among a flock of tame ducks, on Mr. Percy C. Ohl's premises, may be seen a wild wood duck, which follows the other ducks about and feeds about the premises. It rose or flies away when approached, only to return again in a short time.

A wonderful athlete has come to light in Breckinridge county, Ky. His name is [illegible]. He stands 6 feet 2½ inches in his stockings, and weighs 170 pounds. It is reported that he can lift 1,500 pounds with ease. He might bring Sullivan and Slade together by mixing one with his right arm and the other with his left.

A [illegible] in Brooklyn, N. Y., was [illegible] by [illegible] last Wednesday evening and a portion of it demolished.

The Joint Meeting.

Those persons who are opposed to a joint meeting, and the consequent election of a Comptroller, were very loud in their talk last week about the action of the Democratic majority in the late joint meeting, in electing as their Chairman the Speaker of the House, instead of the President of the Senate.

Some have gone so far as to say that this was a discourtesy to the President of the Senate, without warrant of precedent, and affords a sufficient reason for the Senate to refuse to perform its constitutional duty of aiding in the election of a Comptroller.

We undertake to say that there is not a single Democratic member, who, in voting for Mr. O'Connor, as Chairman of the joint meeting, intended to cast any reproach upon or insinuation against Mr. Gardner.

It was simply and solely a desire to have as presiding officer, a person in political accord with the body which was to perform most important functions. It was a most natural desire, and one which finds constant expression in every organization of every legislative body.

It was an action not without precedent, but which the records show to have been taken on exactly similar occasion.

In 1852, Joseph Taylor, a member of the House of Assembly, was unanimously elected Chairman of the joint meeting.

In 1858, John W. C. Evans, of Burlington, Speaker of the House, was unanimously elected Chairman of the joint meeting.

In 1859, John T. Nixon, of Cumberland, Speaker of the House, was unanimously elected Chairman of the joint meeting.

In 1863, Charles Haight, of Monmouth, Speaker of the House, was unanimously elected Chairman of the joint meeting.

In 1866, the two Houses met in joint meeting for the election of a United States Senator, to succeed Hon. William Wright, and of other officers. The Senate agreed to go into joint ballot, although they knew that when assembled the republicans in the House would outvote them.

Being assembled, Thomas H. Herring, President of the Senate and a Democrat, was nominated as Chairman; whereupon Senator Buckley, of Passaic, nominated Edwin Salter, Speaker of the House and a Republican, for the same position.

Mr. Salter was elected by a party vote of 41 to 35, neither candidate voting. No objection was raised by any one, and it was considered then, as it should be now, as a very proper thing to do.

Those Senators who have been seeking an excuse for a violation of their duty under the Constitution must, therefore, either continue the search in another direction or abandon the attempt, for the action of the joint meeting, based as it was upon right and precedent, gives no warrant for any feeling on the subject.—True American.

MISCELLANY.

Cheap Living.

Plainfield Cheap Cash Meat Market, N. J. Randolph, Manager. For the information of cash buyers who have an eye to economy, we would say that money will go about as far in this market as it will anywhere in the United States. As specimen quotations: You can buy Trenton hams, ordinary size, at 14 cents; the small sizes, which are cut from Jersey Spring pigs, sell at 15 cents. They are cured in the old-fashioned country style, and are very fine. Trenton sausage, loose, 14 cents, in skins, 14 cents. Round steak, from Trenton slaughtered cattle, 16 cents. Fresh Beef Rounds for Corning, 12½ cents.

We have a large stock of Butter and Cheese, which seems to be a part of every well-kept market. Butter has declined in New York fully 5 cts. per lb. the last 30 days, and will probably go still lower.—The decline is mostly on Summer and early Fall grades. We have reduced our prices accordingly, and now sell the Very Finest Fresh Made New York Dairy at 32 cts. Finest Western Creamery, 30 cts., and a good, sound sweet article at 25 cts. Families supplied by the tub at still lower prices. We have 100 9 lb. pails of the famous Elgin Creamery, which costs so high that we are ashamed to quote it, but we will sell it at 45 cents.

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 32 West Front Street.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties can now purchase elegant patterns of wall paper of H. S. Barnes, 5. W. Front street, at greatly reduced prices. tf

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 32 West Front Street, at the New York price. m17tf

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. [illegible] Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Doing a great deal of good.—Mrs. J. Berry, of Portland, Me., writes—Your Henry's Carbolic Salve is doing a great deal of good. Some of my friends have been greatly benefited by its use. I think it is the best salve I have ever used. Beware of counterfeits.

[illegible] Pain Panacea cures pain in man and beast. For use externally and internally.

Dr. [illegible] Vegetable Worm Syrup [illegible] destroys Worms and removes the Secretions which cause them.

Dr. DeWitt C. Kellinger's Liniment is an infallible cure for Rheumatism, Sprains, Lameness and diseases of the scalp, and for promoting the growth of the hair.

[illegible] Balsam cures Colds, Coughs, Rheumatism, Kidney troubles, etc. Can be used externally as a plaster.

A Old Man's Relief.—Having used Parker's Ginger Tonic for my bad cough and hemorrhage [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Westfield [illegible]

WESTFIELD ADVERTISERS.

C. A. SMITH,
DEALER IN
Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
[illegible]
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone Call No. 46. aug18

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the interest of the people.
Office, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also
Standard Fertilizers,
such as Mapes', Lister's, [illegible] Phosphates and Bone Manures, for all crops, bought low for cash, and will be sold at reasonable prices.
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
German Valley Lime, by the carload, &c.
E. M. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 46, Scotch Plains, N. J. ap26tf

C. E. AGUIRRE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Rooms at Gale's Pharmacy.
Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty
All work guaranteed to be First Class, and to give entire satisfaction.

JOHN KANE,
WESTFIELD, N. J.
Driven and Drilled Wells.
Repairing promptly attended to.
Unexceptionable references given if desired.

TURF EXCHANGE
ALE and BEER VAULTS,
Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J.
JOHN L. BOULSTON, - Proprietor.
Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand.
Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all times.
Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar-cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java, Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,
Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Great Reduction in Muslins!

Fruit of the Loom,	9¼ cts.
Wamsutta,	11½ "
Fruit of Loom, 5-4	15 "
Utica, 9-4	28 "

Other makes at corresponding low prices.

Now is the time to buy Muslins.

Ladies say our Hamburgs are the best for the prices they have seen.

REMEMBER!
Our popular make of Kid Glove. The best in the market.

Mousquetaire, Foster Lace, Mignon and Alexander. Carpets, Oil Cloths and Window Shades, at
S. H. WHITNEY'S,
(Opposite Post-office.)

Japanese Salve!
For Chapped Hands and Lips, Frosted Feet and all Skin Diseases.
ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT.
A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY
Vail Bros, Philadelphia.

PECK'S CORNER.

COME TO PECK'S

Playing his fish.

COME TO PECK'S!

Curtiss & Griffen.

LEVER.
Hay and Stalk Cutter,
The Best in the Market.

Clinton Shellers,
AND THE
"A.B.C," Right-hand
WOOD FRAME
Sheller & Separator.

ROEBUCK WEATHER STRIPS.

Lanterns, Street Lamps, Dash Lamps.

Remember, at our Store you BUY GOODS 5 Per Ct. Cheaper For Cash than for Credit.

No. 18 East Front street, - Plainfield, New Jersey.

Bachman Bro's Large Sale of Hosiery!

HAVING BOUGHT OUT ALL THE SAMPLES OF LADIES HOSE COMPRISING ALL KINDS, TO THE AMOUNT OF 138 DOZEN, FROM ONE OF THE LARGEST HOSIERY FACTORIES IN PHILADELPHIA, WE ASK THE PUBLIC TO COME AND SEE THEM, AND JUDGE FOR THEMSELVES. THESE GOODS ARE WORTH FROM 30 TO 40 CENTS PER PAIR, AND WE CAN OFFER THEM FOR 21 CENTS.

Wamsutta Muslin, - - 11½ Cts. | Anchor Dwight, - - 9¾ Cts.

BACHMAN BROTHERS,
27 West Front street, - - - - - - - Plainfield, New Jersey.

'Ain't Half Told?

To reduce the stock before we take our annual inventory (February first) we have marked the following goods to which we invite our customer's attention.

Fruit of the Loom 4-4 Muslin,	9½ Cents.
Lonsdale, 4-4 Muslin.	9½ "
Dwight Anchor, 4-4 Muslin,	10 "
Wamsutta, 4-4 Muslin,	12 "
Utica, (Nonpariel)	12½ "
Utica, extra heavy,	11 "
Fruit of the Loom, 5-4 Pillow casing,	17 "
" " " 6-4 "	20 "
Utica, (Sheeting) 9-4 and New York Mill,	29 "

Other brands of Sheeting positively at New York cost. Also 9-4 Twilled Sheeting 33 cents. Table Linens, Napkins, Towels, Doylies, Tidies in immense quantities and varieties. Worsted in double, single and split, all colors, 9 cents per ounce. Our Millinery stock we have reduced 50 per cent to close. 100 Dolmans, Cloaks, Havelocks, at half former prices.

At D. Boehm & Bro., 7 West Front street.

JUST IN STOCK!

FALL Hats FALL Hats
LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S.
Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.
Horse Sheets and Lap Robes.
Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices. [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A DANDY IN TRADE.

[illegible]

At the ripe age of twenty-one, Harry Melville decided to go into business on his own account.

"Wait until you are twenty-five," said Harry's prudent father.

"And lose four years!" returned Harry, almost with indignation. "It is folly."

"And gain ten," said old Melville. "The earlier a young man goes into business the oftener he has got to fail before he grows wise enough and strong enough for success. My advice is to wait until you are thirty. There will be ten chances in your favor then to one in your favor now."

Harry, however, considered his father old-fashioned and behind the times, and so let his prudent counsel go for nought. Harry had been three years in a city house and considered himself fully posted up in business matters, and quite equal to the common run of traders. Indeed, his talk on matters of trade was quite edifying; and an uninitiated listener could hardly have failed to give him credit for considerable more knowledge than was his due.

Harry Melville had ten thousand dollars left to him by an uncle. Upon this sum he commenced business, in company with a young friend about his own age and about equally experienced.

Ten thousand dollars in cash was something of a basis for credit; and although our young traders expended twenty-five hundred in fitting up their place of business, they found no difficulty whatever in stocking it with more than all the goods they needed.

The times were propitious. Money was cheap. Everybody bought and everybody sold with scarcely the formality of inquiry as to the basis upon which confidence rested. In less than two years Melville and Morris were doing business at the fast rate of many thousands per annum, and making fabulous profits. To marry, and set up expensive domestic establishments came as a natural result. Both the young partners committed this additional folly. To marry would have been well enough, if modest Prudence had smiled her quiet blessing on the rites. But, as it was, silly pride and weak ambition reigned triumphant.

Old Mr. Melville shook his head, looked grave, and remonstrated in private with his son; but Harry grew impatient at the old gentleman's narrow-minded interference, and finally requested him to waive the repetition of language that was only felt as an annoyance.

Of course the father was hurt, and did not go near his son for some weeks. As a peace offering Harry bought a new house, for which he paid down one-half in cash, and gave bills for the remainder. With the title deeds in his pocket, he called at the modest paternal residence.

Mr. Melville received his son kindly, yet not with the accustomed cordiality, for one or two sentences uttered during their last interview stung him severely, and the pain had not yet subsided.

"What are these?" asked the elder Mr. Melville, as Harry laid upon a table before his father the title deeds of the new house.

"Read them," was the smiling answer.

With a half-curious manner, Mr. Melville opened a broad parchment sheet. His eyes glanced hurriedly over the contents; but his face, instead of brightening, grew clouded.

"Explain this, Harry," he said, looking up at his son.

"Does it not explain itself, father?" said Harry.

"No!" replied Mr. Melville, and he shook his head to make his "no" still more emphatic.

"I have always looked forward to this time with a pleasure that words can hardly express," said Harry, leaning toward his father, and speaking with a sudden warmth of manner. "These papers are simply the title-deeds of a house which is yours. Take them as some small return for all that I owe you. A son's debt to a good father can never be wholly cancelled."

Mr. Melville was touched by this act, and affected by the manner of his son. For almost a minute he sat with his gaze upon the floor. Then, looking up, he said in a low voice that trembled with suppressed feeling:

"My dear boy, it pains me deeply to refuse what, in the generous impulse of your heart, is now so freely offered. But this house is not yours to give, and therefore honor and right compel me to decline its acceptance."

"Not mine to give!" exclaimed Harry. "Father, what do you mean?"

"It belongs to your creditors, Harry."

"My creditors!" said Harry. "Am I then, only a bankrupt in your eyes? Father, this is too much."

"You are scarcely two years in business, my son," said the father, "and now you propose to take from that business two-thirds of your original capital, and put it into a house for me."

"But we have made above fifty thousand dollars," said Harry, "and are actually coining money in our business."

"Profits on paper, at best," answered the incorrigible old man. "But, my word for it, if the balance in your favor is so large, there is a mistake in the figures somewhere. The thing I regard as simply impossible. You are dashing ahead at too desperate a speed, my son, as I have before declared, and as sure as any disastrous change in the commercial world takes place, you will be hurled suddenly to destruction."

In anger Harry parted with his father on that day. On the next, the bills were all refused. He called, in surprise, upon the banker, to ask the reason. There was a stringency in the market, an unusual demand for money; depositors were drawing out heavily and the bank was restricting its loans. This was the comfort he received.

He tried to borrow from accommodating neighbors; but everybody had been cut down or cut off at the bank, and so everybody was "short." A pulse of fear throbbed suddenly in the heart of Harry Melville. He looked to his bill book, and ascertained the amount which must be paid before four o'clock on the morrow. The sum reached the uncomfortable aggregate of nearly fifteen thousand dollars; while the bank balance was below three thousand.

Young Melville considered himself a great financier. His self-confidence overleaped all possibilities and impossibilities. But the time of trial and proof had come now. Credit and confidence are sensitive things. When banks restrict, private discount houses take alarm and the price of money goes up to ruinous figures. So our young trader found it. Melville's financiering operations on that day were things for after remembrance; he has probably not forgotten them up to this time. By three o'clock his bills were all taken, but at a sacrifice fearful to contemplate.

After a glance at his bank book for the next day, Melville started for his luxurious home to meet his dainty, fashionable wife, in a state of mind bordering on despair, for the next day's payments were nearly as heavy. He had seen and heard enough during the day's financial experiments to satisfy him that not one-half of the sum could be raised; and so a vague terror took the place of conceited self-confidence; and the frightened young trader, who had come in and gone out with such an elastic tread and proud bearing, entered his home with all his feathers drooping.

So quietly had he come in that his wife failed to hear the familiar step in the passage. Wondering at her husband's long stay beyond the usual hour, she came down stairs, under the influence of a restless feeling. Entering the parlor, she started in sudden surprise and alarm, for there, reclining upon a sofa, was her handsome young husband, his pale face the image of despair.

"Oh, Harry, you are ill!" she exclaimed, flying across the room, and dropping down on the floor in front of him.

"I am in trouble," was his choking reply.

"Oh, what has happened, Harry?"

"I don't know," he answered. "I am bewildered. Something has gone wrong in business. Oh, Florry, I have passed through a fearful day! and there is no strength left in me."

What a change from the bold, business braggart of the day before! But Harry Melville was a mere dandy in trade. There was no muscle in the man, no reserved power, no elastic property. He had grown as a balloon grows, and, like a balloon, collapsed at the first sharp puncture.

What could a mere [illegible] of a wife do to help a man in such an extremity? Nothing. She could weep and wring her hands, and sob like a distressed damsel, but she had no comfortable suggestions, no brave words, no hopeful sentiments to offer.

Did our young trader, after a period of cool reflection, take heart again? Did he go out on the next morning, and nerve himself for another struggle with the difficulties which had so suddenly closed around him?

No! Busy memory, through the remainder of that day and evening, supplied him with data enough to complete his total overthrow as a man of nerve and action. His boyish partner came to see him, and tried to re-inspirit him with brave words. But they were of no avail. He was panic stricken by the fearful aspect of things, and gave up without a struggle. On the next day the bills of the firm were not met. An assignment followed, and, at the settlement of affairs, the creditors received a dividend of twenty cents on the dollar.

Just twenty-three years of age was Harry Melville when he shrunk back from his advanced position in the business and social world, a bankrupt, his name a word of reproach or contempt on hundreds of lips, and sought a hiding place with his helpless wife in the house of his father, whose predictions had been but too speedily fulfilled. His bark was shattered by the first storm.

Take the lesson to heart, ye too eager young men. The story is scarcely an exaggeration.

Old Mr. Melville was entirely right in his counsel to his son. A business commenced at twenty-one, or even as early as twenty-five, without experience, is most certain to result in failure. The first thing a young man who hopes to succeed in the world needs to learn is economy in his personal expenditure.

If, as a clerk or shopman, he spends his entire earnings, and trusts to get into business by virtue of credit, the chances of failure are two to one against him. His habits of mind will tempt him to almost certain destruction.

COLONEL INGERSOLL ON CLOVER.

The Clover Club, a popular association of clever Philadelphia journalists, held their annual dinner on Thursday evening of last week. Among the invited guests who were unable to attend was Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll. He sent the following characteristic letter of regrets:

"I regret that it is impossible for me to be in 'clover' with you to-morrow. A wonderful thing is 'clover.' It means honey and cream—that is to say, industry and contentment—that is to say, the happy bees in perfumed fields, and at the cottage gate 'Old Bos,' the bountiful, serenely chewing satisfaction's cud, in that blessed twilight pause, that like a benediction falls between all toil and sleep. This 'clover' makes me dream of happy houses—of childhood's rosy cheeks—of dimpled babes—of wholesome, loving wives—of honest men—of springs, and brooks, and violets, and all there is of stainless joy in peaceful human life. A wonderful word is clover! Drop the 'C,' and you have the happiest of mankind. Take away the 'C' and 'r' and you have left the only thing that makes a heaven of this dull and barren earth. Cut off the 'r' alone, and there remains a warm, deceitful bud that sweetens breath and keeps the peace in countless houses, whose masters frequent clubs. After all, Bottom was right: 'Good hay, sweet hay, hath no fellow.'"

TORE UP THE RECEIPT.

An ingenious method of putting his savings beyond his own reach has been adopted by a German writer, who found from dire experience that all his profits melted away as soon as earned. Having made $80,000 by a fortunate literary speculation, he placed the whole of the money, together with his will, in the Imperial Deposit bank at Berlin, and on receiving the receipt from the cashier deliberately tore it up. The cashier thought he was mad, and told him angrily that it would take fully three years before he could expect to obtain a duplicate receipt. "That is just why I have torn up the original," calmly remarked the depositor, "and now the money is safe for that time."

The personal estate of Mrs. Maria Appley, who died at Morristown recently, over 100 years old, was appraised last week, and there was found in an old bureau $7,466, more than one-half of which was in bank bills and the remainder in gold and silver coins, many of the pieces being nearly as old as their owner. The money was divided up in parcels and hidden away among clothing, two old slippers being filled with coins.

A French chemist thinks he can resuscitate a human body after it has been frozen a few weeks. He might experiment on Oscar Wilde, and if he missed the resuscitation, people would be just as well satisfied.

VARIETIES.

A [illegible]—a poker player with [illegible].

A political convention is always a [illegible] affair.

Loss of hearing and retention of appetite. The [illegible] is deaf-eat.

The [illegible]'s favorite author—Lover. The lawyer's favorite author—Sue.

Many a man breaks up in business, because he first broke down in health.

When a man coins his own words, he does not necessarily make cents of them.

When the landlord presents his bill for victuals, he claims that it is not only fare, but above board.

In a game of cards a good deal depends on good playing, and good playing upon a good deal.

The man who could not find words to express his feelings was too poor to purchase a dictionary.

It is a coincidence, that on whatever day the 25th of December may fall, the first of May also comes.

We sneer at the Siamese for worshiping the elephant; but just think of the money that is paid here just to see it.

The hour and the man—twelve o'clock midnight, and the sudden appearance of your girl's father on the scene of action.

As a girl, we used to admire her way. She has had her way ever since we married, but we don't admire it now, somehow.

One of the largest coffee plantations in Brazil covers twenty square miles, has 1,700,000 bearing trees, and is worked by 800 slaves.

There is a Judge in Maryland named Ransom. Whenever he sentences a prisoner the fellow merely mutters the cognomen of the Judge.

"It is a shame, husband, that I have to sit here mending your old clothes!" "Don't say a word about it, wife; the least said the soonest mended."

"Well, madam, how's your husband today?" "Why, doctor, he's no better." "Did you get the leeches?" "Yes, but he only took three of them raw—I had to fry the rest."

The administrator of the estate of Cephas M. Woodruff, who was killed in the Parker's Creek disaster, obtained a judgment of $65,000 in the suit against the New Jersey Central.

A maiden lady interested in beneficiary associations, on being told the rate of membership, and that $2000 was paid on the death of a member, smilingly inquired: "Do you get it if you die?"

Isn't it awful! Skunk fur is becoming fashionable, and is not sold under any other name either. It is a nice looking and very comfortable fur, notwithstanding the horrid things said about it.

When a man can fasten the rear button on his collar without pulling his face or thinking profanity, he exhibits a quality of patience under difficulties which eminently fit him to be the cashier for a weekly paper.

JUST THE SAME.

There was a crowd of carriages in front of a church, when a man came along, discovered that something was going on, and leaning against a hitching post, he asked of a pedestrian:

"Was it very sudden?"

"I don't know."

"Presume it was. Well, we've all got to go that way. Do you know, sir, that—that—"

Here his voice broke down and he reached for his handkerchief.

"What's the matter?" inquired the other.

"Young woman's funeral in there."

"That's no funeral, that's a marriage."

"Marriage! Ah—yes—marriage—I see. Well, it's all the same to me. Give me the young man's name, and I'll weep over him."

HE TOOK COFFEE.

"Coffee! coffee! Did you ask if I would have coffee?" replied a guest at the Cleveland hotel the other day.

"Yes, sir," whispered the waiter.

"Have you coffee mixed with chicory?"

"We have."

"And beans and peas?"

"Yes, sir."

"Is your coffee black as night and thick as mud?"

"It is, sir."

"Lukewarm and flat as dishwater?"

"That's it, sir."

"Warranted to give a man Bright's disease and enlarge liver inside of four weeks?"

"Then for Heaven's sake bring me three or four cups of it, for it's a whole year since I've had a chance to get hold of any genuine hotel coffee."

NOTED LADIES.

What lady is good to eat? Sal. Ladd.

What lady is good to eat with her? Olive Oil.

What lady is made to carry burdens? Ella Fant.

What lady preaches in the pulpit? Minnie Stir.

What lady does everybody desire? Ann U. Ity.

What lady is acquainted with surgery? Ann Atomy.

What lady lived in Noah's time? Ann T. Diluvian.

What lady is fond of debate? Polly Tishun.

What lady paints portraits? Minni Ture.

What lady paints comic ones? Carrie K. Ture.

What lady is fond of giving? Jennie Rosity.

What lady is much talked of? Amelia Ration.

TOO SENSITIVE.

When the girl with the pink powder on her face got into the street car the two passengers who had been talking about breadstuffs resumed their conversation. Said one:

"Flour is plenty and cheap enough, have you noticed?"

"That's because it is so much kneaded," responded the other, with a fiendish attempt at a pun.

The first speaker threw up his hands in affected horror. "To this complexion have we come at last," he quoted.

Then the girl rose up. "I think you're just horrid," she exclaimed. "Stop the car! I won't sit here and have my looks remarked upon!"

"We didn't mean—" He would have explained, but she was not to be appeased.

"You're mean enough for anything! Let me out! I'm nothing but flour, I suppose?" and she flounced off.

A debating society will tackle this question: "Which is the most [illegible]—to see a man try to thread a needle or a woman try to drive a nail?"

WHAT THE LORD COULDN'T DO.

There is an old anecdote, very familiar many years ago, and old enough to be new to many of this generation, which was a regular Thanksgiving night stand-by. No gathering about the fire was complete without its being told. It ran something in this way. A stage coach had been speeding through a bleak and unsettled section of country, and had been in operation only a short time when a heavy snow began falling and soon completely blockaded the road, stopping the train with its single passenger car from any place of habitation. There were a dozen or more travelers, but as the prospect of relief within a few hours was good they were taking the unpleasant situation calmly. Among them was a tall, lank, lay-preacher, whose countenance was chiefly remarkable for a preternaturally large mouth. Soon after the train came to a standstill he arose at the forward end of the car and with his blandest professional smile began: "Now brethren and sisters, we've got to stay shut up here together for an hour or two, so let us make the best of it. I say brethren and sisters because we are all brethren and sisters—ain't that so? We're all Christians, ain't we? Of course we are. Now let's have a little experience meeting here. Why not? We all love the Lord, don't we? We all believe He knows best what is good for us don't we? Of course we do. Well, let's talk about Him a little. To begin with, we all believe there's nothing the Lord couldn't do if He wanted to—we all believe that, don't we?" At this point a green-looking countryman, who had been watching the smiling speaker with close interest, startled him by saying—"Waal, now, I dunno 'bout that. I think I know one thing the Lord couldn't do." "Oh! do you?" exclaimed the preacher with delight. "Do you, indeed? Well, let us hear it. Speak up loud, and let us all hear what it is the Lord couldn't do?" "Waal," said the countryman, with great deliberation, "He couldn't ha' made your mouth any bigger unless he'd ha' set your ears back!" That ended the conference meeting.

INTERESTING EVENTS.

The Bank of Venice was established in 1171.

The Bank of England was established in 1694.

Bayonets were invented at Bayonne in 1670.

The mariner's compass was invented in 1302.

Paper was first made from cotton rags in 1002.

Daguerreotypes were produced in Paris in 1839.

Thermometers were made by Drebel in 1630.

Postage stamps were first used in England in 1840.

The Bureau of Education was established in 1867.

The Bank of North America was established in 1781.

The magnetic needle was first known in Italy in 1150.

Photographs were first produced in England in 1802.

The cotton gin was invented by Eli Whitney in 1793.

The Chinese are known to have used powder in A. D. 80.

The phonograph was invented by Thos. A. Edison in 1877.

Tobacco was introduced into England from Virginia in 1583.

The loss by the Boston fire, November 9, 1872, was $74,000,000.

Surnames were first used among the English nobility in 1072.

Vaccination was discovered by Dr. Jenner, in England, in 1796.

The diving bell was invented in 1538, and the barometer in 1626.

Illuminating gas was first used in England, 1792; in Boston, 1822.

The first Lodge of Freemasons was established in this country in 1733.

The Patent Right Law was first enacted by Congress, April 10th, 1790.

The first American Express was between New York and Boston, 1821.

The first American Library was established at Harvard College in 1638.

The first Fire Insurance Office opened in America, was at Boston, in 1724.

Sugar Cane was first cultivated in the United States, near New Orleans in 1751.

The Military Academy at West Point, was founded by Congress, March 16, 1802.

The United States Naval Academy, at Annapolis, was opened October 10, 1845.

The first Sunday School was established by Robert Raikes in England, in 1781.

The Chicago fire, October 9, 1871, consumed over $200,000,000 worth of property.

The first theatre in the United States was opened at Williamsburgh, Va., in 1752.

The American Flag was first used by Washington, at Cambridge, January 1st, 1776.

The first Life Insurance Company established in America, was at Philadelphia, 1812.

The first Volunteer Fire Company in the United States, was organized at Philadelphia, in 1736.

The reason why there are no female bill collectors is that "woman's work is never done."

A boy who was recently taken to church for the first time had his attention especially drawn to a man in the choir who was playing on a bass-viol. After leaving the church he inquired, "Papa, what was that thing the man kept scratching on its back with a stick?"

She skipped him: A lawyer recently lost a bride in a peculiar way. He appeared at the wedding, but, upon being called to to the ceremony, from sheer force of habit protested that he was not ready to proceed, and demanded delay. And so the bride got mad and skipped him.

A Scotchman, having hired himself as a farmer, had a cheese set down before him, that he might help himself. After some time the master said to him, "Sandy, you take a long time to breakfast." "In troth, master," said Sandy, "a cheese o' this size is nae sae soon eaten as ye may think."

Canned meat weighing not more than four pounds can be sent through the mails as fourth-class matter. Now, if Congressmen will send their hungry constituents canned beef instead of public documents, they will render a service that cannot be supplied by the transmission of Patent Office reports.

A clergyman met a rustic, and thinking it a good opportunity to make a religious impression, asked: "John, if Satan were to suddenly appear, which of us would he take?" The rustic thought a moment and then replied: "Me, sir." "And why?" "Well, sir, because he might be his only chance to get me, while he's pretty sure of you, sir, all the time."

LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

FASHION NOTES.

Plaited skirts are still popular.

Feather bands trim wraps and dresses.

Velvet bonnets are the most fashionable.

Black [illegible] are used in [illegible].

A pretty fancy is to trim a black velvet hat with a single white bird.

Satin buttons of oblong form come on many handsome imported dresses.

Skirts continue to grow more bouffant in the back and fuller at the sides.

Bands of grebe appear on some of the handsomest bonnets and turbans.

Waistcoats as separate garments are a feature in English women's dresses.

A golden brown shade called "[illegible]" combines beautifully with Scotch grey.

The newest cloth cloaks from Paris are of napped cloth, which is quilted on the wrong side.

The individual fancy is indulged in riding habits as well as in all other garments nowadays.

Scarlet cloth with eider-down woven in it, is a light and comfortable fabric for winter underskirts.

The leather strap with which some cloth and flannel suits are fastened and trimmed and [illegible] of red Russia or yellow leather.

A plain, well-finished black cashmere skirt and a Jersey waist of any color preferred, or black, makes the best kind of utility costume.

The latest development in fancy millinery is chenille and gold cord braids in the style of rustic wicker basket bonnets of the past season.

On some of the Paris riding habits, when the corsage is of light color is embroidered on the collar, facing and cuffs.

Each leading dressmaker of Paris makes dresses according to his or her own fancy, and, if possible, different from all others, hence the variety in styles.

Birds of every description are used to decorate muffs. Duplicates of those selected for the muff are generally worn on the hat or bonnet which accompanies it.

Overskirts cut open here and there and laced together with silk cords are new and effective. With evening costumes of silk or satin the bodice is made to match, and the lacing is done under the arms.

Black is no longer the exclusive color for riding habits. Habits are made of hussar-blue, navy blue, hunter's green, and all shades of grey. The corsage is sometimes even of a different color from the skirt, but in this case the seams and bottom of the skirt are piped or bound with the material of the corsage.

MISCELLANEOUS.

R. R. Fairchild.

Furniture! Furniture!

SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS.

A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!

Bed-room Suites,
IN ASH AND WALNUT.

Cottage Suites,
IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.

Bed Lounges,
AS LOW AS [illegible].

WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES.

Mattresses and Spring Beds,
OF ALL KINDS.

Come to Fairchild's,
AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.

18 West Front Street.

Parlor Novelties!

The following styles are our "Latest" and will upon examination be found the most attractive and choice goods offered this season.

THE "Sutherland"

A solid Rosewood Suit, beautifully carved, composed of six pieces, each different, but forming a beautiful group.

THE "Egyptian"

Also a Grecian Suite, in Rosewood or Ebony, is a perfect "Gem." The ornamentation truly Egyptian and very artistic.

THE "Rockingham"

In Mahogany or Ebony; uniting both to comfort and elegance, this is a commendable suite.

THE "Chippendale"

We show four suites on this order, all in old Mahogany. This line is best adapted for old [illegible]. We display a full line of "Antique" [illegible], specially imported for these Suites.

The "NORFOLK," "DOVER," "KENSINGTON," "SYDENHAM," "[illegible]," "[illegible]," and "LONDON," are all beautiful, designed and executed by one of our most skilled designers in [illegible] and we delight in displaying his skill here in our Warerooms.

Hundreds of ODD, EASY and RECEPTION CHAIRS, in endless variety.

INSPECTION INVITED.

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,
[illegible]
No. 9 Somerset St.
BUTCHER,
and dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats of the Finest Quality and at prices consistent with the times.
I will endeavor to please all who favor me with their patronage.

LEWIS & CO.,
Butchers!!
AND DEALERS IN
Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry, Sausage, Hams, Bologna, Head Cheese and Mince Meat.
Park Avenue,
(at [illegible])
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To Young Housekeepers!

FREE TO ALL BRIDES.

[illegible]

THE HOUSEHOLD
WILL BE SENT ONE YEAR AS
A WEDDING PRESENT

To every newly married couple whose address—and 10 cents to pay the postage—is sent to the publisher within one year from the date of their marriage. [illegible] THE HOUSEHOLD, Brattleboro, Vt.

JAMES K. ARNOLD,

GROCER,

Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

TWENTY

Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET, 3 doors above Peace street.

STEVENS & CORCORAN, Horse-shoers, give particular attention to trotting, forging, stumbling and interfering Horses. Speedy Cutters [illegible] Horses with [illegible] feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

PURE INDIA TEAS

From the Territories of ASSAM, [illegible], CACHAR, KANGRA VALLEY, DARJEELING, DEHRA, DOON, and others. [illegible] Superior in Flavor. The Most Economical. Require only half the usual quantity. Sold by all Grocers. JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO. Agents of the [illegible] Tea Syndicate, 120 Water St., N. Y.

DO YOU PLAY? WHY NOT?

By using SOPER'S INSTANTANEOUS GUIDE to the Keys of the Piano and Organ, any person, man, woman or child who can read or count figures, can learn to play in ONE HOUR without a teacher. This is no humbug. The Guide, with 20 pieces of music, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1.00. Send 10 cents for sample of music. Agents wanted. Address, CHARLES HEARNE, 11 Frankfort St., N. Y.

For Sale or To Let.

A

Very Desirable Residence,
—ON—
WEST SEVENTH ST.,
(UNION AVENUE.)

House contains 12 large rooms, and modern improvements. One acre of ground, large barn, hennery, &c. For particulars address,
J. W. JOHNSON,
27 East Seventh street, bet. [illegible] Broadway.

The A. Saltzman Watch
Ask your Jeweler for it
Before Purchasing any other.
CHAUX-DE-FONDS
1879
BRONZE MEDAL

SPEER'S

PORT GRAPE WINE

Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.

Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Speer's Port Grape Wine

FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable

Tonic and Strengthening Properties

are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. [illegible] It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

SPEER'S

P. J. Sherry.

The P. J. SHERRY is a wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made. For Purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unexcelled.

SPEER'S

P. J. Brandy.

This BRANDY stands unrivaled in this country, being far superior for medicinal purposes.

IT IS A PURE distillation from the grape, and contains valuable medicinal properties.

[illegible]

See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle.
Sold by all Druggists.

Washington Valley
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE. ICE. ICE.
SIMPSON & CO.,

[illegible]

Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.

[illegible]

SIMPSON & CO. [illegible]

[illegible]

GRADING & CONTRACTING in all its Branches.

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

Real Estate & Insurance Agent,

OFFICE—East Room, Central R. R. Depot.
RESIDENCE—20 East 5th Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Real Estate for Sale, Rent or Exchange.

Authorized Agent for the following Fire Insurance Companies:

NORTH AMERICA, of Phila. Assets, January 1st, 1882, [illegible]

PHENIX INSURANCE CO., of London, [illegible]

Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.

MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.

POPE'S

Life and Fire Insurance Agency.

Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money Invested on Bond and Mortgage for other Parties. Government BONDS Bought and Sold.

FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK [illegible]

Office over City National Bank.

FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
JAMES O. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

FIRE INSURANCE!

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the

Star and Merchants

Fire Insurance Co's of the

City of New York,

are prepared to furnish substantial indemnity [illegible] applications from the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.

NATHAN HARPER

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE
Is Selling WINTER
Boots & Shoes
At VERY LOW PRICES!
11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD.

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 4 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of desirable goods direct from Manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Cooking Stoves and Ranges.

(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.

Agricultural Implements

Of all Kinds, CHEAP.

Super-Phosphates and Bone.

NEW YORK PLOWS,

Also,

The South Bend Chilled Plow,

BEST IN THE WORLD. Superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at

No. 18 EAST FRONT ST.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

C. O. Meeker & Co.

All the above Cheap for Cash.

Coal. Coal. Coal.

FINTIN HIBBITS

Respectfully informs the public of Plainfield and vicinity that he is prepared to supply the best

Lehigh Valley Coal,

of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!

The above coal is all shipped to South Plainfield by the Central R. R.
Orders sent by mail, BOX 1,186, will be promptly attended to, or No. 15 LIBERTY ST., PLAINFIELD.

J. N. SCHENCK,

Practical Machinist!

RACE STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.

To those contemplating putting steam in dwellings, I would state that I am manufacturing a

Sectional Safety Boiler

for such purposes, which far exceeds any of my previous attempts. I have one in use now, [illegible] which I will be pleased to show to all calling.

Machinery of Every Description Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.

O. M. DUNHAM,

Merchant Tailor,

No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,

(Next to [illegible])

Also, Agent for the

Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.

WM. C. SMITH,

Mason and Builder,

BARRING AVENUE,

[illegible]

North Plainfield, N. J.

[illegible]

PROSPECT HILL FARM

BOARDING STABLES.

HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD

[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, [illegible]

[illegible], Administrator of John [illegible], deceased.

[illegible]

JAS. J. [illegible], Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Jan. [illegible], 1883.

[illegible], the Executor of Jonathan [illegible], deceased.

[illegible]

JAMES J. [illegible], Surrogate.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of NATHAN [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.

ELIAS R. POPE.

Dated Jan. [illegible], 1883.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscribers, Executors of Charles [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the twenty-first day of March next.

MARY [illegible]
JARED K. [illegible]

Dated Jan. [illegible], 1883.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.

LEWIS W. [illegible]

Dated Jan. [illegible], 1883.

ADMINISTRATRIX SETTLEMENT. Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, Administratrix of John P. Green, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the fourteenth day of February next.

CLARA E. [illegible]

Dated Dec. [illegible], 1882.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Carney Bros.,

NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.

Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.

PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.

Grates and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at jobber's prices. Bring your Tin Ware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials and our work always gives satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Tinware made to order.

RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.

—SANITARY PLUMBING—

Special Notice!

We close at 6 p. m. sharp; having only 12 hours a day for business, we offer our

ENTIRE STOCK
OF Farming Utensils
AND
House Furnishing Goods

At reduced prices, for cash, as we must do as much now in 12 hours as we formerly did in a whole day's work.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS of TIN WARE

To be closed out within the next 30 days.

PLOWS AND HARROWS AT COST.

BERRY & THORN.

Furnaces and Ranges,

STOVES, PUMPS, SINKS,

Gas Fixtures, Etc.

TIN, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.

Tin Roofing and Jobbing!

Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.

Apply to

D. W. LITTELL,

No. [illegible] North avenue, Plainfield.

HEMORRHOID OR PILES

Permanently Cured,

IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID.

Or money refunded. Also Ulcers, Fistula and Fissures, cured without knife. I have opened an office at LAING'S HOTEL, Plainfield, New Jersey, where I will be in attendance on,

TUESDAY, DEC. 26TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 9TH.
TUESDAY, FEB. 6TH.

From 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. My treatment is that known as Dr. [illegible] system of treating rectal diseases. This is not the painful Carbolic Acid treatment.

[illegible]

Jas. M. Dunn,

Dealer in

GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,

Vegetables, Fruits, etc.

JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED

SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR.

No. 36 Park Ave.

OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

Mrs. John Burke

[illegible]

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of N. J.

Stations in New York—Foot of Liberty St. and [illegible]—foot of Clarkson St.

ARRANGEMENT COMMENCING [illegible] 1882.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

[illegible]

For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

[illegible]

Westward Connections

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

[illegible]

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

[illegible]

New York & Philadelphia New Line,

BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

[illegible]

RETURNING.

[illegible]

H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A MAN

[illegible]

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

[illegible]

"ALBERT LEA ROUTE."

[illegible]

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,

at your nearest Ticket Office, or address

R. R. CABLE, E. ST. JOHN,
Vice-Pres. & Gen'l M'g'r. Gen'l Tkt. & Pass. Agt.

CHICAGO.

PARKER'S

HAIR BALSAM.

This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. It contains materials only that are beneficial to the scalp and hair and always

Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair

Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching. Hiscox & Co., N. Y. 50c. and $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs and medicines.

PARKER'S

GINGER TONIC

A Superlative Health and Strength Restorer.

[illegible]

FLORESTON

Its rich and lasting fragrance has made this delightful perfume exceedingly popular. There is nothing like it. Insist upon having Floreston Cologne and look for signature of

Hiscox & Co.

[illegible]

COLOGNE.

NOTICE!

The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office,

No. 33 PARK AVE.

A. VANDEREEKE [illegible]
O. O. A.

P. P. VanAredale,

PIANO TUNER.

Instruments kept in thorough order. Terms reasonable. [illegible] Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by Postal, P. O. Box [illegible], or left at Willett's Shoe Store, No. 4 Park Avenue, will receive prompt attention. [illegible]

Park Avenue Bakery

JOHN WALKER, Prop'r

FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,

AND A Variety of

Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1883. No. 6

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors,
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("[illegible] Building,")
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 1 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor adjoining Flagg's Hotel Building.
Terms—$2.00 a Year in advance.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTIN'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
[illegible], Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.

FRENCH BRO'S.,
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FLOUR, FEED, MEAL, HARD WOOD AND LUMBER.
[illegible] Street. Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 28 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

GEORGE S. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wool, Sheep Skins & Tallow.
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Scraps, for sale Cheap only for Cash.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce
Meats of all Kinds.
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
Cor. Park Ave. and Second St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET.
ESTABLISHED, - - - [illegible]
Bread, Cakes, Pies, Confectionery, &c. made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention.

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Flagg's Hotel) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residence. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—[illegible] St., North Plainfield.
[illegible]
Information imparted as regards present and future events, Likewise Marriages, Journeys, Lawsuits, &c. She converses in English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed.
My husband is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c., cheap for cash.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 26 Park Ave.,
[illegible]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works.
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most [illegible] manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders delivered and set up.
[illegible] MANNING,
Front St., [illegible], Plainfield, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y.

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay, Straw, &c.,
Fence St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Woods a specialty.
Orders left as above, or addressed to P. O. BOX [illegible], will receive prompt attention.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS,
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Deer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All wagon orders received and delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
Thankful for past favors I solicit a continuance of the same.

HENRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.,
No. 14 East Second Street,
Bet. Peace St. and Park Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also Bottler of Porter, Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and Adrain Payb's Celebrated Weiss Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it to all desiring a cooling and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, Families, &c., supplied at the lowest rates for first-class goods.

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
McIntyre's Building, Plainfield, N. J.
(P. O. Box, 123.)
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

BENTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
[illegible]
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. [illegible] & [illegible] Aves., Plainfield, N. J.

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL.
[illegible] Place, North Plainfield.
[illegible]

Live Chickens Wanted
[illegible]

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

THE FINEST WHISKEY ever offered for sale in Plainfield can be had at E. P. THORN'S. All those wanting a pure and very old Whiskey for Family and Medicinal use are invited to test it.
Also, a very fine Ale at $1.25 per dozen.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
[illegible] for Gibson, Goldsborough & Forbes', Allen, Wilson & Alston Club Whiskies, Medical Supply for Family use. Also a full line of Ales, Sherry, Brandy, Whiskies and Wines.

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT No. 28 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with the Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r.
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-Class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all reasonable hours.

SMITH'S
Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
[illegible] Old Stand, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Elderberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine, and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Also, Ales, Liquors, Segars.
Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 9 to 1.

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND Sts.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Delaney Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour.

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 7 EXCHANGE PLACE.
FIVE DOORS WEST [illegible], JERSEY CITY.

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Deer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield. P. O. Box [illegible]. Families supplied with pure Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel and [illegible] delivered free of charge.

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
HART MOORE. SAMUEL GOODHALL.
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the traveling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate Agent!
[illegible], NORTH PLAINFIELD.
[illegible]
[illegible]

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD
are [illegible] invited to visit the
Plainfield Academy for Boys,
Seventh street, [illegible] the new building, and see the [illegible] of the school.
GERMAN, Natural Method. Daily at 12 a. m.
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French [illegible]
Elementary Department, without German and French [illegible]
Primary Department, without German and French [illegible]
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for ladies and gentlemen, by the Natural Method, meet in the afternoon and evening.
Principals—James Lyon, J. C. Lawinsky, Ph. D. (of Berlin University). With experienced assistants.
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box [illegible].

Craig Place School,
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. A. DYETT, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Tobacco.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in Havana & Domestic
—SEGARS!!—
No. 28 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 15 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of
Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco, Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

MILLINERY.

MRS. P. DUNN,
HAS THE LATEST STYLES OF
Millinery, Bonnets, Hats, Ect.
BLEACHING AND PRESSING Done at short notice. Feathers curled and Dyed. Pinking done. A large assortment of Hair, Braids, Switches and Curls. Particular attention paid to selecting Hair to suit customers. Hosiery, Gloves, Corsets, etc. Also, Fancy and Dress Goods.
14 West Front street.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. [illegible] WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mlle. Doane, [illegible] Broadway, N. Y.

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Billman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

HOTELS, ETC.

LAING'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH S. MILLER, - - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS. GEISE'S
RESTAURANT
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
29 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for Ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style.

Accommodation Express.
PETER BICKETT, Prop'r, OFFICE—[illegible] North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. [illegible] business attended to. Delivering Goods or Baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., with care and safety. [illegible]

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue,
P. O. BOX [illegible].
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent
[illegible]

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES.

ESTABLISHED 1838.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
INTERIOR DECORATORS,
FINE WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,
LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC., ETC.
391 Canal Street, New York
(Telephone Call—Spring [illegible].)
GEO. F. BROWN—Residence—[illegible] Street, Plainfield. P. O. Box [illegible].

NEW STYLES
WALLPAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTISTCOLORS, Etc.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
Between Front and 2d Sts., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
P. O. BOX, 983.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
In all their branches.
Satisfaction Guaranteed on All Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING,
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St.
P. O. BOX, [illegible].
D. WEAVER. F. WEAVER.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

MISS MAMIE KUNKEL,
(Of Baltimore Maryland.)
The Young American PrimaDonna,
WILL APPEAR IN PLAINFIELD,
During the ensuing Spring for the benefit of a Roman Catholic Charity.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL.
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM [illegible]
Dodworth's New Lancers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. [illegible].

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!

New Livery!
Having assumed control of the well-known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, cor. Park Avenue and Second St., the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.
New Stock and Material
Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, [illegible] AND TOP BUGGIES, &c., of the LATEST MAKE and STYLE, and other new material will constantly be added.
The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock for themselves.
Yours, Very Respectfully,
J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS,
(Of the late firm of Roberts & Cadmus,)
Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and patrons that he has purchased the [illegible] [illegible] Mr. John W. [illegible], who for the past [illegible]
FRONT STREET,
Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer demands for all kinds of [illegible]

Mansion House Stables,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALBERT HEDDEN, Prop'r.
[illegible]

POETRY.

RECREATION.

E. S. THORN.

It was in the days of autumn
When the trees were tinged with gold
[illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible]
By autumn's [illegible],
Tinged with [illegible] and golden
Finely blended, ever gay.

Or when, when the [illegible]
Of the mountains, left and then,
[illegible]
[illegible]

Or [illegible], when the gloaming
Of the golden [illegible] of day,
[illegible]
[illegible] in colors gay.

[illegible]
O'er the [illegible],
[illegible]
And the aftermath of meadow.

Looking westward through the gloaming
At the sunset, setting sun
[illegible] foliage,
Blending [illegible] all among.

Sadly sits the evening twilight
Slowly merging into gray,
And the [illegible] songsters
Cease their daily [illegible].

Then the writer and companion,
Turned their footsteps homeward bound.
Nature's [illegible],
[illegible].

What a place for meditation!
Opportune for [illegible] thought,
Chosen well for [illegible],
Blessings that us hither brought.

One must be a hardened man
With no feeling in his heart,
Not to adore the God of nature
And no praises to impart.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

WHO WAS IT?

We had just finished breakfast. Tom laid down the egg-spoon he had been playing with and looked across at mother.

'Aunt Anne, I think I'll take a wife,' he said exactly as he might have said, 'I think I'll take another cup of coffee.'

'Take a wife?' repeated mother, by no means receiving the information as tranquilly as it had been given. 'What for?'

'Well, I don't know,' answered Tom. 'It's a notion I've got in my head.'

'All nonsense!' said mother, sharply.

'Do you think so? I know it. What in the world can you want of a wife! After all these years we have lived so comfortably together, to bring home somebody to turn the house upside down. And then what is to become of that poor child?'

That 'poor child'—that was I—reddening at being brought into the argument in this way was about to speak for herself, when Tom interposed, warmly:

'I'm sure May knows I would never have any wife who would make it less a home for her—don't you, May?'

'Of course,' said I.

'And I'm sure she knows nothing of the sort,' persisted mother, 'nor you either, Tom Dean. How can you answer for what a wife may take into her head to do, once you get her fixed here? You can't expect her to forget, as you do, that May has no real claim on you.'

'That I have no real claim on her, I suppose you mean, ma'am,' Tom put in for the second time, just as I was getting thoroughly uncomfortable. 'But for all that I intended to keep her—that is,' added Tom, with one of his shortsighted blinks sideways at me, 'as long as she'll stay with me, eh, May? And whoever has anything to say against that arrangement will have to go out of my house to say it—not that I'm afraid of any such result in this case—and, on the whole, I should like to try the experiment.'

Mother smiled grimly, but Tom was so evidently bent on his 'experiment,' as he called it, that she gave up the argument.

'You can dance if you are ready to pay the piper,' she said, shortly. 'And, pray, how soon do you mean to be married?'

Tom's face fell at this question.

'Well,' said he, 'I can't say exactly. I suppose we will have to be engaged first.'

'What!' said mother, opening her eyes; 'why, you never mean to say, Tom, you haven't spoken to her yet?'

'Not yet,' answered Tom, cheerfully. 'Time enough for that, you know, after I had spoken to you.'

'Well,' she said, 'if it was anybody else I should say he was cracked; but you never were like other people, and never will be, Tom Dean. But, at least you have fixed on the lady?'

'Oh, yes,' answered Tom, 'but if you will excuse me, Aunt Anne, I would rather not say anything about her just yet; for if—if anything should happen it wouldn't be pleasant for either party, you know.' With which veiled allusion to his possible rejection Tom took his hat and left the room.

Our household was rather queerly put together. There is no particular reason why I should have been of it at all, for I was not really related to Tom, nor even to 'mother,' as I called her, though I am sure we were as dear to each other as any mother and daughter could be.

She was the second wife of my father, who, like most ministers, had been richer in grace than in goods, and left us at his death with very little to live on. Then it was that Tom Dean had come forward and insisted on giving a home to his aunt and to me, whom he had scarcely seen a dozen times in his life before.

That was exactly like Tom—'queer Tom Dean,' as his friends were fond of saying; 'who never did anything like anybody else.'

I suppose in spite of his clear head for business, there is no denying that he was whimsical; but I am sure, when I think of his unfailing generosity and delicacy, I can't help wishing there were a few more such whimsical people in the world.

Naturally at the time I am speaking of, my opinion had not been asked; all I had to do was to go where mother went, and, while she gave her energies to housekeeping, give mine to growing up, which by this time I had pretty well accomplished.

But perhaps for that very reason—for one sees with different eyes at twelve and eighteen—my position in the house had already begun in some [illegible] to [illegible]; and the morning's [illegible] put it in a clearer light, since it had been used as an argument against Tom's marrying.

I knew mother had spoken honestly, that such a step would [illegible] and he [illegible] his happiness; but [illegible] the best judge of that? I knew also, if objection should bring him round to her opinion, to be perfectly capable of quietly sacrificing his own wishes for my sake, who had not the shadow of a claim on him; so it must be on my part to prevent his own kindness being turned against him now.

Still it was not so easy to see how I was to provide for myself in case it should become advisable. What could I do? Draw and sing and play tolerably, but not in a manner to compete with the hosts that went in the field against me.

Literature? I had read so many stories whose heroines, with a blow of the pen dashed into wealth and fame. That would be very nice, only—I was not the least bit literary; I had never even kept a journal, which is saying a great deal for a girl in her teens.

The 'fine arts,' then, being out of the question for me, what remained? There was some clerkship, or a place in some family, and—and there was Will Broomley!

That may seem like going away from the point, but it was not. It was matter of fact, but I could see well enough what was going on right under my eyes, and I had a pretty clear idea of what was bringing Will to the house so often as he had taken to coming lately.

There was a 'situation,' then, that would give me the home-life I liked best, and felt myself best suited for; but—would it answer in other respects?

I overcast the long seam I was sewing twice over, I was so busy trying to make up my mind whether I liked Will Broomley well enough to pass my whole life with him; and even then I had not come to any decision when I was called down stairs to see Letty Walters.

Letty was the prettiest, I think, of all my friends, and certainly the liveliest. Tom called her the 'tonic,' and used to laugh heartily at her bright speeches. I suppose it was this that made mother fix on Letty as the choice.

When I came into the sitting room I found a kind of cross-examination going on. It was amusing to anybody in the secret, as I was, to watch mother's artful way of continually bringing the conversation round, as if by chance, to bear on what she wanted to know. But it all amounted to nothing, either because Letty was too good a fencer or because she had really nothing to betray. But when Tom came home mother took care to mention that Letty had called.

'What, the tonic?' said Tom. 'Too bad I missed her.'

'But for your choice being already made,' said mother, with a covert scrutiny of his face, 'I dare say you might have as much of the tonic as you liked.'

'But I go on the homoeopathic principle, you know,' answered Tom, with a twinkle in his eye.

After that mother's belief in Letty's guiltiness wavered. Her suspicions were transferred from one to another of our acquaintances; but always with the same unsatisfactory result.

'It passes my comprehension,' she said to me, despairingly, one day. 'I am positive I could tell the right one by Tom's face in a minute, and yet I have mentioned everybody of our acquaintance.'

'Perhaps it is some one with whom we are not acquainted,' I suggested; 'some friend of his we have never seen.'

'What! a perfect stranger?' said mother, sharply. 'Never talk to me, child; Tom's not capable of that!'

I was silent, for I did not want to worry her; but that was my opinion all the same.

The same evening—it was rather more than a week since Tom had hurled that thunderbolt of his at us—mother began about it openly.

'When are you going to introduce your wife to us, Tom? I suppose you have come to an understanding by this time.'

'Oh, there's no hurry,' Tom said, as he had said before; but this time did not speak so cheerfully. 'The fact is,' he continued, with a little hesitation, 'there—there's a rival in the case.'

'A rival!' repeated mother with unfeeling briskness.

'Yes, a young fellow—younger by a good deal than I am,' and Tom's face assumed an absurdly doleful look. 'He is always there now. I confess I don't see my way clear; I'm waiting for her to make up her mind.'

'And she's waiting, most likely, for you to make up yours,' said mother, forgetting in her propensity to right matters that she was playing the enemy's game.

'There's something in that that never occurred to me,' said Tom, his face brightening. Mother saw her mistake and made a countermove at once.

'But the ways of mine are old fashioned now; young ladies nowadays take matters in their own hands. If she cared for you you may be sure she wouldn't have waited till this time to let you know it—that is, I judge by the girls I am in the habit of seeing; but if this one is a stranger to me—' (her mother riveted her eyes on Tom's face; oh, dear, my unfortunate words!) 'if she is an entire stranger I cannot pretend to form any opinion of her, of course.'

'Of course,' repeated Tom, absently.

'Not that I have any such idea,' resumed mother, growing warmer. 'I have said and I say again, that to bring a perfect stranger under this roof is not my opinion of you.'

I felt mother's words like so many pins and needles; for Tom was looking meditatively across at me, and, though that was just a way of his, it seemed now as if he was reading in my face that the opinion was mine and that I had been meddling in what did no concern me. I was for very vexation, getting redder every moment.

'It is so warm here,' I said for an excuse, turning toward the window. 'I am going to get a breath of air.'

I went out into our little strip of garden ground; Tom followed. I thought I should never have a better opportunity to say what I had in my mind to say, so I waited for him by the bench under the old pear tree. 'Sit down here, Tom,' I said, 'I have something to say to you.'

'Have you?' said Tom; 'that's odd, for I—well, never mind that just yet. What is it, May?'

'Tom,' I said, still sure now he had misjudged me, and more resolved to set him right, 'I want a place.'

'A place?' repeated Tom, puzzled, as well he might be by this sudden and indefinite announcement. 'What kind of a place?'

'I don't know,' I said, for, indeed, my ideas were of the vaguest. 'I thought you might, being in the way of those things. Now pray, Tom,' I went on, 'don't fancy I am discontented, or—or anything of that sort; the truth is, ever since I left off school I have wanted something to do, and had it in mind to speak to you about it.'

With this I looked at Tom, fearing he might be vexed; but he did not looked vexed; only pre-occupied.

'I do know of a place, as it happens,' he replied, after a while, 'only I am not sure how it would suit you.'

'That's good news! What is it like?' said I.

'Well, it's a sort of—of general factotum.'

'Why, it must be to run errands,' said I. 'And where is it Tom,' hesitating again, 'It's with me.'

'How very nice!' I exclaimed. 'How soon can I have it?'

'The sooner the better, so far as I am concerned,' said Tom, and with that he turned and looked at me, and directly I saw his eyes I knew somehow, all in a moment, what it was he meant; and I knew, too, both that I could not have passed all my life with Will Broomley, and why I could not.

I am sure Letty Walters, who interrupted us just then, must have thought my wits were wandering, and indeed they were; for I was completely dazed with this sudden turn things had taken. But Tom, who had the advantage of me there, took it quite coolly, and laughed and talked with Letty just the same as ever till she went away.

It was pretty late when we went in. Mother sat where we had left her, knitting in the twilight.

'Wasn't that Letty Walters with you a while ago?' she said, as we came up.

'Yes,' said I, with a confused feeling of an explanation of something being necessary; 'she came to bring the new crochet pattern she promised me.'

'H'm!' said mother, as much as to say she had her own ideas as to what Letty came for.

Tom had been wandering about the room in an absent sort of fashion, taking up and putting down in the wrong places all the small objects that fell in his way. He came up and took a seat by mother. I became of a sudden very busy with the plants in the window; for I knew he was going to tell.

'Wish me joy, Aunt Anne,' he said, 'it's all settled.'

'Settled, is it?' said mother in anything but a joyful tone. 'So it's as I expected all along. Well, you have my best wishes, Tom; perhaps you may be happy together after all; I'm sure I hope so.'

This wasn't a very encouraging sort of a congratulation, and Tom seemed rather taken back by it.

'I'm sorry you're not pleased,' he said, after a pause; 'I had an idea somehow you would be.'

'I did not know from what you judged. But then, it's no use of crying over spilt milk. You'll be married directly, I presume; I must be looking out for a house,' said mother, stroking her nose reflectively with a knitting needle.

'What for?' said Tom; 'I thought of keeping on here all the same.'

'I never supposed otherwise,' said mother. 'Of course I did not expect to turn you out of your house.'

'But what is the need of looking out for another, then?'

'Why, for myself.'

'For yourself,' repeated Tom, in a tone of utter amazement. 'Going to leave us now? Why Aunt Anne, I never heard of such a thing!'

'Now, Tom,' said mother speaking very fast and making her needles fly in concert, 'we might as well come to an understanding at once on this subject. I am fully sensible of your past kindness—now just let me finish—I say I appreciate it, and have tried to do my duty by you in return, as I hope I should be always ready to do. I wish all good to you and your wife, and shall be glad to help her if I can, but to live in the same house with her is what would turn out pleasantly for neither of us, and, once for all, I will not do it.'

'Aunt Anne,' said Tom, pushing back his chair and staring in mother's excited face, 'either you or I must be out of our wits.'

'It's not me, then, at any rate,' retorted mother, getting nettled.

Amusement and a certain embarrassment had kept me a silent listener so far, but there was no standing this; I tried to speak, but could not for laughing.

'I think you are all out of your wits together,' said mother, turning sharply. 'What ails the child? It's no laughing matter.'

'You don't understand each other,' I gasped; 'oh dear! it's not Letty—oh—oh dear!'

'Not Letty!' repeated mother turning to Tom. 'Then why did you tell me so?'

'I never told you so,' said Tom.

'Why, yes you did. You came in and told me you were going to be married,' she said.

'Yes, so I am,' said Tom, still puzzled.

'Now, Tom Dean,' said mother, rising and confronting him, 'what do you mean! Who is going to be your wife?'

'Why, May, of course,' answered Tom.

'May?' and then after a pause of inexpressible astonishment, it was mother's turn to laugh. 'Do you mean to say it was the child you were thinking of all the while?'

'Why, who else could it be?' answered Tom.

'Well,' said mother, 'I ought to have remembered you never did anything like anybody else. But, still why in the world did you go to work in such a roundabout way?'

'I wanted to see how you took to my idea,' said Tom.

'And how do you suppose we were to guess your idea meant May?' mother asked.

'Who else could it be?' said Tom, falling back on what he evidently found unanswerable argument. It was no use talking to him. Mother gave it up with a shake of her head.

'And you won't want another house then?' said Tom, suddenly. That set mother off again; Tom joined with her, and altogether I don't think we ever passed a merrier evening than the one that made us acquainted with Tom's wife.

* * *

NOTHING MEAN ABOUT HIM.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning an old woman sat in the Michigan Central station wiping the tears from her eyes. It was nobody's business in particular to inquire whether she had fallen heir to a million dollars or was traveling through life with a broken heart, but one sociable man stepped forward after a time and made some inquiries. Then he passed around among the crowd and said:

'Gentlemen, here is a poor old woman who wants to get to Columbus to her friends. Let's take up a collection.'

In the course of four or five minutes a purse of $5 was made up, but when he had counted it the man said:

'Gentlemen, let's chip in enough more to buy her a new dress. I'm a poor man, but here's a quarter for the old lady.'

The purse was now increased to nearly $7, and the woman had just pocketed the money when a man stepped forward and said to the collector of the purse:

'Why, Henry, is this you?'

'Of course it is.'

'And that woman is your own wife?'

'Well, Mr. Knickerbocker,' replied the man, as he buttoned his coat, 'it's a mighty mean man who won't chip in a quarter to buy his own wife a dress and help her off on a visit.'

[illegible].

TAKEN FROM HUMOROUS PAPERS.

A BATCH OF LIVELY CLIPPING SELECTIONS.

GETTING AHEAD—BLOWN UP—FUN BY A DRIVER—A PARISIAN STORY, ETC.

HOW JOHN GOT AHEAD.

A Maine boy who went west in early youth, and had there attained wealth and honorable position, returned last summer to visit his old home. At the village store he saw an old man whom he had known in his younger days. He accosted him, but was not recognized.

'So you don't remember me,' he said. 'I'm John E—?'

'You?' exclaimed the old man. 'You don't mean to tell me that you are John E—?'

'I certainly am,' said the visitor, shaking him by the hand, 'and I'm very glad to see you again.'

'Well,' persisted the old man, 'I never did. To think that this is you. They tell me you have grown awful rich, John.' John admitted that he had 'saved something.'

'And they say you're the president of a railroad and get a big salary.' Again John had to admit that rumor spoke the truth.

'I'm glad on it, John, I'm glad on it, my boy. It beats all, what circumstances and cheek will do for a man.'—Boston Transcript.

THE CASHIER'S HONESTY.

A managing director, who had just made an end of reading the annual report of the company, concludes with a few laudatory remarks concerning the staff, and especially the cashier. As he sits down a messenger brings him a telegram, which he peruses not without giving marks of astonishment. 'Ahem!' he says, as he rises once more. 'Gentlemen, I had just told you that our cashier was a model of regard for the interests of the company, of promptitude in the discharge of all his duties, and of scrupulous integrity in the most trivial affairs. This dispatch which he has just sent me from Brussels confirms my estimate in all its details. His regard for the company he has shown by carrying off 100,000 francs when he might just as easily have taken 500,000. His business-like promptitude is displayed in the dispatch of this telegram the instant he had crossed the Belgian frontier, and as for his scrupulous integrity—gentlemen, he paid for sending the dispatch instead of letting it come on collect."

ALL FOR NOTHING.

During the past summer, a number of Baptists in a certain village of New York state entered upon the work of erecting a church edifice. One day when old Farmer Gibby was in town he was informed of the project and asked to come down with a handsome subscription.

'How much do you expect me to sign?' he asked, as he looked over the subscription paper.

'We will leave it entirely to your conscience,' was the reply. The old man wiped off his hands, put on his spectacles, and, having borrowed a pencil, put his name down for fifty cents. 'Fifty cents, eh?' observed the man who had presented the paper. 'Well, Brother Gibby, I must say you have a mighty small conscience.'

'It may look that way at first sight,' calmly replied the old man; 'but when I can have one of the best pews in the Methodist church for nothing, it seems as if fifty cents was all I could pay to run the risk of being saved by any other denomination.'—Wall Street News.

BUYING FLANNELS.

'I always buy,' says a western man, 'six red flannel undershirts in September, and put one on. In October I put on another; in November another.'

'What! not over the rest?'

'Yes, over the rest; in December another, and so on until the first of March, when I take off the top one; in April I take off another; in May another, and so on until I take off the last one.'

'Then what do you do?'

'I take a bath.'

BLOWN UP ON A STEAMBOAT.

'Did you ever meet with an accident while traveling?' inquired the reporter of a clerical-looking individual, as they sat smoking on the upper deck of a Sound steamer.

'Well, I don't know whether it was an accident or not,' he replied, 'but I was once blown up on a steamboat.'

'Ah,' ejaculated the scribe, as he whipped out his pencil and note-book; 'tell us about it?'

Lighting a fresh cigar, the pious-faced chap began:

'It was in the summer of '74, and I had just completed a big contract up at Albany and secured passage for myself and wife on one of the steamboats bound for New York. Being very tired, we went directly to our state-room. Just as I began to doze my better-half exclaimed:

'John, where are the checks for our baggage?'

'Don't know,' I growled.

'But didn't you have the trunks sent aboard?'

'Guess not,' says I.

'Well, you are a nice one, you are!' she shrieked. 'Don't you know, you illustrious, half-baked idiot, that all my best clothes are in those trunks? Don't you know, you miserable villian, that every valuable I have in this world is in that baggage? Oh, you confounded fool!'

She kept up a running fire of abuse nearly all night long. I could hear her in my sleep, and when I told her, as soon as she became exhausted, that the baggage had been sent by rail, she started off again with the furore of a mad bull.' Here he stopped and relit his cigar.

'You must have had a hard time of it," said his companion; 'but how about the accident?'

'Why, I've just been telling you,' he replied.

'Well, there's nothing thrilling in that.'

'There isn't, eh? If you've never been blown up on a steamboat by a woman then you don't know anything about explosions—that's all.'

He flung the stump of his cigar over the rail, and went below to seek the seclusion that the cabin grants.—[illegible] Magazine.

AN INGENIOUS EXPLANATION.

Very few people know why the room in which a newspaper is made up is called the "composing room." The following explains it: After the paper goes to press a copy is brought to the editor who discovers that four or five typographical errors in his leading article not only make him say exactly what he didn't intend to say, but arouse a suspicion in the minds of his readers that he must have been under the influence of liquor when he wrote it. He rushes forth with blood in his eye and murder in his heart, and [illegible] everybody, from the foreman down to the "devil." It is to the [illegible] manner in which his ravings are received by the intelligent Printer that the term "composing room" is attributed.—[illegible]

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

WEEKS.				MONTHS.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

A CAR DRIVER'S FUN.

A driver of a Boston street-car is a sort of Mark Tapley who can see some elements of fun in a balky horse. This is the way he describes a very common street car experience: 'After the balky horse has stopped ten or fifteen times on the route he fairly gets his head up and declares he won't go any further. Well, the conductor rings the bell, and only one horse starts, and we don't go worth a cent. So I've nothing to do but to lick the balky horse. And the lady inside next the window takes her tongue away from the roof of her mouth with a noise like a torpedo, and says: "Just see how that man is beating those horses." And the old lady next to her says: "I know it. Did you ever see anything like it? I shouldn't think they'd let him." Then somebody else says: "I'd like to know what's the matter now? This is about the tenth time we've stopped since we left the bridge. I don't see why we can't get along without so many stops." Then somebody yanks open the door and yells out: "Say, driver, what's the matter? Why can't we go on?" Somebody on the platform says: "Horse bucky?" "Horse bucky," says the other. "Well, that ain't no way to manage a bucky horse. Why don't somebody get out and lead him? I don't see any reason why a whole carful of people should be kept waiting in the middle of the street just because the driver don't know his business." Then finally the horse gets to waltzing. That always frightens the women. They holler and most of the passengers stand up in the car to see what's going on, and the horse makes up his mind all of a sudden to go on, and the way them people go down does me more good than all the rest of it. And so it goes on. No fun driving a horse-car? Well, I suppose there ain't to a man who hasn't got it in him.'

POLITENESS OF TRADE.

The colored man has gradually mastered the politeness of trade. A gentleman went into a little store and remarking that he wanted ten cents' worth of tobacco, handed the colored proprietor a $20 gold piece.

'Ain't yer got nothin' smaller den dis?'

'Nothing smaller.'

'All right, boss,' throwing the $20 into the drawer, 'I'll let yer take de terbacker, bein's as yer look sorter honest, an' yer kin drap in some time when yer passin' and git yer nineteen dollars and ninety-nine cents.—Nashville (Tennessee) Banner.

A PARISIAN STORY.

New Years day a rich old uncle sends his favorite niece a casket of candy.

'The miserable, mean old hunks!' say the recipient and her husband, 'to send us this, when he is in the diamond business and could get diamonds at cost price!'

And in profound disgust they send the casket on to a poor relation whom they must remember at New Year's time.

Early next morning the poor relation comes in beaming her thanks.

'Oh, it was so kind of you,' she says, 'but really in my condition—'

'Never mind, never mind,' replies the husband of the donor, 'it is hardly worth thanking us for such a trifling present as that two-penny half-penny box.'

'Oh, it wasn't the box I was thanking you for it was the contents.'

And the poor relation points to the superb pair of diamond earrings, which do look out of keeping with her shabby dress.

A DIALOGUE.

This was a club dialogue and its sequel:

Q. What are you smoking?
A. An imported Havana.
Q. How much does it cost?
A. A quarter.
Q. How much do you smoke a day?
A. Half a dozen.
Q. How long have you smoked?
A. Thirty years.

Advice—My friend, with that amount of money you could have bought a house on Fifth avenue.

The parties quitted the Brunswick and strolled up down. As they neared the Windsor, the smoker asked:

Q. You never smoke?
A. Never.

Sarcastic Query—Then point out your house.—Forney's Progress.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

Join hands with the virtuous.

The truly generous is the truly wise.

It is impious in a good man to be sad.

The last drop makes the cup run over.

Silence does not always make wisdom.

Ere fancy you consult, consult your purse.

A smooth sea never made a skillful mariner.

Injure not another's reputation or business.

Learning makes a man fit company for himself.

Engage in argument with every person you meet.

Without the rich heart, wealth is an ugly beggar.

Care for what you say, or what you say will make you care.

Our dead are never dead to us until we have forgotten them.

The greatest truths are the simplest; so are the greatest men.

Think wrongly if you please, but in all cases think for yourself.

True art, like love, excludes all competition and absorbs the man.

Flattery is like your shadow; it makes you either larger or smaller.

It requires a strong, good man to say, "I was mistaken and am sorry."

Falsehood and fraud shoot up in every soil, the product of all climes.

Suffering itself does not less afflict the senses than the fear of suffering.

The world does not require so much to be informed as to be reminded.

Jealousy is the sentiment of property but envy is the instinct of theft.

Think not a petty goodness of to-day may blot out the sin of yesterday.

He is the happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his home.

When a man's upper story is empty his mouth will advertise the fact.

Hold on to your own hand when you are about to do an improper thing.

In memory's mellow light we behold not the thorns; we see only the flowers.

Cast your nets in the right waters, and they may take fish while you are sleeping.

Recreation is only valuable as it unbends us; the idea can know nothing of it!

Never listen to other people, for if you do, you may forget what to say yourself.

Experience is the trophy composed of all the weapons we have been wounded with.

The defects of the understanding, like those of the face, grow worse as we grow older.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

THE GENERAL WELFARE.

The preamble to the Constitution of the United States declares that one of the prominent reasons for its establishment was to promote the general welfare.

THE GENERAL WELFARE.

Not to enrich by bounties particular interest, not to confer privileges on favored classes, not to create selfish combinations, but to advance the practical good of all people, the day laborer equally with the millionaire, the farmer and mechanic on a par with the banker and manufacturer, and the dealer of small means fully as well and justly as the large capitalized operator.

That is the wording and intent of the Constitution, and we boldly assert, that any Congressman who neglects to follow it as the guide of legislative action, is not only lacking in the qualifications of statesmanship, but derelict in oath-bound fidelity to the supreme law of the Republic.

We have in existence to-day revenue measures framed to meet the extraordinary requirements of war, and which annually produce by taxation, direct and indirect, as a temptation for corrupt expenditure, and as a useless burden upon the great mass of the population, a surplus of over one hundred million dollars.

The people rightfully demand relief. The Constitution decrees it, and decent regard for the general welfare would induce Congress to view the subject, urgently important, in the light of national duty, and swayed by business intelligence, if there is such a Congressional thing, wipe out all unnecessary internal revenue taxation, and so levy imposts on foreign importations that home industry, labor and enterprise shall be fairly, honestly and profitably encouraged, and the PEOPLE PROTECTED against the heartless extortion of subsidized monopolies, who are seeking to build up in this country a moneyed oligarchy as hateful and hurtful as was the titled tyranny Patrick Henry fearlessly denounced a hundred years ago.

That is what Congress should do?

What is it doing?

Pulling and hauling for the attainment of special purposes under the deceptive plea of reducing revenue, in fact, re-enacting to a certain extent the disgraceful kiss-me-and-I'll-kiss-you tactics of the River and Harbor game. "Help us exact tribute for pig iron and coal," frantically cry the Pennsylvania patriots; "make the duty on sugar double its worth is all we ask," retort the men of Louisiana; "prohibit Canadian lumber from coming in though the whole land withers with drought," shout the Michiganders and Maniacs; "give us the exclusive monopoly of lead," echo Missouri and Nevada, and of "shoddy blankets," chimes in New England.

So all along the line, every thought for selfish ends, nothing for the general welfare.

When common sense and common honesty become dominant, and the Constitution is obeyed, common prosperity may once more reach the ascending scale.

THE VOICE OF LABOR.

A Connecticut workingman thus speaks to Congress through a letter read therein by Senator Beck, of Kentucky:

"In Meriden, during the depression of trade, a great number of the shops made reductions of wages to the extent of twenty-five per cent, promising faithfully to restore the "cut" just as soon as business would warrant it.

Five years have passed.

The prices of all things that are necessaries of life have risen, but the wages of help, except where the employer has been compelled to increase his force by an enlarging trade, have remained as reduced.

It is the fashion of our Representatives to picture the mechanics living in a state of comparative opulence, owning their own homes, a nice and comfortable bank account, their living apartments furnished with every article to delight the finer senses of humanity, such as fine pictures and the latest improved piano, their children enjoying all the facilities of good and cheap schools.

What mockery!

If you would know their true condition reverse the picture and you have it.

It is true that in many instances men who work for daily wages do hold property, but under what conditions?

I will tell you.

The city of Meriden is, I think, the most prosperous and busy city, taking its population (20,000) into consideration, in New England.

Everybody works, and yet outside of the britannia shops the wages paid barely suffice to sustain life.

In fact, there is one concern (Senator Platt knows this well) that within the past three years have paid such low wages to their help that the poor wretches have had to receive help from the town.

If any one should desire to know how many laboring men in this town own their own houses he might consult the town records and also note the number and amount of the mortgages resting thereon."

Workingmen! Read and reflect!

A MARVELOUS RECOVERY.

Mr. John Gilbert, the actor, who was thought to have been fatally injured in the Newhall House disaster, at Milwaukee, has marvelously recovered. In the frightful leap for life, with his newly-wedded wife in his arms, he struck upon the pavement with the top of his head, fracturing the base of his skull. The jump cost his bride her life, but being possessed of a wonderfully strong constitution, Mr. Gilbert has survived. For the first time on Sunday Gilbert recovered his memory. He said, "Doctor, I want to know what I am here for?" Dr. Danforth directed his mind from the subject. He does not yet know that his young wife is dead. Mr. Gilbert may be able in two weeks to travel.

Senator John Carpenter, Jr., from Hunterdon county, has proven himself an able Legislator the short time he has been in the State Senate. He will prove a watchful servant of the people, in all their interests. His acts so far, attest that the people of his district made no mistake in nominating and electing him.

Immense damage has been done to property by the floods in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and the rivers are still very high.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Among the bills introduced into the Legislature the past week, are the following important ones:

In the Senate—

No. 105. By Mr. Schenck, requires all Township Collectors to file with the County Clerk on the second Tuesday of every February, a full account of receipts and expenditures, amount of taxes that remain unpaid, the names of the delinquents and the amounts due.

No. 110. By Mr. Carpenter, provides that in cities of the third class where there is no City Hall, to enable the Mayor, Council, &c., to purchase one.

In the House—

No. 102. By Mr. McLaughlin, an act to provide for the further relief of the poor in cities. Authorizes appropriations where the regular appropriations are exhausted.

No. 106. By Mr. Lewis, an act requiring hotel keepers to provide fire alarm bells or gongs to be attached to sleeping apartments, and operated from the hotel office.

An act introduced into the House, extending the registry act to cities of 6,000 inhabitants and over, was passed by that body on Monday.

No. 114, By Mr. Carpenter, provides for the election of an Excise Board to consist of three citizens, in all cities of the third class; such election to take place on the first annual election after the passage of this act; one member to hold office for one year, one for two years and one for three years.

No. 115, by Mr. Carpenter, amends the usury laws so as to forbid any person or corporation who contracts to take, directly or indirectly, for the loan of any money, wares, merchandise, goods or chattels, above the rate of five dollars for the forbearance of one hundred dollars for one year, and after that rate for a greater or less sum for a longer time.

Mr. Miller presented a concurrent resolution requesting the Fish Commissioners to report within ten days the amount of money spent and work done by them. Referred to Committee on Fisheries.

S. 94, requiring fruit baskets to be marked by the number of packs or quarts they may contain. Passed, 15 to 3.

In the House the bill creating a new township of Roselle, Union County, and House 20, an act relative to licenses in cities of the third class passed to a third reading on Tuesday.

On Tuesday the House devoted the forenoon to the consideration of Mr. Cator's bill providing that railroad property in the State shall be taxed locally at the same rate as private property. Only four members—Byrnes, Clark, Flynn and Stilljes—were absent. The former was absent attending a funeral. The galleries and floor were crowded, and deep interest was shown in the discussion. Mr. Cator asked that the absentees be sent for. Mr. Clarke appeared, and the Sergeant-at-Arms was sent after the others. The floor was cleared of visitors and it was ordered that the members be kept within the bar of the House until the final vote should be reached. Everything being satisfactorily arranged, Mr. Cator began his long speech. He claimed that there is $167,000,000 worth of railroad property in the State, the cost price of which is $200,000,000.—This property pays annually $643,000 into the State Treasury. If taxed according to the constitutional principles of equal taxation it would pay an annual tax of $3,200,000. Hudson County claims $30,000,000 leaving $137,000,000 for the other counties to tax. In New York railroad property is assessed and taxed exactly the same as private property, road-bed and all. The assessment is made upon the basis of what the road is worth for railroad purposes, not agricultural purposes. Every mile of road-bed, every depot and bridge pays local taxes and there has never been an appeal from the local assessment. The New York Central Railroad recently paid $1,200,000 local taxes outside of the city of New York. Mr. Cator maintained that the State may tax railroad franchises for State purposes, and he pledged himself to support such a bill. This bill does not prevent such taxation, but simply administers justice to municipalities.—Under it the people will realize as much if not more than they do now.

Mr. Bryant, of Atlantic, opposed the bill, maintaining there were grave reasons why it should not pass. He looked upon railroads as State property, to be taxed by the State for State purposes. He did not believe the railroad companies cared whether the bill passes or not. The important fact remains that New Jersey has contracted with railroad companies to exempt them from taxation, and the passage of this bill will bring a world of costly litigation. Every tax duplicate in every village in the State may be brought into court.—A large majority of the citizens of New Jersey will suffer by the passage of this bill, for the State will receive no taxes from railroads and the roads will pay no local taxes for years until the constitutionality of this bill is settled. Railroads are the chief agencies in the development of municipalities. His chief argument lay in the fact that Atlantic County will be the loser by the passage of the bill, and he urged all the members from the rural counties to vote against it on the principle of equal and exact justice.

As the discussion progressed, sectional interests appeared. South Jersey, excepting Camden, opposed the bill, claiming that it was in the interest of Hudson, Essex and Passaic, and several other eastern counties, which have valuable property within their borders and whose treasuries will be greatly enriched at the expense of the counties which have little or no railroad property.

The discussion did not end until 1 o'clock. Mr. Cator spoke bitterly against the railroads, and Messrs. Gaston and Parsons favored the bill.

Amid profound stillness the vote was taken. Various members explained their votes, and the bill passed the House by a vote of 35 to 23. All the representatives of Hudson, Essex, Morris and Passaic counties supported the bill.

It now goes to the Senate, where the indications point to its defeat. There the representatives from counties which have a minimum of railroad property are in the majority.

Among the interesting questions under consideration in the Senate was the concurrent resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution forbidding the manufacture of intoxicants in the State. The resolution finally passed by a vote of 11 to 10. Among the bills introduced was one forbidding under the penalty of $20 the sale of cigarettes or tobacco in any form to children under sixteen years of age. The bill which passed the House, and which allows nine out of twelve or four out of six to make a verdict in civil suits, was killed by the adverse report of the Judiciary Committee. The committee appointed by the House to consider bribery at primary elections reported this afternoon admitting the lamentable fact, recommending the repeal of the present law and the passage of a new one to take effect immediately.

In the Senate on Wednesday, House bill No. 71, which regulates the terms that members of Common Council in cities of the third class, shall hold office, passed, 14 to 0.

Mr. Schenck introduced into the Senate a bill which repeals that part of the supplement respecting inns and taverns, passed March 26th, 1874, which provides that in cities that have laws for the punishment of the violators of the license laws, there shall be no indictment.

The Committee appointed to investigate the contested election case between Wildrick and Read, of Warren County, as to who was entitled to a seat in the House, reported in favor of Wildrick.

House bill No. 127, known as the "Firemen's bill," which authorizes townships to issue tax certificates to firemen, was passed in the House.

TO BE HUNG.

James Treglown was convicted in Morristown, on Thursday, of murder in the first degree. It will be remembered that he killed one Minnie Chirgwin, and then basely attempted to blacken her fame. Attorney General Stockton, for the prosecution, denounced the culprit in bitter terms, and Judge Magie charged the jury strongly against the prisoner. The trial lasted all day and the court room was packed with spectators. Treglown exhibited throughout the whole proceedings a stoicism most remarkable.

The following self-explanatory letter from Senator McPherson was on Monday last received by Speaker O'Connor, relative to the charges made against members of the Legislature:

UNITED STATES SENATE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4, 1883.
Hon. Thomas O'Connor, Speaker:

MY DEAR SIR:—My attention was first called, last evening, in a letter to me from Trenton, to an article in the New York World of January 31st, in which I am made to appear as verifying the statement of another—which statement, it is said, reflect upon the conduct of several members of the New Jersey Legislature. I would have replied to this charge at once had I known of it, but have been unable on account of ill-health, together with other pressing duties to even open a newspaper for a week, or more, and hence the article in question escaped my notice or knowledge. I wish you would say for me, and without delay, to the members of the Legislature who did not support me in the caucus or joint convention, as the charge is intended seemingly to apply to them, that I have not here or elsewhere complained of their opposition or questioned their motives, because of such opposition, to my re-election in the Senate. I have not made any statement myself to newspaper correspondents, or otherwise, and have neither affirmed or denied anything I have heard or read respecting the conduct of any of the members of the New Jersey Legislature, in respect of this, or any other question with which they have had to deal. I do not deny that inquiries have not been made of myself respecting matters relating to the late Senatorial election about which the public press have freely spoken of myself, as well as others, in no very flattering terms (by what authority I know not,) but invariably I have made answer that it was a subject of which it did not become me to speak and have at all times and places declined to speak.

I am, sir, with great respect,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN R. MCPHERSON.

The New Jersey Prohibition Home Protection party held a conference Thursday at Trenton. The Executive Committee was authorized to make arrangements for meetings to be held throughout the State for the purpose of raising funds to distribute prohibition literature and enroll temperance votes. They are preparing for a vigorous temperance campaign in the Fall, and hope to progress the constitutional amendment in the present Legislature. A resolution was adopted providing for the holding of conventions in every county in the State, to nominate candidates for all officers to be voted for at the Spring election. It was decided to hold a State Convention in Trenton, to nominate a candidate for Governor, on the 23d of May.

Speaker O'Connor has thus far proved himself to be a first-class presiding officer. He exhibits his training as a soldier in his love of order and discipline. The order of business, as laid down in the rules, is strictly adhered to, everything is required to be done systematically. The pages are not permitted to run about in a noisy manner, and as far as possible order is strictly maintained on the floor. By this adherence to the rules and the Speaker's knowledge of parliamentary law, the calendar has been kept clear and the session will, in all probability, be a short one.—True American.

The present Legislature by a joint committee duly appointed for that purpose, has decided to commemorate a Bi-Centennial at the State House, in Trenton, on the first day of March next, and all ex-members and ex-State officials are requested to send their address to J. H. Neighbour, Secretary, either at Dover or Trenton, N. J.

A very successful trial of an improved telephone was made the other day in Boston over a line 265 miles in length. Conversation was carried on for three hours. The articulation was very distinct, and powerful enough to be heard with the receiving telephone six inches from the ear.

STATE ITEMS.

Governor Ludlow, having approved the bill to enable Jersey City to issue $500,000 of water bonds to replace those retired on the 1st of January, the Board of Finance will make immediate arrangements to place the new bonds on the market. They will bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent.

A. H. Hopping, the New York commission merchant, who was found in Philadelphia after being missing from his home in Newark for two weeks, says that on his way to Philadelphia he was asked by a very agreeable young man to take a drink. He indulged in a glass of beer, and from that time till Monday of the following week was a blank. His pocket book and watch chain had been stolen, but his watch and a diamond pin were left untouched. Mr. Hopping thinks he was drugged.

The split in the Waverly Driving Club has resulted in the organization by the disaffected members of a new driving club, to be known as the Mutual Driving Association. The bitterness between the members arose from the casting of some black balls at a meeting held Thursday evening. Ex-Alderman Colyer has been elected President of the new association; Alderman Geo. Guildford, First Vice President; [illegible], of Elizabeth, Second Vice President; F. J. [illegible], Third Vice President; Charles Heath, Treasurer; E. S. Edwards, Secretary.

The license problem assumed a more definite shape last Monday night. At the Council meeting that night, Councilman John Simpson emphatically declared that, although a license man, he would vote against all licenses if the Council persisted in allowing to remain in force the ordinance raising the license fee of saloons to $500, as was recommended in the Mayor's message. "Uncle John" is honest in his convictions, and gave good reasons for his action. We have contended from the time of the recommendation of such a license fee, that the sum was too high, and unjustly levied. The wisest thing the Council can now do is to go back to the old license fee system of $300 for hotels and $200 for saloons, and also repeal the unjust "Ward Ordinance."

The New Brunswick Times says a party of Hungarian gypsies, who passed through that city a few days ago, were encamped near Kingston. It is reported that one of the babies who was strapped to one of the horses and which since their visit there, had died, and that the remains were fed to the bears—for food.

Shocks of earthquake have been felt in New Hampshire and Illinois.

GOVERNOR CROSBY'S MESSAGE.

Through the favor of General Sterling we are in receipt of a proof of the message of the Governor of Montana and have read it with much interest. We congratulate President Arthur upon his appointment of Col. J. Schuyler Crosby to the Gubernatorial office of the Territory of Montana. From his message he seems to be master of the situation, and certainly has commenced his work well, and, if we may judge by his antecedents, we feel assured he will continue. A bright, brilliant future awaits him. Young in politics yet he shows an aptness unusual in one of his years and experience. Col. Crosby comes from our bluest of blue blood, and is intimately connected with the oldest of the Knickerbocker families, has been reared amidst wealth and luxury, but at his country's call is always ready to make any sacrifice to serve. When the rebellion broke out in 1861 he tendered his services when a mere youth and was appointed 2d Lieut. 1st Artillery. He served with marked distinction until 1871 and was three times brevetted for meritorious service—as Captain, Major and Lieut. Colonel. After attaining the rank of Lieut. Colonel he resigned to serve his country in a larger sphere, and entered the civil service. Appointed to a foreign Mission, he so successfully managed the affairs that the President, when seeking for the talent and ability to manage a frontier territory, saw it in Col. Crosby and transferred him from his position abroad to the more difficult one at home. He has made no mistake, for the new Governor has shown a master hand.

A meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders was held Thursday afternoon, of last week and considerable business was transacted. The Board resolved to issue $90,000 worth of new bonds, falling due at different periods, some as late as the year 1900, to meet bonds falling due and for other purposes. During the meeting a telegram was received from Trenton stating that Governor Ludlow had signed the bill authorizing the funding of the county's indebtedness incurred in building the bridges necessitated by the last freshet, instead of putting the whole amount in the next tax levy.

COMMUNICATED.

For "The Constitutionalist."

A Curious Charity.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—This is a wonderful age that we are living in. It is an age of wickedness, charity, religion and benevolence. There never was an age when there were so many societies in being as the present. There never was an age when reading by the masses were more extant. The newspaper of this age takes the lead as to doctrine, teaching, etc., in place of the bible. Principles and methods of teaching are learned more from what is published in the newspapers than from the bible or pulpit. Thus the situation: the editor has come to hold the place of reformer as well as the preacher and thus we resort to the public press for all moral questions, as to proper methods and principles. The nations of the world have come to be only one great neighborhood. We talk to each other by the telephone and telegraph across the seas as if only across the streets of our cities, and it is put in print everywhere and in every language. Thus we learn of the nations of the earth as neighbors. Thus we gather the news of this "curious charity," from the smokers of cigars in the cafes in some parts of Germany. This is the rule: Before proceeding to smoke each smoker cuts off the end of his cigar a piece of the tobacco, and deposits the same in a metal box or tray placed to hold it in the centre of the room. The trays are placed in the cafes by a benevolent society, which has numerous branches, and the aim it has in view is to supply a certain number of poor children with a new suit of clothes at Christmas each year. The statistics furnished by nineteen of the branches in the Rhenish provinces show that in 1881 no less than 4,500 lbs. of tobacco were collected in this way. This was sold for £1,200, a sum which sufficed to provide an outfit for 1,700 poor children at an expense of about 15s each. The branches are increasing and have nearly doubled since that time. How much better it would be to dispose of this whole smoke for the benefit of the human family, and the smokers themselves. But if this habit must go on, even as in our city and country, what an amount of relief to the poor might be saved by adopting the example of the German smokers in the cafes. Say place the box or tray in some convenient place in every cigar store of each town, and see that each cigar sold should be clipped for benevolent purposes. Who will establish the first benevolent institution in our midst and report the result for the first year? Certainly it seems to us we ought to get some good out of such habits and institutions. If the foregoing should prove a success then let the same principles be established in all our drinking saloons and places. That is, let a large vessel be placed near the counter convenient for the drinker, and let it be understood that he must turn the first end of the drink into the benevolent fund. This to be sold for medicinal or mechanical purposes, the sum arriving therefrom to be applied to the clothing and feeding of our unfortunate poor. Our Children's Home and other benevolent societies doubtless could use to advantage quite considerable of this fund, while other arrangements of disposing of such a large fund was being arranged. This may seem like a strange proposition, but would it not be carried out without a detriment to the salesmen and consumer? And then would it not help to give character to the reputation of the business and those daily drinking these beverages?

No business should be sanctioned by law that no good should come of it to the human family. The Lord upon which license is granted seems to indicate that good should come of such places and that [illegible] should be exerted, for the law itself implies that the person applying should be of good moral character and the petitioners of said applicant shall be good freeholders, etc. All to all these [illegible] and of order? Let [illegible] little newspaper gospel on the subject.

[illegible]

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Young men always are welcome at the rooms. They are open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

[illegible] are to be placed in the parlor for the use of young men. It is hoped that before long, a large selection of [illegible] will be secured.

The amusement room is to be refurnished very soon; and well supplied with a list of new and interesting games. This room is open afternoons and evenings.

Plainfield Young Men's Christian Association wants a gymnasium, but how to get it and where to put it is a question the amusement committee have been discussing.

Friday afternoon of this week a meeting for boys will be held in the rooms. The boys are all invited. The next entertainment of the course will be given on Thursday evening, Feb. 22d by Chas. Roberts. Tickets for the evening can be had at Reynold's Pharmacy.

The Bible study on Saturday evening last was conducted by the Librarian, in absence of the General Secretary; and was well attended. Will the young men remember this hour for Bible Study on Saturday evening and attend if possible. The hour is of great interest to all who attend and good results are evident from the worker [illegible].

The young men's meeting for prayer and song, is as well established as any evening church prayer meeting. On Monday evenings the hour from 8 to 9 is of much interest to the young men. This meeting is always well attended and has been greatly blessed. The topic for next Monday evening is: "Parting Promises of Christ." Strangers are cordially invited to attend the meeting, and will receive a hearty welcome from the secretary and all others who attend.

Young Men's Christian Association Work.

Statistical report of General Secretary for month of January 1883, with comparative report for December, 1882, showing the marked increase in all branches of the work:

	Dec.	Jan.
Total attendance at rooms	1703	[illegible]
Daily average	[illegible]	[illegible]
Number of books drawn	[illegible]	[illegible]
Daily average	9	14
Number young men's prayer meetings	4	4
Total attendance at prayer meetings	126	164
Average attendance	[illegible]	[illegible]
No. out-post meetings held	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total attendance Washingtonville S.S.	138	157
Average attendance	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total attendance at service at W'h'ville	121	[illegible]
Average attendance	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total attendance at service at Jack's	[illegible]	[illegible]
Average attendance	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total attendance at Mt. Pleasant	102	[illegible]
Average attendance	[illegible]	[illegible]
Average attendance at Bible study	4	4
Average attendance at ev'ng prayers	6	[illegible]
Total attendance at amusement room	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total attendance at reception	[illegible]	[illegible]
Members elect at Board meeting	7	[illegible]

A Fine Exhibition of Poultry.

The forthcoming exhibition of the New York Fanciers Club at Madison Square Garden, Feb. 13, 14, 15 and 16, promises to be a fine display. Fanciers from all over the country will exhibit prize fowls, pigeons and pets. Over 1,000 of the most valuable and handsomest specimens of feathered live stock in the country will be on exhibition. Prizes will be offered on upward of 150 distinct varieties of fowls, turkeys, ducks, geese, pigeons, cage birds, pheasants, rabbits, etc. Some of the best judges in the country have been secured to award the prizes, which will aggregate $2,000 in cash. The exhibition will be open to visitors from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily. Prize list and information about the show may be obtained of Mr. Charles R. Harker, the Secretary of the club, 62 Courtlandt st., N. Y.

THE Council meets next Monday evening.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Mahlon H. Ferris lost his valuable horse, from throat disease last week.

Mr. S. M. Forster expects to remove to Ocean Beach on or about April 1st, next.

Wm. Clark, who has been seriously sick for some time past, has so far convalesced as to be about again.

On this Friday evening, an address will be delivered by a Missionary from Japan, and the singing of Japanese hymns by his children, in the M. E. church.

The Mayor of Mugginsville was attending court at Elizabeth on Wednesday last. He left his foreman, Charles, in charge of his carriage factory during his absence.

The Sunday School of the M. E. church will hold a Missionary meeting on next Sunday afternoon. An address will be delivered by the Rev. N. W. Cadwell of the Presbyterian church.

On Sunday evening the machine for generating gas for lighting the M. E. church, failed to work. In consequence, kerosene lamps were obtained, and a short service held in the Sunday School room.

The Town Committee met on Thursday evening of last week and completed its settlement with the Overseers of roads. It met last night for the purpose of examining the Collector's Report of his doings the past year.

The Westfield Thief Detective Society held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, 5th inst. There was a large attendance of members, and considerable business of importance to the interest of the society was transacted.

On Wednesday evening last, Dr. Dio Lewis delivered his lecture on "Our Eyes" with illustrations, in the M. E. church. There was a fair attendance and the subject was ably discussed by the lecturer. Those persons who failed to go, missed a great treat.

Mr. Cornelius Messler, a former resident of Westfield, brother-in-law of Jno. S. Irving, died on Saturday last at his residence in Newark, N. J., from pneumonia. The funeral services were held at his residence on Tuesday, and his remains taken to his native town, Liberty Corner, for burial.

The Court of Common Pleas of Union County has appointed C. W. L. Martine of Fanwood, Roland M. Stover and J. F. Hubbard of Plainfield, George W. Doty of Union, and Mr. White and Husbands of Elizabeth, six chosen freeholders of the County of Union, to view and certify whether the roads in our town, known as the extension of Kimball avenue and Orchard street, are necessary or not. They will meet at the Town Rooms on Wednesday the 14th inst, at 10 a. m., to enter upon the performance of their duties.

The Westfield Bucket and Engine Co. No. 1, held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening. There was more than average attendance of members, all taking a great amount of interest in the meeting and the welfare of the company. Nine new members were elected and several others proposed. A communication was received from the Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1, asking the Bucket & Engine Co to elect two representatives for the purpose of organizing a fire department in our town under the existing laws of the State, which was cordially received and acted upon. Charles F. W. Witzke and John M. C. Marsh were chosen by ballot as the representatives from the Co. The Empire Engine Co. No. 2, have already chosen Dr. Joseph R. Harrison and Capt. Eugene Shrope, and the Hook & Ladder Co., C. W. Marden and Geo. W. [illegible] as their representatives. Westfield is now in a fair way to have a good and efficient Fire Department, ready and willing to do active service if necessary, if nothing is done to mar the harmony which now exists, and which would always to exist among firemen who have the welfare of their town at heart.

NORTH PLAINFIELD SCHOOLS.

JANUARY ROLL OF HONOR.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.

Harry Carter, Ida Frantz, Walter [illegible], Aggie Hollingsworth, Lulu Hollingsworth, Willie Jamison, Mamie Murphy, Samuel Pope, Mae Sykes, Gertrude Rinehart.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.

Samuel Hall, Emma Clark, Carrie [illegible], Nellie Hollingsworth, Fanny Hartwell, Alice Mooney, Mamie [illegible], Katie [illegible].

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Norman Dunn, Ella Frantz, Lillian Nicholl, Maggie [illegible], Arthur [illegible], Bell Merritt, Charles Cottrell, Kitty Buckley, Francis Brennan, Emma Gibbs, Walter Collins, Lillie Smith, Alice Johnston, Frank Hollingsworth, Nellie Flannery, Edith Buckley, George Trainor, Bell Mercier.

ADVANCED PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Amy Cook, Ida Lake, Nellie Cook, Willie Miller, Mamie Collins, Mamie Dobbins, John [illegible], Grace [illegible], Charles [illegible], Sammie Hollingsworth, Joey Cottrell, Willie [illegible], Willie Farley, John Trainor.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

Mr. W. S. Walcott completed his task of eating thirty brace of quail in thirty consecutive days, at Gabe Case's, New York city, on Monday last.

There will be a pigeon shooting match at Campbell's Club House, on the twenty-second day of February, at which plenty of birds will be furnished.

A pigeon shooting mania seems to have broken out in this section recently. Friendly contests at the traps have brought out several crack amateur shots, residing in this vicinity, whose achievements would put to blush that of many a so-called professional. Among the many matches lately shot off near Plainfield, was one on Saturday last, between two amateurs, whose scores were as follows. Fictitious names are given. The match was at fifteen birds each, twenty-one yards rise, eighty yards boundary, trap and handle for each other:

Jones [illegible]—12
Johnson [illegible]—12

It was then decided to shoot at three birds each to decide the match, with the following result:

Jones 1 1 1—3
Johnson 0 1—1

MARRIAGES.

HETFIELD—HARRIS—January 10th, 1883, by Rev. Thos. S. [illegible], at the home of the bride's mother, Amos Hetfield, of Fanwood, and Nannie Viola Harris, of Plainfield.

AREY—MARSH—At Raritan, New Jersey, Jan. 30th, 1883, by the Rev. A. C. Post, Mr. John H. Arey of Newark to Miss Anna Augusta Marsh, formerly of Plainfield.

PEARSON—BUNTING—Feb. 6th, by the Rev. Dr. E. P. Ketcham, Edward C. Pearson to Emma R. Bunting, both of this city. No cards.

DEATHS.

SMITH—In this city, Jan. 31, of Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Stephen M. Smith, in the 52d year of his age. Interred at Scotch Plains.

BAILY—In North Plainfield, Feb. 1, 1883, Col. Wm. F. Baily, in the 80th year of his age.

COOK—In Fanwood, Feb. 3, 1883, of paralysis, Jonas Cook, Sen., in the 76th year of his age.

DRAYTON—In this city, Feb 4, 1883, of pneumonia, Clarence D., son of Adelaide D. and the late John B. Drayton, aged 14 years, 6 mos, 15 days.

WAGNER—In North Plainfield, Feb. 4th, 1883, Bertha, infant child of Herman and Bertha Wagner.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.

A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c. constantly in store at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.

Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.

Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
GEO. C. FORD. GEO. M. STILES.
jl1tyl

P. CASEY & SON.
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 10 Park avenue (Jules Boutan's Hair Store); Residence, No. 11 Third st., near New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable. oltf

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
40½ West Front St.
Warerooms—Front St., opp' Washington Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
apiyl

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield,
Have a
—General Line of Groceries,—
[illegible]
"Gem" a New Process Flour,
[illegible]
—Goods Delivered to any part of the city.

Over 5000
Druggists
AND Physicians
Have Signed or Endorsed the Following Remarkable Document:

Messrs Seabury & Johnson, Manufacturing Chemists, 21 Platt St., New York: Gentlemen:—For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are superior to all other Porous Plasters or Liniments for external use.

Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine Pharmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognized by physicians and druggists.

When other remedies fail get a Benson's Capcine Plaster.

You will be disappointed if you use cheap Plasters, Liniments, Pads or Electric Magnetic toys.

[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S

Wednesday, Feb. 7th.

Bargains this Week.

300 YDS. SHORT PIECES WHITE
—PLAID PIQUE AT 10 CTS.
—YARD. REGULAR PRICE, 18

FANCY HALF HOSE, REGULAR —MADE, EXTRA HEAVY, 25c.

TABLE LINEN, 52c. YARD.

WHITE PEARL DRESS BUTTONS
—18 LINE, 8c. 20 LINE, 10c.
—22 LINE, 12c. VERY CHEAP.

SUPERFINE DRESS BUTTONS,
—18 LINE, 12c. 20 LINE, 15c.
—22 LINE, 18c.

SILVER PEARL DRESS BUTTONS,
—18 LINE, 12c. 20 LINE, 15c.
—22 LINE, 18c.

Colored Satins, 65c.

A NEW LINE OF SEERSUCKERS
AT 12c. A YARD.

Veiling in all Colors,
15c. PER YARD.

LOOK OUT FOR BARGAINS EVERY WEEK.

G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

Take Notice!

I will be at my New Brunswick Stables from Monday morning, February 19th, until Saturday night, February 24th, with 75 Horses and Mules of all kinds, for sale or exchange. Persons wanting either of any kind can get suited at reasonable prices.

By JOHN W. MORRIS.

WANTS and INFORMATION

[illegible]

TO LET—A first-class barn and stable in central location. Five stalls and good carriage accommodations. Terms reasonable. Inquire of G. [illegible], corner Front and New streets.

WANTED FOR MONEY RENT—A farm of about [illegible] acres. Address, giving terms and full description, [illegible]

SITUATION WANTED—By a man who thoroughly understands the care of a gentleman's place; including green house. Also horses. Inquire of [illegible]; 11 Somerset street. References given.

WANTED—A competent female nurse to take care of an invalid lady, and also the charge of the house. Address, [illegible]

TO RENT—Completely furnished, or for sale, the elegant residence and large grounds of the late James M. Taylor, corner Central avenue and Ninth street, Plainfield, New Jersey. [illegible] Inquire on premises or of JOHN R. PLATT, [illegible] Broadway, New York.

HOUSE WANTED—April 1st, in Plainfield, North Plainfield preferred. Small family, rent moderate. Address with full particulars, box [illegible], New York P. O.

FOR RENT—Furnished house, 11 rooms, all improvements. Immediate possession, if desired; also [illegible] rooms, furnished or unfurnished. Enquire [illegible], Fifth street, near Park avenue, [illegible]

FOR SALE—[illegible]

AN OLD ESTABLISHED PHOTOGRAPHIC Gallery for sale [illegible]

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Plainfield, N. J. Grocery, Bakery and Dwelling, combined with stable; centrally located. [illegible]

WANTED TO RENT—By last of May a house of ten to twelve rooms with modern improvements in good neighborhood. [illegible]

BOARD AT 21 EAST FRONT STREET—[illegible]

GRANDFATHER CLOCKS—Three of them, [illegible]

PHAETON FOR SALE—[illegible]

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET [illegible] MRS. P. DUNN.

BOARD can be had in a private family, [illegible]

JOHN R. CLARK, [illegible]

A YOUNG GIRL of respectable family, [illegible]

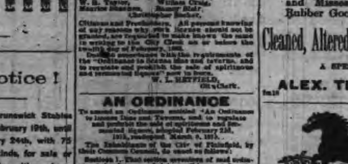
HARDWARE, [illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Make a note of this!

DON'T FORGET THE AUCTION
Sale of Carpets, Beds, Bedding, etc.,
at the Mansion House, on
Monday Evening next,
The Twelfth instant, at 7 p. m.
Sales will be held every Monday,
same hour and place until all is sold.

A. VANDERBEEK,
(Chautauqua Building.)
No. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.



DEALER IN
Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments,
Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Applications for Liquor License.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Feb. 3, 1883.
Notice is hereby given that [illegible] has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at [illegible], which application is signed by [illegible], citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reason why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing, to the City Clerk, on or before the twelfth day of February, A. D. 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.

WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., [illegible]
Notice is hereby given that Charles Zimmer has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at 19 West Front street, which application is signed by [illegible], citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reason why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk on or before the twelfth day of February, 1883.

Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.

W. L. HETFIELD,
City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE

To amend an Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors, adopted February [illegible], 1875, readopted March 9, 1875."

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

[illegible]

Adopted by the Common Council Jan. 29, 1883.
Approved Jan. 30, 1883.
WM. S. MAXSON, Mayor.
Attest: WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Taylor's Market!
NO. 24 PARK AVENUE.

Fresh Fish of All Kinds.

Now is the time to lay in your
SUMMER LARD,
At Thirteen Cents per pound by the Tub.

FINE BUTTER—LOW PRICES.

Try Taylor's Celebrated Trenton Hams! Medium size, 14 cts. per pound. Small Pig Hams, 15 cts. per pound.

N. J. RANDOLPH, Manager.
No. 24 Park ave.

$5 Reward!

Lost in this city within two months, [illegible] Apply to [illegible] CURTIS, [illegible] Front street, Plainfield.

For Sale or Exchange!

For property in Plainfield, N. J., New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia or Camden, New Jersey. [illegible] Address [illegible], Camden, New Jersey.

COLEMAN
Business
COLLEGE, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY.
[illegible]
COLEMAN & PALMS, Proprietors.

PROPOSALS FOR LIGHTING STREET LAMPS.

[illegible]

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.

All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing

Made to Order and Ready Made,

From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boy's. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing

Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.

HORSES & MULES!

Fresh Arrivals Every Week!

CONSISTING OF Phaeton Ponies,
Coachers,
Trotters,
Drivers,
Saddlers,
Workers—Large and Small.

MULES OF ALL KINDS!

Low priced Horses not suitable for pavements, from $75 to $150.

To select from all the Time!

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED!

Horses delivered to any part of the State.

PRICES REASONABLE!

John W. Morris,
Rector st., Newark, New Jersey.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY
TO GET A
Life Size Crayon Portrait
[illegible]
Twelve Dollars!
By the well-known artist,
SIDNEY E. FLOWER,
Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 36 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo. or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Hand in orders early at Studio or [illegible] bookstore, for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

FREE [illegible]

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

OH for an Opera House!

FIVE weeks begin February's record.

THE new nickel has commenced to jingle on the bar.

As was our remark last week: "We are having exceedingly pleasant Tuesdays."

THERE will be a still larger attendance at the Council meeting of next Monday evening.

MANY a sidewalk remained covered with "slush and ice" during the whole of Wednesday.

THE ordinance of baptism will be administered in the Park Avenue Baptist Church, next Sunday morning.

HOW is it that all the descendants of "The Father of his Country" are of the colored persuasion? We have one on our special police force.

THERE has been discovered a new salt field in the western part of New York state. Fresh young men will now be told, "go to Warsaw."

WE frequently hear the question asked: "What will the harvest be?" According to the latest reports, about 3,000,000 tons, with a few ice-bearing sections yet to hear from.

THE Alerts intend that their Fourteenth Annual Reunion, at Laing's Hall, Feb'y 21st, shall surpass in enjoyment all previous affairs of the kind. This seems hardly possible.

IT must have been the work of "the other fellow"—not Providence—shown by the poisoning of a Brooklyn family from eating smelts, in the very beginning of the Lenten season.

MR. GRANT will give next Sunday evening, his closing lecture on the "Mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven," in the old Y. M. C. A. Hall, opposite the Post Office. All are earnestly invited.

A MAN who quarrels with his local paper because it does not always coincide with his views, is as foolish as a man who flings away his umbrella after the first shower has passed. He may need it again.

A CORRESPONDENT in another column suggests a novel means of furnishing the poor with medicinal liquors. The quality of the article procured by the means he proposes could not, however, be endorsed.

THE case of the State vs. Lorenzo Scofield, on indictment for the libel of Mrs. Quick—both parties being residents of this city—was dismissed by the Court at Elizabeth, on Wednesday last, and the indictment quashed as being defective.

IT must certainly be a source of great satisfaction to ex-Mayor Randolph that not one of his appointees to the various city offices in his gift, retires without the endorsement of the entire community as to each officer's faithfulness and efficient service.

THERE will be a change in the residence of some of our medical fraternity, soon. The new City Physician, J. T. Fritts, has just purchased the property at No. 73 Park Avenue, now occupied by Dr. G. W. Endicott, and the latter has bought the present residence of Dr. H. H. Lowrie.

THE Central Times this week refers to "Uncle John Simpson" as standing firm in his refusal to vote for license under the high license law, and mentioned Councilman Gardner as being of the same mind. The Times wouldn't be out of the way if it commenced at the first name on the roll.

THE next entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. Course, our readers will remember, is to consist of readings by Chas. Roberts, Jr., an elocutionist unexcelled, and to our knowledge unequalled. Tickets for the affair, which occurs on the evening of Washington's Birthday, can be obtained at Reynold's pharmacy.

"THE Board of Police" as created by an Ordinance with that purpose, consists of Mayor Marsen, President Livingston and the members of the Police Committee of the Common Council—Messrs. Jones, Gardner and R. Simpson. This Board has full power to "establish such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary or desirable."

THE Grand Jury has exonerated Mrs. Mary Cottrell from the charge of stealing gloves from the store of D. Boehm & Bro. As the lady is of the highest respectability, and other innocent persons are liable to encounter similiar embarassment in the future, as many have done in the past, the vindication of Mrs. Cottrell is at once gratifying to her and to the public.

THE series of lectures just finished in this city by Miss Juliet Corson of the New York School of Cookery, were largely attended by the ladies of our most aristocratic families and their cooks. The good results of Miss Corson's work will be apparent—let us hope—in the near future, and many a head-of-the-house, whose digestive apparatus has been ruined by outrageous ways of cooking and serving, will have cause for blessing the day that the instruction was given.

THE Committee on Bridges of the Union County Board of Freeholders, Messrs Stover, Hubbard, Husbands, Bryant, Smith and Martine, on Tuesday last visited the site of the destroyed bridge at Arlington avenue, made measurements and will give out the contract for rebuilding the structure in a few days. The Committee also visited Girard ave. and Grove street bridges, to inspect same. The contract for grading and filling in about the Grove street bridge will be given out next Monday.

THE concert given in Van Deventer Hall, last Monday evening, for the benefit of "A Charitable Object" at Evona, was not so successful as it deserved to be when the talent of the several participants is considered. Although some timidity was felt by one or two of the lady performers, at being called upon to face so critical a gathering as a Plainfield audience is believed to be, and although sickness prevented the appearance of the tenor that had been secured, and although other uncontrollable drawbacks arose—yet, in spite of such circumstances the entire programme was rendered in a manner at once satisfactory and gratifying. Its repetition during an evening when other attractions are absent, we have no doubt would receive more desirable financial result.

AT the meeting of the Democratic Association held Tuesday evening, Feb. 6th, inst., President Martine announced the Standing Committees for 1883 as follows:

Executive Committee—James S. Vosseller, Rowland M. Stover, Theodore Newell, Joseph W. Yates, Nathan Harper, Robert L. Livingston, William L. Force.

Document Committee—Nathan Harper, Joseph W. Yates, Tell A. Beguelin.

Committee on Naturalization—William K. Gardner, Louis F. Wadsworth, Vincent L. Frasse.

Finance Committee—Joseph W. Yates, Gilford Mayer, Robert M. Fairbairn.

Printing Committee—Isaac S. Melbourne, William L. Force, John Rafferty.

Committee on Public Meetings—Rowland M. Stover, J. Oscar Stevens, W. E. Lowe.

Canvassing Committee—1st Ward—L. F. Wadsworth, John Finley. 2d Ward—Seymour Marsh, Jas. S. Vosseller. 3d Ward—James Mullen, James Whalen. 4th Ward—Wm. K. Gardner, James [illegible].

THE members of Warren Hose Co., No. 2, had a most successful ball at St. Mary's Hall, last Thursday evening, and an enviable addition to their treasury was the deserved results of their efforts. Everybody was there and experienced so much pleasure that their praises of the management were extensive and sincere.

JOHN W. MORRIS will be at his New Brunswick Stables from the morning of Feb. 19th until the evening of the 26th, with 75 horses and mules of all kinds including just the animals that many of our readers are looking for. And anyone who deals with Mr. Morris will be entirely satisfied as to the price and the thing itself.

CHAIRMAN POLAK of the Lamps Committee of the Common Council, has not given up his idea in relation to placing the names of the streets on the corner lamps. The public demand this convenience, and when Mr. Polak is ready to get before the Council estimates regarding the cost, we trust the appropriation necessary will be made.

CITY Physician Fritts, Street Commissioner Mosher, Overseer of the Poor, Nodyne, all the regular policemen, and special policemen Conway and Hamilton, have been sworn in according to law.—The remainder of the recently appointed officers must appear and do likewise within ten days of their confirmation, or their particular office will be deemed vacant.

IN April the periodical change that is customary among the Methodists will occur in the Plainfield pastorate; and although no decision is yet arrived at by the powers in control, it is rumored that the Rev. Dr. Tuttle, of Elizabeth, will be stationed in this city. The Rev. Thos. H. Stockton will probably be placed in charge of an English speaking congregation in South America.

TICKETS for the Saengerbund Masquerade of the 21st inst., will not be sold at the door, and only those securing an introduction and invitation from a member, will be admitted. Members desiring tickets can procure such at the rooms of the Society, next Tuesday evening, or thereafter at the store of Bachman Bros. Those attending the Ball without masks will find such procurable in the dressing rooms.

A YOUNG man, the relative of a Plainfielder whom he was visiting in this city, was found to be in rather a deranged state of mind last week, and by direction of His Honor the Mayor, Chief Dodd took the unfortunate person to his friends in New York. Upon arriving in that city he endeavored to deliver himself to the authorities, claiming that he had murdered a man and had on the clothes he had taken from the body.

Temperance Meeting.

Howell Division Sons of Temperance will hold a public meeting in their room, third floor of White and Stelle's building, corner Front street and Park avenue, on Tuesday evening, 13th inst., at 7½ o'clock, to which the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity are respectfully invited.

Around the World Nearly Seven Times.

There is in the employ of the Delaware and Raritan Canal Company a man named William Carney, whose duty it is to patrol the banks of the canal a distance of ten miles and return each day, making twenty miles a day. He has been in the employ of the company over twenty-five years, and has performed his labors faithfully each day out of ten months in the year during that period. It requires but little figuring to show that Mr. Carney, who is now about sixty years of age, has walked during the past twenty-five years, a distance of over one hundred and fifty-two thousand miles, or over six times the distance around this globe.

Misplaced Charity.

Mr. Frederick Bohlel, a baker who resides over his shop at No. 29 Liberty street, secured lodging and provided food for three strangers that called upon him last Friday. Saturday being a "cold day," the visitors remained, and the next morning their host started off on a search for employment for his new friends. Meanwhile the trio had drawn lots to designate which one should hold Mr. Bohlel while the others "went through" his till, but as his absence obviated any necessity of force, they peacefully helped themselves to about $9 00 in cash and a few articles of clothing and quietly stole away. A subsequent chase, in which Constable Robert Pierce joined, resulted in the capture of the offenders near New Market.

Music Crazy.

Jerome Hopkins the pianist, organist and composer, who has spent over $40,000 in sustaining his "Orpheon," free vocal schools in New York, is in our city, with a view of giving one of his "Orpheon Festivals" here. His purpose (if properly encouraged by our citizens) is to give a free introductory address at one of the churches, on the subject of "The True Position of Music in the Church and in Society," to be followed by a grand concert by combined choirs, another by children, and a third by picked voices in his new Little Folks Opera of "Taffy." The New York papers have long conceded to Mr. Jerome Hopkins the credit of having done more for musical education in that city than any other one man, and it will be the fault of our citizens if they fail to profit by this rare opportunity. Mr. Hopkins is at the Park House.

Personals.

Mrs. Runkle, daughter of ex-Senator Randolph, has taken a house on Crescent avenue where she will reside.

Gen. Wm. H. Sterling has just been elected a director of the Lehigh & Eastern Railroad, now in course of construction.

Mr. D. S. Berry and wife returned home from their Southern pleasure trip last Saturday. While they admired the South as a change, both declared there is no place like old Jersey and especially Plainfield.

At the 23d annual sale of paintings contributed by members of the Artists' Fund Society to the fund, in New York city last Monday evening, one of Julian Scott's pictures, "Consultation" brought $40. On Tuesday evening, another of this well-known artist's pictures, "A Bit of Comfort," brought $35.

An Important Point.

During Monday afternoon last the case of Sarah A. Boice vs. John H. Tier, et al., both of this city, was to be argued before Justice Van Syckle and associates, McCormack and Harper, without a jury. The question involved is, whether the owner of a mill dam, having by his charter the right to overflow lands of other persons, has the right to enter upon such other person's premises, to use the water for other purposes than to run his mill, or use the power thus applied in any other way; and whether the said owner of the mill dam has the right to let a privilege to any person or persons to use said mill pond for boating, fishing, or cutting and taking ice therefrom, or not. Mr. F. H. French is the owner of the dam, and Mr. Tier leased the above named privileges from him. Mrs. Boice claims that Mr. French or his tenant have no right to use the water for other purposes than to run his mill, until it reaches his premises, and hence the suit. Messrs. Craig, Burgess and Noe, and Jos. B. Coward, Esqs., are counsel for Mrs. Boice, and R. W. Runyon and James R. English for defendants. The evidence was concluded Monday of last week, but being late in the afternoon, the Court decided to hear the arguments of counsel a week later. Judge Van Syckle not being present Monday, the matter was again postponed and the case will probably be argued to-morrow.

New Jersey Board of Education.

The State Board of Education held its annual meeting at Trenton on Thursday afternoon last, Gov. Ludlow presiding. Officers were elected as follows: President—George C. Ludlow; Vice President—William A. Whitehead; State Superintendent—Ellis A. Apgar.

A Card of Thanks.

The members of Warren Hose company, through the columns of this paper, wish to thank all those who so kindly loaned flags, etc., and who otherwise helped to make their late ball at St. Mary's Hall, so successful.

JOHN LOUGHLIN, Chairman.
HENRY BIRKETT, Secretary.

Villiers.

The incomparable Villiers entertained an enthusiastic audience in the Park avenue Baptist church last Monday evening with his well-known lecture on "The Funny People we Meet." The Lecturer—as he always is—was especially good in his efforts to provoke the laughter of and afford amusement to his hearers. His facial contortions were wonderful and his impersonations remarkable. The satisfaction of the audience and a gratifying financial addition to the funds of the Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church, resulted.

A Card.

The officers of the Children's Home Association wish to say to their friends that they have but once since their organization been so low in funds as at this time, having less than a hundred dollars in the bank to the credit of their sustaining fund. This they are sure has arisen from no want of interest on the part of any one, but chiefly from the fact that during the past year, many persons have given generously to the building fund, and sometimes as we have no permanent income our resources have been crippled. Our building is progressing satisfactorily. We need now one thousand dollars. This will enable us to finish our Home in the most thorough manner; grade and fence the lot and pay all the expenses of moving and settling our little family in their new quarters. Our past experience of the faithfulness of our friends makes us sure that we have only to state these needs to have them generously and quickly met. Any donation for the building may be sent to I. W. Rushmore, Treasurer of the Building Fund, or to Mrs. Horace Kimball. Contributions to the Sustaining Fund may be sent to Mrs. L. W. Serrell, Treasurer of the Association, or to Mrs. Kimball, No. 66 East Second street.

Per order of Executive Com.

January 29th, 1883.

The Sheriff's Office Cannot be Taken to be Vacant.

In the Court room, Monday, Jan. 29th, Judge Van Syckle read an exhaustive, able and carefully considered opinion in the case of Wm. A. Clark vs. Wm. Ennis in case. The opinion was delivered upon a motion made in the Supreme Court to set aside service and return of summons. The summons was issued Dec. 27th, returnable and returned Dec. 30th, 1882, purporting to have been served personally on the defendant by Thomas Forsyth, Sheriff. The motion was to set aside service and the return of summons, for reason that said Forsyth was not authorized to serve said summons, because he neglected to renew his official bond, according to the 2d section of the act concerning Sheriffs. Rev., p. 1099.

The Supreme Court refused to set aside the service and return mainly on the ground that the Sheriff's title could not be impeached, nor could the office be made vacant in a collateral proceeding of this kind, nor unless so declared by a competent Court, in a direct proceeding against the Sheriff.

The opinion is too long for reproduction, and the summary must necessarily be very brief and imperfect. The Court held that when a statute declares that if a Sheriff shall not renew his bond within a specified time his office shall immediately expire and become vacant, and failure to renew his bond within the prescribed time does not per se vacate his office. He is an officer with a defeasible title; until the judgment of forfeiture in due form, and all his acts prior to such judgment are valid as to the public and third persons. It is held that under the 10th section of the Act concerning Sheriffs, Rev., p. 1099, that where a Sheriff has failed to renew his bond within the limited time all his acts prior to proper proceedings directed to be taken to declare the office vacant are valid as to the public and third persons.

The opinion reviews laws of other States of a similar purport with the provision alluded to, and the construction which has been put upon them, which has not been to declare the office vacant except upon some judgment of ouster by a competent court in a direct proceeding in the case. The intention of the Legislature is also referred to. The Judge thinks that the Legislature did not intend to make the sheriff's acts void as to the public, until by the official proceeding his office is deemed and taken to be vacant. This is the only interpretation which harmonizes with the settled rules of interpretation essential to the protection of the innocent. The neglect of the sheriff is known at once to the Judges of the Common Pleas, by whom the renewal bond is to be approved. Until proceedings are instituted against him, all persons dealing with the sheriff have a right to presume that there is no default on his part.

This law has not withdrawn the protection as to de facto officers' acts, without which universal experience has shown that justice cannot be administered.

The provisions giving power and authority to the Coroner to execute the duties of the sheriff cannot be interpreted to mean that the Coroner shall decide for himself when the Sheriff has committed an act that forfeits his office. The law never invites such a conflict of authority.

If the acts of the Sheriff are absolutely void prior to any judicial determination that there is a vacancy, then this question can be raised collaterally, and this controversy introduced into every cause into which the rights of the parties depend upon any official act of the Sheriff.

In all cases relating to official sales by Sheriffs, and the titles to land derived through them, the question could be raised collaterally, to be determined exclusively by oral proof, whether the officer had in due form on a given day, renewed his bond or attended at the Clerk's office for that purpose. It will also be observed that it is not necessary by the prescribed form that the date of the approval of the bond shall be inserted. This leaves the time open to controversy. In fact all the questions of fact connected with the making of the bond could be raised in every suit, to be decided at one time in one way and at another time in a different way. It would be absurd to put such a construction upon this law, and one so full of mischievous consequences.

The Judge's conclusion is, "That to in this collateral proceeding, it is not competent to introduce testimony to impeach the Sheriff's title to his office. That the statute declaring that the office shall expire by his neglect to do specified act is not self-executing, and that all his acts done under color of office, until in due form of law his office should be deemed and taken to be vacant, must be regarded as valid so far as concerns the public and third persons."

The motion to quash was denied. Justices Depue and Reed concurred.—Elizabeth Journal.

Council Proceedings.

Regular Meeting—All members present—Another liquor license applied for—The Mayor's appointments—The first warrant [illegible]—The Treasurer and Collector's reports placed on file—A Gas bill returned for re-adjustment—The taxes to be collected by all means—Sealed proposals asked for lighting the streets—Salary resolution referred back—The vote on confirmation of the Mayor's appointments—Adjourned for one week.

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 5th, 1883.

The Council met in regular meeting.

Present—President Livingston and Messrs Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson, R. Simpson—11.

Absent—None.

The minutes of the previous meeting of Jan. 29th, approved as read.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

By Mr. Gardner, the application of Jacob Ellison for a license to keep an inn and tavern and sell liquor on Somerset street, fourth ward.

Ref'd to License Com.

By Mr. Serrell, a communication from Ethan Lanpheur protesting against the granting of a liquor license to Charles Zimmer, claiming that two of the signers on the application were not freeholders and another was a non-resident of the ward.

Ref'd to License Com., for investigation.

Also a communication from the Corporation Counsel stating that a deed was on record giving to the city the Kerr property referred to by the late Clerk of the Township.

Mr. Serrell offered a resolution instructing the City Clerk to request of J. B. Coward, a detailed account of the receipts and disbursements in connection with the property.

Seconded by Mr. Polak and adopted.

Mr. Polak presented a petition from residents and property owners on Elm place for the location of a lamp on that thoroughfare.

Referred to Lamps Com.

By the same, a petition from J. A. Saydam (from Dr. J. T. Fritts) for permission to raise the frame building at No. 73 Park Avenue, one story higher.

Ref'd to Lamps Com. with power.

PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS.

By Mr. Marsh, H. H. Lowrie, $62 50; J. Johnson, $1 40.

By Mr. Beguelin, Mrs. E. Boice, $25; Plainfield Relief Association, 15; Mrs. Gamberton, 5; Mrs. Mary VanArs 27; Mrs. J. Wilkins, 6; Mrs. A. Flynn, 9.

By Mr. Jones, G. M. Smith, $3; C. W. Dodd, 58 34; G. W. Grant, 46 92; R. Randolph, 42 92.

By Mr. Serrell, G. W. Moore, $50 48.

All referred to proper committees.

The clerk read a communication from His Honor the Mayor, nominating the following:

For Counsel to the Corporation—Geo. P. Saydam.

City Physician—J. T. Fritts.

Overseer of the Poor—J. Oakley Nodyne.

Pound Masters—Mulford Cole, Patrick Muldoon.

Street Commissioner—John C. Mosher.

Regular Police—Winfield S. Chase, George W. Grant, Patrick Burgan.

Special Police—Stephenson B. Hope, Joseph Mounton, Thomas Burns, George M. Smith, Henry Hamilton, Mingo Washington, Michael Conway, Patrick Lynch.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell, the same were laid on the table.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By Mr. J. Simpson, from the Aud. Com., the following claims as correct, against the General Fund—D. W. Littell, $11 90; A. V. Shotwell, 26 25; P. Lynch, 6 75.

On motion, warrants ordered drawn.

Also from the Poor Fund—Mrs. Gamberton, $3; Charles Hyde, 57; Mrs. D. Randolph: 10.

On motion warrants ordered draw.

By Mr. Serrell, from the Finance Com. the January Reports of the City Collector and the City Treasurer.

Read, received and placed on file.

Also as correct, the claims of James Maynard, $7. Ref'd to Aud. Com.

Also reported that a careful examination had been made of the books of Geo. W. Moore, late delinquent tax collector, and that the same were found correct.

The Committee suggested that no bond given the city be cancelled or returned, but that the same be retained in case of contingencies that might arise.

The President requested that the suggestion be made in writing.

Mr. Polak, from the Lamps Com., reported on the bill of the Plainfield Gas Light Co., requesting that it be returned to the claimant for correction, in view of the many complaints that had been made in relation to the not lighting of several lamps.

Mr. Marsh stated that the city was paying the same prices as was charged years ago when the cost of gas was much higher. He thought that as the contract with the company only ran from month to month, the city should only pay the market rate. He suggested that the Com. on Lamps be instructed to confer with the company regarding a reduction in the price.

On motion of Mr. Serrell seconded by Mr. R. Simpson, the recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

NEW BUSINESS.

Mr. Marsh renewed his resolution, withdrawn at previous meeting, providing for the recording of all bonds hereafter received by the city.

Seconded by Mr. Jones and adopted—all aye.

Mr. Serrell remarked that of the taxes of 1882 a large amount still remained uncollected, and he felt that the people should understand that "the present Council meant business" and intended to collect the same by all legal means in their power. He moved for adoption a resolution to the effect that the City Collector be requested to confer with the Corporation Counsel at once in relation to the collection of the delinquent taxes, and that the former proceed with the execution of the warrant issued to him.

Adopted, all aye.

It was moved by Mr. Polak that the City Clerk be instructed to advertise at once for proposals for furnishing gas, oil or other illuminating substance for lighting the streets of the city.

Seconded by Mr. Serrell and carried—all aye.

Mr. Serrell moved that the Mayor and Treasurer be authorized to borrow $2,500 in anticipation of the taxes of 1883, from the First National Bank.

Mr. J. Simpson held that the Council could not borrow any money in excess of the $5,000 now outstanding.

Mr. Serrell took the chair, and President Livingston sustained Mr. Simpson's view of the matter.

After some discussion, it was moved by Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Livingston that the motion be laid on the table for the present.

Carried, all aye.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, the Council took a recess of 15 minutes.

Upon reassembling, Mr. Serrell called up his motion to borrow $2,500, and after inserting the clause that such loan was for the purpose of renewing a note now held against the city, the motion was carried—all voting aye.

On motion of Mr. Serrell, the Clerk was instructed to have printed blanks for the use of the Collector.

On motion of Mr. [illegible] the Clerk was authorized to [illegible] the proceedings that had been taken in the [illegible] [illegible].

On motion of Mr. Serrell the resolution tabled at last meeting fixing the salaries for the present year was taken up and referred back to the Ord's Com.

Moved by Mr. Marsh, that when the Council adjourned it be for one week. Carried.

On motion of Mr. Polak the nominations of the Mayor were taken up and it was ordered that confirmation be by ballot.

The Clerk was appointed to act as teller.

The first nomination was:

For Corporation Counsel—George P. Saydam.

Moved by Mr. Marsh that it be laid on the table. Motion lost.

Balloting on the several nominations resulted as follows:

Corporation Counsel—George P. Saydam.

Not confirmed—3 ayes; 8 nays.

Street Commissioner—John C. Mosher.

Confirmed—11 ayes; no nays.

City Physician—J. T. Fritts, M. D.

Confirmed—7 ayes; 4 nays.

Overseer of the Poor—J. Oakley Nodyne.

Confirmed—10 ayes; 1 nay.

Mr. Serrell moved that the nominations for regular police be laid over until the next meeting.

Lost by the following vote:

Negative—President Livingston and Messrs Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Polak, Ross, J. Simpson, R. Simpson—8.

Affirmative—Messrs Jones, Marsh, Serrell—3.

The following were confirmed as regular policemen:

Winfield S. Chase—7 ayes; 4 nays.

George W. Grant—11 ayes; no nays.

Patrick Burgan—9 ayes; 2 nays.

On motion the Clerk called the roll on the balance of the nominations, which were unanimously confirmed as follows:

Special Police—S. B. Hope, Jos. Mounton, Thos. Burns, George M. Smith, H. Hamilton, Mingo Washington, and Michael Conway.

Pound Masters—Mulford Cole and P. Muldoon.

By an error in reading the names of the special police, P. Lynch was omitted.

Mr. J. Simpson requested permission to say a few words. He stated that as the fee for liquor licenses had been raised, he intended to vote against the granting of any such. He thought that $500 was too much and far beyond what other cities receive. He had worked hard to get the ordinance passed fixing the fee at $300—since which time the city had been paid over $25,000 for liquor licenses. He was willing to resign if it was desired that six license men should be secured. He thought the taxes of others should be collected, rather than put on a few men a big tax.

Mr. Marsh was called to the chair and President Livingston moved that the lamp located at the corner of Broadway and Hillside avenue be lighted by gasoline.

Mr. Coriell stated that as it seemed probable no liquor licenses would be granted, the city would be without a revenue it had in former years, and he should vote against any additional expense.

The motion was carried by the following vote:

Affirmative—President Livingston and Messrs Beguelin, Gardner, Jones, J. Simpson, R. Simpson—6.

Negative—Coriell, Marsh, Polak, Ross, Serrell—5.

The Council then adjourned.

The Hose Dramatic Club.

Van Deventer Hall was crowded during Wednesday evening upon the occasion of the benefit tendered to Warren Engine Co. No. 2, by the Hose Dramatic Club. The programme commenced with a two-act "Melo-Drama" entitled "Michael Earle or the Maniac Lover," which we do not hesitate in saying was rendered in a manner that reflected great credit on all that took part. Taking into consideration the fact of its being an entirely amateur company, we do not remember attending a more meritorious performance in this city. The Misses Havell and Parker, and Messrs J. Becker, Mattox, Wien, Coleman and Krausse, were especially pleasing, while the minor parts were given in a manner that showed careful study and a desire to please. We hope a repetition of the performance will be given.

OBITUARY.

COLONEL WILLIAM P. BAILEY.

Col. Wm. P. Bailey was born in 1825, in Wilmington, Del. He resided in New York at the beginning of the Rebellion. After the war he came to Plainfield where he has since resided. For about three years he engaged, when able, in business in New York. His wound then troubled him so greatly that he was obliged to retire. For the past eight years he has been confined to the house from the effect of his wound, which was a shattering of his nervous system, called by physicians, paralysis agitans, which rendered him almost helpless. He was not, however, confined to his bed until Saturday, Jan. 27th, when his nervous system and brain gave way and pneumonia set in. He passed away at noon on Thursday, Feb. 1st. He was unconscious from the time that he was taken ill on Saturday.

Col. Bailey entered the service of the U. S. as Corporal of the 7th N. Y. State Militia, in April, 1861, and was promoted Lieut. Col. of the Second Reg. Del. Vol. Infantry, May 10, 1861. He was promoted Colonel of the same Regiment August 23d, 1862. He served in Virginia, Maryland, and Pennsylvania under Generals Sumner, Richardson, Hancock and Dix a the 1st Div., 2d Army Corps, and participated in the Eastern Shore Expedition under General Lockwood, at Gaines' Mills, Peach Orchard, Savage Station, Nelson's Farm, White Oak Swamp, Malvern Hill, (twice) Charlestown, Falmouth, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Falling Waters, Mine Run, Wilderness campaign and Spotsylvania Court House. He was wounded by a piece of shell at Fredericksburg in the left breast, disabling the left arm partially.

From extracts taken from the Wilmington, (Del) papers before us, which, however do not furnish dates, we copy the following eulogistic remarks upon our deceased brother. One says:

"The regiment designated upon the Army Register as the 'Second Delaware,' but more familiarly known among the veterans of the Potomac as 'the Crazy Delawares,' was the first regiment raised in the state for three years or during the war. It has been prominent in every general engagement of the Grand Army of the Potomac. It is commanded by Col. Wm P. Bailey, formerly an officer in the Third Company of the National Guard, a cool, brave and experienced officer, who possesses the confidence and affection of his men, and will never disappoint the hopes of his country.

At the battles of Gaines' Mill, White Oak Swamp, Peach Orchard, Savage's Station, Antietam and Fredericksburgh, this gallant regiment, [illegible]"

Another mentions the following:

"On Monday evening, a beautiful sword, with sash and belt, was presented to Col. William P. Bailey, of the Second Regiment Delaware Volunteers. This is a well merited compliment to one of the most accomplished and efficient officers in the service. Col. Bailey has passed through all the battles of the Peninsula and the battle of Fredericksburg. He [illegible] himself with distinguished gallantry, and at the latter place received a wound which has deprived him of the use of his left arm. He, however, returned to the regiment, and remained until his arm becoming worse, the Surgeons required him to take [illegible] rest. Delawareans may well feel proud of him. He brought his regiment to a condition of discipline and efficiency that has excited the admiration of all the general officers, and the presentation of this sword is an honor worthily bestowed upon a man who has won laurels on the battle-field."

Deceased was identified with the Plainfield Fire Department after the war. He was elected a member and Foreman of "Gazelle Eng. Co. No. 1" in 1866, when that Company used a 'hand' engine. He served his full term of seven years, and was held in high esteem by the members of the Department. Being a strict disciplinarian, his army education would assert itself in his giving orders, whenever on duty, in military language, and many of the old "exempts," of his company will recollect his stern "halt" when "vast" was intended.

He was also an honored member of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. & A. M. of Plainfield, members of the fraternity attending the funeral in citizens dress. Col. Wm. P. Bailey married a daughter of John Berry, Esq. of North Plainfield. His widow and one son, a young lad of 16, survive him. During his long term of suffering, (and sufferer he has been for eight long years) his loving wife has nobly and faithfully administered to his cares and wants, as one also [illegible] in his mind, to be able to do for him that which they were at all times willing to do. Had he been able to attend to the ordinary affairs of business, his genius and capability would surely have made him a bright future in the walks of life. As a citizen, every one respected and honored him, who knew his personal worth. As a husband and father he was kind and affectionate. He served his country faithfully, and as a result, suffered years of agony, until death finally released him. Peace be to his ashes.

The funeral services of deceased were held at the residence of his father-in-law, John Berry, Esq., on Somerset street, North Plainfield, Monday, Feb. 5th, last and were largely attended. The funeral discourse was delivered by Rev. Dr. E. P. Ketcham, of the city, who took for his text, 14th Chap. John, 2d verse. The remains were interred in the Presbyterian Cemetery, North Plainfield. The pall bearers were Mr. L. Spangenberg, Geo. Koesstring, W. F. Adams and W. L. Force. Several beautiful floral offerings from friends and societies rested on top of the handsome casket as it was borne to the grave.

MISCELLANY.

Cheap Living.

Plainfield Cheap Cash Meat Market, N. J. Randolph, Manager. For the information of cash buyers who have an eye to economy, we would say that money will go about as far in this market as it will anywhere in the United States. As specimen quotations: You can buy Trenton hams, ordinary size, at 14 cents; the small sizes, which are cut from Jersey Spring pigs, sell at 15 cents. They are cured in the old-fashioned country style, and are very fine. Trenton sausage, loose, 14 cents, in skins, 16 cents. Round steak, from Trenton slaughtered cattle, 16 cents. Fresh Beef Rounds for Curing, 12½ cents.

We have a large stock of Butter and Cheese, which seems to be a part of every well-kept market. Butter has declined in New York fully 5 cts. per lb. the last 20 days, and will probably go still lower.—The decline is mostly on Summer and early Fall grades. We have reduced our prices accordingly, and now sell the Very Finest Fresh Made New York Dairy at 32 cts. Finest Western Creamery, 30 cts., and a good, sound sweet article at 25 cts. Families supplied by the tub at still lower prices. We have 100 9 lb. pails of the famous Elgin Creamery, which costs so high that we are ashamed to quote it, but we will sell it at 45 cents.

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 33 West Front Street.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Fron street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties can now purchase elegant patterns of wall paper of H. S. Barnes, 5 W. Front street, at greatly reduced prices. tf

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 33 West Front Street, at the New York price. m17tf

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Demsea's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Why are Coughs and Colds so prevalent? Even in the mild summer so many people get colds and die with Consumption. [illegible] Liverwort, Tar and Canchalagua will cure them. It stands at the head of all Cough Medicines. Thousands of lives have been saved by its use. Try it.

[illegible]

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

[illegible]

WESTFIELD ADVERTISERS.

C. A. SMITH,
DEALER IN
Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Agent for Lister Bros. Bone and Phosphates for Westfield and Fanwood.
[illegible] ASHES AND LAND PLASTER BY THE LOAD OR CARGO.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone Call No. 56.

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the interest of the people.
Office, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also
Standard Fertilizers,
Such as Mapes's, Lister's, Stockbridge & Bowker's Phosphates and Bone Meal, for all crops, bought low for cash, and will be sold at reasonable prices.
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
German Valley Lime, by the car load, &c.
E. M. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 48, SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

C. E. AGUIRRE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Over Gale's Pharmacy.
Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty
All work guaranteed to be First Class, and to give entire satisfaction.

JOHN CASE,
WESTFIELD, N. J.
Driven and Drilled Wells.
Repairing Promptly Attended To.
Unexceptionable references given if desired.

TURF EXCHANGE
ALE and BEER VAULTS,
Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J.
JOHN L. MOULTON, - Proprietor.
Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand.
Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all times.
Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar-cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java. Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,
Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Special Bargains
Which are to be found for a few days
At Whitney's.

A NEW LINE OF "VEILING," ONLY 13c. WORTH 25c.

ONE LOT OF 6 DOZ. FOSTER'S PATENT LACING KIDS, ONLY 88c., WORTH $1.25.

THE "SUPERB CORSET," MADE FROM THE BEST FRENCH COUTIL," AT 95c. REGULAR PRICE $1.25 ONLY THIS LOT AT THE PRICE.

ECRU TABLE LINEN 50c. WORTH 65c.
WHITE TABLE LINEN, 75c. WORTH $1.

"THESE ARE SPECIAL PRICES," WORTH YOUR ATTENTION.

"THE BEST 'ALL-WOOL' BLACK CASHMERE AT 50c. IN THIS CITY," AT

S. H. WHITNEY'S,
(Opposite Post-office.)

Japanese Salve!

For Chapped Hands and Lips, Frosted Feet and all Skin Diseases.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT.

A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY

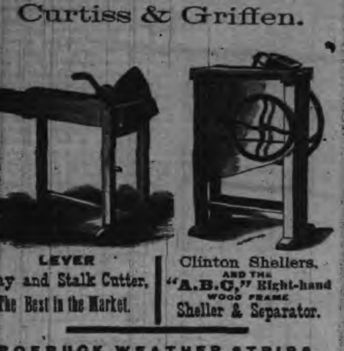
Vail Bros., Philadelphia.

PECK'S CORNER.

AT PECK'S You will find a Large Assortment of FINE EMBROIDERIES
Purchased before the great advance in price.

Embroideries are now offered at Peck's
25 per Cent. LESS than they can be purchased of Importers!
100 New Patterns put on Sale THIS DAY

Curtiss & Griffen.



LEVER
Hay and Stalk Cutter,
The Best in the Market.

Clinton Shellers,
AND THE
"A.B.C," Eight-hand
WOOD FRAME
Sheller & Separator.

ROEBUCK WEATHER STRIPS.

Lanterns, Street Lamps, Dash Lamps.

Remember, at our Store you BUY GOODS 5 Per Ct. Cheaper
For Cash than for Credit.

No. 13 East Front street, - Plainfield, New Jersey.

Bachman Bro's Large Sale of Hosiery!

HAVING BOUGHT OUT ALL THE SAMPLES OF LADIES HOSE COMPRISING ALL KINDS, TO THE AMOUNT OF 138 DOZEN, FROM ONE OF THE LARGEST HOSIERY FACTORIES IN PHILADELPHIA, WE ASK THE PUBLIC TO COME AND SEE THEM, AND JUDGE FOR THEMSELVES. THESE GOODS ARE WORTH FROM 30 TO 40 CENTS PER PAIR, AND WE CAN OFFER THEM FOR 21 CENTS.

Wamsutta Muslin, - - 11¼ Cts. | Anchor Dwight, - - 9¾ Cts.

BACHMAN BROTHERS,
7 West Front street, - - - - - - - Plainfield, New Jersey.

To our Patrons!

Having just finished taking inventory we take great pleasure in announcing to the ladies of Plainfield and vicinity that we are receiving daily real bargains, such as Towels, Table Linens, Birds Eye Diaper, striped and Plaid Nainsook, Cambric, Cottage Drapery, Turkish and Venetian Damasks, all of which we buy for cash. This enables us to sell as cheap as any house in New York. We will mention only a few prices to show that we mean what we say:

2,500 yards the best Shirting Calico, only	5 Cts.
Dress Gingham, worth 12½ cts., we offer at	9 "
Seersuckers, new styles, new goods,	12½ and 14 "
Dwight Anchor, 4-4 bleached muslin,	9½ "
Fruit of the Loom, 4-4,	9 "
Utica and New York Mills, 9-4 sheeting,	27½ "
A good No. 2 Pearl Shirt, re-inforced bosom, all finished, only,	67 "

We are replenishing our Carpet Department and at any time Ladies wish to look at goods in that line for next Spring's want, we will be glad to show them through this Department.

Very Respectfully,
D. BOEHM & BRO.

JUST IN STOCK!
FALL Hats FALL Hats

LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S.
Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.
Horse Sheets and Lap Robes.
Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices. [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

THAT BAD BOY'S LIFE.

HIS PA GOES CALLING.

"Say, you are getting too all-fired smart," said the grocery man to the bad boy, as he pushed him into a corner by the molasses barrel, and took him by the neck and choked him so his eyes stuck out. "You have driven away several of my best customers, and now, confound you, I am going to have your life!" and he took up a cheese-knife and began to sharpen it on his boot.

"What's the—gurgle—matter?" asked the choking boy, as the grocery man's fingers let up on his throat a little, so he could speak. "I hain't done nothin'."

"Didn't you hang up that dead gray tom cat by the heels, in front of my store, with the rabbits I had for sale? I didn't notice it until the minister called me out in front of the store and pointing to the rabbits, asked what good fat cats were selling for. By gum, this thing has got to stop! You have got to move out of this ward, or I will."

The boy got his breath, and said it wasn't him that put the cat up there. He said it was the policeman, and he and his chum saw him do it, and he just come in to tell the grocery man about it, and before he could speak he had his neck nearly pulled off. The boy began to cry, and the grocery man told him he was only joking, and gave him a box of sardines, and they made up. Then he asked the boy how his pa put in his New Year's, and the boy sighed and said:

"We had a sad time at our house New Year's. Pa insisted on making calls and ma and me tried to prevent it, but he said he was of age, and guessed he could make calls if he wanted to, so he looked at the morning paper and got the names of all the places where they were going to receive, and he turned his paper collar, and changed ends with his cuffs, and put some arnica on his handkerchief and started out. Ma told him not to drink anything and he said he wouldn't, but he did. He was full the third place he went. O, so full! Some men can get full and not show it, but when pa gets full, he gets so full his back teeth float and the liquor crowds his eyes out, and his mouth gets loose and wiggles all over his face, and he laughs all the time, and the perspiration just comes out of him, and his face gets red, and he walks so wide. O, he disgraced us all. At one place he wished the hired girl a happy new year more than twenty times, and hung his hat on her elbow, and tried to put on a rubber hall mat for his over-shoes. At another place he walked up a lady's train and carried away a card-basket full of bananas and oranges. Ma wanted my chum and me to follow pa and bring him home, and about dark we found him in the door-yard of a house where they have statues in front of the house, and he grabbed me by the arm, and mistook me for another caller, and insisted on introducing me to a marble statue without any clothes on. He said it was a friend of his, and it was a winter picnic. He hung his hat on an evergreen, and put his overcoat on an iron fence, and I was so mortified I almost cried. My chum said if his pa made such a circus out of himself he would sand-bag him. That gave me an idea and when we got pa most home I went and got a paper box covered with red paper, so it looked just like a brick, and a bottle of tomato ketchup, and when we got pa on the steps at home I hit him with the paper brick and my chum squirted the ketchup on his head, and we demanded his money, and then he yelled murder, and we lit out, and ma and the minister, who was making a call on her all the afternoon, they came to the door and pulled pa in. He said he had been attacked by a band of robbers, and they knocked his brains out, but he whipped them, and then ma saw the ketchup brains oozing out of his head, and she screamed, and the minister said, "Good heavens, he is murdered!" and just then I came in the back door and they sent me after the doctor, and they put pa on the lounge, and tied up his head with a towel to keep the brains in, and pa began to snore, and when the doctor came in it took them half an hour to wake him, and then he was awful sick to his stomach, and ma asked the doctor if he would live, and the doctor analyzed the ketchup and smelled of it, and told ma he would be all right if he had a little Worcester sauce to put on with the ketchup, and when he said pa would pull through, ma looked awful sad. Then pa opened his eyes and saw the minister, and said that was one of the robbers that jumped on him, and he wanted to whip the minister, but the doctor held pa's arms, and ma sat on his legs and the minister said he had got some other calls to make, and he wished ma a happy new year in the hall, much as fifteen minutes. His happy new year to ma was 'most as long as his prayers. Well, we got pa to bed and when we undressed him we found nine napkins in the bosom of his vest, that he had picked up at the places where he called. He is all right this morning, but he says it is the last time he will drink coffee when he makes New Year's calls."

"Well, then, you didn't have much fun yourself on New Year's. That's too bad," said the grocery man, as he looked at the sad-eyed youth. "But you look hard. If you were old enough I should say you had been drunk, your eyes are so red."

"Didn't have any fun, eh? Well, I wish I had as many dollars as I had fun. You see after pa got to sleep ma wanted me and my chum to go to the houses that pa had called at and return the napkins he had kleptomaniacked, so we dressed up and went. The first house we called at the girls were sort of demoralized. I dont know as I ever saw a girl drunk, but those girls acted queer. The callers had stopped coming, and the girls were drinking something out of shaving cups that looked like lather, and they said it was 'signogg.' They laffed and kicked up their heels wuss nor a circus, and their collars got unpinned, and their faces was red, and they put their arms about me and my chum and hugged us and asked us if we didn't want some of the custard. You'd a died to see me and my chum drink that lather. It looked just like soapsuds with nutmeg in it, but by gosh it got in its work sudden. At first I was afraid when the girls hugged me, but after I had drank a couple of shaving cups full of the signogg I wasn't afraid no more, and I hugged a girl so hard she catched her breath and panted and said 'O, don't!' Then I kissed her, and she is a great big girl, bigger'n ma, but she didn't care. Say, did you ever kiss a girl full of signogg? If you did it would break up your grocery business. You would want to smile in bliss, instead of selling mackerel. My chum ain't no slouch either. He was sitting in a stuffed chair holding another New Year's girl, and I could hear him kiss her so it sounded like a cutter scraping on bare ground. But the girl's pa came in and said he guessed it was time to close the place, unless they had a license for an all night house, and me and my chum went out. But wasn't we sick when we got out doors. O, it seemed as though the pegs in my boots was the only thing that kept them down, and my chum he like to died. He had been to dinner and supper and I had only been skating all day, so he had more to contend with than I did. O, say, but that lay's me out on signogg. I don't know how I got home, but I got in bed with pa while ma was called away to attend a baby matinee in the night. I don't know how it is, but there never is anybody in our part of the town that has a baby but they have it in the night, and they send for ma. I don't know what she has to be sent for every time for. Ma ain't to blame for all the young ones in this town, but she has got up a reputation, and when we hear the bell ring in the night ma gets up and begins to put on her clothes, and the next morning she comes in the dining room with a shawl over her head, and says 'it's a girl, and weighs ten pounds;' or a boy, if it's a boy baby. Ma was out on one of her professional engagements and I got in bed with pa. I had heard pa blame ma about her cold feet, so I got a piece of ice about as big as a raisin-box, just 'zactly like one of ma's feet, and I laid it right against the small of pa's back. I couldn't help laffing, but pretty soon pa began to squirm, and he said, 'Why'n 'ell don't you warm them feet before you come to bed,' and then he hauled back his leg and kicked me clear out in the middle of the floor, and said if he married again he would marry a woman who had lost both her feet in a railroad accident. Then I put the ice back in the bed with pa and went to my room, and in the morning pa said he sweat more'n a pail full in the night. Well, you must excuse me. I have an engagement to shovel snow off the sidewalk. But before I go, let me advise you not to drink signogg, and don't sell tom cats for rabbits," and he got out the door just in time to miss the rutabaga that the groceryman threw at him.—Peck's Sun.

GEMS.

Agree, for the law is costly.

Dying is as natural as living.

Fear is stronger than the law.

Joy surfeited turns to sorrow.

Care and diligence bring luck.

Hatred is blind as well as love.

Children are poor men's riches.

Idleness always envies industry.

A danger foreseen is half avoided.

By doing nothing we learn to do ill.

Content is the true philosopher's stone.

Experience is the mother of science.

He doth much that doth a thing well.

A good maxim is never out of season.

Empty vessels give the greatest noise.

A man is not good or bad for one action.

Idleness is the sepulcher of a living man.

A bitter jest is the poison of friendship.

A good character shines by its own light.

A quiet conscience causes a quiet sleep.

A civil denial is better than a rude grant.

In the company of strangers silence is safer.

Good manners are sure to produce respect.

Words sometimes wound more than swords.

He's a slave that cannot command himself.

Wind puffs up empty bladders, opinion, fools.

What we learn with pleasure we cannot forget.

Christian, are you trying to win souls for Christ?

Life always takes on the character of it's motive.

Choose your wife as you wish your children to be.

They serve God best who serve his creatures most.

Keep good company, and you shall be of the number.

Adversity borrows it's sharpest sting from impatience.

It is wisdom to think, and folly to sit without thinking.

In general, pride is at the bottom of all great mistakes.

Little things console us, because little things afflict us.

Mankind are more indebted to industry than ingenuity.

Many seek themselves in what they do, and know it not.

To grow old to the men is to become young to the angels.

The grandest and strongest natures are ever the calmest.

No one is ever fatigued after the exercise of forbearance.

The supreme reward of love is to be lovingly appreciated.

We are no longer happy so soon as we wish to be happier.

Charity gives itself rich, but covetousness hoards itself poor.

Nothing truly makes a bolder heart than a light conscience.

We live for the good of others, if our living be in any sense true living.

Through high pangs, thick agonies, from impulse to life and death dies.

Seeing much and suffering much and studying much are the three great pillars of learning.

A SHAMEFUL AFFAIR.

WHY A LARGE AMOUNT OF CHIVALRY AND WARMTH TO GREET MR. MULKITTLE—THE BOY KNOWS A BARREL OF TROUBLE.

Last Sunday morning young Mulkittle was crawling around under the house when he found an old egg, to fix the period from whose oviparous authorship would be a tiresome search into the ornithological past. However, it can with certainty be affirmed that its nearest relative was a hen, and with excusable speculation declared that she had long since graced the dinner table and has been devoured, in part at least, by some ministerial appetite. The sudden discovery of an egg under a house is always a rapturous surprise to a boy, and scrambling out, with many bumps in his haste, young Mulkittle bore the prize into the sitting room, not for the purpose of surrendering the ancient relic, but to deposit it in a place of safety where it could be found when a freak in his juvenile mind should demand its production. Taking a handkerchief from the table he removed some of the rust and dirt from the time-honored shell, when his mother entered.

"What have you got there, Willie? What are you doing with your father's handkerchief?"

'Nothin',' the boy replied, hastily wrapping the handkerchief around the egg.

'Put it in your pa's pocket and behave yourself,' said the lady, pointing to the Rev. Mulkittle's Sunday coat, which lay across a chair where it had been deposited subsequent to the darning of the clerical 'break' under the arm.

Fearing detection, he hastily put the handkerchief and egg in the side pocket of the coat, and was waiting for his mother to leave the room when he would secure his loathsome plaything, when the Rev. Mr. Mulkittle entered and remarked as he put on the garment:

'This forenoon I am to have a very interesting congregation. Several members elect of the legislature are in the city and have informed me that they shall attend services at my church to-day. I have decided to preach a special sermon to the law-makers, and I think that the entire state of Arkansaw will profit by my suggestions.'

'Pa, what is a legislature?' asked the boy, resigning his interest in the egg and yielding to his irrepressible habit of inquisitiveness.

'A legislature is a body of men that make laws for the country.'

'Do they make 'em for the town, too?'

'Yes, for everybody.'

'For boys and girls and niger women?'

'Don't bother me now, I'm thinking.'

'Are you thinking about law?'

'Yes, the law of God.'

'Has God got a legislature?'

'I don't know.'

'He could have one if he wanted to, couldn't he?'

'I think so.'

'If he had a legislature Peter would belong to it, wouldn't he?'

'I think so.'

'And he'd take his old rooster there and make him crow, wouldn't he?'

'Hush, sir. You haven't as much sense as a pig.'

'And if I had as much sense as a pig, you'd have as much sense as a hog, wouldn't you?'

'I'll slap you if you don't hush. Get ready and come with me to church.'

'I'd rather you'd slap me.'

'Get ready, I say,' and having assisted the little fellow, by way of wiping his hands and hurriedly brushing his hair, the good man led him off to church, arriving at the door just after an attempted explanation of why Mrs. Mulkittle did not come and why it was necessary for her to remain at home and see about dinner.

The congregation was large and it was with a feeling of pride that the minister assigned his son to the keeping of a sanctified old maid, in a faded silk dress, and mounted the oratorical elevation. Just in front of the pulpit sat the law-makers and conspicuously among the learned heads shone the bald and polished 'pate' of Col. Limgold, a leader of some influence and whose chances for the speakership no one disputed. Mr. Mulkittle, after proper attention had been paid to conventional ceremonies, began his discourse by directing his remarks at the bald head of Colonel Limgold. Warming with the close companionship and consequent friction of his subject, he lifted his voice and shouted his burning words of advice.

'If eating meat offend my enemy, said Paul.' Here Mr. Mulkittle thrust his hand into his pocket and drew out handkerchief. The egg, which was rolled in its folds, flew over the pulpit and fell on the top of Col. Limgold's head, bursting with a pop that caused everybody to jump.

'Whew!' exclaimed the gentleman who sat near the colonel, springing up, 'whew—ew.'

The colonel mopped his head with a handkerchief, arose and exclaimed:

'What—God from Israel—does this mean, sir?' regarding Mr. Mulkittle with a savage expression.

'Heaven knows that it is unaccountable!' gasped the minister in a kind of frightened lament. 'My good people please be seated.'

'I was elected by a big majority in my own county,' said the colonel in tones tremulous with anger, 'and I didn't come down here to have no man break rotten aigs on my head. I'm old, but—when—blamed if any man can insult me. I don't care whether he's a preacher or a hoss doctor. Explain this aigbster ban' trick or I'll cavort around this house with you in a scan'lous manner.' Mr. Mulkittle could not utter a word. 'I believe it was a trick,' continued the colonel, 'and dinged if I don't settle with you if it costs me a cow,' and he darted after the minister who leaped from the pulpit, ran to a window, jumped through and fled. The police hearing the noise dismissed the congregation. Mulkittle's boy reached home just after his mother, recalling the handkerchief scene in the sitting room and delivered her theory. The poor boy was almost savagely drawn into the library.

'What ought I to do with you, sir?' shouted the preacher. 'Are you going to deny it?'

'No, sir. I didn't go to let it stay in your pocket. I'm awful sorry and I think you ought to whip me, and if you do I believe I'll feel better,' and he looked at his father without a shadow of fear in his clear, earnest eyes, but when the father gently laid his hand on his son's head, the little fellow burst into tears. Kindness was severer than punishment.—Arkansaw Traveler.

Every day a little helpfulness. We live for the good of others, if our living be in any sense true living.

He who labors with the mind governs others; he who labors with the body is governed by others.

If you should have just what you deserve—no more, no less—would you be as happy as you are now?

Success in society are the most difficult of accomplishments—you have to sacrifice your vanity to other people's.

If you begin by laying the foundations of your house in lies, you will have to end by thatching it with them.

Our good deeds rarely cause much gossip among our neighbors, but our evil ones keep them delightfully busy.

A RIDE ON THE BOB SLED.

"What is your pa on crutches for? I see him hobbling down town this morning. Has he sprained his ankle?" asked the grocery man of the bad boy.

"Well, I guess his ankle got sprained with all the rest. You see, my chum and me went bobbing, and my pa said he supposed he used to be the greatest bobber when he was a boy, that ever was. He said he used to slide down a hill that was steeper than a church steeple. We asked him to go with us, and we went to that street that goes down by the depot, and we had two sleds hitched together, and there was more'n a hundred boys, and pa wanted to steer, and he got on the front sled, and when we got about half way down, the sled slewed and my chum and me got off all right, but pa got shut up between the two sleds, and the other boys behind they all ran over pa, and one sled runner caught him in the trousers leg and dragged him over the slippery ice clear to the bottom, and the whole lay out ran into the street car, and the mules got wild and kicked, and pa's suspenders broke, and when my chum and me got down there, pa was under the car, and a boy's boot was in pa's shirt bosom, and another boy was astraddle of pa's neck, and the crowd rushed up from the depot and got pa out, and he began to yell 'fire' and 'police,' and he kicked a boy that was trying to get his sled out of pa's back, and a policeman came along and pushed pa and said, 'Go away from here, ye owld divil, and let the b'ys enjoy themselves,' and he was going to arrest pa, and me and my chum told him we would take pa home. Pa said the hill was not steep enough for him, or he wouldn't have fell off. He is offul stiff to-day, but he says he will go skating with us next week, and show us how to skate. Pa means well, but he don't realize that he is getting stiff and can't be as kittenny as he used to be. He is very kind to me. If I had some fathers I would have been a broken backed, disfigured angel long ago. Don't you think so?"

The grocery man said he was sure of it, and the boy got out with his boneless raisins and pocketful of lump sugar. Milwaukee Sun.

As a want of faith is fatal to all goodness, so is it a deficiency far more frequent among men than a careless observer would imagine.

To think properly one must think independently, candidly, and consecutively; only in this way can a train of reasoning be conducted successfully.

There is a secret pleasure in hearing ourselves praised; but on such occasions, a worthy mind will rather resolve to merit the praise than be puffed up with it.

If you think yourself a genius, you will probably die poor, but if you regard yourself as an ordinary man, with a deal of tough work, before you, you will probably live happily and die well off.

The perversion of the best things can be turned into the worst, as in the most wholesome roots and herbs there is some component part which can be extracted and subtilized into a deadly poison.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED

STOMACH
BITTERS

[illegible] invalids, broken down in health and spirits by chronic dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion that follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a sure guarantee that by the same means you, too, may be strengthened and restored.
For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

Furnaces and Ranges,
STOVES, PUMPS, SINKS.
Gas Fixtures, Etc.
TIN. COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.
Tin Roofing and Jobbing!
Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.
Apply to
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 8 North avenue, Plainfield.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED
SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

D. M. FERRY & CO.
SEED ANNUAL

Mrs. John Burke
[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

Carney Bros.,
No. 11 SOMERSET STREET.
Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.
PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.
[illegible]
RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.
—SANITARY PLUMBING—

Special Notice!
[illegible]
ENTIRE STOCK
OF Farming Utensils
AND
House Furnishing Goods
[illegible]
FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS of TIN WARE
To be closed out within the next 30 days.
PLOWS AND HARROWS AT COST.
BERRY & THORN.

R. R. Fairchild.
Furniture! Furniture!
SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS.
A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!
Bed-room Suites,
IN ASH AND WALNUT.
Cottage Suites,
IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.
Bed Lounges,
AS LOW AS $1.00.
WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES.
Mattrasses and Spring Beds,
OF ALL KINDS.
Come to Fairchild's,
AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.
18 West Front Street.
Parlor Novelties!
[illegible]
THE "Sutherland"
[illegible]
THE "Egyptian"
[illegible]
THE "Rockingham"
[illegible]
THE
"Chippendale"
[illegible]
INSPECTION INVITED.

HEMORRHOID OR PILES
Permanently Cured,
IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS, WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID.
[illegible]
TUESDAY, DEC. 26TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 9TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 23D.
[illegible]

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,
[illegible]
No. 6 Somerset St.
BUTCHER.
[illegible]

LEWIS & CO.,
Butchers!!
[illegible]
Park Avenue.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To Young Housekeepers!
FREE TO ALL BRIDES.
[illegible]
THE HOUSEHOLD
WILL BE SENT ONE YEAR AS A WEDDING PRESENT
[illegible]

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

TWENTY
Years experience in the business.
SECOND STREET, 2 doors above Front street.

STEVENS & CORCORAN, Horse-shoers, give particular attention to [illegible]

PURE INDIA TEAS
[illegible] JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO., [illegible] Water St., N. Y.

DO YOU PLAY? WHY NOT?
[illegible]
CHARLES HEARNE, 11 Frankfort St., N. Y.

For Sale or To Let.
Very Desirable Residence,
—ON—
WEST SEVENTH ST.,
[illegible]
J. W. JOHNSON,
[illegible]

The A. Saltzman Watch

CHAUX-DE-FONDS
1876
MEDAL
BRONZE

Ask your Jeweler for It
Before Purchasing any other.

SPEER'S
PORT GRAPE WINE
Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.
Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.
Speer's Port Grape Wine
FOUR YEARS OLD.
THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. [illegible]
SPEER'S
P. J. Sherry.
[illegible]
SPEER'S
P. J. Brandy.
[illegible]

Washington Valley
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE. ICE. ICE.
SIMPSON & CO.,
[illegible]
Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.
[illegible]
GRADING & CONTRACTING
in all its Branches.

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,
Real Estate & Insurance Agent,
OFFICE—East Room, Central R. R. Depot
RESIDENCE—90 East 5th Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale, Rent or Exchange.
[illegible]
Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.
MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.

POPE'S
Life and Fire Insurance Agency.
Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money Invested on Bond and Mortgage for other Parties. Government BONDS Bought and Sold.
FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK [illegible]
Office over City National Bank.
FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

FIRE INSURANCE!
The undersigned having been appointed agent for the
Star and Merchants
Fire Insurance Co's of the
City of New York,
are prepared to furnish substantial indemnity against loss by Fire and solicit applications from the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.
NATHAN HARPER

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE
Is Selling WINTER
Boots & Shoes
At VERY LOW PRICES!
11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD.

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 5 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of desirable goods direct from Manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Cooking Stoves
and Ranges.
(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.
Agricultural Implements
Of all Kinds, CHEAP.
Super-Phosphates and Bone.
NEW YORK PLOWS,
Also,
The South Bend Chilled Plow,
BEST IN THE WORLD superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at
No. 18 EAST FRONT ST.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
C. O. Meeker & Co.
All the above Cheap for Cash.

Coal. Coal. Coal.
FINTIN HIBBITS
[illegible]
Lehigh Valley Coal,
of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!
[illegible]

J. N. SCHENCK,
Practical Machinist!
RACE STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.
[illegible]
Sectional Safety Boiler
[illegible]
Machinery of Every Description Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.

O. M. DUNHAM,
Merchant Tailor,
No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,
(Next to Laing's Hotel.)
Also, Agent for the
Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.

WM. C. SMITH,
Mason and Builder,
MADISON AVENUE,
[illegible]
North Plainfield, N. J.
[illegible]

PROSPECT HILL FARM
BOARDING STABLES.
HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD
[illegible]

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.
Station in New York, foot of Liberty street. In Brooklyn—Jewell's Wharf, foot of Fulton street.
ARRANGEMENT, COMMENCING JAN. 25, 1883.
[illegible]
For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.
[illegible]
Westward Connections
[illegible]
Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c
[illegible]
New York & Philadelphia-New Line,
BOUND BROOK ROUTE.
[illegible]
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between [illegible], complainant, and [illegible], et als., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF MARCH, A. D. 1883,

At two o'clock P. M. of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of Springfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey. [illegible]

THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, [illegible]

MONDAY THE TWELFTH DAY OF MARCH NEXT.

[illegible]

THEODORE M. FRENCH, Administrator.

Dated Jan. 9, 1883.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office,

Joseph T. Vail, Administrator of John Burke, deceased.

[illegible]

JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County, Surrogate's Office,

Andrew F. Ryno, the Executor of Jonathan Dobbins deceased.

[illegible]

JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of NATHAN ROGERS, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, [illegible]

ELIAS R. POPE.

EXECUTORS' SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers, [illegible]

MARY S. [illegible]
JARED K. [illegible]

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, [illegible]

LEWIS W. [illegible]

ADMINISTRATRIX SETTLEMENT. Notice is hereby given, [illegible]

R. W. MAHAFSEE'S
EXPRESS.
Furniture & Goods Removed
[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE DINGEE & CONARD CO'S
ROSES
[illegible]
THE DINGEE & CONARD CO.
Rose Growers. West Grove, Chester Co., Pa.

Peter Henderson & Co's
SEEDS PLANTS
[illegible] MANUAL
of EVERYTHING for the
GARDEN
[illegible]
Peter Henderson & Co.,
35 & 37 Cortlandt St., New York.

Over 5000
Druggists
AND
Physicians
Have Signed or Endorsed the Following Remarkable Document:
Messrs. Seabury & Johnson, Manufacturing Chemists, 21 Platt St., New York:
Gentlemen:—For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are superior to all other Porous Plasters or Liniments for external use.
Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine Pharmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognized by physicians and druggists.
When other remedies fail get a Benson's Capcine Plaster.
You will be disappointed if you use cheap Plasters, Liniments, Pads or Electrical Magnetic toys.
A SURE REMEDY AT LAST. [illegible]

A MAN
[illegible]

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y
[illegible]
"ALBERT LEA ROUTE."
[illegible]
GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,
R. R. CABLE, E. ST. JOHN,
CHICAGO.

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM.

This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. [illegible]
Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair
Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

PARKER'S
GINGER TONIC
A Superlative Health and Strength Restorer.
[illegible]

FLORESTON
[illegible]
Hiscox & Co.
[illegible]
COLOGNE.

NOTICE!
The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office,
No. 23 PARK AVE.
A. VANDERBEEK
O. O. A.

Park Avenue Bakery
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
[illegible]

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"Support The Constitution, which is The Cement of The Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1883. No. 7

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors,
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("[illegible] Building,")
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 5 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor [illegible]
Terms:—$2.00 a Year in advance.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTON'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
[illegible], Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.

FRENCH BRO'S,
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
[illegible]
[illegible] street, Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

GEORGE S. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wools, Sheep Skins & Tallow.
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Sausage, for sale. Cheap only for Cash.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds,
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
Cor. Park Ave. and Second St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET,
ESTABLISHED, [illegible]
Bread, Cakes, Pies, Confectionery, &c. made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention.

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Flagg's Hotel) Plainfield, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Harmony St., North Plainfield.
5th house from Somerset St.—left hand side.
Information imparted as regards present and future events, likeness, Marriages, Journeys, Lawsuits, &c. She converses in English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed.
My husband is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c.—cheap for cash.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 23 Park Ave.,
[near Second street,]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works,
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders delivered and set up.
L. MANNING.
Front St., next to M. E. Ch., Plainfield, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y.

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay, Straw, &c.,
Fourth St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Wood a specialty.
Orders left at above, or addressed to P. O. Box [illegible], will receive prompt attention.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS,
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Duer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All goods ordered delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
Thankful for past favors I solicit a continuance of the same.

HENRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.
No. 44 East Second Street,
Bet. Peace St. and Park Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also Bottler of Porter, Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and [illegible] Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it to all desiring a cooling and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, Families, &c., supplied at the lowest rates for first-class goods.

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
McIntyre's Building, Plainfield, N. J.
(P. O. Box, [illegible])
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

BENTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures.
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. 3d St. & Madison Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL.
Somerset Place, North Plainfield.
Hardwood and [illegible] a specialty. Contracts for all kinds of carpenter work [illegible]. Address Plainfield Post—Box.

HARDWARE, [illegible]

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

THE FINEST WHISKEY ever offered for sale in Plainfield can be had at E. F. THORN'S. All those wanting a pure and very old Whiskey for Family and Medicinal use are invited to test it.
Also, Every Bass Ale at $1.25 per dozen.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agent for Clinch, Goldsborough's & Porter's Ales, Wilson & Akron Club Whiskies, Bottled Expressly for Family use. Also a full line of Acker, Merrall & Condit's Whiskies and Wines.

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 33 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is stocked with the choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours.

SMITH'S
Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
Blatz's Old Stand. PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Elderberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine, and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Also, Ales, Liquors, Segars.
Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 9 to 1.

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND STS.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARZ, MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Delaney Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour.

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 7 EXCHANGE PLACE,
FIVE DOORS WEST FERRY, JERSEY CITY.

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield, P. O. Box 1[illegible]. Families supplied with pure Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel opposite old Post-office delivered free of charge.

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
BART [illegible]. SAMUEL [illegible],
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and refurnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the traveling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
Brunswick, Balke & Co., Celebrated Pool and Carom tables.
Nothing but temperance drinks, such as Lemonade, Sarsaparilla, Soda Water, &c., also Segars, dispensed over the bar.
Orders taken and executed for [illegible].

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate Agent!
[illegible] ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
[illegible]
Made and promptly returned.
[illegible]

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD
are cordially invited to visit the Plainfield Academy for Boys,
[illegible]
GERMAN, [illegible]
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French [illegible]
Elementary Department, without German and French [illegible]
Primary Department, without German and French [illegible]
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for ladies and gentlemen, by the Natural Method, meet in the afternoons and evenings.
Principal—[illegible]
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box [illegible].

Caig Place School.
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. A. COPIN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best and cheapest in the State, and made on the premises from the finest [illegible].
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & Domestic
SEGARS!!
No. 38 PARK AVE. (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 14 Somerset St., Plainfield, N. J.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of
Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco, Snuff, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

MILLINERY.

MRS. P. DUNN,
HAS THE LATEST STYLE OF Millinery, Bonnets, Hats, Etc.
BLEACHING AND PRESSING done at short notice. Feathers curled and dyed. Pinking done. A large assortment of Hair, Braids, Switches and Curls. Particular attention paid to selecting Hair to suit customers. Kid Gloves, Corsets, etc. Also, Fancy and Dress Goods.
14 West Front street.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 42 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mlle. Donna, 849 Broadway, N. Y.

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Stillman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors, a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

HOTELS, ETC.

LAING'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH B. MILLER, - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS. GEISE'S
RESTAURANT
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
12 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. [illegible] agent for [illegible]. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style.

Accommodation Express.
PETER PICKERT, Prop'r. OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Cor. Liberty St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. This Accommodation Express will attend to the general carrying business of the locality, delivering Goods and Baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c. with care and safety. Promptness, [illegible].

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue.
P. O. BOX 308.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
[illegible]

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
[illegible]
[illegible]

PAINTERS & PAINTERS' SUPPLIES.

ESTABLISHED 1854.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
INTERIOR DECORATORS,
FINE WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,
LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC., ETC.
321 Canal Street, New York
[Telephone Call—Spring [illegible].]
GEO. F. BROWN—Residence—17 [illegible], Plainfield. P. O. Box [illegible].

NEW STYLES
WALL PAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTISTS' COLORS, ETC.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
(between Front and 2d Sts.,) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
P. O. BOX, 363.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
in all their branches.
Satisfaction Guaranteed on all Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING,
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St.
P. O. BOX, 381.
D. WEAVER. E. WEAVER

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

MISS MAMIE KUNKEL,
(Of Baltimore Maryland.)
The Young American Prima Donna,
WILL APPEAR IN PLAINFIELD,
During the ensuing Spring for the benefit of a Roman Catholic Charity.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL.
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM [illegible]
Dodworth's New Lanciers and New Waltz-Caprice will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. 29th.

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!

New Livery!
Having assumed control of the well known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, cor. Park Avenue and [illegible], the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.
New Stock and Material
Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, SIDE-BAR AND TOP BUGGIES, &c., of the LATEST MAKE and STYLE, and other new material will constantly be added.
The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock and [illegible].
Yours, Very Respectfully,
J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS,
(Of the late firm of Roberts & Cadmus.)
Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and patrons that he has purchased the stock and good will of the [illegible] Mr. John F. [illegible], who for the past [illegible]
FRONT STREET,
Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will at [illegible]

Mansion House Stables.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
ALBERT HEDDEN, Prop'r.
[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

THE MAGIC FIGURE.

BY [illegible] MILLER.

'I don't mind giving up an hour or two to go and read to sick folks,' exclaimed Kate Barlow, crossly, throwing off hat and shawl, and dropping into an easy-chair, 'if they'll only keep their rooms half decent.'

'Why, what's the matter now, Kate?' asked her mother, 'isn't it pleasant at Mary's?'

'Pleasant!' with an indescribable accent, 'it's simply horrid! Such a room I never saw! Furniture covered with dust, tables loaded with medicine things and dirty glasses, every chair with something on it, and I don't believe the windows were ever washed.'

'But, my dear,' said her mother, 'you must remember that Mary's mother is poor and—'

'But she might be clean,' interrupted Kate.—'And she has her hands full to take care of all those children.'

'Some of them are big enough to help,' Kate put in. 'There's that Bess—great big thing—with an apron a pig would be ashamed to wear!'

'Who is this Mary?' quietly asked Miss Faith, a lady who had come to visit Kate's mother only the day before.

'One of Kate's schoolmates,' said Mrs. Barlow, 'who fell on the ice and was hurt last winter. She is obliged to lie perfectly still, but the doctors hope she will be well after some months.'

'Poor, did you say?' went on Mrs. Faith.

'Well, not beggars,' said Mrs. Barlow, 'but they have close work to get along. Her mother is a widow with four or five children, on a small income.'

'And she does her own work,' put in Kate, 'what little's done, but I don't believe she ever clears up Mary's room. I should think she'd die, I should.'

'And it wouldn't do I suppose, to speak to her about it,' suggested Miss Faith.

'Dear me! no;' said Mrs. Barlow, 'she's a high-spirited woman; has been used to better times. She would be mortally offended.'

'I've seen such cases,' said Miss Faith, with a smile, 'and I know what to do for them, Kate. I think I can help you.'

'I don't know what you can do,' sighed Kate, 'it seems to me a hopeless case.'

'I'll use magic,' said Miss Faith, smiling.

'What?' exclaimed Kate and her mother in a breath.

'I'll send Mary a present,' went on Miss Faith, 'that shall work like magic in the house; you'll be surprised at the result.'

'If it clears up that house it'll be magic, sure enough!' said Kate.

'It will!' said Miss Faith, quietly. 'I never knew it to fail. It will not take ten days to accomplish all you ask.'

'I must say I'd like to see it,' said Kate, half unbelieving.

'Come up to my room and I'll show you,' said Miss Faith, rising.

Kate followed her eagerly to her room, where she unlocked and opened her trunk. The contents of the trunk were rather unusual, but then Miss Faith was rather an unusual person. For dress she cared very little, yet she was always accompanied on her journeys by a big trunk. Kate had often wondered what was in it, and now she looked on with eager curiosity as Miss Faith took out one thing after another, a pile of children's clothes, three or four pairs of shoes of different sizes, several books—children's books—toys of cheap and durable kind, and other things equally strange for an elderly lady to carry about in her trunk.

Kate could not help an exclamation of surprise, as these various objects came to light. Miss Faith smiled.

'Queer, isn't it, dear?'—but these are my magical tools, and here I think I have the particular one you need.' And she opened a small wooden box, took out a quantity of soft packing paper, and then uncovered a little bisque figure. It was not more than eight inches high, and of course it was not very pretty, but it was a lovely, graceful thing, the figure of a beautiful child.

'Oh! how pretty!' cried Kate. 'What a beautiful face! and such a snow white! Do you really mean to send Mary that? It'll look fearful out of place in her dingy room.'

'So I hope,' said Miss Faith, 'it would show no magic qualities otherwise.'

'Well, it's perfectly lovely, and Mary'll be crazy over it; but how it's to clear up that house I must say I can't see.'

'You will see,' said Miss Faith, confidently. 'Will you take it over to her with my love?'

'O yes!' said Kate warmly, 'I'd like to see what she says.'

Kate took the pretty gift to Mary, and was gratified in report of the delight and happiness it caused.

'She had me set it on her bureau,' said Kate, 'where she could lie and look at it, and I had to move a dozen things aside to find room for it.'

'Near the window?' asked Miss Faith.

'Close by the window,' answered Kate, 'with horrid dirty muslin curtains too.'

'H'm!' said Miss Faith. 'I shouldn't wonder if that magic began to work to-night.'

In truth it began sooner than Miss Faith thought, for hardly was Kate out of the house when Mary said to her mother, who had come up from the kitchen to see the new treasure.

'Mother, I could see it better if there weren't so many things on the bureau. I wished you'd take some off.'

'I will,' said the mother, pleased to see Mary interested, and she went to the bureau, and in two minutes had it completely cleared off.

'Thank you,' said Mary, in a pleased tone, 'that is nice; it looks lovely now!'

The magic worked on. The next morning Mary lay in her room alone, looking with smiling interest on the magic gift. It was so delicate, so white; suddenly she noticed that the curtains which hung near it looked extremely dingy by contrast.

'Mother,' she said when she was eating her breakfast a little later, 'couldn't you have the curtains washed? They're awful dirty.'

'They do look a little dingy,' said her mother with a sigh, 'but washings are so big that I kind 'o put off things.'

'Couldn't Bess help?' suggested Mary.

'Could if she was a mind to,' said her mother, 'but you know what Bess is. I can't make the least impression on her, if I was to scold from morning to night.'

'I suppose not,' said Mary, thoughtfully. 'I wish I could—'

'But you can't,' interrupted her mother, 'and you needn't fret about it, dearie; I'll get the curtains washed somehow.' For to keep Mary from fretting under her troubles [illegible] was her mother's great anxiety.

'Don't do it, mother,' she added, decidedly.

'Well, you may try her,' said Mrs. Bartlett, 'and if she won't do it, I will.'

After studying up a plan, Mary went to work quite cautiously on her easy-going sister. She talked about the figure, drew her on to tell how much she admired it, and then called her attention to the dingy looks of the curtains behind it.

'If I was only able,' she ended, with a sigh, 'I would have them washed and ironed before night.' And then in a sudden way she offered Bess a book of hers if she would do it. Bess wanted the book, and moreover was sorry—in her lazy way—for her sister, and after a moment's thought she consented.

The curtains were soon down and in the wash-tub, and then Mary had a chance to notice the windows.

'Why, how dirty they are!' said she to herself. 'They ought to be washed while the curtains are down. Mother is busy, and Bess will be so tired,' she reflected; then her eyes fell on a little sister, eight years old, who was playing on the floor.

'Susy,' she said, 'I wonder if you couldn't wash the windows for sister.'

'Course I can,' said Susy, delighted with the idea of unlimited soap and water.

'Well—suppose you do it then,' went on Mary, coaxingly, 'and see if you can't get it all done to surprise mother when she comes up.'

Charmed to do grown up work, Susy went at it eagerly. Under Mary's instructions she brought warm water and other things, and was soon very busy indeed.

After a good deal of scrubbing, and many directions on Mary's part Susy managed to get the lower panes pretty clean, but the upper ones Mary dared not let her climb up to try. It was not very satisfactory, to be sure, for the clear glasses only made the others look worse than before.

'Why, Susy!' exclaimed the mother, when she came up and heard who had been washing windows. 'How nicely you've made the panes look; mother'll have to wash the upper ones herself to match them.'

And she did too, so that before night Mary had clean windows and clean white curtains. Kate, who came on the next day to read to her, went home with wide open eyes.

'Why, Miss Faith, I do believe it is magic! If you'll credit me they've begun to clear up; really clean windows and spick-and-span white curtains, I couldn't hardly believe my eyes.'

Truly it was not, for the next day Mary began to notice the littered appearance of the room, the medicine bottles and cups, and the confusion there generally.

'The windows look so nice,' she said to Susy, who was her most constant attendant, 'that I wish you would clear up a little more.'

'What shall I do?' asked the good-natured Susy.

'Well,' began Mary, 'first take all the dirty dishes out, and set them in the hall where mother or Bess can take them down stairs.'

Many times back and forth trotted the busy little feet before this was done.

'Now you can take all the empty bottles,' said Mary, 'and put them on the shelf in the hall cupboard.'

So they went on, Mary directing and Susy working, and after an hour's work the room was much improved.

'Why, how slick you look up here! what's got into you all of a sudden?' exclaimed Mrs. Bartlett when she came up.

'Why,' exclaimed Mary, 'the windows looked so nicely it made the rest of the room seem very messy, and Susy's been clearing up for me. Hasn't she done it nicely?'

'Very,' assented her mother, 'and it does seem more attractive.'

'When I don't see anything else,' added Mary in a low tone.

'Sure enough, poor child!' said her mother, 'we won't let the room get so again.'

That day again Kate rushed home with a tale of wonders done by the magic gift.

Still the magic worked. The next day she found the floor swept and the furniture dusted. The third day Mary had a clean white counterpane in place of the old soiled one, and a white towel on her medicine stand. The fourth day a hole in the carpet, over which she had several times stumbled, was neatly mended. The fifth day the hall was swept and the stairs washed, and the sixth day the house had an unwontedly clean air.

Nor was this all; the charm worked on the people as well as on the house. First, Kate noticed that Susy had clean face and hands, and that her dress had been washed and mended. Then she noticed an improvement in Bess' appearance, then a gradual change in the looks of every one of the household, even to Mrs. Bartlett herself.

Every day she went home with new wonders to tell, and fresh surprise at the simple cause of all the changes.

'Why, it's a real pleasure to go there now,' she said one day, 'and all the girls say so. Mary seems ever so much brighter too; I do believe she is better.'

'No doubt she is,' said Faith, 'there's no doctor so good to cure as an interest in things around one. Does she still care for the bisque figure?'

'Care for it! why she about worships it. That Bess—sure's you live—has patched up some sort of a bracket out of half a flour barrel cover, and some bits of cloth and bright braid, and you wouldn't believe it, but it's real pretty and bright, and she nailed it up between the windows and on it stands the blessed figure. It really gives the room quite an air!'

'And I want to tell you, Miss Faith,' Kate went on eagerly, 'we girls in Mary's class, seeing how she tries to have her room pretty, have made a plan to fix it up nice for a Christmas surprise for her. We've talked it over a little, and it's going to be splendid. Carrie Bates—her father keeps a paper hanging store—says she's most sure he'll give her paper enough to paper her room, and perhaps a man to put it on, and Lou Jones is going to get some pretty cretonne out of her father's store, to cover the lounge and a big pillow for it; we've got money enough among us to buy matting for the floor, and then we're going to give books and little pictures, and everything we can get. We mean to make her room lovely. Isn't it grand?'

'Indeed it is, Kate!' said Miss Faith warmly, 'and I'll help. What shall I do? You may decide.'

A bright look came into Kate's face, then a look of doubt.

'What is it dear? Tell me just what you wish,' said Miss Faith, watching her keenly.

'Would you spend some money?' began Kate, hesitatingly; 'a good deal, I am afraid.'

'What for?' demanded Miss Faith.

'O, for an invalid bed that could be tilted up at the head, so she can read all [illegible]. We did want to buy one awfully! But we knew it would cost too much; the girls hadn't much money.' Kate paused. Miss Faith thought a moment.

'If I do that, Kate, it will take all my Christmas money,' she said gravely. 'All the young people to whom I usually make presents will have to go without.'

'O, I'm sure, dear Miss Faith,' said Kate warmly, 'they would all be glad to if they could only know how good it would be for Mary—and she has to lie there always,' she added with a shudder. 'Think how fearful that is!'

'Well,' said Miss Faith, 'I'll do it, Kate. You girls select the bed, and have the bill sent to me. The magic works beyond Mary Bartlett's chamber, you see.'

'Sure enough,' said Kate, thoughtfully, 'it was the figure began it.' And as she walked hastily down in the village to tell the girls the good news about the invalid bed, she thought the whole thing over, from the first day—less than two weeks ago—when Miss Faith had taken the bisque figure out of her trunk, till now. Wonderful indeed has been the changes, not only in Mary's room but spreading over the house, and then among the school girls who visited Mary, and as she ran up the steps of Carrie Bates' house, came her conclusion—

'Well; there must be some magic about that little bisque figure.'

Never were girls so busy as Kate and her classmates for the next week or two. Each one wanted to make everything she knew how to do, and the quantity of fancy work done was something alarming. The yards of canvass and momie cloth, the skeins of crewel and silk, the beads and fringes and the Japanese notions that went into that one room were almost enough to start a fancy store.

Two days before Christmas, Mary was carried into another part of the house, to have her room cleaned, her mother told her (Mrs. Bartlett of course had to be taken into the secret), and a workman was smuggled in, to hang a pretty new paper, of a neutral tint.

A fire was kept all night to dry the paper, and the next day the girls came down in a body and took possession of the room.

'I wish you could have seen it when we got it all done,' said Kate, enthusiastically telling the story to Miss Faith that evening. 'Your beautiful invalid bed on one side, the lounge with its gay new cover and great fat pillow on the other; a loving matting on the floor, and my rug beside the bed—it looked nice enough for anybody, I don't care who.'

'Where did the books go?' asked her listener.

'O, I forgot! we had a real nice set of shelves—only pine, but made low and varnished, and very stylish, I can tell you! —and these were full of books, good ones, too, such as any of us like to read—Mamy Brown gave her whole set of Louise Alcott's works; wasn't that sweet of Mamy?'

'It was, indeed,' assented Miss Faith.

'And then you can't think how many little things we had! pictures—framed engravings, you know—brackets, embroidered cushion, toilet set in Kensington stitch, and ever so many other things.'

'Anything Japanese?' asked Miss Faith.

'O, yes! we had two lovely things to hang on the wall—I don't know what you call them; long, you know, like a sort of picture. And we had lots of fans, we decorated every corner with fans. The room just looked too lovely for anything.'

'I should like to know how it pleases Mary,' said Miss Faith.

'Mrs. Bartlett was so pleased that she cried—queer way to show it, I think, but she did—and all we girls ran away; we didn't want her to thank us. But she promised to tell what Mary said when she first saw it.'

What Mary said need not be recorded. Of course she was very much delighted, and how much her long dull hours were brightened by her pretty room may be easily imagined.

There's no medicine like happiness and cheerfulness, and before spring was over Mary was able to get out into the world once more, and to take her place in the school, warmly welcomed by the girls who had exerted themselves to give her a pleasant surprise.

'And it's all owing to that little bisque figure,' Kate said, as she finished telling the story of Mary's improved health to Miss Faith, on her next visit.

'Does she keep that yet?' asked Miss Faith.

'Keep it! it has the best place in the house always, and I don't believe anything in the world could coax it away from her.'

'Does look a little queer!', said Miss Faith, 'doesn't it?'

'Queer!—well, I was always sure there was some magic about it,' said Kate.

HUSBANDS AND WIVES.

Never taunt with a past mistake.

Never allow a request to be repeated.

Let self-abnegation be the habit of both.

'I forgot' is never an acceptable excuse.

If you must criticise, let it be done lovingly.

Make a marriage a matter of moral judgment.

Never make a remark at the expense of the other.

When a man tells you that he lies, believe him.

Never talk at one another either alone or in company.

Give your warmest sympathies for each other's trials.

If the one is angry let the other part the lips only for a kiss.

Neglect the whole world beside rather than one another.

Never speak loud to one another unless the house is on fire.

Let each strive to yield oftenest to the wishes of the other.

The very felicity is in the mutual cultivation of usefulness.

Always leave home with loving words for they may be the last.

A good wife or a good husband is the greatest earthly blessing.

Never find fault unless it is perfectly certain a fault has been committed.

Let all your mutual accommodations be spontaneous, whole-souled, as free as air.

Do not herald the sacrifices you make to each other's tastes, habits, or preferences.

A hesitating or grum yielding to the wishes of the other always grates upon a loving heart.

Consult one another in all that comes within the experience, observation, or sphere of the other.

They who marry for traits of mind and heart will seldom fail of perennial springs of domestic enjoyment.

Never reflect on a past action which was done with a good motive and with the best motive at the time.

They are the safest who marry from the standpoint of sentiment rather than of feeling, passion, or mere love.

The beautiful in heart is a million times of more avail, as securing domestic happiness, than the beautiful in person.

FARM NOTES.

Jefferson county (N. Y.) farmers now carry their milk to the Bologna cheese factories, where they are paid twelve and thirteen cents per gallon for it.

Trees intended for planting should not have their roots exposed to the sun or wind so that they can dry out. The roots must be kept moist if the trees are expected to live.

The editor of a Texas Greenback paper advertises for a wife who knows less than he does. He is probably joking. Nobody can possibly know less than the editor of a Greenback paper.

Parmentier says that the best method of storing thoroughly dry and clean wheat is in sacks isolated from each other, care being taken to keep a sufficiently low temperature in the granary.

Every care and attention shown to horses, no matter what their condition is, will bring its reward. The kind of influences thrown around a young horse will have its effect on its character in after years.

The fleeces of any sheep are badly injured around stacks. Long-wooled fleeces are more damaged than the fleeces of fine wools, since they are longer and more open, and catch more beards, chaff and straw.

The fruit evaporation business is likely to be injured by the use of inferior fruit. The evaporating process does not change poor fruit into good, but only makes it more difficult to tell without actual test.

Mr. A. Failor, of Iowa, says young pigs just weaned are sometimes over fed in the desire to give them enough. When their sides distend they have too much. Hogs should not be over-fed just because they are hogs.

Farmers in Oregon and Washington Territory have lately taken to growing hops, and the high price this year will give the business a boom. Most growers sold at 75 cents per pound. Many new yards will be started in the Spring.

An international sheep show is to be held at Hamburg, Germany, from 3d to the 11th of July, 1883, at which prizes aggregating $375,000 are to be offered. There are eighty-eight classes, under eight groups and fourteen principal subdivisions.

A woman living at Reading, Conn., took 900 pounds of honey from eighteen hives this season, and is so well pleased with the business as an agreeably, easy and profitable one for women that she has increased her colonies to thirty-seven.

While one-half or more of the productive industry of the country is engaged in farming, it would seem that there is good reason for demanding that the elements of agricultural science should be taught in common schools, especially in rural districts.

One of the advantages of the soiling and ensilage system of feeding is the greatly increased amount of manure that can be made on a given quantity of land. To realize this advantage to the utmost, however, the manure should be carefully saved and applied.

A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune feeds cotton-seed meal, corn meal and bran to cows, one pound of each at a ration. The cotton-seed meal must be free from husk or it will be indigestible. Care must also be taken not to feed the cotton-seed meal for two months before calving time.

Lambs can be made to shear from two to four pounds more wool by a little extra care and feed during the winter. The extra wool will more than pay for the extra feeding, and the result will be much larger and stronger sheep. For this purpose feed good clover hay, with bran, oats and corn mixed equally.

The white of a hen's egg contains 84.3 per cent. of water, 12 of albumen, 2 of fat, sugar and membranes, and 1.2 per cent. of mineral matter; but the yolk contains 51.5 per cent. of water, 15 of casein and albumen, 30 of oil and fat, 2.1 of coloring matter, and 1.4 per cent. of mineral matter.

At the Dairy Show at Milwaukee the fancy cheese exhibit was very large, and while some exhibits were of foreign manufacture, the greatest part of the sapsagos, Brickstone, Roquefort, and all other known kinds, fragrant and otherwise, were of American manufacture, that no climate or country is safe from Yankee imitation.

The sprouting of potatoes is generally prevented by a short exposure to either freezing cold or scalding heat. Pouring scalding water over them and then drying quickly prevents spoiling. It is therefore plain that seed potatoes must be preserved from such a degree of either heat or cold as would destroy the germ, from 50 to 55 deg. being safe.

The cause of club-root in cabbage is claimed by a German experimenter, Woronin, to be a parasitic vegetable, which lives and feeds on the healthy tissue of different cruciferous plants. All weeds of that order (producing pods, like turnips, mustard, radish, etc.) should be eradicated while land is being rested preparatory to a renewal of cabbage growing.

The Indiana Farmer says the Ben Davis apple is so poorly flavored that even the codling moth generally passes it by for some better variety, and the consequence is that but few of these apples are wormy, and, being of high color and handsome shape, they are a very popular apple at the city fruit stands, where they outsell other kinds about two to one on the average.

A single thoroughbred male introduced in a farming section for purposes of improvement adds more wealth than any other investment that can be made. Though worth but very little in the shape of so many pounds of animal matter, the value of the progeny may reach away up in the thousands. Farmers should learn this fact and take it into consideration.

A veterinary professor says that "the great majority of ringbones in young horses come from the failure to shorten the toes." To this may be added that ringbone is apt to be formed if colts are allowed to stand on a plank floor, or anywhere else where the footing is hard, during the first eight months of their age. Whether in stable or yard during this period, let them have earth for standing or walking, free from stone or gravel.

In South Africa the raising of cattle has almost entirely ceased, owing to the fact that several years ago a Holland bull was carried there afflicted with the lung disease, which, before it could be stopped, spread beyond control. This should prove a warning to American farmers. Congress should make a law forbidding the removal of cattle from any infected territory until they shall have undergone a period of quarantine.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

SPACE	WEEKS. 1	2	3	MONTHS. 1	2	3	6	12
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible] per cent. advance [illegible]
[illegible] advertisements inserted for [illegible]
[illegible] for all advertisements and [illegible]

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

CUTS OF CUTTERS.

A BATCH OF LIVELY COMPLETE PARAGRAPHS.

The horseman is generally proud of his race.

The weigh to wealth—1,000 pounds to the ton.

A tie vote—when two people agree to get married.

Everybody's duty is due on the first day of January.

The socialist wants to level everything except his own head.

It is the man who is not elected who is not eligible to office.

Patent medicines are now made that will cure everything except hams.

The tongue of slander is a sword which is seldom allowed to grow rusty.

Don't swear off, young fellow. Swearing off is no good. If you mean business, just quit.

It is not enough to remember the poor. Give them something to make them remember you.

The manufacture of a kind of glue to mend "broken resolutions" would prove very profitable just now.

All is not gold that glitters. Sometimes it is a tin pan, or it may be a pocket mirror in the hands of some confounded small boy.

Enquirer—"What is the best way to tell a horse's age?" Depends on who owns the beast. If it's yours, don't tell that it's over eight, anyhow.

'Dogs under favorable circumstances live to be thirty years old,' says an exchange. 'Favorable circumstances' probably means a family without boys or neighbors.

A Kentucky exchange asks: "What is the great lever that shoves the newspaper forward?" Well, in the case of most country journals, it is two dollars a year in advance.

According to a Washington dispatch "the Senate has passed a bill for the relief of the whiskey men." Why this government should be called on to purchase cloves is not clear.

A fashion authority says that bridal tours are no longer fashionable. It is the proper figure now to wait for a year or two to see if the husband and wife are going to live together.

A wag, speaking of a friend whom he suspected of living altogether beyond his means, observed, that he believed he 'would owe several thousand dollars after all his debts were paid.'

The New York Commercial Advertiser wants to see young men troubled with a rush of common sense to the head, but, if some of 'em had it, they'd go and be bled or take some treatment.

A Pennsylvania man has a mouse in his office which 'sings and chirps all night like a bird.' We can suggest nothing to meet the emergency unless it is a good-sized and a real hungry cat.

The census states that there are in Chicago '7,076 stores, 6,971 factories and 168 mixed establishments.' Now you can understand how so many people get so "mixed" when they go to Chicago.

Did it ever occur to you that the band usually stops playing just after you have opened the window, knocked down a shutter, and destroyed a lace curtain or two in endeavoring to hear it more plainly.

A paragraph states that a certain actress is under contract with her manager not to marry for five years. Maybe she hopes to arouse the obstinacy of man by this means and induce him to propose.

Among the 'biographical sketches' of the Maine Representatives appears the following: 'Joseph E. Moore, Thomaston, Democrat. In religion, independent as a man can be whose wife and mother-in-law are Baptists.'

'There is no man,' said the poet Whittier on his seventy-fifth birthday, 'who ought to write much after he is seventy.' Mr. Whittier is correct, except in cases where the girl will agree positively to destroy the letters.

A man at a hotel fell the whole length of a flight of stairs. Servants rushed to pick him up. They asked him if he was hurt. 'No,' he replied; 'not at all. I'm used to coming down that way. I'm a life insurance agent.'

A little girl in Sunday School, who the day before had succeeded in tearing her doll to pieces, when asked what Adam was made of, replied, 'Of dust.' 'And what was Eve made of?' 'Of sawdust,' was the prompt response.'

A Frenchman has invented a glass with which one can see the bottom of a river or a lake for 100 feet around him. The man who has fished all day without a bite can take this glass and discover that he has been angling among old boots and oyster cans.

Five men leaned up against the bar for a nightcap. One drank whiskey because the doctor ordered it; two others drank a hot Scotch because they couldn't sleep a wink without it; a fourth drank brandy for his cholera morbus, and the fifth man drank whiskey because he liked it. And there were only four liars in the crowd.

'Why do women so often wander aimlessly in the murky solitudes of the dead past, brooding over days forever gone?' asks a correspondent, and we give it up unless it be that she hopes by ransacking the dead past to find that in the wardrobe of the aforesaid dead past she may find something to work up into a rag carpet.

'Do you see that old man near the frog pond on the common?'

'Thirty-two years ago that man came to Boston with one suspender and a sore toe. He also had a basket of apples which a farmer in Lexington had given to him. He peddled the apples on Washington street, and netted eighteen cents the first day. How much do you suppose he is worth now?'

'Oh, a million and a half,' said one.

'Two millions,' cried another.

'Six millions three hundred thousand,' was the estimate of a third.

'I give it up,' remarked No. 4. 'How much is he worth?'

'Not an infernal cent, and he still owes for the basket.'

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

DEMOCRACY.

The Democratic doctrine of government is equal and exact justice to all men and every lawful pursuit.

That is the vital principle of civil freedom, and to strengthen and support it the Democratic party would lastingly ordain—

That direct taxation shall be impartially assessed.

That indirect taxation shall be levied for the joint purpose of realizing revenue and affording protection to every legitimate home industry, in order that invested capital may reap fair profits, not bounties, and labor just remuneration.

That taxation, both direct and indirect, shall be only to the extent of providing means sufficient to meet the real wants and obligations of government, without a dollar for corrupt or extravagant expenditures.

That the workingman's hard earned dollars shall be worth to him their full face value, because of the given opportunity to purchase therewith the necessities of life at honest prices, without being clipped by extortioners or sweated by tribute to privileged classes.

Such is Democracy, and the sooner it becomes enacted law, richer and freer will the masses of the American people be.

MONOPOLY.

In course of the tariff discussion in the Senate, a motion to place salt, that indispensable necessary of life, upon the free list, Senator Bayard remarked—"While traveling through the Kanawha Valley some years ago, my attention was directed to deserted salt works, most advantageously situated for easy working and ready access to that great pork-packing centre, Cincinnati, and upon inquiry I was told that the owners of the works had been paid to abandon them by the salt-producers of New York—a striking instance of the evils of the system of building up monopolies by law."

Those concluding words portray the gigantic evil of the present day in this country—the building up of mercenary monopolies by legal enactment.

It is an evil that cuts down the rights and interests of the many that the few may become heartless monopolizers.

Language cannot be too severe in condemnation of the nefarious system, nor can effort be too earnest for its overthrow.

Instead of being upheld, the power of law should be vigorously exerted for the sure demolition of every species of monopoly.

To call it protection for the laboring classes, is to insult common intelligence and honesty.

Its certain aim and effect is to make the rich richer and the poor poorer.

Two words represent its true character; they are—legalized robbery.

Down with monopoly!
Protect the rights of the people!
Make prosperity equal!

LABOR.

An investigation into the question of employment is going on before the Senate of the United States Committee on Education and Labor.

Officers of the Knights of Labor and other workingmen's organizations have appeared and given testimony from which we glean as follows:

"The coal-miners of Pennsylvania are compelled by the employer or operator, on penalty of discharge, to deal at the pluck-me stores owned by the employer and to pay from 10 to 25 per cent. more for everything than they would be obliged to elsewhere."

"Most of the tenement-houses in the manufacturing cities in Massachusetts are owned by the mill-owners. The houses are generally small, ill-ventilated and uncomfortable, and the operatives are compelled to live in them or be dismissed."

"The French-Canadians are to New England what Chinese are to California. They seldom accept the right of citizenship. In thirty-two manufacturing cities and villages in New England they number nearly 90,000."

"The hours of work in Massachusetts are 60 per week, while in the weaving districts of England they are but 56.

"The wages are about the same."

"Since 1878 the average wages have increased about 7 per cent. while the average cost of the necessities of life, including meats, breadstuffs, vegetables, dry goods, boots and board has increased about 22 per cent."

The Pennsylvania term "PLUCK ME" is applicable throughout the whole circle of Monopoly, so far as labor is concerned.

SALT.

Salt is emphatically a necessity of life.

It is an indispensable article for the good of all, and especially for the farmer and workingman.

If anything should be made cheaply attainable it is salt.

No, say a few monopolists.

We must be paid a large bounty?

Luxuries may come in free, but salt must be taxed?

There was truth as well as satire in the speech of Senator Vance when arguing for the freedom of salt—"This bill, said he, seems to be framed upon the theory of taxing all the necessaries of life and letting all the luxuries come in free, so that the poor man following the plough and reflecting on the heavy taxes he had to pay on his plough and his trace-chains and his hat and his shoes and his blankets, might console himself with the thought that Congress had not been quite inconsiderate, but to compensate him for these burdens had provided for free palm-leaf fans and fiddle-strings and sax womics and, best of all, free skeletons, so that hereafter every man might have a skeleton in his closet without paying duty."

Salt taxed.
Skeletons free.
Hail Columbia!

Next Fall eight State Senators are to be elected by the people. The terms of the following Senators expire this year: Gardner, of Atlantic; Wortendyke, of Bergen; Nichols, of Cumberland; Havens, of Ocean; Paxton, of Hudson; Youngblood, of Morris; Taylor, of Mercer. By Senator Ferrell's resignation, a vacancy will also occur in Gloucester county. The out-going Senators stand five Republicans and three Democrats. To secure a majority in the Senate of 1884, the Republicans must elect four out of the eight.

At Red Bank, N. J., there were five fires on Saturday night.

PLAINFIELD'S DILEMMA.

Prior to the late Charter election the Temperance organizations of this city were very active and publicly announced that the only candidates to be supported by them should be pronounced in favor of "no license." The nominees of the Republican party were satisfactory and endorsed by them. In opposition, a ticket was placed in the field called the "People's Union," and it was well and thoroughly understood by the nominees and their supporters, that licenses were to be granted under the ordinance as it existed before the last amendment made thereto by the outgoing Council. The issue was fairly and squarely made, and the result was left to the vote of the citizens. The election was held and it resulted in the choice of seven councilmen by the "People's Union" and four Republican non-license men. The question was supposed to have been decided and that licenses would be granted, as for a long time previous they had been. The Mayor, in his inaugural, saw fit to recommend that the license fees should be increased in the sum of $100 to hotels and $200 to saloons, thus making the fees $300 and $300. The same evening an amendment to the license ordinance was submitted to the Council to carry into effect this recommendation. It is needless to imagine by what influence this recommendation emanated from His Honor. The chief argument in its support was that it would prevent the licensing of a certain class of saloons, which would conduce to the public benefit, and that the increase in the fee would prevent a loss of revenue. The amendment to the ordinance was passed; applications for licenses received, and so far reported favorably. In two cases they have been submitted to a vote of the Council and licenses refused. The minutes of the Council will show that every person licensed in 1882 is an applicant in 1883, and the main argument that the number of saloons would be lessened has signally failed. Two persons elected by the "People's Union," voted for the increase in rate, and two on the same ticket, believing that the increase was unjust, oppressive, and adopted with the sole intent to drive from a lawful business persons of smaller means than others engaged in the same traffic, refused to grant licenses. The result is that bars are closed. The moneys so acceptable from this source, amounting to $3,604 in 1882, will not be forthcoming; and necessary expenditures diminished by this amount. The community will suffer in many ways, and we do not believe, from our past experience, that either the cause of temperance or public morality will be benefited. Who is rightly answerable? Had the Mayor been satisfied, with the legislation of the past, and had his two supporters from the "People's Union" ticket, been of like opinion, the increase in rate would not have been adopted, and licenses would have been granted as usual. Their action primarily "killed the goose that laid the golden egg," and the ratification of their acts must be left to those who so warmly supported them in December. Messrs. Gardner and Simpson are to-day the recipients of much blame from some and praise from others. One fact is certain—they have asserted that what is a lawful business per se for one, is lawful for another; that a monied discrimination shall not take privileges from one class and give them, with their emoluments, to another, merely because they are richer. They have offered all reasonable compromises, which have been rejected and they are satisfied in their action, by the approval of their own consciences.

LEHIGH VALLEY'S PROJECT.

A special despatch to the Philadelphia Press from Easton says:

"There is considerable interest manifested in this section in the proposed building of a new line of rail to connect the Lehigh Valley Railroad with New York city. The Lehigh Valley has its own line, the Easton and Amboy Road, through New Jersey to the seaboard. At Metuchen it connects with the Pennsylvania road, and runs its passenger trains over this line into New York, distant twenty-eight miles.

The Lehigh Valley Road has been negotiating with the New Jersey Central Road for the lease of its branch from Jersey City to Newark, and if successful the Valley will build its own connections. In conversation with a Lehigh Valley official, who is well informed, it was learned the project spoken of was this: To lease the Newark branch, and build a double track from New Market on the Easton and Amboy Road, to Newark, then to run over Newark branch into Jersey City, to the property the Lehigh Valley controls by virtue of its lease of the Morris Canal, which has 1,300 feet water front above the New Jersey Central property. The line to be built would be about twenty-five miles.

If the lease of the Newark branch is secured the project will be carried out, and there is every prospect that before long the Valley will have its own rails into Jersey City. This would enable the Valley road to run cars from New York to Buffalo over its own lines without change. By its system of steamers on the lakes it could carry freight to better advantage than at present between the Northwest and New York. The line will make the route into New York a few miles shorter than at present."

The Philadelphia Telegram says: "The Lehigh Valley Railroad officials deny that they have made any arrangements for extending their Lehigh and Amboy line to New York by a lease of the Newark branch of the New Jersey Central Railroad Company. They say that the Lehigh Valley has always had in contemplation a through line to New York, but that no definite plans have been agreed upon."

NEW RAILROAD FROM MORRISTOWN.

The Newark Daily Journal of Tuesday of last week says: "A company, of well-known capitalists is being formed at Morristown to build a new railroad to New York. The merchants and business men in New York and residing at Morristown, have for a long time been discontented with the time consumed going and returning from business. Hence their decision to have a more direct route. The Morris and Essex being a very crooked and winding road besides having many steep grades, which make it impossible to run trains to New York in less than two hours with safety. It is understood the new road will be in a straight line from Morristown to Milburn mountain and will be one hour shorter than by the Morris and Essex Railroad."

A seal measuring six feet was captured between Sandy Hook and the Highlands recently by some fishermen.

AN OFFICIAL'S ACCOUNT SHORT.

Thaddeus P. Butler, the chief clerk of the Water Department of Camden, N. J., has been missing since January 25, when he left for Trenton, N. J., to attend the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and since then has not been seen. The water committee recently called in the services of an expert accountant, when it was found that Butler had not entered several amounts of which receipts had been on the sworn books. Last week the expert was at work on the books and so far he has discovered a deficiency of $3,600. Butler's accounts had been audited up to January 1, and found correct. The amount of money missing is the collections from delinquents only. There was $250 in cash and $240 in checks found in the safe. At a special meeting of the Council to take action in reference to the absence of the clerk, the Chairman of the Water Committee reported that an examination of the books of the Water Department showed a deficiency of $404 and that Butler's bondsmen had made the amount good. The office was declared vacant and a new clerk was appointed.

THE BI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

The Committee on Bi-Centennial of the Legislature perfected arrangements Wednesday of last week for the celebration to be held on the 1st of March. Among the exercises to take place at the State House are addresses by Dr. Doshler, of Newark, and the Hon. Edwin Salter, ex-Speaker of the Assembly, of Ocean county; instrumental music by Winkler's Seventh Regiment Band; vocal music by the Arion Singing Society of Newark; reception by Governor Ludlow, from 6 to 11 p. m.; reading of biographical sketches of members of the Legislature of 1783, prepared by Gen. Stryker; firing of two hundred guns, and probably addresses by the presiding officers of the present Legislature.

A QUAIL EATER SUPPRESSED.

The new aspirant for the honor of being able to devour the greatest number of quail in a given time in Jersey City has been notified by the "New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society" that he cannot continue the feat in the State under the provisions of the game laws, which will not permit game birds to be had in any one's possession at this season. The proprietor of the eating house where the feat is undertaking has also been notified of this violation of the game laws.

Nearly one thousand fishermen of Monmouth and Middlesex counties have forwarded a petition to the Legislature asking the repeal of the law of March 17, 1882, regulating seine-hauling, as it is said the effect of the law has been to decrease the number of striped bass and increase the number of catfish and eels, which devour the spawn.

The Board of Freeholders of Long Branch, N. J., have been offered $100,000 for the poorhouse farm on Shark river by capitalists from New York who want to build handsome villas there. The authorities will probably sell the ground, as there are but few persons sent to this county institution.

A New License Law.

Mr. Parsons, of Essex, has introduced in the House of Assembly an important bill, which, no doubt will cause much discussion pro and con. It provides that no license to sell liquors shall hereinafter be granted or renewed until the applicant therefor shall present unto the authorities granting licenses a good and sufficient bond to the people of the State in the sum of two thousand dollars, with two good freeholding sureties of the county, who shall each justify on oath personally, stating at length in a written justification, to be attached to, and filed with said bond, the particulars of his estate and condition which qualifies him as such surety, showing what encumbrances or liens affect his property, and the condition of such bond shall be as now by law required, and no license shall be granted until such bond be given and approved in writing and endorsed thereon as to form and the sufficiency of the sureties by such authorities, and if any one shall be surety on more than one existing bond hereunder, he shall state the fact thereabout in such justification.

The second section provides that notice in writing of an intention to present an application for a license shall be given to the proper authorities, and such notice shall state the full names of the freeholders who have signed his recommendation or application, and of the sureties of his undertaking, giving the residence of each, and shall then pay to the said clerk a fee of fifty cents, and the said clerk shall thereupon register in a book to be kept for that purpose the full particulars of such application, including the names of the freeholders so signing and of the sureties so offered; and the said authorities shall not grant any license until due and verified proof shall be submitted to them that the requirements hereof have been in all things duly complied with.

The third section provides fees for a license to sell malt liquors, not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars; for a license to sell spirituous liquors, not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, due reference being had in fixing such assessments to the local and probable extent of the business to be carried on under such licenses.

The fourth section makes selling liquors in quantities less than a quart without license, except by druggists in good faith as medicines, a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not less than fifty nor more than three hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than three months, or both.

The fifth section prohibits the sale of liquors to minors (unless by druggists as medicines) or to any one visibly under the influence of liquor. A violation of this shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall work a revocation of license, if he has one, and he shall be further liable to pay a penalty of fifty dollars for each offense.

The sixth section provides that if any person shall sell or deliver liquors in a manner declared unlawful by this act he shall be liable for all damages which may by any person or corporation be sustained in person or property, or by any township, borough or other municipal corporation, by the acts of any person intoxicated in consequence of such sale or delivery, and as a result thereof the proper action may thereupon be brought.

United States Pensioners.

Dr. Terrill, United States Examining Surgeon, furnishes the Elizabeth Journal with the following information respecting pensions. At the close of the year 1882 there were upon the rolls in the pension office 285,697 of pensioners, classified as follows: 172,136 army invalids; 76,[illegible] army widows, minor children, and dependent relatives; 2,861 navy invalids; 1,885 navy widows, minor children, and dependent relatives; 7,134 survivors of the war of 1812, and 24,[illegible] widows of those who served in that war.

There were added to the roll during the year the names of 27,[illegible] new pensioners, and the names of 829, whose pensions had previously been dropped, were restored to the rolls, making an aggregate increase to the roll of 38,333. The names of 11,485 pensioners were dropped from the roll for various causes, leaving a net increase to the roll of 26,887 pensioners. At the close of the year the annual pension to each pensioner was $102.76, and the aggregate annual value of all pensions was $29,341,101.62.

The annual payments, however, exceed this sum by several millions of dollars; i. e., the total amount paid for pensions during the year, exclusive of the arrears due on pensions which were allowed prior to January 25, 1879, was $50,[illegible]—the difference being the arrears due to new pensions from the date of discharge, in the case of a soldier or sailor, and from death of the soldier, where pension was allowed to the widow or others.

The amount paid during the year upon first payment to new pensioners is $30,431,689.19; and this amount was paid to 27,786 pensioners, averaging to each case as follows: To army invalids, $964.05; to army widows, minor children, and dependent relatives, $1,086.44; to navy invalids, $540.99; to navy widows, minor children, and dependent relatives, $961.59; to the survivors of the war of 1812, $224.15, and to the widows of the deceased soldiers and sailors of that war, $208.34.

The number of United States pensioners in the state of New Jersey is 6,694. The annual value of pensions is $690,976. The annual payments in 1882, with arrears, were $1,771,026. The number of pensioners in this Congressional district is 915, with an annual value of $96,652, and annual payment, with arrears, of $239,294.

Union county has 278 pensioners who received in 1882 $29,418, together with $37,040 of arrears.

Essex county has the largest number of pensioners, viz: 1141, who received last year $120,786, and arrears, $134,869.

Camden and Burlington counties each have 524 pensioners. The annual value of pensions is $1,073 more in Camden than Burlington county.

Cape May county has only 65 pensioners who receive $7,050 and annual payment, with arrears, $16,514.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Joseph M. Crane, aged 67 years, died on Monday morning last after a short illness. The funeral services were held in the M. E. Church on Wednesday. Interment in Fairview cemetery.

In consequence of the failure of the mails to deliver the "Wisps" to us, after they had been started on their way on Thursday morning by our correspondent, we are compelled to insert only those items which we glean from him in person.

Sarah Lawrence, aged eighty-one years, mother of John T. Lawrence, died on Sunday evening last of old age. The funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday, 12 m. The Rev. N. W. Cadwell officiating. The body was taken to Greenwood for interment on 1.37 p. m. train.

A meeting of the representatives of the several fire companies was held in the H & L rooms on Friday evening last. They organized by the election of Jos. B. Harrison, Chairman, and John M. C. Marsh, Secretary. After considerable discussion as to the mode and manner how to legally organize a fire department for our town, it was resolved to adjourn, subject to the call of the Chairman.

The Town Committee met on Monday evening, and also on Wednesday afternoon last, and completed their examination of the collector's and treasurer's accounts of the Township for the past year and found them correct, after comparing them with the vouchers. The report is now in the hands of the printer and will be published in a few days. The reports will show all debts paid and a balance of $1,600 in collector's hands and a balance of over $400 in the treasurer's hands. The collector's report shows less unpaid taxes for the year than for many years past, which speaks well for our collector, W. W. Connoly.

George Brooks, formerly drug clerk for George A. Bayard, who about three months ago went on a sailing voyage to the West Indies, arrived back from his trip on Tuesday last. He looks very much improved in health, and started for his home at Claremont, New Hampshire, where he intends to engage in the practice of medicine.

The Chosen Freeholders, C. W. L. Martine, Rowland M. Stover, J. Frank Hubbard, George Doty, Thomas White and W. J. Husbands, lately appointed by the Court of Common Pleas of Union county to review and certify to the necessity of the laying of the roads known as the extension of Kimball avenue and Orchard street, met at the Town Rooms, according to the order of the court on Wednesday, Feb. 14th, at 2 p. m. They organized by the election of C. W. L. Martine as chairman, after which they took coaches to view the land taken by the proposed roads. Upon their return Jas. O. Clark, attorney for the Township, stated to the Board the objects for which they were called together and that the Township at large did not think the roads a public necessity. J. C. Bolton, attorney for the owners of lands taken for the roads, appeared before the Board and denied their legality to act in the matter as he thought their appointments were illegal. Frank Bergen, attorney for the applicants for the road, thought the appointments of the Board legal, and that his clients now desired the roads to be vacated or certified to be unnecessary. Mr. E. Embree thought the roads as much a public necessity now as ever, but when the freeholders assessed the township at large $2100, for them, then he thought we had better not have the roads as laid. Mr. J. L. Miller concurred in Mr. Embree's remarks and stated he thought all the applicants now were opposed to the roads.

Mr. R. R. Sinclair, chairman of the Town Committee, said that the Township did not become interested in the matter until at the meeting of the freeholders to review the assessments in laying the roads they saw fit in their judgment to assess the amount of about $2,100 on the Township at large; then he thought it was the duty of the Town Committee to act in protecting the interests of the Township. He thought that if the inhabitants were called upon to vote on the question there would be a unanimous vote in the negative. After a few remarks for and against the roads by the several attorneys present, the board retired for deliberation and in a few moments decided to report to the Court of Common Pleas that the roads were unnecessary and of no public benefit and signed their report accordingly and adjourned.

PLAINFIELD PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

ROLL OF HONOR FOR JANUARY.

HIGH SCHOOL.

[illegible]

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

[illegible]

Lela A. Cameron.

[illegible]

Carrie W. Wood.

[illegible]

John J. Curran.

[illegible]

MARRIAGES.

BABCOCK—CLARKE—In Brooklyn, N. Y., at the residence of J. T. Dunham, Feb. 14th, 1883, by Rev. J. B. Clarke, Mr. George B. Babcock and Miss E. Lou Clarke, both of Plainfield, N. J.

DEATHS.

KIRLY—In this city, Feb. 11, Annie, daughter of John and Mary Kirly.

MESHER—Near New Brooklyn, Feb. 14, of diabetes, John Mesher, in his 61st year.

VAN BLARCOM—In this city, Feb. 9, Nellie L., wife of A. J. Van Blarcom, aged 25 years.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.
A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c. constantly in stock at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.
Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.
Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
GEO. C. FORD. GEO. M. STILES.

P. CASEY & SON.
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 16 Park avenue (Jules Bontes' Hair Store). Residence, No. 11 Third st., cor. New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
40½ West Front St.
Residence—Front St., opp. Washington Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield,
Keep a
"General Line of Groceries,"
Equal to any in the Market. Also, have other grades at lower prices
And are Agents for the
"Gem" a New Process Flour,
Please call and examine our COFFEES & TEAS.
Goods Delivered to any part of the city.

HENRY HAURAND,
(Successor to Fred. Casper).
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Somerset street, North Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box 1331.
Fine Lager Beer Bottled
Expressly for Family use.
All orders delivered in any part of the city free of charge.

East Front street Property To Let.
House and barn just finished; with all modern improvements, and plenty of large shade trees, in a desirable location. About 7 minutes walk from Depot. Inquire of R. MacDonald, at East Front street, corner Peace.

AUCTION!
Sale of Real Estate!
T. J. Gillies, Auctioneer, will sell on Tuesday, February 20th, at 4 o'clock, p. m., the House and Lot No. 48 Somerset street, the late residence of David French, deceased. The house is two story and attic, with cellar under the whole, contains 8 well arranged rooms, is desirably located, and only 5 minutes from depot.
The lot is 50 feet front and rear by 190 feet deep, with a barn and wagon house on the rear.
An opportunity presents itself for the securing of a pleasant home, or an investment. Who will embrace it?
F. B. FRENCH, } Executors.
E. W. RUNYON, }

FOR FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS,
WORSTEDS,
HAND PLAITING, &c.,
GO TO No. 6 PARK AVE.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

AUCTION!
The Real Estate Committee of the Citizens' Building and Loan Association of Plainfield, New Jersey, will offer at public auction on Monday, February 19th, 1883,
at two o'clock, p. m., a House and Lot on [illegible] avenue, North Plainfield. The lot is [illegible] feet. The house is [illegible] feet. French roof. [illegible] Contains 11 finished rooms, [illegible] A good chance to procure a home.
Also, on the same date, (Monday, Feb. 19th, 1883,) at 3 o'clock, p. m., a corner lot lying on Randolph and Westervelt avenues, North Plainfield. The lot is [illegible] feet. [illegible] Would be a good investment.
The above properties must be sold in order to settle up the affairs of the Association.
Terms on day of sale.
Any information may be obtained of the Real Estate Committee.
G. BACHMAN,
JOHN HARRIS,
L. E. BARKALEW.
Remember the sale is on Monday, Feb. 19th at 2 and 3 o'clock.

VAN DEVENTER HALL!
THREE NIGHTS!
COMMENCING
Thursday, February 22, '83.
THE EMINENT PRESTIDIGITATEUR

PROF. E. C. TAYLOR,
In his new and original entertainment
The World of Wonders!
Assisted by the accomplished artist
M'LLE IRENA,
Who will appear in her celebrated champion
"EGG DANCE"
and the wonderful and beautiful aerial suspension and second sight.
Taylor's Royal Italian Marionettes.
The finest worked Marionettes in the World, will be introduced nightly.
100 BEAUTIFUL & USEFUL PRESENTS 100
To be distributed to the audience nightly, all of which are purchased from the merchants of this city.
Admission, - - - - 25 Cents.
Reserved seats, - - - - 35 "
Doors open at 7 o'clock, performance at 8.
Reserved Seat Tickets for sale at Miller's Drug store without extra charge.
FRANK PATTERSON, Manager.

For Sale or Exchange!
For property in Plainfield, N. J., New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia or Camden, New Jersey. Five acres of land with neat cottage and outbuildings; great variety of choice fruits, unfailing spring and stream of water. One acre in timber, [illegible] Chestnut. The soil is rich and well adapted to grain, grass or truck growing. Situate one mile from Westfield, N. J., on the Springfield road. Price, $3,000. If sold for cash, something less. Very healthful location. Address M., 327 Stevens street, Camden, New Jersey.

Mrs. John Burke
Has appointed Thomas Burke and Thomas McGee Managers of the business of the late Jno. Burke, who purchased the right to use Harris' Patent Apparatus, for Ammoniac Night Soil and Cleaning Cesspools in this city. We respectfully solicit a trial of the machine, guaranteeing entire satisfaction in all cases. Charges reasonable. The apparatus is so constructed that it is used in the day time and no smell is perceptible during the operation. All orders addressed to Mrs. JNO. BURKE will receive prompt attention. Telephone Call 58. P. O. Box 175, Plainfield, New Jersey.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY
TO GET A
Life Size Crayon Portrait
In free hand for the unprecedented small sum of Twelve Dollars!
By the well-known artist,
SIDNEY E. FLOWER,
Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 20 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo. or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Hand in orders early at Studio or Estil's bookstore, for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

WANTS and INFORMATION
25 Cents for one insertion of 3 Lines. Each additional line, 5 cents extra. Fifteen cents for each subsequent insertion of ads.

PART of a house to let very cheap to a small respectable family. Short distance out of town. Enquire at this office.

LOOK HERE!—Parties having land in Piedmont Valley, Va., and wishing to exchange for Jersey property, can find a customer by addressing A. B. C., this office.

TO LET—A house and lot at No. 10 East Seventh street, containing fourteen rooms. A double house—tenant can rent one-half or both. Apply on the premises or to real estate agents of this city.

TO LET—A first-class barn and stable in central location. Five stalls and good carriage accommodations. Terms reasonable. Inquire of C. TRUBY, corner Front and New streets.

WANTED FOR MONEY RENT—A farm of about 50 acres. Address, giving terms and full description, R. V. LAMBERT, Elizabeth.

TO RENT—Completely furnished, or for sale, the elegant residence and large grounds of the late James H. Taylor, corner Central avenue and Ninth street, Plainfield, New Jersey. House has eleven rooms, two bath-rooms, etc., steam pump, burglar alarm and every convenience, large stable, fine garden, abundance fruit; everything in perfect order; possession any time. Inquire on premises or of FRANKLAND Firm, 140 Broadway, New York.

HOUSE WANTED—April first, in Plainfield. North Plainfield preferred. Small family, rent moderate. Address with full particulars, box 2182, New York P. O.

FOR RENT—Furnished house, 11 rooms, all improvements. Immediate possession, if desired; also 12 room house with all improvements, furnished or unfurnished. Inquire J. A. Hubbard, Fifth street, near Park avenue, or at Room 316, Madison avenue.

FOR SALE—A complete house, newly fitted up, furnished or unfurnished, containing large open garret, five sleeping rooms, parlor, dining room, kitchen, [illegible] large dry cellar, every improvement in the house that is necessary for comfort. Two acres of land with choice fruit; outbuildings complete; situated corner Seventh street and Grant avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Apply to Samuel G. Lawton, 76, Clinton Market, New York.

AN OLD ESTABLISHED PHOTOGRAPHIC Gallery for rent in Stillman's block. Also, offices and cottage in same building. Also, the [illegible] house and stable corner Grant and Sherman Avenue with modern improvements at a low rental. Apply to William M. Stillman, No. 30 West Front street.

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Plainfield, N. J. Grocery, Bakery and Dwelling, combined with Stable; centrally located. A good chance for a live man. Apply to E. C. Mulford, Real Estate Broker, Office, Depot building, Plainfield, N. J.

WANTED TO RENT—By first of May a house of ten to twelve rooms with modern improvements in good neighborhood. Rent about four hundred dollars. No notice taken unless location and particulars are given to Post-office Box 1148.

BOARD AT 67 EAST FRONT STREET—Table board for gentlemen at moderate terms. Also two pleasant front rooms to let with board.

GRANDFATHER CLOCKS—Three of them, in first-class running order, each over 100 years old, for sale cheap. Can be seen at Moore's Jewelry Store, North ave., near depot.

PIANOS FOR SALE—Enquire at 167 Central Avenue, this city.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET to Gentlemen, without Board, at 10 W. Front Street. MRS. F. DUNN.

BOARD can be had in a private family, large airy rooms; shaded lawn, on Front street. References given and required. Address, [illegible] P. O. Box 49, Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN E. CLARK, [illegible] Plainfield, N. J.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S
BARGAINS!
February Fourteenth!
BARGAINS
IN COLORED
SATINS!
ONLY
Fifty-Seven Cents
PER YARD.
Former Price, 87 Cents.

G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

HORSES & MULES!
Fresh Arrivals Every Week!
CONSISTING OF Phaeton Ponies,
Coachers,
Trotters,
Drivers,
Saddlers,
Workers—Large and Small.
MULES OF ALL KINDS!
Low priced Horses not suitable for pavements, from $75 to $150,
To select from all the Time!
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED!
Horses delivered to any part of the State.
PRICES REASONABLE!
John W. Morris,
Rector st., Newark, New Jersey.

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.
All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing
Made to Order and Ready Made,
From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boy's. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing
Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Y. M. C. A. COURSE!
WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.
READINGS AND MUSIC!
By Charles Roberts, Jr.,
The Well-Known Elocutionist,
AND DILLER'S CLASSICAL CORNET QUARTETTE,
Of Craffulla's Seventh Regiment Band.
IN THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH,
Thursday, Feb. 22, 1883.
PROGRAMME.
GRAND QUATUOR, - Henselt.
Recitative—Moderato, Scherzo, Adagio and Finale.
Diller's Classical Cornet Quartette.
Messrs. Hammond, Schlig, Breitenbach and Diller.
READINGS, By Mr. Charles Roberts, Jr.
"The Hat," a monologue,
"The Hostage." - SCHILLER.
"An Autumnal Reverie,"
"Como." - JOAQUIN MILLER.
MUSIC. a) "Farewell to the Forest," - MENDELSSOHN.
b) "Romanza," "Tannhauser." - WAGNER.
c) "The Wanderer," - FESCA.
Diller's Cornet Quartette.
READINGS, By Mr. Roberts.
"The Irish Philosopher." - MACCABE.
"Shipwrecked." - COPPEE.
"A cure for Rheumatism." - BURDETTE.
MUSIC. a) "Within a mile of Edinboro." - SCOTCH.
b) "Wait till the Clouds Roll By." - FULMER.
"Hail Columbia."—Diller's Cornet Quartette.
Admission, - - - - - - 50 Cents.
Reserved Seats, - - - - - 75 "
Seats may be secured at Reynolds' Pharmacy.

Last Chance to buy a Bed-room Suit Cheap!
DON'T FORGET THE AUCTION
Sale of Carpets, Beds, Bedding, etc.,
at the Mansion House, on
Monday Evening next,
The Nineteenth instant, at 7 p. m.
Sales will be held every Monday,
same hour and place until all is sold.

A. VANDERBEEK,
(Chautauqua Building.)
No. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DEALER IN
Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments,
Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

JUST IN STOCK!
FALL FALL
Hats Hats

LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S,
Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.
Horse Sheets and Lap Robes.
Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices.

Taylor's Market!
NO. 34 PARK AVENUE.
Fresh Fish of All Kinds.
Now is the time to lay in your
SUMMER LARD,
At Thirteen Cents per pound by the Tub.
FINE BUTTER—LOW PRICES.
Try Taylor's Celebrated Trenton Hams! Medium size, 14 cts. per pound. Small Pig Hams, 15 cts. per pound.
N. J. RANDOLPH, Manager.
No. 34 Park ave.

Take Notice!
I will be at my New Brunswick Stables from Monday morning, February 19th, until Saturday night, February 24th, with 75 Horses and Mules of all kinds, for sale or exchange. Persons wanting either of any kind can get suited at reasonable prices.
By JOHN W. MORRIS.

$5 Reward!
Lost in this city within two months, a BANGLE PIN, brass-sized [illegible] Gold and Green Enamel, Horse of [illegible] Name on back—"[illegible] C. Webb." The finder will receive the above reward by leaving the article with F. T. CORTES, 16 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

To Our Advertisers.

Regular advertisers entitled to a "change of advertisement," must hand in the same not later than Wednesday noon of each week, to insure insertion in the coming issue.

The above regulation is peremptory, and if so understood will be fully as convenient to advertisers, and immeasurably more so to

Their Obedient Servants,
THE PUBLISHERS.

OH for an Opera House!

FULL Moon next Wednesday night.

COUNCIL meeting Monday evening.

THE new five-cent pieces are called in.

WASHINGTON'S birthday will occur next Thursday.

UNION county has 278 pensioners who received in 1882 $20,418, together with $37,040 of arrears.

THERE were twenty-four stormy Sundays in 1882. Will '83 take the starch out of its predecessor?

THE Rev. W. G. Warner will occupy the pulpit of the Scotch Plains M. E. church, on Sunday next.

WALLACE VAIL has opened a real estate office in New York city, corner of Liberty street and Broadway.

THE contract for filling in along the side walls of the new Grove street bridge, was last Monday awarded to Wallace Vail.

THE regular monthly meetings of the Board of Managers of the Plainfield Fire Department, will in future be held on the evening of the second Tuesday.

SNOW to the depth of about four inches fell in this vicinity last Saturday night. It was followed by a right smart rain on Sunday. No sleigh-rides in it, girls.

IF you have not had a cold hanging about you or some member of your family for the last few weeks, you are not fashionable. Delay not, but catch on at once.

THE Alert reunion of Thursday evening next is to surpass all previous affairs of the kind given by these generous-hearted, whole-souled and courteous fellows.

GOOD, if true. Chlorate of potash is the "open sesame" to sick rooms in which are diphtheria patients. A good sized pinch on the tongue is a preventive of contagion.

PAPER rails are the latest invention in railway construction. They are said to be cheaper, lighter, more durable, not liable to expand and contract or to break from frost.

MR. Henry Haurand, has opened a beer bottling establishment on Somerset street, North Plainfield, where he is bottling superior beer at popular prices. Dealers should make a note of this.

THE trio of lodgers which robbed its host, Frederick Bohlel, the Liberty street baker, during Sunday of last week, was sentenced at Elizabeth, Saturday, to 15 days apiece for two and 30 for the other.

WHEN you buy a lamp chimney, says an exchange, put it in a vessel of cold water, set it on a stove and let it boil. You can never break that chimney unless you throw a flat iron at it. [This lie still lives.]

MR. Wm. VanWinkle has recently purchased of Messrs Cook & Manning the Huffman property on Park place, North Plainfield. The price paid was $4,700. Mr. VanWinkle will occupy the same as a residence.

"DUCK" WILSON and "Charley" Perrine whose recent exploits and whose capture by ex-Chief Dodd were given in our issue of Jan., 12th, were sentenced at Elizabeth on Saturday to ten years each in State Prison and costs.

MESSRS. Weaver Bros. have recently repainted in their well-known artistic manner, the store fronts of Messrs. Green, Lillicosters, Edsall, Staats and Sherwin. The coloring is a rich black, inducing a very tasteful effect.

THE Young People's Association of the *Crescent avenue church, will have a spell*ing-match in the church parlors this evening. Quite an exciting spell seems assured—the intellectual capabilities of the young people of the society, being so generally acknowledged.

IN our reference to the vindication of Mrs. Cottrell, last week, no one of our readers should imagine any reproach was intended to the firm making the charge. None are more ready to correct any mistake than D. Boehm & Bro., and at no other store in the city is more courtesy shown and fair dealing received.

WHEN the Council finally settles the liquor license question, and has arranged to suit itself the business affairs of the printers and whoever else it may take upon itself to regulate, the community may hope that such public conveniences as the placing of the street names on the corners, will be "talked of."

A BILL has been introduced into the Legislature to prohibit coasting on any of the highways of any township or borough of this state. In view of the many fatalities that occur every winter from coasting on the public highways, it would seem that such a law is absolutely necessary for the protection of life and limb.

HERE is a substitute for cream, to be used in coffee: To a pint of milk allow the yolk of one egg; beat the egg till very light, then strain it and stir it in the milk; set this on the stove and let it scald, that is, become thoroughly heated, but not boiling. This, although lacking much that is desirable, is better than a little cold milk in the coffee.

ON our second page to-day appears in *full the programme of the fifth entertain*ment of the Y. M. C. A. Course, which, it will be seen, presents many features particularly attractive. For the few seats remaining the demand will be greater than the supply, and wise ones will secure such at Reynold's pharmacy before exhausted.

"Is that man next door to you a Methodist?" asked one man of another. "Don't know what church he belongs to," was the rejoinder, "but he is a christian." "Why?" "Because I saw him strewing ashes on the sidewalk." It is useless for us to remark that the above conversation took place in Flemington, and Runkle was the man that "strewed" the ashes.

CAPTAIN CHASE's force arrested three disorderly characters last Saturday evening, which were arraigned before His Honor, the Mayor, Monday. Sentence was pronounced as follows: "It being your first offence, John Taylor, and you being only nine parts of a man, you may slide. You, F. McFarlan, will fold your kit of tools and silently steal away. While Thomas Price must pay $2 as the price of his lodging."

THE Saengerbund Masquerade of Wednesday evening next is to be the grand affair of the season. A large number of invitations to the friends of the members has been issued, and rumors of the combining of mystical costumes and other secret arrangements fill the air. Many unusually brilliant dresses will be displayed from the establishment of John Benton, at No. 10 Park avenue, where costumes of all kinds for both ladies and gentlemen, may be selected.

HIS HONOR, the Mayor, having designated officer Winfield S. Chase, as Captain of Police, that official has been put in possession of all the property belonging to such office by his predecessor, Capt. Dodd, who has made a faithful officer during his term of office. Capt. Chase enters upon the discharge of his duties with the confidence of those who know best that he will make a capable and efficient officer.

Minstrels.

During Friday evening of next week, at Academy Hall, Scotch Plains, the "Amateur Minstrel Co. (limited)" will give an Ethiopean Soiree Musicale and Dramatique for its own benefit and the entertainment of its many friends. The company is one combining the entire home talent of the surrounding locality, and includes, besides the artists whose ability in minstrelsy we have before enjoyed, other stars engaged for this special occasion. The programme is a most attractive one that will undoubtedly fill the house with satisfied patrons; "De Orchestra sounds at 8 o'clock. Carriages may be ordered when day get froze." Wiggins tries to Explain.

Our readers are all aware that Wiggins' promised storm for last Friday failed to connect. He thus explains:

The astronomical day begins at noon on the meridian of London, and our day begins at twelve at night. I overlooked this fact, so that this side of the earth presented to the planetary force was the opposite to that to which I gave. I did not notice my mistake until this evening, so the storm fell on the Pacific instead of the Atlantic. I made a similar mistake before with the storm of last October which was so heavy on the Philippine Islands, but corrected it, having discovered my mistake in time. This is the first storm prediction I ever made that did not take place. We will get the tail end of the storm yet. It will strike heavily on the east coast of Africa, but will be pretty well expended by the time it crosses the Atlantic.

To Some of Our Subscribers.

During the past week we have mailed gentle reminders to delinquent subscribers of their indebtedness to the publishers of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST; and while thanking those who have responded in the only way that can be satisfactory, continue to hope that all others will shortly find it convenient to do likewise. Many on our subscription books owe for *three years and over, and although feel*ing sorry that they should be compelled to remain in ignorance of the news, yet, in justice to ourselves, it will become necessary for us to "stop their paper" and employ the best means to collect the *amount already past due, before it in*creases. Such action, however, we desire should be understood as an explanation of the stand we feel called upon to take—as a warning, possibly, but not a threat.

Oh, for an Opera House.

The opera house movement is still advancing, and slowly and surely, we hope, the passing weeks being nearer the ultimate consummation of the desired scheme. At the regular meeting of the Union Club, held Monday evening the 5th inst, the Secretary was requested, by resolution, to call together the committee appointed by Mayor Randolph, to act in connection with a committee appointed by the Club, to devise means looking towards the erection of an opera house in Plainfield. The meeting of the two committees was held at the Club House, corner of Broadway and Ninth street, last Monday evening, *and a gratifying interest in the pro*ject was shown by those who attended. All expressed themselves individually satisfied that such a building was needed, and that its purposes would assure its success as an investment. Opinion as to the best location was not so unanimous, but future meetings and a thorough comparison of the advantages in favor of various sites, will remove such contending views. The meeting adjourned until next Monday evening, at the same place.

Drowned.

Charles B. Allen, an employee of Mr. Charles Sandford, who resides on the Greenbrook road, back of Dunellen, was drowned on Thursday evening of last week, under the following circumstances. Mr. Sandford and Clark attempted to cross a bridge over Greenbrook, at Sebring's Mills, in a buggy, the latter driving. The stream was high, and Mr. Sandford fearing they could not ford it, ordered the coachman to turn around and go back. In attempting to turn the horse around the animal backed the buggy off the side of the bridge into about ten feet of water. Mr. Allen became entangled in the harness, and was also kicked by the horse. His body was not recovered until Friday morning. The injuries inflicted by the horse were extensive and might have resulted in Mr. Allen's death had he escaped from the water. Mr. S. succeeded in disentangling himself from the buggy but was carried under the arch of the bridge and some distance down stream when he succeeded in catching hold of a tree and supporting himself until help arrived. He had a narrow es*cape from drowning. Deceased formerly* resided in Clark township.

The Council and The Constitutionalist.

When first elected to any legislative body, the desire springs infernal in the new-fledged member's breast, to pose before his "admiring constituency" as a reformer. Such desire asserting itself, some "abuse" must be found to correct, and in searching for an existing custom to amend, *the already frequently re*duced rates of public advertising are sought to be cut again.

The present Un-Common Council of the city of Plainfield at its last meeting, unanimously adopted a resolution dictating what rates the publishers of the official papers of this city should charge for official advertising—such rates being below those allowed by the state for similar service.

The present body is said to have been elected to do various things it has left undone—it apparently thinks it devolves upon it as a "duty" to regulate other things than what in justice and, for the public benefit, should be carried out. It is true the law gives to the authorities appointing the official papers, power to fix the compensation to be paid for the publication of official notices, ordinances etc., but can the Plainfield Common Council consistently expect us to surrender the right every man has to conduct his particular business according to his judgment of what is fair dealing? Can the Plainfield Common Council expect THE CONSTITUTIONALIST to yield to the outcome of a little power obtained by the Council in a few lines at the tail end of a law that the Council violates and continues to violate in every other particular and in the only provisions of importance?

This law says the financial statements and all other public notices shall be published at least two insertions. In these particulars the Council partly conforms to the requirements; but the provision stating that "the official minutes shall be published in said official papers," and paid for, is entirely ignored—ignored because such proceedings are published unofficially for nothing. Is it fair then that this paper, which yearly prints over a hundred columns of proceedings without compensation—despite the fact that the law needs the same shall be paid for—should be forced to cut down its just rates for the publication of the meagre amount of advertising the Council chooses to order?

Expressed Thanks.

Warren Engine Co. No. 1, through its committee appointed and the press of the city, desires publicly to express its sincere appreciation of the efforts exerted by the Home Dramatic Club to the benefit, that resulted so successfully in the favor of the Engine Co. The latter, at the same time, are assured that mere words fail to declare the feelings of esteem it will always retain towards the individual members of the club who so kindly and willingly employed their talent in so satisfactory a manner.

HUGO WEDEMANN,
S. C. [illegible],
Committee.

To Some of Our Advertisers.

To a certain extent, probably, we are under obligations to our advertisers for their patronage. To a much greater extent are they under obligations to their customers for the same reason. The Plainfield merchants would not consider it their duty to keep open for the accommodation of any one patron, long after the regular and thoroughly understood hours of closing. Ought they, then, consistently expect that this paper should be delayed by reason of the arrival of their "changes of advertisements" on Wednesday evening or Thursday morning, when such might just as well have been handed in during Monday or Tuesday? From all of which may be deduced the cause of the notice at the head of our third page.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Young Man's meeting was very largely attended on Monday evening.—This meeting is of great interest to all young men. The topic for next Monday night will be, "Personal Testimony and its Results," Jno. 1. 35–46. Every young man may feel welcome at this meeting.

The next entertainment of the course will consist of readings by Mr. Charles Roberts, Jr., the elocutionist, and music by Diller's Quartette. Tickets for sale at Reynold's Pharmacy. The entertainment will take place on next Thursday evening.

The meeting of the Boy's branch will be held on Friday afternoon of this week. The boys are taking hold of this work with great zeal and it is hoped to make the branch a permanent organization. On Saturday evening of this week the teachers of the several Sabbath schools of this city, will meet in the rooms to talk over the advisability of forming a class to be taught weekly in the rooms.

The Bible study will be held as usual on Saturday evening. This class is rapidly increasing in numbers as well as in interest. To all young men an invitation to attend is given.

The rooms are open to all young men and they are free to use them as a home. The parlor is very inviting and young men are requested to visit it.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on Thursday evening, March 1st.

The next social reception for young men will be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 27th. An interesting programme is being prepared. All young men are invited to attend.

Important to Justices of the Peace.

A law of 1879 enacts that it shall not be lawful for any Justice of the Peace to issue any summons, writ of attachment or other process for or on behalf of any person for whom he is agent or attorney in fact, and any justice violating the *section is liable to a penalty of twenty-*five dollars. Under this law Justice Luckey of Dunellen was sued by Jacob Shepherd, his attorney being M. L. Trimmer, Esq., and at the trial which took place before L. Coles, Esq., and a jury on Tuesday, the grounds of the suit seemed to be these: John Schorb gave a bill to Justice Luckey and told him to sue upon it. Instead of bringing suit at once, the Justice called on the debtor and told him that he had been ordered to sue, but he wanted to give him (the debtor) a chance to pay without suit and so save costs if the debtor felt so disposed. The bill was contested, and consequently the justice issued his summons. Mr. Trimmer insisted that by calling on the debtor and presenting the bill, the Justice became the agent of Schorb, and when he subsequently issued the summons, he incurred the penalty above mentioned. Corporation Counsel Marsh was retained by Justice Luckey, and obtained for the Justice a complete vindication, the jury in less than ten minutes returning a verdict in favor of the defendant. The gist of the argument was that this act of the Justice in offering to receive the money without first bringing suit was an act of courtesy and did not constitute the Justice an agent within the meaning of the statute. The same act allowed the Justice to draw states of demand and affidavits, which act were as much acts of agency as the act of defendant in the present case. In order then to sustain the whole statute, the meaning of the word agent must be circumscribed. The kind of agency prohibited was such as would incapacitate or *tend to incapacitate a Justice from pro*nouncing an unbiased, unprejudiced judgment when the case came to be tried. The law was passed to remedy a mischief. The context, the spirit and intent show clearly that the case in hand is not with*in the purview of the act.*

Personals.

Miss Amelia Ross, daughter of Hon. Miles Ross, was married last week at New Brunswick, at five o'clock, to Mr. B. M. Price, by Rev. Mr. Applegarth. The young couple left for New York, from whence they intend to go to Washington and Richmond, Va. None but the immediate relative of the two families were present at the ceremony.

Mr. A. Kershaw has leased the United States Hotel of Easton, (Pa) for five years from March 1st. Mr. Kershaw is an experienced hotel keeper and a popular landlord and is well-known to many of Plainfield citizens.

Mr. Frank Du Bois has resigned the foremanship of Resolute Truck Company of Morristown. His many friends in this section will be sorry to learn of the fact. He well knows how to entertain his firemen guests when they visit Morristown.

Mr. Albert L. Bloss, Local Editor of the New Brunswick Times, died suddenly of rheumatism of the heart, in that city on Thursday last. Mr. Bloss was well-known in Plainfield, where he once worked at the case in the Plainfield Gazette office, with the writer. The New Brunswick press speak in high terms of the excellent character of deceased.

Flower, the crayon artist, has just finished a life-like and handsome full size portrait of County Clerk Vosseller's deceased youngest son, Victor.

FIRE MATTERS.

At the last meeting of the Board of Managers of the Plainfield Fire Department, Mr. Morris called up his resolution to amend the By-laws of the Board, to change the time of the meetings of the Board from the first Wednesday of each month, to the second Tuesday of each month. The resolution was adopted and will go into effect next month. The object of the change was to have the meetings of the Board the week following the monthly meetings of each company, so that they can bring before the Board any matters acted upon by them that they desire prompt action upon by the Board. The change gives general satisfaction to the "boys."

Mr. Frederick Cooper has disposed of his building business and intends to manufacture his patent spring guns, which we are told will undoubtedly meet with great success.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

All present—Four bids for lighting streets—Another protest against liquor licenses—Two more special policemen—Bonds of retiring officers to be retained—[illegible] license denied by a vote of 6 to 5—Saloon license by a vote of 7 to 4—The salary list again reported and tabled—The compensation of the City Collector fixed—The Council go into the printing business—A movement towards a money election, sat upon—The public requested to watch the lamps—Looking forward to the sale of real estate for taxes—Unlicensed liquor sellers to be prosecuted. The Salary of the Chief of Police cut off.

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 12TH, 1883.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment.

Present—President Livingston and Messrs Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Rose, Serrell, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—11.

Minutes of the regular meeting of the 5th inst. approved as read.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

The Clerk, in accordance with the official notice, opened and read propositions for lighting the streets of the city for the present year, from The Automatic Globe Gas Light Co. of Elizabeth, The New York Street Lighting Co. (limited), The Plainfield Gas Light Co. and The N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co.

On motion laid on the table.

Also a communication as requested from J. B. Coward, late Collector of the Township of Plainfield, setting forth the Receipts and Disbursements made by him on account of Kerr property, during his term of office.

On motion laid on the table.

Mr. Serrell presented a communication signed by the Executive Committee of the Plainfield Temperance Union, protesting against the granting of saloon licenses to Charles Zimmer and Jacob Bilman, for certain illegalities occurring in their respective applications and other reasons. Also calling the attention of the Council to the fact that proprietors of hotels and saloons whose licenses had expired, were selling without.

On motion of Mr. J. Simpson, the communication was tabled.

PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS.

By Mr. Gardner—C. W. Dodd, $12 60.

By Mr. Jones—J. C. Meeker, $50; same, for work on streets, $14 63.

All Ref'd to proper Com's.

By Mr. Polak—N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., $132 50.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. J. Simpson, ordered returned for the necessary affidavit.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Mayor, nominating William Callaghan and William Sutton as special policemen.

The President stated that through an oversight of his, the nomination of P. Lynch as a special policeman sent in by the Mayor at the last meeting, was not acted upon.

On motion the nominations were laid on the table.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By Mr. Beguelin, from Alms Com., as correct the following—Mrs. Gamberton, $8; K. Petersen, 12; Mrs. Wilkins, 5; Plainfield Relief Association, 53; Mrs. Flynn, 9.

Ref'd to Auditing Com.

By Mr. Serrell, from Finance Com., its written report to the same effect as the verbal report presented at the previous meeting, stating that its examination of the books of Geo. W. Moore, late collector of Delinquent Taxes, had found the accounts to be correct in every particular.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, received and placed on file.

The Finance Com. also recommended that all bonds given the city be retained, and not cancelled or returned upon the retirement of the officer executing the the same. They should be held as security in case of possible oversight that might occur in auditing the accounts and examining the books of the city officers whose terms had expired.

Moved by Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. J. Simpson, that the report be received and the recommendation adopted.

Carried—all aye.

Mr. Gardner, from the License Com., reported as correct the application of J. B. Miller for a license to keep an inn and tavern, and to sell spirituous and fermented liquor.

The same not being signed by the Com. as correct, was ordered returned for such endorsement.

Upon being presented again, a motion for a recess of ten minutes was carried.

When the Council reassembled, the application of Miller was taken up for action.

Moved by Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak, that the report be received and the application granted.

Moved by Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Jones that the same be laid on the table.

Motion to table, lost.

Mr. Serrell asked if there had been received any objections to the granting of the application before them.

Mr. Polak remarked that the same was endorsed by the License Com. as correct, and its report, he considered, was sufficient proof that the application met all requirements.

Mr. Coriell also recognized the fact that the Com. to whom the application was referred for examination, would know if any legal objection existed and would report in accordance with such.

A vote being taken, the application was denied.

Affirmative—President Livingston and Messrs Beguelin, Coriell, Polak and R. Simpson—5.

Negative—Messrs Gardner, Jones, Marsh, Rose, Serrell and J. Simpson—6.

The application of E. P. Thorn for a saloon license was also reported by the License Com. as correct.

Moved by Mr. Coriell, seconded by Polak, that the report be received and the application granted.

Lost by the following vote:

Affirmative—President Livingston and Messrs Beguelin, Coriell and Polak.—4.

Negative—Messrs Gardner, Jones, Marsh, Rose, Serrell, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—7.

The application of John Rafferty for a saloon license was then taken up.

Mr. Serrell stated that it had only been reported to him that evening that one of the 1000 feet signers of the application in question—namely, James McGinley—resided 1500 feet from the premises to be licensed. He moved that the application be referred back to enable the Com. on licenses to ascertain if such was the fact of the matter.

Motion lost by the following vote:

Affirmative—Messrs Jones, Marsh and Serrell—3.

Negative—Messrs Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Polak, Rose, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—7.

Mr. Serrell further stated that he had understood that John H. Stevens, one of the signers, was not a property owner.

Mr. Coriell asked to hear from the License Com. in relation to the question.

The Chairman of that Com., Mr. Gardner, replied that there had been no objections presented to the application while in the Com's hands. Even the Plainfield Temperance Union, that had been so industrious in discovering faults in the cases of others, had made no protest against Mr. Rafferty. So far as the reason just presented against granting the application on account of Mr. Stevens not being a property owner, was concerned, he had only state that the applicant had [illegible] who sign license[illegible], while the [illegible] only required ten.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Serrell, the vote on refusing both the application of John Rafferty was reconsidered and subsequently carried in the affirmative.

Mr. Serrell, seconded by Mr. Polak, moved to reconsider the vote denying the application of E. P. Thorn for a saloon license.

Mr. Coriell asked why.

Mr. Serrell replied that it seemed to be the desire of those refusing the application that it should be reconsidered and any objections to it again investigated.

Mr. Polak said that the only thing he objected to was that the license was not granted.

Mr. Coriell stated his willingness to favor such a motion if there was any chance for the application, but he failed to see what was to be gained.

The motion to reconsider was lost.

Mr. Jones, from the Police Com., reported as correct the claim of C. W. Dodd $12.60.

Also, by Mr. Marsh, from the Sals. Com., the following: G. W. Grant, $46.39; Robert Randolph, $43.99; C. W. Dodd, $[illegible]; G. M. Smith, $3; H. H. Lowrie, $62.50.

All ref'd to Aud. Com.

The Com. on Salaries offered the following for adoption, fixing the compensation of the various city officers for the present year.

Counsel to the Corporation—$450 with such additional fees as might be allowed him by law for tax sales.

City Treasurer—$350 in full for all services.

City Clerk—$350.

Overseer of the Poor—$200.

City Physician—$200.

Street Commissioner—$200.

Janitor—$60, and $2 additional for each special and adjourned meeting.

Regular Police—$500 and 25 cents for each and every hour outside of regular hours of duty.

Special Police—25 cents per hour while serving.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak, the resolution to adopt the salaries as above, was laid on the table.

The Sals. Com., also offered a resolution fixing the compensation of the City Collector in effect as follows: On taxes of 1882, 5 per cent. On taxes prior to 1882, 7½ per cent, and 34 cents a name. On taxes of 1883, 1½ per cent, and on school warrants, ½ per cent. The above to be in full compensation and in lieu of any other fees allowed by law.

The motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell, to adopt, was lost, and on motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Gardner, the resolution was laid on the table until the next meeting.

Mr. Marsh also presented the following:

Resolved, That in compliance with section three of an act entitled "An act concerning the publication of ordinances, financial statements and other public notices," approved March 25th, 1881, the compensation hereafter to be paid to the official papers of the city of Plainfield for the publication of ordinances, public notices and other matters be fixed and hereby is fixed at the rate of forty-five cents per folio of one hundred words for the first insertion and twenty-two cents per folio of one hundred words for each subsequent insertion after the first, provided, that in all cases where rule and figure work is required, the price shall be fifty per cent more than above rates, and when matter requires two justifications without rule, the price shall be twenty-five per cent more than the rates first above stated. And all matters directed to be published by the common council and not required to be published by law shall be paid for at the rates above stated, unless at the time of ordering said publication said common council shall fix a lower compensation. And it is hereby further ordered that each official paper shall file with the city clerk due proof of publication of all matters required by law to be published by said paper, before the payment for said publication shall be ordered made.

In moving to adopt, Mr. Marsh remarked that there were three official papers and, although it necessitated large expense, it seemed desirable that all should publish the ordinances, statements, notices, &c., required. The rate fixed by law was, however, too high, and the Council was paying extravagant prices in consideration of the work done.

Motion seconded by Mr. Serrell, and the resolution adopted—all voting aye.

By Mr. R. Simpson, from Streets Com., reported as correct the claim of J. C. Meeker, $64.63. Ref'd to Aud. Com.

NEW BUSINESS.

Mr. Polak moved for adoption a resolution to the effect that there be published in the official papers a notice requesting any citizen discovering an unlighted lamp, to report the location of the same to the Lamps Com.

Seconded by Mr. Coriell.

Mr. Marsh thought an unlimited publication was unnecessary.

Mr. Polak requested Mr. Marsh to amend the resolution and put it in fewer words if he thought it possible.

Mr. Coriell thought it was not necessary to pay for an advertisement, when the Council would have the resolution published in its proceedings for nothing.

*Mr. Marsh accepted Mr. Polak's chal*lenge to use fewer words, and moved to amend by striking out the clause, "until otherwise ordered by a vote of the Council," and inserting the words, "for one insertion."

The resolution as amended was adopted—all voting aye.

Mr. Polak remarked casually that as two of the Councilmen elected with himself to vote for liquor licenses had gone over to the anti-license party, he would move for adoption a resolution that the Corporation Counsel be requested to draft a resolution looking to the raising of $5,000 by special tax for the use of the city.

Seconded by Mr. Beguelin.

Mr. J. Simpson thought that as the city had from $40,000 to $50,000 of uncollected taxes due it, the Council could not ask for $5,000 more.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Gardner, the resolution was laid on the table. All voting aye.

The rules were suspended to allow Mr. J. Simpson, from the Aud. Com., to report as correct the following:

General fund—J. C. Meeker, $64.63; Robert Randolph, 43.99; C. W. Dodd, 71.24; G. M. Smith, 3; James Maynard, 7; H. H. Lowrie, 62.50; G. W. Grant, 46.39.

Poor fund—Mrs. Gamberton, $8; Mrs. Flynn, 9; Plainfield Relief Association, 53; Mrs. Wilkins, 5; C. Peterson, 12.

Warrants ordered drawn for all of above.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

On motion of Mr. Polak, the Mayor's nominations were taken from the table, and P. Lynch, William Sutton and William Callaghan were unanimously confirmed as special policemen.

The rules were suspended and Mr. Beguelin, from the Alms Com., reported as correct the claim of T. J. Preston, $100.

Also, by Mr. Marsh, from Salaries Com., as correct the claim of G. A. Marsh, $125.

Both above referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Marsh moved to take from the table the bill of the N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., and the same was referred to the Lamps Com.

Mr. Marsh offered a resolution requesting the Corporation Counsel to render an opinion as to what steps were necessary wherewith by a sale of real estate to perfect a lien thereon for taxes due.

Seconded by Mr. Polak, and carried.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, the several proposals for lighting the streets were taken from the table and referred to Lamps Com.

Mr. Rose presented a resolution directing the Police force to report to the Corporation Counsel at once all violations of the liquor license ordinance, and that the Corporation Counsel commence immediate prosecution.

Adoption moved by Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell and carried.

Mr. R. Simpson presented the bond in $5000 of John C. Meeker, recently confirmed Street Commissioner.

Referred to Laws Com.

Mr. Serrell moved that the communication of J. B. Coward, in relation to the Kerr property, be referred to the Corporation Counsel.

So ordered.

It was moved by Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. R. Simpson, that the warrant of Berry & Thorn, ordered drawn by the Council of 1882, and not signed by the Mayor of that year, be referred to the Laws Com.

Carried.

Mr. Polak moved that the Council adjourn until the 19th inst.

Lost.

Mr. Jones moved to reconsider the resolution directing the City Clerk to certify to certain papers in the Hetfield tax case.

Motion to reconsider carried.

Original resolution laid on the table, on motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Jones. All voting aye.

The Council adjourned for one week.

COMMUNICATED.

For "The Constitutionalist."

Taxes In Arrears.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Collector Johnson has issued a circular proclaiming that "a warrant for the delinquent taxes of 1882" has been issued to him by the City Judge, and that payment of taxes for 1882 must be made to him on or before the 15th day of February, 1883, or he will be obliged to enforce payments according to the provisions of said warrant. It seems to me that Mr. Johnson (appointed as he was) has no power to enforce the collection of taxes, although seemingly appointed according to the famous Senate bill No. 48, passed by the Legislature of 1882, but a careful study of said law will, I think, convince you that Mr. Johnson has not been legally appointed by our Common Council. Section 5 of said law provides: And be it enacted, "That this act shall not take away or impair any power conferred by law upon any city, or any officer thereof, in relation to the assessment, collection or enforcement of taxes." The City Charter provides: Sec. 1, of the supplement of 1874, "That the Mayor shall nominate and by and with the advice and consent of the Common Council, appoint all officers of the City, except City Clerk and Janitor of the Council chamber." Now, as the collector of taxes in arrears (or delinquent taxes as they are improperly called) is a City Officer, and it is the Mayor's duty and right to nominate to the Common Council a person to perform the duty of collecting taxes in arrears, the person appointed by the Common Council (Mr. Johnson) without the co-operation of the Mayor is not a legally appointed officer for the work assigned him. The committee of citizens who drafted the "Senate 48," and spent weeks in perfecting(?) it, failed, after all their arduous labors, to make it a clear law; and put therein incongruities which may, after all, cause some trouble in enforcing it.

E. L. MORRIS.

MISCELLANY.

OH, Wiggins, Wiggins, did you sell many of your almanacs?

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 32 West Front Street.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties can now purchase elegant pattern of wall paper of H. S. Barnes, 6 W. Front street, at greatly reduced prices. tf

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 32 West Front Street, at the New York price. m17tf

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Demena's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

WHY are Coughs and Colds so prevalent? Even in the mild summer so many people get colds and die with Consumption. Rogers' Liverwort, Tar and Canchalagua will cure them. It stands at the head of all Cough Medicines. Thousands of lives have been saved by its use. Try it.

DR. FOORD'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—This medicine is the best for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, and all diseases of the bronchial organs: [illegible], Lockport, N. Y., July [illegible], 1880, says: "Some twelve years since I was severely attacked with bronchitis and in a few days my voice was so gone that I could not speak loud. On my way to this place I met a lady who had been relieved of the same complaint by Foord's Pectoral Syrup and she recommended me to try it. When I arrived at home I procured a bottle and found immediate relief from it."

A OLD MAN'S RELIEF.—Having used Parker's Ginger Tonic for my bad cough and hemorrhage I had twenty-five years, I feel like another man since I used it. Am 66 years past. Believe it sure to cure younger persons. A. Orner, Highspire, Pa.

HOPE FOR DRUNKARDS.—My husband had drunken habits he could not overcome until Parker's Ginger Tonic took away his thirst for stimulants, restored his energy of mind and gave him strength to attend to business.—Cincinnati Lady.

FOR dressing the hair, and beautifying it when gray, nothing is so satisfactory as Parker's Hair Balsam.

CONCORD GRAPE VINES.—Fine, vigorous Vines, two, three and four years' old, for sale by the dozen or thousand at the lowest prices. These Vines are raised on the famous Mt. Prospect Vineyards, at Passaic, New Jersey, where the well-known Port Grape Wine is produced that is so highly esteemed at Dresden and Berlin, and other European cities to which it is shipped, and that is so highly esteemed by physicians everywhere. Address, ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.

Best ever made, Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar-coated; no griping; only 15 cents a box, of Druggists or mail. Standard Cure Co. Sold by E. P. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

USEFUL IN THE FAMILY.—We usually leave it to doctors to recommend medicines, but Parker's Ginger Tonic has been so useful in our family in relieving sickness and suffering that we cannot say too much in its praise.—Salem Argus.

"BUCHU-PAIBA."—Quick, complete cure, all annoying Kidney Diseases. $1. Druggists.

Malaria, Chills and Fever, and Bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills—an infallible remedy; never fail to cure the most obstinate, long-standing cases where Quinine and all other remedies had failed. [illegible] Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, best ever made, only 15 cents. Sold by E. P. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

"ROUGH ON RATS."—Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bed-bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers. 15c. Druggists.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

[illegible]

[illegible] Wells' Health Renewer, [illegible]

WESTFIELD ADVERTISEMENTS.

C. A. SMITH,
DEALER IN
Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Agent for Lister Bros., Bone and Phosphates for Westfield and Fanwood.
UNLEACHED ASHES AND LAND PLASTER by the Load or Carload.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone Call No. 26.

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the interest of the people.
Office, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also
Standard Fertilizers,
Such as Mapes', Lister's, Bradley's & Bowker's Phosphates and Bone Manures, for all crops, bought low for cash, and will be sold at reasonable prices.
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
Genesee Valley Lime, by the car load, &c.
E. M. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 89, SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.

C. E. AGUIRRE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Office at Gale's Pharmacy.
Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty
All work guaranteed to be First Class, and to give entire satisfaction.

JOHN KARR,
WESTFIELD, N. J.
Driven and Drilled Wells.
REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Unexceptionable references given if desired.

TURF EXCHANGE
ALE and BEER VAULTS,
Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J.
JOHN L. BOULSTON, - Proprietor.
Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand.
Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all times.
Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar-cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java, Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,
Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Special Bargains
Which are to be found for a few days
At Whitney's.

A NEW LINE OF "VEILING," ONLY 13c. WORTH 25c.

ONE LOT OF 8 DOZ FOSTER'S PATENT LACING KIDS ONLY 88c., WORTH $1.25.

THE "SUPERB CORSET," MADE FROM THE BEST "FRENCH COUTIL," AT 95c. REGULAR PRICE $1.25 ONLY THIS LOT AT THE PRICE

ECRU TABLE LINEN 50c. WORTH 65c.
WHITE TABLE LINEN, 75c. WORTH $1.

"THESE ARE SPECIAL PRICES," WORTH YOUR ATTENTION.

"THE BEST 'ALL-WOOL' BLACK CASHMERE AT 50c. IN THIS CITY," AT

S. H. WHITNEY'S,
(Opposite Post-office.)

Japanese Salve!

For Chapped Hands and Lips,
Frosted Feet and all
Skin Diseases.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT.

A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY
Vail Bros., Philadelphia.

PECK'S CORNER.

At Peck's.

Linen Napkins, Large Size and Fine Goods, $1.25 per Dozen. Look at the large variety in Linen Table Damask.

A Stunner.

Your attention is called to new Embroideries to be put on sale this day.

AT PECK'S.

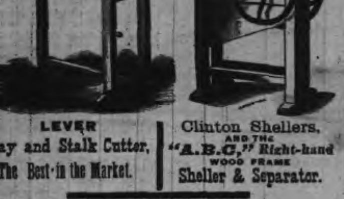
POPE BROS!

FRONT AND SOMERSET STREETS.

We offer Special Bargains this week in White Goods, Checked Nansooks, Plaid Piques, (at 10 cents, worth 18,) Dotted Suisse, Victoria Lawns. Just received new stock Hamburg Edgings, latest patterns, at extraordinary low prices. Table Linens, Napkins, Towels, Bed Spreads, Sheetings and Shirtings, all widths.

Our stock of Dress Goods, Hosiery, Underwear and Notions is complete and at prices the lowest consistent with good goods.

Curtiss & Griffen.



LEVER
Hay and Stalk Cutter,
The Best in the Market.

Clinton Shellers,
AND THE
"A. B. C.," Right-hand
WOOD FRAME
Sheller & Separator.

ROEBUCK WEATHER STRIPS.

Lanterns, Street Lamps, Dash Lamps.

Remember, at our Store you BUY GOODS 5 Per Ct. Cheaper For Cash than for Credit.

No. 13 East Front street, - Plainfield, New Jersey.

Bachman Bro's Large Sale of Hosiery!

HAVING BOUGHT OUT ALL THE SAMPLES OF LADIES HOSE COMPRISING ALL KINDS, TO THE AMOUNT OF 138 DOZEN, FROM ONE OF THE LARGEST HOSIERY FACTORIES IN PHILADELPHIA, WE ASK THE PUBLIC TO COME AND SEE THEM, AND JUDGE FOR THEMSELVES. THESE GOODS ARE WORTH FROM 30 TO 40 CENTS PER PAIR, AND WE CAN OFFER THEM FOR 21 CENTS.

Wamsutta Muslin, - - 11¼ Cts. | Anchor Dwight, - - 9¾ Cts.

BACHMAN BROTHERS.
17 West Front street, - - - - - - - Plainfield, New Jersey.

To our Patrons!

Having just finished taking inventory we take great pleasure in announcing to the ladies of Plainfield and vicinity that we are receiving daily real bargains, such as Towels, Table Linens, Birds Eye Diaper, striped and Plaid Nainsook, Cambric, Cottage Drapery, Turkish and Venetian Damasks, all of which we buy for cash. This enables us to sell as cheap as any house in New York. We will mention only a few prices to show that we mean what we say:

2,500 yards the best Shirting Calico, only	5 Cts.
Dress Ginghams, worth 12½ cts., we offer at	9 "
Seersuckers, new styles, new goods,	12½ and 14 "
Dwight Anchor, 4-4 bleached muslin,	9½ "
Fruit of the Loom, 4-4,	9 "
Utica and New York Mills, 9-4 sheeting,	27½ "
A good No. 2 Pearl Shirt, re-inforced bosom, all finished, only,	67 "

We are replenishing our Carpet Department and at any time Ladies wish to look at goods in that line for next Spring's want, we will be glad to show them through this Department.

Very Respectfully,
D. BOEHM & BRO.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

THAT BAD BOY AGAIN.

HIS PA DISSECTED.

"I understand your pa has got to drinking again like a fish," says the groceryman to the bad boy, as the youth came in the grocery store and took a handful of dried apples. The boy ate a dried apple and then made up a terrible face, and the groceryman asked him what he was trying to do with his face. The boy caught his breath and then said:

"Say, don't you know any better than to keep dried apples where a boy can get a hold of them when he has got the mumps? You will kill some boy yet by such dum carelessness. I thought those were sweet dried apples, but they are as sour as a boarding house keeper and they make me tired. Didn't you ever have the mumps? Gosh, but don't it hurt, though? You have got to be darn careful when you have the mumps and not go out bob-sledding or skating, or you will have your neck swell up bigger'n a milk pail. Pa says he had the mumps once when he was a boy and it broke him all up."

"Well, never mind the mumps, how about your pa sloppering it? Try one of those pickles in the jar there, won't you? I always like to have a boy enjoy himself when he comes to see me," said the groceryman, winking to a man who was filling an old-fashioned tin box with tobacco out of the pail, who winked back, as much as to say, 'If that boy eats a pickle on top of them mumps we will have a circus, sure.'

"You can't play no pickle on me, not when I have the mumps. Ma passed the pickles to me this morning, and I took one mouthful, and liked to had the lockjaw. But ma didn't do it on purpose, I guess. She never had any mumps and didn't know how discouraging a pickle is. Darn if I didn't feel as though I had been struck in the butt of the ear with a brick. But about pa. He has been fuller'n a goose ever since New Year's day. I think it's wrong for women to tempt feeble minded persons with liquor on New Year's. Now, me and my chum, we can take a drink and then let it alone. We have got brains and know when we have got enough, but pa, when he gets to going don't ever stop until he gets so sick that he can't keep his stummick inside of himself. It is getting so they look to me to brace pa up every time he gets on a tear, and I guess I fixed him this time so he will never touch liquor again. I scared him so his bald head turned gray in a single night."

"What under heaven's name have you done to him now?" says the groceryman in astonishment. "I hope you haven't done anything you will regret in after years."

"Regret nothing," said the boy, as he turned the lid of the cheese-box back and took the knife and sliced off a piece of cheese, and took a few crackers out of the barrel, and sat down on a soap-box by the stove. "You see ma was annoyed to death with pa. He would come home full, when she had company, and lay down on the sofa and snore, and he would smell like a distillery. It hurt me to see ma cry, and I told her I would break pa of drinking if she would let me, and she said if I would promise not to hurt pa to go ahead, and I promised not to. Then I got my chum and another boy, quite a big boy, to help, and pa is all right. We went down to the place where they sell arms and legs to folks who have served in the army, or saw-mill, or a thrashing machine, and lost their limbs, and we borrowed some arms and legs and fixed up a dissecting room. We fixed a long table in the basement, big enough to lay pa on, you know, and then we got false whiskers and mustaches, and when pa came in the house drunk and laid down on the sofa and got to sleep, we took him and laid him out on the table, and took some trunk straps, and a clothesline and strapped him down to the table. He slept right along all through it, and we had another table with the false arms and legs on, and we rolled up our sleeves, and smoked pipes, just like I read that medical students do when they cut up a man. Well you'd a died to see pa look at us when he woke up. I saw him open his eyes, and then we began to talk about cutting up dead men. We put hickory nuts in our mouths so our voices would sound different, so he wouldn't know us, and I was telling the other boys about what a time we had cutting up the last man we bought. I said he was awful tough, and when we had got his legs off and taken out his brain, his friends come to the dissecting room and claimed the body, and we had to give it up, but I saved the legs. I looked at pa on the table and he began to turn pale, and he squirmed, around to get up, but found he was fast. I had pulled his shirt up under his arms, while he was asleep, and as he began to move I took an icicle, and in the dim light of the candles that were sitting on the table in beer bottles, I drew the icicle across pa's stummick and I said to my chum, 'Doc, I guess we better cut open this old duffer, and see if he died from inflammation of the stummick, from hard drinking, as the coroner said he did.' Pa shuddered all over when he felt the icicle going over his bare stummick, and he said, 'For God's sake, gentlemen, what does this mean? I am not dead!' The other boys looked at pa in astonishment, and I said, 'Well we bought you for dead, and the coroner's jury said you were dead, and by the eternal we ain't going to be fooled out of a corpse when we buy one, are we Doc?' My chum said not if he knowed himself, and the other students said, 'Of course he is dead. He thinks he is alive, but he died day before yesterday—fell dead on the street, and his folks said he had been a nuisance and they wouldn't claim the corpse, and we bought it at the morgue.' Then I drew the icicle across him again, and I said, 'I don't know about this doctor. I find that blood follows the scalpel as I cut through the cuticle. Hand me the blood-sponge, please.' Pa began to wriggle around, and we looked at him, and my chum raised his eyelids, and looked solemn, and pa said, 'Hold on, gentlemen. Don't cut into me any more, and I can explain this matter. This is all a mistake; I was only drunk.' We went in a corner and whispered, and pa kept talking all the time. He said if we would postpone the hog-killing he could send and get witnesses to prove that he was not dead, but that he was a respectable citizen and had a family. After we had held a consultation I went to pa and told him that what he said about being alive might possibly be true, though we had our doubts. We had found such cases before in our practice East, where men seemed to be alive, but it was only temporary. Before we had got them cut up they were dead enough for all practical purposes. Then I laid the icicle across pa's abdomen, and, went on to tell him that even if he was alive it would be better for him to play that he was dead, because he was such a nuisance to his family that they did not want him, and I was telling him that I had heard that in his lifetime he was very cruel to his boy, a bright little fellow who was at the head of his class in Sunday school, and a pet wherever he was known, when pa interrupted me and said, 'Doctor, please take that carving knife off my stomach, for it makes me nervous. As for that boy of mine, he is the condemndest little whelp in this town, and he isn't no pet anywhere. Now, you let up on this dissectin' business, and I will make it all right with you.' We held another consultation, and then I told pa that we did not feel that it was doing justice to society to give up the body of a notorious drunkard, after we had paid twenty dollars for the corpse. If there was any hope that he would reform and try and lead a different life, it would be different, and I said to the boys, 'gentlemen we must do our duty. Doc, you dismember that leg and I will attend to the stomach and the upper part of the body. He will be dead before we are done with him. We must remember that society has some claims on us, and not let our better natures be worked upon by the post-mortem promises of a dead drunkard. Then I took my icicle and began fumbling around the abdomen portion of pa's remains, and my chum took a rough piece of ice and began to saw his leg off, while the other boy took hold of the leg and said he would catch it when it dropped off. Well, pa kicked like a steer. He said he wanted to make one more appeal to us, and we acted sort of impatient, but we let up to hear what he had to say. He said if we would turn him loose he would give us ten dollars more than we paid for his body, and that he would never drink another drop as long as he lived. Then we whispered some and then we told him we thought favorably of his last proposition, but he must swear, with his hand on the leg of a corpse we were then dissecting, that he would never drink again, and then he must be blindfolded and be conducted several blocks away from the dissecting room, before we would turn him loose. He said that was all right, and so we blindfolded him and made him take a bloody oath, with his hand on a piece of another corpse, and then we took him out of the house and walked him around the block four times, and left him on a corner after he had promised to send the money to an address that I gave him. We told him to stand still five minutes after we left him, then remove the blindfold, and go home. We watched him from behind a board fence, and he took off the handkerchief, looked at the name on a street lamp, and found that he was not far from home. He started off, saying: 'That's a pretty narrow escape old man. No more whiskey for you.' I did not see him again until the next morning, and when I asked him where he was last night he shuddered, and said, 'none of your darn business. But I never drink any more, you remember that.' Ma was tickled, and she told me I was worth my weight in gold. Well, good bye. That cheese is musty." And the boy went and caught on a passing sleigh.—Peck's Sun.

THERE AIN'T ANY MONEY IN IT.

The World's Journal says: A little boy on his way to build fires and sweep offices in Boston, while the stars were yet in the sky, told the writer:

'My mother gets me up, builds the fire, gets my breakfast and sends me off. Then she gets my father up, gets his breakfast and then she gives the children their breakfast and sends them to school, and then she and the baby have their breakfast.'

'How old is the baby?' I asked.

'Oh, she is most two, but she can talk and walk as well as any of us.'

'Are you well paid?'

'I get two dollars a week, and my father gets two dollars a day.'

'How much does your mother get?'

With a bewildered look he said:

'Mother! Why she don't work for anybody!'

'I thought you said she worked for all of you?'

'Oh, yes—for us she does; but there ain't any money into it!'

This wife of the day laborer represents a large proportion of hard-working women.

SPORTSMEN'S PERILS.

Little Robert Howard, of Houston, Ga., mistook his brother's foot for a rabbit and shot away three of his toes.

A friend of Calvin Hunt of Charlestown, W. Va., was loading a gun when it went off, and ball, and ramrod went through Hunt's body.

James Fortune, 14 years of age, of Prairieville, Mo., cut down a hollow tree which contained a rabbit. The fall of the tree crushed his own skull.

Stuart Humber and Harrison Brown, of Lancaster, Ky., 16 years old, were out hunting, each armed with an old musket. Brown accidentally shot away Humber's ear.

John Rountree, of Perry, Ga., was trying out in the woods to uncap a brass shell of a breech-loading shot gun, when it exploded, and his right hand was lacerated.

John Kritman, of Eau Claire, Wis., went hunting on November 8th, and he has not since been seen. It is supposed he got lost and was frozen in the woods.

George Hunsicker and his brother Thomas, of Litchfield, Ill., attempted to crawl through a hedge, one ahead of the other. The trigger of George's gun caught on a twig, and Thomas was killed.

As Matthew Nixon returned in a boat from a hunt on the Wateree river, near Eastover, S. C., he held his gun out by the muzzle to be drawn ashore by John Middleton. The gun was discharged, and Nixon fell dead.

Two Hannibal, Mo., boys saw a rabbit in a brush pile. They started him out and one of them fired hastily at him. A part of the shot killed the rabbit, and the rest entered the other boy's face, disfiguring him for life.

George Head, of Jackson, Pa., went turkey hunting. He did not return, and a searching party found his body in the woods with a bullet hole in the heart, although his gun that stood against a tree was loaded.

Charles Wright, of Roseville, Mo., hid himself under a shock of corn to get a shot at some geese. As he was drawing his gun toward him by the muzzle, it was discharged, and the load entered his neck and killed him.

As they flushed a covey of birds, John Longstreet, of Gainesville, Ga., grabbed George Bird's gun and fired. At the same time Bird jerked Longstreet's gun from his shoulder. One barrel was discharged, the contents entering Bird's right temple. He was killed instantly.

John Axsley, of Madison, Ind., who sat with the rifle he was about to clean resting across his knees, suddenly pulled the trigger. To his surprise there was a discharge, and the gun wiper that was in the barrel tore through a door and killed his grandson, 5 years old, who was playing outside.

TWO AWFUL NIGHTS.

[illegible] TOWARDS A [illegible] PARTY.

"Say, what kind of a hotel do you keep?" said a green-looking man, as he stepped up to the counter and registered his name, and added "and wife" after it. "Can a new married couple settle down here for two or three days and have a quiet visit with each other and not be scared out of their boots?"

The hotel man said they could go to their room and stay there three days or three weeks and never come to their meals if they didn't want anything to eat. "But what is the matter? Have you been annoyed?" asked the hotel man.

"Annoyed! That don't express it. We were married day before yesterday at St. Paul, and went to a hotel. I live about sixty miles west of St. Paul, and the traveling men put up a job to make me tired. There were about a hundred of them snowed in at St. Paul, and I'll be danged if they didn't keep us uneasy all night. They knew we were a bridal couple, and they bribed the bell-boys and porters to let them act for them, and when we rung for the bell boy, a drummer for a Chicago cigar factory came in and wanted to know what was wanted. I ordered a pitcher of ice-water, and a Milwaukee drummer for a grocery house brought it in, and he looked at my wife, who is bashful, and made her feel real bad. I didn't know they were drummers until the next day, or I should have killed some of them. I rung for a chamber-maid to clean up the room and bring some towels, and I went down to the office to see about my trunk, and the chamber-maid stayed about half an hour, and was very interesting, and my wife said she was a real affectionate sort of a creature, far above her station, and I tell you I was mad when I found out it was a smooth-faced, handsome young Jewish drummer for a Milwaukee clothing house, who was in with the gang, and he gave the chamber-maid three dollars to loan him an old dress so that he could play chamber-maid. Well, while we were at supper somebody got into the room and put cracker crumbs in our bed, and we found a cold oilcloth floor mat over the top sheet, enough to freeze anybody. But the worst was at night. We had just got comfortably in bed when there was a knock at the door, and I got up, and the watchman was there, and he said he wanted to point out to me the fire-escape, so I could get out in case of fire.

They woke us several times in the night, to tell us what to do in case we were sick, and in the morning, before we were up, a waiter brought up our breakfast. He said the landlord sent it up, and he just stood around until we had sat up in bed and eat breakfast. I thought at the time that it was kind in the landlord to send up our breakfast, but when I found that the waiter who brought it up was a traveling man for a reaper factory at Rockford, and remembered how darned impudent he looked at my wife, I could have murdered him, but the clerk said he had gone to Winnipeg. It was just about as bad coming down here on the sleeping car, and I think half the passengers on the car were those same drummers that were snowed in. It was colder than Alaska, and I would order extra blankets, and they would steal them. I had more than twenty blankets on the bed, and in the morning there was nothing but a sheet over us. And every time there was a blanket spread over us there was a different porter put it on, and I think they were all traveling men. Every little while somebody would pull open the curtains and sit down on my berth and begin to pull off his boots, and I would tell him the berth was occupied, and that he must have made a mistake, and he would look around at us as innocent as could be, and ask our pardon, and then go out and damn the porter. Once I felt somebody feeling about my berth and I asked what was the matter, and the fellow said he was looking for my wife's shoes to black. Then about every fifteen minutes the conductor would open the curtains and hold a red lantern in and ask for our tickets. I think they punched my ticket sixty-five times. Any way it looked like a porous plaster when I got up in the morning. I think it was the traveling men who were playing conductor, but I was sleepy and I thought the best way was to let them punch it. Well, about three o'clock in the morning somebody punched us and said it was time to get up as the passengers were all up, and we would have breakfast in fifteen minutes. And then we hustled around and got dressed the best we could, laying on our backs, and kicking our clothes up in the air and patching them on ourselves when they came down. I got my pants on wrong side before, and lost everything out of my pockets, and my wife lost her hair and had to tie a handkerchief around her head, and then we had our berths made up and sat up till daylight. Oh, I never had such a night, or two such nights, in all my life, and what I want to know is, if I can be quiet here, and get a little sleep, and not be annoyed." The hotel man told him if anybody came around to bother him to knock them clear down stairs and he would be responsible, and the bridegroom took his satchel and his wife, and the colored man showed them a room and they have not showed up since. It is considered mean in traveling men to get snowed in, and form a syndicate to have fun. They will cause themselves to be disliked if they keep on.—Milwaukee Sun.

HOW YOU CAME HERE.

Did you think how many male and female ancestors were required to bring you into the world? First, it was necessary that you should have a father and a mother—that made two human beings. Each of them must also have had a father and mother—that makes four human beings. Each of those four must have had a father and a mother—that makes eight human beings. And so we must go back fifty-six generations, which bring us only to the time of Jesus Christ. The calculation thus resulting shows that 139,345,017,489,534,976 births must have taken place in order to bring you into the world—you who read these lines.

An unequal match—That which strikes only once.

'I prop hose to be of use in this world,' as the garter said.

The smallest spirited horse on record—a pony of brandy.

"Why should you celebrate Washington's birthday more than mine?" asked a teacher. "Because he never told a lie!" shouted a little boy.

Freddie Gebhardt cannot see why people need to make fun of his spelling, as long as he has more more than the man who made the dictionary ever thought of.

Every heavy burden of sorrow seems like a stone hung around our neck, yet they are often like the stone used by the pearl diver, which enables him to reach the prize and rise enriched.

HIS PA'S FIRE ESCAPES.

WHAT CAUSED THE BOY LETTING PEOPLE [illegible].

"Why, what's the matter with your pa's legs?" asked the grocery man.—"Rheumatiz!"

"Was not rheumatiz," said the boy, as he threw away the cigar stub and drew some cider in a broken tea cup.—"Pa has got the worst looking hind legs you ever saw. "You see, since there has been so many fires pa has got awful scared, and he has bought three fire-escapes, made out of ropes with knots in them, and he has been telling us every day how he could rescue the whole family in case of fire. He told us to be cool, whatever happened, and to rely on him. If the house got on fire we were all to rush to pa, and he would save us. Well, last night ma had to go to one of the neighbors, where they was going to have twins, and we didn't sleep much—cause ma had to come home twice in the night to get saffron and an old flannel petticoat that I broke in when I was kid, cause the people where ma went did not know as twins was on the bill of fare, and they only had flannel petticoats for one. Pa was cross at being kept awake, and told ma he hoped that when all the children in Milwaukee were born and got grown up, she would take in her sign and not go around nights acting as usher to baby matinees. Pa says there ought to be a law that babies should arrive on the regular day trains, and not wait for the midnight express. Well, pa he got asleep, and he slept till about eight o'clock in the morning, and the blinds were closed, and it was dark in his room, and I had waited for my breakfast till I was hungry as a wolf, and the girl told me to wake pa up so I went up stairs, and I don't know what made me think of it, but I had some of this powder they make red fire with in the theatre, that me and my chum had on the Fourth of July, and I put it in a wash-dish in the bath-room, and I touched it off and hollered fire. I was going to wake pa up and then tell him it was all right, and laugh at him. I guess there was too much fire, or I yelled too loud, cause pa jumped out of bed and grabbed a rope and rushed through the hall towards the back window, that goes on a shed. I tried to say something, but pa ran over me and told me to save myself, and I got to the back window to tell him there was no fire just as he let himself out the window. He had one end of the rope tied to the leg of the wash stand, and he was climbing down the back side of the shed by the kitchen, with nothing on but his night shirt and he was the horriblest looking object ever was, with his legs flying and trying to stick his toe nails into the rope and the side of the house. I don't think a man looks well in society with nothing on but the night shirt. I didn't blame the hired girls for being scared when they saw pa and his legs come down outside the window, and when they yelled, I went down to the kitchen, and they said a crazy man with no clothes but a pillow case around his neck was trying to kick the window in, and they run into the parlor, and I opened the door and let pa in the kitchen. He asked me if any body else was saved, and then I told him there was no fire, and he must have dreamed. Well, pa was astonished, and said he must be wrong in the head, and I left him thawing himself by the stove while I went after his pants, and his legs were badly chilled, but I guess nothin' was froze. He lays it all to ma, and says if she would stay at home and let people run their own baby shows, there would be more comfort in the house. Ma came in with a shawl over her head, and a bowl full of something that smelled frowy, and after she had told us what the result of her visit was, she sent me after vaseline to rub pa's legs. Pa says he has demonstrated that if a man is cool and collected, in case of fire, and goes deliberately at work to save himself, he will come out all right. But I shall have to go and get that vaseline or pa's legs will suffer. Good day."—Peck's Sun.

MORALITIES.

Keep good company, and you shall be of the number.

Mankind are more indebted to industry than ingenuity.

Love for the dead should not cramp our duty to the living.

To die of love is only a metaphor used to frighten people.

No one is ever fatigued after the exercise of forbearance.

The most manifest sign of wisdom is continued cheerfulness.

Woman is the nervous part of humanity; man is the muscular.

Despise no one; for every one knows something that thou knowest not.

The heart causes us to do stupid things; the head makes us avoid them.

To have ideas is to gather flowers. To think is to weave them into garlands.

Wealth is the most dangerous arbitrator in political or social controversies.

'Blood will tell,' so be careful how you make confidants of your own relations.

When people see the authorities respect the law in all things, they will begin to imitate the good example.

It is only by labor that thought can be made healthy; and it is only by thought that labor can be made happy.

To be perfectly just is an attribute of the divine nature; to be so to the utmost of our abilities, is the glory of man.

If we did but know how little some enjoy of the great things they possess there would not be much envy in the world.

Nothing makes the world look so spacious as to have friends at a distance; they make the latitudes and longitudes.

Burton describes idleness as being 'the cushion upon which the devil reposes,' Johnson designates it as the rust of the soul."

The secret of universal success is resolution in attempting. Great men can do what they will, because they only will what they can.

Feelings come and go like light-troops following the victory of the present; but principles, like troops of the line, are undisturbed and go last.

A more glorious victory cannot be gained over another man than this, that when the injury began on his part the kindness should begin on ours.

Our illusions fall one after the other, like the peelings of fruit; the fruit is experience; its savor may be bitter, still it contains something that strengthens.

The perversion of the best things can be turned into the worst, as in the most wholesome roots and herbs there is some component part which can be extracted and solidified into a deadly poison.

"Don't my son owe you a little bar bill?" asked Colonel Young as he emptied his glass, turning to the Austin saloon keeper, who was [illegible] the prospect of the old man getting his son's bill. "Shall I receipt the bill?" said the anxious saloon keeper. "Well, no, but give me a dozen cigars and add 'em to the boy's bill."

MISCELLANEOUS.

Over 5000 Druggists AND Physicians

Have Signed or Endorsed the Following Remarkable Document:

Messrs. Seabury & Johnson, Manufacturing Chemists, 21 Platt St., New York: Gentlemen:—For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are superior to all other Porous Plasters or Liniments for external use.

Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine Pharmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognized by physicians and druggists.

When other remedies fail get a Benson's Capcine Plaster.

You will be disappointed if you use cheap Plasters, Liniments, Pads or Electrical Magnetic toys.

A SURE REMEDY AT LAST. [illegible] MEAD'S Medicated CORN and BUNION PLASTER.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

[illegible]

For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

Carney Bros.,

NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.

Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.

PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.

Grates and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be [illegible]. Bring your Tin Ware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in [illegible]. We use none but the very best of materials and our work always gives satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Tinware made to order.

RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.

—SANITARY PLUMBING—

BY

R. R. Fairchild.

Furniture! Furniture!

SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS

A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!

Bed-room Suites,

IN ASH AND WALNUT.

Cottage Suites,

IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.

Bed Lounges,

AS LOW AS $7.50.

WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES.

Mattrasses and Spring Beds,

OF ALL KINDS.

Come to Fairchild's,

AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.

18 West Front Street.

Parlor Novelties!

The following Styles are our "Latest" and will [illegible].

THE "Sutherland"

[illegible]

THE "Egyptian"

[illegible]

THE "Rockingham"

[illegible]

THE "Chippendale"

[illegible]

INSPECTION INVITED.

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,

(Successor to Geo. Waite)

No. 6 Somerset St.

BUTCHER.

[illegible]

LEWIS & CO.,

Butchers!!

ARE DEALERS IN

Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry, Sausage, Hams, Bologna, Head Cheese and Mince Meat.

Park Avenue,

(AT THE OLD STAND,)

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TWENTY

Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET, 4 doors above Front street.

STEVENS & CORCORAN, Horse-shoers, give particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Interfering and Interfering Horses. [illegible]

HEMORRHOID OR PILES

Permanently Cured,

IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID.

[illegible] at LAING'S HOTEL, Plainfield, New Jersey, where I will be in attendance on

TUESDAY, DEC. 26TH,

TUESDAY, JAN. 9TH,

TUESDAY, JAN. 23D,

From 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. [illegible]

R. REED, M. D., Lambertville, New Jersey.

DO YOU PLAY? WHY NOT?

By using SOPER'S INSTANTANEOUS GUIDE to the Keys of the Piano and Organ, any person, man, woman or child, who can read or count, can learn to play in ONE HOUR [illegible]

CHARLES SHARNE,

11 Frankfort St., N. Y.

For Sale or To Let.

A

Very Desirable Residence,

—ON—

WEST SEVENTH ST.,

(UNION AVENUE.)

House contains 12 large rooms, and modern improvements. One acre of ground, large barn, poultry, &c. For particulars address,

J. W. JOHNSON,

27 East Seventh street, near [illegible]

The A. Saltzman Watch

EXPOSITION
LA CHAUX-DE-FONDS
1879
MEDAL
BRONZE

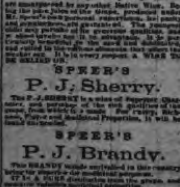
Ask your Jeweler for it Before Purchasing any other.

SPEER'S

PORT GRAPE WINE

Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.

Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.



Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Speer's Port Grape Wine

FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable Tonic and Strengthening Properties are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. [illegible] IT IS A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

SPEER'S

P. J. Sherry.

[illegible]

SPEER'S

P. J. Brandy.

[illegible] ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., [illegible]. Sold by all Druggists.

Washington Valley

PURE SPRING WATER

ICE. ICE. ICE.

SIMPSON & CO.,

[illegible] FINEST QUALITY OF ICE [illegible]

Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.

[illegible]

GRADING & CONTRACTING

In all its Branches.

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,

Real Estate & Insurance Agent,

OFFICE—East Room, Central R. R. Depot

RESIDENCE—69 East 5th Street,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Real Estate for Sale, Rent or Exchange.

Authorized Agent for the following Fire Insurance Companies:

NORTH AMERICA, of Phila. Assets, January 1st, 1881, [illegible]

PHOENIX ASSURANCE CO., of London, Assets, [illegible]

—or—

Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.

MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.

POPE'S

Life and Fire Insurance Agency.

Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money invested on Bond and Mortgage for other parties. Government Bonds Bought and sold.

FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK for sale in quantities to suit purchasers.

Office over City National Bank.

FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

FIRE INSURANCE!

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the

Star and Merchants

Fire Insurance Co's of the

City of New York,

are prepared to furnish substantial indemnity against loss by Fire and solicits applications from the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.

NATHAN HARPER.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE

Is Selling WINTER

Boots & Shoes

At VERY LOW PRICES!

11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD.

Alex. Willett,

DEALER IN

BOOTS & SHOES,

No. 4 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of desirable goods direct from Manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Cooking Stoves and Ranges.

(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.

Agricultural Implements

Of all Kinds, CHEAP.

Super-Phosphates and Bone.

NEW YORK PLOWS,

Also,

The South Bend Chilled Plow,

BEST IN THE WORLD. Superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at

No. 12 EAST FRONT ST.,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.,

C. O. Meeker & Co.

All the above Cheap for Cash.

Coal. Coal. Coal.

FINTIN HIBBITS

Respectfully informs the public of Plainfield and vicinity that he is prepared to supply the best

Lehigh Valley Coal,

of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!

The above coal is all shipped to South Plainfield by the Packer R. R. Orders sent by mail, BOX 1,166, will be promptly attended to, or No. 16 LIBERTY ST., PLAINFIELD.

J. N. SCHENCK,

Practical Machinist!

RACE STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.

To those contemplating putting heat in dwellings, I would state that I am manufacturing a

Sectional Safety Boiler

for such purposes, which far exceeds any of my previous attempts. I have one in my own dwelling which I will be pleased to show to all calling.

Machinery of Every Description Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.

O. M. DUNHAM,

Merchant Tailor,

No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,

[Next to Laing's Hotel.]

Also, Agent for the

Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.

WM. C. SMITH,

Mason and Builder,

MANNING AVENUE,

First brick house on the right hand side from Somerset Street,

North Plainfield, N. J.

Jobbing Promptly Attended to. [illegible]

Orders may be sent to residence or by mail.

PROSPECT HILL FARM

BOARDING STABLES.

HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD

[illegible]

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Stations in New York foot of Liberty street. In Brooklyn—Jewell's Wharf, foot of Fulton street.

ARRANGEMENT COMMENCING JAN. 29, 1883.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

[illegible]

For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

[illegible]

Westward Connections

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

[illegible]

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

[illegible]

New York & Philadelphia-New Line.

BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

[illegible]

RETURNING.

[illegible]

H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between Mary Ann Hall, complainant, and [illegible], defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF MARCH, A. D. 1883,

[illegible]

THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.

Willard P. Voorhees, Sol'r.

[illegible]

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, [illegible], will expose for sale at public vendue, on the premises, in the city of Plainfield, county of Union, and State of New Jersey, on

MONDAY THE TWELFTH DAY OF MARCH NEXT,

[illegible]

THEODORE M. FRENCH,

Administrator.

Dated Jan. 3, 1883.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Dec. 4th, 1882.

Joseph T. Tail, administrator of John Burke, deceased.

[illegible]

JAS. J. GERBER,

Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Jan. 2d, 1883.

Andrew J. Ryno, the Executor of Jonathan Dobbins deceased.

[illegible]

JAMES J. GERBER,

Surrogate.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of NATHAN ROGERS, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty first day of March next.

ELIAS R. POPE.

[illegible]

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given [illegible]

MARY A. STILLMAN.

JAMES E. BYERS.

[illegible]

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given [illegible]

LEWIS W. GEIKEN[?].

[illegible]

ADMINISTRATRIX SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given [illegible]

CLARA E. GROSS.

[illegible]

R. W. MAHAFFEE'S

EXPRESS.

Furniture & Goods Removed

[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

JAMES K. ARNOLD,

GROCER,

Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

Jas. M. Dunn,

Dealer in

GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,

Vegetables, Fruits, etc.

JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED

SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR.

No. 36 Park Ave.

OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

Special Notice!

We close at 8 p. m. sharp; having only 14 hours a day for business, we offer our

ENTIRE STOCK

OF

Farming Utensils

AND

House Furnishing Goods

At reduced prices, the cost, as we must do as much now in 14 hours as we formerly did in a whole day's work.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS of TIN WARE

To be closed out within the next 30 days.

PLOWS AND HARROWS AT COST.

BERRY & THORN.

Furnaces and Ranges,

STOVES, PUMPS, SINKS.

Gas Fixtures, Etc.

TIN, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.

Tin Roofing and Jobbing!

Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.

Apply to

D. W. LITTELL,

No. 8 North avenue, Plainfield.

D. M. FERRY & CO'S
SEED ANNUAL
FOR 1883
D. M. FERRY & CO. DETROIT MICH.

COLEMAN

Business

COLLEGE, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY.

10 minutes of New York. Positions for all worthy graduates. Life scholarship, $40. Write for circulars.

COLEMAN & PALMS, Proprietors.

FREE [illegible]

PURE INDIA TEAS

From the Districts of ASSAM, CHITTAGONG, CACHAR, KANGRA VALLEY, DARJEELING, DEHRA DOON, and others. Absolutely Pure. Superior in Flavor. The Most Economical. [illegible] Sold by all Grocers. JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO., Agents of the Calcutta Tea Syndicate, 130 Water St., N. Y.

PARKER'S

HAIR BALSAM.

This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. It contains materials only that are beneficial to the scalp and hair and always

Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair

Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching. Hiscox & Co., N.Y. 50c. and $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs and medicines.

PARKER'S

GINGER TONIC

A Superlative Health and Strength Restorer.

[illegible]

FLORESTON

[illegible]

Hiscox & Co.

[illegible]

COLOGNE.

NOTICE!

The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office, No. 33 PARK AVE,

A. VANDERBEEK,

C. O. P.

Park Avenue Bakery

JOHN WALKER, Prop'r

FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,

And all Varieties of

Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

P. P. VanArsdale,

PIANO TUNER.

[illegible]

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1883. No. 8

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors.
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("[illegible] Building"),
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 1 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor adjoining [illegible] Building.
Terms—$2.00 a Year in advance.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTIN'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
[illegible] - - - Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.

FRENCH BRO'S,
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FLOUR, FEED, MEAL, HARD WOOD AND LUMBER,
[illegible] Street, Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 26 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

GEORGE R. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wool, Sheep Skins & Tallow.
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Scraps, for sale Cheap only for Cash.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds,
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
Cor. PARK AVE. AND SECOND ST., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. E. HUMMER.

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET,
ESTABLISHED, - - - 1860.
BREAD, CAKES, PIES, CONFECTIONERY, &c. made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention.

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Fleming's Hotel) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—Madison Av., South Plainfield.
5th house from Somerset St.—left hand side.
Information imparted as regards present and future events, likewise Marriages, Journeys, Lawsuits, &c. She converses in English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed.
My husband is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c., cheap for cash.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 28 Park Ave.,
[NEAR SECOND STREET.]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works.
Monuments & Headstones.
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders delivered and set up. L. MANNING.
Front St., next to R. R. Co., Plainfield, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y.

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay,
Straw, &c.,
Fence St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Woods a specialty.
Orders left as above, or addressed to P. O. BOX 98, will receive prompt attention.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS,
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Duer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All goods delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
Thankful for past favors I solicit a continuance of the same.

HENRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.
No. 14 East Second Street,
Bet. Peace St. and Park Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also Bottler of [illegible] Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and [illegible] Lager Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it as all-curing as a cooling and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, families, &c., supplied at the lowest Rates for Strictly pure goods.

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker,
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
McIntyre's Building, Plainfield, N. J.,
(P. O. Box, 818.)
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

BENTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures.
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. 3d St. & Madison Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL,
[illegible] Place, North Plainfield.
[illegible]

H[illegible]

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

THE FINEST WHISKEY ever offered for sale in Plainfield can be had at E. P. THORN'S. All those wanting a pure and very old Whiskey for Family and Medicinal use are invited to test it.
Also, a very fine Ale at $1.25 per dozen.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agency for Ulman, Goldsborough & Fordan's Whiskey, Wilson & Afrian Club Whiskies, Bottled Expressly for Family use. Also a full line of Asher, Martin & Gassing's Whiskies and Wines.

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 38 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the travelling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with the Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Callender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours.

SMITH'S Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
Blatz's Old Stand, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Elderberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine, and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Also, Ales, Liquors, Segars.
Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 9 to 1.

UNION BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND ST.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Delaney Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour.

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 1 EXCHANGE PLACE,
FIVE DOORS WEST FERRY, JERSEY CITY.

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield. P. O. Box 1[illegible]. Families supplied with Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel and old Post-office delivered free of charge.

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
BART MOORE. SAMUEL GOODHALE,
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and is furnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the travelling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
Brunswick, Balke & Co., Celebrated Pool and Carom tables.
Soothing and temperance drinks, such as Lemonade, Sarsaparilla, Soda Water, &c., also segars dispensed over the bar.
Orders taken and chances for [illegible] the [illegible] with [illegible].

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate Agent!
[illegible] ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Money Loaned and Collections Made and prompt returns.
[illegible]

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD are cordially invited to visit the
Plainfield Academy for Boys,
[illegible] street, inspect the new building, and see the working of the school.
GERMAN, Natural Method, Daily at [illegible].
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French .... $[illegible]
Elementary Department, all least German and French .... [illegible]
Primary Department, without German and French .... [illegible]
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for ladies and gentlemen, by the Natural Method, meet in the afternoon and evening.
Principals—[illegible], J. C. Lowbecke, Ph. D. (of [illegible] University). With experienced assistants.
For information apply at the Academy, or address lock Box 118.

Craig Place School.
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. AUSTIN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Yara.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & Domestic
SEGARS!!
No. 22 PARK AVE. (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 11 PARK AVENUE.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco, Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

MILLINERY.

MRS. P. DUNN,
HAS THE LATEST STYLE OF
Millinery, Bonnets, Hats, Ect.
BLEACHING AND PRESSING Done at short notice. Feathers curled and Dyed. [illegible]
14 West Front street.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mme. Donne, 509 Broadway, N. Y.

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Stillman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

HOTELS, ETC.

LAING'S HOTEL,
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH R. MILLER, - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates.
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS GEISE'S
RESTAURANT
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
15 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for Ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style.

Accommodation Express.
PETER RICKERT, Prop'r. OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Cor. Cherry St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. The Accommodation Express will attend to the general carting business [illegible]. Delivering Goods or Baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., with care and safety. Prompt attention given to all orders.

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue.
P. O. BOX 266.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
[illegible]

PAINTERS & PAINTERS' SUPPLIES

ESTABLISHED 1858.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
FINE WALL PAPER,
INTERIOR DECORATIONS,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,

LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC. ETC.
321 Canal Street, New York
[Telephone Call—Spring 464.]
GEO. F. BROWN, Plainfield. P. O. Box 1094.

NEW STYLES
WALLPAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTIST COLORS, Etc.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
between Front and 2d Sts., PLAINFIELD N. J.
P. O. BOX, 369.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
in all their branches.
Satisfaction guaranteed on all Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING,
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St.
P. O. BOX, 381.
D. WEAVER. P. WEAVER.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

MISS MAMIE KUNKEL,
(Of Baltimore Maryland)
The Young American Prima Donna,
WILL APPEAR IN PLAINFIELD
During the ensuing Spring for the benefit of a Roman Catholic Charity.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL.
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM 3 TO [illegible].
Dodworth's New Lanciers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. 19th.

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,
(Successor to Geo. Waltz)
No. 6 Somerset St.
BUTCHER,
and dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats of the Finest Quality and at prices consistent with the times.
I will endeavor to please all who favor me with their patronage.

LEWIS & CO.,
Butchers!!
AND DEALERS IN
Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry, Sausage, Hams, Bologna, Head Cheese and Mince Meat.
Park Avenue,
[AT THE OLD STAND.]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

JOHN B. [illegible]

POETRY.

For "The Constitutionalist."

AN IMPOSITION

Forced by [illegible] not by pleasure,
To resort to public press,
[illegible]
By our [illegible], be [illegible].

I come to those, whose greed is
The most money to obtain
For these base deeds, which is
A vile compound of base [illegible].

[illegible] another,
Seek one that's [illegible] for greed,
One that will [illegible] as a brother
And not the [illegible].

So long as they [illegible] in [illegible]
Of this vile [illegible], so you [illegible]:
When to your [illegible] they give [illegible]
Then your [illegible] they'll [illegible].

When they [illegible]—if you're [illegible];
Take the measure [illegible];
It will give you [illegible]
Ere you [illegible].

Thank you of the [illegible]
[illegible] to see this stuff
Think you there's no [illegible]
[illegible].

For pure milk the public pay you,
Pay you largely, for the best
Feed on yours [illegible], still may you,
And we'll see it with a zest.

—Pure Milk.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

"A FOOL FOR LUCK."

'Nothing can be done without money,' said George, pettishly; 'I had a splendid project in my head, but nobody will listen to such a poor fellow as I.'

We were three friends, met together, bewailing the rigors of fortune. Our lamentations, however, took the turn they usually take among companions whose age does not exceed twenty years.

'And I,' said Albert, 'have finished a work which would credit my reputation, could a publisher only be met willing to undertake the expenses of printing.'

'I have asked our principal,' added I, 'to increase my salary, after four years of assiduous service; and he answered that of such clerks he could find as many as he wished for $600 a year.'

'My dear fellows,' interrupted George, 'although we have neither the one nor the other any hope of making a fortune, could we not get the credit of being rich?'

'To what good?' asked I.

'It gives one a position in the world; a large inheritance augments the consideration in which we are held—everything becomes easy.'

'I remember,' was my answer, 'having heard in my childhood of a cousin who went to China and never returned.'

'That is just what we want; we will bring this cousin to life or rather we will kill him. Yes; Louis Meran died in China leaving a fortune valued at $2,000,000, all to his dear cousin, Louis Meran, from attachment to the name.'

We laughed heartily at the joke, of which I thought no more; but my two reckless friends, George and Albert, spread about the tale when we broke up with all the seriousness imaginable.

The next day the people came to compliment me.

It will, of course, be understood that I disavowed all claims; but no one would believe me—my two friends had affirmed the truth of the report.

In vain did I assert that it was all a joke. Many remembered my cousin; some had actually seen him embark. Among the number of these visits was one not the most agreeable.

With the whim of a young man I had some time previously ordered a new frock coat to the new fashion, without having the means of payment; the garment was cut and I yet owed half the bill.

There had been for some time a coolness between my creditor and myself, whose importunities I wished to avoid. The rumor of the legacy made him hasten to find me. Such was the penalty I paid for the foolish pleasantry of my friends.

'Good day, Mr. Snips,' said I, with some embarrassment, as he entered. 'You are come for that ten dollars?'

'Please do not imagine that I am thinking of such a trifle. No, it was for the mourning.'

'What mourning?'

'The mourning for your cousin, sir. Without doubt you want a complete suit.'

'At this time, Mr. Snips, it would be impossible.'

'I hope you do not think of withdrawing your favor from me. Coat, vest and pantaloons black; frock of dark bronze for the morning.'

'I tell you again, I have not received —'

'I entreat you not to speak of money. It will come soon enough,' added the tailor, having already taken out his scissors and passed his measure about me.

I was, in truth, in great want of clothes, and permitted him to continue. No sooner was he gone than another individual entered, who began:

'My dear sir, you must do me a favor. Buy my house. You are rich, very rich—you want real estate. Fifty thousand dollars are nothing for you—only the half of your income, and a present I am in urgent need of money. I expected Hardy to buy it; but he does not decide, and I have some pressing engagements to settle.'

'I buy your house? What folly!'

'It is no folly. It is a safe investment. After some repair, in two years it will be worth double. I have your word,' and he left without giving me time to reply.

So well did he propagate a report of my purchase, that in two hours afterward Mr. Hardy came to me in a great hurry; apparently out of humor.

'You have cut the grass from under my feet, sir,' said he, on entering; 'I cannot do without that house, and thought it was already mine, as I had made an offer of $49,000, believing that the owner would surely come to my terms. But there is no hope of starving you into an agreement; so, without further preamble, I come to offer you an advance of $15,000 upon your bargain.'

Fifteen thousand dollars coming—I know not how—to me, who had as much trouble in earning my eight hundred dollars of salary as clerk. Although but little acquainted with business, I saw the advantage to be derived from my position and replied.

'It is impossible, sir, for me to give you answer at this moment; return at five o'clock; meantime I will consider the matter.'

At a quarter before the appointed hour, Mr. Hardy was again at my door.

'Sir,' said I, 'I had no wish for that house, and did not even think about it, when the proprietor came to beg me to purchase it; and as it appears that the house is salable. As it suits you and any other will do as well for me, I accept your offer.'

'You shall be paid in a fortnight,' exclaimed the purchaser, delighted by my promptitude in business.

I was so delighted I wrote to Messrs. Biggs and Bergeret that, having certain funds to invest, I begged their advice as to the safest mode. It appeared that 'certain funds' have very different acceptations in commerce, according to the name and position of him who uses them. None of my inheritance had reached them. 'Certain funds,' situated as I was, was a modest way of specifying a considerable sum—at least I supposed so receiving an answer from the first that my letter had been received just before the close of the Pacific Railroad loan, in which they had purchased to the amount of $200,000; that if I thought it too much, a large profit might be easily realized, as the stock had gone up. A postscript in the hand of the of the principal congratulated me on the possession of fortune.

Two hundred thousand dollars! The letter fell from my hands; the amount frightened me. I wrote instantly informing them that so large a sum went beyond my means, adding that no remittances having been received from China, as they supposed, I was unable to satisfy their claims.

The answer came in a day or so, stating that, as I did not appear to have confidence in the Pacific Railroad, they had sold out my stock at a profit of $80,000, and begged me not to feel uneasy, as remittances always came slow from China; in the interim my signature would furnish me all the money I could want. The prospectus of a bank was inclosed, in which shares had been secured me.

Eighty thousand dollars! Either I understood nothing of commercial matters or the clerk had made one or more noughts too many. My situation became embarrassing; congratulations overwhelmed me. I was besieged with annoying questions. How would I finish my house? What would I do for public establishments? Some benevolent ladies wrote to recommend to my notice the benevolent institutions under their guardianship. I would have been ruined in postage but for the lucky stroke with Mr. Hardy, which I did not receive for a fortnight after, until which time, indeed, I had no money. Fortunately, from the moment I was held to be rich, no one would take a cent from me, and tradesmen courted the honor of giving me credit.

Having received Mr. Hardy's check I went to my bankers, who received me as the inheritor of great wealth.

'I regret,' said Mr. Bergeret, 'that you mistrust the Pacific Railroad investment, for the stock has again gone up. But no matter, you have some left.'

'Will you have the goodness,' said I, 'to tell me how much all these funds are worth which you have bought for me?'

'The calculation is easy. Two hundred thousand dollars, at so much the dollar—and the sum already paid. If you sell to-day you will put about two hundred and twenty thousand dollars in your pocket.'

I open both my ears.

'You say two hundred and twenty thousand. Are you quite certain?'

'As certain as any one can be, within a few hundred dollars.'

I did not wish to appear too much the novice, and replied.

'That is well. You spoke also of a bank?'

'Yes; the establishment of this bank has met with some difficulties; but the affair is not the less good. We are on the eve of terminating it, and the scrip is well up.'

'Could that also be sold?' I inquired.

'You hold fifty shares,' replied the banker, 'which have advanced four hundred and fifty dollars, making altogether nearly sixty thousand dollars.'

'Although as yet I have paid nothing?'

'Without a doubt,' was the answer.

'That is singular; but since you say so, I submit. I should like to make a safe investment of the whole; will you be so kind as to specify one?'

'Our four per cents, sir—our four per cents—I know of nothing safer. I can easily understand that all these little matters worry you. You will soon have to deal with much larger sums.'

'By placing all that I hold, except this draft, in four per cents, I should have an income of—'

'About $12,000.'

'How soon can this investment be made and the bonds purchased for me?'

'Oh, to-morrow, if you confide the transaction to our house.'

'That of course,' was my rejoinder. 'What other could inspire me with so great a degree of confidence?'

The banker bowed.

Will it be believed? In the midst of all these treasures, I felt a certain embarrassment in asking for a small sum, of which I stood in the greatest need; for, I had in my pocket but one dollar and some silver. Such, however, was the force of habit, that I could scarcely believe myself possessed of more than my little annuity, which was not yet due.

'Dare I ask,' I inquired with a blush almost of shame on my cheek—'can I, with discretion, beg you to advance me for the moment a small sum?'

'Eh, my dear sir, my safe is entirely at your disposal. How much do you want—three, four—ten thousand dollars?'

'I do not ask so much; a thousand will be sufficient.'

'Will you have it in gold or notes? Call the cashier. May I beg you,' said the banker, leading the way as I rose to depart, 'may I beg you to continue your good-will to our house?'

'Certainly, sir—you well deserve it,' I replied, with a confidence which the certainty of possessing an income of $12,000 began to give me.

* * * * * * * *

Truth, however, always comes out. Some that were on the watch were surprised that nothing arrived from China, well-advised people shook their heads when speaking of me. The edifice so quickly raised tumbled down with equal rapidity.

'The best of it is,' said some, 'he has ended by falling into the snare which he laid for others. For my part I never believed in it.'

I comprehended that the storm had broken out, on finding one day a dozen notes on my table. They were nearly all in the style of the first one I opened;

'Mr. Grig presents his respectful compliments to Mr. Meran, and having an urgent need of money, begs that he will be so good as to pay, in the course of the day, the little account which he has the honor to inclose.'

My answers were all alike:

'Mr. Meran thanks Mr. Grig for the bill which has been so long asked for, and sends the amount.'

One letter only contained no request for money; it was from a friend whom I had almost forgotten. Fearing that I had been duped, he wrote to lend me five hundred dollars should I wish to remove from a place where so many rumors were [illegible] prejudicial to my character. My reply gave the necessary explanation, which I subjoin: 'I was rich, not by my inheritance in which I never believed, but because it was determined, in spite of my protestations, that I should be rich—I scarcely know how. That is what I wish you to say to those who talk of me. I owe more than fortune to my singular situation, since it has secured me a friend upon whom I may count in adversity, should it ever visit me.'

I quietly took my place in society as possessor of an income of $12,000 and still keep it.

For "The Constitutionalist."

BLUE LAWS OF CONNECTICUT.

A STORY OF HISTORY COPIED BY [illegible].

In the days of which I am writing (about 1825), a more strict and outward regard was paid to the Sabbath (Sunday) in the State of Connecticut than at the present. If a man was seen riding horseback or in a carriage on Sunday before sun-down, a tithing man, a deacon of the church, or a grand juryman was sure to arrest him, and unless he could show that sickness or some other case of necessity induced him to come out, he was fined the next day.

The mail stage from New York to Boston was permitted to run on the Sabbath, but in no case permitted to take passengers. Sometimes the cupidity of the New York agent would induce them to book travelers through Connecticut on the holy (?) day, but nearly every meeting house had its sentinel on the lookout and it was very difficult for a driver to escape being arrested if he had one or more persons in the coach. In that case the driver, horses, stage, mail and passengers were obliged to "lie to" until Monday morning, when driver and passengers must each pay a fine before being permitted to depart.

On one occasion Oliver Taylor and Benjamin Hoyt, a brace of wags from Bethel, were in New York and as the way bill was filled for several week days ahead, they went to the stage office, No. 21 Broadway, early on Sunday morning and asked to be carried that day to Norwalk, Connecticut. "It can't be done," peremptorily replied the stage agent. "It is very important," responded Oliver, "My wife is sick and children very ill at Bethel and I must reach home before to-morrow morning."

"And my mother isn't expected to live the day out," meekly added Squire Ben, with a face considerably elongated.

"It won't do, gentlemen: these periodical sicknesses are excessively prevalent and I am wonderfully sorry for you, but we have been stopped, fined, and our mail detained several times this year in your State. We are decidedly sick of it and will carry no more passengers in Connecticut on Sunday," was the prompt reply.

"They are not as strict now as they were formerly," urged Mr. Taylor.

"Not half," added Mr. Hoyt.

"Formerly!" exclaimed the agent, "why, it is only two weeks since we were arrested in Stamford."

"Yes, and it cost me eleven dollars besides the detention," added the proprietor, who had just stepped in.

"Now, sir," said Mr. Taylor, addressing the proprietor, "our business is urgent; we are Connecticut men and know Connecticut laws and Connecticut deacons—yes, and how to dodge them to. We will pay you ten dollars for our passage to Norwalk, and whenever we pass through a Connecticut village we will lie down on the bottom of the stage, and then your vehicle, being apparently empty, will pass through unmolested."

"Will you do this promptly as you pass through each Connecticut village?" asked the smiling proprietor.

"Positively," was the reply of Hoyt and Taylor.

"Well, I don't think it any sin to dodge your Yankee blue laws and I will take you on those conditions," responded the stage man.

The passage money was paid, the two valises were snugly packed under the seats, and their two owners were as snugly seated in the mail coach.

"Remember your promise, gentlemen, and dodge the Yankee deacons," said the stage proprietor, just as the driver flourished his long whip, and the horses started off on a galop.

The passengers nodded a willing assent.

Messrs. Taylor and Hoyt knew every inch of the road. As the stage approached the Connecticut line they prepared to stow themselves away. Just before reaching Greenwich they both stretched themselves upon their backs on the bottom of the coach. The agents of the law gospel were on the look-out. The driver's face assumed a most innocent look, the apparently empty stage "passed muster," and was permitted to pass along unmolested. A straight faced deacon remarked to the tithing man: "I guess them 'are Yorkers have concluded it don't pay to send their passengers up this way on the Lord's Day." The tithing man nodded his satisfaction.

At Stamford the game of "hide and seek" was successfully repeated. At Darien, which is within six miles of Norwalk, where our passengers were to leave the stage and take their chances for reaching Bethel about twenty miles north, they once more laid down upon their backs and the driver, assuming a demure look, let his horses take a slow trot through the village.

"Now, Ben," said Taylor, "I'm to give the deacon a chance, fine or no fine," and instantly he thrust his feet at a tempting distance out of the side window of the coach.

"Oh, for Heaven's sake, draw in your feet," exclaimed Hoyt in horror, as he saw the pair of boots sticking a couple of feet (no pun intended) out of the window.

"Couldn't think of such a thing," quietly responded Taylor with a chuckle.

"But we agreed to hide and now you are exposing the stage driver as well as ourselves," urged the conscientious and greatly alarmed Hoyt.

"We agreed to lie down on our backs and are doing it flat enough, but my legs want stretching and they must have it," was the mischievous reply.

They were opposite the village church and the poor driver, unconscious of the grand display his passengers were making, carried his head high up as much as to say, "you may look, gentlemen, but it is no use."

A watchful deacon, horror-stricken at beholding a pair of boots with real legs in them, emerging from the stage window, hallooed to the driver to stop.

"I'm empty and shan't do it," responded the [illegible], with a look of injured innocence.

"You have got a passenger and must stop," replied the deacon.

The driver, turning towards the body of the coach, was alarmed at seeing a pair of legs dangling out of the window, and with a look of dismay, instantly jerked his horses' reins, giving the horses a half-dozen [illegible]. They struck into a quick gallop just as the deacon's hand had reached within a foot of the leader's bridle. The coach [illegible] the deacon, half knocked him over and was soon beyond his reach.

The frightened driver applied the lash with all his might, continually bawling, "draw in them infernal boots!"

A double ha! ha! of laughter was all the satisfaction he received in reply to his commands and, Jehu-like the team dashed ahead until not a house was in sight.

The driver then reined in his horses and began remonstrating with the passengers.

They laughed heartily and handing him a dollar, bade him be quiet. "In ten minutes it will be sun-down," they added; "you can, therefore, go into Norwalk in safety."

"But they will haul me up in Darien and fine me when I return," replied the driver.

"Don't be alarmed," was the response, "they can't fine you, for no one can swear you had a passenger. Nothing was seen but a pair of legs, and for aught that can be proved, they belong to a wax figure."

"But they moved," replied the driver, still alarmed.

"So does an automaton," responded Mr. Taylor; "so give yourself no uneasiness; you are perfectly safe."

The driver felt somewhat relieved, but as he passed through Darien the next day he had some misgivings.

The deacon, however, had probably reached the same conclusion in regard to the rule and nature of the evidence as had Mr. Taylor, for no complaint was made and the driver was permitted to pass unheeded. His fright, however, caused him to notify his employers, that if they ever sent any more passengers to Connecticut on the Sabbath (Sunday) they might send a driver with them, for he would see them "blowed" before they would catch him in another such scrape.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

True worth is void of glory.

Slumber not in the tents of your columns. The world is advancing, advance with it.

The love of glory can only create a hero; the contempt of it creates a greater man.

Next to an effeminate man there is nothing so disagreeable as a mannish woman.

Moderation is the silken string running through the pearl chain of all virtues.

Modesty is to worth what shadows are in paintings; she gives it strength and relief.

Nature goes on her own way; all that to us seems an exception, is really according to order.

The mind is like a trunk. Well packed it holds almost everything; if ill packed next to nothing.

Take your stand by the altar of truth and be not led or driven thence by sophistry or by ridicule.

Be courageous and noble-minded; our own heart, and no other men's opinion of us, forms our true honor.

Common sense does not ask an impossible chessboard, but takes the one before it and plays the game.

We think, our civilization is near its meridian, but we are yet only at the cock-crowing and the morning star.

Nothing makes the world seem so spacious as to have friends at a distance; they make the latitudes and longitudes.

One trade is respectable above another only in consequence of the superior respectability of the class of men engaged in it.

A man of letters is often a man with two natures—one a book nature, the other a human nature. These often clash sadly.

Pleasure may be aptly compared to many very great books, which increase in real value in the proportion they are abridged.

Bad habits are the thistles of the heart, and every indulgence of them is a seed from which will come forth a crop of rank weeds.

The more methods there are in a state for acquiring riches without industry or merit, the less there will be of either in that state.

There were never in the world two opinions alike, no more than two hairs or two grains. The most universal quality is diversity.

If we cultivate home friendship with the assiduity that we give to those outside, they will yield us even richer and fairer returns.

Old age is the night of life, as night is the old age of day. Still, night is full of magnificence; and, for man, it is more brilliant than the day.

To think properly one must think independently, candidly and consecutively; only in this way can a train of reasoning be conducted successively.

Employment, which Galen calls "nature's physician," is so essential to human happiness that indolence is justly considered as the mother of misery.

There never did, and never will, exist anything permanently noble and excellent in a character which is a stranger to the exercise of resolute self-denial.

He that waits for an opportunity to do much at once may breathe out his life in idle wishes, and regret, in the last hour, his useless intentions and barren zeal.

Character is not cut in marble—it is not something solid and unalterable. It is something living and changing, and may become diseased as our bodies do.

Talk to women as much as you can. This is the best school. It is the way to gain fluency, because you need not care what you say, and had better not be sensible.

Nothing so increases reverence for others as a great sorrow to one's self. It teaches one the depths of human nature. In happiness we are shallow and deem others so.

It is manifest that the life of charity toward the neighbor, which consists in doing what is just and right in all our dealings and occupations, leads to heaven but not a life of piety without charity.

Under the laws of Providence, life is a probation; probation is a succession of temptations; temptations are emergencies, and for emergencies we need the preparation and the safeguard of prayer.

We often wonder that our men of wealth do not give more subjects of native interest to our artists, and try to fill their walls with more of the riches of our own rivers, lakes, vales and mountains.

The Christian faith is a grand cathedral, with divinely pictured windows. Standing without, you see no glory, nor can possibly imagine any; standing within, every ray reveals a harmony of unspeakable splendor.

The wise man has his follies no less than the fool; but it has been said that herein lies the difference—the follies of the fool are known to the world, but are hidden from himself; the follies of the wise man are known to himself, but are hidden from the world.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

SPACE	WEEKS. 1	2	3	MONTHS. 1	3	6	12
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Double column ads 25 per cent. advance on above rates.

One column advertisements inserted for one week at 10 cents each.

Net rates for all advertisements and no deviation.

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

CUTS OF CUTENESS.

A BATCH OF LIVELY COMPILED SELECTIONS.

It is always "put up or shut up" with the umbrella.

You can never expect a blacksmith to give up all his vices.

Never ask a woman her age—that is, not that woman. Ask some other woman.

The money lender never neglects his business. He takes all the interest he can in it.

Freckles are not so bad. It is said that one girl does not object to seeing them on another girl's face.

The merchant has scales to sell by and others to buy by. It is a poor rule that cannot work both weighs.

"Almost a bad disaster" is a heading in an exchange. We are now engaged in a wild search for a good disaster.

A New York girl has made $150,000 by a single oil transaction. A can of it exploded and killed her rich aunt lately.

An Athens lady told a young man who was on a visit to her daughter to either talk business or "git up and dust." He travelled.

The Black Hills Placer mine was sold in New York Saturday for $5. We don't know who bought it, but he is out just $5 on his mine.

"A check to poverty" is the title of an article in the Memphis Appeal. Experience has shown that poverty is always relieved by a check.

Another 'largest telescope in the world' has just been erected. It brings the moon so close that the man can be distinctly heard yelling "Don't shoot."

An exchange informs us that a number of speculators in New York are making a "bear" living. We presume the remainder of them are making "bully" living.

A poet in the New York Sun compares Freddie Gebhardt to a goat. This is frightfully absurd, as everybody knows that a goat's weak point is not his head.

A man who holds his opera-glass in both hands with his elbows sticking out on both sides is preferable to a lady with a big hat in the theatre. You can kick the man.

A correspondent wants to know: "If a flea bites a dog, and so enrages the animal that the dog bites a man, can the flea be indicted as an accessory before the fact?"

It is cause for gratitude if Nature has given you a heart of oak, but if she has been over-generous and given you a wooden head also you have little to be thankful for.

Prof. Beal says that celery if packed in cross and placed in a cool spot in the cellar, will retain its flavor and freshness all winter. We imagine it might taste a little cellary.

The young lady who made seven hundred words out of 'conservatory' last fall has run away from home. Her mother wanted her to make three loaves of bread out of 'flour.'

A man who crossed the Atlantic for the first time said he did not think he was much of a sailor at starting, but when he was one day out he felt as if he could heave up the anchor.

A precise father: He did not object to his daughter joining a musical society, but gently insisted that abbreviations were coarse—Philip Harmonic sounds much more genteely, my dear.

In one shoe factory in Lynn are thirty women, all of them divorced wives, and yet every one of them would consider herself insulted should any one insinuate that she is not true to the last.

'Pa, is it right to call a man born in Poland a Pole?' 'Of course, my child.' 'Well, then, if a man is born in Holland, is he a Hole?' 'Tut, tut! I'll answer no more of your silly questions!'

The time o' day; A Syracuse young lady has a peculiar mode of reckoning up time on Sunday. Last Sunday evening about 6 o'clock, when asked what time it was, she replied: "Five minutes of Smith."

Solicitude for the good wife. Wife: 'Can't you take me to the —— restaurant, some evening, my dear?' Husband: 'No, darling, it is disreputable.' Wife: 'Then, dear, why do you bring home its marked napkins in your pockets?'

Judge Tourgee is delivering a lecture on a 'Family of Fools.' We haven't heard it, but presume he refers to the girl who 'kindled a fire with kerosene,' the boy who 'didn't know it was loaded,' and the man who asks: 'Is it cold enough for you?'

Oh, see the girl! Is the girl pretty? Oh, yes, indeed, the girl is pretty. She is very pretty, and she knows it, too. Do all pretty girls know they are pretty? Oh, no, they do not. They never know it until they are told so; that is why a great many homely girls think they are pretty.

'I shan't be gone long,' remarked Juniper as he left the house the other evening. 'Not going anywhere in particular, only going to take air.' 'Be careful that you do not become air tight,' was the injunction of Mrs. J., whose knowledge of Juniper's failing had not begotten confidence.

Romance badly frosted: A Georgia couple waited over four years for a good opportunity to elope, and just as it came the girl's father took the young man by the hand and said: 'Speak up to her, Thomas! I know she loves you, and I'd be tickled to death to have you for a son-in-law!'

The use of proverbs is characteristic of an unlettered people. The common sense of the lower classes is condensed into these terse and convenient phrases, and they pass from hand to hand as the pence and farthings of conversation. They are invaluable treasures to dunces with good memories. They give a semblance of wit to the speech of the dull.

The best things, both in this life and that which is to come, are concealed from us and we are compelled to wait for the manifestations that shall be made to us in the other kingdom. Whatever our intelligence may be while here, it is relatively very slight, and we grow more and to know how "darkly" it is that we see through the interposing glass.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

STATESMEN.

This country could not experience better fortune than to have a Congress controlled by statesmen, not the crowd of political traders of late years seen at Washington playing the role of law-makers, but real statesmen, true representatives of the people, men capable and ready to look with impartial eyes over the whole of our broad land, treating with business intelligence and square-handed justice every interest and pursuit, and rejecting with merited scorn all artfully cloaked schemes for the procurement of class legislation and personal greed, men knowing nothing of greater value than the general public good and doing nothing to retard its permanent growth.

Such are statesmen, genuine statesmen, and whoever claims the title and acts the contrary is a false pretender, unworthy of public confidence.

There are in the present Congress members deserving of honor as national legislators, but, unfortunately, they number comparatively few.

A Congressman who is a statesman will not sit quietly in his seat and see log-rolling and venal lobbyism carried on as a trade, but boldly denouncing every profligate measure and movement, hurt whom it may, he will come to the front the determined enemy of wrong and the fearless champion of right.

You cannot bribe a real statesman, because integrity of purpose with him is a thousand fold dearer than mints of gold.

You cannot allure him from the post of representative duty, for the reason that he has sworn to be a faithful public sentinel, and values an official oath as the solemnly registered decree of an honest God-fearing man.

You cannot force him into dumbness and inactivity, though all the plundering corruptionists in the land howl like angry wolves around his path.

"Very true, but," some say, "the standard thus set up is visionary, men for the public service cannot be found who meet its requirements."

We assert they can readily be found and called forth, and further we declare, that the purity and permanency of free government and the welfare of the people at large demand that such only be chosen.

They are not spoils-seeking professional politicians, and neither are they money possessing and debauching mercenaries, but they are citizens who esteem patriotism far above pelf, whose personal characters are spotless, whose abilities are practical, whose ambition is the faithful discharge of every imposed obligation, and who study the science of government with the sole aim of benefiting the governed, irrespective of class or condition.

Such are statesmen.

They live in every Congressional District.

They, only, are safe representatives of the people and reliable defenders of civil freedom.

DEBTS OF THE STATES.

In addition to the debt of the United States almost every State and city in the Union has an indebtedness, and also a great many of the counties. In a speech delivered a few days ago by Hon. Roswell B. Flower of New York city, in the National House of Representatives, he had numerous tabular statements in regard to such indebtedness, from which we extract the following, being the net debt of each of the States and Territories:

United States	$1,908,584,146
Maine	22,406,850
New Hampshire	16,724,170
Vermont	4,352,168
Massachusetts	91,283,913
Rhode Island	12,102,739
Connecticut	22,091,681
New York	218,723,314
New Jersey	49,547,102
Pennsylvania	114,934,758
Delaware	2,246,585
Maryland	10,896,996
District of Columbia	22,573,459
Virginia	42,099,802
West Virginia	1,513,424
North Carolina	8,194,696
South Carolina	13,245,938
Georgia	19,081,903
Florida	2,626,509
Alabama	14,728,542
Mississippi	2,013,190
Louisiana	42,885,952
Texas	11,894,918
Arkansas	7,936,784
Kentucky	14,877,891
Tennessee	37,387,909
Ohio	48,753,954
Indiana	18,955,737
Illinois	45,189,932
Michigan	5,863,144
Wisconsin	11,865,892
Iowa	7,902,767
Minnesota	8,476,064
Missouri	57,431,222
Kansas	14,063,853
Nebraska	7,425,757
Colorado	3,594,298
Nevada	1,024,323
Oregon	848,302
California	16,775,098
Arizona	377,501
Dakota	998,860
Idaho	233,319
Montana	759,925
New Mexico	84,872
Utah	116,224
Washington	239,211
Wyoming	205,462

CHANGE OF DISTRICTS.

A bill will probably be soon introduced into the Legislature to change the present Congressional districts of New Jersey as follows:

First District—Cape May, Cumberland, Salem, Gloucester, Camden (as at present).

Second District—Atlantic, Burlington, Ocean, Monmouth.

Third District—Mercer, Middlesex, Somerset, Hunterdon.

Fourth District—Union, Morris, Warren, and the townships of Millburn, Livingston, Caldwell and Montclair, in Essex county.

Fifth District—Essex county not contained in Fourth district.

Sixth District—The cities of Bayonne, Hoboken and Jersey City, in Hudson county.

Seventh District—Sussex, Passaic, Bergen, and that part of Hudson county not contained in the Sixth district.

The populations of the districts as proposed above would approximate much nearer than the Congressional districts as at present existing.

The will of the late ex-Governor Edwin D. Morgan provides for bequests to charities to the amount of $795,000. The total value of the estate is estimated at $6,000,000.

The coronation of King Kalakaua at Honolulu, on Feb. 12, was witnessed by about 7,000 persons.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Monday evening last Senator Stainsby's bill to assess personal property where found, the object of which is to benefit municipal governments, inasmuch as it is intended by the bill to tax personal property of individuals not resident, was called up in the Senate, and after considerable discussion, postponed.

The Governor sent in his first veto of Assembly bill, No. 4, entitled "An act respecting cities of the first class, and public schools therein." He asserts that it is special legislation.

The Speaker stated that the special order for the evening was the reports of the Judiciary Committee upon Senate Joint Resolution No. 2 and House Joint Resolution No. 4, permitting the proposed constitutional amendment prohibiting the sale or manufacture of liquor in New Jersey. The minority report was an adverse one and the majority report was favorable.

The motion to substitute the minority report for the majority was lost by a vote of 24 to 35.

The liquor question occupied a large share of the day on Tuesday. Parsons's High License Bill was up on second reading in the House, and attempts were made to amend it, but they failed, and it was ordered to be engrossed for final passage. At the afternoon session the prohibition amendment, which passed the Senate a few days ago, was called in the House on second reading. It provoked a long discussion, and any number of amendments to it were offered. The temperance men held together at the start and defeated every proposition put forward, but they ultimately became demoralized, and the bill was amended so as to be valueless, if not worse. As ordered to a final reading, it contains a clause forbidding not only the manufacture and sale of spirits, but the use, so that no physician can even prescribe it for medicine. Its value is destroyed, and the temperance men are not anxious for it any longer.

OUR SUPREME COURT JUDGES.

Of the Supreme Court of this State, Chief Justice Beasley is the oldest, having been born in 1815. Justice Parker is 66; Justice Scudder 60; Justice Knapp 60; Justice Depue 56; Justice Van Syckel 53; Justice Magie 50; Justice Dixon 43; Justice Reed 43. Judges Beasley, Parker, Scudder, Knapp, Van Syckel, Magie and Reed were born in this State; Justice Depue came from Pennsylvania and Justice Dixon is a native of Liverpool, England.

* * *

The question as to whether licenses to sell liquors in hotels and saloons will be granted by the Common Council of our city, is still a vexed one, as that body failed to grant any such licenses at their meeting last Monday evening. It is unfortunate that such a state of affairs should exist, it being alike detrimental to the business of individuals and the interests of the city. Let us hope that something tangible may come out of the special meeting next Monday evening, which if called, is expressly for the purpose of considering the license question. Repeal the Ward Ordinance and modify the license fee. A little common sense reasoning between members of the Council who favor licenses, would settle the whole matter satisfactorily.

* * *

Now that the question of prohibition is being agitated in this State it may interest our readers to read what a Kansas paper has to say concerning prohibition in that State. The journal referred to says it is impossible to tell whether more whiskey has been sold in Kansas since prohibition than before. It is said that a greater number of internal revenue licenses were issued last year than in any year before. It is very probable that the constitutional prohibition has not lessened the consumption of alcoholic drinks in Kansas. An immense express business in jugs is kept up with Kansas City. The jugs are probably not empty one way.

* * *

There appears to be trouble in the Legislature of Michigan about the election of a United States Senator, charges and counter charges of a corrupt character have been flying around the State Capitol. It is evidently the same game of political rascality which has disgraced the whole country of recent years and commissioned with fraud so many Congressmen. It is time for the people to take the matter in hand, and severely punish any and every man who dares, either directly or indirectly, to pollute the ballot-box.

* * *

By virtue of an act of Congress a one-sided Commission was appointed to review the tariff. The Commissioners spent several months and a vast sum of public money rollicking over the country trying how to avoid reducing special bounties. They finally submitted a report, fashioned after the "chunk wisdom" of Captain Cuttle—"If the ship is not there, she is here, and if she is not here, she is somewhere." Humbugs abound and that Commission was not an odd bird in the flock.

* * *

Ultra Free Trade and ultra Prohibition, though directly opposite, reach the common necessity of imposing direct taxation for the support of government. They are alike impracticable. Equity and honesty dictate a middle course, which is the levying of duties for revenue, and so arranged that healthy encouragement shall be given to every legitimate home industry and enterprise, but that the opportunity of making dictatorial nabobs at the expense of labor shall not exist.

* * *

The absurdity of the present tariff is shown in the fact that, in some instances, crude materials are taxed higher than the articles manufactured therefrom. That is protecting American industry and labor by hitching the horse to the tail of the cart.

* * *

In England the nobility own most of the land and the wealthy classes shape legislation. A similar oppressive system may become deeply rooted in this country unless the people are fully aroused to the selfish designs of monopoly.

* * *

The Government Directors of the Union Pacific Road have transmitted to the Secretary of the Interior their report for the year 1882. They are agreeably surprised by the excellent condition and splendid prospects of the road.

* * *

To make the rich richer and the poor poorer may suit the imperial ruling likes of England, Russia and Austria, but in this realm of personal rights and privileges it is rank, detestable disloyalty.

* * *

The intent of the Constitution of the United States and of the Democratic party finds truthful utterance in the phrase—"the greatest good of the greatest number."

GLEANINGS.

The Township Spring elections will be held two weeks from next Tuesday, March 13th.

The annual reunion of the First New Jersey Brigade (Kearney's) will be held at Newark on April 3d next.

James Tregloan, who shot and drowned Minnie Chiogreto, has been sentenced in Morristown to be hanged on March 21.

Our thanks are due to State Treasurer Wright for a copy of his report to the Governor for the fiscal year ending October, 1882.

People living at Rockaway Beach are much agitated over the tidal wave predicted to arrive between the 9th and 10th of March.

There is to be no St. Patrick's Day parade in Philadelphia, and the money set aside for the purpose will be devoted to charity.

The ninth annual reunion of the surviving members of the Twelfth New Jersey Volunteers will be held at Woodbury on the 22d inst.

The will of the late William E. Dodge, provides for bequests of about $350,000 to benevolent organizations and the total value of the estate is estimated at $5,000,000.

The Mayor of New Brunswick has issued orders for the arrest of certain noisy men and women who disturb the peace of the public under the title of the Salvation Army.

Lieut.-Commander Gorringe says that the principal causes of the Western floods were the destruction of our forests and the obstructions in the river beds near large cities.

Abijah Snedeker, aged 74 years, residing near Old Bridge, Middlesex Co., died suddenly of paralysis on Saturday, while feeding his horses from the haymow, where his body was found.

It is desired that the post office addresses of all ex-Members of the N. J. Legislature and ex-officials of the State be sent at once to Hon. J. H. Neighbour, Secretary of Bi-Centennial Committee, at Trenton or Dover.

Thos. V. Arrowsmith, for fourteen years County Clerk of Monmouth Co., N. J., died Saturday at his home in Freehold. He was about seventy years old, and for many years ran a line of steamboats between New York and Keyport.

A bill has passed the Assembly relieving firemen from taxation to the extent of $5, and also providing that when the tax upon the firemen does not amount to $5 he shall have a certificate for the balance, which would be negotiable.

Garrett S. Boice, President; Edwin E. Shaw, cashier, and John L. Beach, book-keeper, of the failed City Bank of Jersey City, were on Monday last sentenced by Judge Garretson to ten, six and five years' confinement respectively in State Prison.

An effort is being made to have a colored man named Stewart pardoned out of the State Prison. He was convicted of murdering a boy in Gloucester county, by pushing him into the water and was sentenced to State Prison for life and served twenty-two years.

The Israelites of Elizabeth have formed a congregation, "Bnai Israel," and dedicated their synagogue on the 21st inst., Rev. Dr. de Sola Mendes officiating. The congregation consists of 23 members at present, who have subscribed some $4,000 for their place of worship.

A Newark manufacturer is very proud of a medal which was presented to him by his employees. It is made of leather, handsomely finished off. It is a tribute to his parsimony, he alone of the wealthy firms having refused to contribute to a target excursion gotten up by the men.

A sad accident occurred on Tuesday afternoon in the school attached to the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer at No. 198 East Fourth street, New York. A panic was caused by an outbreak of fire. Sixteen little girls lost their lives, and five other children were seriously and a number slightly wounded.

Leroy Kenny, an Irish blue-stone cutter of Brooklyn, is anxious to bet $500 that he can double discount Walton, the quail eater. He says he will eat two brace of quail every day for thirty days—one brace between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning and another brace between 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening.

At the January term of the Morris County Courts, a juror summoned has not once made his appearance except to answer a rule to show cause, issued by Judge Magie. He was fined $25 and costs, the latter amounting to $24.83. This was on Tuesday last, but with this severe experience he has not condescended to answer to his name since, and now a rule has been issued to show cause why he should not again be fined.

Shad fishing has already commenced in Florida, the seventh of February being the date when the season begins in that latitude. Continuing along the coast the season opens in North and South Carolina the beginning of next month. The supply of the southern fish received in the New York and Philadelphia markets is limited as yet. After the tenth of April the catch begins to diminish in the above localities, and the season opens in Maryland and Delaware, followed by that in the Delaware Bay and on the Jersey shore, taking in the Salem, Gloucester, Camden and Burlington fisheries, when the law is off until June 10th. After this date the fish come from the Eastern States, where the season finally ends in July.

The production of pig iron in the United States in 1882 was 4,623,323 gross tons of 2,240 pounds. Our imports for the same year were 540,000 tons. There were 108,203 tons more left over from 1881, and 893,445 tons on hand at the beginning of the present year. Our consumption of pig iron in 1882, therefore, was about 4,967,908 gross tons, which is about 15,000 tons less than was consumed in 1881. The importation of over—half a million gross tons of pig iron—during the last calendar year, is the lamentable feature of this showing. But, instead of trying to secure this hereafter for American labor, Congress seems bent on increasing the number of furnaces out of blast by cutting down the duty on pig iron and inviting still larger importations in 1883.—Philadelphia Press.

COMMUNICATED.

Temperance or Prohibition.

The question, whether man should be restricted by laws in the use of certain things or whether he should be restrained from the privilege of manufacturing or selling a certain article or articles is not entirely a new idea. The state of Maine started it in this country—others have followed. The state of Iowa, through its highest authority—the Supreme Court—declares that prohibitory laws are unconstitutional. The state of New Jersey is, or soon will be, called on to act upon the same question.

A certain class in the community become imbued with and possessed of a certain idea. They continue to attempt to proselyte, to make new converts to this certain idea, with a result more or less successful. Does it naturally follow that they are correct—that the truth remains with them alone? If people are to be forced to follow such an opinion and to be compelled, by laws enacted for such purpose, to believe in the doctrines of any particular sect or society, then does not the boasted liberty of religious and political opinion, so emphatically set forth in the Declaration of Independence and promised to each citizen by the Constitution of these United States, fall to the ground and become a nullity? Would any legislature be justified in passing a law compelling any citizen to become a "Millerite," or a "Swedenborgian," or a "Rationalist," or a "Nihilist," or a "Mohammedan," or anything else? The answer to such a query, could it be placed before the people of this country so that their voices could be heard and their wishes regarded, would be unanimous, and it would be "no!" Then, believing as Christians do that "Mohammedanism" is unworthy of belief and therefore should not be forced upon anyone, why should any other doctrine not advocated by the Holy Scriptures be forced by legal enactments upon a people supposed to be civilized?

"Temperance," as defined by the best authorities, means, simply, moderation. Because certain [illegible] desirous, no doubt, of doing good have been misled, have perverted the meaning of the word and have been and are still trying to convert others to their belief because they imagine that they are right and that consequently all others not agreeing with them must be wrong, does it follow that force shall be used to constrain others to adopt their creeds? Christianity teaches that "moral suasion" is the only power. When so-called Christians commence to convert plowshares into swords, then they become fanatics and are no longer worthy of trust. So it is with the mis-called "Temperance Societies." Those belonging to these societies forget that they are slurring the reputation of their ancestors, who believed in "temperance" but not in "prohibition," who were willing to concede to their fellow-men the privilege of liberty of thought and action, restraining them by moral precepts and influence only.

The citizens of this state may be asked to vote upon this question before long. Let them bear in mind the fact that "prohibition" of one thing may mean "prohibition" of something else. If they have the power to say to one part of the community that they shall not manufacture or sell one certain thing, regardless of what it may be, they also have the power to say that they shall not be allowed to manufacture or sell any other article which "prohibitionists" may decide upon. Such power would be tyranny. We are taught that "all men are born free and equal" and that the purpose of the government is to protect everyone in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." What becomes of equality and liberty when the government has the power to dictate in what business one shall embark? Neither will exist and the Republic is at an end. As well establish a censorship of the "Press," such as exists in despotic countries, whereby no one is allowed to express an opinion different from that of the few in power.

We have already too much legislation; too many laws are made which are not enforced. We require laws only to protect law-abiding citizens from the encroachments of knaves and to properly carry on the Government. Let no other laws be made.

T.

Seth Green's Offer to Fish Breeders.

Seth Green thus writes to the N. Y. World:

SIR: We have at the New York State Hatchery at Caledonia a large supply of brook trout, salmon trout and California trout fry for distribution. In addition to these we shall have the mature black bass, Oswego bass, rock bass, Wall-eyed pike, bull heads and yellow perch. All persons desiring fish for the purpose of stocking the public waters in this State should apply at once. It is necessary for us to have a close time, and the time expires March 1. Waters suitable for brook trout, salmon trout and California trout should be replenished each year or the supply must decrease in proportion to the drain on the waters. To keep lakes and streams well stocked it is necessary, as the old ones are caught and killed off, that a supply of young should be maturing to take their places, the same as the farmer keeps up his supply of chickens and sheep. With the mature fish above mentioned if the waters already contain them it is useless to put in more, as with proper protection they will keep up their own supply.

Address

SETH GREEN, Rochester, N. Y.

Rochester, February 17.

* * *

The annual meeting of Stockholders of the Hunterdon County Agricultural Society was held on Saturday, the 17th inst., and the following officers and directors were elected to serve for the ensuing year, viz:

President—Johnathan Higgins.
Vice Presidents—Caleb F. Fisher and John L. Jones.
Secretary—John L. Connet.
Corresponding Secretary—Willard C. Parker.
Treasurer—John H. De Mott.
Directors—F. S. Holcomb, David Van Fleet, Joseph Haines, Simpson S. Stout, John H. Rockafeller, Michael Shurts, O. B. Davis, David Schomp, Louis A. Exton, James M. Duckworth, Augustus Blackwell, John B. Hopewell, Alex. Probasco, Hiram Moore.

Some fine samples of grain, fruit and other farm products were exhibited by Judge Holcombe and Nathan Stout.

The propriety of reducing the checks drawn by Stockholders during the Fair, from three to one, was discussed at length, and a vote taken showed a majority of those present to be in favor of such reduction.

Last year and the year before being unsuccessful to the Society, a mortgage for $1,000 to meet expenses was put upon the property a few months ago, making the debt now upon the grounds about $5,000.—Hunterdon Democrat.

* * *

MR. W. H. Force, of the County Hotel, will forego his annual hog killing carnival this year, he having sold his crop to a Mr. Fritz, of Plainfield, who has removed his porkers to that place for butchering. There are eleven in the lot, extra fine ones all of them, and good judges estimate their weight at 5,000 pounds. In our next issue we will give their exact weight.—Hunterdon County Democrat.

* * *

ORDINANCES are made for the new [illegible] of the [illegible] that they [illegible] sell their [illegible], and by the [illegible] of a [illegible] would be [illegible] on the [illegible] a five dollar [illegible].

WESTFIELD WEFTS.

Rev. Joseph Greaves officiated at the services in the Baptist church on Sunday last.

The father of E. S. Mapes, Esq., who has been very sick for some time is improving in health.

J. M. French's new residence on Jerusalem road is rapidly approaching completion. He expects to occupy it about April first.

Elizabeth, wife of Michael Corcoran, died on Tuesday, of pneumonia. Her burial occurred on Thursday. Interment at Plainfield, N. J.

D. W. Lanne, residing on Mountain ave., expects to leave our town with his family about the first of March for the state of Kansas. He intends to go into stock raising.

Chas. A. Kimball, who formerly resided here and kept the Hotel livery stables, expects to remove from New York city to his house on Mountain Avenue about the first of April next.

On Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian Church lecture room the panorama of Bunyan's Pilgrim Progress, with descriptive lecture by Rev. Adam Chambers, was given for the benefit of the Locust Grove school.

On Sunday, John D. Long, residing on First street, while out walking, his valuable dog following him was taken with a fit of madness, frothing at the mouth and other signs of hydrophobia. The dog was shot by William Still.

The Rev. Mr. Honeyman, of Plainfield, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning last in the absence of its pastor, the Rev. N. W. Cadwell, who was confined to his home by sickness. He contracted a severe cold.

It is rumored that one of our hackmen went to New York on Saturday afternoon last to purchase clothing, but was taken in by a sharper and robbed of all his hard earned cash. He had to return minus clothing and money. Countrymen must look sharp when they go to New York.

On Wednesday evening last the ladies of the M. E. Church gave a Martha Washington supper and an entertainment of vocal and instrumental music and dialogues. There was a large attendance of members and friends of the Church. The proceeds were for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society connected with the Church.

At a meeting of the representatives of the several fire companies of our town held on Friday evening last at the office of Dr. Harrison, it was resolved that we organize a fire department under the existing laws. Joseph R. Harrison occupied the chair and John M. C. Marsh, Secretary. The following officers were elected for the first year, or until the annual election in December:

President—Frank R. Pennington.
Vice President—Albert Wilcox.
Secretary—John Hodges.
Treasurer—Frank Bruner.
Collector—Ed. Hart, Jr.
Trustee for 3 years—George W. Peck.
Trustee for 2 years—John A. Manning.
Trustee for 1 year—James T. Pierson.

The Secretary was requested to notify the officers of their election. G. W. Harden and George W. Tice were appointed a committee to have them sign the articles of incorporation. On motion adjourned subject to the call of chairman.

DEATHS.

DUNN—At Elmora, Harold Waite, only child of John W. and Ida Dunn, aged 3 years, [illegible] months and 7 days.

LAING—At [illegible], Friday, Feb. 16th, of heart disease, Phebe B., wife of Smith W. Laing, in the [illegible] year of her age.

VAIL—At Green Brook, Sunday, Feb. 18th, of pneumonia, Rebecca, widow of Ephraim Vail, aged 81 years, [illegible] months and [illegible] days.

WHITE—In Plainfield, Saturday, Feb. 17th, Chas. A. White.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.
A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Black-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c. constantly in stock at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.
Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.
Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
GEO. C. FORD. GEO. M. STILES.

P. CASEY & SON.
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 10 Park avenue (Jules Bontes' Hair Store). Residence, No. 11 Third st., cor. New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
40½ West Front St.
Residence—Front St., opp. Washington Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield.
"General Line of Groceries,"
"Gem" a New Process Flour,
Goods Delivered to any part of the city.

Corporation Notice.
Any citizen of Plainfield who at any time may observe any of the street lamps unlighted, at a time when they should be lighted, are requested to report the same to the Committee on Fire, Water and Lamps of the Common Council.
KARL T. POLAK, Chairman.
By order of the Common Council.
Feb. 19, 1883.

Applications for Liquor License.
Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 16, 1883.
[illegible]
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 9, 1883.
[illegible]
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Carney Bros.,
NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.
Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.
PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.
[illegible]
RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.
—SANITARY PLUMBING—

HENRY HAURAND,
(Successor to Fred. Carples).
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Somerset street, North Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box, 1331.
Fine Lager Beer Bottled
Expressly for Family use.
All orders delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

East Front street Property To Let.
[illegible]

NOTICE!
The Annual Meeting of the Plainfield Mutual Assurance Fire Company will be held at Association Hall, No. 9 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, N. J., on Monday, March 12th, 1883, for the purpose of electing fifteen Directors for the ensuing year. Polls open from 4 to 5 o'clock, p. m.
WALTER HETFIELD, Secretary.
Plainfield, February 21st, 1883.

For Sale to Close an Estate,
Two Hundred Acre Farm!
Beautifully located in New Jersey, near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, one hour and a quarter from New York, on high ground, commanding extensive views.
Well calculated for Stock Raising, Dairy purposes or a Gentleman's Residence.
[illegible]
A fine opportunity to purchase an elegant country home at a bargain. Address, JAMES S. CLARK, Executor, P. O. Box 436, New York city, or CODDINGTON & COMPTON, Rahway.

For Sale or Exchange!
[illegible]

SHERIFF'S SALE.—Union county Circuit court.—Between Theodore C. English, Administrator, etc., of William Hunt, deceased, plaintiff, and Albert Wilcox, [illegible] and Harvey Wilcox, [illegible], defendants. Fi. fa. de bonis et terris.
By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF MARCH, A. D., 1883, at two o'clock, p. m., of said day, all the right, title and interest of the above named defendants in and to all that tract or parcel of land and premises, hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of Westfield, county of Union and state of New Jersey.
[illegible]
THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.
J. H. & N. English, Attorneys.

WANTS and INFORMATION
[illegible]

MARYLAND FARMS—Book and Map free, by C. E. SHANAHAN, Att'y, Easton, Md.

COAT—Wanted, [illegible]

WANTED—In Plainfield, about May first, a moderate size, modern house, with separate kitchen. Good neighborhood and within easy walking distance to Station. Rent about $300. Address with particulars, H. D. Smith, P. O. Box 125, New York city.

PART of a house to let very cheap to a small respectable family. Short distance out of town. Inquire at this office.

LOOK HERE!—[illegible]

TO LET—A house and lot at No. 18 East Seventh street, [illegible]

TO LET—A first-class barn and stable in central location. [illegible]

TO RENT—Completely furnished, or for sale, the elegant residence and large grounds of the late James M. Taylor, corner Central avenue and Ninth street, Plainfield, New Jersey. [illegible]

HOUSE WANTED—April 1st, in Plainfield or North Plainfield preferred. [illegible]

FOR RENT—Furnished house, [illegible]

FOR SALE—[illegible]

AN OLD ESTABLISHED PHOTOGRAPH [illegible]

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Plainfield, N. J. [illegible]

BOARD AT 18 EAST FRONT STREET—[illegible]

GRANDFATHER CLOCKS—[illegible]

PIANOS FOR SALE—[illegible]

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET [illegible]

BOARD can be had [illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S
BARGAINS!
February Fourteenth!
BARGAINS
IN COLORED
SATINS!
ONLY
Fifty-Seven Cents
PER YARD.
Former Price, 87 Cents.
G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

HORSES & MULES!
Fresh Arrivals Every Week!
CONSISTING OF Phaeton Ponies,
Coachers,
Trotters,
Drivers,
Saddlers,
Workers—Large and Small.
MULES OF ALL KINDS!
Low priced Horses not suitable for pavements, from $75 to $150.
To select from all the Time!
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED!
Horses delivered to any part of the State.
PRICES REASONABLE!
John W. Morris,
Rector st., Newark, New Jersey.

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.
All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing
Made to Order and Ready Made.
From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boy's. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing
Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Y. M. C. A. COURSE!
WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.
READINGS AND MUSIC!
By Charles Roberts, Jr.,
The Well-Known Elocutionist,
AND DILLER'S CLASSICAL CORNET QUARTETTE,
Of Graffulla's Seventh Regiment Band.
IN THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH,
Thursday, Feb. 22, 1883.
PROGRAMME.
GRAND QUATUOR. - - Henselt.
Recitative—Moderato, Scherzo, Adagio and Finale.
Diller's Classical Cornet Quartette.
Messrs. Hammond, Schlig, Breitenbach and Diller.
READINGS, By Mr. Charles Roberts, Jr.
"The Hat," a monologue, —
"The Hostage." - Schiller.
"An Autumnal Reverie," —
"Como." - Joaquin Miller.
MUSIC. a) "Farewell to the Forest," - Mendelssohn.
b) "Romanza," "Tannhauser." - Wagner.
c) "The Wanderer," - Fesca.
Diller's Cornet Quartette.
READINGS, By Mr. Roberts.
"The Irish Philosopher." - Maccabe.
"Shipwrecked." - Coppee.
"A cure for Rheumatism." - Burdette.
MUSIC. a) "Within a mile of Edinboro." - Scotch.
b) "Wait till the Clouds Roll By." - Fulmer.
"Hail Columbia."—Diller's Cornet Quartette.
Admission, - - - - - - 50 Cents.
Reserved Seats, - - - - - 75 "
Seats may be secured at Reynolds' Pharmacy.

Last Chance to buy a Bed-room Suit Cheap!
DON'T FORGET THE AUCTION
Sale of Carpets, Beds, Bedding, etc.,
at the Mansion House, on
Monday Evening next,
The Twenty-sixth instant, at 7 p. m.
Sales will be held every Monday,
same hour and place until all is sold.

A. VANDERBEEK,
(Chautauqua Building.)
No. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
DEALER IN
Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments,
Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

JUST IN STOCK!
FALL Hats FALL Hats
LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S.
Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.
Robes and Horse Blankets closing out at Cost!
Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices.

Taylor's Market!
NO. 24 PARK AVENUE.
Fresh Fish of All Kinds.
Now is the time to lay in your
SUMMER LARD,
At Thirteen Cents per pound by the Tub.
FINE BUTTER—LOW PRICES.
Try Taylor's [illegible]
E. J. RANDOLPH, Manager.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY
TO GET A
Life Size Crayon Portrait
In free hand for the unprecedented small sum of Twelve Dollars!
By the well-known artist,
SIDNEY E. FLOWER,
Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 30 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo. or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Hand in orders early at Studio or Kent's bookstore, for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

JOHN E. CLARK, [illegible]

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

To Our Advertisers.

Regular advertisers entitled to a "change of advertisement," must hand in the same not later than Wednesday noon of each week, to insure insertion in the coming issue.

The above regulation is peremptory, and if so understood will be fully as convenient to advertisers, and immeasurably more so to

Their Obedient Servants,
THE PUBLISHERS.

On for an Opera House!

Most of our delinquent subscribers are paying up. Let the good work go on!

An Evening in Wonderland—William I. Marshall will lecture here March 29th.

Our next week's paper will give particulars of William I. Marshall's lecture.

The Rev. J. L. Hurlbut will preach next Sunday morning in the Methodist Episcopal church.

Gov. Ludlow has approved the bill increasing the pay of Commissioners of Appeals in townships to three dollars per day.

There will be divine service in the Episcopal church of Scotch Plains, every Saturday afternoon during Lent, at half-past three o'clock.

We have not the space, this week, to dwell at any length on the Opera House project, but we will whisper that operations have already commenced. In our next issue the public may "expect developments."

"Daddy" Cornell, the well-known auctioneer, will sell at the residence of Geo. B. Lines, New Market, during Tuesday next, at 1 o'clock p. m., a large assortment of stock, farming utensils, household furniture, &c.

The opinion of two of the official papers regarding the action of the Council in dictating rates for advertising, is expressed in their respective communications to that body as published in our account of the proceedings.

During Thursday morning there will be some fine trotting at the U. & M. C. M. A. Association grounds, in which the horses of Messrs O. T. Waring and J. W. Johnson are to take part. A pigeon-shoot is also on the programme.

Captain of Police Chase reflects great credit upon himself and the city by his appearance in a very tasteful uniform of blue. He is making a most efficient officer, and his selection as chief of the force has proven to be very judicious.

The question of salaries will next agitate the Uncommon Council. Let the members in fixing such, take into consideration the responsibility that rests upon certain officers and not establish the compensation according to the manual labor.

We hope, and the public trusts, that Councilman Polak will not cease in his endeavors to secure an appropriation for the purpose of putting the names of the intersecting streets on the corner lamps. About $20 will do it, and the convenience and benefit it will be is worth five times such amount.

The publishers of the Chinese American will please accept our thanks for a copy of their journal, and our expression of blind faith in its enterprise and ability. We have overlooked it carefully, and are impressed with a belief that it bears a strong resemblance to an army washee-ticket.

The annual masquerade of the Saengerbund is making things lively in the Society's rooms, as we go to press this (Wednesday) evening. Elegant costumes, brilliant illuminations, handsome decorations and lively music, combine in forming a scene of beauty that will be remembered with joy for ever.

For committing an assault upon his wife, Edward Guller was locked up in the City Jail and subsequently stood up before His Honor, Judge Good, Tuesday morning. The accused upon promising good behavior in the future, was discharged with a sentence to the extreme penalty of the law, suspended.

Messrs. G. F. & C. E. Brown, the well-known interior decorators of New York, illustrate their advertisement on our first page to-day with a representation of their great taste in window draperies and hangings. Many of Plainfield's most attractive homes, owe their beautiful furnishing in this line and in wall-papering, to the ability of the firm above mentioned.

In a New York paper of Monday morning, there appeared quite a sensational article reflecting upon the morality and honor of Father DeBurgh, late of St. Mary's Parish. Information from a reliable source, however, is to the effect that the "woman in the case" was in Plainfield Monday, and emphatically denied the entire story.

Mr. Jerome Hopkins' opera of "Taffy," was rendered during Monday evening at the Park House, under direction of the composer, to an entirely gratified audience. Its success financially, was not all that could be desired, but the singing of Miss Carrie Ketcham and Mrs. E. M. Butler was most satisfactory. The latter, especially, we should hear oftener in public concert.

The Messrs. Pope Bros. are weekly announcing in our advertising columns, the many and genuine bargains presented the people of Plainfield. The wants of the ladies, especially, are cared for at the establishment corner of Front and Somerset Sts., and an extensive line of dress trimmings, laces, ruchings and other fancy goods at the lowest New York prices, are offered. A varied assortment of articles of general use are shown, at figures astonishing low.

Mr. Charles Sandford desires us to correct our statement of the accident which befell him week before last. He says his coachman was endeavoring to back the horse from off the bridge, instead of turning him around as reported by us. There being no parapet to the side of the bridge the vehicle was backed off and overturned. Mr. Sandford, although greatly prostrated by the result of the accident, as well as injuries to himself, is once more able to be about. There is talk of prosecuting the township for leaving the bridge in such an unsafe condition.

The District Conference.

The District Conference of the Elizabeth District of the Newark Annual Conference was begun Wednesday afternoon of last week, at 2 p. m., in St. James' Chapel, Elizabeth. Rev. L. R. Dunn presided, and among other action James McGee, of this city, and a number of others had their licenses renewed as local preachers.

Dr. Vincent—our old resident—delivered an hour's address that did not seem half as long. It was full of unique, but strong illustrations that could not be given in this brief report. A vote of thanks was unanimously tendered to Dr. Vincent for his address.

Mr. Hanna, of Westfield, the treasurer of the Conference, reported cash on hand last year $4.02; expenses, $5; balance, $2.36. The Presiding Elder was requested to appoint the Examining Committee, individually, and the time and place and arrangements for the next conference—if one be held—were also left to him.

Done its Worst.

Although there is frost in the air there is Spring in the sky, and there is every indication that this disastrous Winter has done its worst. As we are by no means out of the woods, however, or rather the floods, it may be well for all persons young or old to hold to their bosoms and consider wherewithal they shall be clothed.

We Wonder

Whether anyone keeps a hotel in this city.

Whether they keep such without a license.

Whether they intend to apply for a license or evade the law.

Whether such a license has not been denied in one case.

Whether a hotel is not a hotel.

Acquitted.

Albert E. Hall, of this city, was acquitted by the Philadelphia Courts, recently, of assigning scows and dredging machinery together of the value of $2,405, with intent to defraud the Camden Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company. The charge grew out of certain business transactions. Mr. Hall was defended by Josiah R. Adams, Esq., one of Philadelphia's eminent lawyers.

Feast and Flow.

Alert's Fourteenth Annual Reunion at Laing's Hotel, Thursday evening, is to be the "swellest" of "stag" receptions ever given in Plainfield. The members and a few guests of honor invited, will sit down at 8 o'clock to a dinner that will be a feast of reason and other things, and a flow of soul and something else. Long live Foreman Saltzman and his gallant company.

A Change of Date.

As the employees of this office desire to celebrate the birth of one whom they so much admire (because they never told a lie), we issue THE CONSTITUTIONALIST this week one day earlier than is our custom. We are, however, glad of this for one reason in particular—we thus have another chance to advise our readers not to miss the Y. M. C. A. entertainment on Thursday evening.

Something to be Done.

It was supposed that the question of granting applications for licenses to sell spirituous and fermented liquor, had become so promiscuously interpenetrated (pat. app. for) that no way out of the muddle could be found, nor any combination to break the dead-lock, arranged. Something, however is in the wind, and the President of the Uncommon Council has called a special meeting of that body for Monday evening, to consider that particular business.

Personalia.

The many friends of Mr. Jno. W. Dunn, in this city, will learn with regret of his recent bereavement in the loss of his only child, a bright boy of three years, from that dread disease, diphtheria.

Mr. Smith W. Laing and family of New Brooklyn, have the sympathy of a host of friends in the affliction which has recently overtaken them in the loss by death of a wife and mother. The remains of Mrs. Laing were interred in the Friends burying ground on Peace street, this city, on Tuesday last.

A Spell.

The spelling match at the Young People's Association of the Crescent avenue church, held during last Friday evening in the church parlors, was a novel and unusually enjoyable affair. Miss Kate Martine, from a book of selected test-words gave out posers which puzzled even the experts, and overthrew academic professors, college graduates and even the pastor without respect. Miss Clara Dunn, to the honor of the P. H. S., conquered all difficulties, and was awarded munificently with a tin horse as a slight token of the company's appreciation of her ability. At the close of the contest, palatable delicacies were served (thanks to the generosity of Messrs H. B. Newhall and I. C. Pierson) and each one was presented with a beautiful button-hole bouquet.

G. A. R.

An exceedingly interesting meeting of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, was held last Wednesday evening, Feb. 14th. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather there was a good attendance and much interest in the future of the Post was manifested. Some additions to membership have already been made and new applications are received at every meeting. A very pleasant feature of the meeting was the presentation of a fine portrait of Gen. Winfield Scott, by comrade George W. Moore. Some felicitious remarks were made by Adjutant Randolph and others. The beautiful gift was received in behalf of the post by Commander Mattison with appropriate remarks. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered to the comrade for his munificent gift. A bright future is in store for this Post if we can judge from the harmony of its working and the good will it is receiving. All honorably discharged soldiers and sailors are invited to unite with them.

A Swell Reception.

The Union Club of Plainfield will hold a reception at its house corner Broadway and Ninth street, under the management of its entertainment committee, during Monday evening next at 8 o'clock. The celebrated "Hetton Glee Club" of New York has been engaged for the occasion, which will be an especially brilliant one even in this high circle of Plainfield society. The programme of the Concert will be as follows:

Glee—"King Witlaf's Drinking Horn."....Hatton.
Part Song—"Evening"..........Mosley.
Bass Solo—"My Little Woman."..........Osgood.
WILLIAM S. CHURCH.
Quartette—Waltz..........Abt.

INTERMISSION.

Part Song—"Three Fishers."..........Goldbeck.
Tenor Solo—Serenade..........Lather.
CHARLES A. BARNES.
Part Song—"Alsatian"..........Buck.
Glee—"Three Chafers."..........Fisher.

The Quartette is composed of Messrs. Charles A. Barnes, tenor, Harry R. May, tenor, Aleck Irving, baritone and W. S. Church, bass. The members of the Club and their invited guests are requested to attend promptly, as the concert will commence at 8:30 sharp. It will be followed by refreshments and dancing.

The German Language.

A most difficult question for the American student, merchant or traveler to get properly answered, when he is about to start for Europe for purpose of study, business or pleasure, is, where to find the best place to get himself to learn the language. Our city is to be favored in this respect. Dr. Von Ghessongen, who is a native German of a very good aristocratic family, proposes to come to Plainfield to teach a class in the German and other languages. The Dr. comes from N. Y. city highly recommended as a gentleman of unexceptionable moral character, a thorough scholar and accomplished linguist. He has been a student in the leading universities in Europe and is in every way qualified to give instructions in modern languages. His methods of teaching [illegible]; any one can by his practical way learn easily and without great difficulties, the German language, which has become of late years very important for all business transactions. He proposes to open an afternoon and also an evening class for ladies and gentlemen twice a week. The Dr. has classes in Elizabeth, numbering 21 pupils, who are making rapid progress in the language. Those desirous of joining a class in Plainfield, may send their names to this office where the Dr. will receive them.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

All present—E. Simpson changes his vote on saloon license—Religious lamps detected—Overseer of Poor's report—Unanimous confirmation of Corporation Counsel Marsh—Wickedness in the Poor House—Another expert to be set on the Clark accounts—The usual objection to the gas bill—Mr. Marsh gives his opinion of the License Committee—Names of signers changed after publication—Seven applications reported "correct," ordered back—To be advertised again after the applicant has paid for the first publication—The resolution dictating terms to the official papers, reconsidered and tabled—$25 to repair the City Jail—Two unusual communications.

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 19TH, 1883.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment.

Present—President Livingston and Messrs Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Jones, Marsh, Polak, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson and E. Simpson—11

Absent—none.

During the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, Mr. E. Simpson protested against his name appearing as such as voting against the license application of E. P. Thorn. He stated he had voted to grant the same.

The minutes were then approved.

Mr. Jones moved, seconded by Mr. Serrell, that the correction be made. So ordered.

PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS.

By Mr. Polak—Plainfield Gas Light Co., $253.50, less deduction for lamps reported as not burning $9 93.

By Mr. Beguelin—A. Vanderbeek, $51.

By Mr. Gardner—E. O. Chamberlin, $42.30; W. L. Force & Bro., $167 95.

By Mr. Jones—R. Randolph, $9.72.

All referred to the proper committees.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

The following was presented by the President and read by the Clerk:

PLAINFIELD, Feb. 19, 1883.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN: I herewith submit my report from Aug. 1st, 1882, to Feb. 15, 1883.

Total number of beneficiaries,	56
Of this number we pay rent for	9
" " " board "	5
We have at poor house	5
We furnish provisions and coal for	39
We have been called upon to bury	4

The following orders have been issued:

For provisions,	$279 65
" coal and wood,	92 69
Bills rec'd from poor house,	209 83
" for rent,	324 00
" " board,	308 00
" " clothing,	6 25
" " cartage,	11 00
" " burials,	44 00
Total,	$1297 31
Labor performed by city poor at station house, John DeShay,	$1 50
Report sent to council for the six previous months to Aug. 1st, 1882—Expenditures,	$1765 15
Total amount for the year,	$3063 96
Leaving a surplus from the City's appropriation for the Poor Fund of	$1436 04 which surplus I would kindly suggest should be retained by the city for the purchase of a suitable property for the better and more economic care of the city's poor, some departments of which are costing us more than it should.

An arrangement with the advice of our former mayor, L. V. F. Randolph, and some members of the council, were being completed for the purchase of such property, by which a still further saving to the city could be made of from three to five hundred dollars per year. And by a judicious expenditure of the city's appropriation such property could have been paid for in four years without any extra appropriation from the city.

I would at this point take the opportunity of thanking the ladies of the Relief Association for their kindness and co-operation in the work we have been called upon to perform; and shall ever cherish their aid in those duties as some of the pleasant memories of the past.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
A. VANDERBEEK,
Late Commissioner of Alms.

Received and filed.

The Clerk read a communication from His Honor the Mayor, nominating Craig A. Marsh, Esq. as Counsel to the Corporation.

Moved by Mr. Polak, seconded by Mr. Coriell, that the nomination be received and confirmed.

Carried—all voting aye.

The Clerk also read a communication from the City Judge calling the attention of the Council to the number of illegitimate births occuring at the Poor Farm, and urging some action to remedy the apparent looseness of morals thereat.

On motion of Mr. Polak (who thought the Chairman of the Alms Com. should investigate the matter) seconded by Mr. Marsh (who thought the communication should be thrown under the table) the same was tabled.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Serrell, from the Special Com., on the prosecution of the city against its late Collector L. E. Clark, moved that the committee be authorized to obtain the assistance of a competent accountant to aid in the examination of Clark's cash book which was to be produced by order of the Court, and to prepare a statement showing the actual condition of such book. The speaker was unable to say how much the expense of an accountant would be. The Com. was ignorant as to the size of the book or extent of its accounts, as the same had been kept concealed from everybody and was now only to be seen in the presence of the Court and Mr. Clark. It was thought, however, that with the late expert's figures to compare, the examination would not last over four or five days.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Polak.

Mr. Jones moved to lay the matter on the table until something was ascertained in relation to the expense that would be incurred.

Mr. J. Simpson thought that $200 would cover the cost.

Mr. Coriell stated that the book would only be seen in the presence of the Court, and not until the day was set and the accountant was in attendance and had seen the book, could the extent of the work be estimated.

Mr. Marsh moved to amend by adding a proviso that the service should not cost over $100.

Amendment accepted and the motion carried—all aye.

Mr. Beguelin, from the Alms Com., reported as correct the claims of Mrs. Van Arx, $67; T. J. Pruden, $100; Mrs. Eliza Boles, $25.

Ref'd to Aud. Com.

By Mr. Serrell, from Finance Com., as correct the claims of John Johnson, $61.40; G. W. Moore, 43.72 and 1.76.

Ref'd to Aud. Com.

By Mr. Polak, from Lamps Com., progress in relation to the proposals in its hands for lighting the streets.

Also as correct the claims of N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., $125.50; Plainfield Gas Light Co., 259.52.

The former bill was ref'd to Aud. Com. and Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell, moved to lay the latter on the table, that a deduction for lamps unlighted be made before referring the bill to the Aud. Com.

Mr. Coriell stated his ignorance as to how the Lamps Com. could obtain authentic information sufficient to give them reason to object to the face of the bill.

Mr. Marsh knew of one lamp at the corner of 5th and Union streets that had hardly burned for three or four months. "It did not give as much light as a match stuck on the top of a tree." He stated as an undisputed fact that some lights were out all night, while others were turned off before the time agreed upon.

The motion to lay on the table was lost.

Mr. Serrell asked the Com. if a deduction had been made for four lamps on West Front street that had not been lighted during the month prior to Feb. 15th.

Mr. Coriell stated that if Mr. Serrell had positive knowledge of such fact, he was most certainly in favor of handing back the claim for correction.

Mr. Serrell had such knowledge, and on motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Marsh, the bill was ref'd to Lamps Com. for investigation—Mr. Polak voting against the motion.

Mr. Coriell, from Laws Com., reported its approval of the bond of J. C. Marker as Street Commissioner.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Serrell, the same was received, ordered filed, and the Clerk directed to record it in the office of the County Clerk at Elizabeth.

Mr. Gardner, from the License Com., reported as correct the application of Chas. Smith for a saloon license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors. Such approval signed by two of the Committee—Messrs. Gardner and Polak.

Mr. Marsh asked if any new signers had been added to the application since its publication.

Mr. Polak replied that the application was correct as handed in.

Mr. Marsh repeated his question.

Mr. Polak stated that there were sufficient names on the application and three to spare.

Mr. Marsh still insisted upon an answer to his question, and repeated it again.

Mr. Gardner, the Chairman of the Com., replied that new names had been added in the place of others scratched off.

Mr. Marsh then inquired by what authority the Com., could erase original signatures that did not come up to the provisions of the law, and substitute others without re-publishing the application that the people might see if the new signers were eligible. The speaker very severely criticised the action of the committee, and accused it of endeavoring to conceal its illegal acts. He moved to refer the application back.

Seconded by Mr. Serrell.

Mr. Gardner, in answer to Mr. Coriell, stated that the new names had not been advertised.

Mr. Serrell thought if those desiring licenses presented applications that did not comply with the law, they should suffer the consequences. He moved as an amendment to the motion to refer back, that the opinion of the Corporation Counsel be requested as to whether the applications were legally and properly in condition to be acted on by the Council.

Amendment accepted.

Mr. Marsh expressed a desire to take the "whole batch" of licenses and so act on them all at once.

Mr. Polak called upon the last named speaker to take back his extremely harsh reflections upon the Chairman of the License Com.

Mr. Marsh disclaimed any personal allusions to Mr. Gardner, and merely stated the facts that could speak for themselves. The licenses were altered after publication, and yet reported as correct without any statement as to what had been done.

A vote upon the motion to refer back to the Com., for re-publication and for the opinion of the Corporation Counsel, resulted as follows:

Affirmative—Messrs. Coriell, Jones, Marsh, Ross and Serrell—5.

Negative—Messrs. Beguelin, Gardner, Polak, J. Simpson and E. Simpson—5

The vote being a tie, President Livingston voted in the affirmative and the motion was declared carried.

The applications of William Sullivan, H. O'Donnell, P. Day and Chas. Bock for saloon licenses, were reported as correct—the approval being signed by Messrs. Gardner and Polak of the License Com.

As such was read, Mr. Marsh asked if any new signers had been added, and if so whether such had been advertised.

Mr. Gardner replied in each case that new names had been added but not advertised.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell, the applications were ordered to take the same course as that of Chas. Smith.

Mr. Serrell asked if Mr. H. O'Donnell, one of the applicants, had been intoxicated recently. He called the attention of the Council to the fact that such a charge had been presented in a protest against granting a license to such applicant, and that the law under which the Council acted provided that the application of such a person should not be granted.

Mr. Gardner replied that the License Com. had investigated such charge and found the applicant had not been intoxicated recently. Further, that Mr. O'Donnell now drank nothing but soda-water.

Mr. Coriell thought if he sold "nothing but soda water," there would be no trouble about granting him a saloon license.

Mr. Jones, from Police Com., reported as correct the claim of R. Randolph, $9.72.

Referred to Aud. Committee.

By Mr. Marsh, from Salaries Com., the claim of C. A. Marsh, $125.

Referred to Aud. Com.

Also a supplementary report to that presented at the last meeting, fixing the salaries of the City officers. Such supplementary report provided for the payment to each regular policeman of $550 a year in full for all service, and to such officer as the Mayor might select from the force to have the same in charge, the sum of $100 in addition.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, laid on the table.

Mr. Serrell thought that if certain men in the city desired a license to sell liquor and their applications were not properly presented and advertised, the City should not be put to the expense of such advertising when the provisions of the Ordinance were so plain. He moved that in every case where the Corporation Counsel decided that re-publication was necessary the applicant should first pay the cost of the previous advertising.

Seconded by Mr. Ross and carried—all aye.

It was moved by Mr. Beguelin, seconded by Mr. Jones, that when the Council adjourned it be until the first Monday evening in March.

Carried—all aye.

Mr. Polak moved a reconsideration of the resolution presented by Mr. Marsh and adopted at the last meeting, fixing the rates to be charged for official advertising.

Seconded by Mr. Beguelin and carried by the following vote:

Affirmative—Messrs Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Polak, J. Simpson and E. Simpson—6.

Negative—Messrs Jones, Marsh, Ross and Serrell—4.

Mr. Beguelin moved to lay the resolution on the table.

Lost.

Mr. Coriell while understanding that the law allowed the Council to establish such rates, yet as the law also required the publication of certain ordinances &c., in two papers, the Council would not comply with the latter requirement if the papers should refuse to accept the advertising at reduced figures.

Mr. Marsh stated that no one naturally desired to have their fees reduced (he did not himself) but that the Com. on Printing had presented the resolution establishing the rates for advertising after deciding upon a price that was fair and just to all. The public opinion demanded a reduction of the cost, as all would know who read the papers and observed the manner in which the subject was being agitated all over the state as to the high cost of the public printing. Regarding any stand some of the official papers might take, he knew nothing. One of the printers of the city, however, was of the opinion that a reduction of 25 per cent would be fair; still he (the speaker) desired to leave the matter to the Council.

Mr. Serrell thought it proper for the Council to curtail the expenses of the city by all means. It was necessary to economize [illegible] until the people found that it was impossible to run the city on $10,000 and until they paid their taxes. He would, however, desire to receive some protest from the official papers before voting on the resolution. He moved that it be laid on the table.

Seconded by Mr. Coriell, and carried.

The rules were suspended and Mr. J. Simpson from the Aud. Com., reported the approval of the following claims:

General Fund—Geo. W. Moore, $43 48; John Johnson, $61 40; R. Randolph, $9 72; C. A. Marsh, 125; N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., 125 50.

It being moved that warrants be ordered drawn, Mr. Serrell stated that he did not think there was sufficient in the Treasurer's hands to pay all, and moved that the claims of Johnson and Moore alone be paid.

The claim of Randolph was added and the motion carried—Mr. Beguelin voting in the negative.

On motion of Mr. J. Simpson, seconded by Mr. Serrell, the claims of Mr. Marsh and the N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., were laid on the table.

The Aud. Com., also reported the following claims from the Poor Fund, as correct—Mrs. Van Arx, $67.50; Mrs. Eliza Boles, $25; T. J. Pruden, 100.

Warrants ordered drawn—all aye.

Mr. Jones called attention to the condition of the interior of the City Jail—the cells unsafe and no heat nor chairs in the court room. He moved that the Com. on Police be authorized to expend $30 in "fixing things up."

Seconded by Mr. Serrell and amended by Mr. Coriell "not to exceed $25."

Mr. Beguelin thought if the Council couldn't order warrants drawn for its bills, it had no money to spend repairing the jail. He moved to lay the motion on the table.

Motion to table lost; original motion as amended, carried—Mr. Beguelin voting in the negative.

The Council then adjourned, before which, however, the following were presented by Mr. Serrell, but overlooked by the Clerk.

OFFICE OF THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, }
PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 19, 1883. }

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—At your meeting of the 12th inst., there was adopted a resolution establishing (or rather, intending to establish) the rates for advertising to be charged the city by its official papers. As publishers of one of these latter we are called upon, in justice to ourselves, at least, to state that the rates now charged are the same as are allowed by law and custom, and we know of no reason why this city should be allowed a discount upon just and legal figures. This, briefly, is our estimation of the matter, and our decision is (briefly) to decline any official advertising except at the old and established rates.

We still remain, in all other relations,
Your most obedient servants,
W. L. FORCE & BRO.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FEB. 13th, 1883.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit herewith my bill against the city of Plainfield, for advertising to date, amounting to $42 30, which I trust will receive your early attention. At the same time I desire to take this first opportunity to respectfully protest against the resolution passed at your last meeting cutting down 25 per cent. the rate of pay for city advertising, and to ask your attention to the following facts:

The city now pays and always has paid at the rate of 60 cents a folio for its official advertising. All legal printing, such as sheriff's sales, chancery notices, etc., is paid for at the same rate. It is the rate which is fixed as just and reasonable in New Jersey and almost every other State in the Union. Your resolution does not state and I am unable to conceive of any reason why a reduction as proposed should be made at this time. I know of no good reason why I should charge a private citizen 60 cents a folio cash down for certain work and do the same work for the city for 45 cents a folio and wait for my pay until two committees pass upon my bill and there is money enough in the public treasury to meet it.

Further than this, the same law which your resolution quotes requires the publication twice of all financial statements—instead of once, as has been the custom in Plainfield—and it is also a very serious question if it does not require the publication of the official report of the proceedings of the Council. With all due deference to your honorable body, I would suggest that if it is your purpose to enforce this law you should enforce it altogether and not in sections. Myself and other newspaper publishers in Plainfield expend hundreds of dollars annually in preparing and publishing free, matter which most, if not all, of the other cities of the State prepare themselves and for the publication of which they pay liberally.

The city pays the regular prices for the groceries it gives its poor, for the workmen it employs, and for all other services which it has done. I do not see why a newspaper publisher should not also receive the regular rates for city advertising.

My perhaps limited vision is unable to discern the doubtless good and sufficient reasons which have actuated your honorable body in the passage of the foregoing resolution. Until I am enlightened on this subject I must respectfully decline to do any work for the city except at the usual rates.

Very Respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
ERNEST O. CHAMBERLIN.

Minstrels.

As we announced last week, the Amateur Minstrel Co., (limited) of Scotch Plains, will give one of its incomparable entertainments at Academy Hall, of that place, during Friday evening. Tom Gere, whom we have before so favorably criticised as a capable interlocutor, will occupy that seat in "de circle," and such old minstrel favorites among local amateurs as Billy Stanbery, Sam Wilcox, Tom Nicholl, and others, will combine in giving a big programme of fun and music. A paying house for the benefit of the Town Hall Fund, is already assured by the advance sales. If the company (which is not so "limited"—eighteen taking part in the concluding farce) will come to this city, we can promise a big audience.

A Twenty Dollar Biblical Reward.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly offer twelve valuable rewards in their Monthly for March, among which is the following:

We will give $20.00 in gold to the person telling us which is the longest verse in the Bible by March 10, 1883. Should two or more correct answers be received, the reward will be divided. The money will be forwarded to the winner March 15th, 1883. Persons trying for the reward must send 20 cents in silver (no postage stamps taken) with their answer, for which they will receive the April Monthly, in which the name and address of the winner of the reward and the correct answer will be published, and in which several more valuable rewards will be offered. Address, Rutledge Publishing Company, [illegible], Easton, Pa.

[illegible] Marsh was appointed a Supreme Court Commissioner on Tuesday.

A Fine Programme.

The entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. course, the fifth of the season, will be given in the M. E. Church during Thursday evening, and it promises to be one of the most pleasing of the [illegible]. The readings of Chas. Roberts Jr., are in themselves sufficient to attract the public, but the managers of this course have (as they so often do) added additional talent by the engagement of Dilley's Cornet Band, which will intersperse the programme with its selections of popular music artistically rendered.

A Careful Officer.

The Semi-annual report of the Commissioner of Alms, A. Vanderbeek, is published in full in the Council proceedings to-day, and will be read with interest by all. The suggestions it makes should receive consideration from the city authorities, looking, as they do, to a more economical distribution of the Poor Fund and the better care and supervision of its paupers. Mr. Vanderbeek goes out of office leaving an unexpended surplus of $1,436 04 of the appropriation for the Fund of the past year, and almost double that amount was saved during Mr. Vanderbeek's term by his provident administration.

Prestidigitation.

At VanDeventer Hall, for three nights, commencing the 22d, Prof. E. C. Taylor the Illusionist will appear with his grand golden show and carnival of novelties. The programme will consist of astonishing feats of modern magic and a world of wonders that will introduce the spectator to a series of bewildering, puzzling, extraordinary and beautiful illustrations of diabolism of the Nineteenth Century. At the close of each entertainment Prof. Taylor will distribute a number of elegant presents such as furniture, groceries, clothing, etc., all purchased from merchants of Plainfield. No game of chance or lottery will be connected with the distribution of gifts in any way, and no charge made except for admission to the performance. Admission 25 cents; reserved seats, 35 cents, for sale at Miller's pharmacy.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The library is now well patronized. It is hoped soon to have some new books.

The attendance at the rooms is now very large. In the evenings the reading rooms are filled.

A meeting of the boys for prayer will be held on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Raymond will talk to the boys.

The Secretary will be pleased to meet any strangers, young men in this city and extend to them the hospitality and privileges of the rooms.

Meeting for Bible study on Saturday evening of this week as usual. Subject will be "Truth." All young men are invited to attend.

Meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on Thursday evening, March 1st, at 8 o'clock. All members of the Board are expected to be present.

The fifth entertainment of the course will be given this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock, in the Methodist church, by Chas. Roberts, Jr., elocutionist, and Diller's Musical Quartette.

The next monthly reception will be held in the lecture room on next Tuesday evening, the 27th, by the Ladies' Auxiliary. This reception is for young men, and will be social and wholly informal. All young men are extended a cordial invitation and will be welcome. Young men remember the night. Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and other ladies will be present.

MISCELLANY.

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 32 West Front Street.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties can now purchase elegant pattern of wall paper of H. S. Barnes, 6 W. Front street, at greatly reduced prices. tf

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 32 West Front Street, at the New York price. m17tf

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Demare's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d2tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Dyspeptics, read this! William Collins, [illegible], writes us: I consider that my life has been saved by the use of that most reliable medicine, Coe's Dyspepsia Cure. For many years I suffered with Dyspepsia and used many remedies which were highly recommended, without relief. I am now permanently cured by the use of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure, and upon my recommendation, many others, to my personal knowledge, [illegible] to its great merit. It has never failed to cure.

No doubt about it. "Is Kellogg's Worm Tea a good medicine?" asked a young mother of an old lady who had successfully raised a large family of children. "Indeed it is," said the old lady. "I gave it to my children thirty odd years ago, and they are all living now." "Then," said the young lady, "I will try it, for I believe my John has got worms."

A Old Man's Relief—Having used Parker's Ginger Tonic for my bad cough and hemorrhage I had twenty-five years, I feel like another man since I used it. Am 65 years past. Believe it [illegible] younger persons.—A. Gamer, [illegible], Pa.

"Rough on Corns."—Ask for Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete, permanent cure. Corns, warts, bunions.

Hope for Drunkards.—My husband had drunken habits he could not overcome until Parker's Ginger Tonic took away his thirst for stimulants, restored his energy of mind and gave him strength to attend to business.—Cincinnati Lady.

For dressing the hair, and beautifying it when gray, nothing is so satisfactory as Parker's Hair Balsam.

That Husband of Mine is three times the man he was before he began using "Wells' Health Renewer." $1. Druggists.

Common Grape Vines.—Fine, vigorous Vines, two, three and four years old, for sale by the dozen or thousand at the lowest prices. These Vines are raised on the famous Mt. Prospect Vineyards, at Passaic, New Jersey, where the well-known Port Grape Wine is produced [illegible]. Address, Alfred Speer, Passaic, N. J.

Best ever made, Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar-coated; no griping; only 15c a box, of Druggists or by mail. Standard Cure Co. Sold by [illegible], Plainfield, N. J.

Useful in the Family.—We usually leave it to doctors to recommend medicines, but Parker's Ginger Tonic has been so useful in our family in relieving sickness and suffering that we cannot say too much in its praise.—[illegible] Argus.

Catarrh of the bladder, stinging irritation, inflammation, all Kidney complaints, cured by "Buchupaiba." $1.

Malaria, Chills and Fever, and Bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure [illegible]. Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, best ever made. [illegible], Plainfield, N. J.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

[illegible]

WESTFIELD ADVERTISERS.

C. A. SMITH,
DEALER IN
Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Agent for [illegible] Bros., [illegible] Phosphate [illegible] Westfield and Fanwood.
[illegible] LOTS [illegible] LAND PLACES AT THE [illegible]
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone Call No. 24. may18

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the interest of the people.
OFFICE, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also
Standard Fertilizers,
Such as Mapes's, Lister's, Stockbridge & Bowker's Phosphates and Bone Manures, for all crops, bought low for cash, and will be sold at reasonable prices.
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
Genesee Valley Lime, by the car load, &c.
E. N. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 40, SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
ap18tf

C. E. ACQUIERE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Over at Gale's Pharmacy.
Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty.
All work guaranteed to be First Class, and to give entire satisfaction. 9aly

JOHN KANE,
WESTFIELD, N. J.
Driven and Drilled Wells.
REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Unexceptionable references given if desired. ahf

TURF EXCHANGE
ALE and BEER VAULTS,
Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J.
JOHN L. BOULSTON, - Proprietor.
Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand.
Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all times.
Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS. 28ylc

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar-cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java, Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,
Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

(Special Bargains
Which are to be found for a few days
At Whitney's.)

A NEW LINE OF "VEILING," ONLY 13c. WORTH 25c.

ONE LOT OF 5 DOZ. FOSTER'S PATENT LACING KIDS, ONLY 88c., WORTH $1.25.

THE "SUPERB CORSET," MADE FROM THE BEST "FRENCH COUTIL," AT 95c. REGULAR PRICE $1.25
ONLY THIS LOT AT THE PRICE

ECRU TABLE LINEN 50c. WORTH 65c.
WHITE TABLE LINEN, 75c. WORTH $1.

"THESE ARE SPECIAL PRICES," WORTH YOUR ATTENTION.

"THE BEST 'ALL-WOOL' BLACK CASHMERE AT 50c. IN THIS CITY," AT

S. H. WHITNEY'S,
(Opposite Post-office.)

Japanese Salve!

For Chapped Hands and Lips, Frosted Feet and all Skin Diseases.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT.

A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY

Vail Bros., Philadelphia.

PECK'S CORNER.

COME TO PECK'S

AND LOOK AT THE GREAT VARIETY OF
: : FINE EMBROIDERIES : :
WORKED ON MULL, SWISS, NANSOOK, LINEN AND CAMBRIC. CAN BE FOUND ONLY AT PECK'S!

THIS WEEK!

We are showing a Full Line of Ladies Underwear, purchased direct from the Manufacturers, which we are selling at the following Extraordinary Low Prices:

Ladies Chemise,	50 cents,		Worth	75 cents.
" "	75 "		"	$1.00.
" "	80 "		"	1.00.
" "	90 "		"	1.25.
" "	$1.00		"	1.50.
Ladies Drawers,	50 cents,		"	75 cents.
" "	60 "		"	90 "
" "	75 "		"	$1.00.
" "	80 "		"	1.25.

Night Dresses, 75 cents to $1.50. Ladies Skirts, Fifty cents to One Dollar and a Half.

Great Bargains in Towels. Extra large and heavy, only 25 cents. Hamburg Edgings, New Styles, Just Received. All widths and prices.

POPE BROS., Front and Somerset streets.

Curtiss & Griffen.

LEVER
Hay and Stalk Cutter,
The Best in the Market.

Clinton Shellers.
AND THE
"A.B.C." Right-hand
WOOD FRAME
Sheller & Separator.

ROEBUCK WEATHER STRIPS.

Lanterns, Street Lamps, Dash Lamps.

Remember, at our Store you BUY GOODS 5 Per Ct. Cheaper For Cash than for Credit.

No. 18 East Front street, - Plainfield, New Jersey.

Bachman Bro's Large Sale of Hosiery!

HAVING BOUGHT OUT ALL THE SAMPLES OF LADIES HOSE COMPRISING ALL KINDS, TO THE AMOUNT OF 138 DOZEN, FROM ONE OF THE LARGEST HOSIERY FACTORIES IN PHILADELPHIA, WE ASK THE PUBLIC TO COME AND SEE THEM, AND JUDGE FOR THEMSELVES. THESE GOODS ARE WORTH FROM 30 TO 40 CENTS PER PAIR, AND WE CAN OFFER THEM FOR 21 CENTS.

Wamsutta Muslin, - - 11¼ Cts. | Anchor Dwight, - - 9¾ Cts.

BACHMAN BROTHERS,
17 West Front street, - - - - - - - Plainfield, New Jersey.

To our Patrons!

Having just finished taking inventory we take great pleasure in announcing to the ladies of Plainfield and vicinity that we are receiving daily real bargains, such as Towels, Table Linens, Birds Eye Diaper, striped and Plaid Nainsook, Cambric, Cottage Drapery, Turkish and Venetian Damasks, all of which we buy for cash. This enables us to sell as cheap as any house in New York. We will mention only a few prices to show that we mean what we say:

2,500 yards the best Shirting Calico, only	5 Cts.
Dress Gingham, worth 12½ cts., we offer at	9 "
Seersuckers, new styles, new goods,	12½ and 14 "
Dwight Anchor, 4-4 bleached muslin,	9½ "
Fruit of the Loom, 4-4,	9 "
Utica and New York Mills, 9-4 sheeting,	27½ "
A good No. 2 Pearl Shirt, re-inforced bosom, all finished, only,	67 "

We are replenishing our Carpet Department and at any time Ladies wish to look at goods in that line for next Spring's want, we will be glad to show them through this Department.

Very Respectfully,
D. BOEHM & BRO.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

THAT BAD BOY.

HIS PA JOINS A TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

"Don't you think my pa is showing his age a good deal more than usual," asked the bad boy of the grocery man, as he took a smoked herring out of a box, threw the head at the cat, and took some crackers and began to eat.

"Well, I don't know but he does look as though he was getting old," said the grocery man, as he took a piece of paper, and charged the boy's poor father with a dozen herring and a pound of crackers. "But there is no wonder he is getting old. I wouldn't go through what your father has the last year for a million dollars. I tell you boy when your father is dead, and you get a step-father, and he makes you walk the chalk mark, you will realize what a bonanza you have fooled yourself out of by killing off your father. The way I figure it, your father will last about six months, and you ought to treat him right the little time he has to live."

"Well, I am going to," said the boy. "But I don't believe in borrowing trouble about a step-father so long before hand. I don't think ma could get a man to step into pa's shoes as long as I lived, not if she was inlaid with diamonds and owned a brewery. There are brave men I know, that are on the marry, but none of them would want to be brevet father to a cherubim like me, except he got pretty good wages. And then, since pa was dissected, he is going to lead a different life, and I guess I will make a man of him if he holds out. We got him to join the Good Templars last night."

"No, you don't tell me," said the grocery man, as he thought that his trade in cider for mince pies would be cut off. "So you got him into the Good Templars, eh?"

"Well, he thinks he has joined the Good Templars, so it is all the same. You see my chum and me have been going to a private gymnasium on the west side kept by a Dutchman, and in a back room he has all the tools for getting up muscle. There look at my arm," said the boy, as he rolled up his sleeves and showed a muscle about as big as an oyster. "That is the result of training at the gymnasium. Before I took lessons I hadn't any more muscle than you have got. Well the Dutchman was going to a dance on the south side the other night, and I asked my chum to tend the gymnasium and I told pa if he would join the Good Templars that night there wouldn't be many at the lodge, and he wouldn't be so embarrassed, and as I was one of the officers of the lodge I would put it to him light and he said he would go, so my chum got five other boys to put him through."

"So we steered him down to the gymnasium, and made him rap on the storm door outside, and I said who comes there, and he said it was a pilgrim who wanted to jine our sublime order. I asked him if he had made up his mind to turn from the ways of a hyena, and adopt the customs of the truly good, and he said if he knew his own heart he had, and then I told him to come in out of the snow and take off his pants. He kicked a little at taking off his pants, because it was cold out there in the storm door dog house, but I told him they all had to do it. That princes, potentates and paupers all had to come to it. He pulled off his pants, and wanted a check for them. But I told him the grand mogul would hold his clothes, and then I blindfolded him and with a base ball club I pounded on the floor as I walked him around the gymnasium, while the Lodge headed by my chum, sung 'We won't go home till morning.' Then I stopped in front of the ice-water tank and said, 'Grand Worthy Duke, I bring before you a pilgrim who has drank of the dregs until his stomach won't hold water and who desires to swear off.' The grand mogul asked was he worthy and well qualified, and I told him that he had been drunk more or less since the reunion last summer; which ought to qualify him. Then the grand mogul made pa repeat the most blood-curdling oath, in which pa agreed if he ever drank another drop, to allow anybody to pull his toenails out with tweezers, his head chopped off, and his eyes removed. Then the mogul said he would brand the candidate on the bare back with the initial letters of our order, 'G. T.', that all might read how a brand had been snatched from the burning. You'd a died to see pa flinch when I pulled up his shirt and got ready to brand him. My chum got a piece of ice out of the cooler, and just as he clapped it onto pa's back, I burned a piece of horse's hoof in the candle and held it to pa's nose, and I guess pa actually thought it was his burning skin that he smelled. He jumped about six feet and said, 'great heavens, what are you dowin',' and then began to roll over a barrel which I had arranged for him. Pa thought he was going down cellar, and he hung to the barrel, but he was on top half the time. When pa and the barrel got through fighting I was beside him, and I said 'calm yourself and be prepared for the ordeal that is to follow.' Pa asked how much of this durn fooling there was and he said he was sorry he joined. He said he could let liquor alone without having the skin all burned off his back. I told pa to be brave and not weaken and all would be well. He wiped the perspiration off his face on the end of his shirt, and we put a belt around his body, and hitched it to a tackle, and pulled him up so his feet were just off the floor, and then we talked as though we were away off, and I told my chum to look out that pa did not hit the gas fixtures, and pa actually thought he was being hauled clean up to the roof. I could see he was scared by the complexion of his hands and feet, as they clawed the air. He actually sweat so the drops fell on the floor. Bime-by we let him down, and he was awfully relieved, though his feet were not more than two inches from the floor any time. We were just going to slide pa down a board with slivers in to give him a realizing sense of the rough road a reformed man has to travel, and had got him straddle of the board when the Dutchman came home from the dance, fuller'n a goose, and he drove us boys out, and we left pa, and the Dutchman said, 'Vot you vas doing dere mit dose boys, you old duffer, and vere vas your pants?' and pa pulled off the handkerchief from his eyes, and the Dutchman said if he didn't get out in a minute he would kick the stuffing out of him, and pa got out. He took his pants and put them on in the alley, and then we came up to pa and told him that was the third time the drunken Dutchman had broke up the Lodge, but we should keep on being good, until we had redeemed every drunkard in Milwaukee, and pa said that was right, and he would see us through if it cost every dollar he had. Then we took him home and when ma asked if she couldn't join the Lodge too, pa said, 'Now, you take my advice and don't you ever join no Good Templars. Your system could not stand the the racket. Say, I want you to put some cold cream on my back!' I think pa will be a different man now, dont you?"

The grocery man said if he was that boy's pa for fifteen minutes he would be a different boy or there would be a funeral, and the boy took a handful of soft shelled almonds and a few layers of raisins and skipped out.—Peck's Sun.

A SOFT SOAP RACKET.

THE OLD MAN HELPS TO PUT UP A JOB, AND GETS THE WORST OF IT.

"You see," said the bad boy to the grocery man, "pa likes a joke the best of any man you ever saw, if it is on somebody else, but he kicks like a steer when it is on him. I asked him this morning if it wouldn't be a good joke to put some soft soap on the front step, so the letter carrier would slip up and spill himself, and pa said it would be elegant. Pa is a Democrat, and he thinks that anything that will make it unpleasant for Republican office-holders is legitimate, and he encouraged me to paralyze the letter carrier. The letter carrier is as old a man as pa, and I didn't want to humiliate him, but I just wanted pa to give his consent, so he couldn't kick if he got caught in his own trap. You see? Well, this morning the minister and two of the deacons called on pa to have a talk with him about his actions in church on two or three occasions, and they had a pretty hot time in the back parlor, and finally they settled it and were going to sing a hymn, when pa handed them a little hymn-book, and the minister opened it and turned pale and said, 'what's this?' and they looked at it and it was a book of Hoyle's games instead of a hymn-book. Gosh, wasn't the minister mad? He had started to read a hymn and he quit after he read two lines where it said, 'In a game of four-handed euchre never trump your partner's ace, but rely on the ace to take the trick on suit.' Pa was trying to explain how the book come to be there, when the minister and the deacons started out, and then I poured the two quart tin pail full of soft soap on the front step. It was this white soft soap, just the color of the step, and when I got it spread I went down in the basement. The visitors came out and pa was trying to explain to them about Hoyle, when one of the deacons stepped in the soap, and his feet flew up and he struck on his pants and slid down the steps. The minister said 'great heavens, deacon, are you hurt? Let me assist you,' and he took two quick steps, and you have seen these fellows in a nigger show that kick each other head over heels and fall on their ears and stand on their heads and turn around like a top. The minister's feet slipped and the next I saw he was standing on his head in his hat, and his legs were sort of wilted and fell limp by his side, and he fell over on his stomach. You talk about spreading the gospel in heathen lands. It is nothing to the way you can spread it with two quarts of soft soap. The minister didn't look pious a bit when he was trying to catch the railing. He looked as though he wanted to murder every man on earth, but it may be he was tired. Well, pa was paralyzed, and he and the other deacon rushed out to pick up the minister and the first old man, and when they struck the step they went kiting. Pa's feet somehow slipped backwards, and he turned a summersault and struck full length on his back, and one heel was across the minister's neck, and he slid down the steps, and the other deacon fell all over the other three, and pa swore at them, and it was the worst looking lot of pious people I ever saw. They all seemed mad at each other. The hired girl told ma there was three tramps out on the sidewalk fighting pa, and ma she took the broom and started to help pa, and I tried to stop ma, 'cause her constitution is not very strong and I didn't want her to do any flying trapeze business, but I couldn't stop her, and she went out with the broom and a towel tied around her head. Well, I don't know where ma did strike, but when she came in she said she had palpitation of the heart, but that was not the place where she put the arnica. O, but she did go through the air like a bullet through cheese, and when she went down the steps a bumpity-bump I felt sorry for ma. The minister had got so he could set up on the sidewalk, with his back against the lower step, when ma came sliding down, and one of the heels of her gaiters hit the minister in the hair and the other foot went right through between his arm and his side, and the broom liked to pushed his teeth down his throat. But he was not mad at ma. As soon as he saw it was ma he said, 'Why, sister, the wicked stand in slippery places, don't they?' and ma she was mad and said for him to let go her stocking, and then pa was mad and he said, 'look-a-here you sky-pilot, this thing has gone far enough,' and then a policeman came along and first he thought they were all drunk, but he found they were respectable, and he got a chip and scraped the soap off of them, and they went home, and pa and ma they got in the house some way, and just then the letter-carrier came along, but he didn't have any letters for us, and he didn't come onto the steps, and then I went up-stairs and I said, 'Pa, don't you think it is real mean, after you and I fixed the soap on the steps for the letter-carrier, he didn't come on the step at all,' and pa was scraping the soap off his pants with a piece of shingle, and the hired girl was putting liniment on ma, and heating it for palpitation of the heart, and pa said, 'you dum idjut, no more of this or I'll maul the liver out of you,' and I asked him if he didn't think soft soap would help a moustache to grow, and he picked up ma's work-basket and threw it at my head as I went down stairs, and I came over here. Don't you think my pa is unreasonable to get mad at a little joke that he planned himself?"

The grocery man said he didn't know, and the boy went out with a pair of skates over his shoulder.—Peck's Sun.

GEMS.

The gratitude of place-expectants is a lively sense of future favors.

Trust that man in nothing who has not a conscience in everything.

The manners of nature make a man; the manners of art unmake him.

There's not a string attuned to mirth, but hath its cord in melancholy.

The current may be strong, but that which defies the current is stronger.

Religion can capture a heart easier than it can overthrow the pocket-book.

Much of the charity that begins at home is too feeble to get out of doors.

The shame of being thought poor, leads to worse evils than poverty itself.

Who would venture on the journey of life, if compelled to begin it at the end?

Character gives splendor to youth, and awe to wrinkled skin and gray hairs.

None are so desolate but something dear, dearer than self possesses or possessed.

If you would not have affliction visit you twice, listen at once to what it teaches.

Comparisons, whether as to sense, courage, beauty or rank, are always offensive.

Devote each day to the subject then in time, and the evening will find something done.

Law and equity are two things which God hath joined, but which man hath put asunder.

Nothing from man's hands, nor law, nor constitution, can be final. Truth alone is final.

Slumber not in the tents of your fathers. The world is advancing. Advance with it.

It is from out the depths of our humility that the height of our destiny looks grandest.

When slander and falsehood are hitched to a person's tongue, the devil acts as coachman.

The charity of the rich is much to be commended, but how beautiful is the charity of the poor.

Wait for others to advance your interests, and you will wait until they are not worth advancing.

Imitation causes us to leave natural ways to enter into artificial ones; it therefore makes slaves.

Matrimony is a great blessing, because even a blind man has his eyes opened after a little while.

A wise and good man does nothing for appearance, but everything for the sake of having acted well.

It is true wisdom to speak but little of the injuries you have received, or the good deeds you have done.

Few, with the hope of another life, would think it worth their while to live above the allurements of sense.

It is better to be thought a fool than a knave, says the saw; but it is better still to be known to be neither.

A man's first care should be to avoid the reproaches of his own heart, his next, to escape the censures of the world.

May I tell you why it seems to me a good thing for us to remember wrong that has been done us? That we may forgive it.

Discover the opinion of your enemies, which is commonly the truest; for they will give you no quarter, and allow nothing to complaisance.

WHAT TRIPE IS.

Occasionally you see a man order tripe at a hotel, but he always looks hard, as though he hated himself and everybody else. He tries to look as though he enjoyed it, but he does not. Tripe is indigestible, and looks like an india rubber apron for a child to sit on. When it is pickled it looks like dirty clothes put to soak, and when it is cooking it looks as though the cook was boiling a dish-cloth. On the table it looks like glue, and tastes like a piece of oil-silk umbrella cover. A stomach that is not lined with corrugated iron would be turned wrong side out by the smell of tripe. A man eating tripe at a hotel table looks like an Arctic explorer dining on his boots or chewing pieces of frozen raw dog. You cannot look at a man eating tripe, but he will blush and look as though he wanted to apologize and convince you he is taking it to tone up his system. A woman never eats tripe. There is not money enough in the world to hire a woman to take a corner of a sheet of tripe in her teeth and try to pull off a piece. Those who eat tripe are men who had their stomachs play mean tricks on them, and they eat tripe to get even with their stomachs, and then they go and take a turkish bath to sweat it out of the system. Tripe has a superstition handed down from a former generation of butchers, who sold all the meat and kept tripe for themselves and the dogs; but dogs of the present day will not eat tripe. You throw a piece of tripe down in front of a dog, and see if he does not put his tail between his legs and go off and hate you. Tripe may have a value, but it is not as food. It may be good to fill into a burglar proof safe, with the cement and chilled steel, or it might answer to use as a breastplate in time of war, or it would be good to use as bumpers between cars, or it would make a good face for the weight of a pile driver, but when you come to smuggle it into the stomach you do wrong. Tripe! Bah! A piece of Turkish towel soaked in axle-grease would be pie compared with tripe.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF CHOSEN FREEHOLDERS OF THE COUNTY OF UNION.

(OFFICIAL.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., Feb. 1st, 1883.

The Board met in regular monthly session on Thursday, Feb. 1st, 1883, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Present—Director Martine and Freeholders Briant, Clark, Doty, Halliday, Hubbard Husbands, Isenmann, Mapes, Newbury, Oliver, Smith, Stover, Thompson, White—15.

Absent—Freeholders Eller and Runkle—2.

The minutes of the last meeting were read (omitting list of bills ordered paid) and on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A petition signed by a large number of citizens and taxpayers of the city of Rahway, recommending the rebuilding of the Milton avenue draw bridge, using the material taken from the old bridge if found to be in good condition.

On motion received and ordered on file.

Also a petition signed by a large number of citizens and taxpayers recommending the building of an entire new structure in place of the old draw bridge at Milton avenue, Rahway.

On motion received and ordered on file.

J. A. Fay, Jr., County Attorney, being present, made a verbal report, in the matter of the claims of two persons for pay for the same service in the 2d district, 1st ward, Elizabeth, at the last election; that Philip G. Rose was the one entitled to receive pay for such service.

The County Attorney informed the Board that the bill authorizing the issuing of bonds to repair or rebuild bridges, etc., suddenly destroyed, had passed both Houses of the Legislature and had been signed by the Governor.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Feb. 1, 1883.

Report of Committee to adjust bill of repair to bridge near Morse's Mill, Linden:

Your Committee respectfully report that they examined the work done on bridge and recommend the payment of the bill.

W. J. HUSBANDS,
A. J. HALLIDAY,
WM. J. THOMPSON.

On motion received and ordered on file.

The Committee to whom was referred the matter of the disposal of clothing of drowned persons would report that they met at Ford & Stiles, undertakers, on Wednesday, January 24th inst., present Director Martine, Freeholders White and Oliver. The effects of several suicides and other unfortunates were duly overhauled and examined. It was the sense of your committee that the articles be donated to the poor of our city at the Almshouse.

W. M. OLIVER,
THOMAS WHITE.

On motion received and ordered on file.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Committee on Roads:

Resolved, That new bonds to the amount of ninety (90) thousand dollars be issued by this Board to renew a a portion of the bonds amounting to one hundred (100) thousand dollars which fall due on the 1st of April, 1883, for the payment of which no provision has been made, in accordance with an act of the Legislature, approved March 4, 1880, page 128; and the Board hereby determine that they shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of one thousand (1,000) dollars each, dated March 31st, 1883, and shall bear interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum, payable semi annually, and shall fall due as follows:

$14,000 on April 1st, 1894.
$14,000 on April 1st, 1895.
$ 9,000 on April 1st, 1896.
$16,000 on April 1st, 1897.
$18,000 on April 1st, 1898.
$19,000 on April 1st, 1899.

On motion adopted by the following vote:

Affirmative—Director Martine and Freeholders Briant, Doty, Halliday, Hubbard, Husbands, Isenmann, Mapes, Newbury Oliver, Smith, Stover, Thompson, White, Clark—15.

Negative—None.

Absent—Freeholders Eller and Runkle.

By Freeholder Briant:

Resolved, That the Collector, Director and Attorney be authorized to collect arrears of taxes due the county.

On motion adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Stover:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to pay to Messrs. Hutchinson & Merritt two hundred dollars ($200) on account of bridges in Plainfield nearly completed.

On motion, adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder Newbury:

Resolved that the Legislative Committee be requested to investigate the provisions of Assembly Bill No. 28, which is in respect to the creation of a new township in the county of Union and take such action as shall be for the interest of the county.

On motion adopted.

By Freeholder Halliday:

Resolved, that this Board meet as a Committee of the Whole at Rahway, on Thursday, Feb. 8th, 1883, at 2 p. m. to decide in relation to the bridges on Monroe street and St. George's avenue, whether to rebuild or repair.

On motion adopted.

By Freeholder Oliver:

Resolved, That the County Attorney be requested to give a written opinion on the question if a Justice of the Peace is entitled to compensation for any services rendered in case of a deceased person before the County Physician is notified.

On motion adopted.

By Freeholder Clark:

Resolved, That three thousand dollars ($3000) be and is hereby transferred from the Monroe street, Rahway bridge fund to the Milton avenue draw-bridge, Rahway.

Resolved, that the Committee on Rahway bridges be and are hereby instructed to advertise for proposals for and build an iron low truss draw bridge 120 feet long, with a carriage-way of 18 feet and two sidewalks of 6 feet each, said bridge to carry a working strain of 80 pounds per square foot (exclusive of its own weight), with a factor of 5 for safety.

After a general discussion as to whether it will be for the best interests of the county to rebuild the old bridge or build a new one it was, on motion of Freeholder Hubbard, referred to the Committee of the Whole, to meet at Rahway on Thursday, February 8.

PAYMENT OF BILLS.

The following bills, audited and approved, were read and ordered paid by a unanimous vote:

L T [illegible], bridge, Elizabeth, [illegible]

On motion of Freeholder Hubbard, the Board adjourned.

JOHN L. CROWELL, Clerk.
Feb. 1st, 1883.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Over 5000
Druggists
AND Physicians

Have Signed or Endorsed the Following Remarkable Document:

[illegible]

Mrs. John Burke

[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

[illegible]

For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

R. R. Fairchild.

Furniture! Furniture!

SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS.

A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!

Bed-room Suites,
IN ASH AND WALNUT.

Cottage Suites,
IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.

Bed Lounges,
AS LOW AS $7.50.

WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES.

Mattresses and Spring Beds,
OF ALL KINDS.

Come to Fairchild's,
AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.
18 West Front Street.
Parlor Novelties!

The following Styles are our "Latest" and will upon examination be found the most attractive and choice goods offered this season.

THE "Sutherland"

A solid Rosewood Suit, beautifully carved, composed of six pieces, each different, but forming a beautiful group.

THE "Egyptian"

Also a Group Suite, in Rosewood or Ebony. Is a perfect "Gem." The ornamentation truly Egyptian and very artistic.

THE "Rockingham"

In Mahogany or Ebony; catering both to comfort and elegance, this is a commendable suite.

THE "Chippendale"

We show four suites on this order, all in old Mahogany. This line is best adapted for [illegible]. We display a full line of "Antique" [illegible], specially imported for these [illegible].

The "NORFOLK," "DOVER," "KENSINGTON," "STOREHAM," "PARIS," "AMICUS," and "LONDON," are all beauties, designed and executed by one of our most skilled designers [illegible] and we delight in displaying his skill [illegible] in our Warerooms.

Hundreds of ODD, EASY and RECEPTION CHAIRS, in endless variety.

INSPECTION INVITED.

FOR FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS,
WORSTEDS,
HAND PLAITING, &c.,
GO TO No. 8 PARK AVE.

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!

New Livery!

Having assumed control of the well-known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, on Park Avenue and [illegible], the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.

New Stock and Material

Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, SIDE-BAR AND TOP BUGGIES, &c., of the LATEST MAKE and STYLE, and other new material will constantly be added.

The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock for themselves.
Yours, Very Respectfully,
J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!

Mr. D. S. ROBERTS,

(Of the late firm of Roberts & Cadmus,)

Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and patrons that he has purchased the stock and leased the premises of the well-known livery-man, Mr. John W. Laing, who for the past many years has so satisfactorily conducted the business.

FRONT STREET,

Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer demands for all kinds of [illegible], and hopes for a continuance of past favors. [illegible]

Mansion House Stables.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALBERT HEDDEN, Prop'r.

[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

DINGEE & CONARD CO'S
ROSES

[illegible]

THE DINGEE & CONARD CO.

[illegible]

Peter Henderson & Co's
SEEDS PLANTS MANUAL of EVERYTHING for the GARDEN

[illegible]

Peter Henderson & Co.,
35 & 37 Cortlandt St., New York.

TWENTY
Years experience in the business.
SECOND STREET, 3 doors above Peace street.

STEVENS & CORCORAN, Horse-shoers, give particular attention to Shoeing, Plating, Interfering and Interfering Horses. [illegible] with diseased feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

HEMORRHOID OR PILES
Permanently Cured,
IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID.

Or money refunded. Also Ulcers, Fistula and Fissures, cured without knife. I have opened an office at LAING'S HOTEL, Plainfield, New Jersey, where I will be in attendance on TUESDAY, DEC. 26TH.

TUESDAY, JAN. 9TH.
TUESDAY, JAN. 23D.

From 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. My treatment is that known as Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff's system of treating rectal diseases. This is not the painful Carbolic Acid treatment.

Any one wishing to be treated at their homes can do so by sending name and address.

Send for circulars with names of the best citizens of Trenton and Lambertville as references.

Any further information cheerfully given at my office or by mail. Charges always moderate.
M. REED, M.D., Lambertville, New Jersey.

DO YOU PLAY? WHY NOT?

By using SOPER'S INSTANTANEOUS GUIDE to the Keys of the Piano and Organ, any person, man, woman or child who can read or count 6, can learn to play in ONE HOUR without a teacher. This is no humbug. The Guide, with 20 pieces of music, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1 00. Send 10 cents for sample of music. Agents wanted. Address,
CHARLES HEARNE,
11 Frankfort St., N. Y.

For Sale or To Let.
A
Very Desirable Residence,
—ON—
WEST SEVENTH ST.,
(UNION AVENUE.)

House contains 12 large rooms, and modern improvements. One acre of ground, large barn, hennery, &c. For particulars address,
J. W. JOHNSON,
77 East Seventh street, near Broadway.

The A. Saltzman Watch

CHAUX-DE-FONDS
EXPOSITION 1879
MEDAL
BRONZE
1879

Ask your Jeweler for it
Before Purchasing any other.

SPEER'S
PORT GRAPE WINE
Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.
Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Speer's Port Grape Wine
FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable

Tonic and Strengthening Properties

are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

SPEER'S
P. J. Sherry.

The P. J. SHERRY is a wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made. For Purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unexcelled.

SPEER'S
P. J. Brandy.

This BRANDY stands unrivalled in this country, being far superior for medicinal purposes.

IT IS A PURE distillation from the grape, and contains valuable medicinal properties.

It has a delicate flavor, similar to that of the grapes, from which it is distilled, and is in great favor among first-class families.

See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle.
Sold by all Druggists.

Washington Valley
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE. ICE. ICE.
SIMPSON & CO.,

Beg respectfully to inform their patrons and public of Plainfield generally that they are prepared to supply the FINEST QUALITY OF ICE IN THE TRADE.

Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.

Families will see the propriety of using only Pure Spring Water Ice.

Orders received at John Walker's Bakery, [illegible], will receive prompt attention.

SIMPSON & CO. have a large lot of [illegible]

They are also prepared to supply [illegible]

GRADING & CONTRACTING
in all its Branches.

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,
Real Estate & Insurance Agent,
OFFICE—East Room, Central R. R. Depot.
RESIDENCE—[illegible] East 5th Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Real Estate for Sale, Rent or Exchange.
Authorized Agent for the following Fire Insurance Companies:
NORTH AMERICA, of Phila. [illegible]
PHENIX ASSURANCE CO., of London, [illegible]

Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.
MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.

POPE'S
Life and Fire Insurance Agency.

Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money Invested on Bond and Mortgage for other Parties. Government BONDS Bought and Sold.

FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK for sale in quantities to suit purchasers.

Office over City National Bank.

FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

FIRE INSURANCE!

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the

Star and Merchants
Fire Insurance Co's of the
City of New York,

is prepared to furnish substantial indemnity against loss by Fire and solicits applications from the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.

NATHAN HARPER.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE
Is Selling WINTER
Boots & Shoes
At VERY LOW PRICES!
11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD.

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 4 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of desirable goods direct from manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Cooking Stoves
and Ranges.
(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.

Agricultural Implements
Of all Kinds, CHEAP.

Super-Phosphates and Bone.

NEW YORK PLOWS,
Also,
The South Bend Chilled Plow

BEST IN THE WORLD. Superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at

No. 13 EAST FRONT ST.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,

C. O. Meeker & Co.
All the above Cheap for Cash.

Coal. Coal. Coal.
FINTIN HIBBITS

Respectfully informs the public of Plainfield and vicinity that he is prepared to supply the best

Lehigh Valley Coal,
of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!

The above coal is all shipped to South Plainfield by the Packer R. R.

Orders sent by mail, BOX 1,180, will be promptly attended to, or No. 38 LIBERTY ST., PLAINFIELD.

J. N. SCHENCK,
Practical Machinist!
RACE STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.

To those contemplating putting heat in dwellings, I would state that I am manufacturing a

Sectional Safety Boiler

for such purposes, which far exceeds any of my previous attempts. I have one in my own dwelling which I will be pleased to show to all calling.

Machinery of Every Description Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.

O. M. DUNHAM,
Merchant Tailor,
No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,
[Next to Laing's Hotel.]
Also, Agent for the
Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.

WM. C. SMITH,
Mason and Builder,
MANNING AVENUE,
First brick house on the right hand side from Somerset Street,
North Plainfield, N. J.

Jobbing Promptly Attended to. Special attention given to Kalsomining.

Orders may be sent to residence or by mail.

PROSPECT HILL FARM
BOARDING STABLES.
HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD

[illegible]

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Stations in New York foot of Liberty street. In Brooklyn—Jewell's Wharf, foot of Fulton street.

Arrangement Commencing Jan. 29, 1883.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

[illegible]

For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

[illegible]

In addition, a train leaves Phillipsburg DAILY 5.00 P. M.

Westward Connections

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

7.40 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamanend, Tamaqua, Drifton, Upper Lehigh, Nanticoke, &c.

[illegible]

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

[illegible]

New York & Philadelphia-New Line,
BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

[illegible]

H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between Mary Ann Hall, complainant, and [illegible], defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF MARCH, A. D. 1883,

At two o'clock P. M. of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of Springfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey.

[illegible]

THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.

Willard P. Voorhees, Sol'r.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, dated January 2, A. D., 1883, the subscriber, administrator of [illegible], deceased, will expose for sale at public vendue, on the premises, in the city of Plainfield, county of Union, and State of New Jersey, on

MONDAY THE TWELFTH DAY OF MARCH NEXT,

At two o'clock in the afternoon, the following described land and premises, viz.: [illegible]

THEODORE M. FRENCH,
Administrator.

Dated Jan. 2, 1883.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.
Union County, Surrogate's Office, Dec. 4th, 1882.

Joseph T. Vail, Administrator of John Marks, deceased.

On application of the above named Administrator it is ordered that said Administrator give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, [illegible]

JAS. J. GERBER,
Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.
Union County, Surrogate's Office, Jan. 4th, 1883.

Andrew J. Ryno, the Executor of Jonathan Dolbier deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims [illegible]

JAMES J. GERBER,
Surrogate.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of NATHAN ROGERS, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty first day of March next.

ELIAS R. POPE.

Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.

EXECUTORS' SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers, Executors of Charles H. [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the twenty first day of March next.

MARY S. STILLMAN,
JARED E. MYERS.

Dated Jan. 8th, 1883.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of Elizabeth Reinser deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty first day of March next.

LEWIS V. REINSER.

Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.

ADMINISTRATRIX SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, Administratrix of John P. Gross, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday the [illegible] day of February next.

CLARA B. GROSS.

Dated Dec. 5, 1882.

R. W. MAHAFFEE'S
EXPRESS.
Furniture & Goods Removed

[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED
SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

Special Notice!

We close at 6 p. m. sharp; having only 14 hours a day for business, we offer our

ENTIRE STOCK
OF Farming Utensils
AND
House Furnishing Goods

at reduced prices, for cash, as we must do as much now in 14 hours as we formerly did in a whole day's work.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS of TIN WARE
To be closed out within the next 60 days.

PLOWS AND HARROWS AT COST.

BERRY & THORN.

Furnaces and Ranges,
STOVES, PUMPS, SINKS.
Gas Fixtures, Etc.

TIN, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.

Tin Roofing and Jobbing!

Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.

Apply to
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 8 North avenue, Plainfield.

For D. M. FERRY & CO'S ILLUSTRATED DESCRIPTIVE AND PRICED SEED ANNUAL FOR 1883

[illegible]

D. M. FERRY & CO. DETROIT MICH.

COLEMAN
Business
COLLEGE, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY.

20 minutes of New York. Positions for all worthy graduates. Life scholarship, $40. Write for circulars. COLEMAN & PALMS, Proprietors.

FREE

[illegible]

PURE INDIA TEAS

From the Districts of ASSAM, CHITTAGONG, CACHAR, KANGRA VALLEY, DARJEELING, DEHRA, DOON, and others. Absolutely Pure. Superior in Flavor. The Most Economical. Requires only half the usual quantity. Sold by all Grocers. JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO. Agents of the Calcutta Tea Syndicate, 130 Water St., N. Y.

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM.

This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. It contains materials only that are beneficial to the scalp and hair and always

Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair

Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

50c. and $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs and medicines.

PARKER'S
GINGER TONIC

A Superlative Health and Strength Restorer.

[illegible]

FLORESTON

[illegible]

Hiscox & Co.

COLOGNE.

NOTICE!

The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office, No. 33 PARK AVE.

A. VANDERBEEK
O. O. P.

Park Avenue Bakery
JOHN WALKER, Prop'r.
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the [illegible]
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

P. P. Van Arsdale,
PIANO TUNER.

[illegible]

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1883. No. 9

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors,
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("Champagne Building,")
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 3 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor adjoining Flagg's Hotel Building.
Terms:—$2.00 a Year in advance.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTIN'S HOTEL,
BOUND BROOK, N. J.
S. BRITTIN, - - - Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.

FRENCH BRO'S, - - - [illegible]
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FLOUR, FEED, MEAL, HARD WOOD AND LUMBER.
Somerset Street, - - - Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 28 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

GEORGE R. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wools, Sheep Skins & Tallow.
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Scraps, for sale Cheap only for Cash.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
DEALERS IN
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds,
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
Cor PARK AVE. AND SECOND st., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET,
ESTABLISHED, - - - 18[illegible].
BREAD, CAKES, PIES, CONFECTIONERY, &c. made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention.

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Flagg's Hotel) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—HARMONY St., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
5th house from Somerset St.—left hand side.
Information imparted as regards present and future events, likewise Marriages, Journeys, Lawsuits, &c. She converses in English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed.
My husband is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c.,—Cheap Rates.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 25 Park Ave.,
(NEAR SECOND STREET.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works.
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most artistic manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders carefully executed and set up.
L. MANNING,
Front St., next to M. E. Ch., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y.

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay,
Straw, &c.,
Peace St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Woods a specialty.
Orders left as above, or addressed to P. O. BOX 68, will receive prompt attention.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS,
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Duer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All wagon orders received and delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
Thankful for past favors I solicit a continuance of the same.

HENRY STRAUSS.
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.,
No. 24 East Second Street,
Bet. Peace St. and Park Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also Bottler of Porter, Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and Adam Fay's Celebrated Weiss Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it to all desiring a pleasing and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, families, &c., supplied at the lowest rates for first-class goods.

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
Mr Cuyper's Building, Plainfield, N. J.
(P. O. Box, 589.)
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

BENTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures,
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. 3d St. & Madison Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL,
[illegible] Place, North Plainfield.
Hardwood, [illegible] and trimmings a specialty. Contracts for all kinds of carpenter work completed. Estimates furnished. Address—Plainfield Post-office.

HARDWARE, [illegible]
[illegible]

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

THE FINEST WHISKEY ever offered for sale in Plainfield can be had at E. P. THORN'S. All those wanting a pure and very old Whiskey for Family and Medicinal use are invited to test it.
Also, a very fine Ale at $1.25 per dozen.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agency for Ulman, Goldsborough & Forney's Aden, Wilson & Alston Club Whiskies, Bottled Expressly for Family use. Also a full line of Apbott, Merrill & Conant's Whiskies and Wines.

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 33 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with the Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r.
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts, North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stabling and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours.

SMITH'S
Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
Blatz's Old Stand. PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Alderberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine, and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Ales, Liquors, Segars.
Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 9 to 1.

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND St.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Delaney Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour.

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 1 EXCHANGE PLACE,
FIVE DOORS WEST FERRY, JERSEY CITY.

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield. P. O. Box 1[illegible]. Families supplied with pure Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel opp. old Post-office delivered free of charge.

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
HART MOORE. SAMUEL [illegible].
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the traveling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
Brunswick, Balke & Co., Celebrated Pool and Carom tables.
Nothing but temperance drinks, such as Lemonade, Sarsaparilla, Soda Water, &c., also Segars. Confectionery over the Bar.
Orders taken and executed for painting the roofs with [illegible] paint.

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate Agent!
14 DUER ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Houses Rented and Collections Made and prompt returns.
[illegible]

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD are cordially invited to visit the
Plainfield Academy for Boys,
[illegible] street, inspect the new building, and see the working of the school.
GERMAN, Natural Method. Daily at 11 a. m.
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French ... $100
Elementary Department, without German and French ... 80
Primary Department, without German and French ... 40
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for ladies and gentlemen, by the Natural Method, taught in the afternoon and evening.
Principals—James Lyon, J. C. Leerink, Ph. D. (of Berlin University). With experienced assistants.
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box 179.

Craig Place School.
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. AUSTIN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, address, apply to Principal.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Tobacco.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 28 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 11 PARK AVENUE.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco,
Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

MILLINERY.

MRS. P. DUNN,
HAS THE LATEST STYLES OF
Millinery, Bonnets, Hats, Ect.
BLEACHING AND PRESSING
Done at short notice. Feathers Curled and Dyed. Pinking done. A large assortment of Hats, Braids, Switches and Curls. Particular attention paid to refunding Hair to suit customers. Hosiery, Gloves, Corsets, etc. Also, Fancy and Dress Goods.
14 West Front street.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 43 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mlle. Dunne, 949 Broadway, N. Y.

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Stillman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

HOTELS, ETC.

LAING'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH B. MILLER, - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS GEISE'S
:R:E:S:T:A:U:R:A:N:T:
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
18 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for Ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style.

Accommodation Express.
PETER RICKERT, Prop'r, OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Building, Cor. Cherry St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. The Accommodation Express will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering Goods or Baggage to any part of the city. [illegible] Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., with care and safety. Prompt attention given to all orders.

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue.
P. O. BOX 206.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent
ADDRESS— Madison Avenue near Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
[illegible]

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES.

ESTABLISHED 1836.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
FINE WALL PAPER,
INTERIOR DECORATIONS,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,

LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC., ETC.
321 Canal Street, New York.
[Telephone Call—Spring 4[illegible].]
GEO. F. BROWN, Plainfield. P. O. Box 1[illegible].

NEW STYLES
WALLPAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTIST COLORS, Etc.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
Between Front and 2d Sts., PLAINFIELD N. J.
P. O. BOX, 949.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
in all their branches.
Satisfaction guaranteed on all Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING,
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St.
P. O. BOX, 3[illegible].
D. WEAVER. F. WEAVER.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

MISS MAMIE KUNKEL,
(of Baltimore Maryland.)
The Young American Prima Donna,
WILL APPEAR IN PLAINFIELD.
During the ensuing Spring for the benefit of a Roman Catholic Charity.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL,
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM [illegible]
Dodworth's New Lanciers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. [illegible]

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,
(Successor to Geo. Waite)
No. 8 Somerset St.
BUTCHER,
and dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats of the Finest Quality, and at prices consistent with the times.
I will endeavor to please all who favor me with their patronage.

LEWIS & CO.,
Butchers!!
AND DEALERS IN
Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry,
Sausage, Hams, Bologna,
Head Cheese and Mince Meat.
Park Avenue,
(AT THE OLD STAND.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

JOHN E. CLARK, [illegible]
[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A MASKED WEDDING.

Oriella and Lance Levering have been married five years—the first of this April—and they have not yet decided which of them was fooled upon that important occasion. One of them must have been, that is certain, since their very marriage was but an April-fool-day joke. Oriella declares it was Lance who was the fool, because he had always been adverse to blondes and despised flirts, and had frequently asserted that if she was the only woman in the world he would not marry her. All of of which Mr. Levering now unblushingly explains by saying that he was only averse to blondes before he saw Oriella, that his abhorrence was a general rule, never applied to individual cases, and that if Oriella had been the only woman in the world he never would have had the chance to marry her. At this his wife laughs with soft mockery. And then Lance goes on to say that Oriella was the fool, for she never had admired him; she had repeatedly declared her intention to marry no one who could not count his wealth by hundreds of thousands, and she was already—

But I am telling the story too rapidly. Here it is in detail:

Lance Levering—proud, ambitious, handsome, with all those transcendental views of marriage so common in men who have been too much admired and indulged by women, too easily successful with them—and Oriella Gladmyr—a radiant blonde, and a reputed accomplished flirt—met one summer at May Croft. The owner of May Croft, Ned Sanborn, was a distant cousin to them both, and Ned and Lance were fast friends; so were Oriella and Ned's wife, Maude. Of course the two had heard of each other, and always in glowing terms, until Lance had come to dismiss the subject with contempt, saying that he detested blonde women and despised flirts, and had no desire to ever know or see the beautiful Miss Gladmyr; and Oriella had openly declared that Lance—judging from the elegant cabinet photograph of him standing in a rich plush frame upon her cousin's dressing table—was hideous, and that she knew he was cold, conceited, and in every way thoroughly detestable. And it seemed as if Ned and Maud, who were determined that their favorites should know and like each other, never would be successful in bringing the two together. After many months of manœuvering, however, it all happened unexpectedly at last.

Lance went to Newport to spend two weeks at May Croft, assured by the fashion reports that Miss Gladmyr was safe in Saratoga. And that same day, as they sat at lunch, just Ned and Maud and their guest, for once alone, Oriella Gladmyr walked in upon them with her gay laugh and her beauty just as dazzling as if she were not robed in the severest of traveling dresses, and had not been dancing until day dawn through all the preceding six weeks.

In his heart Lance had admitted the beauty, however much he disliked the type; but her style offended him in every particular immediately. She was a coquette, audacious, independent, self-possessed, impassionate, thoroughly worldly, he told himself; and he saw no reason to change his opinions as he knew her better."

"So that is Mr. Lance Levering!" exclaimed Oriella, with the faintest mocking curl of her luscious lips, when lunch was over and Maud had accompanied her to the choicest room upon the "seaside" of May Croft.

"Yes; and do own up, Oriel, that he is fine-looking."

"I cannot, dear. I detest men with dark brown eyes and just a little curl to their hair. They are always insufferable conceited. How stupid that he should be here just when I had anticipated having such a delicious little visit!"

"Well, he is here, and you'll have to make the best of it," said Maude, in her heart secretly glad that it had all happened. "We cannot send him away."

"Oh, of course not; but perhaps he will have the grace to cut his stay short, seeing that we abhor each other, and it would be much pleasanter for me to have him away."

"But how do you know that he abhors you?"

"I saw it in his eyes," said Oriella, calmly.

All of which being overheard by Mr. Levering, who sat at his open window just next an open one in Miss Gladmyr's room, caused him to resolve to stay his full two weeks. He did abhor her, but he was piqued by her, too, and had not the slightest intention of sacrificing his pleasure in any way to hers.

Being a man of charming manners, however, he did please Miss Gladmyr in many ways; and as dancing together, they found that it was bliss, so thoroughly were their movements in rhythmic harmony. They drifted through the two weeks, preserving a sort of armed neutrality toward each other, and then the last day of his appointed stay, Lance was brought home with several broken bones and the prospect of remaining at May Croft's for an indefinite period. He had been thrown from his horse while attempting to rescue some ladies from a carriage drawn by a runaway team.

It was a week after the accident that Lance and Oriella came to an understanding with each other that established friendship between them. He found Miss Gladmyr a delightful reader, but, for reasons best known to himself, he hated to let her read to him half as long or as often as would have been agreeable to him. Oriella saw this, and frankly told him of it.

"You are very silly not to make the most of any generous impulses I may have," she explained, lightly. "I am not often given to benevolent acts. As for my falling in love with you—if this is what you fear—why, set your mind entirely at rest. You're not at all a well looking man, according to my thoughts of beauty, and Maud tells me that you are not—well, what I call rich, and except that you dance divinely, and have the manners of a gentleman, and—just now—several broken bones, there's nothing interesting about you that any young woman should fall in love with you."

"Thanks, Miss Gladmyr," laughed Lance when she had ended her pay little mocking speech, "for being kind at all to so uninteresting an old fellow as myself."

"Not at all. You know it is awful for Maud to have you on her hands in this way, and decency compels me to help her care for you in any way I can. I cannot do much, but nearly every one likes to hear me read, and since you enjoy it, too, why you and Maud must make the very most you can [illegible] of my small charity."

"I intend to after this," said Lance, gravely. "You are very kind."

"Yes; it is my one accomplishment. Once I dreamed of making fame and fortune by it. Now I know an easier way to get the fortune."

"Yes?" questioningly.

"Yes; to marry it. I never intend to marry any man who cannot count his money by the hundreds of thousands."

"Indeed! Do you tell me that for fear I should fall in love with you?"

"Oh, no," retorted Oriella, nonchalantly. "I know there is not the slightest danger of such a thing. You need no warnings. You dislike me too much."

"On the contrary, I do not dislike you, Miss Gladmyr; but I do not approve of you."

"It's all the same thing. Your ideal woman is a sweet, shy, clinging conventional little creature, who has never been tested in the crucible of the world's fires. I am—oh, almost everything your ideal woman would not be!"

Lance laughed again. They were nearer being friends than ever before.

"And now that you have painted my 'ideal woman,' would you mind depicting your ideal man?"

"Oh, he is tall, real tall and slender, with piercing eyes and white hair and beard, and an enormous bank account."

"I see the money question [illegible] prevails," said Lance, with slight sarcasm.

Oriella opened her beautiful big eyes very wide.

"Why, of course it does. The ambition of my life is to marry rich. But I'm tiring you. I'll come again to read just after dinner. We understand each other now, don't we? We may as well be friends."

Lance smiled, and held out his well hand to her.

It was nearly winter before May Croft was desolated by the departure of its guests, and Maude Sanborn went up to town with Miss Gladmyr without being able to discover that her two cousins admired each other one whit more than when they first met. Still, as Oriella remained in New York for the season, instead of returning to her home in Baltimore, they two saw a great deal of each other, and grew, slowly, more and more confidential friends, until when, in March, something of importance befell Oriella, she made Lance the first sharer of her secret.

"Be sure and be at Mrs Chandelor's dinner—you said there was some doubt about it—because I want to introduce you to Mr. Jarvis Jerome. I have attained my ambition at last. He is almost a millionaire, and has asked me to marry him. Of course, I gracefully and gratefully said I would. I want you to congratulate me. O. G."

Those were the hastily-scribbled lines she sent Levering; and Levering threw them into the fire with a muttered curse.

"What do I care that she has engaged herself to Jarvis Jerome?" he questioned of himself, fiercely biting his lip until the red blood sprung to his pearly teeth. And then he wrote his regrets to Mrs. Chandelor, and packed a satchel and went out of town for a week.

When he got back he went straight to see Oriella and congratulated her.

"Oh, don't talk about that now. It's old!" cried Oriella, impatiently. "Why, I've been engaged a week. I want to tell you about Maud's April-fool-day party. It is the fifth anniversary of her wedding, you know. We're to go down to May Croft's—there are about forty invited—and to have a King and Queen of Folly, and a Jester, and all manner of fun. You'll go?"

"Yes," promised Lance, and he went. And while the carnival was at its highest some one proposed that just before the unmasking took place the host and hostess be remarried. A young clergyman, a chum of Ned Sanborn's was among the guests, though not among the maskers, and a wedding would be just the imposing finish needed to reveal. In a minute a place was cleared, at the end of the long salon, and arrangements made for a grand ceremony; and presently the bride in her white satin domino came in on the arm of a gorgeous courtier, followed by another white satin domino, and some dazzling April fairies wreathed in crocuses and glittering with rain drops.

The cortege advanced to its place, and the two satin dominoes stepped forward and quietly assented to the clergyman's questions, and were pronounced man and wife. Then the signal was given for unmasking, and—Lance Levering and Oriella Gladmyr stood looking into each other's eyes, her face growing white as that of a corpse.

As Oriel's color died Levering's grew—to a dusky, passionate red that darkened face, neck and brow, but presence of mind did not quite desert him. He caught Miss Gladmyr in his strong arms and swiftly carried her across the hall and into the opposite room.

"Oriel! Oriel! Don't look like that," he cried, kneeling beside the sofa on which he had placed her. "For God's sake forgive me! I had no idea it was you—Ned wanted me to change dominoes with him to play a joke on Maude. It was only a joke—all a joke! Oriel, will you speak?"

"Bring Maud here—it was her fault, she made me change dominoes with her for a joke on Ned!" said Oriel beginning to recover herself, but keeping her eyes averted from his anxious face.

"But I want you to tell me you believe me! That you forgive me," he insisted.

She turned her gaze fully upon him now.

"Of course, I must know it was a joke that you had no idea of what you were doing. I have implicit faith in you." Then she commenced to laugh, her pretty, mocking, musical laughter. "Just to think of your marrying me! There is Maud at the door—let her in."

He hesitated a moment. "I want to say something first. I am mad, no doubt, but I must say it! You are my wife, Oriel—just for now, until the joke can be undone—but—I—I—wish I could keep you my wife forever."

He uttered the word hurriedly but with a vehemence that was like the throbbing of a mighty sea, and all his eager, mad, soulful love burned in his eyes bent pleadingly on hers. Oriella knew he meant it. And as swiftly as a flower unfolds its fair face to the hot kiss of the sun, she lifted her golden head and leaned it on his breast and let him register his marriage vows upon her lips in fervent caresses.

And then—a minute later—Ned and Maud were in the room, overcome with remorse and anxiety.

"But it is all right," announced Levering, coolly. "We are married and we only await the congratulations of our friends. Come, Oriel, you are equal to the occasion? Shall we go back into the parlor, and be congratulated, and let the nine days' talk take its way?"

Oriel put her hand upon her husband's arm with perfect composure, and Maud and Ned looked on half dazed with the unexpectedness, and [illegible] of it all, and nobody enjoyed the bit of romance and gossip the affair furnished them, and Mr. Jarvis Jerome was the only sufferer; for a happier couple than Mr. and Mrs. Lance Levering I have never seen, and the only subject upon which they are known to disagree is as to which of them was the April fool on the eventful night of April 1, 1877.

A FEW HINTS ABOUT HORSES.

Give horses salt frequently.

Road horses should have their front feet stuffed with flaxseed twice a week.

When light shoes are needed, particularly hind ones, have them made of cast steel.

Don't hook your horse to the sleigh the same as your wagon, but give him more trace.

Returning from an afternoon drive, let your horse cool off before entering the stable.

Horses wearing boots should have them loosened while under the shed at the road house.

If your horse should pull on one line or throw his head up and down and fight and pull on the bit have his mouth examined.

[illegible] of driving reins frequently become smooth from use, causing the hands to shift. In such cases rub the lines with powdered rosin.

If you wish to drive your horse with an open bridle have him tried with one before putting him to your top wagon, otherwise he might get away from you.

When horses overreach lengthen the hind shoes; when they hit the front of the hind feet have the toe of the front shoes made narrow and concaved on the inside.

Some horses, in trotting, in putting their hind feet to the ground strike principally on the toe. Such horses should have their heels lowered, and should wear shoes without heels.

Skunk cabbage is said to be good for heaves in teaspoonful doses night and morning. Moisten the hay and grain. Be careful with the diet. Never work a heavy horse on a full stomach.

Steel bits should be kept in a warm place until they are placed in the horse's mouth. Any person can realize the sensation of placing a cold bit in a horse's mouth by first touching it with his own tongue.

An excellent remedy for mange is: Oil of turpentine, one pint; add cautiously two ounces of vitriol, stirring the mixture constantly; then add eight ounces linseed oil; to be rubbed in with a brush twice a day.

If your double team did not work to suit you to-day, one crowding to the pole while the other would pull his head to one side, see that the reins are right, and in hooking them to your wagon to-morrow, put the off horse on the near side.

When heels and toes are required on a horse's shoes, instead of having the shoe turned down for heels, have the heels and toes of cast steel and welded on. The heels should be put on half an inch from end of shoe and placed endwise.

Tar is one of the most useful articles to be kept about a stable. Internally use a teaspoonful night and morning for chronic coughs; externally it is particularly useful in thrush and all diseases or wounds of the foot. Mixed with fish oil it is one of the best remedies for hard or brittle feet.

For a horse that 'pulls' use the overcheck with strap attached over the nose and under the lower jaw. For an extra hard-mouthed horse use a four-ringed bit. Have a side-loop on the front of the overcheck, so that it can be moved up and down, as may be required. Then have the check-piece and over-check attached to loose rings and the driving lines alone to the large rings.

A BUSTED BANK BILL.

After a boot-black has polished the boots of a gentleman who was rambling around the City Hall, it was discovered that the man had nothing less than a dollar bill and the boy no less than fifteen cents.

'I suppose you can get this changed,' suggested the man.

'Oh, yes.'

'And you can find me when you come back?'

'Yes.'

'But if I place this dollar in your hands will it not be temptation to cut stick.'

'I wouldn't steal no such sum as that,' contemptuously replied the boy 'but for fear I might get a telegram and be called out of town in a hurry, I guess you'd better go along.'

'My son, I think I can trust you. Go on your way. I never was deceived in a boy yet.'

The boy started down Griswold street and did not return. The man did not wait, however. It was a busted Canadian bank bill.

AT LAST HE INFERRED.

It is related of a wealthy Philadelphian, who has been dead these many years, that a young man came to him one day and asked for help to start in business.

'Do you drink?' inquired the millionaire.

'Occasionally.'

'Stop it! Stop it for a year, and then come and see me.'

The young man broke off the habit at once, and at the end of a year again presented himself.

'Do you smoke?' asked the great man.

'Yes; now and then.'

'Stop it! Stop it for a year and then come and see me.'

The young man went away and cut loose from the habit, and after worrying through another twelve months once more faced the philanthropist.

'Do you chew?'

'Yes.'

'Stop it! Stop it for a year and then come and see me.'

But the young man never called again. When some one asked why he didn't make one more effort he replied:

'Didn't I know what he was driving at? He'd have told me that as I had stopped chewing, drinking and smoking I must have saved enough money to start myself.'—Exchange.

HE DID NOT TESTIFY.

A bright-eyed boy of eighteen years, tidily dressed and having all the appearance of being a child of well-to-do parents, was called in Philadelphia as a witness in Judge Pierce's Court of the Quarter Sessions.

'Do you know what you do when you kiss the Bible?' asked a prosecuting officer.

'No, sir.'

'Do you go to school?'

'Yes, sir.'

'How long?'

'Two years.'

'Is it right or wrong to tell a lie?'

'Right.'

'Right to tell a lie?'

'It's wrong.'

'Do you know where you will go when you die if you tell a lie?'

'No, sir.'

'Have you ever been to church?'

'Once.'

'Do you go to Sunday School?'

'My sister won't take me.'

'Have you ever heard of Heaven?'

'No, sir.'

'Or of hell?'

'No, sir.'

'Did you ever hear of God?'

'Never.'

He was not allowed to testify.

ABOUT WOMEN.

Miss Hattie M. Drew, a Maine girl "possesses the gift of spelling words backward as readily as in the natural way."

The question with Mobile was whether she should pay $2,000 to hear Nilsson sing, or use the money to build a sewer and the sewer prevailed. There is some common sense left in the world.

A baby in Talladega, Ala., enjoys the [illegible] grandmothers, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. The problem involved in this statement has been sent to Prof. Wiggins. Outlook—equally, but well under control.

Lilian Whiting spoke to the Boston Woman's Rights Association on women in American journalism, and made the point especially strong that anybody who thought of writing for newspapers merely as a preparation for magazine or book work might as well give up the idea. The demands of the leading journals are greater than those of the magazines, inasmuch as the literary style of the writer must be quite as good, and the general knowledge much greater. There is no possibility of any sort of writing being too good for the daily newspaper. As for remuneration, the journalist is the best paid man in literature. We think that Lilian is right.

Miss Ida Morena, the new Baltimore cantatrice, has been engaged at the Royal Theatre Avvalorati, in Leghorn, for a series of special representations of "Lucia di Lammermoor," to be given during the coming carnival season. The impressario, Signor [illegible], heard her sing recently in Milan, where she received warm congratulations from Fano, Lamperti, Boccola, Rossoni and other musical authorities, and immediately secured her for his theatre. 'If I get her,' he remarks, 'I shall have a singer who will be a second Patti.' Miss Morena has also received overtures to sing in Spain and in Germany during the spring season, but will probably prefer to remain in Italy for the present.

President Alice F. Freeman, of Wellesley College, says that the cause of the breaking down of the girls in that and other institutions of learning is the lack of proper physical care before entering. 'Experience shows,' she asserts, 'that in the boarding schools where a proper amount of exercise is compulsory the students improve in health, but the college is not a place for invalids, and those who go there with weak constitutions and nervous prostration are likely to become ill.' Girls have not as vigorous a physique as boys, but they are capable of greater endurance, and with proper care can sustain as thorough a course of mental training with benefit, rather than detriment to their health.

Miss Susan B. Anthony, now in the sixty-third year of her busy life, will soon visit Europe and make a prolonged stay in the old world. She receives many kindly and appreciative notices from the public press on the occasion of her departure, and she deserves all the good words which can be said. While all may not be able to agree with Miss Anthony in her theories as to political and social life and the proper place and relations of woman therein, yet all candid observers of her course will concede to her great ability, entire sincerity and a pure purpose to benefit her sex and humanity generally. She has been an unselfish, as well as a zealous, advocate of reforms, which, she believes, are demanded in justice to women in civilized society, and whatever real progress has been made in that direction is largely due to Miss Anthony's labors. Not many women have wrought so earnestly, sincerely and effectively for the good of others as she, and few have done their work under more discouraging circumstances. She has been made the target of much ridicule—some of it witty, and not a little of it coarse and clumsy, but, in fact, Miss Anthony commands the sincere respect of the better portion of the American press and public, and fully deserves it.

THE INVINCIBLE PRINCE.

Once inevitably every six months the incognito prince turns up in the newspapers, and is always a more taking item than the sea-serpent or the woman who has not eaten for months, or even the beautiful daughter of an influential citizen who has just married a coal black negro. The favorite hero in hiding is sometimes the son of "one of England's proudest dukes" who has inexorably given himself up to the pursuits of a hostler in New York city; or an heir to an Italian principality who is a 'longshoreman near Boston, etc. There are always enormous estates and incomes waiting for the disguised prince, and scores of royal and noble relatives on their knees imploring him to return; but no, he has an iron will and a lofty soul; he prefers the simplicity of republican life and the dignity of labor to their soft allurements. It is so inspiring to read of him to folks who have to work for their living that he is never suffered to die out. Over in England just now he has taken the shape of a young lady, the daughter of an English side-waiter, adopted by a miserly French count who died and left her his uncounted millions. Only she is not voluntary in disguise, but has been abducted by the heirs and hid in a convent where nobody can find her. English imagination could not conceive of a human being of his own volition giving up rank or money. But Americans can rise high enough to imagine such a creature, and they hasten to write admiringly about him. At this present moment he is in Chicago driving a smallpox ambulance. He is young and handsome, and is the son of a Russian prince, and has a letter of credit for unlimited sums always ready for him to draw upon. But he never does draw on it; and he drives his ambulance, and he hugs the patients as he carries them in, and refuses to listen to the seductive wiles of the interviewer. Probably he will take no higher shape than this in our day.

A mule turns a deaf ear to flattery.

It is sad to see a newspaper die without issue.

Dogs are more hardy than men. They can go without their pants in Winter.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

WEEKS. MONTHS.

[illegible]

[illegible] per cent. advance [illegible] above rates.

One half-inch advertisements inserted for one week at 75 cents each.

[illegible] rates for all advertisements [illegible]

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at low Cash rates.

CUTS OF CUTENESS.

A BATCH OF APTLY CHOSEN SELECTIONS.

Drivers keeping to the right cannot go wrong.

A friend every man turns his back on—his bed.

Cattle trains should not be run without cow catchers.

The man who lends his influence rarely gets it back again.

Silence is the better part of some orator's best eloquence.

The best time to offer your hand to a lady—when she is getting out of an omnibus.

It takes a girl about four hours longer to wash the front windows of a house than the back windows.

The Speaker of the House is generally known as the chair, so called because he is sat down on so often.

Two styles of consolation: A man's—"Just what I expected." A woman's—"I told you how it would be."

If you have been tempted into evil, fly from it; it is not falling into the water, but lying in it that drowns.

A local Mrs. Malaprop gushingly says that she does so love to sit at the piano in the gloaming and impoverish.

A ribald and impious young man wrote to Nilsson, while she was in Denver, asking her to sing "The Swede By-and-by."

Many a man who snarls and growls at his wife in public is very loving and tender when no one else is around. He has to be.

This conversation was heard the other day: "What kind of a singer is he?" "Well, he's a kind of corn-on-the-stalk tenor."

In these speculative times even the poor farmer, who owns only one share—in his plow—may be detected watering his stock.

The famous Boston musical association has given the Messiah seventy-four times. It ought to know how to Handel it by this time.

Shakspeare endeavored to avoid slang. He said "let slip the dogs of war," where a modern dramatist would have simply remarked 'let 'er slide.'

In Maine they are finding diamond pins in the old oak trees. The hotel clerk of New England appears to have attended picnics at a very early period.

The Philadelphia Telegraph wants to know why old Solomon made the remark about there being nothing new under the sun. Probably he took a Philadelphia newspaper.

A new hymn has been written, entitled "Never Give Up." The choir leader who selects that for singing while the contribution plate is going round will be surely fired out by the deacons.

An elderly man in Boston is so polite and loving that when he is dining with the young lady of his heart he puts syrup on his bald head to attract flies and prevent them from annoying her.

General Sherman kisses every girl to whom he is introduced. Tecumseh always was reckless, much given to cutting away from his base and depending on the country for supplies as he went along.

A man in Springfield, Mo., being invited to drink, poured out a glass of whiskey, looked at a moment, and then dropped dead. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of "suicide by procrastination."

A three year old girl, while her mother was trying to get her to sleep, became interested in the outside noise. When she was told it was a cricket, she said—"I think he ought to be oiled very often."

A visitor enters a French newspaper office and is greeted politely by the office boy: "If monsieur comes to fight a duel, he will be kind enough to call again. All our editors are already engaged for to-day."

A Dublin professional man addressed an artisan, who was waiting in his hall, rather brusquely. "Hallo, you fellow, do you want me?" The answer was neat, "No, your honor, I am waiting for a gentleman."

A Montana woman sued for divorce because her husband kissed the servant girl. "You want this man punished?" asked the Judge, "I shall not divorce you from him."

"Mamma, there's a mosquito on the back of papa's neck; shall I hit it?" "No," said the mother, considerately; "your father might not approve of it. He's a member of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals."

Nothing will make a woman more thoroughly mad than to wear $25 boots to a ball, get her dress caught up on chairs, and have lots of similar accidents, and then find when she comes to go home that she has danced all the evening with old woolen leggings on, having forgotten to remove them.

"You have been here before me half a dozen times this year," said an Austin justice, severely, to a local vagrant, who thus made answer: "Come, now, Judge, none of that. Every time I've been here I've seen you here. You are here more than I am. People who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

WHAT SHE WOULD DO.

They were sitting on a log near the Rock spring.

'And you love me?' he said.

'Can you ask it?' she asked.

'I like to hear you say the sweet words over again,' he gurgled.

'Then I do love you and love you,' she twittered.

'And I must leave you to-morrow.'

'Don't say it, dear heart, don't say it.'

'And what will my darling do when I am far away? What will she do in these lonely evening hours without me?'

'Ahem!' said an old bachelor, getting up from the dark end of the log, and starting off to the hotel, 'I'll tell you what she'll do in these lonely hours without you; she'll be sitting right out here on this same log with another mash making as big a fool of it as you are.' Then he went out into the darkness.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

REVENUE REFORM.

It is folly to expect of the present Congress any thorough and practical action on behalf of revenue reform.

There has been an abundance of windy talk and artful pretense, but a very dim display of those precious jewels known among honest men as common sense and the public good.

The Senate has sailed on one tack and the House on another, apparently without any mutual point in view. They may possibly come together before March 4th and hastily dropping lines fish up a gudgeon and call it a whale.

They cannot deceive the people.

The people of this country demand revenue reform—the reality of the thing—not a sham.

They will have it.

Filching from their pockets as a corruption fund one hundred million dollars a year more than the public service requires is carrying injury where forbearance ceases to be a virtue.

The following outlines, as we believe, the Democratic view of the subject, and enacted into law would, we are confident, be productive of genuine prosperity.

Our platform is this—

That legislation for enriching special interests and feeding ravenous monopolists at the expense of honest enterprise and labor shall positively cease, and the general [illegible] considered and advanced.

That internal taxation of every name and nature, with the possible exception of that on distilled spirits, shall be entirely abolished.

That laws for the collection of duties on foreign importations shall be divested of all needless Custom House formalities and charges, and that duty rates and the classification of dutiable articles shall be worded so plainly and business like, that merchants may understand what they mean without having to call in the aid of Philadelphia lawyers, language professors and scientific experts.

That revenue annually raised shall be only to the extent of meeting the actual current wants of an economically administered government, the payment of just pensions, the cost of indispensable public improvements, and the interest on and for a moderate reduction of the national debt.

That to realize such revenue the tariff shall be framed to protect the people and not to plunder them by conferring bounties on the favored few, but, with business intelligence and integrity of purpose be so arranged as to afford liberal profit to every legitimate home producer and manufacturer, and to American labor of all kinds ample wages and permanent employment, and as a further encouragement to domestic industry, that crude materials shall, as far as prudent and practicable, be admitted free or at a low percentage.

And finally, that efficient efforts, both Congressional and Diplomatic, be made to open for the varied products of American labor the markets of the whole world.

Education and civil freedom are twin sisters.

Commerce is an element of strength and profit to every nation.

The school house is a better fortress than cannon crowned walls.

The ballot should be intelligently, honestly and fearlessly cast.

Where ignorance predominates representative government suffers.

A wise and prudent government steers closely by the chart of exact justice.

The real prosperity of all sections and all classes of the people is our political creed.

Free representative government, to be enduring, must rest upon the intelligence and moral worth of the masses.

Have we reached that low level of decadence where many legislators are merely the attorneys for private interests?

Education is the great safeguard of the Republic. Whatever tends to strengthen it should be liberally encouraged.

Money spent for the support of Public Schools is the best investment a free people can make. Like seed cast upon Nile watered lands it will in due season return a harvest of substantial good.

Subsidy, in its moderate application, means the payment of money from the public purse without an equivalent being received therefor. It might be appropriately changed to the word steal.

D. H. Reed, a well-known druggist of Asbury Park, was convicted Wednesday in the County Court at Freehold on an indictment charging him with selling liquor contrary to law.

It is time for this country to lay aside the narrow policy of former years, and boldly enter the markets of the world with not only its agricultural, but with all its diversified productions of labor and skill.

Louis F. Carman, Secretary and Treasurer of the Manhattan Fire Insurance Company of New York has been found to be a defaulter to the amount of about $39,000. Carman has disappeared.

About one hundred million dollars annually paid foreign vessels for the transportation of purely American exports betokens the enormous loss of our once prosperous mercantile marine. It is a national disgrace.

It would be well for those American gentlemen who traduce our foreign born population to remember that they are themselves the descendants of immigrants, who landed on these shores not a vast many years ago.

Labor brings from the mines, the forests, and the fields, the hidden treasures thereof and fashions and prepares them for the uses of mankind. Labor purifies the fountains and channels of human life. Without labor there would be neither accumulation nor progress.

After all fine spun theories are exploded and artfully framed arguments exhausted, as they are sure to be sooner or later, the grand old Democratic doctrine of equal personal rights and the general public welfare, shines clear and steadfast as the only safe guide for legislative action.

THE REAL REASON OF ITS PRETENDED ECONOMY.

Our formerly esteemed cotemporary the Central Times, one of the official papers of this city, by an editorial on "City Printing" in its last issue, sought to impress upon the mind of the community at large that it was in favor of reducing the already reduced rates for official advertising, solely for economy's sake though at a sacrifice of its own profit. The article referred to, certainly, on its face, bore the radiant reflection of the Times self-sacrificing philanthropy, and such effect was to all intents and purposes completed by a few skillfully-used mis-statements judiciously chosen and cleverly worded to convince the doubting of the writer's sincerity. Though anything to keep peace with those with whom we are associated in many ways, may be the better plan—especially so where almost daily a mutual exchange of favors and journalistic courtesies occurs—yet, as the stand taken by the Times in the matter of the "City Printing" is so offensive in its manner of reference to printers whom it infers (because of their opposing position) "believe a city a legitimate subject for plucking"; and by reason of our cotemporary's assumption of a cause for the stand it takes entirely different from the real cause; and as by its posing as an economist it implies that we who demand just rates, are extortionists—because of these and other false attitudes, we, in justice to ourselves, should place the matter before the public with an entire exhibition of its true inwardness.

The city does not publish more of [illegible] than it should—not one-twentieth of that which is demanded by the public, and not one-tenth of that which is directed by law, is published. It was not "optional" with the city to order the publication of the statements of the Treasurer, Collector and Finance Committee. Public interest demands and the law directs they shall be published; and the law allows THE CONSTITUTIONALIST $122.85 for the publication, while the Council evaded the law and paid (or rather, will pay) but $81.90. And the law, besides, (Councilman Marsh to the contrary, notwithstanding) does not give the Council authority to fix the compensation for publishing such financial statements, but says "the compensation shall be the same as is now allowed for legal advertising in this State."

As to the publication of the official minutes, the Council of last year did not "decide that the city need not incur that expense of publishing." Such a compliance with the requirements of the law was intended, and a resolution was drawn up to effect such purpose. This, however, was eventually smothered by the negligence of the Times in joining action with the publishers of this paper in their efforts to afford the public the right it had to inspect the official actions of the Council elected to represent it. The public still justly demands such publication and the law says it "shall be" made; still the Council fails to comply and "trusts to luck" to escape the serious results that become possible by this neglect of the law's requirements.

The Times says "it is not unreasonable for the city to ask the newspapers to bear some part in the general economy," and "when an honest effort is made by a city, on the score of compulsory economy, to save expense at every possible point, no fault can fairly be found with it." True! and we are finding no fault with any "honest effort" of the city to save expense—but we are finding fault with the dishonest effort of the Times to take away our rights, in order that the city may thereby save money, for what? To pay for keeping the Central Times on the list of official papers! Our self sacrificing cotemporary does not want to save the city money, but merely wants to save—itself. Our charitable associate wants to pay its charges with legal fees that are due us. That's the extent of our philanthropic colleague's profession of economy. The Times is an official paper merely through a blunder. The one vote that made it so, was intended to have the other effect, and possibly to the exertions of some it is now trying to injure by its false assumption of economy, is due the fact that that vote was not changed.

The city supports too many official papers. That's an apparent fact. If economy is necessary, one should be cut off entirely rather than that the others should waive their just dues to feed with so-called "pap" a thing that's useless. THE CONSTITUTIONALIST has certainly three and doubtless four legitimate subscribers to every one that patronizes the Times. Should the latter, then, strive to force us to take 45 cents for circulating among 1700 readers an official publication, because it is willing to publish to the eyes of possibly 500, the same at no less a cost? The Times shows an appreciation of its own lack of circulation by agreeing to such a reduction of rates. THE CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same reason, so far as it itself is concerned, justly refuses to accede to any dictation of the kind. Let there be economy by all means, but let the means and methods used to accomplish such result in the way of city advertising, be in a righteous manner. Don't attempt an impossibility, Messrs. Councilmen, by dictating what business men shall charge for their service; but while engaging and receiving just as much service, employ fewer instruments and thereby reduce the expenditure four-twelfths instead of three.

DEATH OF ROBERT A. PACKER.

Robert Asa Packer died at Jacksonville, Fla., Tuesday night of last week, soon after midnight, aged 41 years.—He was the oldest son of the late Judge Asa Packer, of Mauch Chunk, Pa. He had been out of health for some time, and always spent his winters in Florida. He went thither about four weeks ago, his wife following him on Saturday Feb. 17. He was twice married, but had no children by either wife. He was legally separated from his first wife, and in 1875 married Emily, daughter of Col. Victor E. Piollet, a well-known Pennsylvania Democratic politician. When a young man Mr. Packer left college to enter the service of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company in a minor position. Eventually he became a Director of the Company and the President of the Pennsylvania and New York Railroad. Mr. Packer was an active member of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania, and contributed his money liberally for campaign purposes. In 1880 he was a candidate for Congress in the Fifteenth District, but was defeated. Judge Asa Packer, his father, left a large fortune in the hands of trustees, his children to have the income of it only. Mr. Packer's income from this trust estate was nearly $3,000,000 a year. It will now go to his brother, Harry E. Packer, who is now in Europe with his family, and Mary E. Packer, unmarried, who lives in Mauch Chunk.

CONGRESS.

In the House on Wednesday the day was spent in debating the River and Harbor Bill. Nearly all the amendments offered were defeated. The item giving $7,000 to Cheesequake Creek, in New Jersey, was stricken out after a long discussion.

In the Senate consideration of the bill to give increased pensions to disabled soldiers was resumed and the bill as amended was passed.

DEATH OF A NEW JERSEY JUDGE.

Stephen W. Tichenor, Lay Judge of the Essex county Court of Common Pleas, died suddenly Sunday night at his residence on Central Ave., Orange. He was in his usual good health in the morning. After dinner he suddenly fell back into his chair complaining of sharp pains in the region of his heart. He was conveyed to his bed and lingered until evening, when he died. Judge Tichenor was born in Orange in 1813, whence he went to Galveston, Tex., and thence to California, where he made a fortune. He was twice Mayor of Orange, and several times member of the Boards of Freeholders and Assessments.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of New Jersey, was begun in Trenton on Wednesday of last week. The following named were elected and installed as Grand Officers for the ensuing year: Grand Chancellor, C. P. Vanderman, of Jersey City; G. V. C., W. H. McCullough, of Swedesboro; G. P., Joseph P. Miller, of Salem; G. K. of R. and S., Eugene V. Lorton, of Plainfield; G. M. of E., Jacob P. Fowler, of Haddonfield; S. R., Henry W. Long, Englishtown; J. E. Moon, of Phillipsburg, Gr. M. A.; Fred. Sprengelman, of Jersey City, I. G.; Wm. B. Lodleon, of Millville, G. O. G.; W. B. Treadhard, of Bridgeton, P. G. C.

SOLDIERS' HOME.

The Surgeon Commandant's report of the above institution shows 32 deaths during the year; 555 cases treated; 334 inmates at last report; 105 admitted during the year; 230 readmitted; 569 cared for in all; 389 remaining October 31, 1882; 364 the least number at any time during the year; 374 the average number; 564 of the 569 served in the army from New Jersey; 17 in the Navy; 340 natives of the United States, 191 of Ireland, 118 of Germany, 35 of England; 33 were over seventy years, one at least was a veteran of 1812, and about one-half received pensions. The Superintendent's report showed, besides details of the management of the institution, expenses of $36,702 23; receipts of $37,959.14, and an average annual cost per inmate of $98.13. The present Board of Management is as follows: Rynier H. Veghte, ex-Governor Marcus L. Ward, Col. E. H. Wright, Amzi Dodd, Wm. A. Shippen, and F. A. Potts. Major P. F. Rogers is the Superintendent.

NEW POSTAL LAW.

Another new postal law has been put into effect. Hereafter nothing whatever can be forwarded from the post office to which it is originally directed, to any office at the request of the person to whom it is written, unless extra postage is paid. The only exception to this is ordinary letters. All packages, circulars, papers, magazines, etc., must have extra postage prepaid on them before they can be forwarded. In many respects this is not a good law, but the old law was subjected to many abuses. People who do not wish their whereabouts to be known, often have their letters, etc., directed to their former places of residence, and then leave a note at the post office requesting that they be forwarded. People who moved out of this city two or three years ago have yet their mail directed here and then forwarded to the great annoyance and extra work of the post office officials. Letters will be forwarded as usual, but all else must be paid for a second time.—Exchange

THE LEGISLATURE.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 28.—The Senate to-day again declined the invitation of the House to go into joint meeting. The greater part of the morning session was spent in discussing the bill of Mr. Carpenter which reduces the legal rate of interest in the State at 5 per cent. The bill received only six votes and is therefore dead for the present. Almost as long a discussion took place over the bill appropriating the proceeds of the sale of the Stevens Battery to the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, which bill passed the Senate. In executive session the following nominations were received: Prosecutors of the Pleas—Sussex, Theodore Simonson; Cape May, Jonas S. Miller; Atlantic, Joseph Thompson. Lay Judges, Common Pleas—Camden, Isaiah Woolston; Hunterdon, John C. Durham; Monmouth, S. T. Hendrickson; Passaic, Jas. Inglis, Jr.; Salem, William Plummer. District Court Judges—Jersey City, Allan L. McDermott; Newark, J. Frank Fort. Commissioners Deaf and Dumb Asylum, Theodore W. Morris, Richard L. Howell and Charles L. Pierson. At the afternoon session of the Senate the Jersey City Charter bill passed with only a single vote against it—Youngblood, of Morris. Mr. Vail introduced a bill which requires all railroad corporations in the State, under a penalty of $500, to connect with the engine by a bell-rope every car on passenger, mixed passenger and freight trains.

The official order has been made public for the reopening of navigation on the Delaware and Raritan Canal on the 12th of March.

It is reported that Gilbert L. Crowell, of Arlington, N. J., President of the Empire Mining Company, while agent for the Talisman estate misappropriated over $200,000, which he lost in mining speculations. He made an assignment two weeks ago.

The following table shows the increase in farm products in this country from the census of 1870 to that of 1880:

	1880	1870
Cereals, bu..........	[illegible]	[illegible]
Cotton, bales........	5,755,359	3,011,996
Wool, lbs............	155,681,751	100,102,387
Hay, tons............	35,150,712	27,316,048
Hops, lbs............	26,546,378	25,456,669
Rice, lbs............	110,131,373	73,635,021
Tobacco, lbs.........	472,661,157	262,735,341
I potatoes, bu.......	169,458,539	143,337,473
S potatoes...........	33,378,693	21,709,824
Butter, lbs..........	777,250,287	514,092,683
Cheese, lbs..........	27,272,489	53,492,153
Values of all farm products sold, consumed and on hand........	$2,213,402,564	$2,447,537,658

The proposal to fix a State license fee of $2,000 for the sale of liquor would probably work more injury than good. It might wipe out some of the small but half way respectable places but it would not touch the "bucket shops," which are probably the greatest sources of evil in all large cities. They supply a bottle of so called liquor for ten cents, and their sales are so large among the poor, and their profits so great, that not one in a dozen of them would have any difficulty in raising the required amount. If any plan can be devised to wipe out these pest-houses, it would have the endorsement and support of all good citizens. But a $2,000 license fee will only have the effect of increasing their sales and making them more pernicious than ever. The proper way to do away with the liquor business is to educate men not to drink; but as that seems impossible, we do not wonder that the foes of intemperance occasionally feel impelled to resort to extreme measures. But the great trouble with prohibition is that it does not prohibit, and class legislation can never be made popular.—Jersey City Tattler.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

It is a singular fact, but the fish in the Minnesota streams are dying from asphyxiation. The water is frozen three feet thick and deeply covered with snow. This shuts out the air and kills the fish.

There will be some sport at "Uncle Ben" Connett's Dog Tavern, between this city and Rahway, Monday afternoon, March 5th, the occasion being a fox chase. "Uncle Ben" offers a prize of $10 for the [illegible]

Besides the quail to be liberated next month by the "New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society," Mr. Percy C. Ohl, of this city, has purchased a hundred other quails to be turned loose in certain sections at the same time.

Two well-known gentlemen, one from this city and the other from New Brooklyn, will contest in a pigeon shooting match at Metuchen next Saturday, March 24, for a stake of $25 a side. Distance 25 yards, single barrel, 80 yards boundary. This will be a close and interesting match.

A meeting of the Warren County Game and Fish Protective Association was held on Monday evening of last week at Belvidere and the following officers were elected: President—Israel Harris; V. President—Aaron McCammon; Secretary—Chauncy H. Beasley; Treasurer—Arthur Smith; Counsel—Joseph H. Wilson.

There was a large gathering of sporting men and farmers and friends of two contestants at a pigeon shooting match, at New Brooklyn, near this city, on Saturday last. The match was between two well known good shots, Wm. Van Sicklen, of Metuchen and Wm. Manning, the veteran duck shooter, of New Brooklyn. The terms were 20 birds each from ground traps, 25 yards rise, 80 yards boundary, single barrel, shot limited to 1¼ ounces. Mr. Manning led off gallantly, and for a time it looked as though he would be the winner, but his failing eye sight told on his shooting toward the close. Out of his first ten birds he killed nine, and then missed eight out of the next ten. The score at the close stood—Van Sicklen, 18, Manning 11. The latter used his cherished ten gauge muzzle loader, the former a breech loader.

The contest between Bogardus and Carver, the two crack pigeon shots, occurred on the grounds of the Jockey Club, near the city of Louisville, Ky., on Feb. 23d. Only about 700 or 800 persons were present. Considerable money was put up, bets being on the average, at the opening, about 100 on Bogardus and 60 on Carver; finally, even bets were offered and accepted. The traps were arranged with boundaries measured eighty yards from the center of the trap, the terms of the match being one hundred birds, thirty yards rise, eighty yards boundary. The birds used were tame pigeons and did not fly well. Bogardus failed to score on the second bird, which fell dead forty yards outside of the limits. Carver missed the fifteenth and sixteenth. Bogardus missed the nineteenth, scoring a tie. Carver fell behind on twentieth, with a miss. The first twenty birds were shot in twenty-five minutes. When the 50th bird was reached there was tie, each having killed forty-three. At the seventy-fifth Bogardus was sixty-four; Carver, sixty-one. From the seventy-fifth to the ninetieth Carver gained three and tied Bogardus. At the ninety-sixth bird Bogardus missed and Carver, without a miss, ran out, defeating his opponent by one bird—Carver, eighty-three; Bogardus, eighty-two. The time was two hours and forty minutes. There was not a single protest. Carver's stakes and gate money amount to over $1,500. Another match was arranged on the grounds to be shot off at Chicago in March.

MARRIAGES.

HARDIE—HEATH.—In Brooklyn, on Wednesday, Feb. 21, 1883, by the Rev. Thomas Rutter, John Hardie of Brooklyn to Miss Sarah Heath of Plainfield, N. J. No cards.

DEATHS.

CAPE.—At his residence in North Plainfield, Wednesday, Feb. 28th, of consumption, Samuel P. Cape, aged 49 years, 2 months, 15 days. Funeral services Friday March 2d at 2:30 p. m. at his late residence.

WADE.—In Rutherwood, Feb. 28, 1883, of old age, Eliza Wade, in her 81st year.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.
—O—
A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c. constantly in stock at the Warerooms, also Furnished at Short Notice.
Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.
Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
GEO. C. FORD. GEO. M. STILES.
11tyl

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 13 Park avenue (Julius Schutz' Hair Store) Residence, No. 21 Third st., cor. New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable. 41tyl

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
40½ West Front St.
Residence—Front St., opp. Washington Ave.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
aptyl

Notice of Dissolution.
Owing to ill health, Mr. Jackson, by the advice of his physician having been obliged to retire from business for a time, the partnership heretofore existing between the firm of Sutton & Jackson is this day dissolved by mutual consent.
All [illegible] continue the business [illegible] Mr. Sutton [illegible]
Dated, Plainfield, N. J., March 1, 1883.
GEORGE F. SUTTON,
JOHN H. JACKSON.
m1w4

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield.
Keep a
—General Line of Groceries,—
And are Agents for the
"Gem" a New Process Flour.
Goods Delivered to any part of the city.

For Sale!
For $10 cash, one-half the original cost, a Chicken house, complete and brass surroundings. Made of the best materials and never as yet used. Wood is sound [illegible] Apply to [illegible] WILLIAM WHEELOCK, Park avenue and Tenth street, Plainfield.

ALMOST AS BAD.
What the Perplexed Physicians do in Cases of Emergency.
"I'll tell you the honest truth," answered the doctor, "Bright's Disease [illegible] Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster [illegible]"
The doctor spoke by the card. The Capcine goes right to the spot. If you can be helped, the Capcine will do it. Look out for frauds. In the word Capcine cut in the middle of the plaster. [illegible] Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, chemists, New York. Highest awards.

To Citizens Of Union County.
As the County of Union is about making its last re-issue of 6 per cent. bonds to the amount of $[illegible] to [illegible] the bonds falling due April 1st, 1883, said bonds to be coupon bonds of $1000 each, to run [illegible] from the year 1886 to '88 inclusive, [illegible] Parties desiring one or more will apply to P. Sheridan, County Collector or Union National State Bank of Elizabeth, previous to March 21st, 1883. 11

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between Samuel Britten, complainant, and Josephine Gilligan, et. als., defendants.—Fi. fa. for sale of Mortgaged premises.
By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias, to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE ELEVENTH DAY OF APRIL, A. D. 1883,
At two o'clock P. M. of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of Westfield, in the county of Union, and State of New Jersey.
[illegible]
THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.
Van Winkle & McKee, sol'rs.
m2w7 Fees $[illegible]

MASTER'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—By virtue of an execution issued out of the Court of Chancery on the 20th day of January, A. D., 1883, directed to me, in cause wherein Erwin Dawn is complainant and Joanna M. Flanz and others are defendants, I shall offer for sale at public auction, at the Court House in the County of Union, on WEDNESDAY THE FOURTH DAY OF APRIL NEXT, 1883,
At the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all the following described tract or parcel of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the township of Summit, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey.
Beginning at a point at the intersection of the middle line of Kent Place Boulevard, with the middle line of Kent Place Avenue, [illegible]
WILLIAM PATERSON,
Master of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey.
C. & E. W. Parker, Sol'rs.
Fee $[illegible] m2w6

Applications for Liquor License.
Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 18, 1883.
Notice is hereby given that Charles Stock has applied to the common council of the city of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at No. 5 East Second street, which application is signed by Fred. Cooper, A. Deband,
Wm. Kern, Peter Longenbaker,
Henry Stiehm, [illegible]
N. Fislig, John C. Albert,
John M. Schaub, E. F. Unkes,
John Wolf, his
Mary Lilienthal, James x Cahill.
D. W. Littell, mark
Chas. Dorsheimer, Witness: Vincent L. Fraser.
citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reason why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing, to the city clerk, on or before the 26th day of February, A. D. 1883.
Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of Spirituous and Fermented Liquors" now in force.
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., Jan. 8, 1883.
Notice is hereby given that Charles Smith has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at the southeasterly corner of Front and Somerset streets, which application is signed by Joseph A. Blatz, John B. Clark,
David Bolton, Henry Goelber,
James Connelly, Lawrence O'Neill,
Augusta Decker, Theodore Kenshaio,
her
Mary x Day, Witness: Joseph A. Blatz. mark
her
Mrs John x Burke, Witness: Joseph A. Blatz. mark
her
Mrs Mary Doudy x Witness: John B. Clark. mark
his
Patrick x Gavan, Witness: John B. Clark.
mark
citizens and freeholders. All persons knowing of any reason why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same in writing to the City Clerk, on or before the 26th day of February, A. D. 1883.
Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of Spirituous and Fermented Liquors" now in force.
WALTER L. HETFIELD, City Clerk.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Feb. 13th, 1883.
Notice is hereby given that Charles Kramer has applied to the Common Council of the City of Plainfield for a license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at 23 West Front street, which application is signed by Samuel Darius, Sophie Kramer,
James Phillips, Henry Filer,
Catherine Flanigan, Elizabeth Hallpenny,
W. R. Tayton, William Gray,
Martin Gleeson, Kasay Blair,
Christopher Beakey, George Neal,
Citizens and Freeholders. All persons knowing of any reasons why such license should not be granted, are requested to make known the same, in writing to the City Clerk on or before the 6th day of March, 1883.
Done in accordance with the requirements of the "Ordinance to license Inns and Taverns, and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors" now in force.
W. L. HETFIELD,
City Clerk.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.
Union County, Surrogate's Office,
Feb. 12th, 1883.
Frederick S. Field the Executor and Clara A. Voorhees the Executrix of Peter T. Chamber deceased.
On application of the above named Executors, it is ordered that said Executors give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands and claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, [illegible]
By JNO. J. GERBER, Surrogate.
m2w6

NOTICE!
The Annual Meeting of the [illegible] will be held at [illegible] No. 6 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, N. J., on Monday, March 12th, [illegible]
WALTER HETFIELD, Secretary.
Plainfield, February 28th, 1883.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Carney Bros.,
NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.
Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.
PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.
Castings and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at dealers' prices. Bring your Tin Ware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in this section. We use nothing but the very best of materials and our work always gives satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Tin ware made to order.
RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.
—SANITARY PLUMBING—
m20

MORTON & BODESHIRE,
Dealers in pure Spring Water
—I : C : E—
Plainfield, New Jersey. Post Office Lock Box 860. Residence, 166 West Front street. Orders left at Morton's place, No. 20 West Front st., will be promptly attended to.
Delivered daily to any part of City at lowest price.

For Sale to Close an Estate,
Two Hundred Acre Farm!
Beautifully located in New Jersey, near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, one hour and a quarter from New York, on high ground, commanding extensive views.
Well calculated for Stock Raising, Dairy purposes or a Gentleman's Residence.
Is [illegible] healthful. Has 160 acres under cultivation, 30 acres in wood, balance in pasture; apple orchard with choice variety of fruit, also pear and cherry trees. A fine brook runs through the lands.
New House, [illegible] well built, under the late owner's personal supervision, with hard finished walls, [illegible]
Large Barn, with capacity for 100 tons of hay. Carriage House, Granary, Wood, Work and Tool Houses complete.
A fine opportunity to purchase an elegant country home at a bargain. Address, JAMES B. BLAKE, Executor, P. O. Box 456, New York city, or CODDINGTON & COMPTON, Rahway.—[illegible]

For Sale or Exchange!
For property in Plainfield, N. J., New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia or Camden, New Jersey. Five acres of land with neat cottage and outbuildings; great variety of choice fruits, including spring and stream of water. One acre in timber, mostly Chestnut. The soil is rich and well adapted to grain, grass or truck growing. Situate one mile from Woodbell, N. J., on the Springfield road. Price, $2,000. If sold for Cash, something less. Very healthful location. Address M, 527 Stetson street, Camden, New Jersey.—[illegible]

Simple and Complete!
A NEW PATENT
Mitering and Beveling
MACHINE!
For Carpenters, Furniture Makers and Wood workers generally. It cuts any Mitre desired. On exhibition and for sale at A. VANDERBEEK'S, 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. State and County rights for sale. m1m1

Dedication of
St. Joseph's Church,
North Plainfield, N. J.
By Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Farrell,
At 10:30 A. M.
Sunday, March 11, 1883.
Admission, - - Fifty Cents.

WANTS and INFORMATION
25 Cents for one insertion of 5 Lines. Each additional line, 5 cents extra. Fifteen cents for each subsequent insertion of same.

ALDERNEY MILK.—A limited number of customers can be supplied with Alderney Milk by addressing ALDERNEY MILK, Plainfield. m1w1

FOR SALE.—Sound, Young, Hambletonian horse, 15¼ hands high. Apply at 46 Central avenue, near 4th street. m2—w2.

TAKE NOTICE!—This certifies that my wife left my bed and board without any cause, on February 18, 1883. I forbid any one trusting her on my account, as I will pay no bills she may contract. E. HAHN. m2w3

TO LET.—A Brick Yard, on favorable terms; situated at Dunellen. Building sand on the premises. Apply to J. C. Pope, & Co., Plainfield, N. J. m2tf

FURNISHED HOUSE TO LET—In good order. Possession at any time. Permit for inspection can be had of Mrs. [illegible], at Mr. J. D. Ryner's, corner of Fifth and Union streets, or to owner [illegible] m2w2

MARYLAND FARMS—Book and Map free, by C. E. SHANAHAN, Att'y, Easton, Md. f-2w-4

LOST [illegible]—Parties having land in Piedmont Valley, Va., and wishing to exchange for Jersey property can find a customer by addressing A. D. C., this office. f16w3

TO LET—A house and lot No. 9 East Seventh street, containing [illegible] rooms. A double house—[illegible] Apply to real estate agents of this city. [illegible]

TO LET—A first class barn and stable in central location. Five stalls and good carriage [illegible] Terms reasonable. Inquire of C. [illegible] [illegible]

TO RENT.—Completely furnished, or for sale, the elegant mansion and large grounds of the late Judge E. Taylor, corner Central avenue and Sixth street, Plainfield, New Jersey. House has fifteen rooms, two bath rooms, etc., steam heat, hot and cold water, gas, and every convenience, large stable, fine garden, abundant fruit; [illegible] Frederick [illegible], 145 Broadway, New York.—[illegible]

FOR RENT—Furnished house, 12 rooms, all improvements. Immediate possession. Furnished rooms [illegible] Inquire J. A. [illegible], near Park avenue, or [illegible] Madison avenue. [illegible]

FURNISHED [illegible] to let, [illegible] Apply to [illegible] Front street and Grant avenue, Plainfield. [illegible]

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Plainfield, N. J. Grocery, Bakery and [illegible] Apply to the [illegible] Real Estate and Insurance Agent, [illegible] Plainfield, N. J.

PLANTS FOR SALE.—Enquire at [illegible] avenue. [illegible]

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET [illegible] Front street. [illegible] DUNN.

BOARD [illegible] Apply to P. O. Box [illegible] Plainfield, N. J.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S
Special Offer
IN BLACK CASHMERE
And Courtauld's
ENGLISH CRAPE!

ALL WOOL CASHMERE:
Lot No. 3, at - - 55 cents.
" " 5, " - - 60 "
" " 7, " - - 65 "
" " 9, " - - 75 "
" " 11, " - - 85 "
" " 13, " - - $1.00 00
" " 15, " - - 1 25
" " 17, Damasse at 90 cents.
" " 19, Cordalille at 95 "
" " 21, Matelasse at $1.00 00

Courtauld's Crape:
Lot No. 23, at - - $1 25
" " 25, " - - 1 75
" " 27, " - - 2 45
" " 29, " - - 3 25
" " 31, " - - 4 75

New Bargains Every Week in each Department.
Ask to see the numbers advertised.
Seely Edsall.
G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

SPECIAL NOTICE!
Our Great Spring Bargain Sale will commence March 20th, and continue for four days.

HORSES & MULES!
I shall keep constantly on hand at my New Brunswick Stables, until April 1, 1883, a large assortment of HORSES
and
MULES!
For Sale or Exchange.
Persons wanting any kind can get suited!
Fresh Arrivals Every Week!
Forty-five head to arrive March 3, 1883.
PRICES REASONABLE!
Money refunded where stock proves not as represented!
By JOHN W. MORRIS.
Jantfm

TO INFRINGERS
OF THE DRIVEN WELL PATENT
Final Notice.
This Patent, Reissue No. 4,372, has been sustained by the United States Supreme Court [illegible]
[illegible]
B. F. GREEN, Newark, N. J.
J. C. CLAYTON, AGT.
[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Last Chance to buy a Bed-room Suit Cheap!
DON'T FORGET THE AUCTION
Sale of Carpets, Beds, Bedding, etc.,
at the Mansion House, on
Monday Evening next,
March the Fifth instant, at 7 p. m.
Sales will be held every Monday,
same hour and place until all is sold.

Having disposed of my Military Business in New York, I will hereafter devote my entire attention to the Clothing Business in Plainfield. Youths', Boys' and Children's Clothing a specialty. Merchant Tailoring. Cloths and Cassimeres in endless variety. Perfect fits guaranteed, or no sale. JOHN H. FRENCH, No. 6 East Front street, opposite P. O., Plainfield, New Jersey.

A. VANDERBEEK,
(Chautauqua Building.)
No. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DEALER IN
Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments.
Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

JUST IN STOCK!
FALL FALL
Hats Hats

LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S.
Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.
Robes and Horse Blankets closing out at Cost!
Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices. [illegible]

A RARE OPPORTUNITY
TO GET A
Life Size Crayon Portrait in fine band for the unprecedented small sum of Twelve Dollars!
By the well-known artist,
SIDNEY E. FLOWER,
Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 36 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Leave in orders early at Studio or Kettle's bookstore, for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.
All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing
Made to Order and Ready Made.
From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boys'. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing
Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.

HENRY HAURAND,
(Successor to Fred. Cooper,)
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Somerset street, North Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box [illegible]
Fine Lager Beer Bottled
Expressly for Family use.
[illegible]

East Front street Property To Let.
[illegible]

A MAN

Taylor's Market!
NO. 34 PARK AVENUE.
Fresh Fish of All Kinds.
Now is the time to lay in your
SUMMER LARD.
At Thirteen Cents per pound by the Tub.
FINE BUTTER—LOW PRICES.
Try Taylor's Celebrated [illegible] 14 cts. per pound. [illegible] 18 cts. per pound.
R. J. RANDOLPH, Manager.
No. 34 Park ave.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

To Our Advertisers.

Regular advertisers entitled to a "change of advertisement," must hand in the same not later than Wednesday noon of each week, to insure insertion in the coming issue.

The above regulation is peremptory, and if so understood will be fully as convenient to advertisers, and immeasurably more so to

Their Obedient Servants,
THE PUBLISHERS.

North Plainfield Republican Convention.

The Republicans of the township of North Plainfield are requested to meet in convention at the school house on Harmony street, in the village of North Plainfield, on Friday evening, March 9th, 1883, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating township officers to be voted for at the township election to be held on Tuesday, March 13th, and to transact such other business as may come before said convention. CHAS. PLACE, Dated Feb. 28th, 1883 Chairman.

SUNDAY is Mid-Lent.

OH for an Opera House!

GOOD FRIDAY, the 23d inst.

NEW moon, next Thursday.

"BEWARE of the Ides of March!"

WE have had eight rainy Sundays the present year.

REGULAR meeting of the Council, next Monday evening.

SPRING or Township Elections occur on March 13th, this year.

THANKS to Comptroller Anderson for a copy of his annual report.

PLAINFIELD now has telephonic communication with Morristown.

WALDRON the Picture Frame manufacturer has removed to the First National Bank building, 2d floor.

THE Annual Ball of St. Mary's T. A. B. Society, of this city, will take place Thursday evening, the 29th inst.

SAY! did you find a gentleman's fur driving glove within a few weeks. If so leave it at this office and be rewarded.

OUR workmen and presses have been kept busy the past ten days in printing various Township Reports in addition to our other rush of job work.

THE Dedication of St. Joseph's R. C. Church at North Plainfield, will take place Sunday, March 11th, at 10:30 A. M. Admission will be fifty cents.

THERE will be a "fox chase" at Uncle Ben Connett's tavern, Monday afternoon of next week, at one o'clock. Entrance fee, 50 cents, and "a purse of $10 for the boss dog."

THE Rev. J. H. Vincent will lecture on "That Boy's Sister," at the M. E. Church, Scotch Plains, Wednesday evening, the 14th inst. Admission 25 cents. Stages will meet all trains.

THE party finding the fur glove, we advertised as lost, recently, can have no use for it without a mate, and will confer a great favor by returning the same to this office at his or her earliest convenience.

THE Reception of the Union Club arranged for last Monday evening, took place as announced by us last week. The attendance included Plainfield's highest families, most brilliant belles and well-bred cavaliers.

No greater success has been achieved in the same way than the results of the Entertainments given in Van Deventer Hall, recently, by Prof. E. C. Taylor, the Prestidigitator. Full houses and delighted audiences, were noticeable each and every evening.

A LARGE assortment of horses and mules, for sale or exchange, will be kept constantly on hand by John W. Morris, at his stables in New Brunswick, until April 1st. Forty-five head arrive to-morrow, and fresh consignments will be received every week.

MONDAY, the Common Council of Plainfield held a meeting, and the question as to license was brought up. No action was taken, and the question of licenses was postponed until an adjourned meeting on the first Monday evening of March. In the meantime, every saloon and restaurant in the city is closed, and there has been a great demand on the pumps.—Elizabeth Journal.

EVERY week brings something new at Estil's and in consequence thereof the establishment is known as the popular resort for all who have need of articles in their line. A full line of Courtaulds, Best English Crape have been added this week, direct from the importers and is offered at the usual popular prices. An extensive assortment of Black Wool Cashmere is also advertised.

THE reports of the Collector and Treasurer of Fanwood Township for 1882-83 have been printed and are now in circulation. Copies can be obtained at the residence of William Hatfield, Town Collector, Daniel S. Scudder, Town Committee, Joseph A. Patterson, Town Treasurer, William C. Stanbery, Chairman Town Committee, or James A. Baker, Town Clerk. The report shows the finances of the Township to be in an excellent condition.

THE property on Front street, facing Park avenue, owned by Messrs. Shaw and Van Deventer, has been recently equally divided. The erection of a handsome building in place of the portion now owned by the latter adjoining the First National Bank, is contemplated, giving a fine store below and offices above. The other part will be occupied by the owner's pharmacy, and a new entrance to Langhorne's photographic gallery above will be built.

A FEW flags flew on the streets on Thursday last, showing that there were some who remembered the immortal George, but the main reason for the poor display of bunting was probably that most of the flags once in the possession of citizens were either so torn as to be useless, or entirely lost. There was a time when everybody, including the churches, had a flag, but that day is gone and so is the flag we loaned to some person a few weeks since.

COUNCILMAN Marsh states before that body, whenever appropriate in his opinion, that the question of reducing printer's fees is being agitated all over the State, "as anybody who reads the papers can see." But he either does not "read the papers," or wilfully suppresses the fact that the public is not "agitated" over reducing the rates of advertising.—That's the question before the Council, and the rates now paid for advertising are generally acknowledged to be, if anything, too low.

THERE has been erected on top of one of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST'S bill-board houses on North Avenue, a row of panels particularly desirable for advertising purposes. Messrs. G. F. & C. E. Brown, always ahead in the way of enterprise, have already had painted their advertisement in the centre and largest space, and many other merchants have engaged adjoining panels for their advertisements. But one or two are not yet taken, and those who desire to place their cards where hundreds daily pass and read, should speak at once.

A VERY desirable residence on East Front street, is offered in our advertising columns for rent.

THE Annual Meeting of the Plainfield Saengerbund, will be held at its rooms next Monday evening. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

THE ladies of the Congregational Church have arranged for a lecture by Mr. Wm. I. Marshall, entitled "An Evening in Wonderland," and descriptive of a tour through Yellowstone Park. It will be given Thursday evening, the 29th inst.

ATTENTION is directed to the Administrator's Sale of a fine building lot on East Front street, this city, March 12th, belonging to the estate of the late Nelson Gardner. This is a valuable piece of property and will positively be sold on the day named.

MR. Andrew Lutkins, of the prosperous firm of Lutkins & Hummer, has just purchased for $2,700 the property on Somerset street adjoining that of Justice of the Peace, Stephen O. Horton. The new owner intends occupying the same as a residence.

WE are the only authorized agents for the manufacture and sale of the celebrated Malette Pads, a useful and cheap invention for the covering and protection of bill-heads, note-heads, &c. It keeps the paper clean and tidy and is very handy. Try it.

IN our advertising columns to-day, the County of Union announces its last issue of 5 per cent bonds to the amount of $90,000, to renew a portion falling due April 1st. They will be ready on the 31st inst., for delivery to the citizens of the County in such sums as they may desire. Application for one or more to be made as directed in the advertisement.

WE were shown a relic of the Revolution in the way of a Fleam, which originally belonged to Capt. Samuel Potter, grandfather of Mr. B. T. Mulford, of this city. The instrument was used on various occasions to bleed Gen. Geo. Washington's horses, and other horses of Washington's Staff Officers, of which Mr. Potter belonged. Mr. Mulford highly prizes the relic.

A Good Invention.

A simple and useful piece of machinery, recently invented, may be seen at the store of A. Vanderbeck, 33 Park avenue. It is a mitering and beveling machine for the use of carpenters, and wood workers generally. Any mitre may be cut on it perfectly true. State and County rights are for sale. Call and see it.

Spring and Fall.

At the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. John Vosselmann, of North Plainfield, during the evening of Washington's Birthday, Miss Annie M. L. Cahill and Mr. John Hand were married by the Rev. T. Logan Murphy. The affair was one of great gratification to all, and the large number of relatives and guests present were generously entertained. Among the presents not the least was $15,000 to the bride from her happy possessor.

A New Directory for Plainfield.

Mr. Boyd, the recent publisher of our City Directory, encouraged in his efforts to supply the want of a complete and reliable work, will shortly commence the canvass for the edition for 1883-4. The new Directory will be full and complete in every respect, issued on time and superior to any yet published. The business public can appreciate its advantages for advertising purposes.

The First Comet of the Year.

A little before seven o'clock on, Friday evening last, while Prof. Lewis Swift, Director of the Warner Observatory, Rochester, N. Y., was scanning the western sky, he discovered a brilliant comet located in the constellation of Pegasus, near the star Beta. The new comet is moving eastward and is very bright. This is the first comet discovered during the present year and also the first discovery made by means of the new telescope of the Warner Observatory, which is the largest private telescope in the world.

In Regard to Mile Posts.

A few years ago a law was enacted by the Legislature making it the duty of the township committee of every township in the State to erect and maintain guide posts on the several roads and highways at all points where such roads intersect or cross each other. In case of neglect or refusal of the township authorities to erect and maintain such posts the law provides that they shall forfeit and pay into the county treasury, annually, the sum of ten dollars for each and every guide post which they so neglect or refuse to erect and maintain. Soon after the passage of this act, most if not all the townships of this county complied with its requirements by erecting guide posts; but in many cases the posts have either disappeared entirely or else the boards have become so defaced as to be illegible. The consequence is that persons unfamiliar with the public roads of the county often go out of their way from a lack of such information as the guide boards should afford. The law above referred to is a good one, and should be lived up to.—Elizabeth Journal.

Alert's Annual Assembly.

The fourteenth annual reunion and dinner of Alert Hose Co., No. 1, of this city, occurred at Laing's Hotel during the evening of Washington's Birthday, upon which occasion there assembled around the festive board, active and exempt members of the Company, with Foreman Freeman of Resolute H. & L. Co., of Morristown and other honored guests. The Committee in charge of the affair was composed of Foreman Saltzman, R. M. Stover and W. Rockhill Potts, and as a consequent result the affair was a success in every particular. The greatest courtesy and kindliest feeling existed and was displayed among those present, while the humorous and pathetic speeches delivered were received with intense appreciation and applause. Mr. J. B. Miller is to be praised for the commendable bill-of-fare spread before the diners, and for the admirable manner in which it was served. The menu throughout was decidedly satisfactory, which coupled with the enjoyable feast of social intercourse that accompanied it, resulted in a 'reunion' most gratifying to all concerned.

Scotch Plains Minstrelsy.

The minstrel entertainment given at Academy Hall, Feb. 23d, was an agreeable success in harmony, fun and pecuniary results. The cast included Mr. Jno. R. Miller of Elizabeth and Mr. H. S. Rowe of Brooklyn, both very gifted volunteers for the occasion; and Mr. S. P. T. Wilbur and Mr. Jno. R. Flanery of Plainfield. The rest of the company was admirably filled by Messrs. David F. Hall, T. A. Gore, Thos. J. Mitchell, J. A. F. Simpson, W. B. Stanbery, Jas. McNair, I. P. Town, J. R. Martine, Jno. Hurd, S. Townsend, P. B. Miller and Master Chas. Cooper. The stage was managed with commendable promptness by Mr. Wm. Cooper. The vocal performances were excellent, and with the sketches and comic farces were in many respects worthy of professional efforts. A large audience was delighted with the generous programme that was carried out, and which will result in a financial benefit for the Town Hall of about $75.

So successful was the affair and so talented the company, that a number of prominent citizens of Plainfield are endeavoring to induce a repetition of the programme at Van Deventer Hall in the near future.

Primary Meetings.

The Republicans of North Plainfield Township will hold their Primary Meeting, March 9th, to select officers to be supported at the Township Election held March 13th.

An Improvement at Netherwood.

Councilman Polak, at his own expense, has had placed on a Netherwood lamp the names of the intersecting streets where it is located. Plainfield needs the same convenience at every corner in the city.

Thirty Days.

Wolfe, a tailor in the employ of John Scharb, was arrested for disturbing the peace, good-order and morals of the city, last Friday evening. His Honor, the City Judge, before whom the accused was brought the next morning, administered a dose of thirty days, and the patient is expected to be able to be out again in the Spring time, gentle Annie.

Settle!

We make herewith our "third and last call" upon subscribers delinquent for three years or over, to settle. Such would enjoy reading THE CONSTITUTIONALIST with easier consciences, did they result on their check. If it is not convenient to send the entire amount due, the smaller favor of a part would be thankfully received.

The Next Lecture.

The sale of seats has now commenced at Reynolds' Pharmacy for the next entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. Course—the lecture by Lieut. Jno. W. Danenhower, who will tell the story of the Jeannette and the terrible experiences of her officers and crew, at the M. E. Church next Thursday evening.

Save on Your Taxes.

By the provisions of Chap. LV of the laws of 1882, only seven per cent interest is to be charged on real estate prior to 1881, provided the same be paid before Thursday of next week, the 8th inst. As after that date the rate of interest will be twelve per cent and all penalties, and as the Collector has no authority or power to accept in settlement any amount less than the law exacts, delinquents will understand the importance of paying their taxes immediately.

An Evening's Entertainment.

The entertainment of readings and music, given during the evening of Thursday of last week, in the M. E. Church, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., was attended by an unusually large audience. Mr. Charles Roberts, Jr., the Elocutionist, gave a programme of selections developing a wide field wherein he was enabled to display his great talents as a Reader. No hackneyed compositions were offered, yet no more varied outline of dramatic power, sentiment and expression was ever rendered in this city. Outside of one or two specialists, Mr. Roberts has no equal in his profession. Diller's Cornet Quartette, interspersed the programme with much satisfaction.

Oh for an Opera House.

For years past, periodical attempts have been made to form a stock-company, close-corporation, limited-association or an organization of some sort, with the object in view of erecting an Opera House in this city. Each particular scheme failed, however, in its very beginning for many reasons, and it was not until last Fall that anything like a promise of some result was apparent. At the request of a number of the most prominent citizens, a public meeting was held in Assembly Hall, during the evening of Monday, May 29th, 1882, looking towards such a building as a Memorial to the late Charles H. Stillman. The meeting was addressed by a number in favor of the plan, and Mayor L. V. F. Randolph was requested to select a Committee, the authority of which was to extend in whatever direction might best be for the interest of the project. Such was composed of Messrs. L. V. F. Randolph, Jacob Kirkner, Moses W. Taylor, Rev. E. P. Ketcham, William E. Lowe, George H. Babcock, Alexander Gilbert, Henry K. Carroll and A. L. Force. Some of them met once or twice and considered the scheme, and subsequently were joined by a Committee appointed from the Union Club for that purpose. This combination of philanthropists met and met again, to exchange views and endeavor to decide upon location, style, method of raising the funds necessary, organization of its direction and plan of management. Of course among so many personally and financially interested in different ways, it was almost an impossibility to universally agree on every point. But a few, in spite of all sorts of drawbacks, persevered, and at last an agreement is making that seems possibly to assure the accomplishment of the scheme. One thing is certain—if the plan below fails, another in the same direction will not be made very soon, if ever, again.

Mrs. Charles H. Stillman offers free of cost the homestead property situated just back of No. 36 West Front Street, and a perpetual right of way into it from the street. The consideration asked is the formation of an Association of stockholders which shall erect thereon an Opera House to be called Stillman Music Hall. This Association is to purchase the old homestead building, and also a strip of land nine feet wide running back from the street. The latter purchase is to be given the owner of the property that is to be used as an entrance, making the same nineteen feet in width. The entrance way will be sixteen feet in height and above it the heirs of Dr. Stillman will erect a building containing rooms with a separate entrance into the Music Hall, which rooms are to be leased by the Young Men's Christian Association for a term of years at an annual rent of $400.

Plans for the Opera House have been drawn up by Eben L. Roberts, Esq., of Park Avenue, the architect of the Crescent Avenue Church. These plans are for an interior similar to the Madison Square Theatre, New York, and about a third larger. A seating capacity is provided for about 1,200 in parquette, dress circle and balcony—no upper gallery being included. As no showy and expensive exterior is called for, almost the entire estimate of cost—about $37,000—is to be expended inside apart from the scenery alone. The building will extend over the brook, and will have nine exits beside the main entrance. Baggage wagons may be driven up to the stage entrance back of the adjoining stores on Front Street.

Twenty thousand dollars is already subscribed under the following conditions: The signers agree with each other and with the association to be formed and organized for the purpose of erecting a suitable Hall in Plainfield to pay the sums set opposite to their names respectively in instalments as called for by the constituted officers of said association, to be applied to the erection of a Music Hall, to be located on the Stillman homestead lot, at an estimated cost of $40,000 (including any cost of the lot), and to be called Stillman Music Hall. It being understood that a stock company shall be formed under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and each subscriber shall be entitled to his proportionate share on the basis of his subscription, of the capital stock of said company on a basis of $40,000 capital stock. It being also understood that the Young Men's Christian Association of Plainfield shall have the privilege of renting said hall and is annual ten nights in each year at a rental of twenty-five dollars a night. The subscriptions not to be binding until the total amount subscribed shall be forty thousand dollars.

Church Dedication.

The new Catholic church in North Plainfield, St. Joseph's, will be formally dedicated on Sunday, March 11th, at 10:30 a. m. by Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Farrell, who will deliver a lecture at High Mass. Tickets of admission, 50 cents.

Spring Clothing.

French, the Clothier, announces in this issue that he is now ready to furnish his customers with desirable goods for Spring wear at popular prices. Mr. French's reputation for making up first-class garments and guarantee of a good fit, is well-known. Call and examine his goods.

Hard Luck.

Telephone Manager, F. C. Uhl, of this city, was so unfortunate as to lose his pocket-book on Tuesday last containing about $315 in money and valuable papers. He thinks he left it in a car of the 12:33, p. m. train from this city to New York, as he had it out of his pocket during the trip to look over some papers.—Inquiries at the offices of the Central R. R. Company failed to elicit any information regarding it.

Journalistic Courtesies.

The deceitful manner in which a certain cut which embellishes a funny (?) heading in the Central Times of this week, was procured from this office reflects but little credit upon the parties concerned in procuring it, or those who used it. We are always ready to extend journalistic favors to our contemporaries, but when, under false pretenses, an article is loaned, which is afterward used to our discredit and possible detriment, we desire to say we will, in the future, be more on the alert for such deceivers.

Ice.

If the ice worm does not eat up all the great mass of ice stored the present Winter, this necessary commodity will certainly be cheap the coming Summer. In this connection we would call attention to the fact that there is a new ice company formed in this city, under the firm name of Morton & Bodeshime, who will deliver to customers the purest of Spring Water Ice at fair prices. Mr. Morton has for a number of years been connected with the firm of Wilson & Simpson, and is well-known for his accommodating manners and honesty. See card in another column.

Change of Firm.

By a notice published elsewhere, it will be seen that the partnership so long existing between Messrs. Suydam & Jackson, the well-known lawyers, is dissolved by reason of the ill-health of the senior member of the firm. Mr. Suydam's earnest devotion to the interest of his clients even at a personal sacrifice, has necessitated his withdrawal from active service for a needed rest. Mr. Jackson will continue the legal business with the same satisfaction to all concerned, as in the past, in which result will be associated, as a partner, Justice of the Peace, J. Oakley Nodyne, Overseer of the Poor.

Personalia.

Miss Jennie Bird, of North Plainfield, died on Wednesday, of Consumption.

Freeholder M. W. Schenck is confined to his residence, in North Plainfield, by sickness.

Ex-Councilman John Cameron has been confined to his home in this city for several days, in consequence of a severe attack of rheumatism.

The death of Samuel Case, of North Plainfield, occurred on Wednesday last. Mr. Case was formerly connected with the firm of Dunn & Case (now Dunn Bros.) Central Railroad News Agents, and served as Councilman in the city of Elizabeth. Consumption was the cause of his decease. Mr. Case had many warm friends, who esteemed him for his many good qualities.

Township Elections.

The approaching Spring or Township elections to be held March 13th, are of more importance to political parties than is sometimes imagined by the voter. The election of a member to the Board of Freeholders is a victory each party seeks to gain, as by one member the political complexion of the Board might be changed. Therefore, it behooves every Democrat to not only attend the primaries and see that good men are nominated, but to go to the polls on election day and work for the candidate selected. The Republicans will make strenuous efforts to capture close districts in the coming fight in Union County. Democrats, be on the watch.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The usual monthly reception which was given at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening last was very pleasant and entertaining. The programme consisting of music, recitations and readings was interesting and well rendered.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. on this Thursday evening, March 1st, at 8 o'clock. All are requested to be present.

The class for Bible study on Saturday evening will be conducted by the Secretary, as usual.

The Young Men's prayer meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The topic for the meeting will be "Choosing the Good Part"—Luke 10-38-42; Heb. 11-24 27.

We Wonder.

Whether, if it is wrong to speculate in "the necessaries of life," it is right to do so in cotton.

Whether, by the non-attendance of the four temperance Councilmen at the Special meeting of Council last Monday evening, which made it impossible to secure a quorum, because they feared liquor licenses would be granted, they were not neglecting the affairs of the city, as the call embraced other business besides that which they feared might go contrary to their wishes.

Whether there hasn't been a "hen on" in the office of an ex-Clerk of the Council the past few days, because of such a coming and going from thence of many temperance advocates.

Whether the hen will hatch out anything beneficial to the citizens interested, by such gathering.

Mimic y, Merriment and Music.

The third annual masquerade of the Plainfield Saengerbund took place, as was announced, during the night preceding Washington's Birthday, and was attended by an unusually large gathering of the society's members, their families and friends. The affair commenced officially with a grand march lead by President Charles Hess and Charles Drossell, followed by a long line of fantastically dressed couples whose brilliant costumes formed a beautiful combination of changing colors. The rooms were decorated and draped in a gorgeous but tasteful manner, making the surroundings a scene of brightness most appropriately indicating the gayety of the occasion. The Floor Managers, Messrs. Edwin Bachman and Henry Goeller, kept the dancing uninterrupted to the music of Prof. Samuel Franz and his assistants, until the following morning. Everybody present thoroughly enjoyed the entire entertainment which was a success in every particular, largely due the efforts of the Committee of Arrangements, Messrs. Chas. Drossell, M. Kober, H. Goeller, Chas. Smith, Edwin Bachman, Andrew Schaldier and W. Pulsel.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

During Monday evening last, President Livingston and Councilmen Corbell, Polak and E. Simpson met in the Council Room in accordance with the call published below. Although by many it was understood that no quorum would be present, yet the seats devoted to the public outside the rail, were all occupied. Up to 8:30 o'clock, efforts were made to hunt up and induce the presence of at least two more members, but without success. At that hour, President Livingston called his three associates to order, Mr. Corbell moved to adjourn, Mr. E. Simpson seconded the motion and Mr. Polak voted in the negative. The President declared the meeting adjourned for want of a quorum. The following was the request for the call:

PLAINFIELD, N. J. FEB. 21ST, 1883.
To Walter L. Hetfield,
City Clerk:

You are hereby requested to call a special meeting of the Common Council, for Monday evening, February 26th, 1883, to take into consideration the following questions: 1st, To take action on the applications for hotel and liquor licenses, now before the Common Council, or any that may be presented at that time. 2d, To take action on the proposals submitted for lighting the streets. 3d, Also to take action on any hack, truck, or pedlers applications for license, that may be presented at that time.

B. F. CORBELL,
KARL T. POLAK,
JOHN SIMPSON.

New Made Laws.

On Friday of last week Governor Ludlow approved and signed the following named acts passed by the Legislature, which he caused to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State:

H. Joint Resolution No. 4, directing the Quartermaster General to loan 150 stand of arms to the Orange Rifles.

H. 15, providing that notices of meeting may be served on freeholders by mail or otherwise.

H. 28, repeals the act to prevent extravagance in school books (applies only to Jersey City.)

H. 78, respecting the repaving and relaying of plank stone and other walks in towns and boroughs.

H. 92, act to regulate the sale of poisons, requiring all poisons sold by druggists to be labeled "Poison," and requiring druggists to keep a record of the name and address of the person to whom any poison is sold.

H. 92, provides that Common Council may establish an hospital for indigent poor and raise money therefor in the tax levy not exceeding $15,000.

H. 162, act to enable Associations of Baptist Churches to change their corporate names.

H. 167, act providing that any director or manager of a savings bank who borrows money of his own bank, or neglects attending meetings for six months shall vacate his office.

Senate Bill—No. 28, providing that all disputes between Overseers of Roads shall be settled by the Township Committee.

House Bill—No. 139, act in relation to the powers of County Road Boards, provides for repairs to roads.

H. 62, ratifies all settlements of past due assessments under the act of March 23, 1882, which were assessed subsequent to January 1, 1881.

H. 63, act providing that in cities of the third class the term of office of members of Boards of Education elected by wards shall be for as many years as there are members from each ward, and hereafter only one member for each ward shall be elected annually.

H. 71, act providing the same as H. 63 (see ante) as to Common Councilmen.

H. 82, modifies the manner of application for and granting of licenses in cities of the second class.

H. 117, authorizes townships to employ police and fix the salary of the policemen.

H. 164, appropriates $2,000 for the Bureau of Labor Statistics for current expenses.

H. 182, authorizes additional appropriations by Common Council for the relief of the poor, where the original appropriation has become exhausted.

H. 197, supplement to act for the relief of creditors against absconding and absent debtors, provides that when appearance is entered by the defendant it shall not be necessary to publish notice.

An Old Musket.

Mr. George F. Brown has in his possession a flint lock musket, called a fowling piece, that was made in 1746 and originally belonged to Now Clarkson's father, who was Mr. Brown's great great grandfather. The musket is five feet 3½ inches in length, and the barrel alone is 3 feet 11 inches long and is 8 bore. It was used in the battle of Ash Swamp during the Revolutionary War, and was at that time in Mr. Clarkson's possession. Mr. Clarkson lived in the house where Mr. Reuben Potter now resides, on the Short Hill road from Rahway to Plainfield, and in the History of Union and Middlesex Counties we find an account of that gentleman having with a yoke of oxen carted water for the Federal troops. The piece was exhibited at the Martha Washington Tea Party some few years since at the First Presbyterian Church, and Mr. Brown has kindly consented to loan it to Berry Post, to be exhibited in the "museum" at their coming fair.—Rahway Advocate.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

It's a boy. John S. Irving the happy father. Mother and child doing well.

Empire Eng. Co. No. 2, will hold their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, March 7th inst.

Horatio M. Clark intends removing from Westfield to Plainfield on April 1st. Wagstaff will be missed by the boys.

Henry Hosford, Esq., went on Sunday last to Sayres, Penn., to attend the funeral on Monday of the late Robert Packer.

Charles W. Hood, conductor on the Central railroad, has rented and moved into the late residence of Mr. Holmes on Union street.

The Lady Washington Supper held in the M. E. church parlors on Wednesday evening, Feb. 21st, netted the Ladies' Aid Society about $125.

John L. Rouleton sold his team of ponies last Saturday, to a gentleman from Newark, for a family team. They were a pair of perfect pets.

John L. Rouleton has purchased the lot and barn located on Quimby street, from Frank D. Oliphant. Mr. Rouleton expects to erect a dwelling on the lot the present year.

The music and art entertainment held in the Congregational church, on Wednesday evening March 1st inst., was well attended. The programme was attractive and well rendered.

David E. Cory, eldest son of Jonathan and Catharine C. Cory, died on Monday afternoon last from consumption. Mr. Cory has been a sufferer from that dread disease for several years past.

The record of vital statistics for month of February, in Westfield Township, shows five births and four deaths. Two of the persons whose death is recorded were over 81 years of age.

The Anniversary of the Westfield Sunday School Association next Wednesday evening, March 7th, in the Presbyterian Church, will be an interesting occasion. A fine programme will be rendered.

Gen. A. Rogers has rented his house on Orchard street to a gentleman from New York, who expects to occupy it on or before May 1st, next. Mr. Alfred Westbrook has rented Welch Bros. house on Westfield avenue.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bucket and Engine Co. No. 1, will be held in the Town Rooms on Monday evening, March 5th inst. A full attendance is requested as business of importance is to be transacted in the interest of the company.

Mr. Anthony, residing on Central ave., has purchased a tract of land from W. G. Peckham, Esq., of about 9½ acres. It fronts on Hillside avenue. The extension of Park avenue crosses the tract. It is a fine and attractive location for a family residence, and on which Mr. Anthony intends erecting one.

Our Township election occurs on Tuesday, March 13th inst. As yet there has been but very little talk about the several offices to be filled. The contest will probably occur on Chosen Freeholders and Town Committee. The action of the different parties will no doubt develop itself by the middle of next week, when the primaries will have been called.

On Saturday last, Henry Baker cut down and removed from in front of his residence on Central avenue, two large English cherry trees which had begun to decay, and were so large that they had encroached upon the sidewalk, making it impossible for two persons to pass each other between them and the fence. One by one the old land-marks of our street are being removed.

The members elect of the Westfield Fire Department, held an informal meeting in the Town Rooms on Monday evening last. A general understanding of their duties was arrived at, and an adjournment was made to await the action of the representatives of the different companies in forming a Constitution and By-laws for the organization and presenting the same to the Township Committee for their approval.

The Westfield Methodist Episcopal church has, by the unanimous vote of its officers, asked for the return of the present pastor, Rev. Warren L. Hoagland, who is just ending his second year in that place. The church has prospered under his administration. A revival has greatly strengthened the membership, and the Sunday school has increased in numbers and interest. The people are a unit in indorsing the action of their officers.

COMMUNICATED.

For "The Constitutionalist."

Driven Well Brag!

Come to the center! The last Driven Well sensation in these parts is a storm of printed postal cards issued by Green and his attorney, J. C. Clayton, parading the names of ten United States Judges of Circuit Courts, who have decided that Green's patents are good. Talk is cheap! Will Mr. Green or Mr. Clayton hear this. Calvin E. Keach, Esq., the counsel for the people in Lansingburg, New York, against the Green patent, makes this offer to Mr. Clayton: He will wager five hundred dollars with Mr. Clayton that but three out of the whole ten cases were ever submitted to the Courts on their merits and that they never had a decision or an opinion of the Supreme Court involving the merit of any of these cases. Now, as the boys say, "put up or shut up."

T. F. FRENCH.

Plainfield, New Jersey.

MISCELLANY.

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 23 West Front Street.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties wishing wall-paper and artist goods at N. Y. prices should call at H. R. Barnes' temporary store, 4 East Front street, opposite new post office. N. B.—Window shades a specialty. m3-al.

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 23 West Front Street, at the New York prices. m17tf

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Demena's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE.—John Kuhn, of Lafayette, Ind., had a very narrow escape from death. This is his story: "One year ago I was in the last stages of consumption. Our best physicians gave my case up. I finally got so low that our doctor said I could not live twenty-four hours. My friends then purchased a bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, which benefited me. I continued until I took nine bottles. I am now in perfect health having used no other medicine.

DR. BOSON'S VEGETABLE WORM SYRUP instantly destroys worms, and removes the secretions that cause them.

HENRY'S CARBOLIC SALVE.—The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions, etc. Get Henry's Carbolic Salve, as all others are but imitations. Price 25 cents.

DESERVEDLY POPULAR.—Unless it had great merit Parker's Ginger Tonic could not be so popular. [illegible] —Ohio Farmer.

An attractive, youthful appearance secured by using Parker's Hair Balsam to all who are getting gray.

WHEN LADIES ARE ATTRACTIVE.—All ladies know their looks are most attractive when free from pimples. Parker's Ginger Tonic is popular among them because it banishes impurities from blood and skin and makes the face glow with health.

DON'T DIE IN THE HOUSE.—"Rough on Rats" clears out rats, mice, roaches, bed-bugs, flies, ants, moles, chipmunks, gophers. 15c.

CHOICEST GRAPE VINES.—[illegible] Address, ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.

For thick heads, heavy stomachs, bilious conditions, "Wells' May Apple Pills" anti-bilious, cathartic. 10 and 25c.

Best ever made. Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar-coated; no griping; only 15 cents a box, of Druggists or mail. Standard Cure Co. Sold by [illegible], Plainfield, N. J.

USEFUL IN THE FAMILY.—[illegible] Parker's Ginger Tonic [illegible]

SKINNY MEN.—"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia. $1.

Malaria, Chills and Fever, and Bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills—[illegible] Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, [illegible] N. J.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

[illegible]

WESTFIELD ADVERTISERS.

C. A. SMITH,
Dealer in
Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
[illegible]
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone call No. [illegible]

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the interest of the people.
Depot, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also Standard Fertilizers,
[illegible]
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
German Valley Lime, by the car load, &c.
E. H. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 46, Scotch Plains, N. J.

C. E. AGUIRRE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Office at Gale's Pharmacy.
Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty.
All work guaranteed to be First Class, and to give entire satisfaction.

JOHN KANE,
WESTFIELD, N. J.
Driven and Drilled Wells.
REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Unexceptionable references given if desired.

TURF EXCHANGE
ALE and BEER VAULTS,
Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J.
JOHN L. MOULSTON, - Proprietor.
Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand.
Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all times.
Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar-cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java, Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,
Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Special Bargains
Which are to be found for a few days
At Whitney's.

A NEW LINE OF "VEILING," ONLY 13c. WORTH 25c.

ONE LOT OF 8 DOZ. FOSTER'S PATENT LACING KIDS, ONLY 88c., WORTH $1.25.

THE "SUPERB CORSET," MADE FROM THE BEST "FRENCH COUTIL," AT 95c. REGULAR PRICE $1.25 ONLY THIS LOT AT THE PRICE.

ECRU TABLE LINEN 50c. WORTH 65c.
WHITE TABLE LINEN, 75c. WORTH $1.

"THESE ARE SPECIAL PRICES," WORTH YOUR ATTENTION.

"THE BEST 'ALL WOOL' BLACK CASHMERE AT 50c. IN THIS CITY," AT

S. H. WHITNEY'S,
(Opposite Post-office.)

Japanese Salve!

For Chapped Hands and Lips,
Frosted Feet and all
Skin Diseases.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT.

A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY

Vail Bros., Philadelphia.

Mrs. John Burke

[illegible]

PECK'S CORNER.

AT PECK'S.
NEW! NEW! NEW! NEW!
:DRESS TRIMMINGS:
FOR SPRING WEAR.

AT PECK'S!

Seersuckers and Ginghams!

A wagon load just received. All new styles and low prices at Ladies try the new corset "Tampico," it has the valuable patent attachment known as the Triple Back, which affords complete protection to the spinal column. Call and examine them and other bargains at Pope Bros.

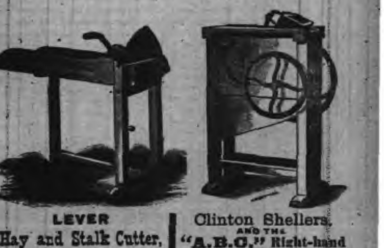
Curtiss & Griffen.



LEVER
Hay and Stalk Cutter,
The Best in the Market.

Clinton Shellers,
AND THE
"A.B.C." Right-hand
WOOD FRAME
Sheller & Separator.

ROEBUCK WEATHER STRIPS.

Lanterns, Street Lamps, Dash Lamps.

Remember, at our Store you BUY GOODS 5 Per Ct. Cheaper
For Cash than for Credit.

No. 13 East Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Bachman Bros.,
POPULAR DRY GOODS STORE!

LARGE LINE OF TOWELS, 38 INCHES LONG, ALL LINEN, TWO FOR 25 CENTS. TURKISH TOWELS, 36 INCHES LONG, AT 25 CENTS EACH. CLOSING OUT BLANKETS AND COMFORTABLES AT COST. GENT'S FULL REGULAR FANCY HOSE IN ALL STYLES, AT 25 CTS. WORTH 40 CENTS. HAMBURG EDGINGS FROM 3 CENTS PER YARD TO 65. CALL AND SEE US AND CONVINCE YOURSELF.

BACHMAN BROTHERS,
17 West Front street, - - - - - - - - Plainfield, New Jersey.

To our Patrons!

Having just finished taking inventory we take great pleasure in announcing to the ladies of Plainfield and vicinity that we are receiving daily real bargains, such as Towels, Table Linens, Birds Eye Diaper, striped and Plaid Nainsook, Cambric, Cottage Drapery, Turkish and Venetian Damasks, all of which we buy for cash. This enables us to sell as cheap as any house in New York. We will mention only a few prices to show that we mean what we say:

2,500 yards the best Shirting Calico, only - - - - - - 5 Cts.
Dress Gingham, worth 12½ cts., we offer at - - - - - 9 "
Seersuckers, new styles, new goods, - - - 12½ and 14 "
Dwight Anchor, 4-4 bleached muslin, - - - - - - 9½ "
Fruit of the Loom, 4-4, - - - - - - - - 9 "
Utica and New York Mills, 9-4 sheeting, - - - - - 27½ "
A good No. 2 Pearl Shirt, re-inforced bosom, all finished, only, 67 "

We are replenishing our Carpet Department and at any time Ladies wish to look at goods in that line for next Spring's want, we will be glad to show them through this Department.

Very Respectfully,
D. BOEHM & BRO.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

"Miss Pidgeon engaged!" said Mr. Duckett.

"Well, really now."

Mr. Duckett sat at his little round table, in the cool shadow of the vines, breakfasting on buttered toast, and coffee fragrant as Arabian gales.

He had this theory about the gravitating power of the world; but he liked fully as well to hear about the latest quarrel between Mrs. Squire Allen and her sister, the parson's wife.

"A meddlesome old baboon!" said pretty Alice Dexter, when she caught Mr. Duckett looking in at the window one day, to see whether the tall young man by the chimney-piece was Henry Lake or Walter Fitzwilliam.

"A most intelligent person!" said Mr. Mountmorris, when Mr. Duckett confidentially informed him that he had overheard, behind the stable door, an active flirtation between Betsey, the maid, and Artemus, the hired man.

"I don't believe in all this kissing and hugging," said Mr. Duckett.

"And I thought perhaps you would like to know."

So that the public opinion of Standale was pretty equally divided on the subject of old Mr. Duckett.

He had been up nearly all night with a telescope, looking for a new comet, and consequently was breakfasting rather later than usual, with Mrs. Hopkins, his land-lady, waiting on him, in her best cap and apron.

"Yes," said Mrs. Hopkins, as she brought in a fresh fried egg on a piece of toast, "it's really true this time," to Mr. Paysley.

"And they do say that Dolly Dutton is ferocious enough to kill her, for every one knows that Paysley has been playing fast and loose with Dolly these three years, and has only thrown her over now because Miss Pidgeon's old uncle has left her three thousand dollars and a set of silver spoons."

"Hum!" said Mr. Duckett, between his sips of coffee.

"Very extraordinary."

"Though for my part," said Mrs. Hopkins, "I never could see what there was about Alphonso Paysley to take the fancy of the girls."

"But I should not wonder if Dolly Dutton sued him for breach of promise yet."

Mr. Duckett was very much interested in all this.

He had seen Miss Pidgeon once—a tall, pale, lean female in spectacles, of some four-and-thirty soulless summers; and he knew that Alphonso Paysley was the clerk in the village store, a sort of 'gay Lothario' on a small scale.

And pretty Dolly Dutton often came in to help Mrs. Hopkins with her churning, preserving and household nature-alias of that nature, a rosy, pink-cheeked young damsel with a dimple on her chin, a mischievous gleam under her pearly lashes, and a mortal fear of the lodger's telescope, which, in her own mind, she could not altogether dissociate from a camera.

'Miss Pidgeon engaged!' repeated Mr. Duckett, as he pushed his plate to one side.

'Then there's hope for the oldest and ugliest of us all—eh, Mrs. Hopkins?'

'Even me?'

'La, sir,' said the land-lady, 'there ain't any reason you shouldn't have your pick and choose of the finest ladies of the land!'

'Do you know of any pretty girl that would take pity on an ugly old bachelor like me?'

'Plenty of them, sir!' said Mrs. Hopkins.

'Then,' said Mr. Duckett, suddenly changing the subject, 'pack my bag, Mrs. Hopkins, if you please.'

'I am going up into the woods to follow the course of the geological strata that underlie this locality.'

'Dear me, sir!' said Mrs. Hopkins.

'I shall be gone two days,' said the philosopher.

'Very well, sir.'

And when the sage was gone, she sat down to her household mending with a sigh.

'I really do miss that dear old gentleman when he's gone,' she said.

'It's rather hard to be left without even a cat to talk to.'

It was two days before Mr. Duckett came home, and when he did come home he bounced into the sitting room in a manner which Mrs. Hopkins afterwards remarked "nearly frightened her out of a year's growth."

'Mrs. Hopkins,' he cried, 'where is the constable's house?'

'The constable, sir,' repeated Mrs. Hopkins.

'It's on the corner of the old Mill Road—the red brick cottage with the creepers all over it.'

'But, begging your pardon, sir, what can you possibly want with the constable?'

'Woman,' hissed Mr. Duckett, between his set teeth, 'there has been a terrible tragedy.'

'It must be investigated.'

'Sir?' said Mrs. Hopkins, more bewildered than ever.

'Is it possible you haven't heard?' he said.

'Heard what?'

'Of the murder!'

'Bless and save us, sir!' she said, jumping up.

'What are you talking about?'

He looked intently at her.

'Woman,' said he, 'have you seen Miss Pidgeon lately?'

'Well, now that you mention it, I have not,' said Mrs. Hopkins, wondering greatly.

'But I'm told she has gone to Lowell, a visitin'.'

He uttered a groan.

'Look at this!' he said—'a piece of crumpled paper which I found beside a brook, a few miles from here.'

'Evidently a portion of the guilty correspondence.'

'You will perceive that it is not the calligraphy of a cultured person.'

And Mrs. Hopkins read on a torn and stained piece of note paper, the following words—

'——poor phebe pidgeon is poysoned. Dolly Dutton done it with Batt poyson, don't Tel anny one, she is berried out under the wilow Tree.'

All the rest was torn away, but Mrs. Hopkins had already read more than enough.

'It ain't possible!' said she, turning very pale.

'That letter would be evidence in any court of law,' said Mr. Duckett.

'I am going for the constable at once.'

* * * * *

Dolly Dutton, sitting singing at her work, by the window of the Dutton farmhouse, was nearly frightened to death by the clasp of the constable's hand, all of a sudden, on her shoulder.

'You are my prisoner,' said the constable.

'But don't be skeert!'

'What for?' cried Dolly, trembling all over.

'For murder!'

'Is the man crazy?' said Dolly. 'Whose murder?'

'Miss Pidgeon's,' said the constable; 'and the quieter and quicker you come along with me, the better it will be for you.'

'But I never dreamed of such a thing,' cried Dolly.

'That is all talk,' said the constable.

'That is what they all say.'

'I was innocent,' pleaded Dolly, hysterically.

'That is for the judge and jury to decide,' he said.

There was a great crowd that afternoon around 'the old willow Tree,' a well-known gnarled veteran, on the edge of a merry little rivulet.

All the spades and picks in the neighborhood were in requisition.

Dolly, the implied murderess, was at Mrs. Hopkins house, under a strong guard, until they could take her to the neighboring jail, and Alphonso Paysley, at Mr. Duckett's suggestion, had been arrested as an accomplice.

'Why don't they tell me on what evidence they have dared to arrest me?' said poor Dolly.

'Them weren't my orders,' answered the constable, who, in truth and in fact, was as much in the dark as Dolly herself.

But the spades and the picks, after much diligent labor, produced no commensurate effect.

'I am blessed if I believe there is anything there!' said the biggest of the excavators; and at the same moment, there was a murmur through the little crowd, and a woman pressed her way through and Miss Phebe Pidgeon herself stood in the front rank.

'What on earth are you all doing?' said she.

'Simons told me that I was murdered; if it really is the case, I don't know it myself yet.'

The diggers dropped their implements, the undertaker's wagon began to back down the road as quietly as possible, the crowd stood open-mouthed.

'Then,' said Mr. Duckett, 'how do you account for this letter?'

Just then a tiny little hand plucked at his sleeve.

'It is my letter,' said Squire Allen's little hired boy.

'I wrote it to Billy Bliss.'

'It is about my pet pigeon—my Phebe's dove.'

'Dolly Dutton kept it at her house for me, and it got poisoned with some of the stuff she got for rats.'

'Then,' gasped Mr. Duckett, 'why didn't we find it, then?'

'Cause I took it up yesterday and buried it in our back-yard, so I could look at its grave.'

There is nothing so quickly turned as the tide of public feeling.

'It is all Daddy Duckett's own pie!' shouted an irreverent young man.

'I hope he's satisfied with the way he's baked it?'

So Dolly Dutton was released with many apologies; Alphonso Paysley was notified that he need no longer consider himself under arrest; Miss Pidgeon went home to find her house in possession of half-a-dozen artists of illustrated papers; and Mr. Duckett disappeared.

Not mysteriously, however.

He paid his bill at Mrs. Hopkins', gathered together his scientific implements and left town.

And the inhabitants of Standale have never seen him since.

THE MISTLETOE.

To English folks the mistletoe is mostly regarded as a plant accorded special privileges at Christmas-tide; but in Germany they seem to make a wider if not a better use of it, for an Alsace-Lorraine paper states that for more than thirty years past it has been the custom at Offenback to collect all the mistletoe for miles around every Winter for cattle feeding purposes. Morning and evening a small bundle of it is given to the milch cows, which devour it greedily. It is said to increase the quantity and quality of their milk and to impart a rich yellow color to the butter made from their cream. Mistletoe growing on apple trees is held to be acid and unsuitable for cows, but is given with advantage to sheep and goats.

PEPPERMINT.

Peppermint is grown for its essence chiefly in western New York. Two-thirds of the supply comes from Wayne County, which produces 60,000 pounds of oil yearly from 3,000 acres. The harvest begins in August, and the first year's crop is the best. The mint is cut with a sickle, scythe or mowing machine according to the fancy of the cultivator. After cutting, it is allowed to wither in the sun for five or six hours, and is then raked into 'cocks,' where it remains a short time before being distilled. It is not every cultivator that is provided with a still, but stills are found distributed about the peppermint region at convenient distances. The apparatus and method differ from those employed in Europe, where the fire is applied to the still. In America the still consists of a wooden tub or vat of heavy staves hooped with iron. The withered mint is packed into the vat by treading with the feet until the vat is full, when a cover, made steam tight with rubber packing, is fastened down with screw clamps. A steam pipe connects the lower part of the vat with a steam boiler, and another pipe from the centre of the cover connects the vat with the condensing worm. The latter varies in size according to the capacity of the still, but becomes progressively smaller toward the outlet. The worm is so placed as to have a constant stream of cold running water surrounding it. The stream from the boiler being admitted to the vat at a pressure of thirty to forty pounds, the oil of the mint is volatilized and mixed with the steam condensed in the worm. The mixed oil and water are collected in the receiver, where the difference in their specific gravity causes them to separate. No attempt is made to redistil the water which separates, and a considerable loss of oil which is held in solution doubtless results from this lack of economy. The oil is packed in tin cans, or glass demijohns, holding about twenty pounds each. The glass demijohns are much the best when the oil is to be kept for any length of time, as its good qualities are more fully retained and it is less liable to discoloration. The oil deteriorates with age, and the aroma becomes more faint; after a certain number of years it thickens, and the color becomes of a yellowish tinge; exposed for a long time to air it becomes resinous.

The question with Mobile was whether she should pay $2,000 to hear Nilsson sing, or use the money to build a sewer and the sewer prevailed. There is some common sense yet left in the world.

HIS PA GETS MAD.

HE DIDN'T KNOW HIS SON HAD PASSED THE KINDLING WOOD PERIOD OF A BOY'S LIFE.

"I was down to the drug store this morning, and I saw your ma buying a lot of court plaster, enough to make a shirt, I should think. What's she doing with so much court plaster?" asked the grocery man of the bad boy. "Oh, I guess she is going to patch pa up so he will hold water. Pa's temper got him into the worst muss you ever see, last night. You see pa wants me to do all the work around the house. The other day he bought a load of kindling wood, and told me to carry it into the basement. I have not been educated up to kindling wood, and I didn't do it. When supper time came, and pa found that I had not carried in the kindling wood, he had a hot box, and he told me if that wood was not in when he came back from the lodge that he would warm my jacket. Well, I tried to hire some one to carry it in, and got a man to promise to come in the morning and carry it in and take his pay in groceries here and have them charged to pa. But that wouldn't help me out that night. I knew when pa came home he would search for me. So I slept in the back hall on a cot. But I didn't want pa to have all his trouble for nothing, so I borrowed an old tom cat that my chum's old maid aunt owns, and put the cat in my bed. I thought if pa came to my room after me, and found that by his unkindness that I had changed to a tom cat, he would be sorry. That is the biggest cat you ever see, and the worst fighter in the ward. It isn't afraid of anything, and can whip a New Foundland dog quicker than you could put sand in a barrel of sugar. Well, about eleven o'clock I heard pa tumble over the kindling wood, and I knew by the remark he made, as the wood slid around under him, that there was going to be a cat fight real quick. He came up to ma's room, and sounded ma as to whether Hennery had retired to his virtuous couch. Pa is awful sarcastic when he tries to be. I could hear him take off his clothes, and hear him say, as he picked up a trunk strap, 'I guess I will go up to his room and watch the smile on his face, as he dreams of angels. I yearn to press him to my aching bosom.' I thought to myself, maybe you won't yearn so much directly. He come up stairs and I could hear him breathing hard. I looked out around the corner and could see he just had on his shirt and pants, and his suspenders were hanging down, and his bald head shown like a calcium light just before it explodes. Pa went into my room and up to the bed, and I could hear him say, 'come out here and bring in that kindling wood or I will start a fire on your base burner with this strap.' And then there was a yowling such as I never heard before, and pa said, 'Helen Blazes,' and the furniture in my room began to fall around and break. Oh, my! I think pa took the tom cat right by the neck, the way he does me, and that left all the cat's feet to get in their work. By the way the cat squawled, as though it was being choked, I know pa had him by the neck. I suppose the cat thought pa was a whole flock of New Foundland dogs, and the cat had a record on dogs, and it kicked awful. Pa's shirt was no protection at all in a cat fight, and the cat just walked all around pa's stomach and he yelled 'police,' and 'fire,' and 'turn on the hose,' and he called ma, and the cat yowled. If pa had had presence of mind enough to have dropped the cat, or rolled it up in the mattress, it would have been all right, but a man always gets rattled in time of danger, and he held onto the cat and started down stairs yelling murder, and he met ma coming up. I guess ma's night-cap or something frightened the cat some more, 'cause he stabbed ma on the night shirt with one hind foot, and ma said 'mercy on us,' and she went back, and pa stumbled on a hand-sled that was on the stairs, and they all fell down, and the cat got away and went down to the coal bin and yowled all night. Pa and ma went to their room, and I guess they annointed themselves with vaseline, and Pond's extract, and I went and got into my bed, 'cause it was cold out in the hall, and the cat had warmed my bed as well as it had warmed pa. It was all I could do to go asleep, with pa and ma talking all night, and this morning I came down the back stairs, and haven't been to breakfast 'cause I don't want to see pa when he is vexed. You let the man that carries in the kindling wood have six shillings' worth of groceries, and charge them to pa. I have passed the kindling wood period in a boy's life, and have arrived at the coal period. I will carry in coal, but I draw the line at kindling wood."

"Well, you are a cruel, bad boy," said the grocery man, as he went to the book to charge the six shillings.—Peck's.

STOPPING THE CAR.

'Stop at Pearl street,' said the old lady.

'Pal sthreet?' said the conductor.

'Pearl street,' said the old lady.

'Poll sthreet?' said the conductor.

'PEARL street,' said the old lady.

'Pile sthreet?' said the conductor.

'PEARL street,' said the old lady.

'Poll sthreet?' said the conductor.

'P-e-a-r-l street, Pearl street,' said the old lady, and sank back exhausted.

'Oh!' said the conductor, with a compassionate smile and an air of explanatory condescension:

'Pur-rul sthreet, ye mane! Yis ma'am.'

THE WORLDLY DEACON.

A Hudson River farmer who wanted a better horse than he possessed, drove into Yonkers one day with his nag, and hunting up a certain citizen who had the sort of a horse he wanted, the farmer stated his desire to exchange, and added:

'I understand that you are a Christian man?'

'Yes, sir.'

'Belong to the Baptist church?'

'Yes.'

'One of the deacons, I believe?'

'I am.'

A trade was made, and the farmer drove home with the new equine. But in the course of three days he returned, and began:

'See here, deacon, what kind of a man are you? You never told me that that horse I got of you had spavins and ringbones and heaves?'

'No, I believe I didn't.'

'Well, you are a pretty christian, you are?'

'My friend,' placidly replied the good man, 'if you can find it anywhere in the good Book that a deacon in the Baptist church must point out the defects of his own horse where a sinner is too ignorant to see for himself, I'll admit my sin and trade back. Come in and we'll hunt for the passage.'

[illegible] is, however, [illegible]. It isn't [illegible] now, but it won't be long before you will need a sponge in the hat.

LITERARY NOTES.

FRANK LESLIE'S SUNDAY MAGAZINE.

The number for March presents several new and attractive features, and fully sustains the high character of this popular magazine. Rev. Dr. Foster contributes No. 3 of "Religious Denominations in the United States—The Reformed (Dutch) Church." The editor, T. De Witt Talmage, has an interesting article, "The Blessings of Short Life." The exterior and interior view of the new Church of St. Francis Xavier are given accompanied by a descriptive article. De Leon's "The American Pilgrim to Palestine" is continued, with beautiful illustrations. The new serial story, "Jesfies Warren's Daughter" is continued, and "Weighed and Wanting" concluded; and there are other delightful short stories, essays, sketches, etc., by some of our most popular writers, several excellent poems, etc. The Home Pulpit has a sermon by Dr. Talmage, "Garrison Duty," and besides a comprehensive and entertaining miscellany, are the interesting features, "The Collection Basket," "Record of Important Events," "Personal and Editorial Notes and Comments," etc., etc. The number is elaborately illustrated. Price, 25 cents a copy; $3 a year, postpaid. Address Mrs. Frank Leslie, Publisher, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW

For March opens on an article on "Money in Elections," by Henry George, who brings to the discussion of that hackneyed subject a contribution full of originality, freshness and keen insight; he points out with admirable clearness one source of your political ills, and proposes a remedy that seems both eminently practicable and efficient. Robert S. Taylor writes of the "Subjugation of the Mississippi," a work which, in his opinion, and in that of the Mississippi Commission, of which he is a member, can be accomplished only by employing, for the purpose of deepening and straightening the channel, the forces developed by the river itself. Moncure D. Conway contributes a very striking study of Gladstone as a man and a statesman, showing how even the more or less sinister moral and intellectual traits of his nature, quite as much as his pre-eminent native force and elevation of character, conspire to make him the foremost Englishman of his time. Hon. Geo. W. Julian's "Railway Influence in the Land Office" is a grave, judicial exposure of the practices which, against the manifest intent of the law and the determinations of the highest courts, have won for corporations millions upon millions of acres of the public domain. Richard A. Proctor writes of the "Pyramid of Cheops"; Prof. Wm. G. Sumner of "Protective Taxes and Wages"; Elizur Wright of "Some Aspects of Life Insurance"; and finally, there is a symposium on "Educational Needs," by Prof. G. Stanley Hall, Prof. Felix Adler, President Thomas Hunter, and Dr. Mary Putnam Jacobi. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York, and for sale by booksellers generally.

EASTER EGGS.

Easter comes very early indeed this year; upon the 25th of March, which is almost as early as it can ever be, and before long, children will begin to think about preparing what in old times used to be called pass eggs. It is a good plan, too, for the egg colorers of a neighborhood to hold a sort of "bee," and unite in the production of the dyes, thus saving time and money.

The exchange of eggs between friends, as a token of love or friendship, is a very ancient custom, dating back almost to the flood, for it is a symbol of the ark, as well as of the resurrection, which is the reason we present them at Easter. It is moreover a very universal custom prevailing among different nations and religions. The Jews placed eggs on their Passover tables, the Druids used them in their ceremonies, and the Persians frequently give them as New Year's gifts. If you should happen to be in Russia this month, a Russian would greet you on Easter morning with "Christ is risen," and offer you an Easter egg—and stranger still, if you were in the far East, a Mohammedan would do the same. At city confectioners, fancy sugar eggs—some of them of enormous size, and containing panoramas of landscapes and figures, or else filled with bon-bons—may be had at all prices; but appropriate home-made ones are worth twice as much.

To dye eggs, onion skins put in the water in which they are boiled will make them a bright yellow; or, if left longer in the solution, a rich brown. Log-wood or violet ink, gives a royal purple. Cochineal, pink and crimson; and many pieces of chintz, or bright ribbon that fade easily if sewed tightly round the eggs will color them nicely in figures, stripes, or dots. Another way is to dip the egg into hot water, and then write a name or motto on the shell with tallow. It is then boiled in the solution of dye-wood, when the inscription will appear in white, upon a colored ground.

Those who are skilled with pencil and paint-brush can present their friends with really exquisite souvenirs, by ornamenting eggs with flowers and butterflies, or appropriate texts of scripture. For these painted eggs, it is better to puncture a tiny hole with a pin in each side, and blow out the inside, leaving a clear shell, than to boil them; and the punctures can be concealed by stars of silver or gilt paper.—Agnes Carr, in American Agriculturist for March.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Over 5000 Druggists AND Physicians

Have Signed or Endorsed the Following Remarkable Document:

Messrs. Seabury & Johnson, Manufacturing Chemists, 21 Platt St., New York: Gentlemen:—For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are superior to all other Porous Plasters or Liniments for external use.

Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine Pharmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognized by physicians and druggists.

When other remedies fail get a Benson's Capcine Plaster.

You will be disappointed if you use cheap Plasters, Liniments, Pads or Electrical Magnetic toys.

A SURE REMEDY AT LAST. [illegible]

A [illegible] PHOTOGRAPHER [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

Invalids who are recovering vital stamina, declare in grateful terms their appreciation of the merits as a tonic, of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Not only does it impart strength to the weak, but it also corrects an irregular acid state of the stomach, makes the bowels act at proper intervals, gives ease to those who suffer from rheumatic and kidney troubles, and conquers as well as prevents fever and ague. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

R. R. Fairchild.

Furniture! Furniture!

SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS.

A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!

Bed-room Suites, IN ASH AND WALNUT.

Cottage Suites, IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.

Bed Lounges, AS LOW AS $1.50.

WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES.

Mattrasses and Spring Beds, OF ALL KINDS.

Come to Fairchild's, AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.

18 West Front Street.

Parlor Novelties!

The following Styles are our "Latest" and will upon examination be found the most attractive and choice goods offered this season.

THE "Sutherland"

A solid Rosewood Suit, beautifully carved, composed of six pieces, each different, but forming a beautiful group.

THE "Egyptian"

Also a Group Suite, in Rosewood or Ebony. In a portrait "Gem." The ornamentation truly Egyptian and very artistic.

THE "Rockingham"

In Mahogany or Ebony; catering both to comfort and elegance, this is a commendable suite.

THE "Chippendale"

We show four suites on this order, all in old Mahogany. This line is best adapted for odd pieces. We display a full line of "Antique" coverings, especially imported for these frames.

The "NORFOLK," "DOVER," "KENSINGTON," "SYDENHAM," "PARIS," "ARGOLIS," and "LONDON," are all beauties, designed and executed by one of our most skilled designers in contract and we delight in displaying his full line in our Warerooms.

Hundreds of ODD, EASY and RECEPTION CHAIRS, in endless variety.

INSPECTION INVITED.

FOR FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS, WORSTEDS, HAND PLAITING, &c., GO TO No. 8 PARK AVE.

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!

New Livery!

Having assumed control of the well-known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, cor. Park Avenue and Second St., the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.

New Stock and Material

Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, SIDE-BAR AND TOP BUGGIES, &c., of the LATEST MAKE and STYLE, with other new material will constantly be added.

The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock [illegible]. Yours, Very Respectfully, J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!

Mr. D. S. ROBERTS, (Of the late firm of Roberts & Cadmus.)

Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and patrons that he has purchased the stock and leased the premises of the well-known livery stables, Mr. John W. Laing, who for the past many years has so successfully conducted the business [illegible]

FRONT STREET,

Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer demands for all kinds of [illegible]

Mansion House Stables

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

ALBERT HEDDEN, Prop'r.

Horses and Carriages to let on reasonable terms. [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. Van Arsdale, PIANO TUNER.

Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. [illegible] Orders by Postal, P. O. Box [illegible], or left at Willett's Shoe Store, No. 4 Park Avenue, will receive prompt attention. [illegible]

NOTICE!

The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office, No. 33 PARK AVE.

A. VANDERBEEK, O. O. P.

R. W. MAHAFFEE'S EXPRESS.

Furniture & Goods Removed

And all kinds of EXPRESS WORK carefully attended to with PROMPTNESS and DISPATCH.

Orders left at [illegible] Front Street, [illegible] Park avenue, opp. North avenue.

TWENTY Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET, 2 doors above Front street.

Mr. JOHN K. STEVENS, Horse-shoer, gives particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Interfering and Interfering Horses. Speedy Cutters stopped in an incredibly short space of time. Horses with diseased feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

HEMORRHOID OR PILES Permanently Cured,

IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS, WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID.

Or money refunded. Also Ulcers, Fistula and Fissures, cured without knife. I have opened an office at LAING'S HOTEL, Plainfield, New Jersey, where I will be in attendance on TUESDAY, MARCH 6TH.

TUESDAY, MARCH 20TH.

From 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. My treatment is that known as Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff's system of treating rectal diseases. This is not the painful Carbolic Acid treatment.

Any one wishing to be treated at their homes can do so by sending name and address.

Send for circulars with names of the best citizens of Trenton and Lambertville as references.

Any further information cheerfully given at my office or by mail. Charges always moderate.

R. REED, M.D., 136 South 13th St., Philadelphia, Penn.

DO YOU PLAY? WHY NOT?

By using SOPER'S INSTANTANEOUS GUIDE to the Keys of the Piano and Organ, any person, man, woman or child who can read at count figures, can learn to play in ONE HOUR without a teacher. This is no humbug. The Guide, with 20 pieces of music, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1.00. Send 10 cents for sample of music. Agents wanted. Address, CHARLES HEARNE, 11 Frankfort St., N. Y.

For Sale or To Let.

A Very Desirable Residence,

—ON— WEST SEVENTH ST.,

(UNION AVENUE.)

House contains 12 large rooms, and modern improvements. One acre of ground, large barn, buggery, &c. For particulars address,

J. W. JOHNSON, 27 East Seventh street, near Broadway.

The A. Saltzman Watch

Ask your Jeweler for it Before Purchasing any other.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE

Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.

Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Speer's Port Grape Wine FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable Tonic and Strengthening Properties are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. [illegible] A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

SPEER'S P. J. Sherry.

The P. J. SHERRY is a wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the rich qualities of the grapes from which it is made. For Purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unexcelled.

SPEER'S P. J. Brandy.

This BRANDY stands unrivalled in this country, being far superior for medicinal purposes. IT IS A PURE distillation from the grape, and contains valuable medicinal properties. [illegible] See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Washington Valley PURE SPRING WATER

ICE. ICE. ICE.

SIMPSON & CO.,

Beg respectfully to inform their patrons and public of Plainfield generally that they are prepared to supply the FINEST QUALITY OF ICE IN THE TRADE.

Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.

[illegible]

GRADING & CONTRACTING in all its Branches.

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD, Real Estate & Insurance Agent,

OFFICE—East Room, Central R. R. Depot.

RESIDENCE—65 East 5th Street, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Real Estate for Sale. Rent or Exchange. Authorized Agent for the following Fire Insurance Companies:

NORTH AMERICA, of Phila. [illegible]

PHOENIX ASSURANCE CO., of London, [illegible]

Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.

MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.

POPE'S Life and Fire Insurance Agency.

Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money Invested on Bond and Mortgage for other Parties. Government BONDS Bought and Sold.

FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK for sale in quantities to suit purchasers.

Office over City National Bank,

FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

FIRE INSURANCE!

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the

Star and Merchants Fire Insurance Co's of the City of New York, is prepared to furnish substantial indemnity [illegible] Plainfield and vicinity.

NATHAN HARPER

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE is Selling WINTER Boots & Shoes AT VERY LOW PRICES!

11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD.

Alex. Willett, DEALER IN BOOTS & SHOES.

No. 4 PARK AVENUE.

A full assortment of desirable goods direct from Manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Cooking Stoves and Ranges.

(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.

Agricultural Implements Of all Kinds, CHEAP.

Super-Phosphates and Bone.

NEW YORK PLOWS, Also, The South Bend Chilled Plow,

BEST IN THE WORLD. Superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at

No. 15 EAST FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.,

C. O. Meeker & Co.

All the above Cheap for Cash.

Coal. Coal. Coal.

FINTIN HIBBITS

Respectfully informs the public of Plainfield and vicinity that he is prepared to supply the best

Lehigh Valley Coal, of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!

The above coal is all shipped to South Plainfield by the Packer R. R.

Orders sent by mail, BOX 1,166, will be promptly attended to, or No. 19 LIBERTY ST., PLAINFIELD.

J. N. SCHENCK, Practical Machinist!

RACE STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.

To those contemplating putting heat in dwellings, I would state that I am manufacturing a Sectional Safety Boiler for such purposes, which far exceeds any of my previous attempts. I have one in my own dwelling which I will be pleased to show to all calling.

Machinery of Every Description Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.

O. M. DUNHAM, Merchant Tailor, No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,

[Next to Laing's Hotel.]

Also, Agent for the Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.

WM. C. SMITH, Mason and Builder,

MANNING AVENUE, First brick house on the right hand side from Somerset Street.

North Plainfield, N. J.

Jobbing Promptly Attended to. [illegible]

Orders may be sent to residence or by mail.

PROSPECT HILL FARM BOARDING STABLES.

HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD

On the most reasonable terms. Large, comfortable box stalls. Address, G. DEWITT GARRETSON, Bound Brook, New Jersey. [illegible]

ESTABLISHED 1861. [illegible]

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Stations in New York foot of Liberty street. In Brooklyn—Jewell's Wharf, foot of Fulton street.

ARRANGEMENT, COMMENCING JAN. 28, 1883.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street, [illegible]

For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.

Connection is made in Jersey City Station to and from Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City, by boats of the "Brooklyn and Erie Annex."

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Newark [illegible]

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Somerville [illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Easton [illegible]

In addition, trains leave Phillipsburg DAILY [illegible]

Westward Connections

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

[illegible]

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Plainfield [illegible] for Freehold and Keyport.

New York & Philadelphia New Line. BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia for Ninth and Green Sts. [illegible]

For Third & Berks Sts., [illegible]

Leave Plainfield for Trenton [illegible]

RETURNING.

Leave Phila. Station Phila. & Reading Railroad 9th & Green Sts. [illegible]

From Third and Berks Sts. [illegible]

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker Streets, [illegible]

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between Mary Ann Holt, complainant, and Leonhard Ettman et als., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF OF MARCH, A. D. 1883,

At two o'clock P. M. of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of Springfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey.

[illegible]

THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.

Willard P. Voorhees, Sol'r.

Fees $7.20.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, dated January [illegible], 1883, the subscriber, administrator of Nelson W. Gardner, deceased, will expose for sale at public vendue, on the premises, in the city of Plainfield, county of Union, and State of New Jersey, on MONDAY THE TWELFTH DAY OF MARCH NEXT.

At two o'clock in the afternoon, the following described land and premises, viz., situate, lying and being on the northerly side of Front street, in the city of Plainfield, county of Union and State of New Jersey:

[illegible]

THEODORE M. FRENCH, Administrator.

Dated Jan. 9, 1883.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Dec. 6th, 1882.

Joseph T. Vail, Administrator of John Burke, deceased.

On application of the above named Administrator, it is ordered that said Administrator give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, [illegible]

By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Jan. 4th, 1883.

Andrew J. Ryno, the Executor of Jonathan Dobbin deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, [illegible]

By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of NATHAN ROGERS, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty first day of March next.

ELIAS R. POPE.

Dated Jan. 25, 1883.

EXECUTORS SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers, Executors of Charles M. [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.

MARY E. [illegible], JARED K. MYERS.

Dated Jan. [illegible], 1883.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, administrator of Elizabeth [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.

LEWIS T. [illegible]

Dated Jan. 25, 1883.

Park Avenue Bakery

JOHN WALKER, Prop'r.

FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated

VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,

[illegible]

Pies, Cake and Confectionery

MISCELLANEOUS.

JAMES K. ARNOLD, GROCER,

Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

Jas. M. Dunn,

Dealer in GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, Vegetables, Fruits, etc.

JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR

No. 36 Park Ave. OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.

ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

Special Notice!

We close at 6 p. m. sharp; having only 14 hours a day for business, we offer our

ENTIRE STOCK OF Farming Utensils AND House Furnishing Goods

At reduced prices, for cash, as we must do as much now in 14 hours as we formerly did in a whole day's work.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS of TIN WARE

To be closed out within the next 60 days.

PLOWS AND HARROWS AT COST.

BERRY & THORN.

Furnaces and Ranges, STOVES, PUMPS, SINKS, Gas Fixtures, Etc.

TIN, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.

Tin Roofing and Jobbing!

Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.

Apply to D. W. LITTELL, No. 8 North avenue, Plainfield.

D. M. FERRY & CO.'S ILLUSTRATED DESCRIPTIVE AND PRICED SEED ANNUAL FOR 1883

Will be mailed FREE to all applicants [illegible]

D. M. FERRY & CO. DETROIT MICH.

COLEMAN Business COLLEGE, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY.

30 minutes of New York. Positions for all worthy graduates. Life scholarship, $40. Write for circulars. COLEMAN & PALMS, Proprietors.

FREE [illegible]

PURE INDIA TEAS

From the Districts of ASSAM, CHITTAGONG, CACHAR, KANGRA VALLEY, DARJEELING, DEHRA, DOON, and others. Absolutely Pure. Superior in Flavor. The Most Economical. Requires only half the usual quantity. Sold by all Grocers. JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO., Agents of the Calcutta Tea Syndicate, 130 Water St., N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.

This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. It contains materials only that are beneficial to the scalp and hair and always

Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair

Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

50c. and $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs and medicines.

PARKER'S GINGER TONIC

A Superlative Health and Strength Restorer.

If you are a mechanic or farmer, worn out with overwork, or a mother run down by family or household duties try PARKER'S GINGER TONIC.

If you are a lawyer, minister or business man exhausted by mental strain or anxious cares, do not take intoxicating stimulants, but use Parker's Ginger Tonic.

If you have Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, or any disorder of the lungs, stomach, bowels, blood or nerves, PARKER'S GINGER TONIC will cure you. It is the Greatest Blood Purifier

And the Best and Surest Cough Cure Ever Used.

If you are wasting away from age, dissipation or any disease or weakness and require a stimulant take GINGER TONIC at once; it will invigorate and build you up from the first dose but will never intoxicate. It has saved hundreds of lives; it may save yours.

CAUTION!—Refuse all substitutes. Parker's Ginger Tonic is composed of the best remedial agents in the world, and is entirely different from preparations of ginger alone. Send for circular to Hiscox & Co., N. Y. 50c. & $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs.

GREAT SAVING BUYING DOLLAR SIZE.

FLORESTON COLOGNE.

[illegible] Hiscox & Co. [illegible] LARGE SAVING BUYING 75c. SIZE.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—Union county Circuit court.—Between Theodore [illegible], Administrator, etc., of William [illegible], deceased, plaintiff, and Albert Wilcox, [illegible] and Harvey Wilcox, [illegible], defendants. Fi. fa. de bonis et terris.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF MARCH, A. D., 1883, at two o'clock, p. m., of said day, all the right, title and interest of the above named defendants [illegible] in the township of Westfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey.

[illegible]

THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.

[illegible], Attorneys.

Fees $7.50.

GRANDFATHER'S CLOCKS.—[illegible]

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY,
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors,
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("Chautauqua Building,")
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 3 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor adjoining Flagg's Hotel Building.
Terms:—$2.00 a Year in advance.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1883. No. 10.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

SPACE	WEEKS. 1	2	3	MONTHS. 1	2	3	6	12
1 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
4 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
5 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
¼ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
½ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Double-column ads 20 per cent. advance on above rates.

One half-inch advertisements inserted for one week at 25 cents each.

Net rates for all advertisements and no deviation.

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTIN'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
S. BRITTIN - - - Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.

FRENCH BRO'S,
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FLOUR, FEED, MEAL, HARD WOOD AND LUMBER,
Somerset Street. - - Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 2d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

GEORGE W. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wools, Sheep Skins & Tallow.
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Scraps, for sale Cheap only for Cash.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds,
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
Cor. Park Ave. and Second St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET,
ESTABLISHED, - - - 1839.
Bread, Cakes, Pies, Confectionery, &c. made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention.

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Flagg's Hotel) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST.
Residence—Harmony St., North Plainfield.
5th house from Somerset St.—left hand side.
Information imparted as regards present and future events. Likewise Marriages, Journeys, Lawsuits, &c. She converses in English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed.
My boyhood is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c., cheap for cash.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 26 Park Ave.,
(NEAR SECOND STREET,)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO!

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works.
Monuments & Headstones.
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most skillful manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders delivered and set up. L. MANNING,
FRONT ST. NEXT to M. E. Ch., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y.

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay,
Straw, &c.,
Pence St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Woods a specialty.
Orders left as above, or addressed to P. O. BOX 68, will receive prompt attention.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS,
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Duer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All wagon orders received and delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
Thankful for past favors I solicit a continuance of the same.

HENRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.,
No. 14 East Second Street,
Bet. Pence St. and Park Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also Bottler of Porter, Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and Adrain Feyh's Celebrated Weiss Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it to all desiring a cooling and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, families, &c., supplied at the lowest rates for first-class goods.

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
McIntyre's Building, - Plainfield, N. J.
(P. O. Box, 839.)
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

BENTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures,
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. 2d St. & Madison Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL.
Stelle's Place, North Plainfield.
Hardwood mouldings and trimmings a specialty. Contracts for all kinds of carpenter work completed. Estimates furnished. Address Plainfield Post-office.

HARPER'S BOOKS, classic, violet and red, and Harper's Magazine, all of sufficient quality can be had, in quantities to suit purchasers, of [illegible]

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

THE FINEST WHISKEY ever offered for sale in Plainfield can be had at E. P. THORN'S. All those wanting a pure and very old Whiskey for Family and Medicinal use are invited to test it.
Also, a very fine Ale at $1.25 per dozen.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agency for Ulman, Goldsborough & Forster's Aller, Wilson & Alston Club Whiskies, Bottled Expressly for Family use. Also a full line of Acker, Merrall & Condit's Whiskies and Wines.

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 39 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with the Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS AND SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r.
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts, North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours.

SMITH'S
Saloon,
No. 4 West Front St.,
Blatz's Old Stand, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Chas. Smith, Proprietor.
Blackberry, Elderberry, Currant, Sherry, Port, Rhine, and other Wines, by the bottle or gallon at reasonable figures. Also, Ales, Liquors, Segars.
Fresh Newark Lager always on draught.
FREE LUNCH FROM 9 to 1.

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND St.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Delaney Billiard Tables. These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour.

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 7 EXCHANGE PLACE, FIVE DOORS WEST FERRY, JERSEY CITY.

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield. P. O. Box 1182. Families supplied with pure Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel and Post-office delivered free of charge.

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
HART MOORE. SAMUEL GOSSHALK,
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the traveling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
Brunswick, Balke & Co., Celebrated Pool and Carom tables.
Nothing but temperance drinks, such as Lemonade, Sarsaparilla, Soda Water, &c., also Segars, dispensed over the Bar.
Sixteen tables, and excepted for painting the woods with oxide of iron paint.

HENRY HAURAND,
(Successor to Fred. Cooper)
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Somerset street, North Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box, 1331.
Fine Lager Beer Bottled
Expressly for Family use.
All orders delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD
ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT THE
Plainfield Academy for Boys,
Seventh street, inspect the new building, and see the working of the school.
GERMAN, Natural Method, Daily at 10 a. m.
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French.......... $100
Elementary Department, without German and French.......... 80
Primary Department, without German and French.......... 60
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for ladies and gentlemen, by the Natural Method, meet in the afternoon and evening.
Principals—James Lyon, J. C. Lowiczky, Ph. D. (of Berlin University). With experienced assistants.
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box 772.

Craig Place School,
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. AUSTIN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Yara.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 28 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 11 PARK AVENUE.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco,
Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

MILLINERY.

MRS. P. DUNN,
HAS THE LATEST STYLE OF
Millinery, Bonnets, Hats, Ect.
BLEACHING AND PRESSING Done at short notice. Feathers curled and Dyed. Pinking done. A large assortment of Hair, Braids, Switches and Curls. Particular attention paid to selecting Hair to suit customers. Hosiery, Gloves, Corsets, etc. Also, Fancy and Dress Goods.
14 West Front street.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 43 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mme. Doone, 689 Broadway, N. Y.

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Stillman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

HOTELS, ETC.

LAING'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH S. MILLER, - - - Proprietor.
A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY RESORT.
Permanent Boarders Taken at Reasonable Rates
HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS.

CHAS. GEISE'S
:R:E:S:T:A:U:R:A:N:T:
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
18 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for Ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style.

Accommodation Express.
PETER RICKERT, Prop'r, OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Cor. Cherry St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. The Accommodation Express will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering Goods or Baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., with care and safety. Prompt attention given to all orders.

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue.
P. O. BOX 998.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
ALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front St. Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on assignment.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

ESTABLISHED 1836.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
FINE WALL PAPER,
INTERIOR DECORATIONS,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,

LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC., ETC.
821 Canal Street, New York.
(Telephone Call—Spring 494.)
GEO. F. BROWN, Plainfield. P. O. Box 1224.

NEW STYLES
WALLPAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTIST COLORS, Etc.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
Between Front and 2d Sts., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
P. O. BOX, 963.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining, and Sign Writing,
in all their branches.
Satisfaction Guaranteed on all Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING,
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St.
P. O. BOX, 381.
D. WEAVER. F. WEAVER.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

MISS MAMIE KUNKEL,
(Of Baltimore Maryland.)
The Young American PrimaDonna,
WILL APPEAR IN PLAINFIELD,
During the ensuing Spring for the benefit of a Roman Catholic Charity.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL,
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM 3:30 to 5:30.
Dodworth's New Lanciers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. 19th.

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,
(Successor to Geo. Waite)
No. 8 Somerset St.
BUTCHER,
and dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats of the Finest Quality, and at prices consistent with the times.
I will endeavor to please all who favor me with their patronage.

LEWIS & CO.,
Butchers!!
AND DEALERS IN
Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry,
Sausage, Hams, Bologna,
Head Cheese and Mince Meat.
Park Avenue,
(AT THE OLD STAND,)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

JOHN S. CLARK, dealer in Fruits, Nuts, Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, &c. Pleasant Temperance Drinks. Fresh roasted Peanuts every day. Corner of Front and Somerset Streets, Plainfield, N. J.

POETRY.

THE UNION FLAG.

A husband, sober grim and gray,
Scolded his [illegible] one day,
Because some things that babies wear
Were swinging in the front yard air.
He said he thought the better place
Was in the shady back yard space,
Since garments of that make and kind
Had best always be kept behind.
She only smiled to be thus blamed,
And asked him why [illegible] ashamed
To see the patriot's loving sign
Hung [illegible] from their own clothes line,
"How patriotic, madam," said the man;
"I do not fully understand?"
"Ha, ha," laughed the wife,
Her face free from care,
"That's the flag of our Union Waving there."

P. S.—Then they kissed and made up, and the man said, "let 'em wave."

—The Drummer.

ONE, A MAIDEN.

BY S. M. THAYER.

Here, beneath the green, lies
One, a maiden, true and sweet;
Fateful, from the summer skies,
Fell the shadow at her feet.

Light fled from her gentle eyes,
Dust was written on her brow;
From her lips the lingering sigh
Pressed to breathe her final vow.

Ere the flower had filled the bloom,
Part within the bud as yet—
Death had sent his heavy doom,
And her earthly sun was set.

Kindly was her simple heart,
Plain the beauty of her face,
Yet no nice degree of art
Could have given a fairer grace.

All her golden duties were Linked to others' needs and cares;
And their love she won to her
By the love she lived for theirs;

By the virtue of a mind
Taught, of many a rare device,
That the heavenly way to find
Is to lose in sacrifice.

Flowers were strewn above her head,
And the bending grasses grew
Greener o'er her silent bed,
Weeping nightly tears of dew.

Yet me thinks that when the spring
Warms again, this lonely mound,
Flowers of rarer blossoming
O'er her breast shall then be found:

Violets for her heart of truth,
Lilies for a life so pure,
Roses for eternal youth
And a love that shall endure.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

THREE MINUTES TO TWELVE.

THE STORY OF A WINTER NIGHT—A DREAM AND WHAT CAME OF IT.

On a cold December night some twenty years ago, when the earth was bound in a black frost and the bitter wind blew strong and shrewdly, I was returning home from spending the evening at a friend's house, situated some three miles out of town. The sky was so black, the country lanes were so dark, that I was truly thankful when the scattered lights of an outlying suburb began to twinkle in the distance, and it was with a sigh of relief that I stopped under the first lamp-post I came to and looked at my watch. It was no easy task, for the lamp-glass had a pane broken, and the strong wind blew the gas in all directions and almost extinguished it.

I read the time at last—three minutes to twelve—and, looking from the watch-face, I started to see a man standing close opposite me. I had heard nothing of his approach. We looked at each other but for a moment, yet it was sufficient time to imprint his features indelibly on my memory. A tall, shabby man, in a threadbare, black frock-coat and a seedy tall hat, his face lantern-jawed and sallow, his eyes sunken and lustreless, his beard long and ill-trimmed. In a tone of elaborate civility he asked me the time, thanking me for my answer, and giving me good-night passed into the black darkness, which seemed to engulf him like a grave.

I turned for a moment to think of his lonely walk in that grim obscurity, and resumed my homeward way, laughing at myself for the start he had given me, and reflected that the strong wind had blown away the sound of approach. I thought of him as I sat and smoked my pipe over my fire, and felt a comfortable shudder steal upon me as I imagined him facing the bitter blast in his insufficient clothing.

In the course of a week or so the incident—trifling enough, Heaven knows—faded from my memory, and I thought no more of it.

In those days I was actively engaged in the timber trade, and the course of my business took me a great deal about the country, and brought me largely in contact with the agents of the different noblemen and country gentlemen of the district. With one of the agents who resided near the country town of L., I had numerous transactions, and I used often to run down to L., to meet him, for the town was only fifteen miles away, and was on a line of railroad. It was a dull hole enough, that only warmed up into life when the militia were out or the assizes were on.

One night I returned from L., having just made a large purchase from my friend the agent, whose master, a sporting nobleman, was reduced to cut down the family timber. When I fell asleep that night I had a very simple but vivid dream. I thought I was standing on a lofty hill. By my side stood a veiled figure, who, with a commanding gesture, motioned me toward the town of L., which lay in the far distance. Then I awoke.

Of course, I explained the thing to myself easily enough. I had been a good deal engaged in the neighborhood of the place, and had a large venture more or less remotely connected with it. Still the dream was so vivid that I could not dismiss it from my thoughts during the whole of the day, and when I went to bed at night I wondered if it would again visit me.

It did come again; precisely the same dream, in precisely the same manner. Once more I found a convincing explanation. Doubtless I had been thinking too much about the first dream, and this had given rise to the second. But my explanation did not convince me in the least; again I was haunted by the thing throughout the day, and when I came home at night my preoccupation was so evident that it attracted the attention of my wife. She questioned me upon the cause, and, only too thankful to unbosom myself of what was now almost a trouble, I told her about the dream and its repetition. She had the tact not to laugh at me, but was evidently little impressed by the narrative.

The third night it came again, if anything, more vivid and startling than before. This time I was utterly unhinged, the pale face that fronted me in the looking-glass was hardly recognizable for my own. I went down to breakfast, filled with a foreboding of some misfortune—bad news in my letters—I knew not what.

My maid entered with the letter-bag.

'There,' said my wife, passing me a letter on which was the L post-mark; 'that breaks your dream, John.'

I opened it hurriedly. It was from the agent, requesting me too meet him at L. that day at one o'clock, to arrange a difficulty that had arisen in the performance of his contract.

I was intensely relieved. Here was an opportunity to go to L., and perhaps the very fact of going would put me right. There were two fast trains to L, in the morning, but I decided to go by the first, regardless of the fact that I should have some hours to wait. So I found myself speeding away toward my destination.

The train was full. Pipes exhaled their fragrance, newspapers were turned and flattened, and there was that leisurely kind of morning conversation that prevails among men going off by an early train to their day's work. I soon discovered that I had fallen among a party of barristers, and their chief topic was a peculiar interesting case which was to be finished to-day at the L. assizes.

'He must come up against the prisoners,' said a gentleman with a flat, florid face and long sandy whiskers, who wore a light overcoat and shepherd's plaid trousers. 'The defense was a complete failure, and deserved to be.'

'It was certainly rather audacious,' returned a clean-shaven young man with a double eye-glass, who sat opposite me. 'But I don't like circumstantial evidence.'

'All evidence is more or less circumstantial,' answered he of the florid complexion; 'and this man is as clearly guilty to my mind as if there had been a dozen witnesses to stand by and see him do the deed. That's my opinion, Heywood,' and the oracle disappeared behind his newspaper.

Feeling glad to discover any topic that would divert my thoughts from their gloomy forebodings, I addressed myself to Heywood, the young barrister, with whom I had a slight acquaintance.

'You seem much interested in this trial that is going on,' I said. 'May I ask if you are engaged upon it?'

'No,' he answered. 'But it is a curious case. A man, a clerk dismissed from his employment, is accused of murdering the cashier of the firm. The evidence against him is entirely circumstantial; but the defense broke down at the most critical point, and the case certainly looks very black for the prisoner.'

The train was now slacking speed, and there was a general rising. I rose, too.

'Are you going to get out here?' asked Mr. Heywood, opening the door as we glided into the station.

'Have you come down so early on business?'

'Ye—s,' I said, wishing to goodness I knew what the immediate business was. 'Nothing very urgent, though,' I added, half to myself, as I got out.

'If you have the time to spare, you had better turn in and hear the end of the trial,' said Heywood. 'The court will be crowded with ladies, no doubt, but I can smuggle you into a corner.'

Not knowing what to do, with myself for the next two hours, I accepted the offer with gratitude. I was soon seated in an obscure corner of a dingy, ill-lighted, ill-ventilated court house, which would have been ill-smelling too, had it not been for the scent wafted from the numerous ladies who were present. One of these, a buxom female obstruction who ought to know better, was just in front of me, and blocked my view with an enormous bonnet. I could not see the prisoner or his counsel, or even the clock over his head, at which the people kept looking eagerly as the hour fixed for the recommencement of the trial approached.

At last there was a stir and bustle, caused by persons invisible to me, then a call for silence, and, after a few preliminaries, the summing up commenced.

I listened the more intently because I could see nothing. The clear, cold, telling sentences cut deep in my consciousness. How distinct and convincing it all was! How all those minute facts, the mute testimony of footmarks and the like, arranged and distributed by that powerful intellect, grouped themselves into the damning proof of guilt!

I cared nothing for the prisoner, had no personal interest in the trial, but my mind was wonderfully fascinated by this tale of horror. At length the weighty tones ceased, and a murmur of relief and expectation ran round the assembly. At this moment the woman with the high bonnet shifted her seat, and I obtained a full view of the prisoner. I started involuntarily. Where had I seen that face before?

The jury returned after a short absence; the verdict was guilty, accompanied with a recommendation to mercy. Again the Judge's solemn tones sounded throught the court, again they ceased.

There was dead silence. I sprang to my feet as if impelled to do so by some unseen power, and looking steadily at the prisoner. His face was averted from me for the moment, but the looks of the people showed me that he was about to speak. Slowly he turned round, and, in a voice whose deep, earnest tones could be heard all over the assembly, he said:

'There lives but one man who can prove me innocent—and there he stands.'

With white face and outstretched arm he pointed—at me. I gazed at him with a sudden flash of recognition. It was the man I had seen under the lamp. And, by a strange coincidence, at the moment the court clock struck twelve.

The plea that had been got up by the defense was alibi. But there was a space of some two hours that could not be accounted for, and the theory of the prosecution was that the crime had been committed during that time. My evidence supplied the missing link, for the place in which I had seen the man was so far distant from the scene of the murder that it was impossible for him to have been anywhere near at the time of its coincidence.

The dream was only a coincidence, you will say, perhaps, or a fit of indigestion, or my timber contract. Nevertheless, as I have told it to you, so it happened. Explain it away who can.

* * *

A word of kindness is seldom spoken in vain. It is a seed which, even when dropped by chance springs up a flower.

There are still a few persons at large who will invest their money in mining stock in preference to investing in a dog and shooting the dog.

It is said ninety million of postage stamps are annually sold in this country, and all of them have to be licked before they will do their duty.

If we could get together all the tombstones we have set up over broken resolutions we should have material enough to set up a marble palace.

The man who worships the fortune he has made, is no more intelligent than the heathen who prays to the little wooden god he has whittled into shape.

HOW A SERF BECAME FREE.

Most of my young readers are familiar with the fact that it is only within the last twenty years that the serfs of Russia, numbering more than 23,000,000 souls—a third of the population of the empire—have been set at liberty by an edict of the Czar.

Serfdom in Russia was productive of an amount of injustice and misery that will never be told. But there were occasionally bright episodes amid the darkness, and this story will relate one of them.

A certain Count possessed a number of serfs on each of his many estates. Some of these serfs had become successful in business, and were wealthy men, but still they and their children were slaves.

One man in particular, whom we will call Nikolai Mikahilovitch (Nicholas, the son of Michael), had attained, by industry and rare ability, the position of the wealthiest man in the town of Riga. But still he was a slave, and likely to remain one, for it was an old custom in the family of his master never to sell or otherwise part with a serf.

Time and again, on his visits to St. Petersburg, had the banker sued for his freedom, offering vast sums for the scrap of paper which would proclaim him and his children free; but as often had his plea been rejected, though he was always treated with great courtesy by the count, his mastey, and everything was done to make him forget his claims.

At length, Nicholas determined to make one last effort to gain his freedom, even to the sacrifice of his entire fortune. His eldest son had recently become attached to the daughter of a neighboring family, but in the present state of affairs their union was impossible, seeing that the Russian law compels the wife to assume the rank of her husband.

So, with a fear that had little hope of success, Nicholas set out for the metropolis in the depth of winter. Knowing that the count was passionately fond of oysters, he took with him a keg of the finest he could procure, as a present for his obdurate master.

Arriving at St. Petersburg, he found that all communication with other countries, by water, was stopped, owing to the freezing of the Gulf of Finland; but he paid no attention to the matter, little dreaming what an important bearing it was to have upon his errand.

The banker, when in St. Petersburg, usually stopped at a hotel close to the count's residence; and after making his toilet, proceeded to pay his respects to his master.

He found a party of gentlemen present who were assembled, by invitation of the count, to dinner.

'Ah, my good Nicholas,' said the count, 'you are just in time!' and he graciously presented him to the guests.

This over, the count turned to him and said:

'We were just lamenting, when you entered, that an important addition to our feasts is lacking. No oysters can be obtained in St. Petersburgh for love or money.'

'I am truly grieved to hear it, your excellency,' said Nicholas, his heart beating quickly. 'But are you sure?'

'Quite. My servants have scoured the entire city, and I'll wager there is not an oyster to be found. If, now,' he continued, laughing and turning to his friends, 'our good friend had brought some with him. I might have been persuaded to grant that request which I am sure he has come to make.'

'Is your excellency in earnest?' cried Nicholas, now trembling with excitement.

'Entirely so,' said the count. 'But, my poor friend, you are going on a hopeless chase. Have I not said that my people have searched the city from one end to the other? Not an oyster has arrived for a week.'

'Does you excellency promise to grant my freedom if I find the oysters?' said the banker with his hand upon the door.

'Oh, yes, I promise, Nicholas,' said his master, carelessly—'provided that you do not order them from Riga, and have them here in an hour.'

'Gentlemen,' said the banker, turning to his guests, 'your are witnesses to our compact.'

'To be sure,' cried they all, much amused at what they felt sure would prove a wild-goose chase.

With their laughter in his ears, Nicholas left the house.

It was the work of a very few minutes to reach his hotel, seize the keg, jump into a carriage, and ride back to the count's residence.

Allowing no one to touch the precious keg, the banker carried it up stairs with his own hand, and long before the stipulated hour had elapsed, he appeared before the astonished company.

Astonishment, chagrin and amusement struggled for mastery in the count's face as he beheld the banker unfasten the keg and present to his view an array of the finest bivalves imaginable. The count made a movement forward, but the banker waved him back.

'Pardon me, your excellence,' he said; you may repent of your bargain, or I may die suddenly, or a thousand other things happen. Hand me my freedom, and I will give you the oysters.'

'Quite fair, quite fair,' said the assembled gentlemen, 'Send for pen and paper.'

'Oh, I will save you that trouble,' said the banker; and without more ado, he took up a stave of the barrel and wrote upon it with a piece of chalk, as follows:

'I, the undersigned, in consideration of the stated recompense, hereby declare myself, Nikolai Mikahilovitch, and his family, residents of Riga, free henceforth and forever. Signed in the presence of the following witnesses.'

Then handing it to the count, he said:

'Now, your excellency, if you and these gentlemen will sign that document, I will proceed to discharge the office of serf for the last time by opening the oysters.'

The count made the best of a doubtful bargain, and signed with good grace, the other gentlemen following him. Then they all shook hands with the banker, and congratulated him upon his good fortune, the count at the same time protesting against the new free citizen discharging the menial offices of a servant. They compelled him to take a seat at table, and help demolish the oysters which had brought him such success.

This novel degree of emancipation is preserved in a handsome gold frame in the banker's drawing-room in Riga, and where it will remain, serving to remind a wealthy and honorable family of the dark days that are now no more.

* * *

By holding a very little misery quite close to our eyes, we entirely lose sight of a great deal of comfort beyond which might be taken.

Five of the sweetest words in the English language begin with h—which is only a breath; heart, hope, home, happiness and heaven.

REMARKS OF REMARKABLE WOMEN.

Catherine De Medici—I do believe my back hair is coming down.

Hannah Moore—Oh, dear, what has become of the baby's safety pins.

Hypathia—Rouge is not good for the complexion, but I use it all the same.

Margaret of Anjou—The man that wins my heart has first got to buy it.

Mary Stuart—It's a wretched, base falsehood. I don't paint my lips at all.

Lady Godiva—I'll never take such a ride again. I nearly caught my death of cold.

Marie Antoinette—As I live, I've broken my stocking suspender, and it's a windy day, too.

Queen Bess—I'd like to get my hands on the hussy who started the report that I wore false teeth.

Joan of Arc—Does my riding skirt sit nicely? I can't ride bareback, and there's no use trying.

Florence Nightingale—Well, if some one hasn't appropriated my tooth brush for a nail brush.

Catherine of Russia—Are my spit curls too high? Who, in heaven's name, broke my new hand mirror?

Cleopatra—I never had to use cotton, and I'd like to see any other living woman beat me on decollette dress.

Martha Washington—George always complained of my having cold feet. Otherwise he was a very exemplary man.

A FEW HINTS ABOUT HORSES.

Feed light when changing feed.

Never let a horse stand long facing a cold wind.

Always approach a strange horse near the shoulder.

A plain rubber covered bar bit often suits a tender-mouthed horse.

Common salt pressed in the cleft of the frog will frequently cure thrush.

A horse regularly fed on the ground or floor will frequently spring in the knees.

The yoke to the wagon or sleigh-pole should be the same length as the double-tree.

To prevent the growth of white hair from saddle-galls, etc., use a mixture of burnt leather, gunpowder and lard.

When wishing to tie a horse with the rein without pulling it out of the terrets, always tie the ring to the bit before tying to the post.

Feed your horses regularly. Horses look for their feed at the usual time, and the stomach indicates the want at the stated period.

Double reins should be made so as to take up or let out at the ends that fasten to the bits. Have that part made longer, with three or four buckle-holes punched.

Mix occasionally one part of salt with four, five or six parts of wood ashes, and give a tablespoonful in the horse's feed at times. It will promote appetite and keep them in a healthy condition.

Some horses are more sensitive than others in the upper jaw, and will not go up on the steel bar or snaffle upper jaw bit. In such cases have a bit made of plain round leather, the usual size of the jaw bit.

The upper jaw of a horse is broader from side to side than the lower jaw, and in grinding the food during mastication there will be a portion of the upper teeth that will not approximate, consequently there will be sharp projecting points left on the edges of the teeth of the upper jaw that are very annoying to the animal and will cause him to swallow his food without proper mastication, producing indigestion, staring coat, hide bound, etc. The projecting points on the teeth are also very annoying to the horse when the bit is in his mouth, as the bit presses the cheeks against the teeth, wounding and lacerating them fearfully. Every horse's teeth should be examined at least once a year, and if found irregular the edges should be rasped smooth.

JOURNALISTIC CONCEITS.

De chile what yer takes de mos' care ob is de one what is de mos' apt ter git hurt. A man always mashes his sore finger.

New York swells have decided to wear black neckties at parties, in order to have some sort of a trade-mark to distinguish them from the waiters, who wear white.

Every time a governor or president is inaugurated, he has to make an address. This is done in order to give people a chance to find fault with him the first thing.

In Burmah an editor receives elephants in payment of subscriptions. There being no elephants in this country, most people pay in trade dollars—that is when they pay at all.

It is said that the green ink with which United States currency is printed is very poisonous. We advise our readers not to allow their children to chew up hundred-dollar bills.

'I tell you,' exclaimed Brown, 'that Charley is wholly unselfish in his affection; he loves the very ground that she walks on.' 'Yes,' replied Fogg, 'when she is walking on her father's estate.'

Oscar Wilde says he regarded America simply as a curiosity. Americans cannot even say this much for Oscar. He came too soon after Barnum's What-is-it to attract more than a passing attention.

An unexpected offer of marriage to a Michigan girl brought on a fatal attack of heart disease. Ladies who have never had an offer—if any there be—will be glad to know of the peril they have escaped.

The new Governor of Pennsylvania wants everybody in the State, who has anything on his mind, to freely address him. Here's the opportunity for the man whose chambermaid won't tuck in the bedclothes at the foot.

An otter was killed by a milkman on the bank of Maple river, near Ida Grove, Iowa, the other day. The finding of an otter is something remarkable, but the fact that a milkman was at the river in order to make the capture is still more strange—yes, passing strange.

Concerning the cussedness of things in general: If a man's pocket contains fifty five-cent pieces and one two-cent piece, and he is in the middle of a crowd diving for an elevated train, he will certainly pull that two-cent piece out. Then he will drop it back, and in endeavoring to fetch up half a dime, fishes out the two-cent piece again. And the only way he ever gets out the half-dime is, to haul out a handful of coins at once.

* * *

His boots want half-soling and heeling, he is out of tooth-powder, his umbrella looks like an enlarged window elevator, he lives in lodgings, and he is running short of coal and the girl, whose heart is in conjunction with his beats as one sent him a green velvet smoking cap, embroidered with chenille. And he does not smoke.

CUTS OF CUTENESS.

A BATCH OF LIVELY GOSSIPING SELECTIONS.

Bawl dresses—baby clothes.

Beautiful 'calling cards'—four kings and an ace.

The use of iron cannot increase the running of a dog, but tin can.

A man is like a horse car when he is full, but he has room for one more.

Another hotel horror, as the man said when the hash was set before him.

The new French rifle will carry two miles and the bullet will travel nearly as fast as scandal.

When young Podgkins was embraced by Miss Artington, he said that he hadn't thought he'd ever be locked in a padded cell.

A Chicago young man has a collection of five hundred pipes, no two alike. The youth is certainly 'long' on pipes, but is he not 'short' on brains?

The eldest sister of a well-known English Marquis has married a baker. She probably thought such a move was equivalent 'to taking the cake.'

A girl has been arrested at Kansas City for flirting with the mourners in a funeral procession. Great heavens! Have women no rights to be respected?

'Boy, what are you building that mud dam across the gutter for?' 'Oh, my father is a congressman, and he'll get me a 'propriation as soon's I can make a shingle float.

A St. Louis man saw a painting of the enchanted palace with all the guards fast asleep, and ejaculated: The house is pretty old fashioned, but the policemen look natural.

Mrs. Regularity has become so accustomed to retire punctually at 10 o'clock, that all you have to do is to set the clock a couple of hours ahead to put her fast asleep at eight p. m.

The editors of the Texas County Chaos are girls. When a fellow goes into their office and gives a tongue-lashing to the one 'who writ that article,' do they return a kiss for a blow?

From the recent alarming developments in the body-snatching line, it is not safe to place much confidence in the oft-repeated assertion that 'John Brown's body lies mouldering in the ground.'

Confucius said: 'When a word has been uttered it cannot be taken back by four hourses.' The good man was doubtless alluding to lebensversicherungsgesellschaft or counter-revolutionary.

A New Jersey man living in Colorado, drank water in the dark and swallowed a live wasp, his eyes sparkled, and he imagined himself back to his native state drinking his favorite beverage.

A Cleveland girl happened to use in Oscar Wilde's presence, the word 'nice.' 'Oh, don't you think 'nice' is a narsty word?' said the apostle of the beautiful. 'Do you think 'narsty' is a nice word?' replied the young lady with a smile.

A Michigan paper says: 'Bears are going to be thicker than grasshoppers in the woods of Michigan, this year. Dare say. Bears are generally, considerably thicker than grasshoppers, in fact, they are very much larger in every way.

A man advertised for a 'helpmate who shall be a companion of my heart, my head and my lot.' A candidate for the situation wrote: 'I don't care to know anything about your head or heart; but please, do tell me how big is your lot.'

Prof. Langely, of Pittsburg, discovered a black spot upon Venus during the recent transit. American girls heighten their beauty by wearing a piece of black court plaster on the cheek, and Venus is only following the fashion to be in style.

'My son,' said an affectionate mother to her son, who resided at a distance, and intended in a short time to get married, 'you are very thin.' 'Yes,' mother, he replied. 'I am, and when you see me next time, I think you can see my rib.'

They were lovers but on their way to the theatre had quarreled, and during the entire evening he acted like a 'perfect brute.' Referring to it afterwards she remarked to a friend, 'I do not mind his being angry, but I was so afraid people would think we were married.'

It is a law among certain tribes of Indians, as the Omahas, Iowa, Otos and Missouris, that a widow must remain four years without marrying. It is unnecessary to state that a woman of those nations is very careful of a husband while she has one around about the homestead.

Under obligation: 'Oh yes,' he said, 'I would lend Fred the money if it wasn't for one consideration. I hate to be under such obligations to a man. If I had loaned him the money I should have to associate with him right along, so as to strike the first chance of getting it back.'

'George,' said materfamilias to the small boy, 'if you don't behave better I shall send you to bed fifteen minutes before your usual time,' and then George put in his poser: "I say, mother, when I behave first-rate why do you not let me stay up fifteen minutes beyond my regular time?"

Miss Emily Faithful will lecture in this country, this winter, on 'Modern Extravagance.' The editor who smokes twelve ten cent cigars daily, and squanders several dollars a week on billiards, will fail to grasp the situation if he does not give his free pass to his wife and urge her to attend Emily's lecture.

The vernacular of the Boston girl is becoming unaesthetic. A Beacon Hill girl was accosted by a friend, who said reproachfully: "Emily this is the third time you have been engaged since we returned from Nantasket, last fall.' 'Yes, Mollie,' was the reply. 'I'm not throwing anything good over my shoulder this season.'

A correspondent asks 'which magazine would you recommend as likely to quickly secure me a very high position by the insertion of an article containing, as friends assure me, a good deal of fire?' We can think of none more suitable than a powder magazine; but we trust our correspondent will choose one between which and this office there is a great gulf fixed.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

EQUAL RIGHTS.

The Democratic party has ever battled to make sovereign in this country the principles of free government, among which that of equity to all classes of the governed holds prominent place.

Because of such fidelity to the rights of the people, the Democratic party has at sundry periods of time, and by opponents bearing various partisan names, been rudely assailed.

Caring naught for hostility of any kind, but everything for justice and truth, the Democracy stand to-day, as at the first, fearless defenders of the American Constitution in its entirety.

That is the glory and strength of Democracy.

Equal Rights!

The Constitution decrees equity to be the heritage of all the people and the Democratic party aims to enforce the mandate.

What means the term?

It is not that worldly condition shall give any citizen, class or combination of citizens, superior legal advantages over fellow citizens, or that enacted law shall make any business pursuit or department of labor payers of tribute to specially endowed favorites.

Nothing of the kind. The Constitution is as clear of such unjust partiality as the Koran is of Christianity.

Equal Rights mean—

That every citizen, rich or poor, high or low, lettered or unlearned, native or naturalized, white or colored, shall stand on perfect equality before the majesty of laws framed to protect and punish with rigid impartiality.

That the man of wealth shall be secure in his lawfully acquired possessions, but absolutely prevented from depriving any other man, no matter how humble or weak, of the least mite of his legal rights and privileges.

That every pursuit, profession, industry, enterprise and employment shall enjoy the unmolested opportunity of acting within its own appropriate sphere, and thriving to the utmost extent of its own inherent ability.

That the means of honestly accumulating property, much or little, shall be freely open to every man, and that individual industry, skill and labor shall not, in any manner or form, be blocked by the dragons of monopoly and class legislation.

Such are Equal rights.
The spirit of Freedom.
The wording of the Constitution.
The Democracy of Jefferson.

LICENSES GRANTED AT LAST.

A considerable portion of our space in this issue is taken up with a Report of the doings of the Common Council last Monday evening. It will be seen from it that licenses were granted to hotels and saloons.

Money without brains makes the prince of fools.

Open opposition is more honorable than disguised.

Honesty is the best policy, both in business and politics.

Circumstances may change men, time has no effect on principles.

School houses are of far greater national importance than arsenals and forts.

To imitate the patriotism of Washington is to guarantee the safety of the Republic.

The man who lives on the respectability of his ancestors, and not his own, has poor diet.

By thoroughly educating the children of America you are enlisting defenders of civil freedom.

To preserve the blessings of liberty, the people must study and appreciate their priceless value.

The Robeson-Keifer House of Congress expired on Sunday last and no flood of patriotic tears solemnized the event.

When honesty reaches its deserved premium, tax payer's pockets will be heavier and stockholder's dividends more reliable.

The way to correct evils is to create a healthy public sentiment, not by violent coercion, but through the gentle power of intelligent reason.

Fast living and the love of display cause a large proportion of the dishonest failures, embezzlements and forgeries that annually occur in this country.

To nominate a man for public office simply because he is rich and willing to spend money for corrupt political purposes, is an insult to representative government.

The political principles of Thomas Jefferson are to-day the only chart by which the ship of state can be safely steered into the haven of national peace and prosperity.

Loyal obedience to laws necessary for the public good and framed in the spirit of equal and exact justice to all citizens, is the true meaning and intent of American Freedom.

Wild speculation and at last crooked financial transactions are often entered into for the purpose of obtaining money to support the gorgeousness and wanton extravagance of modern fashionable society.

When voters of all political parties make personal integrity and practical ability in every candidate the indispensable requisites for suffrage, there will be an immense and plainly to be seen decrease in evil legislation and official rascality.

Nicholas Biddle once endeavored to control this country through the corrupt monied power of a United States Bank. Biddle is dead, but the purpose he championed lives in other forms and needs the heroic antagonism of an Andrew Jackson.

Over a hundred years ago, Lord North tried to exact tribute from the American colonists and had his scheme overturned. Their successors, the people of the Republic of to-day, retain the spirit of ancestral independence. They may suffer much, but the heartless cormorants who seek to bleed them to death will yet discover that the Revolution was not waged in vain.

THE LEGISLATURE.

TRENTON, March 6.—The Egan bribery business came to a head this morning in the House. The committee submitted their report, in which they say they have reached the conclusion from the testimony that Mr. Egan visited Mr. Armitage of his own free will, without representing any one, and the committee believe he has committed a wrong by approaching one of the members of the House in an unlawful manner. The committee recommend that ex-Speaker Egan be denied the privileges of the House and receive the censure of same. The report was signed by all the committee and was unanimously adopted, together with a motion that a copy be transmitted to the Prosecutor of the Pleas of Essex county with a view of prosecuting Egan. The ex-Speaker, who knew of what was coming, absented himself from the floor of the House, where he has been present at every session heretofore. It is demonstrated that in this matter he acted entirely upon his own responsibility and by methods altogether original with himself.

The Senate killed Mr. Carpenter's bill providing for excise boards in cities of the third class, and passed the measure providing for the free delivery of telegrams within a mile of the delivery office. Mr. Paxton's bill establishing a system of sewerage in cities went through with only a dissenting vote. The bill making a majority verdict sufficient in civil suits was indefinitely postponed for the second time. The House this morning appointed Messrs. Borton, Chapman, Neighbour, Parsons and Campbell a committee, with authority to sit during recess, to examine into the question of the taxation of corporations other than railroads and to report to the next Legislature. Much opposition has developed against Mr. Clarke's bill protecting certain indemnity or graveyard insurance organizations which have been plying their trade in New Jersey and have been unearthed by the Fire Insurance Commissioner. Mr. Clarke this morning offered an amendment protecting the fraternal insurance societies from injury from the bill, which went to the table with the bill itself. The House opened the afternoon session by a struggle over Mr. Sheldon's bill, which provides that when a liquor license has been held five years without complaint against the holder the Excise Board shall renew the license from year to year without the usual application signed by twelve freeholders. The bill is intended for Rahway, but after a lengthy debate it was defeated by a vote of 19 to 36. Secretary of State Kelsey, in answer to an inquiry from the House whether the beneficiary societies of the State insuring lives by the assessment plan are violating law, sent a communication to-day saying that he knew of no such violation nor was any legislation on the subject required. A large number of bills passed the House at the afternoon session. Only one bill was introduced in the Senate to-day. Its aim is to make it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100 or a year's imprisonment, to sell any sort of pools at horse races or agricultural fairs. It was introduced by Senator Cochran. The concurrent resolution requiring corporations doing a business under a lease from the State to surrender their right to exemption from taxes or forfeit their lease was defeated. The bill imposing a penalty of $500 on every railroad which fails to connect by a rope all the cars of mixed trains with the engine, was passed, as were the bills empowering each board of freeholders to appoint a civil engineer to superintend public works; allowing horse companies to double their amount of stock; giving a medal to the members of the New Jersey Battalion who participated in the centennial celebration at Yorktown, and authorizing the Governor to appoint delegates to the national conference of Charities and Correction.

In the evening Sheriff Wright, of Newark, by invitation, delivered his lecture, "What I Know About Politics," in the Assembly Chamber before a large audience.

Gov. Stephens, of Georgia, died early Sunday morning last at his home in Atlanta.

The election of a successor to Governor Stephens, of Georgia, will occur on April 24.

Mr. Edmunds was elected President of the Senate on Saturday, in place of Mr. Davis, resigned.

The Forty-seventh Congress expired at midnight last Saturday night, when both Houses adjourned.

The Senate on Saturday passed a large number of bills, but refused to pass the River and Harbor bill.

The conference report on the Tariff bill was adopted by the House by a vote of 152 to 116. The bill now awaits the President's signature.

That Opera House.

After so much has been accomplished towards the erection of an Opera House in this city, it would be disgraceful should the scheme fail through because of any lack of support. It is a notorious fact that most of Plainfield's citizens of means are lamentably destitute of public spirit, and many of those whose interests would be most affected for the better by the consummation of additional improvements of public benefit, withhold their financial and personal support in the hope that others will accomplish the ends out of purely unselfish benevolence. If the project now on foot, as announced in part by us last week, fails in its purpose, the blame must fall on those property owners who would be indirectly benefited yet who decline to assist in the achievement of a result that would so greatly add to the attractions of Plainfield as a place of residence. Much blame must also fall upon North Plainfielders who, with one or two exceptions, have as yet neglected or refused to subscribe to the amount desired, although the location intended was selected partly on account of its proximity to that township in spite of the fact that a large number of those interested in this city claim the building would much better satisfy its purposes if erected East of the railroad.

To Mr. George A. Chapman is a great amount of the credit due for that which has already been accomplished in the way of effective work. Much of the money already secured (conditionally) was subscribed at his personal solicitation, and the generous gift (conditionally) of the ground was the result of his efforts to attain such from the heirs of Dr. Stillman. All this in addition to earnest labor exerted in the same direction by ex-Mayor Randolph, ex-Councilmen O. T. Waring, and M. W. Tyler, Messrs. A. C. Baldwin, W. E. Lowe, John B. Dumont and others, has attained what may probably result in the accomplishment of the design, yet may possibly result in nothing.

The location is selected, the ground secured, the plan of the building and style of interior submitted, yet with $20,000 subscribed of the $40,000 desired, the ultimate organization of the association contemplated is not finally assured. The reason we thus express our knowledge of this uncertain state of affairs, is that we hope a public discussion of the only cause creating a barrier to the completion of the scheme, may be overcome. Those who take stock in the association as an investment, recognize the fact that no line should be drawn regarding the class of entertainments for which the Hall shall be rented. So long as good order and morality are preserved, be they minstrel companies, vocal societies, theatrical combinations, political organizations, sacred recitals, land-league associations, or whatever else, the Hall should be at their command and the rental accepted. Should unreasonable stock holders secure a controlling power in the direction, and allow no entertainments to take place except of the "select" class they consider as including only worn-out lecturers and such uninteresting affairs (except when occasionally experienced) as church concerts, amateur dramatics, hackneyed efforts at elocution, personal experiences of travel, orthodoxical essays and the struggles with the unattainable of precocious "musical families"—should the power to keep out all but this class be exerted by the majority of the Board of Directors, then many of those who have now subscribed would be justified in withdrawing their support from the accomplishment of the project.

Run on such a plan, it would be throwing money away to so invest it. Let discretion be used, but bigotry evaded. The people are to support the Opera House, and their varied tastes should be indulged. If it cannot be built on the site proposed, on a liberal plan, build it somewhere else. We are assured that owners of property opposite, will not only give as much ground for the purpose, but subscribe for $10,000 of the stock.

And still, at the same time, although some of the subscribers to the scheme have expressed themselves as being apprehensive of the management of the association coming under the control of such a class as we refer to above, yet much assurance is given that no result of the kind will occur. In this very connection we take pleasure in publishing the following, which should be most effective in disabusing the minds of the many who have formed contrary impressions. The assertions are so emphatic and to the point, and endorsed by so prominent a participator in the plan, that they are bound to influence for the better and should entirely eradicate, what may be a mistaken belief.

"To the Editors of the Constitutionalist:

"Some parties are industriously circulating the report that the friends of the Young Men's Christian Association are endeavoring to obtain control of the management of the Music Hall which it is proposed to erect in Plainfield—I wish to state emphatically that the report is utterly untrue—the proposition is to erect a music hall by a stock company composed of citizens of Plainfield upon a purely business basis, and no other organization will have a voice in the management on the affairs of the company. The enterprise is being conducted under the auspices of no organization whatever, but simply by public spirited citizens whose only object is to provide Plainfield with a handsome, safe, commodious, well ventilated music Hall, and thereby add materially to the attractiveness of our city as a place of residence.

"By giving the above a place in your paper, you will do much to correct an erroneous impression which is rapidly becoming current in regard to this enterprise, and will very much oblige

Yours Respectfully,
"GEORGE A. CHAPMAN.
"Plainfield, March 6, 1883."

Township Reports.

There has issued from the THE CONSTITUTIONALIST press during the past two weeks, the annual reports of several townships adjacent to this city, all showing a healthy condition financially, reflecting greatly to the credit of their respective officers and Township Committees. We have only space to give brief recapitulations of those below, but such will, however, serve as information where individuals are not so interested as to secure copies of the reports in detail.

NORTH PLAINFIELD:

Messrs David R. Weaver, Francis H. Gardner and Amos Vail the Town Committee, in submitting its Eleventh Annual Report, state:

"The bonded debt is gradually decreasing, having been reduced this year $3,780 00, and there are falling due August 1st, bonds to the amount of $1,500 00, and provided for in the Sinking Fund, which will make the bonded debt at that date $38,320 00. The freshet last fall causing much damage to the roads and bridges, we were obliged to call for an extra appropriation to repair damages. The amount voted was $2,000, which the Committee have borrowed on notes, making a Floating Debt to that amount. In regard to the re-assessments on Johnston Drive and Somerset street, that were before the Courts, the assessment on Johnston Drive was decided in favor of the Township, and the assessment duly confirmed in all respects. The Somerset street assessment was referred to new Commissioners, who have made a re-assessment which has not yet been confirmed by the Court.

The condition of the Bonded Indebtedness is as follows: Total amount of bonds outstanding as per last report, $43,608. August 1st, 1882, paid from Sinking Fund, $2,000; Feb. 1st, 1883, paid from Sinking Fund, $1,780. Total amt. outstanding at this date, $39,820, of which $8,820 00 bear interest at 7 per cent., and $31,000 00 bear interest at 6 per cent. The Floating Debt consists of two Promissory Notes of $1,000 each, dated Nov. 13th, 1882, payable one day after date."

E. O. VanNorstrand, Collector, reports taxes due prior to 1882, $4,321 64, of which remains uncollected 1,243 35. Due of 1882 taxes, 21,203 84; uncollected, 2,609 32. The balances in his hands, due the several school districts, are as follows: No. 14, $176 58; No. 36, $434 85; No. 37, $430 89; No. 38, $6,738 64—Total $7,770 96.

Francis H. Gardner, Treasurer, reports the balance in the Treasury to the several accounts as follows: State & County, $80 11; Township, 1,432 48; Poor, 432.82; Roads, 1,209 34; Interest, bonded debt, 1,796 65; Sinking Fund, bonded debt, 2,915 75—Total in Treasury, Feb. 16, 1883, $7,866 35. The amounts paid out during the year, were as follows: State & County, in full, $3,976 31; State School in full, 3,203 59; Interest account, bonded debt, 2,762; Sinking fund, maturing bonds, 18,780; Township, 2,981 55; Roads, 1,960 53; On account of damage by freshet, 1,986 43; Poor, 1,434 74.

The list of delinquent taxes published, amounts to about $1,900 00 Mr. L. E. Barkelew is the efficient Clerk of this Township.

WESTFIELD:

This Township Committee is composed of Messrs Robert R. Sinclair, Evert M. Pierson and Oliver M. Pierson, with Luther M. Whitaker, Town Clerk. In presenting its report it "takes occasion to say that all bills have been paid, leaving balances in the Collector's hands of $1,580 63, and in the Treasurer's hands of $449 38. Two of the Special Appropriations remain unpaid, one for a Stone Crusher, $700 00, and the other for Fire Department, $250 00. The former money is held in accordance with the resolution of the Citizen's Meeting, until the private subscriptions are all paid in to the Treasurer of the Township. There are only two School Bonds, of District No. 10, of $1,000 each outstanding. The one due July 1st, 1883, was provided for in the last tax levy, and the other will be assessed for the next levy."

W. W. Connoly, Collector, has received $2,059 78 of taxes due prior to 1882, and of last year's taxes $15,050 18, less uncollected $1,548 73. The taxes remitted by Commissioners of Appeal amount to $409 51, and to firemen by law, $226 31. Taxes on property held by the Township, $284 05. The County Collector was paid $6,613 78.

James Moffett, Treasurer, to April 1st, 1882, turned over to his successor, Evert M. Pierson, a balance of $396 16. The latter received from other sources, $5,604 41, paid out as follows—Poor, $1,100 24; Roads, $2,047 98; Township, $1,702 96. The Town Clerk publishes a list of delinquent tax payers, owing in 1881, $65 30, and in 1882 about $1,500.

FANWOOD:

Jos. A. Fellerson, Treas. of this township announces all its debts paid (except $2 on Court of Appeals) and a balance in hand of $515 18. His receipts for the past year were as follows: Balance from late treasurer, $600 43; from licenses, $138 79; from Collector, $875 69; and from delinquent taxes of 1881, collected by W. N. Pangborn, $330 32—total, $1,945 27. There was paid out, for Roads, $645 36; Poor, $343 19 and for incidentals, $537 54.

Wm. Hetfield, Collector, closes the year with a cash balance of $1,028 79. The amount of the tax duplicate for 1882 was 6,188 34, and a warrant for 629 78 is which remains unpaid, has been issued to the Collector of delinquent taxes. There was remitted by the Commissioners of Appeal, 2 06, and to firemen 79 35. The County Collector was paid 3,513 82. The list of unpaid taxes published by James A. Baker, Town Clerk, shows for 1880, 307 97; 1881, 248 93; 1882, 828 78.

WARREN:

Harmon H. Toelsen, Collector, reports the tax duplicate to be $3,822 87; dog tax, 130 80, and delinquent of 1881, 78 19. His disbursements, besides for incidentals, has been: County Collector, 1,899 24; Roads, 782 11; dog damage, 84 25, and balance to the Township Treasurer, of 559 60. Of school moneys he has received—State appropriation, 117 25. Two Mill tax, 1,949 77; Surplus Revenue, 149 80. There remains in his hands a list of delinquent taxes amounting to 83 25; and a balance of school money, 1,995 37.

Wm. Miller, Overseer of the Poor, received from J. J. Lang, Treasurer, $629.23, which with a balance on hand of 62 63, made the total of his disbursements for the support of the Poor—$585.88. The balance in the hands of the Treasurer, is 944 16. The Committee of this Township consists of W. Howard Tome, John J. Lang and James Ralph. Chairman. Geo. W. Monday, Town Clerk.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

The Westfield Athletic Club held their regular monthly meeting at the Club rooms, hotel building, on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Stamm who has resided the past two years on South avenue, has rented for the coming year the dwelling of Mrs. H. Von Keller, Fourth avenue, Oakland.

Somebody, we guess it was Benjamin, tried to run the Greenback and Independent primary on Tuesday evening last—but slipped up on it. Hank was too much for him.

J. M. C. Marsh received the past week the appointment of Agent for the Commercial Union Assurance Co., of London. Mr. Marsh has now the agency of six first class companies.

John Pierson has rented his residence on Prospect street to Mr. Charles Conant, who expects to occupy it about April 1st. Mr. Pierson intends having an auction for the sale of household goods soon.

The Democrats have called their Primary for Friday evening, March 9th inst. Every Democrat ought to turn out and attend the primary and assist in forming a ticket that can be elected on election day.

There is a corps of civil engineers stopping at our hotel who are engaged in surveying a proposed new line of railway in the interest of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. They are working about a mile south of our village.

The Republicans held their Primary meeting on Thursday evening. L. M. Whitaker was nominated for Town Clerk, James T. Pierson for Freeholder and W. W. Connoly for Collector. The rest of the ticket but very little change from last year.

James M. and Hattie French, residing corner Dudley avenue and Prospect street, celebrated their wooden wedding on Wednesday evening, March 7th. There were at least 75 friends and relatives present. A very enjoyable time was held. Wooden ware in abundance—all kinds.

The irrepressible John Peiffer was again brought before Justice Jaques on Tuesday afternoon by Constable Koester, he having engaged in a fight at the depot with John Urmston, another hackman. John had better look out or he will get sent to Castle Cahill for his abusive language.

The regular meeting of Westfield Bucket and Engine Co., was held at town rooms on Monday evening, March 5th inst. There was more than an average attendance of members and a great amount of interest was manifested in the welfare of the Company. Five new members were proposed.

His many friends and patrons of this town, will be glad to learn that the Common Council of Plainfield has granted a license to Chas. Smith at the corner of Front and Somerset streets. "Charley" will therefore continue serving his customers in the satisfactory manner of the past, and invites an "opening" call from the Westfield boys.

James Morris has sold his house and about 5 acres situate on Baldy Roll hill to Mr. George H. Perrine, of New York city, who resided in our town last summer. Mr. Morris has already purchased of Hannah Osborn 2½ acres on the opposite side of the road from his present residence, and commenced the erection of a dwelling. There is no finer view in this part of the country than that from the top of Baldy Roll hill.

At a Primary meeting of the Greenback and Independent voters held pursuant to call at Town rooms on Tuesday evening, March 6th inst., John Burke was chosen Chairman and C. F. W. Wittke Secretary. The following ticket was unanimously nominated except for the office of Freeholder, on which there was a ballot taken between the two nominees Stephen S. Mapes, the present incumbent, and James T. Pierson. Mr. Mapes received 14 votes and Mr. Pierson 4 votes. Town Clerk, Luther M. Whitaker; Freeholder, Stephen S. Mapes; Assessor, J. M. C. Marsh; Town Committee, Charles R. Clark, Robert R. Sinclair and Evert M. Pierson; Commissioners of Appeal, Addison S. Clark, Isaac F. Scudder, E. Embree; Surveyors of Highways, Sherman Cooper, William S. Welch; Justice of the Peace, John D. Jaques; Constable, Edward E. Towsley; Judge of Election, C. W. Harden; Inspector, John R. Barcalow; Overseer of Poor, Samuel E. Young; Pound Keepers, Robt. Woodruff, T. J. England. The appropriations same as last year.

MARRIAGES.

ROBERTSON—MARSHALL—Thursday, March 1, at Orange, by Rev. William Day, assisted by Rev. E. P. Ketcham, Mr. John W. Robertson, of Plainfield to Miss Jennie K. Marshall, of Orange.

DEATHS.

HALE—In this city, March 8, Allyn S. Hale, in his 82nd year. Funeral services from his late residence, cor. Central avenue and Fifth street, Friday, at 4 p. m.

BARKER—In Trenton, N. J., March 5, of chronic diarrhea, Elizabeth, wife of John Barker, aged 75 years.

CALLAHAN—In this city, March 7, Mary, wife of Jeremiah Callahan, in her 51st year. Services at her late residence, Brookside ave., Saturday, 10th inst., at 10 a. m., and then at St. Mary's Church.

EVANS—In Scotch Plains, March 7, Henry Evans, in his 84th year.

HURST—In this city, Feb. 21, of pneumonia, Emma, daughter of William and Lizzie Hurst, aged 18 months, 10 days.

PENDLETON—In this city, March 4, of pneumonia, Wilhelmina, daughter of Henry and Julia Pendleton, aged 15 years, 1 month, 4 days.

STUMPFE—In this city, March 1, Annie, daughter of William and Minnie Stumpfe, aged 3 years, 3 months, 26 days.

LATAPIE—At Fanwood, March 7th, 1883, Adelle Latapie, aged 59 years and 3 months. Funeral from St. Mary's church, Saturday, at 9 a. m.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.
—o—
A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c. constantly in stock at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.
Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.
Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
GEO. C. FORD. GEO. M. STILES.
jl29yl

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 10 Park avenue (Juliet Roose's Hair Store) Residence, No. 11 Third st., cor. New. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers,
40½ West Front St.
Residence—Front St., opp' Washington Ave.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
apl7y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield,
Have a
—General Line of Groceries,—
equal to any in the Market. Also, the very finest grades at lowest prices.
And are Agents for the
"Gem" a New Process Flour.
Please call and examine our COFFEES & TEAS.
—Goods Delivered to any part of the city.

For Sale!
A complete set of Dining Room Furniture—ash, with carved maple trimmings and upholstered in leather. One Sideboard (Buffet) marble top; one Extension table; two Arm Chairs; four small chairs. Made by Solomon, of New York. Apply to T. J. GILLIES, 8 Madison avenue.

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 43 WEST FRONT STREET,
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture in exchange for moving. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box, 461.—m8tf

Horses for Sale!
One gray driving horse.
One large fine bay saddle mare.
One good black driving horse.
One fine bay mare for breeding.
SEVERAL GOOD DRIVING & WORK HORSES
At Ellis Campbell's Stables,
(Fair Grounds.)
Enquire of F. M. MOORE, corner of Peace and Fifth streets, at 8 a. m., or after 7 p. m. Also, one square coach, two clarences, one landau, one coupe, harness, etc.

Dedication of
St. Joseph's Church,
North Plainfield, N. J.
By Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Farrell,
At 10:30 A. M.
Sunday, March 11, 1883.
Admission, - - Fifty Cents.

ALMOST AS BAD.
What the Perplexed Physicians do in Cases of Emergency.
"I'll tell you the honest truth," answered the doctor. "Bright's Disease bothers the medical men almost as bad as cancer does. Having passed a certain stage, both point straight to eternity. It may be unprofessional to let out the secret, but whenever a patient comes to me with Bright's Disease, or any kidney trouble acting like it, I tell him to put on Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster without delay."
The doctor spoke by the card. The Capcine goes right to the spot. If you can be helped, the Capcine will do it. Look out for frauds. Is the word Capcine cut in the middle of the plaster? If so, you are all right. Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York. Highest awards.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.
Union County, Surrogate's Office, Feb. 15th, 1883.
Benjamin B. Field the Executor and Caroline A. Voorhees the Executrix of Peter T. Chamberlin deceased.
On application of the above named Executors, it is ordered that said Executors, give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands and claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this order, within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in the CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action thereof against the said executors.
By JAS. J. GERRES, Surrogate.
m8w4

NOTICE!
The Annual Meeting of the Plainfield Mutual Assurance Fire Company will be held at Association Hall, No. 9 Park avenue, in the city of Plainfield, N. J., on Monday, March 12th, 1883, for the purpose of electing fifteen Directors for the ensuing year. Polls open from 2 to 3 o'clock, p. m.
WALTER HETFIELD, Secretary.
Plainfield, February 21st, 1883.

Taylor's Market!
NO. 34 PARK AVENUE.
Fresh Fish of All Kinds.
Now is the time to lay in your
SUMMER LARD,
At Thirteen Cents per pound by the Tub.
FINE BUTTER—LOW PRICES.
Try Taylor's Celebrated Trenton Hams! Medium size, 14 cts. per pound. Small Pig Hams, 15 cts. per pound.
N. J. RANDOLPH, Manager.
No. 34 Park ave.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY
TO GET A
Life Size Crayon Portrait
In free hand for the unprecedented small sum of Twelve Dollars!
By the well-known artist,
SIDNEY E. FLOWER,
Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 20 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo. or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Hand in orders early at Studio or Estil's bookstore, for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.
All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing
Made to Order and Ready Made,
From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boy's. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing
Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.

East Front street Property To Let.
House and Store just finished; with all modern improvements, and plenty of large shade trees in a desirable location. About 3 minutes walk from Depot. Inquire of E. MacDonald, [illegible] East Front street, [illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Carney Bros.,
NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.
Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.
PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.
Grates and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at jobber's prices. Bring your Tin Ware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials and our work always gives satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Tinware made to order.
RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.
—SANITARY PLUMBING—
m6

MORTON & BODESHINE,
Dealers in pure Spring Water
—I:C:E—
Plainfield, New Jersey. Post-office Lock Box 386. Residence, 102 West Front street. Orders left at Schwerer's store, No. 23 West Front st., will be promptly attended to.
Delivered daily to any part of City at lowest price.
mch8-yl

For Sale to Close an Estate,
Two Hundred Acre Farm!
Beautifully located in New Jersey, near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, one hour and a quarter from New York, on high ground, commanding extensive views.
Well calculated for Stock Raising, Dairy purposes or a Gentleman's Residence.
Is entirely healthful. Has 100 acres under cultivation, 30 acres in wood, balance in pasture; apple orchard with choice variety of fruit, also pear and cherry trees. A fine brook runs through the lands.
New House, 30x40, well built, under the late owner's personal supervision, with hard finished walls, grained wood work, elevated range, outside kitchen, etc.
Large Barn, with capacity for 100 tons of hay, Carriage House, Granary, Wood, Work and Tool Houses complete.
A fine opportunity to purchase an elegant country home at a bargain. Address, JAMES B. CLARK, Executor, P. O. Box 850, New York city, or CODDINGTON & COMPTON, Rahway.

Simple and Complete!
A NEW PATENT
Mitering and Beveling
MACHINE!
For Carpenters, Furniture Makers and Wood workers generally. It cuts any Mitre desired. On exhibition and for sale at A. VANDERBEEKS', 33 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. State and County rights for sale.
m9m1

Notice of Dissolution.
Owing to ill-health, Mr. Suydam, by the advice of his physicians having been obliged to retire from business for a time, the partnership heretofore existing between him and Mr. Jackson is this day dissolved by mutual consent.
Until further notice the business will be carried on by Mr. Jackson & J. Oakley Nodyne, Esq., at the same place, corner of Park avenue and Second street.
Dated, Plainfield, N. J., March 1, 1883.
GEORGE P. SUYDAM,
JOHN H. JACKSON.
m9w4

WANTS and INFORMATION

10 Cents for one insertion of 3 Lines. Each additional line, 5 cents extra. Fifteen cents for each subsequent insertion of ads.

FARMER WANTED—For the season. Apply at this office.

HOUSE TO LET—House on Broadway, near Hillside avenue. Ten rooms in good order. Grounds with plenty of shade and fruit trees. Barn on premises. Rent low. Apply to THEO. A. DUNN, house adjoining.—m9m

FOR SALE OR TO LET—A nine room french roof house on Arlington avenue, opposite Arlington place. Ten minutes walk from depot. Very desirable. Will be let low or sold on easy terms. Apply to R. J. SHAW, druggist, Front st., opposite Park avenue.—m9tf

FOR SALE—Two-seated Rockaway, or will exchange for a young cow. Apply Seventh st., sixth house above Grant avenue.—m9tf

FOR SALE—Two beautiful, full blood, Jersey cows. One from the Ray Park herd, recently imported. The other home bred. Apply J. W. YATES, Plainfield, N. J.

ANY PERSON desiring to find a home for infants or small children, where they will not be under the care of a nurse, but where they will have a mother's care and attention, can find the same by addressing Mrs. L., Box 313, Plainfield Post-office. Or apply at this office for name and location. References given.—m9tf

LOST—On Friday evening last, between the First Baptist Church and Duer street, an open-face Silver Watch with gold chain attached. A liberal reward will be paid for its return to this office.

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Metuchen, N. J., a large house with seventeen rooms; lot 100 by 500; will rent cheap. A. V. N. DuFOREST, owner, Metuchen, N. J., or 54 Broadway, N. Y. 1

ALDERNY MILK—A limited number of customers can be supplied with Alderny Milk by addressing ALDERNY HERD, Plainfield. m9w3

FOR SALE—Sound, Young, Hambletonian horse, 15½ hands high. Apply at 45 Central avenue, near 4th street. m3—w3.

TAKE NOTICE—This certifies that my wife left my bed and board without any cause, on February 15, 1883. I forbid any one trusting her on my account, as I will pay no bills she may contract. S. HAHN. m9w3

TO LET—A Brick Yard, on favorable terms; situated at Dunellen. Molding sand on the premises. Apply to J. C. Pope, & Co., Plainfield, N. J. m9tf

FURNISHED HOUSE TO LET—In good order. Possession at any time. Permit for inspection can be had of Mrs. O. S. Mathews, at Mr. J. K. Spicer's, corner of Fifth and Union streets, or by letter addressed to Box 500, City. m9w3

MARYLAND FARMS—Book and Map free, by C. E. SHANAHAN, Att'y, Easton, Md. F-23-w-4

TO LET—A house and lot at No. 18 East Seventh street, containing fourteen rooms. A double house—tenant can rent one-half or both. Apply to real estate agents of this city. f16tf

TO LET—A first-class barn and stable in central location. Five stalls and good carriage accommodations. Terms reasonable. Inquire of C. Tucker, corner Front and New streets.—f9tf

TO RENT—Completely furnished, or for sale, the elegant residence and large grounds of the late James M. Taylor, corner Central avenue and Ninth street, Plainfield, New Jersey. House has fifteen rooms, two bath-rooms, etc., steam heat, burglar alarm and every convenience, large stable, fine garden, abundance fruit; everything in perfect order; possession any time. Inquire on premises, or of FRANCIS A. Fiss, 390 Broadway, New York.—f2tf

FOR RENT—Furnished house, 11 rooms, all improvements. Immediate possession. If desired, also 13 room house with all improvements, furnished or unfurnished. Enquire J. A. Hubbard, Fifth street, near Park avenue, or at Mission Hall, Madison avenue. ja26tf

FOR SALE—A complete house, newly fitted up, furnished or unfurnished, containing [illegible] rooms, parlor, sleeping rooms, dining room, kitchen, [illegible] every improvement in the house that is necessary for comfort. [illegible] out-houses complete; situated corner [illegible] street and Grant avenue, Plainfield, N. J. Apply to Samuel Q. Lawson, 70, Clinton Market, New York. ja26tf

FOR SALE OR TO LET—At Plainfield, N. J., Grocery, Bakery and Dwelling, combined with Stables; centrally located. A good chance for a live man. Apply to E. C. Mulford, Real Estate Broker, Office, Depot building, Plainfield, N. J. m22tf

PHAETON FOR SALE—Enquire at 147 Central Avenue, this city. 1y16-tf

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET to Gentlemen, without Board, at 14 W. Front Street. MRS. P. DUNN.

BOARD can be had in a private family, large airy rooms, shaded lawn, on Front street, convenient to stores and depot. Address, [illegible] P. O. Box 60, Plainfield, N. J. jal6tf

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S
Special Offer
IN BLACK CASHMERE
And Courtauld's
ENGLISH CRAPE!

ALL WOOL CASHMERE:

Lot No. 3, at	-	55 cents.
" " 5, "	-	60 "
" " 7, "	-	65 "
" " 9, "	-	75 "
" " 11, "	-	85 "
" " 13, "	-	$1.00 00
" " 15, "	-	1 25
" " 17, Damasse at		90 cents.
" " 19, Cordalille at		95 "
" " 21, Matelasse at		$1.00 00

Courtauld's Crape:

Lot No. 23, at	-	$1 35
" " 25, "	-	1 75
" " 27, "	-	2 45
" " 29, "	-	3 25
" " 31, "	-	4 75

New Bargains Every Week in each Department.
Ask to see the numbers advertised.
Seely Edsall.
G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

SPECIAL NOTICE!
Our Great Spring Bargain Sale will commence March 20th, and continue for four days.

HORSES & MULES!
I shall keep constantly on hand at my New Brunswick Stables, until April 1, 1883, a large assortment of HORSES
and
MULES!
For Sale or Exchange.
Persons wanting any kind can get suited!
Fresh Arrivals Every Week!
Forty-five head to arrive March 8, 1883.
PRICES REASONABLE!
Money refunded where stock proves not as represented!
By JOHN W. MORRIS.
Ja26tf

TO INFRINGERS
OF THE DRIVEN WELL PATENT.
Final Notice.
This Patent, Reissue No. 4,372, has been sustained by the United States Supreme Court, and also by nine other U. S. Courts, upholding the broad claims to Tube-Wells, either bored, drilled, or driven. It has been sustained by Judge Fisher, D. C. Judge Blatchford, Utica.
Judge Benedict, Brooklyn. Judge Wheeler, N. Y.
Judge Dillon, Minn. Judge Nixon, N. J.
Judge Nelson, Minn. Judge Deady, Oregon.
Judge Gresham, Ind. Judge Shipman, Conn.
After the most extended litigation on record in patent cases. Nearly every infringer in this State [illegible]
In the case before Judge Deady, (at Oregon,) it was held that after such litigation the decision should be considered as conclusive, and as the damages were only $20, the Court ordered them to be trebled, and increased to $60. This is a precedent for the other Courts to follow.
From and after this date the royalty on each [illegible] domestic well (1¼ inch or less) for one day [illegible] full term, will be $10. After [illegible] full royalty, costs and extra damages will be demanded. [illegible]
Orders taken for new wells.
S. F. GREEN, Newark, N. J.
J. C. CLAYTON, Att'y,
[illegible] St., N. Y. Feb. 21, 1883. m9w4

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME.
ENTERTAINMENT
Under the Auspices of the Managers of the Home, at the METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH,
FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
THURSDAY EV'G, MARCH 15, 1883,
COMMENCING AT 8 O'CLOCK.
ADMISSION 50c. — — — RESERVED SEATS 75c.
Tickets for sale at Reynolds's Pharmacy.

As a means for raising a portion of the money required for completing the new Home on Manning Ave., and making it ready for occupancy free of debt, the Managers have decided to give an entertainment which they think will accomplish the object and be entirely acceptable to the people of Plainfield, who have been such generous supporters in the past. They will have the pleasure of introducing to a Plainfield audience, for the first time,
Miss NETTIE TAYLOR, Elocutionist,
Of Brooklyn, N. Y.,
Whose rare and versatile talents have won the most pronounced encomiums of PRESS AND PUBLIC.
MISS JENNIE COOPER, Soprano, AND MR. D. HERBERT JEFFERY, Tenor,
Of St. Paul's Church, New York City,
Have also kindly consented to lend their aid on this occasion.

TESTIMONIALS.
The following testimonials give assurance that this entertainment will be one of unusual brilliancy and attractiveness:
From the New York Herald.
Miss Taylor is a young elocutionist whose natural gifts are of generous proportions and whose artistic methods are well chosen, refined and effective.
From the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.
Miss Taylor responded to a clamorous encore by reciting a humorous narrative, in which her rare powers of vocal mimicry convulsed the audience. Miss Taylor next read "On the Other Train," the pathetic situations in which she depicted with genuine dramatic force and good taste. Responding to the inevitable encore, she rebounded to her irresistible serio-comic vein, and instantly had the audience in a simmer of laughter, in the midst of which she vanished.
From the Hartford Evening Post.
Miss Nettie Taylor, of Brooklyn, N. Y., an elocutionist of acknowledged merit, gave an easy and graceful rendering of a number of selections, and was received with hearty applause. Her reading was particularly good, and displayed the fine quality of her voice and its thorough training to great advantage.
From the Newark Daily Advertiser.
Miss Nettie Taylor, the elocutionist from Brooklyn, rendered her selections in an admirable manner, and was rapturously applauded, responding to several encores. She is possessed of a remarkably fine voice and knows how to use it to good effect. She is a fine dramatic reader, and has the faculty of dropping self and putting character into the pieces she recites.
From Rev. Samuel D. Burchard, D. D.
Miss Nettie Taylor, as Professor of Elocution in Rutgers Female College, has won the esteem and admiration both of faculty and students. In her public readings and recitations she equally excels. She seems to have the power of touching every sensibility of our nature and of perfectly personating any character she chooses to represent. In my judgment, she has few equals as an elocutionist.
- S. D. BURCHARD, President Rutgers Female College.
From Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost.
Having known Miss Nettie Taylor from her childhood, and having had the pleasure of hearing her read during my pastorate in Hartford, Conn., I take pleasure in commending her to others with whom she may be thrown in the prosecution of her art, as an accomplished lady and an elocutionist of exceptionally fine attainments. Any one may feel entire confidence that she will afford entertainment of the highest order of merit. HUGH O. PENTECOST, Pastor Marcy Ave. Bapt. church, Brooklyn.
From Miss Mary B. Sleight, the Authoress.
[From private letter to a friend.]
. . . . . . I am very sorry that you were not able to hear Miss Taylor. She is a charming reader, and the pleasure of listening to her is greatly enhanced by her freedom from all affectation. At the same time she gives abundant evidence of real dramatic power. Those who heard her here were delighted with her. If you have an opportunity to hear her do not fail to go.

"LICENSED."
FINE
Wines, Liquors,
Ales and Segars,
AT
E. P. THORN'S,
17 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Having disposed of my Military Business in New York, I will hereafter devote my entire attention to the Clothing Business in Plainfield. Youths', Boys' and Children's Clothing a specialty. Merchant Tailoring. Cloths and Cassimeres in endless variety. Perfect fits guaranteed, or no sale. JOHN H. FRENCH, No. 6 East Front street, opposite P. O., Plainfield, New Jersey.

A nice Wall Pocket worth Twenty-five to Fifty cents given away with every Two Dollars worth of goods we sell.

WE WILL SHOW ON MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 13, 14 & 15, AN ENTIRELY NEW STOCK SUCH AS HAS NEVER BEFORE BEEN DISPLAYED BY US. WE WILL NOT QUOTE PRICES BUT WILL SELL AS CHEAP AND AS GOOD AND SEASONABLE GOODS AS CAN BE SOLD. IN ADDITION, WE WILL HAVE ON OUR BARGAIN COUNTER
:R:E:M:N:A:N:T:S:
IN DRESS GOODS, TABLE LINEN, CLOTH FOR BOYS WEAR, PLAIN STRIPED AND PLAID PIQUES. CAMBRIC AND NANSOOK AT LESS THAN HALF PRICE. OUR STOCK OF CARPETS CANNOT BE EQUALLED IN QUALITY AND PRICE. WE HAVE ALSO JUST RECEIVED FIFTY ROLLS OF FANCY MATTING FROM AUCTION WHICH WILL PAY EVERY HOUSEKEEPER TO LOOK AT.
Very Respectfully,
D. BOEHM & BRO.

JUST IN STOCK!
FALL FALL
Hats Hats
LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S,
Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.
Robes and Horse Blankets closing out at Cost!
Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices. jan3-

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

To Our Advertisers.

Regular advertisers entitled to a "change of advertisement," must hand in the same not later than Wednesday noon of each week, to insure insertion in the coming issue.

The above regulation is peremptory, and if so understood will be fully as convenient to advertisers, and immeasurably more so to

Their Obedient Servants,
THE PUBLISHERS.

On for an Opera House!

Two weeks from to-day is Good Friday.

EASTER Sunday, two weeks from next Sunday.

THE Board of Managers of the Plainfield Fire Department, meets next Tuesday evening.

THE regular monthly meeting of the Union Club was held last Monday evening at its rooms.

MRS. L. Adams announces her "Spring opening" of hats, bonnets and millinery goods, at No. 42 West Front street, next week.

Now that the license question is settled and $5,300 in fees secured, the names of the streets should be placed on the corner lamps.

THE Seventh Annual Sociable of St. Mary's T. A. B. Society, will be held at St. Mary's Hall, Thursday evening, the 29th inst. Tickets 50 cents.

"THE Council meets next Monday evening." This statement may not be correct, but we are so in the habit of making it that custom will not allow its being omitted.

MRS. Fine and Miss Butts having leased the "Stillman Homestead" for another year, will be pleased to receive a continuance of the past patronage they so truly appreciate.

ACCORDING to a Bound Brook notice, there will be "a shoot mach to take Place the Sixteen of March 16 on friday at too Clock in af non for a Double Barrelled gun at fifty Cents shoot."

AT the New Brunswick Stables of Jno. W. Morris, advertised by us elsewhere, no matter who the person is nor for what use he wants a horse, such purchaser cannot fail being suited and fairly dealt with.

MR. T. J. Carey has opened a furniture and freight express office at No. 45 West Front street, and also an establishment for the sale of second-hand carpets, furniture, &c. His advertisement appears on our second page.

WE were the recipients, a few days since, of some delicious oranges, grown on the plantation of our fellow townsman, Charles W. Hodges, at Bronson, Levi County, Fla. This grove is reported as a fine and valuable one.

A MEETING of the parents of such children as belong to the Public School, and are now under orders to remain from the school sessions, on various pretenses, will be held in the parlors of Laing's Hotel, to-morrow evening, at 8 P. M.

PLAINFIELDERS taking the 7:01 train from this city next Wednesday evening, will be met at Fanwood station by stages to transport them to the Scotch Plains M. E. Church, where Rev. J. H. Vincent will lecture on "That Boy's Sister." Admission 25 cents.

A VERY important meeting of the Crescent Base Ball Association will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, during Thursday evening of next week. As the season opens next month, and it is desired to start in a successful way, the members are urgently requested all to be present at this meeting.

THE Fox Chase at "Uncle Ben Connet's" Tavern, on Monday last, was largely attended by both man and dog. Reynard, however, eluded his pursuers, and was not captured until Wednesday, when Ed. and Harry Campbell, with their "boss" dog, ran the fox to earth and killed it near Netherwood.

THE efforts of many citizens to induce the Fanwood Minstrel Co., to repeat its recent entertainment at Scotch Plains, in this city, will probably result in success. The members of the company are all gentlemen of the best society and their programme is a most enjoyable and inoffensive one in every particular.

THE attention of adults and others desiring instruction in the German language, is again directed to the announcement of Dr. Von Ohnesorgen published in our issue of Feb. 23d. He will open his class very soon, and those wishing to commence with its beginning, should send their names to this office at once.

THE next and last entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. Course for this closing season of 1882-3, is to be given by the Royal Hand Bell Ringers in the M. E. Church, during Thursday evening, the 22d inst.—Those who enjoyed the efforts of this combination last year, will agree that no more pleasing an entertainment is ever offered.

COUNCILMAN Serrell invites a comparison of the Collector's and Treasurer's Reports for the past month. The ex-Councilman, whose seat Mr. Serrell now occupies, used to insist on the publication of such reports that they might be compared. Mr. Serrell makes no provisions whereby his suggestion can be accomplished by the public.

As a means for raising a portion of the money required for completing the new Children's Home on Manning avenue, and making it ready for occupancy free of debt, the Managers have decided to give an entertainment which they think will accomplish the object and be entirely acceptable to the people of Plainfield, who have been such generous supporters in the past. Full particulars will be found in our advertising columns.

A [illegible] "Jumbo" is expected to arive in this city very soon, in the form of a mammoth ice-box to be placed in the market about to be opened in Flagg's Hotel building, by M. J. Randolph, Manager for Mr. Taylor, of Trenton. This box is 16 feet long by 9 feet deep, and weighs, when stored, about 10,000 pounds. Although one of the largest of its kind in the State, it will hardly accommodate the demands of the daily business of this establishment.

Amateur Operatics.

In a quiet way there has been forming for the past few weeks in this city, an organization of local musical talent, with the aim in view of rendering publicly, after thorough rehearsal and careful training, one or two of the light operas so popular at the present day. The association having been completed by the combination of the abilities of the most admired of our city's vocalists, that exceedingly beautiful composition "The Chimes of Normandy" is now in process of complete rehearsal preceding its public interpretation. The solo parts will be sung by Mrs. Belle Fagan-Collier, Miss Julia Ketcham, and Messrs C. T. Roberts, Elmer Runyon, George Curtis and Corydon Tyler. Miss Jessie Utter is the accompanist. The sessions will [illegible] begin with the chorus at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, next Tuesday evening.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Regular meeting—All present—The Courts reverse the decision of the late City Judge—Applications for Hack, Express and Pedler licenses—Reports of ex-City Physician, Collector and Treasurer—The contracts awarded for lighting the streets—New warrant for the Barry & Thorn claim—Citizens to be allowed an examination of the tax duplicate—Liquor licenses granted to the amount of $5,300—An able fight against the irregularity of the proceedings—Warrants ordered drawn—The morals of the Poor House inmates—A request for an investigation, tabled—Salaries fixed—Adjourned at midnight.

MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 5TH, 1883.

The Council met in regular meeting.

Present—President Livingston and Messrs Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Jones, Marsh Polak, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson and R. Simpson—11.

Absent—None.

The minutes of the last adjourned meeting of Feb. 19th, and the special meeting of the 26th, approved as read.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS:

By Mr. Polak, a petition from residents of Netherwood, asking that the lamps in that vicinity be re-located.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Coriell, referred to Lamps Com., with power. All aye.

By Mr. Serrell, the petition of Bateman Thatcher for permission to erect a frame building in the rear of his dwelling at the East corner of Third and Washington street.

Mr. Marsh thought that an investigation as to the size and purpose of the building, should be made. He moved the reference of the petition to the Lamps Com.

Seconded by Mr. Jones, and so ordered.

By Mr. R. Simpson a communication from the School Trustees of District No. 1, requesting authority to use one-half of Union street, during the erection of the new school building at the corner of Third and Union street.

Mr. Serrell, seconded by Mr. Coriell, moved that it be referred to the Com. on Streets with power.

Moved by Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Jones, the matter be laid on the table. Carried.

The Clerk read the following.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN:—The case of the Treasurer of the City of Plainfield vs. Patrick Day, brought for the violation of the liquor license ordinance was begun and tried before the City Judge by my predecessor in the office of Counsel to the Corporation. The record shows that the defendant was by the City Judge found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $100. From this judgment the defendant appealed, and in the Court of Common Pleas moved to nonsuit the plaintiff on the ground of defects in the papers and proceedings before the City Judge.

The Court of Common Pleas have granted the motion and reversed the City Judge. The ground of reversal assigned is that the affidavit or complaint as originally drawn is defective, and as objections thereto were made before the City Judge, and no amendment was offered, the statute precluded amendment on the appeal.

The defects assigned by the Court being upon the face of the papers as they came into my hands, it was impossible to produce any witnesses or to be heard on the merits of the case.

The attention of your Honorable body is called to the judgment at this time, in view of the thirteenth section of the ordinance prescribing the duties of the Counsel to the Corporation.

Respectfully submitted,
CRAIG A. MARSH,
Corporation Counsel.

Dated March 5th, 1883.

On Motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. J. Simpson, tabled.

Also a petition from F. D. Fuller for permission to erect a frame over which to roll a canvass awning to stretch over the sidewalk in front of his place of business at No. 13 Park avenue.

Mr. Marsh moved that the petition be laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Gardner, seconded by Mr. Simpson, the same was referred to the Lamps Com.

The following applications for licenses were presented and referred to License Com.

Hack—John Utzinger, George Belcher (2), J. C. Seaman (2), R. Coleman, John Coleman, P. T. Keily, A. Hedden (2), Joseph B. Miller.
Stage—Evan Jones, Thomas H. Taylor.
Pedler—Edward Kline, Job Burch.
Express—P. Hoagland, (2), A. B. Summers (2),
Truck—E. H. Holmes (3).
Cartman—John A. Thickstun.

PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS.

The following claims were presented and referred to the proper committees.

By Mr. Beguelin—Plainfield Relief Association, $55 50; W. Haywood, 5 95; Mrs E. L. Boice, 20; Mrs. Gamberton, 3; A. Willets, 7 50.

By Mr. Marsh—H. H. Lowrie, $93 10; J. Johnson, 231 44; Runyon & Leonard, $147 40.

By Mr. Jones—M. Conway, $19 50; P. Lynch, 18 55; G. W. Grant 19 32; P. Burgan, 31 38; W. S. Chase, 47 05.

By R. Simpson—J. S. Cutter, $77 11.

REPORTS FROM CITY OFFICERS:

Mr. Serrell presented the final report of the late City Physician, H. H. Lowrie. Filed.

Also the monthly reports of the City Collector and the City Treasurer. Rec'd and filed.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By Mr. Polak, from the Lamps Com., the following:

The Committee on Fire, Water and Lamps, to whom was referred the proposals for lighting the street lamps, report that they have examined the same, and recommend that the proposal of the Plainfield Gas Light Co., to light the lamps now lighted by them, and others that they may be ordered to light by the Common Council for eighteen nights per month from one-half hour after sunset until 2 a. m., for $1.71 per lamp per month, be accepted under the following conditions, viz: that a contract embodying the above terms be entered into between the said company and the city, the said company agreeing to keep the lamps clean and in repair and to allow the city the right to suspend the contract for any month or months that the Common Council may deem advisable for the interest of the city, upon thirty days notice preceding said month or months. Your Committee also recommend that the proposal of the New York and New Jersey Globe Gaslight Co., to light the lamps now lighted by them, or others that the common council may order to be lighted by them for eighteen nights per month from one-half hour after sunset until 2 a. m., for $1.60 per lamp per month be accepted; also the lamps under the bridges now lighted by them at the sum of 25 dollars per lamp per year, to be lighted every night and all night, upon the execution of the contract embodying such terms with provisions for suspension thereof as in the case of the Plainfield Gaslight Company.

KARL T. POLAK,
R. F. CORIELL,
JOHN SIMPSON.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak, the report was received, its recommendations adopted, and the Corporation Counsel requested to draw up the contracts required.

The Com. also reported as correct the claims of N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., $126 69; Plainfield Gas Light Co., 243 20 and 159 52. Rec'd to Aud. Com.

Mr. Coriell, from Com. on Laws, presented the following:

To the Laws and Ordinance Committee of the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN:—In reply to the question submitted by your committee, viz., "what course should be taken in case a warrant for the payment of a current claim against the City, which was ordered drawn by the Common Council of last year, remains unsigned by the Mayor of such year, and unpaid?" I have the honor to submit the following:

Section 1. of the ordinance providing for the issue of such warrant is as follows, viz:

"That hereafter for all current claims against the city when and as allowed by the Common Council, there shall be issued for such respective amount so allowed and made payable to the order of claimant, a warrant on the City Treasurer signed by the president of the Council or president pro tem., attested by the City Clerk and countersigned by the Mayor or acting Mayor, and which warrant shall show upon its face in writing, the purpose of its use."

Several warrants have heretofore remained unsigned under circumstances similar to those attending the warrant in question, and the course pursued has been for the Common Council to cause the warrant to be cancelled, and a new warrant issued in lieu thereof.

While I do not deem it absolutely necessary to adopt such a roundabout method, there seems to be much to recommend it. The Council are thereby unable to pass directly upon all disbursements of the year; the president of the Council and the Clerk of the Council of the present year are enabled to attach their signatures to the warrant which must bear the signature of the Mayor of the present year; and the City Treasurer and the Bank are saved any question as to the virtue of a warrant bearing the signatures of City officials of different years.

Accordingly I would recommend that the warrant be by my motion or resolution ordered cancelled, and a new warrant ordered drawn in lieu thereof.

Respectfully Submitted,
CRAIG A. MARSH,
Counsel to the Corporation.

Dated Feb. 19, 1883.

It was moved by Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak, that the warrant issued by the past Council be cancelled and a new one drawn.

Mr. Marsh thought it well enough to cancel the old warrant, but before a new one was ordered the claim should come before the Council in the regular way. The members should know what it was for, how much, and the proper committee should report upon it.

He moved as an amendment, that the last clause of the motion be stricken out. Seconded by Mr. Serrell.

Mr. Coriell felt that if the present Council had any confidence in the responsibility of their predecessors, his motion entire would be carried.

Mr. Marsh replied that no Councilman should be controlled by the action of a past Council. He was elected by the people to disburse the City's moneys according to his own judgment.

Mr. Coriell stated that the last speaker had been shown the claim and knew of the effect of the report of the Committee in the matter. Such report had been withheld at the last meeting, at the special request of Mr. Marsh.

The latter replied that the report had been shown him, and he desired it kept back as he supposed the members of the Committee would be called together to consider the matter. That was never done, and he desired to state his opinion as to the worthlessness of referring such things to a Committee the members of which were never consulted as to the nature of its report. In explanation of his objection to the entire motion, he said that the Chairman of the Committee allowed him no opportunity of investigating the claim; and although he was not opposed to the payment of the bill and thought the city should pay its debts even if outlawed, he would feel compelled to vote in the negative without examination of the claim.

Mr. Serrell thought the Council should not so hurriedly pass upon a matter that had been (substantially) vetoed by the last Mayor. There should first be an investigation by the proper Committee as to the facts in relation to and the justness of the claim. He should vote no, not because he did not want the bill paid but as his protest against such manner of rushing it through.

The amendment was lost, as was also a motion to table, by Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell.

The original motion of Mr. Coriell was carried by a vote of 9 to 2. The latter being cast by Messrs Marsh and Serrell.

Mr. Gardner, from License Com., reported as properly signed and properly advertised the applications for liquor licenses in its hands.

Tabled on motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak.

Also as approved the applications for hack, express and other licenses presented that evening. The same granted—all voting aye.

Mr. Jones from Police Com., reported as correct the claims in its hands. Referred to Aud. Com.

The Com. also recommended, that Regular Policeman G. W. Grant be allowed to draw his full month's pay, with no deduction on account of sickness.

By Mr. Ross, from Printing Com., as correct, claims of W. L. Force & Bro., $157 95; E. O. Chamberlin, 163 30. Referred to Aud. Com.

By Mr. Serrell from Finance Com., as correct the claim of J. S. Cutter, $77 11. Ref'd to Aud. Com.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Gardner, the applications of E. P. Thorn and J. B. Miller, that had been denied, were ordered returned to the applicants or anyone authorized to receive such.

Mr. Serrell, seconded by Mr. Beguelin, moved for adoption the following:

WHEREAS, The time for the Assessor to make the annual tax levy and for the Council to pass upon the same is rapidly approaching, and whereas, complaints have been made of inequality in the apportioning of the said tax levy, therefore,

Resolved, That the Collector of taxes be directed to give all reasonable facilities to citizens or committees of citizens to examine tax duplicate for the year 1882.

Resolved, That any citizen knowing of any instance of incorrect relative apportionment of valuations be requested to state the same in writing to the Clerk of this Council, to be by him retained for reference when this Council shall examine such tax levy.

Resolved, That copies of such information be given from time to time to the Assessor.

Resolved, That in cases where deductions are claimed on account of mortgages or debts, the Assessor be requested to ascertain whether or not deductions made in former years should continue to be made.

The mover, in urging the passage of the resolution, said that he considered it more appropriate for people to find fault beforehand rather than after the levy was made up. He was reluctant to see that always after an assessment had been made and an opportunity given all to go before the Commissioners of Appeal for corrections in the levy, the papers were filled with complaints.

The resolution was then adopted—all voting aye.

On motion of Mr. Serrell, seconded by Mr. Marsh, the petition of the Board of Education for the use of one-half of Union street, was taken from the table.

Mr. Marsh held that the permission of the Council was not necessary, and read from section 11, page 36, of the Ordinances, to show that the petitioners had the right they desired.

On motion of Mr. Jones, seconded by Mr. Marsh, the matter was referred to Streets Com., with power. All aye.

The applications were presented of J. B. Miller and E. P. Thorn, for licenses to sell spirituous and fermented liquor.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak, the same were laid on table.

On motion of Mr. Polak, the rules were suspended to allow the Lamps Com., to report on the petition of F. D. Fuller. The Com., however, had nothing in relation to say.

Mr. Coriell moved to take from table the license applications approved by the Com., and act upon the same.

Seconded by Mr. Polak.

Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak, moved that the application before the Council of J. B. Miller for a license to keep an inn and tavern and to sell spirituous liquors be granted.

Mr. Marsh arose to a point of order. He stated there had been no application presented by Mr. Miller, except the one already refused and ordered returned. He asked for the ruling of the chair as to whether it was proper to take any action on a matter that had already been passed upon and a subsequent motion to reconsider lost.

Mr. Coriell said he knew of no reason why a man could not apply as often as he pleased; with the same signers, and without a single new one.

Mr. Serrell read from section 4, page 30, of the Ordinances: "And provided further, that before any license is granted to sell spirituous and fermented liquors as provided for by the ordinance, the clerk of the common council shall cause to be inserted in each official newspaper in the city, within ten days after such application is made, a notice in the following form, etc."

Mr. Coriell acknowledged that the application in question was the same as had already been denied. The same identical names were signed to it, but in such condition it had been once advertised. He thought the matter of granting licenses had been trifled with long enough. The people at the ballot box last December had spoken in favor of license, and a majority of the Council had been elected to grant such, but through a little misunderstanding regarding just what the public desired, the question had remained unsettled. He severely censured the "other side" for its "fancy work business adopted to prevent a quorum" at a recent special meeting. He accused some of the members of being "housed away" on the watch to prevent what they thought was a "put up game to grant licenses by five votes."

Mr. Marsh thought the "game" had been played for all it was worth and was consequently over with. As to the voice of the people, he was always ready to respect it, but was not willing to stand up and confess he was elected to violate the ordinances. He then asked if the Com. on Licenses had approved the application again, or whether the endorsement was not the old one of weeks ago.

Mr. Coriell answered to the effect that the application had not even been before the Com. on Licenses. He had presented the application again after its return, and now called it up for action. He also took the opportunity of calling the attention of all to the attitude of the "temperance councilmen," who, he said, "won't vote to grant licenses, but will vote to raise the fee and bring in the blood-money."

The President ruled upon the point of order, to the effect that the application had been properly advertised and, was regularly before the Council for action thereon.

Mr. Jones took an exception to the ruling, but the chair was sustained by the following vote:

Affirmative—Messrs. Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Polak, R. Simpson—5.

Negative—Messrs. Jones, Marsh, Ross and Serrell—4.

Not voting—Mr. J. Simpson.

Mr. Marsh then asked for the ruling of the chair as to whether action being once taken did it not forever debar the application passed upon.

The President held it did not debar such application "forever."

Mr. Marsh read from Cushing's Manual rulings to the effect that there could be no reconsideration of any question without unanimous consent after such question had been once and finally decided.

The President did not recognize such ruling as covering the question before the Council, and Mr. Marsh appealed from the decision of the Chair.

Sustained by the same vote as before.

Mr. Serrell thought the real question that would be decided by the present action, was whether the liquor party had the Council and the City under its thumb. So far as he himself was concerned, he should always refuse to take any action contrary to the ordinances and contrary to parliamentary rules. The speaker then drew a comparison between Esau and men who he said had sold their votes in a Plainfield liquor saloon on the day of the last election, for two dollars each.

Mr. Coriell thought the liquor traffic the greatest of all evils and in consequence desired to guard it with a high fee, severe penalties and by restriction. The speaker then severely denounced Mr. Serrell's statements, and said "no citizen that is a true citizen would say, without knowledge of such fact, that another citizen had sold his vote for two dollars. And no Councilman is honorable in making such statement in this Council room unless he knows it to be so; and if he knows it to be so he should go before the courts and prove it."

The President before voting on the motion to grant, explained his vote. He said he had voted for licenses last year and should do so this, as he believed it to be the only way of controlling the traffic in a city so peculiarly situated that saloons could be opened within a few yards of the main street without the permission of the Council being necessary. But he desired it to be distinctly understood that every person licensed would be required to live strictly up to the ordinance, and in case of any violation by selling to minors, or drunkards, or on Sunday, he (the speaker) would be found on the other side of the question.

Mr. Marsh expressed himself as entirely in sympathy with the President in his protestation against possible violators of the ordinance, and for that reason he (Mr. Marsh) would not himself violate the same ordinance by voting to grant an application that was not properly presented as required.

Mr. J. Simpson stated that he had always before voted for license because he thought such the best way of controlling the trade, but he would not vote for license at a high fee. He thought like the "temperance members" in one thing, "they say they don't want to run the city with rum money and neither do I."

[Applause from the gathering outside the rail, loud rapping of the President's gavel, threats audibly expressed by the janitor, mild expostulations from the Captain of Police and, subsequently, quiet again.]

The motion to grant the application of J. B. Miller, was then carried by the following vote:

Affirmative—President Livingston and Messrs. Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Polak and R. Simpson—6.

Negative—Messrs. Jones, Marsh, Ross, Serrell, J. Simpson—5.

Mr. Polak, seconded by Mr. Beguelin, moved that the application of E. P. Thorn be granted.

Mr. Coriell, in answer to Mr. Marsh, stated that the application was in the same condition as the one just acted upon.

Mr. Marsh seconded by Mr. Jones, moved that it be laid upon the table.

Motion to table lost,—Messrs. Jones, Marsh, Ross and Serrell only, voting in the affirmative.

Mr. Serrell called the attention of the Council to the possibility of legal proceedings being instituted against parties for the violation of their license, and the probability of the Courts deciding that the same had not been properly granted. He felt that the city would be stultified by proceedings against a man for violating a license if it was shown that he hadn't any.

The application of E. P. Thorn was then granted by the same vote—6 to 5.

The application of James H. Force being next considered, Mr. Serrell asked if the owner of the building occupied by the applicant as a saloon, had signed the application.

Mr. Gardner, replied that the owner had signed the same.

Mr. Serrell stated that Mayor Manson had told him a license should not be granted to James H. Force, as the owner of the building did not personally sign the application. He thought the License Committee should have taken steps to ascertain whether the signature affixed as being the one required, was genuine.

Mr. Coriell replied that he for one was willing to accept the signature as authentic. He did not look on men in the liquor business as scoundrels and forgers, as Mr. Serrell seemed to do.

Mr. Gardner, in answer to Mr. Marsh, stated that there were 14 names affixed to the application, and also the Com. on Licenses was satisfied there was a sufficient number of signers to conform to all the requirements of the Ordinance in relation thereto. He also said that the name of the owner was not on the application when it was first presented, and not on the application when advertised.

The same was then granted by the affirmative votes of President Livingston and Messrs Beguelin, Coriell, Gardner, Polak and R. Simpson.

Also by the same vote, the applications of Messrs James Connolly, John Rafferty, Charles Smith and P. Day.

A motion to adjourn, by Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Jones, was lost.

The following applications also were granted by a vote of 6 to 5:

H. O'Donnell, Charles Elsmar, Wm. Sullivan and Charles Beck.

Mr. Marsh moved that the Council advertise for more applications. Not seconded.

The rules were suspended and Mr. J. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported as correct the following claims:

J. S. Cutter, $77 11; E. O. Chamberlin, 163 30; W. L. Force & Bro., 157 95; M. Conway, 19 50; P. Lynch, 18 55; W. S. Chase, 47 05; G. W. Grant, 19 32; P. Burgan, 31 38; N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., 126 69; Plainfield Gas Light Co., 243 20 and 159 52.

Warrants ordered drawn. Mr. Marsh voting no on the payment of bill of the Plainfield Gas Co., $259 52.

In explanation of his vote, Mr. Marsh stated that he did not think the bill a fair one in consideration of the quality of the gas and the quantity of light given.

Mr. Coriell expressed it as his opinion, that if the gas furnished by the company was one-half as inferior in quality as the gas furnished by some of the Councilmen, it was indeed poor.

Mr. J. Simpson presented a communication from D. Hand, keeper of the Poor House, asking that a Committee be appointed to investigate the charges made by the City Judge regarding the morals of the inmates of that institution.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Ross, the communication was received and laid on the table.

The resolution of the Com. on Salaries, fixing the compensation of the various city officers, was taken up on motion of Mr. Marsh, Seconded by Mr. J. Simpson.

Mr. Coriell was called to the chair, President Livingston retired, and Mr. Beguelin was excused.

A motion by Mr. J. Simpson, seconded by Mr. Ross, for a recess of 10 minutes was lost.

On motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. J. Simpson, the resolution before the Council, was again tabled.

Messrs Livingston and Beguelin having returned, the communication of the Corporation Counsel, asking instruction in the case of the City against Day, was referred to the Com. on Laws with power to direct such action as it saw fit. Mr. Gardner voting no, and Mr. Beguelin being excused from voting.

The Resolution fixing the salaries was again taken up on motion of Mr. Marsh.

Mr. Coriell thought that the office of City Treasurer was so responsible, that the salary should remain, at least, the same as last year. He was also opposed to any reduction of the compensation of Corporation Counsel and Captain of Police.

The salary of each officer was acted upon separately.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. Polak, the salary of the City Treasurer was increased $50. Mr. Marsh voting in the negative.

The motion of Mr. Beguelin, seconded by Mr. J. Simpson, to make the salary of City Physician $250, was lost. Messrs Beguelin, Gardner, J. Simpson and R. Simpson voting in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, seconded by Mr. R. Simpson, the salary of the Corporation Counsel was increased to $500. Messrs Gardner, Jones and Ross voting in the negative.

On motion of Mr. Beguelin, seconded by Mr. Coriell, the salary of the Captain of Police, was fixed at $700. Messrs Jones, Marsh, Ross and Serrell, voting no.

The motion of Mr. Jones, seconded by Mr. Beguelin, to make the salary of the regular police, $600 each, was lost. Mr. Jones alone, voting in the affirmative.

The following as a whole were adopted as the salaries for the present year:

City Clerk, $350; Treasurer, $400; Physician, 200; Overseer of the Poor, 200; Street Commissioner, 200; Corporation Counsel, 500; Regular Police, 550 in full of all services; Captain of Police, 700, in full for all services; Janitor 50, and 2 extra for each special and adjourned meeting.

On motion, the Clerk was authorized to purchase an Ordinance and a Resolution book for his use.

The resolution fixing the rates of compensation to the City Collector was taken up and adopted on motion of Mr. Marsh, seconded by Mr. Serrell, after striking out the fee for collecting taxes of 1883, as amended by motion of Mr. Coriell accepted by Mr. Marsh.

The Council then, at 12 m., adjourned.

Home Again.

Our "Junior" is home again after a two weeks visit to Washington, D. C., full of appreciation of the courtesy shown him by many friends among the officials of the Government. During his stay he was the guest of Mr. A. M. Laing, of the Government Printing Office, to whom he is under lasting obligation in consequence of the numerous favors he experienced at his hands. The "Junior" now looks forward with sincere anticipation of pleasure to the time when he may be enabled to return in some degree the many civilities and innumerable acts of kindness offered.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

On Saturday evening there will be a meeting of the Association held in the Lecture room to discuss the advisability of securing larger rooms for the use of the Association. Every member is earnestly requested to attend.

The young men's prayer and song meeting was very largely attended on Monday evening. The meeting will be held as usual on next Monday, at 8 p. m. All are cordially invited to attend.

The meeting for boys will be held on Friday afternoon of this week, as usual. Every boy, a member of the branch, is expected to attend.

On account of the meeting of the Association on Saturday evening, the regular Bible Study will be held this week on Friday evening. All young men are invited.

Yellowstone Park.

William I. Marshall, Esq., of Fitchburg, Mass., will give an illustrated lecture on Thursday, March [illegible], entitled "An Evening in Wonderland," presenting in the most entertaining manner the beauties and attractions of our great national park. This lecture has been arranged for by the ladies of the Congregational church, and the proceeds go to their fund for furnishing the new chapel now used by them. Mr. Marshall profusely illustrates his lectures with colored transparencies, which have been prepared at immense outlay by one of the very best artists to this time yet known, and for beauty of coloring and exactness of detail stand unsurpassed. He has the testimony of those who have witnessed these entertainments that "they are the most interesting lectures they ever attended."

Union's Building Loan and Savings Ass'n.

At the recent annual meeting of this Association, the past Board of Directors was elected for another year and other officers as follows: President, John Harris; Secretary, L. K. Berkalew; Treasurer, Henry Bachman.

We Give It Up!

For "The Constitutionalist."

MESSRS EDITORS:—Will you please inform me if a Temperance Hotel Keeper takes out a license for running a hack, if it gives him a right to sell liquor to his boarders. INQUIRER.

[Not knowing to whom our correspondent refers, we are unable to answer, but would rather think it does not. ED.]

They Say.

That the strip of ground bounded by the railroad, Third street and Washington street, has been purchased by a Chicago firm which will erect thereon a factory for the canning of meats.

That the P. & R., railroad has expressed its willingness to stop all Philadelphia express trains at Plainfield, but the C. R. R. declines.

Thanks.

Mr. John Barker, in his sorrow and affliction, wishes me to extend his thanks to the following named gentlemen who so generously contributed to defraying the expenses of the burial of his beloved wife, and to Rev. T. Logan Murphy: Martin I. Cooley, Chas. Mathews, Stephen A. Potter, Stephen Staats, George P. Dupee, Chas. Place, A. E. Faber, Wm. Shotwell, H. H. Moore, Freeman Shotwell, and to all those friends in attendance. ISAAC BROKAW.

Personals.

Mr. Caleb Dickinson is the first to begin the erection of a residence on Vine street, the North Plainfield thoroughfare recently opened from Emily street to Park place. Mr. Dickinson will build a very convenient and comfortable home for (it is rumored) himself and intended bride.

Mr. William P. Smith of Netherwood, has recently purchased one of the most elegant of the residences in that suburb—the late property of Florens Schutter. The approaching marriage of Mr. Smith and Mrs. Wm. E. Smalley, to occur on Tuesday of next week, will be followed by a tour of about four weeks; upon their return from which they will probably be "at home" in their new residence.

Mr. E. D. Eaton, commercial traveler for Messrs Schepflin, Baldwin, Tweedy & Co., clothing manufacturers of this city, started on his long Spring trip last Tuesday, to St. Louis, Kansas City; Indian Territory, New Mexico and probably Denver. Mr. Eaton is the pioneer clothing man, having been engaged in the business the past 25 years. We wish him a pleasant and prosperous trip.

Mr. Stephen C. Ryder and wife of Milton N. Y., are stopping at Laing's Hotel for a too brief visit to this city. Mr. Ryder, who was for so many years a resident of Plainfield, numbers his friends among us by the score, and all are most sincere in their congratulations upon his present success and the promise of continued prosperity in the future. No one deserves a greater degree of good fortune than our old friend "Steve."

MISCELLANY.

Having taken a position with the well known firm of D. Boehm & Bro., I respectfully solicit my friends to call upon me, when in need of any goods in our line. Very Respectfully,
J. L. MUNDAY,
Late with Geo. W. Rockfellow. 1t

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 32 West Front Street.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

Parties wishing wall-paper and artist goods at N. Y. prices should call at H. S. Darose' temporary store, 4 East Front street, opposite new post office. N. B.—Window shades a specialty. m2-al.

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 32 West Front Street, at the New York price. m17tf

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Demena's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

A splendid remedy for Lung diseases. Dr. Robt. Newton, late President of the Eclectic College of the city of New York, and formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, used Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam very extensively in his practice, as many of his patients, now living, and restored to health by the use of this invaluable medicine can amply testify. He always said that so good a remedy ought not to be considered merely as a patent medicine, but that it ought to be prescribed freely by every physician as a sovereign remedy in all cases of Lung diseases. It is a sure cure for Consumption, and has no equal for all pectoral complaints.

Kellinger's Liniment. We desire to call the attention of the public to Kellinger's Liniment, one of the best preparations ever put up for all general purposes for which a Liniment is used. Applied to the head it relieves headache and prevents the hair from falling out.

DESERVEDLY POPULAR.—Unless it had great merit Parker's Ginger Tonic could not be so popular. Its sale has spread remarkably everywhere, because invalids find it gives them new life and vigor when other medicines fail entirely.—Ohio Farmer.

An attractive, youthful appearance secured by using Parker's Hair Balsam by all who are getting gray.

WHEN LADIES ARE ATTRACTIVE.—All ladies know their looks are most attractive when free from pimples. Parker's Ginger Tonic is popular among them because it banishes impurities from blood and skin and makes the face glow with health.

"Rough on Corns."—Ask for Wells' "Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete, permanent cure. Corns, warts, bunions.

CHOICEST GRAPE VINES.—Fine, vigorous Vines, two, three and four years old, for sale by the dozen or thousand at the lowest prices. These Vines are raised on the famous Mt. Prospect Vineyards, at Passaic, New Jersey, where the well-known Port Grape Wine is produced that is so highly esteemed at Dresden and Berlin, and other European cities to which it is shipped, and that is so highly esteemed by physicians everywhere. Address, ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.

That Husband of Mine is three times the man he was before he began using "Wells' Health Renewer." $1. Druggists.

Best ever made, Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar coated; no griping; only 15 cents a box, of Druggists or mail. Standard Cure Co. Sold by E. F. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

USEFUL IN THE FAMILY.—[illegible] Parker's Ginger Tonic has been so useful in our family in relieving sickness and suffering that we cannot say too much in its praise.—[illegible]

Catarrh of the bladder, stinging irritation, inflammation, all Kidney complaints, cured by "Buchupaiba." $1.

Malaria, Chills and Fever, and Bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills—an infallible remedy; never fail to cure the most obstinate, long-standing cases where Quinine and all other remedies had failed. They are prepared expressly for malarious sections, in double boxes, two kinds of Pills, containing a strong cathartic and a chill breaker, sugar-coated; contain no Quinine or Mercury, causing no griping or purging; they are mild and efficient, certain in their action and harmless in all cases; they effectually cleanse the system, and give new life and tone to the body. As a household remedy they are unequalled. For Liver Complaint their equal is not known; one box will have a wonderful effect on the worst case. They are used and prescribed by physicians, and sold by Druggists everywhere, or sent by mail. [illegible] Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, best ever made, only 15 cents. Sold by E. F. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. SMITH, KLINE & CO., Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia, and HALL & RUCKEL, New York.

WESTFIELD ADVERTISERS.

C. A. SMITH,
DEALER IN
Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Agent for Lister Bros. Bone and Phosphate Fertilizer. [illegible]
[illegible] AND LAND PLASTER BY THE LOAD OR CARGO.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone Call No. 34. may18

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the interest of the people.
Office, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also
Standard Fertilizers,
Such as Mapes's, Lister's, Stockbridge & Bowker's Phosphates and Bone Manures, for all crops, bought low for cash, and will be sold at reasonable prices.
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
Genesee Valley Lime, by the car load, &c.
E. M. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 44. Scotch Plains, N. J.
ap6tf

C. E. AGUIRRE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Office at Gale's Pharmacy.
Adaptation and Beauty a Specialty
All work guaranteed to be First Class, and to give entire satisfaction. 5oly

JOHN KANE,
WESTFIELD, N. J.
Driven and Drilled Wells.
REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Unexceptionable references given if desired.
s9tf

TURF EXCHANGE
ALE and BEER VAULTS,
Opp. Depot, WESTFIELD, N. J.
JOHN L. ROULSTON, - Proprietor.
Choice stock of DRAFT & BOTTLED ALE constantly on hand.
Draft and Bottled Beer supplied at all times.
Particular attention given to FAMILY ORDERS.
M3y

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DEMAREST!

The popular wholesale and retail grocer, gives the best goods for the least money. Cincinnati Sugar-cured extra hams. Just received a large stock of fresh canned goods of all kinds, to be sold at lowest prices. Creamery Butter of the choicest quality. La Favorita New Process Flour, the best in the market. Strictly pure Old Government Java, Mocha, Maracaibo and Rio Coffees, fresh roasted twice a week.

FRESH TEAS A SPECIALTY.

Try our thirty cent tea. Sugars at wholesale prices. Please call and examine stock. I won't be undersold.

P. M. DEMAREST,

Front street, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Special Bargains
Which are to be found for a few days
At Whitney's.

A NEW LINE OF "VEILING," ONLY 13c. WORTH 25c.

ONE LOT OF 5 DOZ. FOSTER'S PATENT LACING KIDS. ONLY 88c., WORTH $1.25.

THE "SUPERB CORSET," MADE FROM THE BEST "FRENCH COUTIL," AT 95c. REGULAR PRICE, $1.25 ONLY THIS LOT AT THE PRICE.

ECRU TABLE LINEN 50c. WORTH 65c.
WHITE TABLE LINEN, 75c. WORTH $1.

"THESE ARE SPECIAL PRICES," WORTH YOUR ATTENTION.

"THE BEST 'ALL-WOOL' BLACK CASHMERE AT 50c. IN THIS CITY," AT

S. H. WHITNEY'S,
(Opposite Post-office.)

Japanese Salve!

For Chapped Hands and Lips,
Frosted Feet and all
Skin Diseases.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR IT.

A FINE SET OF CARDS SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON RECEIPT OF A THREE CENT STAMP BY

Vail Bros., Philadelphia.

Mrs. John Burke

Has succeeded Thomas Burke and Thomas McCue [illegible]

PECK'S CORNER.

Mme. Demarest's Reliable Patterns
OF THE FASHIONS FOR SPRING OF 1883!
NOW READY AT PECK'S!

Portfolios, Monitors and Catalogues.
AT PECK'S!

Seersuckers and Ginghams!
A wagon load just received. All new styles and low prices at

Ladies try the new corset "Tampico," it has the valuable patent attachment known as the Triple Back, which affords complete protection to the spinal column. Call and examine them and other bargains at Pope Bros.

Always look for our advertisement and you will find many Tools you need.
CURTISS & GRIFFEN,
13 East Front street.

EAGLE COMBINED RIDING AND WALKING CULTIVATOR

Stockbridge Complete Manures. Bowker's Fertilizers. Bowker's Dissolved Bone. Plows, Harrows, Forks, Rakes. Henderson's Garden and Farm Seeds.

LAING'S HOTEL!
PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
JOSEPH B. MILLER, - - - PROPRIETOR.
Permanent Boarders taken at Reasonable Rates.
☞ HOTEL COACH MEETS ALL TRAINS. ☜

Bachman Bros.,
POPULAR DRY GOODS STORE!

LARGE LINE OF TOWELS, 36 INCHES LONG, ALL LINEN, TWO FOR 25 CENTS. TURKISH TOWELS, 36 INCHES LONG, AT 25 CENTS EACH. CLOSING OUT BLANKETS AND COMFORTABLES AT COST. GENT'S FULL REGULAR FANCY HOSE IN ALL STYLES, AT 25 CTS. WORTH 40 CENTS. HAMBURG EDGINGS FROM 3 CENTS PER YARD TO 65. CALL AND SEE US AND CONVINCE YOURSELF.

BACHMAN BROTHERS,
27 West Front street, - - - - - - - Plainfield, New Jersey.

A. VANDERBEEK,
(Chautauqua Building.)
No. 33 PARK AVENUE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

DEALER IN
Pianos, Organs and Musical Instruments,
Breech Loading Guns, Pistols, Fishing Tackle, &c.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

OLD SAYINGS.

As poor as a church mouse,
 As thin as a rail;
As fat as a porpoise,
 As rough as a gale;
As brave as a lion,
 As spry as a cat;
As bright as a sixpence,
 As weak as a rat.

As proud as a peacock,
 As sly as a fox;
As mad as a hare,
 As strong as an ox;
As fair as a lily,
 As empty as air;
As rich as Croesus,
 As cross as a bear.

As pure as an angel,
 As neat as a pin;
As smart as a steel-trap,
 As ugly as sin;
As dead as a door nail,
 As white as a sheet;
As flat as a pancake,
 As red as a beet.

As round as an apple,
 As black as your hat;
As brown as a berry,
 As blind as a bat;
As mean as a miser,
 As full as a tick;
As plump as a partridge,
 As sharp as a stick.

AN EARLY BREAKFAST.

THE TROUBLE THAT AWFUL BOY GETS EVERYBODY IN.

"Well, sir," said the bad boy to the grocery man, "pa has struck a fortune if he can make the thing work. He has got an idea about coal stoves that will bring him in several million dollars, if he gets a royalty of five dollars on every coal stove in the world. His idea is to have a coal stove on castors with the pipe made to telescope out and in, and rubber hose for one joint, so you can pull the stove all around the room, and warm any particular place. Well, sir, to hear pa tell about it, you would think it would revolutionize the country, and maybe it will when he gets it perfected; but he came near burning the house up, and scared us all half to death this morning and burned his shirt off, and he is all covered with cotton with sweet oil on, and he smells like salad dressing. You see pa had a pipe made and some castors put on our coal stove, and he tied a rope to the hearth of the stove and had me put in some kindling wood and coal last night, so he could draw the stove up to the bed and light the fire without getting up. Ma told him he would put his foot in it, and he told her to dry up and let him run the stove business. He said it took a man with brain to run a patent right, and ma she pulled the clothes over her head and let pa do the fire act. She has been building the fires for twenty years and thought she would let pa see how good it was. Well, pa pulled the stove to the bed and touched off the kindling wood. I guess maybe I got a bundle of kindling wood that the hired girl had put kerosene on, cause it blazed up awful and smoked, and the blaze bursted out the doors and windows of the stove, and pa yelled fire and I jumped out of bed and rushed in, and he was the scartest man you ever see, and you'd a dide to see how he kicked when I threw a pail of water on his legs and put his shirt out. Ma did not get burnt, but she was pretty wet, and she told pa she would pay the five dollars royalty on that stove and take the castors off and let it remain stationary. Pa says he will make it work if he burns the house down. I think it was real mean in pa to get mad at me because I threw cold water on him instead of warm water, to put his shirt out. If I had waited till I could heat water to the right temperature I would have been an orphan an pa would have been a burnt offering. But some men always kick at everything. Pa has given up business entirely and says he shall devote the remainder of his life curing himself of the different troubles that I get him into. He has retained a doctor by the year, and he buys liniment by the gallon."

"What was it about your folks getting up in the night to eat? The hired girl was over here after some soap the other morning, and she said she was going to leave your house."

"Well, that was a picnic. Pa said he wanted breakfast earlier than we had been in the habit of having it, and he said I might see to it that the house was awake early enough. The other night I awoke with the awfulest pain you ever heard of. It was that night that you give me and my chum the bottle of pickled oysters that had begun to work. Well, I couldn't sleep, and I thought I would call the hired girls, and they got up and got breakfast to going, and then I rapped on pa and ma's door and told them the breakfast was getting cold, and they got up and came down. We eat breakfast by gas light, and pa yawned and said it made a man feel good to get up and get ready for work before daylight, the way he used to on the farm, and ma she yawned and agreed with pa, 'cause she has to or have a row. After breakfast we sat around for an hour, and pa said it was a long time getting daylight, and bimeby pa looked at his watch. When he began to pull out his watch I lit out and hid in the store room, and pretty soon I heard pa and ma come up stairs and go to bed, and when it was all still and the pain had stopped inside of my clothes, I went to bed, and I looked to see what time it was and it was two o'clock in the morning. We got dinner at eight o'clock in the morning, and pa said he guessed he would call up the house after this, so I have lost another job, and it was all on account of that bottle of pickled oysters that you gave me. My chum says he had colic, too, but he didn't call up his folks. It was all he could do to get up himself. Why don't you sometimes give away something that is not spiled?"

The grocery man said he guessed he knew what to give away, and the boy went out and hung up a sign in front of the grocery, that he had made on wrapping paper with red chalk, which said: "Rotten eggs, good enough for custard pies, for eighteen cents a dozen."—Peck's Sun.

PROFIT IN BEER.

A new kind of beer has recently been introduced into the Austin saloons. A few days ago, the agent for the new beer went to an Austin saloon keeper and asked him:

"How do you like our new beer?"

"First rate. I like it better than any beer I have ever sold."

"I am glad to hear it. Don't you want to increase your order?"

"Oh, no," was the saloon keeper's response; "you see, the customer who orders a glass of it just tastes it, and then goes away and leaves it. As soon as he has left, I pour it back into the barrel, and it does for the next customer. There is more money in your beer than in any other beer in the market. I can sell the same glass of beer ten or fifteen times a day, but, of course, not to the same man."

PAPER RAILROAD TRACKS.

Steel manufacturers are anxiously awaiting the result of a trial of paper rails to be made for a prominent Western road. Car wheels of this material have long been in use and are reported to give satisfaction. The rails are said to be made wholly of paper pulp subjected to a pressure which renders it solid as metal. It is claimed that the paper rails are not affected by atmospheric changes, that they are more durable than steel, and that they can be manufactured at one-third less cost than those of steel.

SYMPATHETIC GEMS.

It is an old superstition that each month has a symbol in a certain gem which denotes the qualities to be expected of people born in the respective months. The following are the stones with their attributes, which are appropriate birthday gifts for the twelve months:

January—Garnet; fidelity.

February—Ametyst; self control.

March—Bloodstone; courage and discretion.

April—Sapphire or diamond; repentance and innocence.

May—Emerald; happiness.

June—Agate; long life and health.

July—Ruby; oblivion and grief.

August—Sardonyx; conjugal felicity.

September—Chrysolite; preservative from folly.

October—Aqua-marine; misfortune; also, opal; hope.

November—Topaz; friendship.

December—Turquoise; success.

SOME FIRST THINGS.

The first lucifer match was made in 1798, and the wind rose to a gale the instant it was scratched.

The first horse railroad was started in 1826, and the conductors had forty-five years the start of the bell-punch.

The first newspaper advertisement appeared in 1652, and it has taken just 231 years to convince some business men that it is a good investment.

The first temperance society in this country was organized at Saratoga in 1826. The opposition secured a foothold in 1492.

Glass windows were introduced in England in the eighth century. The little boys of the seventh century had no object in throwing stones at unoccupied buildings.

Kerosene was first used for illuminating in 1826. Its servant-girl blasting properties were discovered at five the next morning.

The first prize in a lottery scheme was never caught by a Plainfielder.

PROVERBIAL WISDOM.

Pay as you go.

Never fool in business matters.

Learn to think and act for yourself.

A tart temper seldom mellows with age.

Keep ahead rather than behind the times.

Don't stop and tell stories in business hours.

All good clothes come high except ball dresses.

The poorest borrower can always return thanks.

Use your own brains rather than those of others.

Have order, system, regularity and also promptness.

Do not meddle with business you know nothing of.

A man of honor respects his word as he does his bond.

How much easier it is to suggest than to perform?

Allow people to think as well of each other as they can.

No man can get rich by sitting around stores and saloons.

An unruly tongue is harder to control than a vicious horse.

If you can't keep your temper at least try to save your wind.

He who has the reputation of rising early may sleep till noon.

If you have a place of business, be found there when wanted.

A character that will not defend itself is rarely worth defending.

You should ask the world's leave before you commend yourself.

A friend should bear with a friend's infirmities, but not his vices.

Gold is either the fortune or the ruin of mankind, according to its use.

The tradesman who skins his customers can afford to sealskin his wife.

In conversation, humor is more than wit, easiness more than knowledge.

Poverty may excuse a shabby coat, but it is no excuse for shabby morals.

There are more people who can forget themselves, than govern themselves.

Santa Claus can fill more Sunday school seats than any other man on the job.

There are more fools than sages; and among the sages more folly than wisdom.

The light of friendship, like phosphorus, is seen most plainly when all around is dark.

'Pa,' said a little fellow to his unshaved father, 'your chin looks like the wheel of a music box, now.'

A law student once defined libel as "something a man says and afterwards wishes to goodness he hadn't."

Did it ever occur to you that the band usually stops playing just after you have opened the window, knocked down a shutter, and destroyed a lace curtain or two in endeavoring to hear it more plainly.

A religious book from Switzerland was seized in the foreign mail recently. It had a thick leather binding, and in about the middle of the inside of one of the covers, a diamond ring, valued at $150, was found imbedded in a neatly cut space, so that the book when closed excited no suspicion.

FRENCH IDEA OF WOMEN.

Women have no worse enemies than women.

Woman conceals only what she does not know.

One must be a woman to know how to revenge.

Woman is more constant in hatred than in love.

Most women curse sin before embracing penitence.

Women who have not fine teeth only laugh with their eyes.

Friendship between women is only a suspension of hostilities.

When woman is no longer attractive she ceases to be inconstant.

Women ask if men are discreet, as men ask if women are pretty.

The most chaste woman may be the most voluptuous, if she loves.

Women never weep more bitterly than when they weep for spite.

When a woman cannot be revenged, they do as all children do; they cry.

A woman and her servant acting in accord, would outwit a dozen devils.

A woman gives the audacity which her beauty prompts us to be guilty of.

Women like balls and assemblies as a hunter likes a place where game abounds.

FARMER JONES' MAXIMS.

Be not the first to quarrel with a friend.

If you desire to know, do not fear to ask.

Honest loss is preferable to shameful gain.

Frugality provides an easy chair for old age.

We seldom repent of having eaten too little.

Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.

Never spend your money before you have it.

If you are in debt, somebody owns part of you.

An ill servant will never be a good master.

Trust not the man who promises with an oath.

Always look on the bright side of everything.

A true man will not swerve from the path of duty.

Bustle is not industry, nor is impudence courage.

Desperate diseases must have desperate remedies.

Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.

Walk swiftly from temptation, or it may overtake you.

Self-denial and patience are sure to meet their reward.

Past services should not be forgotten by the recipient.

Perseverance is the bridge by which difficulty is overcome.

Imitate the industry of the ant and the frugality of the bee.

Never open the door to a little vice, lest a great one come in.

People swear because they know their words are worthless.

Morning for work, evening for thought and night for repose.

Time is the most precious of all possessions, but least thought of.

Cherish no unkind or revengeful feelings toward thy neighbor.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

A Chest protector—a padlock.

Zo's can't see without his spect.

A model building—The Patent Office.

To get a few flowers one must sow plenty of seed.

Money, in truth, can do much, but it cannot do all.

The man who lends his influence rarely gets it back.

Inordinate demands should be met with bold denials.

A loving heart is better and stronger than wisdom.

There is no dungeon so dark and dismal as the mean man's mind.

That which is bitter to be endured may be sweet to be remembered.

Who is lavish with promises is apt to be penurious in performances.

Imputations, however unjust, sully, if they do not stain, a character.

The cheapest advice is that which costs nothing, and is worth nothing.

There are no oaths that make so many perjurers as the vows of love.

Don't believe half you hear, but make sure that you believe all you say.

A Christian should show his religion over a counter as well as at an altar.

What piece of carpentry becomes a gem as soon as it is finished? A-gate.

Why are women like churches? Because there's no living without them.

All men are liberal, some to those who are in need, and others to themselves.

Inquire:—What is the extreme penalty for bigamy? Two mother-in-laws'.

An apt quotation is like a map which flings its light over the whole sentence.

Love mocks all sorrows but its own, and damps each joy he does no yield.

If you have a secret, confide it to a stingy man. He never gives anything away.

Many a man has a genuine faith who never in his life denied or doubted the gospel.

"Raindrops on the roof." Of course it drops on the roof. That's what the roof is for.

With patience sour grapes becomes sweetmeats, and mulberry leaves turn to satin.

What is charitably forgiven will be recompensed as well as what we charitably give.

The Spartan mother when she gave her son his shield said: "With it my son or upon it."

To educate the mind and let manners and heart run wild, curses humanity with mildew.

"The parting gives me pain," as the man said when he had a troublesome tooth extracted.

Why is a pig with a twisted tail like the ghost in Hamlet? Because it could a tail unfold.

In pocket-picking, as in almost everything else, a man never succeeds until he gets his hand in.

Cut the most agreeable acquaintance you possess when life convinces you that he lacks principle.

Language is the amber in which a thousand precious thoughts have been safely imbedded and preserved.

There are lying looks as well as lying words, dissembling smiles, deceiving signs, and even a lying silence.

"Do you believe in ghosts?" asked a lady of Coleridge. "No, madam," he replied. "I have seen too many."

A wit being asked, on the failure of a bank, "Were you not upset?" he replied, "No, I only lost my balance."

Exaggerated language, noisy protestations, violent censure, all betoken an element of weakness somewhere.

The man who enslaves himself to his money, is proclaimed in our very language to be a miser, or a miserable man.

BOYS, GO HOME.

Ah, boys! You have gone out into the rush and bustle of life, but do you ever think of the mothers that are stretching out to you arms that are powerless to draw you back to the old home nest, arms that were strong to carry you once, pressed to hearts that love you now as then? No matter whether your hair is silver streaked and Charley or Dolly in the cradle calls you grandpa, you are "the boy," so long as mother lives. You are children of the old home. Nothing can crowd you out of your mother's heart. You may have failed in the battle of life, and your manhood may have been crushed out against the wall of circumstances; you may have been prosperous, gained wealth and fame, but mother's love has followed you always. Many a boy has not been home for months and years, and all this time has been waiting. Oh! who does not know the agony expressed by that word? She may be even now, saying, "I dreamed of my boy last night, maybe he will come home to-day, he may drop in for supper," and the poor, trembling hands prepared some favorite dish for him. Supper comes and goes, but her boy comes not with it. Thus day after day, month after month, year after year, perhaps many years may pass; till, at last, "hope deferred, maketh the heart sick," ay, sick unto death, and the arms are stretched out no longer. The dim eyes are closed, the gray hair smoothed for the last time and the tired hands are folded for everlasting rest. The mother waits on earth no longer for one who comes not. God grant that she may not in vain wait for his coming in the heavenly home. Once more we say to you, "boys, go home." If only for a day. Let mother know you have not forgotten her. Her days may be numbered; next winter may cover her grave with snow.

There is no singular to the word alms, to show a single act of money-giving does not merit the name of charity.

The more an idea is developed the more concise becomes its expression; the more a tree is pruned, the better the fruit.

Whatever you owe you ought to pay promptly and cheerfully, except, perhaps, a grudge, and that you had better continue to owe.

Midas longed for gold. He got gold so that whatever he touched became gold, and he with his long ears was little the better for it.

The devil tempts men through their ambition, their cupidity, or their appetite, until he comes to the profane swearer whom he catches without any reward.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Over 5000 Druggists AND Physicians

Have Signed or Endorsed the Following Remarkable Document:

Messrs. Seabury & Johnson, Manufacturing Chemists, 21 Platt St., New York:

Gentlemen:—For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are superior to all other Porous Plasters or Liniments for external use.

Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine Pharmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognized by physicians and druggists.

When other remedies fail get a Benson's Capcine Plaster.

You will be disappointed if you use cheap Plasters, Liniments, Pads or Electrical Magnetic toys.

A SURE REMEDY AT LAST. Price 25cts. MEAD'S Medicated CORN and BUNION PLASTER.

ISAAC BROKAW,
Real Estate Agent!
18 DUER ST., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
Houses Rented and Collections Made and prompt returns.

To Rent—Several houses in North Plainfield; location desirable and rent reasonable.
For Sale—Dwellings and Farms, from $1,000 to $20,000

J. N. SCHENCK,
-Practical Machinist!-
RACE STREET, NORTH PLAINFIELD.

To those contemplating putting steam in dwellings, I would state that I am manufacturing a

Sectional Safety Boiler

for such purposes, which far exceeds any of my previous attempts. I have one in my own dwelling which I will be pleased to show to all calling.

Machinery of Every Description Made to Order. Repairing Promptly Done.

Coal. Coal. Coal.
FINTIN HIBBITS
Respectfully informs the public of Plainfield and vicinity that he is prepared to supply the best
Lehigh Valley Coal,
of all kinds, by the CAR or TON, at the Lowest Market Prices!
The above coal is all shipped to South Plainfield by the Packer R. R.
Orders sent by mail, BOX 1,196, will be promptly attended to, or No. 18 LIBERTY ST., PLAINFIELD.

Park Avenue Bakery
JOHN WALKER. Prop'r
FAMILIES and HOTELS supplied with the Celebrated
VIENNA BREAD & ROLLS,
And all Varieties of
Pies, Cake and Confectionery.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
JUST RECEIVED—CELEBRATED
SUSSEX CO. BUCKWHEAT FLOUR
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

Invalids who are recovering vital stamina, declare in grateful terms their appreciation of the merits as a tonic, of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Not only does it impart strength to the weak, but it also corrects an irregular acid state of the stomach, makes the bowels act at proper intervals, gives ease to those who suffer from rheumatic and kidney troubles, and conquers as well as prevents fever and ague. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

R. R. Fairchild.
Furniture! Furniture!
SOMERSET STREET, OPP. FRENCH'S MILLS.
A LARGE LINE OF PARLOR SUITES!
Bed-room Suites,
IN ASH AND WALNUT.
Cottage Suites,
IN A VARIETY OF COLORS.
Bed Lounges,
AS LOW AS $7.50.
WALNUT AND ASH EXTENSION TABLES.
Mattrasses and Spring Beds,
OF ALL KINDS.
Come to Fairchild's,
AND BUY YOUR FURNITURE.

GREEN & CO.
18 West Front Street.
Parlor Novelties!

The following Styles are our "Latest" and will upon examination be found the most attractive and choice goods offered this season.

THE "Sutherland"

A solid Rosewood Suit, beautifully carved, composed of six pieces, each different, but forming a beautiful group.

THE "Egyptian"

Also a Group Suite, in Rosewood or Ebony. In a perfect "Gem." The ornamentation truly Egyptian and very artistic.

THE "Rockingham"

In Mahogany or Ebony: tailoring both to comfort and elegance, this is a commendable suite.

THE "Chippendale"

We show four suites on this order, all in old Mahogany. This line is best adapted for odd pieces. We display a full line of "Antique" coverings, specially imported for these frames.

The "NORFOLK," "DOVER," "KENSINGTON," "SYDENHAM," "PARIS," "AMICUS," and "LONDON," are all beauties, designated and executed by one of our most skilled designers. In contact and we delight in displaying his full line in our Warerooms.

Hundreds of ODD, EASY and RECEPTION CHAIRS, in endless variety.

INSPECTION INVITED.

O. M. DUNHAM,
Merchant Tailor,
No. 44 W. FRONT ST.,
[Next to Laing's Hotel.]
Also, Agent for the
Staten Island Dyeing Establishment.

LIVERY.

Change of Proprietorship!

New Livery!

Having assumed control of the well-known LIVERY ESTABLISHMENT, cor. Park Avenue and Second St., the undersigned desires to solicit a continuance of the patronage of the same.

New Stock and Material

Have been added to the establishment, such as LANDAUS, PHAETONS, SIDE-BAR AND TOP BUGGIES, &c., of the LATEST MAKE and STYLE, and other new material will constantly be added.

The people of Plainfield are invited to call and examine the stock for themselves.
Yours, Very Respectfully,
J. G. Cadmus.

LIVERY STABLES!
Mr. D. S. ROBERTS,
(Of the late firm of Roberts & Cadmus,)

Takes this opportunity to inform his friends and patrons that he has purchased the stock and leased the premises of the well-known liveryman, Mr. John W. Ewing, who for the past many years has so satisfactorily conducted the business on

FRONT STREET.

Adjoining Laing's Hotel. Mr. Roberts will always be found ready and able to answer demands for all kinds of turn-outs at short notice, and hopes for a continuance of past favors. The boarding and care of horses a specialty.

Mansion House Stables.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALBERT HEDDEN, Prop'r.
Horses and Carriages to let on reasonable terms.
Office on SECOND ST., next to the Mansion House.

PROSPECT HILL FARM
BOARDING STABLES.
HORSES TAKEN TO BOARD
On the most reasonable terms. [illegible]
ESTABLISHED 1864. P. S. [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. [illegible] Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by Postal, P. O. Box [illegible], or left at Willett's Shoe Store, No. 6 Park Avenue, will receive prompt attention. [illegible]

NOTICE!
The Books of the Overseer of the Poor will be found at the Office,
No. 22 PARK AVE.
A. VANDERBEEK
C. O. A.

R. W. MAHAFFEE'S
EXPRESS.
Furniture & Goods Removed
And all kinds of EXPRESS WORK carefully attended to with PROMPTNESS and DISPATCH.
Orders left at Rushmore's Shoe Front Market, Park avenue, opp. North avenue.

TWENTY
Years experience in the business.
SECOND STREET, 2 doors above Peace street.

Mr. JOHN H. STEVENS, Horse-shoer, gives particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Stumbling and Interfering Horses. Speedy Cutters stopped in an incredibly short space of time. Horses with diseased feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

HEMORRHOID OR PILES
Permanently Cured,
IN TWO TO FOUR WEEKS, WITHOUT KNIFE, LIGATURE, CAUSTIC OR CARBOLIC ACID.
Or money refunded. Also Ulcers, Fistula and Fissures, cured without knife. I have opened an office at LAING'S HOTEL, Plainfield, New Jersey, where I will be in attendance on TUESDAY, MARCH 6TH.
TUESDAY, MARCH 20TH.
From 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. My treatment is that known as Dr. A. W. Brinkerhoff's system of treating rectal diseases. This is not the painful Carbolic Acid treatment. Any one wishing to be treated at their homes can do so by sending name and address. Send for circulars with some of the best citizens of Trenton and Lambertville as references. Any further information cheerfully given at my office or by mail. Charges always moderate. R. REED, M.D., 126 South 13th St., Philadelphia, Penn.

For Sale or To Let.
A
Very Desirable Residence,
—ON—
WEST SEVENTH ST.,
(UNION AVENUE.)
House contains 12 large rooms, and modern improvements. One acre of ground, large barn, nursery, &c. For particulars address,
J. W. JOHNSON,
27 East Seventh street, bet. [illegible] Broadway.

The A. Saltzman Watch

CHAUX-DE-FONDS.
1879
MEDAL
BRONZE

Ask your Jeweler for it Before Purchasing any other.

WM. C. SMITH,
Mason and Builder,
MANNING AVENUE,
First brick house on the right hand side from Somerset Street,
North Plainfield, N. J.
Jobbing Promptly Attended to. Special attention given to Kalsomining.
Orders may be sent to residence or by mail.

SPEER'S
PORT. GRAPE WINE
Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes.
Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Speer's Port Grape Wine
FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED NATIVE WINE is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable Tonic and Strengthening Properties are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

SPEER'S
P. J. Sherry.
The P. J. SHERRY is a wine of Superior Character, and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made. For Purity, Richness, Flavor and Medicinal Properties, it will be found unexcelled.

SPEER'S
P. J. Brandy.
This BRANDY stands unrivalled in this country, being far superior for medicinal purposes.
IT IS A PURE distillation from the grape, and contains valuable medicinal properties.
It has a delicate flavor, similar to that of the grapes, from which it is distilled, and is in great favor among first-class families.
See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle.
Sold by all Druggists.

Washington Valley
PURE SPRING WATER
ICE. ICE. ICE.
SIMPSON & CO.,
Beg respectfully to inform their patrons and public of Plainfield generally that they are prepared to supply the FINEST QUALITY OF ICE IN THE TRADE.
Wholesale Trade Made a Specialty.
Families will see the propriety of using only Pure Spring Water Ice.
Orders received at John Walker's Bakery, also at 100 West Front St., or P. O. Box [illegible], will receive prompt attention.
SIMPSON & CO. have a large lot of Arbor Vitae, Norway Spruce and Maple trees for sale.
They are also prepared to supply Masons or others with Roseland Mountain Quarry Stone, at the lowest prices.
GRADING & CONTRACTING
In all its Branches.

INSURANCE.

EDWARD C. MULFORD,
Real Estate & Insurance Agent,
OFFICE—East Room, Central R. R. Depot.
RESIDENCE—60 East 5th Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale, Rent or Exchange.
Authorized Agent for the following Fire Insurance Companies:
NORTH AMERICA, of Phila. Assets, January 1st, 1883, [illegible]
PHOENIX ASSURANCE CO., of London, Assets, [illegible]
Several Bargains in REAL ESTATE.
MONEY WANTED on FIRST MORTGAGE.

POPE'S
Life and Fire Insurance Agency.
Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage, and Money invested on Bond and Mortgage for other Parties. Government BONDS Bought and Sold.
FIRST and CITY NATIONAL BANK STOCK for sale in quantities to suit purchasers.
Office over City National Bank.
FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
JAMES C. POPE. ELIAS R. POPE.

FIRE INSURANCE!
The undersigned having been appointed agent for the
Star and Merchants
Fire Insurance Co's of the
City of New York,
are prepared to furnish substantial indemnity against loss by Fire and solicit applications from the citizens of Plainfield and vicinity.
NATHAN HARPER

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. W. FORCE
Is Selling WINTER
Boots & Shoes
At VERY LOW PRICES!
11 W. FRONT ST., PLAINFIELD.

Alex. Willett,
DEALER IN
BOOTS & SHOES,
No. 6 PARK AVENUE.
A full assortment of desirable goods direct from Manufacturers, at LOW FIGURES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Cooking Stoves
and Ranges.
(Call and see the "OTHELLO" Range.)
HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
Iron, Tin and Wooden Ware.
Agricultural Implements
Of all Kinds, CHEAP.
Super-Phosphates and Bone.
NEW YORK PLOWS,
Also,
The South Bend Chilled Plow,
BEST IN THE WORLD. Superior to all others for LIGHT DRAUGHT and DURABILITY. The attention of FARMERS is particularly called to examine the VERY BEST PLOW IN USE, at
No. 16 EAST FRONT ST.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
C. O. Meeker & Co.
All the above Cheap for Cash.

LEGAL NOTICES.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of Elizabeth [illegible] deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.
LEWIS W. [illegible].
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscribers, Executors of Charles H. Stillman, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the county of Union on Wednesday the twenty-first day of March next.
MARY E. STILLMAN.
JARED E. MYERS.
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between Bennet Britton, complainant, and Josephine Stillger, et. als., defendants.—Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ fieri facias, to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE ELEVENTH DAY OF APRIL, A. D. 1883,

At 2 o'clock P. M. of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of Westfield, in the county of Union, and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at a point in the southerly side of North avenue one hundred and fifty (150) feet easterly from the southeasterly corner of Westfield avenue and North avenue; thence easterly along North avenue fifty (50) feet; thence southerly at right angles with North avenue one hundred and fifty (150) feet; thence westerly parallel with North avenue fifty (50) feet to a stake and corner of land now or late of Ebenezer Conklin; thence northerly in a direction at right angles with North avenue and along side Conklin's line one hundred and fifty (150) feet to the place of beginning.

THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.
Van Winkle & Munson, sol's.
Fees $7.50

MASTER'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—By virtue of an execution issued out of the Court of Chancery on the 20th day of January, A. D., 1883, directed to me, in cause wherein Erwin Davis is complainant and Jennie M. Flagg and others are defendants, I shall offer for sale at public auction, at the Court House in the County of Union, on WEDNESDAY THE FOURTH DAY OF APRIL NEXT, 1883.

At the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all the following described tract or parcel of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the township of Westfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at a point at the intersection of the middle line of Kent Place Boulevard, with the middle line of Kent Place Avenue, [illegible]

WILLIAM PATERSON,
Master of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey.
C. A. & R. W. Parker, Sol'rs.
Fees [illegible]

RAILROADS.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Stations in New York foot of Liberty street. In Brooklyn—Jewell's Wharf, foot of Fulton street.

Arrangement. Commencing Jan. 29, 1883.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave New York from foot of Liberty Street, [illegible]

For Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City.

Connections made at Jersey City Station to and from Brooklyn and Erie Depot, Jersey City, by boats of the "Brooklyn and Erie Annex."

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Newark—[illegible]

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Somerville [illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Easton [illegible]

In addition, a train leaves Phillipsburg DAILY 4.00 P. M.

Westward Connections

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

7.40 a. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, [illegible], Drifton, Upper Lehigh, Scranton, &c.

9.50 a. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Williamsport, Tamaqua, Nanticoke, Upper Lehigh, Scranton, &c.

2.00 p. m.—For Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, &c.

4.37 p. m.—For Easton, Wind Gap, Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Drifton, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, &c.

5.34 p. m.—For Flemington, High Bridge Branch, Schooley's Mountain, Easton, &c.

5.51 p. m.—For Somerville, Flemington, &c.

6.38 p. m.—For Easton, Allentown, Reading, Harrisburg, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, &c.

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Plainfield [illegible] for Freehold and Keyport.

New York & Philadelphia-New Line.

BOUND BROOK ROUTE.

Leave Plainfield for Philadelphia for Ninth and Green Sts., [illegible]

For Third & Berks Sts., [illegible]

Leave Plainfield for Trenton [illegible]

RETURNING.

Leave Phila. Station Phila. & Reading Railroad 9th & Green Sts., [illegible]

From Third and Berks Sts., [illegible]

Leave Trenton, Warren and Tucker Streets, [illegible]

Plainfield passengers by trains marked * change cars at Bound Brook.

H. P. BALDWIN, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
W. W. STEARNS, Gen'l Superintendent.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between Mercy Ann Hall, complainant, and [illegible], et als., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF OF MARCH, A. D. 1883,

At two o'clock P. M. of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of Springfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at the middle of the road at the north-east corner of a lane formerly belonging to Daniel Sutphen; thence running north fifty-seven degrees west along said road five chains and eighty links to the northeast corner of land belonging to the heirs of Robert Crossman, deceased; thence along said land south fourteen degrees west twelve chains and ninety links; thence south seventy-two degrees and thirty minutes east four chains and ninety links; thence north seventy degrees and twenty-three minutes east eight chains and eighty-eight links; thence north sixteen degrees east two chains and forty-five links to the beginning; containing seven (7) acres be the same more or less.

Being the same land and premises conveyed to the said Mary [illegible] by Christina K. Martling and Stephen H. Martling, her husband, by deed dated November 20, A. D. 1874, and recorded in Union County Clerk's office, in Book 61 of Deeds, pages [illegible], &c.

THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.
Willard P. Voorhees, Sol.
Fees $7.50

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, dated January [illegible] A. D. 1883, the subscriber, Administrator of [illegible], deceased, will expose for sale at public vendue, on the premises, in the city of Plainfield, county of Union, and State of New Jersey, on

MONDAY THE TWELFTH DAY OF MARCH NEXT.

At two o'clock in the afternoon, the following described land and premises, viz: situate, lying and being on the northerly side of Front street, in the city of Plainfield, county of Union and State of New Jersey:

Beginning at a stone in the stage road or Main street, Plainfield, and corner of lands of E. L. Sheppard's heirs; thence along said road north [illegible] degrees east seventy-seven links to a stone in the road and corner of [illegible] and Daniel B. Lee's land; thence with their line north [illegible] degrees west two (2) chains twenty-seven and one half links to a stone; thence south [illegible] degrees west seventy-four links to a stone in the line of lands of the aforesaid E. L. Sheppard's heirs; thence with their line south [illegible] degrees east two chains twenty-seven and one-half links to the place of beginning, containing seventeen hundredths of an acre of land, more or less.

THEODORE M. FRENCH,
Administrator.
Dated Jan. 3, 1883.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Dec. 4th, 1882.

Joseph T. Vail, Administrator of John Burke, deceased.

On application of the above named Administrator, it is ordered that said Administrator give public notice to the creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this order, within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist for the same space of time, and, if any creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said administrator.

By JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors

Union County, Surrogate's Office, Jan. 4th, 1883.

Andrew J. [illegible], the Executor of Jonathan [illegible] deceased.

On application of the above named Executor it is ordered that said Executor give public notice to the creditors of the said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order within twenty days hereafter, in five of the most public places in the county of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Executor.

By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

EXECUTOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is Hereby Given, That the account of the subscriber, Executor of NATHAN ROGERS, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union on Wednesday, the twenty-first day of March next.

ELIAS R. POPE.
Dated Jan. 9th, 1883.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—Union county Circuit court. [illegible] defendants. Fi. fa. de bonis et terris.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF MARCH, A. D., 1883,

at two o'clock, p. m., of said day, all the right, title and interest of the above-named defendants in and to all that tract or parcel of land and premises, hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of Westfield, county of Union and State of New Jersey.

[illegible]

THOMAS FORSYTH, Sheriff.
[illegible] English, Attorneys.
Fees [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

JAMES K. ARNOLD,
GROCER,
Corner Somerset and Chatham Sts., North Plainfield.

Furnaces and Ranges,
STOVES, PUMPS, SINKS,
Gas Fixtures, Etc,
TIN, COPPER AND SHEET IRON WORKER.
Tin Roofing and Jobbing!
Also, Repairing of Furnaces and Ranges in all their branches.
Apply to
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 8 North avenue, Plainfield.

A MAN
WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y
By the central position of its line, connects the East and the West by the shortest route, and carries passengers, without change of cars, between Chicago and Kansas City, Council Bluffs, Leavenworth, Atchison, Minneapolis and St. Paul. [illegible]
"ALBERT LEA ROUTE."
A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened between [illegible]
All Through Passengers Travel on Fast Express Trains.
Tickets for sale at all principal Ticket Offices in the United States and Canada.
Baggage checked through and rates of fare always as low as competitors that offer less advantages.
For detailed information, get the Maps and Folders of the
GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,
At your nearest Ticket Office, or address
R. R. CABLE, Vice-Pres. & Gen'l M'g'r.
E. ST. JOHN, Gen'l Tkt. & Pass. Ag't.
CHICAGO.

D. M. FERRY & CO'S
SEED ANNUAL FOR 1883.
[illegible]
D. M. FERRY & CO. DETROIT MICH.

COLEMAN
Business
COLLEGE, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY.
20 minutes of New York. Positions for all worthy graduates. Life scholarship, $40. Write for circulars. COLEMAN & PALMS, Proprietors.

FREE [illegible]

PURE INDIA TEAS
From the Districts of ASSAM, CHITTAGONG, CACHAR, KANGRA VALLEY, DARJEELING, DEHRA, DOON, and others. Absolutely Pure. Superior in Flavor. The Most Economical. Requires only half the usual quantity. Sold by all Grocers. JOHN C. PHILLIPS & CO., Agents of the Calcutta Tea Syndicate, 130 Water St., N. Y.

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM.

This elegant dressing is preferred by those who have used it, to any similar article, on account of its superior cleanliness and purity. It contains materials only that are beneficial to the scalp and hair and always
Restores the Youthful Color to Grey or Faded Hair
Parker's Hair Balsam is finely perfumed and is warranted to prevent falling of the hair and to remove dandruff and itching. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.
50c. and $1 sizes, at dealers in drugs and medicines.

PARKER'S
GINGER TONIC
A Superlative Health and Strength Restorer.
If you are a mechanic or farmer, worn out with overwork, or a mother run down by family or household duties try PARKER'S GINGER TONIC.
If you are a lawyer, minister or business man exhausted by mental strain or anxious cares, do not take intoxicating stimulants, but use Parker's Ginger Tonic.
If you have Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, or any disorder of the lungs, stomach, bowels, blood or nerves, PARKER'S GINGER TONIC will cure you. It is the Greatest Blood Purifier
And the Best and Surest Cough Cure Ever Used.
If you are wasting away from age, dissipation or any disease or weakness and require a stimulant take GINGER TONIC at once; it will invigorate and build you up from the first dose but will never intoxicate. It has saved hundreds of lives; it may save yours.
CAUTION!—Refuse all substitutes. [illegible]
GREAT SAVING BUYING DOLLAR SIZE.

FLORESTON
Its rich and lasting fragrance has made this delightful perfume exceedingly popular. There is nothing like it. Insist upon having FLORESTON COLOGNE and look for signature of Hiscox & Co.
on every bottle. Any druggist or dealer in perfumery can supply you. 25 and 75 cent sizes.
LARGE SAVING BUYING 75c. SIZE.
COLOGNE.

THE DINGEE & CONARD CO'S
BEAUTIFUL EVER-BLOOMING
ROSES
The only establishment making a SPECIAL BUSINESS OF ROSES. [illegible]
THE DINGEE & CONARD CO.
Rose Growers, West Grove, Chester Co., Pa.

Peter Henderson & Co's
COLLECTION OF
SEEDS PLANTS
[illegible] MANUAL
of EVERYTHING for the
GARDEN
[illegible]
Peter Henderson & Co.
35 & 37 Cortlandt St., New York.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
Editors and Proprietors,
Is Published Every Friday,
IN VANDERBEEK'S BLOCK,
("Chautauqua Building,")
Cor. Park & North Avenues,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
OFFICE—No. 2 NORTH AVENUE, First Floor adjoining Flagg's Hotel Building.
Terms—$2.00 a Year in advance.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION, WHICH IS THE CEMENT OF THE UNION, AS WELL IN ITS LIMITATIONS AS IN ITS AUTHORITIES."—MADISON.

VOL. XVI. PLAINFIELD. N. J., FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1883. No. 11.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

	WEEKS.			MONTHS.
SPACE	1	2	3	1	2	3	6	12
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Double-column ... per cent. advance of above rates.
One-half the advertisements inserted for one week at 10 cents each.
Net rates for all advertisements to be done here.

JOB PRINTING
Of every description at Low Cash Rates.

BUSINESS CARDS.

BRITTIN'S HOTEL,
SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
J. BRITTIN, - - Proprietor.
Accommodation for Man and Beast.

FRENCH BRO'S,
MERCHANT MILLERS,
and dealers in
FLOUR, FEED, COAL, HARD WOOD AND LUMBER,
No. ... Street, Plainfield, N. J.

JOHN CHANDLER,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Residence and Shop No. 36 East 3d St.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

GEORGE E. POUND,
Dealer in
Hides, Wools, Sheep Skins & Tallow.
For which a Cash Price will be paid at any time on delivery. Entrance on Front Street, opposite Masonic Hall.
Neats Foot Oil, Salt and Scraps, for sale Cheap only for Cash.

LUTKINS & HUMMER,
Dealers in
Butter, Eggs & Produce.
Meats of all Kinds.
FRUITS and VEGETABLES IN THEIR SEASON.
Cor. Park Ave. and Second St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods delivered to any part of the city.
A. LUTKINS. L. A. HUMMER.

Warnock's Bakery,
FRONT STREET.
ESTABLISHED, - - - 1852.
BREAD, CAKES, PIES, CONFECTIONERY, &c. made from the Best Materials. All orders will receive prompt attention.

EDWARD MAYNARD,
Practical Barber
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 5 NORTH AVENUE,
(Flagg's Hotel) PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, &c., satisfactorily performed.
MR. A. HILL, Assistant.

Mme. J. BERNARD,
ASTROLOGIST,
Residence—HARMONY St., NORTH PLAINFIELD.
5th house from Somerset St.—left hand side.
Information imparted as regards present and future events, likewise Marriages, Journeys, Lawsuits, &c. She converses in English, German and French.
Satisfaction guaranteed.
My husband is a FIRST-CLASS COOPER, and repairs tubs, pails, barrels, &c., cheap for cash.

JOHN RAFFERTY,
DRIVEN & DRILLED WELLS,
Office and Residence, 28 Park Ave.,
[NEAR SECOND STREET.]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CHARGES REASONABLE. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

Steam Marble
AND
Granite Works.
Monuments & Headstones,
Fencing for Cemetery Plots.
Large assortment of Slate Mantels.
A large variety of Granite Monuments.
All work executed in the most skilled manner and at very reasonable prices. All orders delivered and set up.
L. MANNING,
Front St., next to M. E. Ch., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Monuments erected in Greenwood Cemetery, N. Y.

L. A. RHEAUME,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Kindling and Stove Wood,
COAL,
Flour, Feed, Baled Hay,
Straw, &c.,
Peace St., Cor. Fourth St.
Also, dealer in Lumber. Hard Wood a specialty.
Orders left as above, or addressed to P. O. BOX 86, will receive prompt attention.

WM. H. SHOTWELL,
DEALER IN
Staple & Fancy Groceries,
PROVISIONS,
FLOUR, FEED, BUTTER, CHEESE, LARD, &c.
Also, the celebrated "TUBE ROSE FLOUR."
Duer & Emily Streets, North Plainfield, N. J.
I will be pleased to see my old customers and the public generally. All wagon orders received and delivered in the city and North Plainfield as usual.
All goods of the best quality and at the lowest prices.
Grateful for past favors I solicit a continuance of the same.

HENRY STRAUSS,
MANUFACTURER OF
MINERAL WATERS,
Soda, Sarsaparilla, Ginger Ale, Birch Beer, &c.,
No. 14 East Second Street,
Bet. Peace St. and Park Ave., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also Bottler of Porter, Champagne Cider, Philadelphia Ale and Adams Payn's Celebrated Weiss Beer.
I guarantee the Ginger Ale to be a fair imitation of the Celebrated Imported Belfast, and recommend it to all desiring a cooling and refreshing temperance drink.
Hotels, Saloons, Picnics, Excursions, families, &c., supplied at the lowest rates for first-class goods.

CHARLES M. RAYBERT,
PRACTICAL
Tin, Sheet-Iron & Copper Worker
NO. 16 NORTH AVE.,
No ... Building, Plainfield, N. J.
(P. O. Box, 390.)
Plumbing and Bell Hanging.
ELECTRIC CALL BELLS AND BURGLAR ALARMS, put in and Warranted.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

BERTON'S
Blood, Meat and Bone
SUPERPHOSPHATE,
And Special Manures,
FOR SALE BY
JOHN A. THICKSTUN,
Cor. 3d St. & Richmond Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Shepherd, Johnson & Godown,
STEAM MOULDING AND PLANING MILL.
... North Plainfield.
Hardwood ... a specialty. Contracts for all kinds of carpenter work completed. Estimates furnished. Address Plainfield Post-office.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, Weekly, Bazar and ... [illegible]

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

THE FINEST WHISKEY ever offered for sale in Plainfield can be had at E. P. THORN'S. All those wanting a pure and very old Whiskey for Family and Medicinal use are invited to test it.
Also, a very fine Ale at $1.25 per dozen.

Force's Hotel,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
James H. Force, Prop'r.
Finest Billiard Parlor in the City Attached.
Sole Agency for Ulman, Goldsborough & Forbes' Atlas, Wilson & Alcott Club Whiskies, Bottled Expressly for Family use. Also a full line of Acker, Merrall & Condit's Whiskies and Wines.

JAMES CONNEELY,
Wishes to inform the public generally that he has opened a first-class
WINE and LIQUOR ROOM,
AT NO. 32 PARK AVE.,
Where he will be pleased to furnish his friends and patrons with the choicest brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors.

Blatz's Hotel,
Cor. Somerset St. & Green Brook Road,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Having thoroughly renovated and remodeled the above premises, I would respectfully call the attention of the traveling public to the above house, and solicit a call.
A Fine Bowling Alley Attached.
The Bar is Stocked with the Choicest ALES, WINES, LIQUORS and SEGARS.
J. A. BLATZ, Proprietor.

ZIMMER'S SALOON,
No. 19 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
CHAS. ZIMMER, Prop'r.
Bar stocked with all brands of Imported and Domestic Liquors, Wines, Segars, &c.
Fresh Newark Lager on Tap at all times.
Lunch Every Morning from 9 to 12 o'clock.
Billiard Room,
Containing Collender's Celebrated Carom and Pool Tables.

SOMERSET HOUSE,
Cor. Somerset & Emily Sts., North Plainfield, N. J.
JOHN W. HUGHES, Prop'r.
Permanent and Transient Board, at fair rates.
First-class Stables and Sheds attached.
Meals at all (reasonable) hours.

SMITH'S
Lager Beer Saloon!
No. 4 West Front St.,
Chas. Smith, - - - Proprietor.
KREUGER'S EXTRA
Always on tap. Choice Ales, Wines, Liquors and Segars. Free lunch from 9 to 12 a. m.
The coolest and freshest tap in the city.

UNION
BILLIARD PARLOR,
BROAD AND EAST GRAND St.,
ELIZABETH, N. J.
LOUIS SCHWARTZ, - MANAGER.
These rooms have been entirely renovated and refurnished throughout and supplied with six new and latest improved Delaney Billiard Tables.
These rooms will be found a pleasant place to spend a leisure hour.

HOPKINS & ALLEN,
The Union Wine Rooms.
IMPORTED WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
N. E. Corner Liberty and West streets, N. Y.
BRANCH HOUSE, NO. 7 EXCHANGE PLACE,
FIVE DOORS WEST FERRY, JERSEY CITY.

Gustave Sutterlin's
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Green Brook Avenue,
Between Duer and Somerset streets, North Plainfield. P. O. Box 1029. Families supplied with pure Beer. All orders left at Force's Hotel supplied. Post-office delivered free of charge.

WESTFIELD HOTEL,
Westfield, N. J.,
HART MOORE. SAMUEL GODSHALK,
Proprietors.
The Hotel has recently been thoroughly renovated and re-furnished in a handsome manner, and a call from the traveling public is solicited.
A Fine Livery is attached to the House.

TEMPERANCE
BILLIARD & POOL ROOM,
43 West Front Street,
Plainfield, N. J.
G. P. SMITH, Proprietor.
Brunswick, Balke & Co., Celebrated Pool and Carom tables.
Nothing but temperance drinks, such as Lemonade, Sarsaparilla, Soda Water, &c., also segars. Stimulants ... the Bar.
Orders taken and executed for painting the roads with signs of ... paint.

HENRY HAURAND,
(Successor to Fred. Cooper).
Beer Bottling Establishment,
Somerset street, North Plainfield, N. J.
P. O. Box, 1291.
Fine Lager Beer Bottled
Expressly for Family use.
All orders delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

EDUCATIONAL & MUSICAL.

THE PEOPLE OF PLAINFIELD
ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT THE
Plainfield Academy for Boys,
Seventh street, inspect the new building, and see the working of the school.
GERMAN, Natural Method, Daily at 10 a. m.
TERMS—Per annum, all departments including German and French ... $100
Elementary Department, without German and French ... 80
Primary Department, without German and French ... 40
Pupils received at any time, and charged from date of admission.
Classes in German and French for ladies and gentlemen, by the Natural Method, meet in the afternoon and evening.
Principals—James Lyon, J. C. Lewinsky, Ph. D. (of Berlin University). With experienced assistants.
For information apply at the Academy, or address Lock Box 773.

Craig Place School.
For Young Ladies & Children.
Mrs. AUSTIN, - - - Principal.
CRAIG PLACE, bet. Somerset & Grove Sts.,
NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Highest English branches taught. Special attention given to the Primary Department. For terms, &c., apply to Principal.

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

H. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Tobacco.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & Domestic
SEGARS!!
No. 28 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

JOHN N. STEINER,
MANUFACTURER OF
SEGARS!
No. 11 PARK AVENUE.
Constantly on hand a large assortment of
Segars, Smoking & Chewing Tobacco, Snuffs, Pipes, &c.
Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

MILLINERY.

MRS. P. DUNN,
HAS THE LATEST STYLES OF
Millinery, Bonnets, Hats, Ect.
BLEACHING AND PRESSING Done at short notice. Feathers curled and Dyed. Pinking done. A large assortment of Hair, Braids, Switches and Curls. Particular attention paid to selecting Hair to suit customers. Hosiery, Gloves, Corsets, etc. Also, Fancy and Dress Goods.
14 West Front street.

MRS. L. ADAMS,
Fashionable Millinery
AND FANCY GOODS.
Mourning Goods a Specialty.
Ladies' own Material made up.
NO. 46 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD.
Late with Mme. Donne, 949 Broadway, N. Y.

Mrs. C. M. FINE,
Private Millinery,
Dr. Silliman's Old Residence,
FRONT STREET.
Thankful for past favors a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

MISCELLANEOUS.

CAREY'S
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE, NO. 45 WEST FRONT STREET.
Nearly opposite Laing's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.
Having leased the above premises I am prepared to buy and sell second-hand Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, etc. I will also take Furniture in exchange for moving. Furniture, etc., stored. P. O. Box, 491.

CHAS. GEISE'S
:R:E:S:T:A:U:R:A:N:T:
And Ladies and Gent's
DINING ROOMS!
16 E. Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Rooms set apart for Ladies. Meals at all hours. Oysters in every style.

Accommodation Express.
PETER RICKERT, Prop'r, OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Rooms, Cor. Cherry St., and North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J. The Accommodation Express will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering Goods or Baggage to and from the Depot, or from place to place. Moving of Furniture, Pianos, &c., without and safety. Prompt attention given to all orders.

I. S. MELBOURN,
Mason and Builder,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,
Residence—71 Park Avenue.
P. O. BOX 300.
Mason Jobbing & Kalsomining!
A SPECIALTY.
All orders will receive prompt attention.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
ADDRESS— ... Front St., Plainfield, N. J.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPPLIES

ESTABLISHED 1836.
G. F. & C. E. BROWN,
FINE WALL PAPER,
INTERIOR DECORATIONS,
WINDOW SHADES, DRAPERIES,

LACE & HEAVY CURTAINS,
ETC. ETC.
321 Canal Street, New York.
(Telephone Call—Spring 454.)
GEO. F. BROWN, Plainfield, P. O. BOX 1898.

NEW STYLES
WALLPAPERS!
WINDOW SHADES,
FIXTURES,
ARTIST COLORS, Etc.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

WALL PAPERS,
-Cheap and Elegant.-
F. W. Devoe's Mixed Paints.
ARTIST'S GOODS
AT
H. S. BARNES,
No. 4 East Front Street,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

E. C. Morse,
PRACTICAL PAINTER,
WASHINGTON ST.,
Between Front and 2d Sts., PLAINFIELD, N. J.
P. O. BOX, 369.
Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, Kalsomining and Sign Writing,
in all their branches.
Satisfaction Guaranteed on all Work.

WEAVER BROS.
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTING,
Graining, Paper Hanging and Kalsomining a Specialty. Orders left at H. S. Barnes', No. 4 E. Front St.
P. O. BOX, 381.
D. WEAVER. F. WEAVER.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

MISS MAMIE KUNKEL,
(Of Baltimore Maryland.)
The Young American Prima Donna,
WILL APPEAR IN PLAINFIELD.
During the ensuing Spring for the benefit of a Roman Catholic Charity.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH'S
Classes for Dancing & Deportment,
AT SEMINARY HALL.
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS FROM ...
Dodworth's New Lancers and New Waltz-Caprice—will be taught during the season.
Plainfield, New Jersey, Sept. 1882.

BUTCHERS.

George Feller,
(Successor to Geo. Wallis)
No. 9 Somerset St.
BUTCHER,
and dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats of the Finest Quality, at the prices consistent with the times. I will endeavor to please all who favor me with their patronage.

LEWIS & CO.,
Butchers!!
AND DEALERS IN
Beef, Mutton, Pork, Poultry, Sausage, Hams, Bologna, Head Cheese and Mince Meat.
Park Avenue,
[AT THE OLD STAND,]
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

JOHN E. CLANE, Assembly Parlor, Bars, ... [illegible]

POETRY.

MANY YEARS AGO.

By the lake beyond the meadow,
Where the lilies blow,
As the young moon dipped and drifted
The reflected bow,
Lived and died a dream of beauty
Many years ago.

Something made the [illegible] blossoms
Seem whiter grow;
Something gave the failing sunset
An intenser glow,
And enriched the cup of pleasure
Filled to overflow.

Hope was fed and passion feeling;
It is often so;
Visions born of golden moments
With the [illegible] girl
To have loved is to have suffered
Many years ago.

By the lake beyond the meadow,
Where the lilies blow,
Oh, the glory there that perished
None shall ever know,
Where a human heart was broken,
Many years ago.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

DAISY.

A clear and ringing whistle rose and fell and rose again, a pleasant sound to hear, upon the evening air; but the girl that stood knee deep in clover beside the meadow fence looked sombrely down as the joyous notes struck upon her ear.

'Poor fellow! dear fellow!' she said to herself. 'It is so hard to go against him when he is as light-hearted as that.'

A moment more, and Ralph Armstrong, her lover, vaulted lightly over the intervening bars and stood beside her.

Straight, sturdy, brown, something of the contrast between himself, with his superabundant life, and the wee woman waiting there, seemed to strike him.

'Why, my little Daisy,' he said, with a playful touch, turning up her chin until he could look into the soft eyes, that straightway filled with tears. 'Why, Daisy,' he repeated, in an altered, vexed voice. 'I thought when I saw you out here that you were glad to have me come. Never mind; you will be when I tell you the news. I have paid off the last installment on the farm, and there's to be an end of your drudging your life away. No more cooking for lodgers, or sitting up half the night to look out for Rick. Is he up to his old tricks again? Is that what has taken the color out of your face?'

'He was away all night,' said Daisy, in a low voice. 'He never got home until noon to-day. He is asleep, and, oh, Ralph! I am afraid to have him wake. It is so much worse now that Miss Winter is here.'

'Didn't I tell you how that would be?' reminded Ralph, not very kindly. 'But, luckily it don't matter; you can get rid of her as soon as you please, and will have the wedding—when? I won't be put off very long, my dear.'

Daisy turned her face away to the gathering dusk.

'Oh, Ralph!' she cried, piteously. 'Be contented to wait.'

'To wait! What for? For Rick to drink himself to death? For you to grow old before your time with the hard work of taking care of yourself and him? Daisy, once and for all, you'll have to choose between your sort of a brother and me. If you are bound to put him first now and for ever——'

The unfinished threat fell upon other ears besides those it was intended to reach. A dogcart rolled almost noiselessly past on the thick green turf of the lane upon which the meadow bars gave, and Dr. Lloyd, lifting his hat to Daisy, shot a keen glance at the young fellow standing sulkily at her side. He was gone in a moment, but somehow Ralph Armstrong experienced a feeling of shame which kept him for the time from pressing what he had been about to urge. He turned and walked towards the house with Daisy.

It was a shackly, tumbled-down cottage, with moss and lichen breaking out in patches over the decayed weatherboarding, and a creaking porch from which the rustic benches had long ago rotted away. The picturesque aspect of the old place had take Miss Winter's fancy, and so little, fair-faced Daisy had found the weekly addition to the sum which she earned with her dressmaking was all that now went into her shabby purse.

There was a muffled cry of 'Daisy! Daisy!' as these two approached together; then once, twice, the report of a pistol, together with the sound of shattered glass, was borne to their ears.

'It's Rick,' cried Daisy, breathlessly. 'I locked him in his room. Do go and talk to Miss Winter, Ralph, till I get him quiet again.'

She was off as she spoke. Miss Winter had come to the door, half in alarm, and looking inquiringly at Ralph as he approached.

'Do you think he is doing anything reckless,' she asked.

'Nothing worse than smashing a window or two; it's his favorite way of calling his sister. Pity he can't put his balls to better use.'

'I wonder that you leave her to be the victim of his whims,' said the lady with a straight look at him.

'I?' said Ralph, with a shrug of his broad shoulders.

Perhaps he did not mean to disclaim such an intention on his part, but it looked like it. How could he tell Miss Winter that the only reason he had not taken Daisy away months before was because Rick had outweighed her liking for him? It was a sore subject with Ralph at the best, not one he would choose to parade to the world at large.

Two hours after that, Daisy stole out into the moonlight, utterly wearied with the scene through which she had passed. All her efforts had been fruitless to entice Rick back to his bed. He sat on a bench in the kitchen, limp and stupid, after his fit of violence, and Daisy stole out, as I have said, to breathe the heavy sweetness of dying roses, and brush their dewy leaves with her heated face. The shadows lay thickly upon the porch, but there was a stir there, and Miss Winter's voice said, softly:

'Good night!'

'Good-night!' returned Ralph. 'I'll show you to-morrow where the maiden-hair fern grows.'

He came whistling down the path to find Daisy standing at the gate.

'Well, little one, have you made up your mind which one of us you'll take?'

'Ralph, you know that I can't leave Rick.'

'Tis him or me,' said Ralph stubbornly.

'He has no one else,' pleaded Daisy.

'Have I? There's no use arguing. He got to be one thing or the other. I want a wife in my house, and if you won't have me maybe there are others that will. Sweetheart, why did you care too much for me to send me away.'

'Oh, Ralph, you must wait.'

Ralph muttered an impatient word, and flung away without a good-night.

An unsteady step came down the path.

'Looking for me, Rick?' Daisy tried to speak cheerfully.

'No; get away!' Rick spoke wildly. 'You've been out with Ralph, you'll go off with him next. You're tired of me, and I can't do better than to make an end of myself. I'm going the straight road.'

Daisy threw herself before the gate, she clung to him, pleaded with him. Half crazed as he was, Rick was in no condition to go back to the village inn, and the rough crowd which would be gathered there at that hour. But all of a drunken man's obstinacy was aroused, and while they stood thus, there came again the roll of wheels that were checked suddenly, and Dr. Lloyd sprang down as he took in that scene at a glance.

'Go into the house, Richard,' he commanded, and Rick, without a word, obeyed. 'I'll give him a powder,' said the doctor to Daisy. 'You must sleep yourself to-night.' He stood talking with her after he had seen Rick safely in his room. 'So he has had the pistol again. Well, I don't think that need alarm you; Rick isn't one to do himself any harm. He has been sly enough to hide it again, or I would take possession of it. He is never violent towards you?'

'Oh, no, never.'

'Not quite brute enough for that,' muttered the doctor, as he took his leave, and Daisy slept peacefully after her trouble.

She did not really believe that Ralph meant what he said, but he seemed determined after that to visit his displeasure upon her. Miss Winter came back from her walk next day with her hands full of ferns.

'So Mr. Armstrong isn't your engaged lover after all?' she remarked to Daisy. 'I would have been flirting with him before this if I hadn't supposed he belonged to you.'

'Flirting! Oh, Miss Winter!'

'He isn't a bad hand at the pastime himself,' remarked Miss Winter, coolly. She understood the situation much better than she pretended, and liked Ralph none the less because he seemed on the point of deserting his little white Daisy for her.

Rick had avoided the lodger from the first. It was a revelation to Daisy when she came upon him one day holding a crushed flower which Miss Winter had worn. He had not been near the village for days. Languid and spiritless he had crept about the house or lain in the long grass with a look on his face which went to his sister's heart. She understood it now as she saw him lift the fallen flower and just touched it with his lips.

'I have been mad enough for that, Daisy—to fall in love with her. And if I had not thrown away my manhood, I need not now be in despair—that is the bitterest thought of all.'

'It is not too late to be true to yourself Rick.'

She had a little hope that this new feeling might work some good in him, but before the week was over, he had broken his bonds again, as if determined to bury regret in oblivion.

Meanwhile the time came for Miss Winter to return to London, and she sent for Ralph, who had to promise to drive her to the station. He came with his light carriage and mettled horse, looked neither sorry nor cast down, Daisy observed with a throb of the heart.

'He isn't false, then; he'll come back to me again when she is gone.'

Rick had been at the village. He was on his way home when, at some distance away, he saw the carriage standing at the parsonage gate. Ralph and Miss Winter were just taking their places in it, the minister stood on the steps, and the curious face of a maid looked down from a garret window. As Ralph settled down in his seat, his glance fell upon that shambling figure by the roadside, and he gave a vicious cut with his whip; the spirited horse started with a plunge, a buckle snapped, and then the next instant the driver had lost all control over him.

Rick had taken in the scene which his eyes rested on, and a sudden stillness went over him.

'They've been getting married,' he said to himself, aghast. 'Been getting married, and he has cheated Daisy. But he shan't get away so easy as that.'

His brain was clouded with liquor; some blind impulse of rage and revenge moved him, and his fingers clasped and brought out the weapon which he sometimes carried. They were close upon him now; he lifted his hand and fired at the horse, there is every reason to believe, for there was a dangerous embankment near, toward which the runaway was heading. But he missed his mark, and the next instant the steel-shod hoofs were trampling him down.

A little further on and the carriage was wrecked. Ralph Armstrong was picked up bruised and senseless; his newly made bride was dead, a bullet in her heart, and further back was a bleeding pulpy mass beaten down in the dust, that groaned when they touched it, but was beyond human aid.

The horror of that time was a year old when Ralph opened the rickety gate and made his way again to the old house. Daisy was sitting in the porch, all in white, as he remembered her so well. Then he was holding her hand and looking into her startled eyes.

'My little white Daisy!' broke over his lips. 'I never really loved anyone but you, and I have come back to ask you to be my wife, after all.'

'Oh, Ralph, don't you know?'

'Know what?' he asked, almost fiercely.

'That I am Dr. Lloyd's wife. I was married a week ago.'

'And—are you happy?'

He wanted her to say no; he thought his own misery would be easier to bear if he knew she shared it. There was a sound of wheels nearing the gate. She turned her face that way; a beautiful flush tinged it, and that look answered him without the low-spoken words—

'I am very happy.'

THE RAVENS' REVENGE.

A Scotch grazier says during nine days, two ravens killed no fewer than thirty strong, full-grown sheep. Their mode of action was discovered to be as follows: The mother bird would fly on the sheep's back, fixing her claws below the eyes, and seizing the top of the head with her bill, would flap with her wings and scream frightfully. Her mate, ever near, would, when the sheep was so fixed, get on her back and dig a hole through to the kidneys. The sheep, distracted and blinded, would sometimes run over the cliff, sometimes into a ditch, and sometimes fall down exhausted. In no case were the ravens known to leave their victims until life was extinct, snapping the windpipe, to that end, when other means failed; and in no case were they known to feed on the sheep's carcass. The loss of their young ones which had been killed, excited them to madness, and the sheep seemed to be the only living thing on which they could vent their rage.

SMILES.

Dare to be true; nothing can need a lie.

If you want to find out how great a man is, let him tell it himself.

Tom Thumb is said to own a yacht. We suppose she is sailed by a Thumb's drew.

We have forty-six rear admirals under pay. The rear of the navy seems to be well protected.

'Alas! that so many people look upon religion simply as a fire escape!' exclaims a Southern preacher.

Preparations are made to discover another comet. One that will not get up so early in the morning preferred.

It is said W. E. Chandler has a "retreating chin." It may be that his chin wants to get away from his mouth.

'They tell me you have some money left you,' said Brown. 'Yes,' replied Fogg, sadly, 'it left me long ago.'

A little Southern boy, when asked if his father had a good mule, mournfully replied: "One end of him is good."

Fat boy: No, you cannot raise chickens from egg plants. You might as well try to raise calves from a cow-catcher.

An old lady from one of the rural districts astonished a clerk in one of the stores by inquiring if he had any 'yaller developments sich as they did up letters in.'

A Boston man who wanted a horse traded with a Vermont clergyman, so he wouldn't get swindled, and he says he never got beaten so in his life.—Boston Post.

The small boy who remembers the peculiar use his mother's slipper is sometime put to, will be horrified to hear that leather is coming into use as trimming for ladies' dresses.

"Don't you find it hurts your lawn to let your children play on it?" asked a friend of a suburban the other day. "Yes," answered the gentleman addressed, "but it doesn't hurt the children."

'Pa, are we going to have any girlvanized iron in our new house?' 'Any what?' 'Any w-h-at?' 'Girlvanized iron.' 'Galvanized, you mean, don't you?' 'Yes, pa; but teacher says we mustn't say gal; it's girl!'

A young lady was showing an elderly woman a beautiful cluster diamond ring, a present, when the old lady dropped her spectacles to the end of her nose, and exclaimed: 'Lor' sakes! I thought it was a seed wart.'

They undertook to present a gold-headed cane to the handsomest man in Lawrence, Ky., the other night, but there were so many black eyes and bloody noses in the crowd of candidates that the judges sent the cane to a lame cooper, who prides himself on being the homeliest man on earth.

An adventurous American, who was shooting small game in Germany, said to his host that there was a spice of danger in shooting in America. "Ah!" said the host, "you like danger mit your spout. Then you go out shooting mit me. The last time I shoot mine bruder-in-law in the schtomack."

Yesterday a boy about sixteen years old got a tumble on a coal hole, and was evidently pretty badly hurt. On getting up he swore fluently, and a clergyman passing paused and asked him why he discoursed so irreligiously, to which the lad replied that he was too big to cry, and, by hokey, he'd got to do something.

Extract from an exchange: "We have a new cloth-bound copy of 'The Footprints of Time,' a historical work, and complete analysis of our system of government, by Bancroft—a really valuable book to any reading, thinking man—which we will sell at a sacrifice for cash, or will trade for flour, butter or meat."

"How can I leave you, my darling?" murmured a Toledo lover in tones of distressing tenderness, as he observed both hands of the clock approach a perpendicular on the dial. "Well, John," responded the girl with wicked innocence, "you can take your choice. If you go through the hall you will be liable to wake up father, and if you leave by way of the back shed you'll be likely to wake up the dog."

OLD SUPERSTITIONS.

The following superstitions, handed down by tradition, yet are fervently believed in many parts of America.

White specks on the nails are luck.

Whoever reads epitaphs loses his memory.

The crowing of a hen indicates some approaching disaster.

To rock the cradle when empty is injurious to the child.

To eat while a bell is tolling for a funeral causes toothache.

He who has teeth wide apart must seek his fortune in a distant land.

When a mouse knaws a hole, some misfortune may be apprehended.

Whoever finds a four-leaf trefoil—shamrock—should wear it for good luck.

Beggar's bread should be given to children who are slow in learning to speak.

When children play soldiers on the roadside, it forebodes the approach of war.

If a child less than twelve months old be brought into a cellar, he becomes fearful.

He who opposes moving into a new house must first send in bread and a new broom.

A child grows proud if suffered to look into the mirror while less than twelve months old.

Whoever sneezes at an early hour either hears some news or receives some present the same day.

The first tooth cast by a child should be swallowed by the mother, to insure a new growth of teeth.

By bending the head to the hollow of the arm, the initial letter of one's future spouse is represented.

Buttoning the coat awry, or drawing a stocking on inside out, causes matters to go wrong during the day.

Women who sow flax should, during the process, tell some black lies, otherwise the yarn will never bleach white.

When women are stuffing beds, the men should not remain in the house, otherwise the feathers will come through the ticks.

When a person enters a room he should be obliged to sit down if only for a moment, as the otherwise takes away the children's sleep with him.

The following are omens of death: A dog's scratching on the floor or howling in a peculiar manner, and owls hooting in the neighborhood of the house.

Domestic harmony must be preserved when washing day comes, in order to insure fine weather, which is indispensable, as that ceremony is generally performed out of doors.

If we could only get along without paying our debts, what a happy world this would be.

HEALTH RECOMMENDATIONS.

Try popcorn for nausea.

Try cranberry for malaria.

Try a sun bath for rheumatism.

Try gooseberry poultice for erysipelas.

Try gargling lager beer for cure of sore throat.

Try swallowing saliva when troubled with a sour stomach.

Try eating fresh radishes and yellow turnips for the gravel.

Try eating onions and horseradish to relieve dropsical swellings.

Try buttermilk for the removal of freckles, tan and butternut stains.

Try the croup-tippet when a child is likely to be troubled in that way.

Try hot flannel over the seat of neuralgic pain and renew same frequently.

Try taking codliver oil in tomato catsup if you want to make it palatable.

Try snuffing powdered borax up the nostrils for catarrhal 'cold in the head.'

Try taking a nap in the afternoon if you are going to be out late in the evening.

Try hard cider—a wine-glassful three times a day—for rheumatism and agues.

Try breathing the fumes of turpentine or carbolic acid to relieve whooping-cough.

Try a cloth rung out from cold water put around neck at night for sore throat.

Try an extra pair of stockings outside of your shoes when traveling in cold weather.

Try walking with your hands behind you if you find yourself becoming bent forward.

Try planting sunflowers in your garden if compelled to live in a malarial neighborhood.

Try a silk handkerchief over the face when obliged to go against a cold, piercing wind.

A BABY'S DIARY.

1. January—Just born. Here's a lark! Papa does not seem very pleased, though.

1. February—Every night pa walks about up and down the bedroom with me when I squeal. I always squeal. I must do something.

1. March—Nurse is a spiteful thing—she sticks pins into a fellow on purpose.

1. April—After all one may even weary of the bottle.

1. May—I wish I could cut a tooth, I'd bite nurse.

1. June—What a nuisance it is to have relations who keep on saying 'Ketchetty, ketchetty,' and a dig in your ribs with their forefingers. When I grow up I'll do it to them, and see how they'll like it.

1. July—There are three babies next door got the measles. I get nothing. It's awfully dull.

1. August—One of the babies from next door came in to see us to-day; and I heard ma say, 'He hasn't got the measles now?' 'No,' said the babie's ma. There's a greedy sneak for you. Left 'em at home!

1. September—Nurse drinks something out of a black bottle. I've caught her at it. It isn't the same that is in my black bottle either. If I were a bit bigger, I'd change 'em.

1. October—Blessed if this ain't a nice go, neither. Some one called to-day to see ma and pa, and they said it was uncle, and gave me to him to kiss. He didn't kiss me, though with what you might call a good will. Then they asked him again, and then they gave me to him to nurse, and he pinched me.

1. November—This is worse than ever. Why, here's another baby now, and they say he belongs to our house; and they're not going to send him away. Don't even know how to feed himself out of a bottle. Well, of all—never mind.

1. December—Got to sleep in the same crib with him now. Wait till he goes to sleep; I'll give him such an oner! Here's a beast of baby! He won't go to sleep, and not a soul in the crib can get a blessed wink.

Leap Year—An Interesting Table.

Next year is 'leap year,' and the 'wimmin folks' will be bolder in masculine society than is their wont, and the chaps will find them more communicative than usual. If there be one thing that a woman will conceal more than another, it is her age. She hates to tell how many summers have fanned her stately brow, and is averse to being interrogated on the subject. By hook and crook, however, they can be inveigled into telling the truth, and, as the subjoined table will aid wife hunters to get at the fact by a circuitous route, we publish it for the benefit of suffering masculinity. Just hand the following table to a lady and ask her to tell you in which of its columns is the number of years of her age. Then add together the figures at the top of the columns designated. Suppose an age to be 17, the number 17 is in only two columns, the 1st and 5th; and the first figures at the head of these columns make 17:

1st.	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th
1	2	4	8	16	32
3	3	5	9	17	33
5	6	6	10	18	34
7	7	7	11	19	35
9	10	12	12	20	36
11	11	13	13	21	37
13	14	14	14	22	38
15	15	15	15	23	39
17	18	20	24	24	40
19	19	21	25	25	41
21	22	22	26	26	42
23	23	23	27	27	43
25	26	28	28	28	44
27	27	29	29	29	45
29	30	30	30	30	46
31	31	31	31	31	47
33	34	36	40	48	48
35	35	37	41	49	49
37	38	38	42	50	50
39	39	39	43	51	51
41	42	44	44	52	52
43	43	45	45	53	53
45	46	46	46	54	54
47	47	47	47	55	55
49	50	52	56	56	56
51	51	53	57	57	57
53	54	54	58	58	58
55	55	55	59	59	59
57	58	60	60	60	60
59	59	61	61	61	61
61	62	62	62	62	62
63	63	63	63	63	63

Our Plainfield contemporaries, THE CONSTITUTIONALIST and Bulletin, did right in refusing to publish Council advertisements at whatever rate the Council should fix. As well have that body order the stores to supply the city poor or the other city demands with articles at rates of its own adjustment. There is a legal rate fixed and the city is no better to pay it than private persons. The surrender of the Times was a blunder. Council gets all the favors and the newspapers less than their rights under the law. Honorable work deserves adequate consideration every time and an honorable act of men grudge it.—Somerset Gazette.

CUTS OF CUTENESS.

A BATCH OF LIVELY GOSSIPING SELECTIONS.

Man advertises, then realizes.

Burglars often make safe robberies.

The best press—press of business.

Not a pleasant dish—the cold shoulder.

A shirt front is a thing to be studded.

Beware of the cook who can make hash of everything except corn beef.

A statistician estimates that courtships average three tons of coal each.

The spring elections are the first green things that now rear their heads.

A patent is granted for fourteen years and may be renewed for seven years.

'Competition is the life of trade.' Yes and it is often the death of the traders.

It is stated that Wiggins' storm was postponed on account of the weather.

It looks like a hard case when a murderer cannot get a new trial and an acquittal.

The poorest excuse a boy can give for not wanting to saw wood is, 'The saw's got the tooth-ache.'

The aristocrat is supported by his ancestors, the pauper by his contemporaries and the debtor by posterity.

A man told his tailor that he wouldn't pay for 'that last epilepsy.' It was discovered that the man meant 'bad fit.'

At a bal masque a jolly girl said to her partner, 'You like to waltz Monsieur?' 'I adore it.' 'Then why did you never learn?'

If you want an example of thorough non-partisanship, take the members of a good, brass band during the campaign.

The man who thinks himself smart likes to make others smart. There is certainly nothing mean or selfish about that man.

'The health of Washington!' exclaimed old Miss Pinaphor, reading the big headline in the newspaper. "Why, I thought Washington was dead."

In Maine they are finding diamond pins in the old oak trees. The hotel clerk of New England appears to have attended picnics at a very early period.

France, after going through a year of unprecedented production in pig iron, finds the year opening with low prices, no profits and no orders in the iron trade.

The man who would stop his paper for the sake of economy ought to cut off his feet to save the expense of socks. Paste this in the cavity of your old hat or tile.

It is said of Frank James that he never killed a man unless he felt it was positively and extremely a necessity. This relieves him of much suspicion nowadays.

Sloughterby says his wife hasn't done very much shopping this winter, although she did go down town the other day to buy a muff 'just to keep her hand in.'

The boys are saying that kisses will cure freckles. The girls say it is nonsense but is quite singular that they take their medicine so regular. Don't you think so?

Nothing so helps a newspaper as the imparting of useful information. "How shall I keep ants out of the sugar bowl?" asks a correspondent. "Fill the bowl with salt."

'Can you tell me,' asked a Sunday school teacher of a little girl, "why the Israelites made a golden calf?" "Because they hadn't gold enough to make a cow," was the reply.

An English paper asserts that it costs as much to transport a bushel of wheat twelve miles on a turnpike road in England as from an American seaport across 3,000 miles of ocean.

Lightning recently struck a telegraph pole and ran along into the office at Crawfordsville, Ind., when the operator seated at the instrument excitedly telegraphed back, 'don't send so fast!'

A Georgia paper claims a subscriber who has been continuously on the list for fifty-two years. But the strangest part of the story is that he is square on the books, and never paid in cord wood, turnips or pumpkins.

The tramp who tried to steal a passage from Albany to New York concealed, when he picked himself from the snowbank into which the immediate brakeman had deposited him, 'that he didn't care to be a threw passenger again.'

Girls in the Iowa agricultural college are taught to cook. By and by, our superior civilization will educate a girl in such a manner that she will be fit to become a wife—an art which appears to have been lost some time in the past generation.

A Frenchman claims that he has invented a system by which he can cause three and two to make six. This invention is not original with him, however. It was discovered first by the American government while negotiating with the Indians.

A St. Louis paper has a department devoted to 'colored society,' and the other day the foreman got a lot of society items relating to white folks, mixed in with those under the heading quoted, and the editor of that paper says he never had such particular hades to pay around his office before, for twenty years.

Whatever you do, never set up for a critic. We do not mean a newspaper one, but in private life, in the domestic circle; it will do you harm—if you object to being called disagreeable. If you don't like any one's nose, or object to the color of your girl's hair, don't grumble about it, but it will do you good to stop and reflect that such people had no voice or choice in their make-up.

Cooked his own goose: Not long ago a member of Congress was invited to a dinner. He described it thus: "There was nothing on the table when I got there but some forks and spoons and bric-a-brac. Presently they brought in some soup. As I didn't see nothin' else, I thought I'd eat all the soup I could, though soup makes a mighty poor dinner to invite a feller to. So I was helped four times, and then come on the finest dinner I ever see, and there I sot," groaned he, "chock full of soup."

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

PROGRESS.

We live in a progressive age, an era of extraordinary activity. The slow methods of the fathers have been abandoned for more rapid means of getting through the world and transacting the business of life. Steam and electricity have revolutionized affairs generally, and are no doubt destined to affect still greater changes.

All that must be admitted, but should not be deplored, because modern advantages are many and self evident, although they may in some particulars be attended with collateral evils.

It is wisdom to keep abreast of progress, and no less wisdom to venerate and carry onward those virtues of the past which progress is powerless to improve, but which it may, in the whirl of excitement, lose sight of.

Honesty, Justice and Truth are proven virtues of the past, priceless for the present and for all coming time.

Honesty—every day honesty, public and private, in trade, in politics, and in all the minute intercourse and relationship of man with man.

Justice—unflinching and universal, covering all people and all their worldly interests with the protecting shield of impartial law.

Truth—open and sincere, devoid of false coloring, clear of cant and cunning.

Such are among the virtues of the past and no modern improvements can add a jot or tittle to their excellence.

Guided by them Progress is safe.

Rushing madly ahead and regardless of them is the sure road to danger.

Moderation in all things is a sound doctrine.

Money King is a title foreign to free institutions.

Democracy lives and no foemen have strength to kill it.

Principles are like the rock-ribbed mountains—immovable.

Labor is the sole artificer of real wealth. Without labor the world would be poor indeed.

Moderate fortunes, well scattered among the people, alone testify that national prosperity is substantial—not imaginary.

The man who purchases his way into Congressional or Legislative position is unworthy to be trusted as a servant of the people.

The prevalent desire to get something for nothing is the parent of countless evils in this country at the present time.

Money acquired through honest dealing, patient toil, and close attention to legitimate pursuits, is the kind that does not readily take wings and fly away.

There are enough honest men in our land to preserve and perpetuate the Republic, but they must arouse themselves, ere it be too late, to the designs of monopoly and unjust legislation.

Teach the children that habits of industry, pure morality, and practical business knowledge are of far greater value than riches and pride, and a foundation will be laid for their safety and happiness.

Down the future may be heard the coming tramp of mighty legions, unarmed with sanguinary weapons, yet fully equipped to battle victoriously for civil liberty. They are the public school boys of America.

To enter Congress or the Cabinet poor, and after a few years spent therein to come out a millionaire, affords good cause to suspect that in Washington, like the old saying about Denmark, there must be something very unsavory.

The fact cannot be disguised by special pleading that there is a growing tendency in this country to make the rich richer and the poor poorer. It is a hydra-headed monster, which the people, for their own security, ought to strike dead.

The many thousands of people drawn to Atlanta for the purpose of attending the funeral of Governor Alexander H. Stephens, and the universal sorrow among all classes of Georgians, white and colored, caused by his death, is a noble monument to departed worth.

The Rahway charter election ensues on the 10th of April. The Democrats have the Council and the Republicans the Mayor at present. A judicious nomination for the Mayoralty will give the Democrats both departments of the government of Rahway next month.

One of the many strange episodes of the recent Western floods was the finding of an infant near Louisville floating in a cradle in the river. A man who was rowing around in search of wreckage saw the cradle, and on rowing up to it was surprised to find a beautiful infant, about three months old, gazing up at the sky in open-mouthed wonder. The little waif was comfortably and warmly dressed, and had not received the slightest harm. Its parents have not yet been found.

A law recently passed by the California Legislature provides that in murder trials in which the plea of insanity is entered for the defense, the defendant shall be first examined as to his mental condition. If proved not insane, he shall be tried for murder and the plea of insanity shall constitute an aggravation of his offense. If proved insane, he must go to a madhouse for life; and cannot be released unless his sanity at the time of the murder is clearly shown, when he shall be released and tried for the murder. That puts the insanity dodge at a discount.

Statistics show that the growth of the Roman Catholic Church in English-speaking countries is constantly on the increase. The number of Catholics in the British Empire and the United States is 16,000,000 souls, with 180 bishops, 15,000 priests and 15,000 churches. In Great Britain, exclusive of Ireland, the Roman Catholic statistics for the years 1840 and 1880 compare as follows: Churches, 622 in 1840 to 1460 in 1880; colleges and schools, 40 to 514; clergy, 614 to 2,202; laity, 529,000 to 1,384,000. At present the Roman Catholic population in Great Britain have one church or convent to every 45 square miles, as compared with 162 square miles in 1840.

TOWNSHIP ELECTIONS.

The following is the result, so far as we have been able to gather, of the annual Spring elections which occurred last Tuesday throughout the State. Fanwood Township elects the Republican ticket straight, excepting the offices of Town Clerk and Freeholder. For the former, James A. Baker, Democrat, is elected by a handsome majority and G. W. L. Martine, whose name was on both tickets, is re-elected Freeholder. The following is the ticket elected:

FANWOOD TOWNSHIP.

Justice of the Peace—
Charles A. Smith.
Chosen Freeholder—
G. W. L. Martine.
Town Clerk—
James A. Baker.
Assessor—
John Robison.
Collector—
William Hetfield.
Town Committee—
David P. Hall,
Lewis W. Miller,
Charles Abbott.
Overseer of Poor—
Thomas Cleaver.
Surveyors of Highways—
Edward M. Johnston,
John J. Marsh.
Commissioners of Appeal—
Henry Cook,
Henry Little,
Thomas Cleaver.
Constable—
Hezekiah Hand.
Pound Keepers—
Henry Cook,
Myron Young,
John J. Marsh,
Edward Terry.
Judge of Election—
Daniel H. Terry.
Inspector of Election—
Edward Miller.

Appropriation for Roads,	$1,000.00
Appropriation for Poor,	200.00
Appropriation for Incidentals,	300.00
Day's work for man and team,	4.00
Day's work for man,	1.50

Next election and town meeting at House of Excelsior H. & L. Co.

In Westfield, the Republicans elected their Freeholder, Jas. T. Pierson, over the present incumbent, S. S. Mapes, by 43 majority, and the majority of their ticket. The Assessor, J. M. C. Marsh, Democrat, is elected by 96 majority. The following are the figures in the case:

WESTFIELD TOWNSHIP.

Total number of votes cast, 428; Rep. 241; Dem. 171; Ind. Greenback, 16.

		Maj.
Town Clerk—
L. M. Whitaker, R.	256	90
Addison S. Clark, D.	166
Chosen Freeholder—
James T. Pierson, R.	233	43
S. S. Mapes, D.	190
Assessor—
Matthias Clark, R.	163
John M. C. Marsh, D.	259	96
Collector—
W. W. Connoly, R.	251	88
Eb. Hart, Jr., D.	163
Town Committee—
Robert R. Sinclair, R.	268
Oliver M. Pierson, R.	241
David Sayre, R.	213
Charles R. Clark, D.	194
James Moffett, D.	174
R. G. Lansing, D.	151
Commissioners of Appeal—
E. Embree, R.	262
Levi Cory, R.	247
D. G. Fink, R.	240
Isaac F. Scudder, D.	178
M. Beiler, D.	159
Joel Moffett, D.	159
Surveyors of Highway—
N. R. Day, R.	241
D. T. Pierson, R.	232
W. S. Welch, D.	190
Wm. Stitt, D.	170
Overseer of Poor—
S. E. Young, R.	290	164
J. L. Roniason, D.	136
Pound Keepers—
H. J. Holmes, R.	229
J. H. Clark, R.	228
T. J. Eogland, R.	191
Robert Woodruff, D.	163
Constable—
W. M. Long, D.	165
E. Townley, G.	17
Judge of Election—
Hiram Fink, R.	231	42
C. W. Harden, D.	189
Justice of the Peace—
John D. Jaques, D.	214
John W. R. Bennett, D.	185
J. F. S. Wittke, R.	182
William Gale, R.	5
Support of Poor, $1,200,	427
Repair of Roads, 1,500,	426
Incidental Exp., 500,	426
Support F. D., 250,	222	50
No support,	172

The Union County Board will be Republican unless Rahway should elect two Democrats to the Board at its annual city election next month. Rahway is now represented by one Democrat and one Republican.

In Piscataway township the Democrats elect their candidate for Freeholder, John Nelson, over John C. Morris, present incumbent. Otherwise the Republican ticket was successful.

In North Plainfield there was but one ticket in the field, Republican. Below we give the names of the successful candidates:

NORTH PLAINFIELD TOWNSHIP.

Judge of Election, 1st Dist—
Thomas J. Young.
Judge of Election, 2d Dist—
S. W. Wakefield.
Inspector of Election, 1st Dist—
J. N. Van Arsdale.
Inspector of Election, 2d Dist—
R. G. Silvers.
Clerk of Election, 2d Dist—
H. N. Spencer.
Town Clerk—
Lewis E. Barkalew.
Assessor—
Isaac Brokaw.
Collector—
William H. Shotwell.
Overseer of Poor—
Daniel J. Smalley.
Chosen Freeholder—
Martin W. Schenck.
Justice of Peace—5 years—
William E. Mattison.
Town Committee—
Amos Vail,
Francis H. Gardner,
David R. Weaver.
Commissioners of Highways—
Amos Vail,
J. R. Doty.
Commissioners of Appeal—
H. N. Spencer,
L. E. Barkalew,
J. P. Humble.
Pound Keepers—
S. Hudson,
Patrick Agney,
Fred Burger,
Harmon Trust,
John W. Hughes.
Constables—
J. W. A. Rauersnehe, (3 yrs.)
Thomas McDonald, (3 yrs.)
Overseers of Roads—
Dist. No. 1—Aaron Allen,
Dist. No. 2—J. V. Whitlock,
Dist. No. 3—Elias Allen,
Dist. No. 4—David Lowry,
Dist. No. 5—E. E. Acker,
Dist. No. 6—R. V. Cadmus,
Dist. No. 7—S. D. Fopud.

REPAIRS OF ROADS.

$3,000, $500 put in hands of Town Committee.

SUPPORT OF POOR.

$1,200, $200 to be left in the hands of the Town Committee.

Salary of Town Committee—$50 each.

Next Election and Town Meeting to be held at Warren engine house and No. 39 Somerset street, cor. Chatham street.

The returns from Somerset County show that the Board of Chosen Freeholders will stand—Democrats, 6; Republicans, 3—a gain of 1 over last year.

In Bridgewater township Mr. Wm. B. Potter is re-elected Assessor, and Wm. Ross, Jr., for Collector, runs only 6 votes behind Mr. Amerman, the Republican nominee.

The Republicans will have a majority of the Town Committee, and the Democrats elect their Town Clerk.

The Somerset Messenger publishes the following figures as official:

	1st.	2d.	3d.	4th.	Total.
Town Clerk.
C. V. Vanderveer, D.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
C. A. Whitenack, R.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Freeholder.
Oscar Dow, D.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
John H. Brokaw, R.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Collector.
Wm. Ross, Jr., D.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
J. S. Amerman, R.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Assessor.
Wm. B. Potter, D.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wm. L. Teale, R.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Town Com.
C. Staats, D.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
J. A. Emery, D.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
C. V. D. Vanderveer, D.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
A. H. Brokaw, R.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
J. Kinglesmann, R.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Benj. F. Little, R.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Overseer of Poor.
D. S. Kinnan, D.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
And. A. Smalley, R.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Justice of Peace.
Patrick Burns, D.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
J. S. Amerman, R.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

THE FREEHOLDERS.

The new Board of Freeholders will be constituted as follows:

Bedminster—Isaac Voorhees, D.
Bernards—Chas. N. Conklin, D.*
Branchburgh—Hugh Gaston, R.
Bridgewater—Oscar Dow, D.
Franklin—C. N. Staats, D.
Hillsborough—Peter W. Wyckoff, R.*
Montgomery—Jacob S. Hoagland, D.* (gain).
North Plainfield—M. W. Schenck, R.
Warren—Geo. C. Owen, D.

*Indicates new members all others re-elected.

LOCAL ANNEX.

About $30,000 towards the Plainfield Opera House, has been subscribed. Oh, ——!

This evening, in the church parlors, the Young Peoples' Association of the Crescent avenue church, will meet with its friends in social pleasure.

The Fifth Annual Ball, at Mt. Bethel Hall, will take place Monday evening, the 26th inst. Admission 25 cents. Music by John Van Arsdale. Mr. Charles Schaefer is the new proprietor of the Hotel, and is making many friends by his fair dealing and courtesy.

The National Horse-Shoe Association, farriers and manufacturers of national bevel edge horse-shoes, No. 7 Somerset street, this city, are now ready to fill all orders entrusted to their company.

Notice for the Germans.

Services in the German language will be held in Trinity Reformed church, Second street near Park avenue, next Saturday afternoon (Palm Sunday) at four o'clock. There are many Germans in this city and a cordial invitation is extended to them all.

Verily.

And now cometh to pass the time which is spoken of by the prophet of the Elizabeth Herald, saying:

These are the days when the merry maiden walketh the streets warily, and keepeth a watchful eye on her wearing apparel, lest the treacherous March wind take unbecoming liberties therewith, and display to the vulgar gaze of man her gaily decorated hose. Selah!

Fire Commissioners.

The election of two members of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Plainfield Fire Department occurs in April. Already two fire companies have made nominations for the office, No. 2 and No. 1 Engine companies. Both nominated Messrs E. L. Morris and Alex. Titsworth. The latter does not desire the position, and says he will not accept the nominations. Both men will make capable officers if they serve.

Fatal Railway Accident.

On Friday morning last a terrible accident occurred at the Lehigh Valley Railroad crossing near Harmony Plains, Somerset County. Hon. Peter A. Voorhees and Messrs Abram Voorhees, Peter Cortelyou and J. N. Bodine, left their homes in the vicinity of Franklin Park to visit Somerville. Their purpose was to examine an edifice in order to determine in reference to a parsonage about to be built at the Park. The express train due at South Somerville about 10:45 o'clock ran into their carriage at the crossing above mentioned, killing the two horses and completely wrecking the wagon. Messrs Peter A. and Abram Voorhees were instantly killed. The other two gentlemen, while severely injured, escaped with their lives.

Church Dedication.

Sunday morning last, commencing at half past ten o'clock, St. Joseph's R. C. Church, of North Plainfield, was dedicated with appropriate and impressive ceremonies in the presence of a large and interested audience. The little building thus publicly consecrated, owes its existence almost entirely to the earnest efforts and untiring labors of Father O'Hanlon. By his faithful endeavors for success, the North Plainfield parish has secured an agreeable and convenient place of worship, furnished comfortably, and with stained glass windows, gothic altar and style of interior. Its seating capacity is about 450.

Upon the occasion of the dedication, the Solemn High Mass was sung by the Very Rev. A. Smith, V. G., of St. Mary's Church, Trenton, and Father McCormick of Metuchen; while Father Gillan of St Marys' Plainfield and Father O'Hanlon, the pastor, took part in the ceremonies. A special choir from New York city gave some very pleasing music. During the Mass, Bishop O'Farrell delivered an able lecture befitting the occasion. The ceremonies were finished at 1:30, P. M.

OBITUARY.

ALLYN S. HALE.

The following from The Public of yesterday, is a deserving tribute to a deceased resident of this city:

"The Public has sustained a great loss in the death of Allyn S. Hale, who has been its business manager since 1875. Mr. Hale's health has been failing for some time past, and he was about to start with his family for California, in the hope that a long vacation and a change of climate would enable him to recover his usual vigor, when he was prostrated by pneumonia. He died at his residence at Plainfield, N. J., on Thursday, March 8th, leaving a wife and two children, and a circle of close and warm friends, by whom his death will be deeply felt. Mr. Hale's labors for THE PUBLIC, ever since it passed into the hands of its present owners, have been untiring and efficient. Besides his work in connection with its business, in which his wide acquaintance, his courteous bearing, and his tact were felt, he has rendered valuable editorial service, for which he was especially qualified by his knowledge of the insurance business, and of investments in State and municipal securities and real estate mortgages. Mr. Hale was a man of rare fidelity and honesty. Tender and affectionate in his home, genial in his companionship, and true as steel to his friends, he became especially known in his business relations by his thorough uprightness and unswerving integrity. Whatever he undertook to do if within the limit of his power, he did with scrupulous fidelity. The readers of this journal have been greatly indebted to our modest and hard-working associate, while those who knew him intimately find words inadequate to express their sense of the great loss they have sustained."

PLAINFIELD PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

ROLL OF HONOR FOR FEBRUARY.

HIGH SCHOOL.

SENIOR CLASS.

Roberta L. Burt,	Ida F. [illegible],
Mary E. [illegible],	[illegible],
Francesca [illegible],	Alice M. [illegible],
Laura [illegible]	[illegible].

M. Lillian Newman.

JUNIOR CLASS.

[illegible],	Carrie F. [illegible],
Florence M. Clark,	Nellie A. [illegible],
[illegible],	Ida L. [illegible],
Mary F. [illegible],	Florence A. [illegible],
Edith M. [illegible],	[illegible],
Kate S. [illegible],	Lizzie M. [illegible],
Alice [illegible],	Fanny S. [illegible],
Alice L. [illegible],	Carrie R. [illegible],
Maggie S. [illegible],	Minnie [illegible].

THIRD CLASS.

Lulu E. Thomas,	Annie A. [illegible],
Mamie R. Gorswell,	Carrie A. [illegible],
Estelle Daniel,	Flora M. Randolph,
Florence G. Hewitson,	Minnie S. [illegible],
Gertrude Hetlan,	Jennie Van Winkle.

FOURTH CLASS.

Elsie C. Case,	[illegible],
Sophia D. [illegible],	Sarah [illegible],
Lena [illegible],	Elizabeth [illegible],
Edith B. Leonard,	Martha E. [illegible],
Carrie E. [illegible],	Ella T. Laing,

Frank R. Newman.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

FIRST CLASS.

Minnie E. Clagett,	Mary L. Case,
Annie [illegible],	Carrie Gaddart,
Hallie S. [illegible],	Julia M. Johnson,
Minnie [illegible],	Charlotte Stephenson,
Louis M. Wood,	Lizzie A. Stewart,
William C. [illegible],	Marion J. Wandell,
Walter J. [illegible],	Sophia S. Low,
Augusta [illegible],	Marion Tingley.

SECOND CLASS 1ST DIV.

Harry L. [illegible],	Harry M. Wade,
Emily Corbet,	Sarah Mackey,
Carrie M. Runyon,	Mary Vanderveer,
Spencer C. Cook,	Robert Lowe,
Harry Coward,	Annie F. Vanbrunck,
Lizzie Kingman,	Rose K. Lowrie,
Susie V. Moffett,	Anna A. Searing,
Marion Randolph,	Frank B. Randolph,
Samuel I. Perry,	Maggie B. Boice,
Florence Hand,	Carrie S. Boice,
Sarah G. Sharp,	Gertie W. Wood.

SECOND CLASS 2D DIV.

Kate A. Carney,	May J. Flanagan,
Arthur Lovell,	Fred. R. Newman,
George V. Wandell,	Augustus J. [illegible],
Maggie E. Day,	Susan E. Greene,
David Bodine,	Walter H. Chamberlin.

THIRD CLASS 1ST DIV.

Louise R. Runyon,	Sadie C. Vanderventer,
Ella E. Adams,	Mary G. Madden,
Alice M. Quinn,	Mary A. Rice,
Annie N. Taylor,	John Duggan,
Harry A. McLean,	Walter N. Martin,
M. Josie Compton,	Mary E. French,
Carrie B. Manning,	Carrie T. McNeill,
Kattie C. Manning,	Edith Needham,
Kittie M. McCann,	Kittie A. Reid,
Arthur Stryker,	Nelson Van Winkle.

Harry C. Runyon.

THIRD CLASS 2D DIV.

Annie W. Crane,	Lydia Collins,
Maggie R. Case,	Emma Murphy,
Ella T. Osborne,	Lewis Wyman,
Edward V. French,	Edward J. McKenny,
Rachel V. Benton,	Hattie L. Carman,
Jennie Shaddin,	Charles Belknap.

FOURTH CLASS.

Jennie Allen,	Emma V. Case,
Phebe E. Clarkson,	Hallie B. Crawford,
Gertrude S. Baynell,	Mary E. Thompson,
Fannie Rafferty,	Louis Plender,
Myra M. Lowrie,	John J. Cusack,

Ida A. Carpenter.

FOURTH CLASS 2ND DIVISION.

Bessie Bair,	Ella Milligan,
Ernestine Smith,	Benjamin M. Leland,
Grace Bety,	Robert D. Bick,
Clifford D. Brady,	Harry Drier.

SCOTCH PLAINS PARAGRAPHS.

ROLL OF HONOR FOR FEBRUARY.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.

George Archbold, Louis Carter, Harry Carter, Ellen Farley, Annie Farley, Aggie Hollingsworth, Lulu Hollingsworth, Loftus Hollingsworth, Lida Hueston, Willie Jamison, Mamie Murphy, Samuel Pope, Mae Sykes, Louisa Stilliger, Mamie Spencer.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.

Willie Buckley, George Dunn, Annie Hossinger, George Stilliger, Samuel Hall, Florence Kennedy, Ellen Cottrell, Alida Mooney, Nellie Hollingsworth, John Stilliger, Mamie Mercier, Carrie Elliston, Grace Robinson, Katie Mayher, Fannie Haskard, Emma Clark, Lowry Van Dyke, Mary Steele, Susie Hueston.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Sadie Walpole, Arthur Haskard, Kittie Buckley, Belle Mercier, Maggie Steele, Belle Merritt, Mabel Corey, Francis Brannagan, Chas. Flynn, Lillie Schmit, Frank Hollingsworth, Walter Collins, George Trainor.

ADVANCED PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Aggie McNair, Willie Pope, Mamie Dobbing, Samuel Hollingsworth, Charles Schulen, Joe Cottrell, Anna Murphy, Jno. Trainor, Bertha Corey, Willie Farley, Willie Hueston, Gussie Schulen.

SECOND QUARTERLY EXAMINATION

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT.

Standings 90 and above—Mary Ball, Charles Cooper, Ellen Farley, Annie Farley, Walter Haskard, Willie Hasell, Aggie Hollingsworth, Lida Hueston, May Kennedy, Willie Jamison, Mamie Murphy, Robert Rand, Mae Sykes, Louisa Stilliger, Gertrude Rinehart, Mamie Spencer, Lulu Hollingsworth.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.

George Dunn, Mamie Mercier, Carrie Elliston, Nellie Hollingsworth, Harry Rand, Emma Clark, Willie Buckley, Grace Robinson, Alida Mooney, Samuel Hall, Ellen Cottrell, Fannie Haskard, Lowry Van Dyke, Mamie Waterson.

ADVANCED PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Mamie Dobbing, Joey Cottrell, Amy Cook, Samuel Hollingsworth, Anna Murphy, Willie Hueston, Mabel Mooney, Willie Miller, Willie Pope, Mamie Collins, Charles Schulen, Ida Lake, Aggie McNair, Nellie Cook, John Hadin, Walter Smith.

MARRIAGES.

SMITH—SMALLEY—Plainfield, N. J., March 14th, 1883, by the Rev. E. M. Rodman, Georgianna Headley Smalley, daughter of Geo. H. Headley, Esq., to William Palmer Smith.

COOK—AYRES—In North Plainfield, Thursday, March 15, 1883, by Rev. E. M. Rodman, Frank Cook to Ida Ayres, both of Plainfield.

DEATHS.

CROWELL—In Rahway, N. J., March 7, William M. Crowell, aged [illegible] years.

CHEESE—In this city, March 11, 1883, Carolina M. Cheese, aged 76 years.

KELLY—In this city, March 11, 1883, of scarlet fever, Eddie, son of John and Kate Kelly, aged 3 years, 8 months.

RYDER—In this city, March 12, 1883, of acute pulmonary consumption, Charles E. Ryder, in his [illegible] year. Services at residence, East Front street, Tuesday, [illegible] inst., at 3 p. m.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FORD & STILES,
UNDERTAKERS,
Successors to
DAVID LEESON.

A full assortment of Rosewood, Oak, Cloth-Covered and Walnut CASKETS & COFFINS, with a full line of PLATES, HANDLES, BURIAL ROBES, &c., constantly in stock at the Warerooms, and Furnished at Short Notice.

Funeral Arrangements attended with promptness, at all hours, day or night.

Office, Warerooms & Residence,
No. 14 E. Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Also, Practical Embalmers.
Geo. C. Ford. Geo. M. Stiles.
j13byl

P. CASEY & SON,
UNDERTAKERS.
Office No. 19 Park avenue (Union Hook and Ladder House). Residence, No. 11 Third st., [illegible]. Where we will be found day or night. Charges reasonable.

A. M. RUNYON & SON,
Furnishing Undertakers.
40½ West Front St.,
[illegible]—Front St., opp. Washington Ave.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Martin Bros.
GROCERS,
Cor. Park Ave & 2d St., Plainfield.
—General Line of Groceries,—
"Gem" a New Process Flour.
[illegible] Goods Delivered to any part of the city.

Wm. I. Marshall, Esq.,
WILL DELIVER AN ILLUSTRATED LECTURE
"An Evening in Wonderland."
Illustrated by brilliant Transparencies descriptive of a tour through the YELLOWSTONE PARK!
At Congregational Chapel,
SEVENTH STREET, CORNER MADISON AVE.
On Thursday, March 29th.
Admission, ... 35 Cents.
Children, ... 25 Cents.
Reserved Seats, ... 50 Cents.
At E. P. Reynolds' Pharmacy.
Doors open at 7:30. Commence at 8.

East Front street Property To Let.
House and barn just finished; with all modern improvements, and plenty of large shade trees. In a desirable location. About 5 minutes walk from Depot. Inquire of E. MacDonald, at East Front street, corner Peace.

For Sale!
A complete set of Dining Room Furniture—ash, with carved maple trimmings and upholstered in leather. One Sideboard [illegible]; one Extension table; two Arm Chairs; four small chairs. Made by Herter, of New York. Apply to T. J. GILLIES, 9 Railroad avenue.

For Sale Cheap!
A good strong Work Horse.
HENRY STRAUSS,
No. 14 East Second street.

For Sale!
One first-class family cow, five years old, half Alderney, due to come in April 4th; one Extra No. 8 [illegible] Range, an excellent cook stove nearly new, with pipe, two gold-faced tables, cooking utensils, [illegible] will be sold cheap. HENRY A. REED.
Near the old depot, Fanwood, N. J., the old Cole property.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.
Union County, Surrogate's Office,
James P. Mathes the administrator of John L. Laing deceased.
[illegible]
JAS. J. GERBER, Surrogate.

AUCTION!
T. J. GILLIES, Auctioneer, will sell at the residence [illegible]
Tuesday, Mch. 20, at 1 o'clock,
[illegible]
WM. WHEELOCK.

WANTS and INFORMATION
[illegible]
FOR RENT—[illegible]
FURNISHED HOUSE—[illegible]
SITUATION WANTED—[illegible]
EXCHANGE—[illegible]
A CHEAP HORSE FOR SALE—[illegible]
THREE BILLIARD TABLES FOR SALE—[illegible]
STORAGE TO RENT in [illegible]
HOUSE TO LET—[illegible]
FOR SALE OR TO LET—[illegible]
FOR SALE—[illegible]
ANY PERSON [illegible]
TAKE NOTICE—[illegible]
TO LET—[illegible]
MARYLAND FARMS—[illegible]
TO LET—[illegible]
FOR RENT—[illegible]
FOR SALE OR TO LET—[illegible]
FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET [illegible]
BOARD [illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

HORSES & MULES!

I shall keep constantly on hand at my New Brunswick Stables, until April 1, 1883, a large assortment of HORSES
and
MULES!
For Sale or Exchange.
Persons wanting any kind can get suited!
Fresh Arrivals Every Week!
Forty-five head to arrive March 3, 1883.
PRICES REASONABLE!
Money refunded where stock proves not as represented!
By JOHN W. MORRIS.

Carney Bros.,
NO. 11 SOMERSET STREET.
Tinners, Plumbers & Gas Fitters.
PARLOR STOVES, COOK STOVES, HEATERS.
Grates and bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at Jobber's prices. Bring your Tin Ware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers and the best Gas Fitters in this section. We can prove this. We use the very best of materials on our work always give satisfaction. Keys of all kinds are made here. Tinware made to order.
RANGES, BRICK & PORTABLE FURNACES.
—SANITARY PLUMBING—

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between Ann Hall, complainant and Southard Romans, et als., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.
The above sale stands adjourned to Wednesday, the 4th day of April A. D. 1883, at the same hour and place.
THOS. FORSYTH, Sheriff.
Willard P. Voorhees, Sol.
Elizabeth, New Jersey, March 8, 1883.

Notice of Dissolution.
Owing to ill-health, Mr. Suydam, by the advice of his Physician, having been obliged to retire from business for a time, the partnership heretofore existing between him and Mr. Jackson is this day dissolved by mutual consent.
Until further notice the business will be carried on by Mr. Jackson & J. Oakley Nodyne, at the same place, corner of Park avenue and Second street.
Dated, Plainfield, N. J., March 1, 1883.
GEORGE F. SUYDAM,
JOHN H. JACKSON.

ALMOST AS BAD.
What the Perplexed Physicians do in Cases of Emergency.
[illegible]

For Sale to Close an Estate,
Two Hundred Acre Farm!
Beautifully located in New Jersey, near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, [illegible]
Well calculated for Stock Raising, Dairy purposes or a Gentleman's Residence.
[illegible]

TO INFRINGERS
OF THE DRIVEN WELL PATENT.
Final Notice.
[illegible]
S. F. GREEN, Newark, N. J.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EDSALL'S
No. 20 West Front St.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

GREAT SPRING
BARGAIN SALE!
COMMENCING
Tuesday, March 20th, and continuing for 5 DAYS!

Bargain No. 1. All Wool Black Cashmere at 49 cents. Usual price, 65 cents.
Bargain No. 2. Black Gros Grain Silk at $1.00. Usual price, $1.25.
Bargain No. 3. Courtauld's Crape for Veiling at $4.75.
Bargain No. 4. Twilled Silk Umbrellas, 26 inch, at $1.00. Usual price, $3.25.
Bargain No. 5. Twilled Silk Umbrellas, 26 inch, at $2.20. Usual price, $3.
Bargain No. 6. 200 yards White check, striped and lace Pique in short pieces at 9 cents. Usual price, 20 cents.
Bargain No. 7. Gossamer Water-proof Cloaks at $1.25. Usual price, $3.
Bargain No. 8. Full Regular Fancy Half Hose at 19 cents. Usual price, 25 cents.
Bargain No. 9. Full Regular Fancy Hose at 29 cents. Usual price, 35 cents.
Bargain No. 10. Torchon Laces from 3 cents up.
Bargain No. 11. Fancy Handkerchiefs from 5 cts. upwards.
Bargain No. 12. Colored Satin at 67 cents. Usual price, 85 cents.
Bargain No. 13. 25 dozen Corsets at 29 cents. Usual price, 50 cents.
Bargain No. 14. Counterpanes at 99 cents. Usual price, $1.25.
Bargain No. 15. Unlaundried Shirts at 39 cents. Usual price, 60 cents.
Bargain No. 16. Best Wamsutta Shirt at 85 cts.
Bargain No. 17. Cambric Trimming, Puffing, Tucking and Ruffle, 4 inches wide, at 5 cts. Usual price, 15 cents.
Bargain No. 18. Ditto, Tucks, Puffs and Lace Edge, 4½ inches wide at 20 cents. Usual price, 30 cents.
Bargain No. 19. Ditto, double Puffing, inserting and Lace Edging, 6 inches wide at 25 cents. Usual price, 50 cents.
Bargain No. 20. Table damask at 29 cents.
Bargain No. 21. Table damask at 33 cents.
Bargain No. 22. Table damask at 39 cents.
Bargain No. 23. Table damask at 41 cents.
Bargain No. 24. Table damask at 49 cents.
Bargain No. 25. Table damask at 69 cents.
This lot of Damask is fully 25 per cent below the usual price.

Remember that eleven years experience in the Jobbing Trade enables us to buy direct from the Manufacturer and Importer: therefore cannot be undersold.

We are showing many attractive bargains that are not mentioned in the above list, and it will be to the interest of all to make us an early visit.

NOW ON SALE
The finest assortment of
LADIES' MUSLIN UNDERWEAR
we have ever offered. Also,
Children's Robes, Slips & Dresses.

MORTON & RODERSHINE,
Dealers in pure Spring Water
=I:C:E=
[illegible]
Seely Edsall.
[illegible]
G. L. VAN EMBURGH, Manager.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

"LICENSED."
FINE
Wines, Liquors,
Ales and Segars,
AT
E. P. THORN'S,
17 PARK AVE., PLAINFIELD, N. J.

1883. March Fifteenth 1883.
A Splendid Line of Spring
OVERCOATS
And Overcoatings.
NOW READY AT
French's, The Clothier,
FRONT STREET, OPPOSITE POST OFFICE.

A nice Wall Pocket worth Twenty-five to Fifty cents given away with every Two Dollars worth of goods we sell.

WE WILL SHOW ON MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 13, 14 & 15, AN ENTIRELY NEW STOCK SUCH AS HAS NEVER BEFORE BEEN DISPLAYED BY US. WE WILL NOT QUOTE PRICES BUT WILL SELL AS CHEAP AND AS GOOD AND SEASONABLE GOODS AS CAN BE SOLD. IN ADDITION, WE WILL HAVE ON OUR BARGAIN COUNTER
: R : E : M : N : A : N : T : S :
IN DRESS GOODS, TABLE LINEN, CLOTH FOR BOYS WEAR, PLAIN STRIPED AND PLAID PIQUES. CAMBRIC AND NANSOOK AT LESS THAN HALF PRICE. OUR STOCK OF CARPETS CANNOT BE EQUALLED IN QUALITY AND PRICE. WE HAVE ALSO JUST RECEIVED FIFTY ROLLS OF FANCY MATTING FROM AUCTION WHICH WILL PAY EVERY HOUSEKEEPER TO LOOK AT.
Very Respectfully,
D. BOEHM & BRO.

JUST IN STOCK!
FALL FALL
Hats Hats
LATEST STYLES
—AT—
M. VERMEULE'S,
Front Street, opp. Somerset, Plainfield, N. J.
Robes and Horse Blankets closing out at Cost!
Full line of Satin de Lyon Dolmans, Squirrel-lined, all grades and prices. [illegible]

A RARE OPPORTUNITY
TO GET A
Life Size Crayon Portrait
In free hand for the unprecedented small sum of Twelve Dollars!
By the well-known artist,
SIDNEY E. FLOWER,
Of New York. His studio is at the residence of Mrs. Conklin, 20 West Front st., Plainfield, New Jersey. A good Photo. or Daguerreotype is only required to copy from. Hand in orders early at Studio or [illegible], for he will remain but a short time. Specimens can be seen at various places about town.

Simple and Complete!
A NEW PATENT
Mitering and Beveling
MACHINE!
For Carpenters, Furniture Makers and Wood workers generally. It cuts any Mitre desired. On exhibition and for sale at A. VANDERBEEK'S, 35 Park avenue, Plainfield, New Jersey. State and County rights for sale.
[illegible]
Delivered daily to any part of City at lowest prices.

Taylor's Market!
NO. 24 PARK AVENUE.
Fresh Fish of All Kinds.
Now is the time to lay in your
SUMMER LARD.
At Thirteen Cents per pound by the Tub.
FINE BUTTER—LOW PRICES.
Try Taylor's Celebrated Trenton Hams. Medium size, 14 cts. per pound. Small Pig Hams, 12 cts. per pound.
N. J. RANDOLPH, Manager.
No. 24 Park ave.

CLOTHING!
Fall and Winter.
A. TITSWORTH,
No. 41 West Front st., Plainfield.
All the newest designs in Foreign and Domestic Woolens, choicest and largest assortment ever offered in this city. Clothing
Made to Order and Ready Made,
From samples for Men's, Youths' and Boys'. A full line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses and Boys Rubber Goods. Clothing
Cleaned, Altered and Repaired!
A SPECIALTY.
ALEX. TITSWORTH.

FOR SALE—[illegible]

CITY DEPARTMENT.

J. A. DEMAREST, - - - City Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN UNION COUNTY.

To Our Advertisers.

Regular advertisers entitled to a "change of advertisement," must hand in the same not later than Wednesday noon of each week, to insure insertion in the coming issue.

The above regulation is peremptory, and if so understood will be fully as convenient to advertisers, and immeasurably more so to

Their Obedient Servants,
THE PUBLISHERS.

FULL moon the 23d.

Oh for an Opera House!

NEXT Sunday is Palm Sunday.

ONE week from to-day is Good Friday.

THE Legislature will adjourn on Good Friday.

THE Delaware and Raritan Canal is now open for navagation.

VENNOR predicts that April will be a warmer month than May, and May will be colder than usual.

WE are getting Wiggins' storm in instalments. A little each and every Sunday of the year.

BRING out your fish-lines, grease your hooks and look at your sinkers. Eels will soon be around.

COUNCILMAN Polak's project to place the street names on the lamps at intersecting corners, moves slowly.

AT this time one year ago there was no frost in the ground. Now it penetrates to a depth of about fifteen inches.

THE peach crop of South Jersey is said to be safe, the trees having passed the month of January without injury.

THE valuable property on Somerset street, next to S. O. Horton's, recently purchased for $3,070, by Mr. A. Lutkins, has been leased to Rev. W. R. Honeyman.

AN ungallant member of the male sex says that the telephone does what society rules have always been unequal to —compels women who use it to talk one at a time.

THE Odd Fellows throughout the State are making preparations for local celebration of the sixty-fourth anniversary of the institution of the Order in America, April 26th.

IF one of the pending acts passes the Legislature, every hotel will be required to have in every room, after July 4th, a fire gong connected with office, to arouse sleeping guests in the hour of peril.

AS soon as the frost is out of the ground, we trust our excellent Street Commissioner will look after all matters pertaining to the office whereby the streets may be put in a good sanitary condition.

THE new-comers that visit Plainfield at this season of the year looking for homes, would be more favorably impressed with the place if the names of its streets were plainly painted on the corner lamps.

A CONTEMPORARY thanks Congress for the industry with which it grappled with affairs. Yes, and with which it grappled the taxpayers by their throats. It was a case of pig-iron instigating the grappling irons!

UP to the present time the ground hog is the most successful weather prophet of the year. The goose bone ranks second, and it is nip and tuck between Wiggins, Vennor and the musk-rat for the third place.

THE prohibitionists of Iowa have started a new "organ," and announce for its editor a man "who has conducted other temperance papers for a short period each." The future of the paper is not difficult to predict.

LETTERS cannot be sent for 2 cents before October, nor will unstamped checks be cashed at banks before July 1st. The tax on bank capital and deposits, however, ceased March 4th; while the changes in the taxes on tobacco will begin on May 1st.

THE Prophet Wiggins is a liar! He said "The storm of March 9 to 11 will be as great a storm as ever occurred upon the earth or can possibly occur. I am positive that a tidal wave will occur in the Bay of Bengal, on the coast of Australia, and in the Gulf Mexico."

SUBSCRIBERS delinquent for three years and more, not receiving THE CONSTITUTIONALIST after this issue, will please excuse us for striking their names from the mail books and believe that we shall be most happy to again forward the paper after receipt of the amount due.

AN almost unprecedented season of cold weather for the month of March prevailed during the first week, the mercury having ranged near the zero point on two mornings just before sunrise. Friday morning of last week it was observed to be three degrees below zero.

A NEW York city judge said the other day, that he would double the penalty to be inflicted upon any boy brought before him who should prove to be a cigarette smoker. "Cigar smoking is bad enough," said his Honor, "but cigarette smoking is destroying the brains and health of the young. Something must be done to check it."

THE date finally set for the appearance in this city of the Scotch Plains Amateur Minstrel Co., (limited) is Tuesday the 27th inst. The artists included in this combination are really possessed of much talent, and the programme they render is replete with entertaining and enjoyable features. We shall have more to say next week in endorsement of an affair that should claim the patronage of our best people.

DURING Thursday evening of next week in St. Mary's Hall, the T. A. B. Society of this city will hold its Seventh Annual Sociable. The music will be by Cahill's celebrated orchestra, and a night of pleasure is promised. The Committee of arrangements consists of Messrs Peter Flynn, James Whalen, John Motley, Edw. Burlingham, J. Hickey and J. Hogan. Tickets may be procured of members of the Society or its Committee, at fifty cents each.

BEFORE long children will begin to think about preparing what in old times used to be called pass eggs. To dye eggs, onion skins put in the water in which they are boiled will make them a bright yellow; or, if left longer in the solution, a rich brown. Log wood or violet ink gives a royal purple. Cochineal, pink and crimson, and many pieces of chintz or bright that calico fade easily, if sewed tightly around the eggs, will color them nicely in figures, stripes or dots.

THE time is approaching when, after the frost leaves the ground, it will be absolutely necessary to look after the sanitary condition of our public streets, to ward off an epidemic. There is one spot we desire to call the early attention of the proper authorities to in this respect, and that is the "cess pool" constructed on Peace street at the intersection of Second street, for the reception of deleterious matter passing through the North avenue sewer and emptying therein. The refuse matter in this receptacle has not been removed since its construction over two years ago, and an intolerable stench arises from it through the sewer.

IT is now lawful to catch trout.

THIS is the season for grafting trees.

NOW is the time to trim your grape vines.

March came in like a lamb. The first three days were perfect.

THE Easter bonnet is beginning to trouble the feminine mind.

HENS are getting down to business, and eggs begin to show a decline in price.

OCT. 1st has been fixed as the date at which two cent postage shall go into effect.

A NEW issue of the five cent pieces has been ordered with the word "cents" added.

THE Summer vacation of the Plainfield Public Schools, will begin this year with the last week in June.

THE new comet may now be seen with a glass in the early evening. It is very close to the mouth of Pisces Borealis, or the Northern Fish.

THE postal department has devised a plan whereby money in sums of less than $5 may be sent by postal notes, for three cents after July 1st.

AN effort is being made in Dover for the formation of a stock company for the purpose of lighting the town with the Edison electric light.

VIRGIL has lots to answer for. It was he that first said: "Horresco referens" (I should shudder to relate), or as the boys now have, "I should blush to murmur."

"UNCLE IKE" Brown states that a year ago last week he had peas and potatoes planted on his premises just off Broadway. To-day the frost is about fifteen inches in depth.

THE meeting called for Saturday night last at Laing's Hotel, by Mr. N. W. Pike, of parents whose children were excused from school without reason, did not take place—no one being present.

AT S. H. Whitney's on Front street opposite the post-office, is to be seen one of the largest stocks of Carpets ever shown in this city. Also a fine line of extra Canton and Formosa mattings at a bargain.

PURSUANT to a resolution of the Board of Education, the customary April week recess of the public schools will not occur this year, the intention being, if possible, to lengthen to that extent the summer vacation.

THE citizens of Hackettstown are agitating the question of purchasing a steam fire engine, since recent disastrous fires have visited that town. Don't wait until half your buildings are burned down, gentlemen, before you make up your minds. Buy the steamer.

SHAD fisheries are beginning to prepare for their season, expecting that they may begin to catch by the middle of next month. The season opens as soon as the shad will allow themselves to be caught and closes, below Trenton, on the 10th of June, and above on the 15th of June.

PLENTY of rum in Plainfield now. The Council has just given eleven liquor dealers licenses at $500 each. Christian Plainfield has nothing to say against a rumseller who can put up $500 as security that he will fill the county institutions. The poor saloonist ought to come to Elizabeth. We sell rum at a much cheaper figure.—Elizabeth Herald.

NOTWITHSTANDING the snow storm on the sixth there was a large attendance at the Band of Hope, and five new names enrolled. In the absence of an expected speaker, Mrs. Yates read one of Rev. E. A. Rands practical stories "Can't a boy do something? I guess so," to which the children listened with marked attention. Visitors are always welcome.

THE interest in Edsall's Dry and Fancy Goods store does not waver in the least, neither do their efforts to make the establishment what it is known to be, one of the most attractive of the kind. A whole column is occupied in another part of the paper in setting forth the long list of attractions that are offered at their Grand Spring Bargain sale to commence on the 20th inst and to continue for five days.

THE interesting story told by Lieut. J. W. Danenhower, at the M. E. Church, Thursday evening of last week, was attended by a large gathering. As one of the survivors of the ill-fated Jeannette Expedition, Lieut. Danenhower was most competent to relate the experiences of the explorers; and such a narrative from one who shared in the trials and sufferings of the voyage and escape from death, could not fail of being attractive and exciting.

AT the Academy of Music, New York city, to-morrow at two o'clock, a grand matinee of Bellini's opera "La Sonnambula," will be given with Mme. Albani as "Amina." Frapolli as "Elvino" and other roles by the very capable members of Her Majesty's Opera Co. This will be the only opportunity this season of hearing this opera and in it the prima donna whose "Amina." the press has decided "is the best on the present operatic stage."

THE last of the Y. M. C. A. Course for the season, will occur at the M. E. Church during Thursday evening of next week, when "The Royal Hand Bell Ringers and Glee Singers" of London will repeat their satisfactory entertainment of last year. This was the most successful of the past Course, and the return of these artists has been looked forward to with pleasure ever since. At the request of a number who enjoyed the programme before, we would herewith ask as a public favor, a repetition of "Die Turkische Schaarwache."

FISHING for pickerel is now prohibited by law under a penalty of $20 for each fish caught or found in the possession of any one in the State —Iron Era.

The above item is erroneous. There is no law existing on the statute books of this State prohibiting the taking of pickerel by hook and line at any time of the year, except in cases where special laws were enacted for certain localities, before the Constitution of the State was amended which did away with special legislation. The general law on the subject, Chap. CCXXX, was amended in 1878 by striking out all that part relating to a penalty imposed for taking pike or pickerel at certain seasons of the year.

IT will be of public interest to know that Mrs. Rutter is making negotiations for the purchase of the microscope for the use of the class in botany in the High School. It will be remembered that Mrs. Rutter generously doubled the prize of $25, offered in botany last year for the purchase of this instrument, and Mr. Kirkner, President of the Board, has added to this contribution an equal amount. There has also been presented to the school a fine sectional working model of a steam engine, which will be invaluable to the class in physics. This gift was donated by School Trustee, Geo. H. Babcock, Esq.

A MOVEMENT is on foot to inaugurate a spring trotting circuit to embrace five or six of the principal tracks in this State. The tracks that have been selected are Freehold, Waverly, Plainfield, Flemington and Newton, with Somerville in doubt. There will be two days' racing, and the classes will be three fast races and three to accommodate young stock and that of medium speed. The probabilities are that the circuit will open at Freehold on the 22d and 23d of May, and proceeds in order as the places have been named each week. A meeting to further consider the plans was held at Newark yesterday afternoon, at which all the places named above were represented. We understand a number of persons in this county are ready to assist so far as the meeting in this Town is concerned. It will be the first regularly organized spring circuit ever established in this State, and should prove a complete success, as the best class of horses will be entered for the races, and will take in the whole circuit.—Morristown Banner.

TO-MORROW, ("in the morning," is St. Patrick's Day.

MRS. Pine and Miss Bettis may still be found at the "Pullman Restaurant."

THE [illegible] of the editorial page of the [illegible] Times is headed with the statement, "Wiggins is not the fool that newspapers took him to be."

IT is announced that the Brooklyn bridge is to be opened for public use in sixty days. In consequence, it will beat the Grove street bridge after all.

A NUMBER of Plainfielders attended Dr. Vincent's lecture at Scotch Plains, Wednesday evening. We hope that this city is soon to be favored in the same way.

AT the old established stand of Geo. W. Force, No. 11 West Front street, the proprietor is now offering all the Spring styles of ladies' misses' and gentlemen's shoes at astonishingly low prices.

FAIR dealing, low prices and entire satisfaction is always experienced by the patrons of J. W. Morris, the horse dealer of New Brunswick. At his stables in that city, any and every kind of a horse or mule may be obtained.

A LARGE stock and varied assortment of the latest styles of paper hangings, are shown at Swain's, No. 6 North avenue. All those contemplating the papering of their houses are invited to call and examine the goods and prices.

DURING the evening of Thursday the 29th inst., William J. Marshall will deliver a lecture descriptive of a tour through the Yellowstone Park, illustrated by brilliant transparencies of the magnificent scenery of that section. It will be given in the Congregational Chapel at Seventh street and Madison avenue; tickets for which being now for sale at Reynolds' Pharmacy.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

There is need of more help in the Bible study. Will not the young men remember that hour on Saturday nights and help strengthen the class by their presence.

The members of the class have faith and believe that the good time is coming in God's providence when the Bible study will be as well attended as the prayer meetings.

If any person in this city knows of a sick young man, without proper care and attention, an especial favor will be conferred upon the association by sending the name of such young man to the General Secretary.

C. W. Eakley, General Secretary at Morristown is soon to organize a Ladies' Auxiliary. Plainfield Association wishes brother Eakley success in his undertaking. Much is due to the labor and efforts of the Ladies' Auxiliary of this city, for the success of the Y. M. C. A. here.

Special notice is called to the fact that the next social reception will be held on Tuesday evening, March 27th. A warm invitation is given every young man in the city to attend. Will the ladies of the Auxiliary be present in force and prepare to help the Reception Committee?

The prayer and song meeting will be held on next Monday evening, at the usual time. Young men, come; and bring some unconverted friend with you. This meeting has been the birth place of many a soul into the Kingdom of God, and not a few young men are rejoicing that they were first lead into the young men's meeting.

The Boy's branch of the Young Men's Christian Association of Plainfield is now a factor in the association and has commenced a good work. There are some 30 or 40 members under the age of sixteen, banded together to do christian work for the youths of this city. There is a great need that the boys should be reached and their spiritual interests looked after. The boys meet on every Friday afternoon of the month, at 4 o'clock, and have meetings for prayer, bible study, temperance, and once a month social receptions. Any boy who is desirous of helping in the good work can become a member by sending his name to the General Secretary.

Personals.

Mr. Henry E. Bowen, of Netherwood contributes to this week's Independent an able article on "The New South."

Mr. Peter Hanson, is building a residence at the corner of Vine and Emily streets, North Plainfield, making the second in course of erection in that neighborhood.

H. R. Halloway, Esq., of Newark, brother-in-law of ex-Mayor Randolph, has leased the residence recently finished by J. B. Mills on La Grande avenue at Franklin Square.

Gen'l Wm. H. Sterling will soon occupy the residence erected for him on First place. The house he vacates on Prospect avenue has been rented to Jas. Lacey, Esq., of New York.

We are glad to record that Mr. B. G. Smith, who has been lying seriously ill for a number of days past at his residence on Plainfield avenue, from diphtheria, is convalescing and hopes soon to be again attending to his regular business affairs.

Mr. Edward Laing, the trusted foreman of Mr. Geo. Pound's Hide and Tallow Factory, this city, is unable to attend to his regular business in consequence of severe illness. His many friends hope to hear of his speedy convalescence and ultimate recovery of his former good health.

Charles E. Ryder, a resident of East Front street, and a member of the Common Council of 1880, died at his home during Monday evening, aged 42. Funeral services were held at the late residence of the deceased, yesterday at 5 p. m. Interment at convenience of the family. A widow and five young children survive him.

No matter what political party may be successful upon the occasion of an election in Westfield Township, the efficiency of J. M. C. Marsh as an officer and his popularity as a man, always insures him a large majority. The vote published elsewhere shows that although all others elected were Republicans, Assessor Marsh was re-elected by 96 votes and ran far ahead of his ticket.

There were married at the residence of the bride, Tuesday evening, at 6 o'clock, by the Rev. E. M. Rodman, Georgianna Hoadley-Smalley, daughter of George E. Hoadley, Esq., of Seventh street, and William Palmer Smith, of Netherwood. The ceremony was private, and performed in the presence of about twenty-five relatives and family connections of New York city, Englewood, N. J., and Hartford, Conn. The presents were numerous and costly. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith departed for a two weeks trip in the North, returning to receive at the bride's residence on First place, in the latter part of this month and during April. About 500 announcement cards are sent to friends of the newly wedded.

It was a pleasure, one day last week, to be escorted through the private stables of Wm. H. Vanderbilt, 48 E. 52d street, N. Y. city, through the kindness of Mr. David Roach, a former resident of this city and now in charge of Mr. Vanderbilt's stable of valuable trotting horses at that point. Among the stud of renowned trotters owned by Mr. V. is Maud S., whose quarters in his elegant stables are as commodious and comfortable as any in the country. Mr. Philips, the General Superintendent of the establishment, also extended us courtesies to be remembered. The many friends of Mr Roach in Plainfield, who remember him as a former citizen, will, no doubt, be pleased to learn that he is now the possessor of a "treble" of his own, born on the day that all true friends of America reverence, Feb 22d. It is a girl.

To Those Interested in the Children's Home.

The young ladies of the Look-Out League propose to hold on May 31st, a parlor sale, the proceeds of which are to be devoted exclusively to the Children's Home. Contributions of articles suitable for a parlor sale are earnestly solicited. Should any one not having the time to contribute finished articles, send material or money to buy material for aprons or fancy work, it will be made up by the society. Contributions may be sent to MRS. S. R. [illegible],

MISS JULIA [illegible],
MISS EMMA M. DEMAREST.

Plainfield, N. J., March 1883.

Accusations of Blackmail.

The New York Herald of Tuesday publishes the following case in which the complainant is a well-known resident of this city:

A charge of blackmail was yesterday made by Mr. Noah Webster Pike, of No. 1½ Park place, before Tax Commissioners Donnelly and Asten against an ex-employee of their office. The complainant is the son of the late Noah T. Pike, who left a large amount of personal property in this city. The executors under his will are John M. Harlan, Geo. C. Lucas, Mary E. Lucas, Dwight H. Olmstead and Noah Webster Pike himself. The estate was assessed at $30,000, upon which a tax of $630 was levied. Mr. Pike asserts that in 1881 the person whom he accuses informed him that the assessment was to be increased, but through friendship he would see that no change was made. He did not intimate in what manner this was to be effected, but said his position enabled him to fix up such matters. On January 2, 1882, Mr. Dwight H. Olmstead of No. 50 Wall street, one of the executors, received a notification that the estate was assessed at 30,000, and a request to correct the same if erroneous. To this notice were added the following words, which appear on the face of the original paper, and which, the Commissioners state is in the handwriting of the accused employee:—"And towards others as trustees under the will of Noah T. Pike, $75,000."

On being given this document Mr. Pike says he went to the accused and asked the reason for an increase of taxes on a property which would not bear such a strain. He was told again that it would be all right, that it was a mere question of money and could be adjusted for $250. This sum was necessary, as a "divvy" would have to be made with the Commissioners. Mr. Pike admits that he consented to give this amount, but on consultation with the co-executors they refused to entertain any such proposition.

On February 1, 1882, Mr. Olmstead made affidavit that no trust existed under the will of Noah T. Pike other than what was included in the amount assessed against him as executor of $30,000, and "said assessment covered all the taxable property of said estate." Upon this affidavit the assessment was reduced to the former amount. Mr. Pike says that the accused person claimed the credit of having had the reduction effected and urged it as an additional reason for the payment of the $250 promised him. Mr. Pike says that the accused also made similar applications to the cotrustees.

Commissioners Donnelly and Asten on examining the books could not find any entries that did not tally with the notice paper and they concluded that it was possible for a clerk to have made capital out of his knowledge that the assessment was to be increased, which arrangement he could not have prevented or in any way kept from sight unless by collusion. The Commissioners promised to sift the matter to the bottom at once.

The accused person denies the charge in its entirety. He says he promised Mr. Pike he would do what he could for him, as he has scores of people. But he had never asked money from him or any executor, nor could he understand what prompted such a complaint.

Curiosities of the Railway Census.

According to the railroad census returns for 1880, there were 1,165 companies, having in round numbers, 87,000 miles of railways in operation in this country—an aggregate almost equal to a track extending four times around the world.

The cost of this gigantic system was nearly five thousand six hundred and sixty millions of dollars, of which about two-fifths has been paid for and the companies are in debt for the balance. In the good time coming, when this enormous debt of over three thousand millions of dollars is paid off, and the interest thereon ceases, it is probable that railway speeds will be improved, traveling rendered safer, and the charges for freight and passage reduced.

The mortality upon our railways is frightful to contemplate. According to the census returns, the killed and maimed for the single year of 1880 formed an aggregate of 8,215 persons. If the companies were compelled by law to pay an average of say five thousand dollars for every person killed or injured, only a short time would elapse, probably, before this dreadful account would be reduced to almost nothing. There are very few railway accidents that might not be prevented if real care were exercised and the best safe guards adopted. The passage of a law subjecting every company to the payment of a substantial fine for every accident that takes place upon its property would doubtless stimulate the managers to give more attention to the safety of life and limb than they do at present.

The demand upon our inventors for the discovery of new and better means for saving life and preventing accidents upon railways increase every year, in a ratio even greater that the augmentation of tracks, because the population is more rapidly increasing, and the present railways are not employed at anything like their full capacity.

The freight carried in 1880 was two hundred and ninety-one millions of tons, for which the railways charged $1 29 per ton per mile, and made a profit of 58 cents per ton per mile.

The number of passengers carried was two hundred and seventy millions, for which they each paid an average of 2 39 cents per mile, and the companies made a profit of 0 68 cents per mile. If the passengers are counted by weight, allowing 14 passengers to the ton, then the receipts of the companies for their two-legged freight was $22 62 per ton per mile and their profit was $8 62 per ton per mile. This large profit, when set opposite to the small amount of 58 cents profit per ton realized from dead freight seems to indicate that a great field is open to the genius of railway managers in devising ways and means to encourage the people to travel.

The haulage of our railways now employs over 17,000 locomotives, and the aggregate cost to run them, such as fuel, water, oil, repairs, and engineers, is about ninety millions of dollars, or not far from five thousand dollars a year for each machine. The item of fuel alone is thirty-three millions of dollars. The larger portion of the fuel is wasted much of it is blown out of the smoke stack unconsumed in the form of smoke and dust. There is a grand chance for inventors to improve the locomotive by discovering means to lessen its wastes and expenses. The same remarks apply to other branches of the railway rolling stock, consisting of over twelve thousand passenger cars and about four hundred thousand freight cars. In the year 1880 it cost the railway companies fifty-five millions of dollars for repairs for rolling stock. Is it not possible for inventive genius to study out some new mode of construction that shall reduce this enormous loss?

Rev. Mr. Wing on Dancing.

"Is it right for Christians to dance?" was the question discussed by Rev. Mr. Wing in his sermon at the Grace M. E. Church, Paterson, Sunday night. He answered it in the negative. He claimed that dancing was a sin and just as sinful in the privacy of one's home as in a public ball room. The only difference was that house dancing was more respectable. To dance, to play pool, billiards, dominoes or cards or to drink liquor at one's home was equally as sinful as in a public place, but it was covered with the cloak of respectability; that was all the difference. Those professing to be Christians should not dance at all.

The Moon and Easter.

The March moon falls on the 23d at 1:30 o'clock in the evening. The full March moon plays an important part in the affairs of men, for as she falls three days after the vernal equinox, she determines, in accordance with the law, that Easter shall fall on the following Sunday, the 25th, and Easter in turn determines the other movable feasts and fasts of the church. The short time intervening between the vernal equinox and the full of the moon brings Easter this year within three days of the earliest day of festival can occur. In 1818, Easter fell on the 22d of March, the earliest date possible. Such will not be the case again either in this or the following century. The moon pays her respects to the planets in the following order: The waning moon is near Venus on the 5th, and near Mercury and Mars on the 7th. The new moon of the 8th is in conjunction with Neptune on the 12th. Saturn on the 13th, Jupiter on the 15th, and Uranus on the 23d. She presents five phases during the month, being seen in the last quarter on the 2d and on the 31st.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

Two english snipe were seen in this vicinity on the 3d of March. This is the earliest date on record for this section.

Another match is expected to take place soon between two contestants who recently shot a match at Metuchen, Messrs Van Sickles and Manning.

Capt. Bogardus beat Dr. Carver in his third pigeon match at St. Louis last week, and Dr. Carver beat Capt. Bogardus at a clay pigeon match the same day.

There will be an interesting pigeon shooting match at Campbell's Club House next Saturday afternoon, between two well known amateur shooters of this city and New Brooklyn.

FIRE MATTERS.

As we go to press the fire department is called out to quell an incipient fire in the neighborhood of William street and the railroad.

The Board of Managers of the Plainfield Fire Department met in regular meeting at the Council rooms, Tuesday evening. All the members were present for the first time since the severe sickness of Secretary Gillies, and the reception given that officer upon his arrival was a most flattering one. The usual routine of business was transacted. The election of Benj. A. Mulford as Foreman of Zephyr H. & L. Co., in place of R. R. Davis, was not confirmed by the Board, it being shown that such election was irregular. The Board had not endorsed the action of the company in expelling its Foreman until the meeting of Feb. 7th, and in consequence no vacancy existed until then. The election of Mulford as Foreman in December therefore occurred when the office was filled. The Board now awaits an election by the Company. The following was adopted: WHEREAS, By a law passed by the Legislature of 1882, Chapter 61, which provides that all members of any organized fire department in this State, shall be exempt from the payment of taxes that are assessed at any one time by any assessor, to the amount of five dollars, or less if said taxes do not amount to that sum; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Board, confirmed by the Counsel to the Board, that each and every member of the Plainfield Fire Department, is exempt under Chapter 61 of the laws of 1882, from the payment of any taxes assessed upon him (except fire taxes which are provided for in the charter of the department) in the sum of five dollars, or any part thereof, if said taxes do not amount to the sum of five dollars.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolution be transmitted by the Secretary to the Collector of taxes.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

The annual election for officers of the Westfield H. & L. Co. was postponed last Monday evening, until Tuesday, 20th inst.

The Westfield Dramatic Club (amateur) will give their first entertainment on Wednesday evening, March 28th, at the Westfield Lyceum.

Daniel G. Fink and brother left on Monday to attend the funeral of a brother in Pennsylvania. He had been teaching school and was sick only a short time.

Arthur Weeks, eldest son of Charles Weeks, died on Monday morning last from typhoid pneumonia. He had been sick for about one week. His funeral occurred on Tuesday.

George W. Tice and family expect to board at Mr. John A. Manning's on Picton street for a month or two, during which time Mr. Tice intends renovating and improving his residence on Clark street.

John A. Smith, residing on Central Avenue, who has been confined to the house with rheumatism for a month or over, was able to get out to vote on election day. He cannot walk except with the use of crutches.

The new cottages in process of construction by Charles Hannemann, and the new dwelling house of James M. French on the Jerusalem road, are rapidly approaching completion, and will soon be ready for occupancy.

W. M. Long, who had been to Rahway, with a team of horses and a load of wood, stopped on his return at Westfield and left his team standing in front of a store. The horses became frightened and ran home, about two miles distant. They distributed his groceries along the road. Very little damage to team and wagon.

The fifth annual benefit of the Westfield Public Library occurred on Thursday evening, 15th inst, in the Methodist Church, by the Young Apollo Club of New York city, assisted by Mrs. Gertrude Luther, Soprano, and Miss Amy Baker, Elocutionist. The programme was well rendered and the church well filled, a large number of tickets having been sold.

At our Town Meeting on Tuesday last for township officers the result was not very satisfactory to the Democrats. The contest centered on the office of Freeholder. Mr. Mapes, the present incumbent, being a candidate against J. T. Pierson. The Republican ticket had a majority of 70. Mr. Mapes was defeated by 48 majority. The Democratic candidate for Assessor was elected.

The sudden death of Cornelia R. Ripley, wife of Chauncey B. Ripley, Esq., occurred on Wednesday evening at 7:30. She had just finished her supper and had gone from the table to a [illegible] and sat down, when she was seen to throw up her arms and fall over and expire immediately. Mrs. Ripley was the only daughter of the late Gideon Ross. She leaves a mother aged [illegible] years.

ROLL OF HONOR FEBRUARY.

GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT—A. CLASS.

Maggie A. Mapes, Annie E. Gilby, Emma J. Clark, Fred. Dollison, Nellie J. Irving, Jennie A. Clark, Bertha O. Courter, John Reilly, Frank H. Baker.

B. CLASS.

Lillie Barton, Edith Hodges, Bertha Ledly, Emma Dands, John Ransom, Lyle Morehouse, Isaac Townley, Mary Grogan, Ida M. Clark, Josie French, Grace Hall, Harry Gilby, Willie Earle, John Hall.

C. CLASS.

Fannie Ransom, Charles Chambers, Milton Frazee, John Clark, Willie Seward, Chas. Affleck, Thos. O'Neil, Percy French, Fred Bennett.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT—A. CLASS.

Bailey Wyckoff, Thomas Peterson, Moreland Townley, Nellie Curran, Annie Chambers, George Baker, Harry Godshalk, Sadie Ellison, Lottie Obleine.

B. CLASS.

Walter Mitchell, Charles Manning, Frank Ledly, Nellie Gannel, Lizzie Hoffman, Willie Kaylor, Allie Clark, Lizzie Hoeser, Ella Wilkins.

C. CLASS.

Eddie Fogerty, Eddie Willoughby, Annie Moffett, Elmer Woodruff, Eddie Woodruff.

MISCELLANY.

The latest things in homes—husbands.

Finest assortment of stationery in the city, at Estil's, No. 7 Park ave.

A lazy fit is the only perfect fit we ever have.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

Great men slip down in winter and slip up at all seasons.

"Ever Ready" wheat and buckwheat and Indian meal flour, at the City Mills.

Lumbago is one of the back tales that you can't readily supply a check for.

Artists' materials and easels at Swain's 32 West Front Street.

Man wants but little here below, but he doesn't like too much water in it.

Orders for books promptly filled by Estil, the Park avenue stationer.

Just so long as a woman retains her maiden name, her maiden aim is to change it.

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Front street, to get your clothing cleaned, altered and repaired.

Conscience is the central station on the telephone wire between the head and heart.

A full line of miscellaneous and children's books, at Estil's, Park avenue.

A secret should never be whispered under a "peach" tree. Especially when in "blow."

Go to A. Titsworth, No. 41 West Fron street, to get your clothing cleaned altered and repaired.

A watch that keeps bad time is like a naughty girl, because the action and face of either denote what's wrong.

A full line of gold pens at Estil's. Just the thing for a holiday gift.

The greatest geniuses the world has ever had have had comparatively little learning; they were born ready made.

Elegant assortment of holiday goods at Estil's.

"You disturb my piece of mind," said a husband to his wife. "Which piece?" replied the wife, with annoying emphasis.

New Process Buckwheat Flour and that celebrated "Johnny Cake Mixture," at the City Mills, Somerset street. tf.

It takes but thirteen minutes to load an elephant on a train, while it takes twenty for any sort of woman to kiss her friends good-bye and lose the check for her trunk.

Parties wishing wall-paper and artist goods at N. Y. prices should call at H. S. Barnes' temporary store, 4 East Front street, opposite new post office. N. B.—Window shades a specialty. m3-a1.

The first flowers of the season, narcissuses, jonquils, hyacinths, crocuses, violets and lilacs, are now fashionable for trimming evening bonnets.

You can buy any Engraving you want, either framed or unframed, at Swain's, 32 West Front Street, at the New York price. m17tf

A doctor who was called to see a colored man said: "You are affected with eight sweats." "Dat's a fack, boss," he replied, "but so long as de wood in dis neighborhood is so heavy, it will make anybody sweat ter git outen bad an' tote it."

Six barrels of kindling wood delivered to any part of the city for $1. Demeza's Steam Kindling Wood Factory, Somerset street. Also, Coal in large or small quantities. d3tf

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure. This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while it's wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since it's first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. If your Lungs are sore, Chest or Back, Lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cts. Sold by R. J. Shaw.

Answer this question. Why do so many we see around us, seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cents, we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. Sold by R. J. Shaw.

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. A marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth and Head Ache. With each bottle there is an ingenious nasal Injector for the more successful treatment of these complaints without extra charge. Price, 50 cents. Sold by R. J. Shaw.

Phalon's Night Blooming Cereus. This celebrated perfume, which has been so popular for the past 20 years still maintains its well deserved popularity. All Phalon's perfumes, Flor de Mayo, White Rose, Wood Violet, etc., and the Vitalia for restoring hair to its original color, as also the Hair Invigorator are made, with their original purity.

Myer's Extract of Rock Rose cures all diseases arising from impure blood. Never fails.

Stands unrivalled. Coe's Cough Balsam has a reputation that has stood unshaken for the past fifty years. It stands unrivalled as a cure for Coughs, Colds and all pulmonary Complaints. Every careful mother should keep a bottle of it in the house in case of emergency, as a cure for croup, for it often happens that, in such cases, delays are exceedingly dangerous. As you value the lives of those most dear to you, do not let another day go by without providing yourself with this splendid remedy. Only 35 cents a bottle.

SKINNY MEN.—"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures dyspepsia, $1.

DESERVEDLY POPULAR.—Unless it had great merit Parker's Ginger Tonic could not be so popular. Its sale has spread remarkably everywhere, because invalids find it gives them new life and vigor when other medicines fail entirely. —Ohio Farmer.

An attractive, youthful appearance secured by using Parker's Hair Balsam to all who are getting gray.

WHEN LADIES ARE ATTRACTIVE.—All ladies know their faces are most attractive when free from pimples. Parker's Ginger Tonic is popular among them because it banishes impurities from blood and skin and makes the face glow with health.

For thick heads, heavy stomachs, bilious conditions, "Wells' May Apple Pills" anti-bilious, cathartic. 10 and 25c

CONCORD GRAPE VINES.—Fine, Vigorous Vines, two, three and four years' old, for sale by the dozen or thousand at the lowest prices. These Vines are raised on the famous Mt. Prospect Vineyards, at Passaic, New Jersey, where the well-known Port Grape Wine is produced that is so highly esteemed at Dresden and Berlin, and other European cities to which it is shipped, and that is so highly esteemed by physicians everywhere. Address, ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.

Best ever made, Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, pleasant to take, sugar-coated; no griping; only 15 cents a box, of Druggists or mail. Standard Cure Co. Sold by E. P. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

DON'T DIE IN THE HOUSE.—"Rough on Rats" clears out rats, mice, roaches, bed-bugs, flies, ants, moles, chipmunks, gophers. 15c.

USEFUL IN THE FAMILY.—We usually leave it to doctors to recommend medicines, but Parker's Ginger Tonic has been so useful in our family in relieving sickness and suffering that we cannot say too much in its praise.—Salem Argus.

Malaria, Chills and Fever, and Bilious attacks positively cured with Emory's Standard Cure Pills—an infallible remedy; never fail to cure the most obstinate, long-standing cases where Quinine and all other remedies had failed. [illegible] Sold by E. P. Reynolds, Plainfield, N. J.

Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.

It is entirely different from all others. [illegible] HALL & RUCKEL, New York.

WESTFIELD ADVERTISERS.

C. A. SMITH,
DEALER IN
Coal, Lumber and Fertilizers!
FANWOOD, NEW JERSEY.
Agent for Lister Bros. Bone and Phosphate for Westfield and Fanwood.
[illegible] ASHES AND LAND PLASTER BY THE LOAD OR CARGO.
Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone Call No. 26. may17

CITIZENS CASH COAL YARD.
Established in the interest of the people.
OFFICE, FANWOOD STATION.
Coal of the best quality, always on hand. Also
Standard Fertilizers,
Such as Mapes's, Lister's, Stockbridge & Bowker's Phosphates and Bone Manures, for all crops, bought low for cash, and will be sold at reasonable prices.
BOWKER'S LAWN DRESSING A SPECIALTY, for Beautifying Lawns.
Genesee Valley Lime, by the carload, &c.
E. M. JOHNSTON,
P. O. Box 40, SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J.
ap25tf

C. E. AGUIRRE,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Office at Gale's Pharmacy.
